THE FOURTH ON THE NORTH SHORE

Horse Racing and Jumping at Beverly Farms in which the Summer Colony Take Part Proved an Enjoyable Feature of the Celebration—Fireworks in the Evening.

At Beverly Farms this year an excellent program was carried out in connection with the Fourth of July celebration. From 8 o'clock in the morning till after 6 at night there was hardly a moment there was not something going on in connection with the official program.

Here, more than in any other part of the North Shore, the summer contingent enter into the celebration, and they were very much in evidence Wednesday, not only as spectators, but as participants.

Crowds turned out for the events, and in the afternoon every train brought people from out of town, the number being climaxed in the evening, when the fireworks at West Beach was the centre of attention.

The horse and pony racing and jumping was easily the most interesting part of the day's program, the latter being a new feature this year. But from its success it is safe to say the jumping will occupy a place on next year's program.

In the morning, from 8.30 to 10.30, the ball game at Tweed's field was the feature. This was between the Hardy Club and the Yannigans, and was won by the former, 18 to 9. During the game a few of the sports were run off.

After lunch the scene changed to Central square, where the dashes for boys and girls, potato races and bicycle races attracted quite a crowd. The crowd went to West Beach at 3 o'clock, where the remaining sports were run off and the horse and pony events took place.

"Brown Dick," ridden by Mr. Leach, took the blue in the pony race, being closely seconded by Reginald Fitz's pony, ridden by Briar Despite Showers of the Morning Crowds Witness the Water Sports and Races at Manchester—The Illumination in the Evening a Pretty Feature of the Day.

That it takes more than rain to keep the eagle from screaming in Manchester was very evident on the Fourth, for the showers of the early part of the day did not sufficiently dampen the ardor of Young America to keep him in doors and to keep his fireworks from making a noise. Though the "night before," perhaps, was not so noisy as usual, there was plenty of noise to keep the people in the centre of the town awake, and all day long there was a constant noise from fire-crackers and revolvers.

The feature of the day's celebration provided by the committee, which had been appointed in town meeting for the purpose, was the electrical illumination in the evening. Though this was not carried out on a very large scale, the centre of the town was aglow with electric lights, and the inner harbor was also illuminated to some extent. This proved an innovation which everybody liked, and took the place of the rather meagre fireworks display which is usually offered.

From a tree in the centre of the Common a number of streamers were carried to various points on the Common, and there were lines of electric lights at other parts of the Square also. A circle of 72 lights hung between the town hall and the band stand, and stars hung on the front of the hall and the church, respectively. The band stand was also draped in lights, and outside this there were private displays, including that on Lee's block, Rowe's block, the Manchester House, over Beaton's store, and Floyd's.

MANCHESTER

The selectmen voted at their meeting Thursday evening to continue the band concerts on Wednesday evenings through July, and the concerts will be furnished by the Manchester Brass band.

A. Lee & Sons and F. G. Cheever Co.'s drug stores have been dressed in attractive holiday attire the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knight of Essex spent the Fourth in town with the latter's mother, Mrs. Abigail Gentlee.

William Sheehan made an enviable record for himself in the races at Manchester and Beverly Farms Wednesday. He captured the 100-yard hurdle race and 250-yard dash at Manchester with ease, and in the afternoon he went to Beverly Farms and captured first prize in both the 100-yard dash and the 250-yard dash there, coming in in each event with a good lead. Sheehan is a good runner and has good form. He is a man of whom any preparatory school or college would be proud.

Harry Floyd is engaged at Pink's harness store, Beach street, for the summer.

Mrs. John Neary was pleasantly surprised last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Austin Morley, the occasion being in the form of a farewell party, Mrs. Neary having moved to Brooklyn, N.Y., where she intends making her future home. During the evening Mrs. Henry Andrews, on behalf of the company assembled, presented Mrs. Neary, in a very pretty speech, with a handsome set of amethyst rosary beads. Although completely surprised, she thanked the company, and all joined in having a social time. Refreshments of ice-cream, cake and fruit were served. Music was furnished by George Hodges.

Miss Lila Morse and Miss Katherine Baker gave a lawn party in honor of their cousin, Miss Florence Davenport of Hyde Park, Thursday evening. The party was held in the orchard adjoining Miss Baker's house. Thirty-five were present. Refreshments of ice-cream and cake were served. There was also music.

Baldwin Refrigerators at Carter's. *

A fine line of razors, shaving brushes, razor strops, etc., at Keenan's, Postoffice block. *

Masters Joseph and William Cawthorne spent the holiday with relatives in East Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Mead left Thursday for a fortnight's trip to Cape Porpoise, Me., where they are registered at the Langsford house.

W. W. Harding, resident manager for Clark & Mills Electric Co., reports business in his line quite active at present. This concern has just taken a contract for wiring and installing fixtures in the Richard Stone residence, Smith's Point, and they have a number of other contracts on various parts of the shore. Mr. Harding, it is reported, will soon sever his connection with the concern, he having another project in mind which he will probably accept.

Miss Eva Crombie is the new clerk at the local postoffice for the summer season.

Burglarized Stations

Last Saturday night burglars entered the West Manchester and West Gloucester stations and secured in the former place some $4.75 in change which had been left in the drawer. At West Gloucester they secured a number of trip and mileage books, after taking the ticket rack from the station out into the woods and stripping it of its contents.

Last night burglars rifled the Montserrat station.

A large congregation greeted Rev. Markman Stackpole last Sunday, both morning and evening.

The parties who broke into the West Gloucester and West Manchester railroad stations last Saturday night evidently intended to enter the Magnolia station. Suspicious noises were heard about the station by Agent

Dennison at about 11.30. A large touring car which went to meet a party on the 12.15 train, evidently frightened the parties as no other noises were heard after this time.

MANCHESTER

The age of Young America is not limited when it comes to enjoying the Fourth. Among the interested spectators on the Common Wednesday evening for the illumination and band concert were Captain Thomas Dow, who is 87 years old, and William Johnson, who lacks only a year of being 90. Captain Dow returned Monday from a week's visit with his daughter, Mrs. Smith, in Marblehead.

Mrs. Arthur L. Toppon came on from Hanover Thursday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rowe.

The noon trains in Manchester were held up Thursday at the drawbridge, because of a break in the machinery used in revolving the heavy bridge, which had been opened in the morning after the 10.30 train for Boston had gone. One of the cog wheels broke, and though this did not affect the passage of the train over the bridge, the trains could not pass until instructions were wired from Boston. The passengers and most of the baggage of the trains, which usually meet in Manchester, were transferred from one train to the other, and both proceeded back over the same route, some 45 minutes late.

Joseph Vasconcello, former proprietor of the barber shop in the Rowe block, returned to Manchester Thursday, after spending the winter in the Azores. He returned on the Romanic, Wednesday, and brought with him a bride.

Special Officers C. L. Lucas, Jos. Leary, Thos. Sheehan, Geo. M. Morgan, A. S. Peabody and Arthur McCormack were on duty on the Fourth with all the regular day and night force. Excellent order was kept in town the entire day.

Miss Jessie D. Alexander of Roxbury has been elected by the school board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Avis Antill in Grade VII. of the G. A. Priest school.

Allen S. Peabody, Arthur McCormack and Richard Newman have recently been appointed special police, the latter to serve without pay.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster F. Putnam and children of Danvers were in town over the holiday, guests of Mrs. Putnam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Meldrum.

Senator Crane came down the shore yesterday and is registered at the Masconomo till after the wedding next Tuesday. His party is to be guests at the Masconomo during their stay. The wedding is to take place at 12.30 on Tuesday at "Wyndcliffe," the W. J. Boardman home off School street, Manchester. It is to be a private affair, and only the immediate families are to be present. The invitations, with one exception, are limited to brothers and sisters of the bride and groom and their families. The exception is Fred G. Crane of Dalton, a cousin of the senator and a member of the firm of Crane & Co., makers of government note paper.

Among those of the senator's family who will be present at the ceremony are Mrs. Zenas Crane, the groom's mother; Miss Clara L. Crane, his sister; Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Crane and their sons, Zenas Marshall

Mrs. J. L. Thorndike entertained an informal dinner party at her West Manchester cottage Thursday evening. Yesterday afternoon she was hostess at a luncheon, which was followed by bridge. Mr. Nichols, fiance of Miss Beatrice Blake, whose marriage is to take place in England in the late summer, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thorndike.

Miss Eleanor Sears went to Genesoa, N. Y., to spend the holiday with some friends. Her mother, Mrs. F. R. Sears, Jr., has been spending the week with the latter's father, Hon. T. Jefferson Coolidge, at Manchester. Mr. Coolidge's other daughter, Mrs. Lucius Manlius Sargent, is to spend most of the summer at Manchester also, and is expected next week. Her little grandson in London has been named for his father and grandfather, Francis Lee Higginson.

Mrs. Mortimer B. Mason is entertaining at her Smith's Point summer home this week the Misses Kendall, who are on from Southern California to spend part of the summer in the east. Mrs. Mason has had among her house guests recently Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Huntington of Toledo.

The little 16-foot mahogany launch being built for C. W. Foss of Boston and Marblehead at White's in Manchester will be put over today probably. The boat is equipped with a 5 h. p. Sterling engine, and is an exact duplicate of the launch built by White for John A. Burnham this year.

David Fenton of Manchester, who has completed the sonderklasse boat for G. H. Wightman and which carries the name of "Bondrei" is building a tender for Gordon Abbott for his yacht the Glorianna.

Charles P. Curtis of Pride's Crossing, sonderklasse boat which is building at the Fenton company at Manchester, will be named the Ellen. She carries about the same amount of lead as the Caramba and has much the same looks. She will be cat boat rigged as the Caramba. The Manchester for Dr. J. L. Bremer is growing rapidly.

Sailing Tender Race

There were six entries in the sailing tender class at the Manchester Yacht club Wednesday morning, but the strong southwesterly breeze blowing in the harbor made sailing for the small boats rather hazardous. Norton

Wigglesworth's boat finished in the lead, but three boats did not finish. The summary:

Kelley of Fitchburg, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bond, Miss Ellen Bond and H. S. Bond of Boston, who made the Masconomo in Manchester their headquarters.

Mrs. J. L. Bremer had as her house guest at Manchester over the week-end Mrs. Dr. Edward Williams of Cambridge, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bremer down from town Saturday on the Velthra.

Ironing by Electricity.

The electric flat iron is a new departure from primitive ironing-day methods. Wherever it has been introduced, its convenience and efficiency have made it indispensable.

An investment in an electric flat iron is a stroke of economy. The cost of operation is only a few cents per hour, and the saving in time and labor is remarkable. The electric iron is always ready for use, and no time and strength are wasted in bothering with a stove or changing irons, so that the time required to do the work is reduced—sometimes 50 per cent.

It has been figured out that a laundress averages two miles per day in walking back and forth between ironing-board and stove. The time spent in this way by the workwoman represents also needless waste of strength and loss of efficiency.

Electrically heated irons save these steps. They also banish the hot stove and with it much of the fatigue and annoyance of ironing.

The Clark & Mills Electric Co., Postoffice Block, Manchester, have so much faith in the satisfactory qualities of electric flat irons that they offer a two weeks' free trial of one or more irons. Tel. 146-5, Manchester. *

John D. Rockefeller, jr., and family arrived on the North Shore Tuesday morning by special palace car "Wyoming" attached to the 9 o'clock train. They are located for the summer at "Pitch Pine Hall," the splendid estate on Juniper st., Beverly Farms, owned by Otis H. Luke. This is Mr. Rockefeller's first season on the North Shore, and his prominence in the financial world makes his coming here of interest to the public in general. It is said they are to live very quietly this summer and will entertain very little. There are 14 servants with the family and the depot men at the Farms were kept busy Tuesday unloading over 40 trunks, which came on from New York with the party. "Pitch Pine Hall" is one of the most desirable houses for renting on the Shore. It is of pure colonial style and was especially designed by the owners for their own use. Across the front of the house stretches a wide piazza. All of the hangings within are reproductions of colonial ones. In every room there is a fireplace and each of these has a mantel that is a replica of one in a colonial home. In fact the appointments throughout the house are of a luxurious character rarely found in a home hired for a season. This fact has been especially commented on by the previous occupants, Senator Knox and Costello C. Converse, for it has always had some prominent tenant.

Despite the rain last Saturday afternoon a large number of North Shore folk were out for the recital given by Mme. Schumann-Heink at at Library hall, Magnolia, under the management of Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge. As this was the first in the series of six to be given, it was a pity the weather should have been so disagreeable, as many had planned to come from Nahant, Marblehead, and other parts of the Shore, some of whom were kept away. The next recital will be by Edward Brigham, basso, on July 28.

With the blast of the tally-ho ringing in the air the special train of four cars containing the horses, carriages and other stable effects of the Otto H. Kahns, arrived in Manchester yesterday morning about 7.30. Mrs. Kahn arrived last week and is at the Charles Head house. Mr. Kahn is in Germany, but will join his family here shortly.

The Linen House of Messrs. Geb-rüder Mosse of Berlin with American Agency at 7 West street, New York, have some beautiful specimens of their workmanship with the Heath Company at 31 Central street, Manchester. All styles of exquisite and artistically designed table furnishings are displayed. This firm furnished all the fine linen, so much talked about, for the Hotel St. Regis in New York.

North Shore ladies will all be interested to know that a very select line of household linens, lingerie shirt waists, ladies' neck wear, handkerchiefs, blankets, French underwear, lingerie pillows, bath robes, and other things such as are to be found in their Fifth avenue, New York, store is to be found at the Grande Maison de Blanc, the Colonades, Magnolia. Mr. A. R. Brown of the New York store is at Magnolia for the summer.

Miss Olga Lyche of Boston, teacher of piano, who has spent much time in study under noted masters in Berlin, has arrived at Manchester for the summer, and will give lessons during the season to such as may be fortunate enough to secure her good services. She is stopping at Mrs. Campbell's, Washington street.

MANCHESTER

Miss Eleanor Morgan is spending a week with friends in Hampton Falls, N. H., going there Tuesday to spend the Fourth.

Miss Marion Macdonald of Brookline was a guest of the Misses Macgregor over the Fourth.

Prof. and Mrs. Ralph W. Allen and children, Raymond, Chauncy and Elsie, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are on to Manchester to spend the vacation season with Mr. Allen's mother, Mrs. Susan E. Allen, Vine street.

The concert and dance to be given in the Town hall, next Friday evening, in aid of the Sacred Heart church, has promise of being a very enjoyable affair. The program is to be furnished for the most part by out of town talent, and will consist of singing, reading, and musical numbers. The hall will be decorated for the occasion by Joseph J. Gorman. Long's orchestra will furnish the music.

Harold Nathan was on to Manchester Monday for a brief stay, and will be here over the week-end a guest of Mrs. Brewster, at the parsonage, who has her daughter, Mrs. Nathan, with her for the summer.

Walter Fleming started Tuesday for Queen's Co., New Brunswick, where he will spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleming of Salem who have a farm there.

The Ever Ready circle of King's Daughters will hold a sale of cake, candy and ice cream, Saturday evening, July 7, in the Morse block, Beach street.

One of the prettiest events of the summer at Manchester will be a gardenfest to be given in the Town hall on the 23d and 24th of this month in aid of the Sacred Heart church. This is something new for Manchester and will be one of the finest events that ever took place in the Town hall. The decorations as planned will be very elaborate, and will be in charge of Jos. J. Gorman. There will be a sun-light party in the afternoon for children. Ice cream, cake, ginger ale and home-made candies will be for sale. There will be dancing each evening to the music of Long's orchestra.

The Fourth was a quiet day in police circles, only one arrest being made for drunkenness and one was taken to the station and censured for discharging firearms prematurely.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Sawyer and the former's sister, Miss M. T. Sawyer, of Boston, are among those to register at the Aborn in Magnolia, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Barton Booth and young daughter, Elizabeth Barton, came on from New York the early week to spend a month or six weeks on the North Shore with Mr. Booth's mother, Mrs. John B. Schoeffel, who has been at her cottage in Manchester for several weeks. Mr. Schoeffel is spending some time at Manchester, waiting for his pleasure yacht, the "Prosit," to be put into commission. Mr. Booth is known on the stage as Sydney Booth, and he has been in "The Man on the Box" which has had such a run in New York, and which opens in the Lyric theatre again in September. In October he goes to England.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Edwin Clark have come to the North Shore to spend the summer and are occupying "Braewood," West Gloucester. Mr. Clark is a member of the Clark & Mills Electric Co., who have offices at Copley square, Boston, Harvard square, Cambridge, and in the Postoffice block, Manchester. Mr. Clark intends to combine business and pleasure this summer by being at his Manchester office for business and by enjoying the delightful cottage life on the shore.

Miss McNamara of 665 Boylston street, Boston, who is located at 39 School street, Manchester-by-the-Sea, for the season, is prepared to do shampooing, marcel waving and manicuring. Telephone connection. *

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

MANCHESTER

Joseph Gates found a lapstead sloop off the southeast ledge Monday morning. As there was some wearing apparel about the boat the finder thought the owner of the boat might have fallen overboard and drowned or something of the kind. He took his find to Manchester harbor and notified the police, and Chief Peabody in turn notified Gloucester and Salem as well. A man claiming to be the owner showed up Tuesday morning and carried the craft away, not even thanking Mr. Gates for rescuing her, or the police for their efforts. It appears the man had gone ashore on one of the islands and the boat drifted from its moorings.

Ketchum—Barclay.

The marriage was solemnized in Roxbury last Saturday of Miss Grace E. Barclay of Roxbury and Edmund Ketchum of Lowell, whose engagement was announced last week. The marriage is of particular interest to Manchester folk, as the bride is the teacher of sewing in the Manchester schools, and Mr. Ketchum is the supervisor of drawing. It is understood that Mrs. Ketchum will resume her duties here in the fall until another teacher is procured.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

“A Single Fact Is Worth a Shipload of Argument.”

The sensible Carriage buyer knows that a little judgment often saves many dollars. We have everything that is modern and desirable in the Carriage line. They represent a certain exclusiveness not offered generally. There's conspicuous smartness in the styles, they are positively right in construction. We invite comparison, as it serves only to make our pre-eminence more assured. One hundred different styles to select from. We also do painting, wood work, iron work and trimming. THE FOURTH AT MANCHESTER

Just as the clock struck 8 the gun on the forward deck of Commodore S. Parker Bremer's steam yacht "Velthra" blazed forth, and at the same instant the lights on the boat were turned on and the switch which illuminated the Common was turned on and the band started to play. The effect was very pretty and one much appreciated by the hundreds who had gathered in the centre of the town.

During the evening Captain Welden of the "Velthra" turned the searchlight on and scanned the inner harbor, as well as helping to light up the Common when the lights went out about 9 o'clock, as the result of a fuse burning out. Among those to illuminate by a display of lanterns were O. T. Roberts, A. W. Mead, G. S. Sinnicks, A. P. Richardson, A. F. Bennett, J. F. Rabardy, A. Robertson, F. G. Cheever and others.

The official celebration began a little past 8 in the morning with the water sports at Beach street park. The basket ball game was the feature of this part of the program, despite the fact neither side scored. The prize of $8.00 offered was divided equally among the two teams.

At 10 o'clock the centre of attention was the sports at Central square. The pie race was the first one called, and it was great sport to see the way the youngsters took care of the squash pie placed before them. In the various sports there appeared to be a lack of enthusiasm. It is to be regretted that Manchester has so few young men who are interested in things of

Baseball Game

At the Brook street play grounds, at 2.30, the baseball game between the Clerks, captained by Arthur Crocker, and the Overalls, captained by Fritz Miller, attracted much attention. The game was won by the Clerks after a hard struggle, 5 to 3.

The line-up and batting order:

Clerks—John Dillon 3b, Ralph Stanley 1b, Alfred Walen c, Harry Gay lf, Walter Edgecomb ss, Fred Hinch 2b, Arthur Merriam cf, Arthur Crocker p, Hurley rf.

Overalls—A. Crombie lf, Chester Standley ss, Frank Moore, 3b, Frank Pinette c, Ned Cheever 1b, A. Eldridge 2b, Fritz Miller cf, Leslie Mason p, Bruce Chapman c.

The runs were made by Miller, Mason and Chapman for the Overalls, and by Stanley (2), Walen, Hinch and Crocker for the Clerks. Walter R. Bell was the umpire. The Clerks shut out the Overalls till the seventh inning, assisted by good pitching of Crocker, but in this inning the Overalls braced up and tied the score. In the next inning the Clerks added two more runs and clinched the game.

At 3.30, in the town hall the oration by Rev. Peter MacQueen of Boston drew quite a number, though the hall was not more than half filled. E. P. Stanley presided. Albert Cunningham, chairman of the committee, read the "Declaration of Independence." The Nevin male quartet of Boston sang several selections, which were exceedingly well rendered. The oration was on "Statesmanship in Peace or War."

The committee in charge of the celebration, who are to be congratulated on the success of the day, was composed of Albert Cunningham (chairman), E. P. Stanley (secretary), F. M. Garrel, L. O. Latons, R. J. Cheever, L. W. Floyd, Harry S. Tapan.

THE FOURTH AT THE FARMS

Tuckerman, Mrs. Thomas Pierce's "Jennie Lind" taking the yellow. The horse race, in which the entries were George Chipchase's three horses, was a lively affair. "Vamoose," ridden by Chipchase, came down the half a mile stretch neck and neck most of the distance with "Heigera," ridden by Frank McQuillan.

The jumping was a feature which everybody enjoyed. Master George P. Mandell, jr., was a daring little rider and he was awarded the blue. Once his horse stopped at the jump and the young lad fell to the ground, but without injury. A little later, after clearing the first jump, he lost his balance again, but balanced himself in one stirrup for 15 or 20 feet. The gallery looked for Wm. Dyer as a winner in this contest, but he missed one jump in the first try, and came off with a red ribbon. The summary of the events:

10-mile bicycle race—Edward Highland, 28m. 30s; Arthur Harlow, 28m. 44s; Frank O. Stillman, 29m. Time limit, 30m.

Boys' 3-mile bicycle race—Neal Murray and Albert Hull, dead heat; Russell Cadigan, 2d.

Horse race—"Vamoose," ridden and owned by George Chipchase; "Heigera," ridden by Frank McQuillan; "Drumsticks," ridden by J. Murphy.

Pony jumping—(Ridden by children) Samuel P. Mandell, jr.; Wm. Dwyer, riding Miss Alice Thorndike's "Moonlight"; Briar Tuckerman, riding Mr. Fitz's pony.

Pony jumping for Men—"Fear Naught",

J. Murphy (owned by Chipchase); "Racing Sorrel", Joe Barrow (G. P. Mandell; Briar Tuckerman (Mr. Fitz).

West Beach was crowded in the evening for the display of fireworks and band concert. The band was on hand in the afternoon also, the Rowley Brass band being hired for the occasion.

Members of the summer colony from all along the shore were present in the afternoon, coming to the beach by auto and carriage, and during the jumping and tug-of-war many saw the events perched on the roofs of near-by bath houses.

Great credit is due the committee for the celebration and the very efficient manner in which everything was conducted. The committee was composed of:

Wm. B. Publicover (chairman), G. P. Connolly (secretary), Elmer Standley (treasurer), F. H. Pierce, F. P. Gaudreau, J. M. Publicover, E. L. Pride, H. E. Morgan, Wilbur Pierce, Alexander Carr, J. E. McDonnell, Ed. F. Campbell, B. J. Woods, F. W. Varney, Howard P. Williams, Geo. H. Burchstead and J. Frank Blaney.

Mrs. Samuel Fogg, who has been in ill health for some time, was taken to the Mass. Gen. Hospital, Boston, Thursday, for treatment.

The Fourth proved very quiet in Beverly, and there was very little disorder. The police made but few arrests and the firemen were fortunate in not having any fires. The concerts by the Beverly Cadet band at the Parks were greatly enjoyed, and a large crowd witnessed the display of fireworks at Dane Street park in the evening. The exhibition was the best seen in Beverly for years and was greatly appreciated, although it was most unfortunate that the display was not given from a float rather than from the park proper.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Arthur H. Merriam and young son, Bruce, of Cambridge, have been spending a few days this week with Mr. Merriam, who is one of Clark & Mills electricians.

A party of young people went over to Marblehead by launch last evening, the affair being in the nature of a farewell party for Miss Alice Clark who leaves next Saturday with her mother for a visit to Germany.

One of the New Eng. Tel. & Tel. Co., linemen had a narrow escape yesterday from serious accident. He was working on the pole in the square, near G. F. Allen's store, when he fell from his position to the concrete walk. He was severely shaken up.

Master Cheever Hersey started yesterday by boat from Boston for Yarmouth, N.S., where he will spend the summer vacation with relatives.

A son Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Clement Harris (Minnie Lethbridge.)

Mr. George Andrews has been on from Roslindale the past week renewing acquaintances, a guest of his sons.

Geo. F. Dyer has recently had some new signs placed on his garage, and a lantern, bearing the name of "Dyer's Auto Garage" has been placed at the junction of Bennett and Pine streets.

G. A. Knoerr was the electrical contractor in charge of the electrical decorations on the Fourth at Manchester, and he has received many words of congratulation on the pretty effect made by the display. This being the first electrical display in town, it was naturally received with much interest, and it is not unlikely there will be more such displays in the future.

Summer Hospital for Babies

The Babies' Summer Hospital on Baker's Island, in which so many North Shore folk are interested and help to support, opened Monday. At this institution infants and their mothers are received and are treated. During last year lives of many infants in Salem and vicinity were saved during the hot summer by bringing them to the hospital. The sea breezes and the cool nights have enabled little ones to get health and strength when they otherwise would have perished in the heat of the city. The institution is supported by public spirited people in this vicinity and Salem.

C. E. Bertholf, field secretary, has been down the North Shore the past week getting subscriptions, and will call upon many of the residents the next week or two.

J. Richard Davis, Frank I. Preston and Harry Cole take the Kennebec River boat from Boston tonight, and will go to Litchfield, Me., for a fortnight's vacation, camping on one of the many delightful lakes in that section.

The heavy rain on the "Night before" was a God-send to many at the Farms who wanted to sleep, inasmuch as it helped materially in keeping down much of the enthusiasm.

Theodore Larcom is taking a vacation from his labors as gate man at Lee's Crossing—and during his absence Charles H. Day is on duty there.

Hugh Gillis, after several months' stay in New York city, came home on Tuesday last for a short visit.

The large float belonging to the West Beach corporation which has been out of commission for two years was put into the water on Tuesday and will be given to the bathers for a swimming raft. A spring board is suggested now to make the pleasure for the bathers complete.

John West colony, Pilgrim Fathers, initiated several new members last evening, it being their regular meeting. The annual picnic and outing will take place shortly.

Miss Ester Barter of North Beverly is being entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Wyatt.

The Bible schools of Beverly Farms and Manchester will hold their annual picnic at Tuck's Point next Wednesday. E. S. Bradley of Manchester and George Larcom of Beverly Farms have been busy in arranging for the sports and amusements. The ladies of the committee will show their skill in making the coffee and the lemonade.

Rev. Clarence Strong Pond will preach tomorrow morning at the Baptist church on the "Covenant-Making God and His People." In the evening he will preach from Isaiah the prophet: "Then helped everyone his neighbor, and everyone said to his brother, 'Be of Good Courage.'"

Last Sunday evening the Rev. Clarence Strong Pond preached a patriotic sermon from the text, "It is the Lord that advanced Moses and Aaron, and that brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt. Now, therefore, stand still, that I may reason with you before the Lord of all the righteous acts of the Lord which he did to you and to your fathers."

A tired lot, but happy, was the condition of the Fourth of July committee last Wednesday evening, to whom is due much credit and whose labors in arranging for the day's program were certainly crowned with success. Unlike most places where the city or town provides the money, this committee have to devote their evenings for more than two weeks making the canvass with their subscription papers. A feature which they have to contend with is the uncertain amount subscribed, thereby keeping the committee upon the anxious seat until the end.

Mr. Campbell, who is sick in the hospital, is reported as making progress slowly.

On Thursday evening the winners of the various events on the Fourth were presented by the committee with the trophies they won, and they were certainly a happy lot, as they not only received their prize, but also the hearty congratulations of their friends.

Mrs. Rose Williams has been entertaining several friends from Topsfield the past few days.

Miss Nannie Blake of Newton has spent the past few days with Patrolman and Mrs. Calvin L. Williams.

Night Officer Webster K. Bray and family are now enjoying camp life at Conomo Point, Essex, Officer Bray going to camp via train every morning and returning at night for duty.

Michael J. Murphy returned to the Farms on Tuesday last, improved in health. Mr. Murphy has been confined for some time in the Carney hospital where a serious operation was performed.

Sometime about 2 o'clock on the morning of July 4, somebody pulled in a false alarm from Box 56, Hale street, corner of Oak. This form of celebration did not meet the approval of the firemen from the West street engine house who were "Johnnies on the spot" in double quick time.

A petition has been presented the city government for a sidewalk to be built along Hart street in front of the Beverly Farms Baptist church.

Work was started last Monday morning by Messrs. Connolly Bros. macadamizing Hale street from the residence of Charles H. Trowt to Thissell street, mainly opposite the estate of Henry C. Frick. The work is being rushed and an excellent road will be given the public in perhaps a week's time.

Miss Anna C. Connolly has accepted a position as teacher and instructor at Dr. Sargent's Harvard Summer School of Gymnasium, and commenced her duties this week.

Officer John A. Stone who covers the Pride's Crossing section, starts today on his vacation. Officer McLean is substituting.

Their 60th Anniversary

One of the most eventful occasions in the history of the New Magnolia hotel took place Monday evening, July 2d, when Mr. and Mrs. William James of St. James, Mo., celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. The contingent gathering represented three generations, and the occasion was made memorable by the hale and hearty appearance of the worthy couple, who after 60 years of constant association bid fair to enjoy many more.

The commodious dining room of the hotel was decorated in a fitting manner with beautiful cut flowers and potted palms, and the tables were specially arranged for the occurrence. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, which was beautifully rendered by the New Magnolia orchestra, the venerable couple, followed by a host of happy relatives and friends, betook themselves to the banquet table, where a dainty and sumptuous repast, prepared by Mr. Charles H. Mowry and his staff with their usual culinary skill, lay temptingly spread before them.

During the dinner both Mr. and Mrs. James recalled many interesting and pleasing reminiscences of their 60 years of wedded bliss, and gave much pleasure and contentment to those present by their own expressions of extreme happiness. After dinner all repaired to the parlors, where an evening of music was thoroughly enjoyed.

Several solos appropriate to the occasion were fittingly rendered by Mrs. George H. Newell in a rich soprano voice, and called forth generous and hearty applause. Mr. William James then presented Mrs. Newell with a bouquet of American beauty roses as a token of both his and Mrs. James' appreciation.

The worthy couple were the recipients of many valuable gifts from all parts of the world, as the members of the family have held positions of responsibility and honor in many foreign lands as well as their own. Messages of congratulation and good will were arriving during the day by telephone, telegraph and letter, while many who were able presented their compliments in person. Among those of the immediate family who were present were the son, two daughters, four grandchildren and one niece, as follows:

Mr. Thomas James, St. James, Mo., and his daughter, Mrs. Huntington Wilson, wife of Mr. Huntington Wilson, former minister to Japan, and now third assistant secretary of state, Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dun and son, Mr. W. J. Rucker of Chicago. Mr. Dun holds the responsible position of chief engineer of the Atchinson & Santa Fe railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cook and the Misses Lucy J., Frances S. and Jane J. Cook of Baltimore, Maryland. Mr. Cook has extensive business relations in European countries, and is one of Baltimore's influential citizens.

Miss J. Edwina James, St. James, Mo., is a niece of William James, and accompanies the elderly couple in their travels.

Wedding presents, birthday presents, presents of various kinds, can be found at Winchester's, Jeweler, 182 Main street, Gloucester. *

is not only to get new customers, but to keep them. To this end our stock of shoes is selected with particular care, that we may put forth nothing but satisfactory goods. You may come here and look at your pleasure, buy if you like, but with this assurance, if you change your mind, your money is returned for the asking.

Pretty Safe isn't it?

We've just received a new lot of Ladies' Oxfords in $2.50 grades. They cost enough to give you good wearing shoes, of right style and solid comfort. Some with nobby shapes and ribbon ties—others with low heels, sensible and comfortable.

Mr. Moth

These are days when wardrobes are turned topsy-turvy-; when winter-packed garments are brought forth for inspection and preparation for another season's service; when the all pervading moth-balls and camphor balls and the fumes of other "moth-killers" fill the house—not all houses, here and there you'll find the sweet scented cedar, whose chief fault is its unwillingness to stay—there is a good housekeeper in that house.

A Cedar Chest

Provides—a place; no tucking away in odd corners nor overcrowding of bureau drawers.

A suitable place; they're so roomy a skirt or whole suit of clothes can be spread out with not more than a single fold.

A safe place—Confined cedar fumes are sure death to moths and Buffalo bugs.

Safety and convenience are good things to invest in—you're just in time for summer packing now.

No useful thing that isn't here.

CRANE-BOARDMAN

Wedding Quietly Observed at Manchester—
Very Pretty Affair

At "Windcliffe" in Manchester, Tuesday, Miss Josephine Porter Boardman and United States Senator Winthrop Murray Crane, former governor of Massachusetts, were united in marriage, with as much freedom from all formality as it is possible on such occasions. Only the nearest relatives were present, both at the ceremony and for the breakfast which followed.

It was the wish both of the bride and groom that the wedding be a quiet affair and their wishes were carried out. The list of friends and acquaintances of the Boardman family is so large and represents so many cities

Formal Gardens at the Gardiner M. Lane Estate

Probably the prettiest formal gardens anywhere along the North Shore are those recently completed at the Gardiner M. Lane estate at Manchester-by-the-Sea, two views of which we publish today. The features of these gardens are five large aquatic pools, constructed of concrete with a finish of white Italian marble. These pools are ingeniously connected by a system of water tunnels, thereby giving free access to all parts for the gold fish. In the central pool (shown in the upper view) is a fountain. The garden has a beautiful natural setting, it is in easy access of the house which is reached by a very pretty walk (shown in the lower view. Adjoining the garden has been built a gravel tennis court, without which no well appointed estate is now complete. The court has a top dressing of blue crushed stone, as have also the numerous walks about the garden, thus giving tone and effect to the layout. On all sides of the garden have been planted choice shrubs and trees and the basins contain choice specimen of aquatic plants. Messrs. Connolly Bros. of Beverly Farms were the contractors in charge of the improvements, both the garden and tennis court.

MANCHESTER

Reckless automobile driving was yesterday responsible for an accident to Davis, the Gloucester fish man, which left him in a less serious condition than would probably be his fate were the occurrence repeated. He was at West Manchester when two autos, said to be racing, met him. One of the autos struck the horse and cut a gash in its nose. Wednesday there came near being a bad accident on Beach street near Tappan, when an auto nearly run into one of the prominent business men of the town. A serious accident was most narrowly avoided.

Next Wednesday evening, the 18th, Deputy Andrew H. Paton and suite of Danvers will install the recently-elected officers of Conomo tribe, 113, I.O.R.M. A barge load of Red Men will accompany the deputy from Danvers.

Mrs. W. H. Clark and daughter, Miss Alice Clark, left Manchester yesterday and sailed from New York this noon on the Pennsylvania of the Hamburg-American line for a visit to Mrs. Clark's native home in Germany. They will remain abroad till October, probably.

A very pleasant evening's entertainment was given in the Town hall last evening in aid of the Sacred Heart church. The program included singing, dancing, readings, and instrumental playing, the bass solos by Fred K. Swett being particularly well taken. The talent was for the most part from out of town. A dance followed.

The popularity of Singing Beach as a bathing place is attested by the manner in which the bath houses have been taken this year. Caretaker McCormack reports that hardly a day passes but some two or three parties are on the beach trying to to hire a house, but practically everything is taken for the summer. Persons having houses to let should notify Mr. McCormack. The temperature of the water yesterday was 67.

Richard Harden of Boston was the first of the autoists to appear in court this year at the instance of the Manchester police, charged with over-speeding his machine. Sunday afternoon Chief Peabody with Officers Andrews, Lee and Jones, and Special Officer Lucas were out timing the cars. At the junction of Bridge and Central streets two cars were held up and summoned into court. Mr. Harden appeared Monday and was fined $10. He was going at a 19-miles-an-hour clip.

The police held up another autoist Sunday and summoned him into court. The car was owned by Samuel Hills of Seattle, who has a large estate at Stockbridge. The chauffeur's name is Ray Stevens. Neither owner nor chauffeur showed up and Chief Peabody put the matter up to the state commissioners with the result that they are now trying to locate the party.

A hearing was given at the meeting of the board of aldermen in Gloucester last Friday night on the proposed widening at the corner of Raymond street and Magnolia avenue. This was taken up previously at an informal hearing at which many Magnolia folk were present. Last week, however, only Mr. Stanwood, the owner of the land in question, was represented. The proposed widening takes 536 sq. ft. of land, the curve starting 50 feet from the present corner. Mr. Stanwood will not object to taking 15 or 20, or perhaps 25 feet, but he will go the limit of the law, he says, in refusing to give up 50 feet of his land, which he claims is the most valuable piece of land he owns in Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Callahan left Manchester Monday and sailed from New York on the Slavonia the following morning for the Mediterranean. They will stop at Naples and other points on the Mediterranean before traveling through France, Germany and England. They intend to sail from Liverpool on the Saxonia Oct. 2 for home. The trip is made for Mrs. Callahan's health, she having been quite poorly the past few years. A number of friends saw them off at the Manchester station, while others bade them bon voyage at the South station in Boston. During their absence the Manchester house will be in charge of Mr. Callahan's two nephews.

Miss Adelaide Piper of Boston is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Grant, Washington street.

Mrs. Charles E. Bell has with her for a fortnight's visit her mother, Mrs. Hunkins of Merrimac. Mrs. Lester Morris is entertaining her father, John Stanford, of Cottage City.

Miss Eunice McGilvary and Miss Winnie Weaver of Boston were guests over Sunday of M. A. McInnis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roundy, who formerly spent their summers in Manchester, are here for a few weeks' stay, being registered at the Manchester house.

Mrs. Thomas Lethbridge and two young daughters are paying a visit to the former's native home in Newfoundland.

The efforts of the street department have been confined the past week to Beach street, raising the curbing and the grade of the sidewalk in preparation for concreting later.

Misses Elizabeth Flynn and Margaret Donovan were guests over Sunday of Miss Brown of Bridge street.

Friends of George F. Allen are pleased to see him in the Old Corner store again, after being kept from duty several weeks as the result of injury received from a fall at the store some weeks ago.

On Monday afternoon, July 30, at 4 o'clock, a musicale will be given in the Town hall, Manchester, in aid of the South End Day Nursery, with Mrs. Frances D. Wood, soprano, and Mr. Charles E. Anthony, pianist. The musicale is given under the management of Mrs. Stanley P. Clemens of the Westminster, Boston. Mrs. Clemens is a director of the South End Day Nursery, and spends much of her time in the work of bettering the conditions. The tickets are $2.00.

Major and Mrs. Henry L. Higginson leave West Manchester today for a two or three weeks' visit to Mapewood, N.H. Their son, A. H. Higginson, who has been spending the week on the shore, returns to his farm in Lincoln today.

Col. and Mrs. C. A. Hopkins, accompanied by Miss Sands of New York and several other friends, came down from Brookline yesterday in Col. Hopkins' large Pierce touring car, and are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Hopkins at their West Manchester cottage.

Mrs. Henry C. de Rham, 2d, and her young son are on from New York to spend part of the summer with Mrs. de Rham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Dana, at Manchester. Mr. de Rham will join her within a few weeks for the month of August. Mr. and Mrs. Dana also have as their house guest for a month or more Miss Dorothy Goodale of Cambridge, whose engagement to Allston Dana was announced some time ago.

The Clark & Mills Electric Co., whose North Shore office is in the post office building, Manchester, has just received from Boston one of the handsomest electric automobiles ever seen in Manchester. From July 16 to 21 inclusive this automobile will be on exhibition and those interested are invited to inspect same. The firm will be pleased to demonstrate the automobile to anyone who is interested in this type of car. It is an ideal carriage for a lady's use. The machine is especially adapted for hill climbing. CRANE--BOARDMAN here and abroad, and so numerous are Senator Crane's friends everywhere, that it was determined to have a quiet home affair and to confine the invitations to nearest relations.

"Windcliffe," the beautiful summer home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jarvis Boardman, charmingly situated high among the pines on a hill, off School street on the old road to Essex, and not far from the Essex County club, was admirably adapted to a family gathering such as that of Tuesday.

Promptly at half past twelve to the time of a wedding march played by a four-pieced stringed orchestra the bridal party walked into the spacious library. The room was prettily decorated with a profusion of pink and white roses. The alcove in which the bride and groom stood was all banked with palms and roses. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, D.D., rector of St. John's Episcopal church, in Washington. He was assisted by Rev. William H. Dewart of Manchester, rector of Christ church, Hyde Park.

Those present at the ceremony and breakfast included, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Boardman, only the following-named people: Miss Mabel Boardman, sister of the bride; W. H. Boardman of Cleveland, O., her brother, and Mrs. Boardman; George St. John Sheffield of Attleboro, the brother of the bride's mother, accompanied by Mrs. Sheffield; Colonel and Mrs. Mason Tyler of Plainfield, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Henry Mosle of New York; Mrs. von Rottenburg-Phelps of Teaneck, N.J.; Mrs. Zenas Marshall Crane and Miss Clara Crane of Dalton, the mother and sister of Senator Crane; Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Crane and their sons, Charles K. Crane and Zenas Marshall Crane; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Colt of Pittsfield and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Pomeroy, also of Pittsfield; Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Plunkett of Hinsdale; Mr. and Mrs. Bates of Morristown, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Crane of Dalton, Mrs. Robert Bonner of Astoria, L.I., and E. H. Brewer of Dalton.

It might be said in passing that at the special request of Miss Boardman, which only emphasizes the informality of the event, all the "Windcliffe" servants were in the room and witnessed the ceremony. They were each presented with an envelope after the wedding, within which was found a present for all. The gifts were in the form of money from Mr. and Mrs. Crane, that to the butler being $100, to the cook $25, and to others ranging in amounts from $25 to $5.

"WINDCLIFFE," THE W. J. BOARDMAN SUMMER HOME

The decorations at the house were not on an elaborate scale, the intention being to make the rooms to appear homelike. Huge bunches of old-fashioned larkspur gave the hall a beautiful appearance, while the dining room was decked in pale pink, carnations and sweet peas being the flowers used. A large centre piece of sweet peas was on the table. P. L. Carbone of Boston and Cambridge was in charge of the decorations.

The bridal gown was of white satin, made in princess style, with a full train. The dress was trimmed in old point lace, which had trimmed the bridal gown of Mrs. Boardman. A veil of tulle fastened to the hair with conventional orange blossoms was worn and a large bouquet of lilies of the valley was carried. There were no bridesmaids nor was there a best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A brief and informal reception followed the ceremony. There were no ushers. Senator Crane received congratulations also on the fact that he had just become a grandfather, a young son arriving in the home of his son in Dalton Monday night.

A wedding breakfast was served a little before 1 o'clock.

A little before 3 o'clock a large Peerless touring car, with limousine body, came up the front entrance of "Windcliffe" and Mr. and Mrs. Crane rode away, going to Boston, and from there to the senator's country place, Mt. Pleasant, near Dalton. In the fall they will probably go abroad.

The bride had received an immense number of wedding gifts of all kinds from all over the country. These have since been shipped away, some 10 barrels and 20 cases going by express Thursday.

Tennis is attracting much attention at the Essex County club these days. The tennis committee of the club, of which H. S. Grew is chairman, has arranged for two tournaments as follows: Beginning Monday, August 6th, two tournaments will be held on the club courts: Ladies' handicap singles, mixed doubles (scratch). In the latter event partners will be drawn by lot. Entries should be sent to the tennis committee on or before Tuesday, July 31st. These tournaments are open to members of the club, their invited guests, and also members of Montserrat, Myopia and Nahant clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Martin and Miss G. M. Martin of Chelsea are at the Hesperus, Magnolia, for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Nicolls, Miss Nicolls, and cousin, Miss Katherine Lyons of St. Davids, Pa., are among the recent arrivals at the Hesperus. Mr. Nicolls is a well-known Pennsylvania mine owner. Miss Nicolls is one of the most attractive girls at Magnolia this summer. She sang sweetly at the concert last Sunday evening.

A handsome collection of table linen, c etre pieces, and other handicraft of the Russian peasants, antiques of all kinds, including old mirrors, one pair John Alden andirons, and some old Sheffield plate, is to be found at "The Old Homestead," on the North Shore, Magnolia.

The attention of North Shore folk is now being turned to two more weddings to take place here this summer, both the last of next month. The marriage of Miss Naneen C. Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Mitchell, and Quincy A. Shaw, 2d, is set for Saturday, Aug. 25, at the beautiful summer home of the Mitchells in Manchester Cove. And a few days ago came the announcement of the wedding in late August of Miss Emily Sargent, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sargent of Magnolia, to Baron Ludwig Knoop of Russia. It is understood that Miss Sargent has decided to have a small and quiet wedding. Baron Knoop has arranged to arrive in America a week or so prior to the wedding and he and his fiancée will be much feted, several dinners in their joint honor being already projected. Baron Rosen and other members of the Russian legation being located at Coolidge's Point and Magnolia, there will probably be much entertaining from that direction.

The Myopia Hunt club polo players are putting in some good practice these days getting ready for the opening of the polo season at Newport, August 11, where it will play until September after which it will come to Hamilton. Among the players out for the practice are: R. G. Shaw 2d, A. Ames, Jr., Maxwell Norman, F. H. Prince, J. H. Proctor, H. Tweed, R. L. Agassiz, F. B. Fay, A. L. Cochrane, C. Fitch, G. E. Amory, G. L. Peabody, D. Rogers and G. H. Norman.

There were 18 players in the members' handicap competition at the Essex County club last Saturday, the links being in a much better condition than in any of the other tournaments. George H. Crocker made the best gross score, 82, and S. S. Stevens, Jr., playing in 15 handicap, netted the lowest score, 77.

Joseph Lloyd established a new record for the Essex County club links last week. Playing with Philip McMillan, he made the 18 holes in 68. The best previous record was 70, which Prof. Lloyd made last year.

S. S. PICNIC.

Manchester and Beverly Farms Bible Schools Unite in Annual Picnic at Tuck's Point.

The annual summer outing of the Bible Schools connected with the Manchester and Beverly Farms Baptist churches was held Wednesday, the two schools uniting in a big picnic at Tuck's Point, Manchester. The large committee in charge had arranged a good programme, and the excellent weather aided them in carrying out the plans. A baseball game, field and water sports were included in the programme.

The baseball game was the most interesting feature of the morning. The game was between picked nines from both Sunday schools. After playing three innings, the game was called off, the score standing 3 to 1 in Manchester's favor. The teams:

Manchester—Archie Cool, Herman Swett, E. T. P. Morey, Dr. Tyler, Rev. E. H. Brewster, George Burchstead, M. Mason, R. Kitfield, F. Andrews.

Beverly Farms—Frank McKeon, Jos. Quirk, G. Burchstead, Bert Hull, Rex. Hull, Fred Hull, Ruel Davis, Robt. Brown, Theo. Sphers.

At 12 o'clock another game in which everybody participated was played, and it is safe to say everybody scored a run, for it was lunch time. It was a basket lunch, with free coffee and lemonade, served in the chowder house.

At 2 o'clock the water and field sports were held. The winners in the various events were:

Walking the pole: Men—Edward S. Bradley, 20 feet. Boys—Rex. Hull, 19½ feet. The tub race was a failure.

Foot race: 1st heat—Walter Howe, Joe. Chadwick; 2d heat, Joe. Quirk, Raymond Allen; 3d heat, Joe. Bradley; finals, Joe. Bradley, 1st; Joe. Quirk, 2d.

Boys' potato race: 1st heat—Walter Howe, Geo. Burchstead; 2d heat, Joe. Chadwick, Gordon Cool; 3d heat, R. Allen, Sidney Tappan.

Girls' potato race: May Lendall, Ruth Baker, Josephine Brooks.

A pleasant feature of the day were the free launch sails given the members of the schools in Lewis Lations' boat, the small craft being packed almost every trip.

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

FROM THE BLACK HILLS OF SOUTH DAKOTA.

Interesting Letter from Rev. Walter H. Ashley, a Former Manchester Pastor.

Manchester and North Shore friends of Rev. Walter H. Ashley and two daughters, Misses Kate and Gertrude, will be interested in reading the following letter sent to the Breeze. Mr. Ashley was pastor of the Congregational church in Manchester for a number of years, and left here about a year ago for the Black Hills of South Dakota.

By W. H. Ashley.

After a year in the Black Hills of South Dakota the writer is just beginning to learn something of the natural beauties that surround him. The first thought is of folks. The true man turns to his fellows and finds in them life's chief interest. Then comes the thought of how they live. Whence the source of life's material stream. In the Black Hills first of all is the gold supply and the great Home-stake mine becomes the starting point of interest, but not alone. Then comes the stock—the great cattle range—and Belle Faurche surrounded by the grazing country and near the beginning of the great government irrigating dam and ditch, the cattle shipping point, takes the attention. Then come the valleys where all the products of the north temperate clime are produced and consumed without being taken far from home. Then the industries arising from all these. It is then that one has time to look about him and study conditions of nature. A year in a climate that knows little of summer heat and whose winter in point of severity is so short that it is soon forgotten; whose autumns, after the equinox of rain and hail and snow, often extend into the new year, causes one to wonder if another can be like it. A year amid hills whose beauty and grandeur will take years to explore, with their pine clad breasts and summits, deep gorges, rushing streams, towering rocks and gems of valleys.

But of all the Black Hills we have lately visited a part that surpasses all others and I wonder if there is anywhere within the same compass anything like it. We took the Burlington route to Custer, sixty miles away (a sixty miles of winding among the hills, up and down, in and out like the trail of the Rio Grande), the R. R. point for the famous Sylvan Lake. Entering from the north we preferred to wait for morning for the drive of six miles, that it might come by daylight rather than in the twilight of the long Dakota day.

This drive was like that of western Massachusetts, save that it lacked the centuries of civilization and the rural home. Once on the way Harney's Peak appeared standing above all the peaks of the Black Hills, the sentinel of the Hills 8200 feet above the level of the sea. Our way lay upward, but no mountain climbing impeded our progress.

We had heard of Sylvan, we had seen the charming pictures, but we did not dream that such a place could be so near home, so near the wind-swept, heat-scorched plains of our middle west.

A deep gorge, filled with massive boulders, as though some great giant of the under world had found his way obstructed, had lifted the hills upon his shoulders and had twisted them apart and then with strides like those of the ancient Cyclops had moved out into the plain.

Where the walls stood a hundred feet apart and fifty high, a dam has been built and the tiny stream held back to form a lake, whose rippling waves dash upon rocks of varied forms and sizes and heights that produce a picture that with all the artist's skill cannot be put on canvas, for he cannot catch the varying change of light and shade and color with changing sun and moving clouds.

This charming spot has been made a resort where the weary made find rest and those troubled with hay fever may find breath.

We had just reached the hotel when a thunder storm burst upon us, followed with hail and snow, and we found the fire on the hearth a welcome cheer while the storm lasted. After it cleared away we hastened to explore the gorge, the cliffs, the springs, and to play snowball the 19th of June and try to storm the cliffs with winter's own.

Far from the noise of the world's traffic we sat down at noon to a dinner fit for the epicure as well as for him to whom an outing gives an appetite that finds three meals a day too far between. And while we ate our burros were caught and saddled, caps, coats and divided skirts provided, and soon arrayed, not as Solomon, we mounted and started for Cathedral Park and Harney's Peak $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles away. Our way wound around the lake through tall grass and groves of pine, along a well defined trail, though often turned aside by a fallen tree wrecked in winter's storm. There was no monotony in the trip save that of the continual effort to keep the ass going and to assure him that the bridges were safe and the steeps not impassable. We found no such difficulty on the return trip.

At the beginning of the so-called Needles we climbed to an overhanging cliff and looked off down an unexplored gorge, over the undulating hills toward the distant plain—a scene that cannot be put on canvas or expressed in words. The storm clouds split at Harney's Peak, gave us a flurry of snow and a terrific blast of wind, and made grand the hill tops and valleys beneath us as they fled away into the distance as if frightened by the hills.

This view almost equals that of Harney. It lacks only the all-around effect of the higher point. I have stood on peaks in the Rockies, but have seen no finer view.

But it is the Needles that attract one. One wonders concerning the forces that have removed the hills and left these gigantic cores standing. The surrounding trees tell of the years that they have stood through the storms of winter and summer, proof against even the lightning. The Black Hills "Garden of the Gods" far surpasses that of Colorado. Into this retreat came no sound from the outer world. The storm had cleared away, the sun shone down with the power and beauty of June's full day, and the giant rocks pointed to the deep blue of the impenetrable heavens, and a voice within spoke to one's spirit the inspired words "In the beginning God."

It is indeed a Cathedral Park and from all the lofty spires, bell-less, there comes to man the consciousness of the mystery of the Infinite and the Psalmist's thought, "There is no speech nor language, for their voice cannot be heard."

Reluctantly we turned our faces toward Sylvan Lake and caught its changed beauty in the western sun, and after exploring the upper gorge and getting some realization of what there was still to see, we ordered our team, determined that some day when weary we needed rest we would hie us to Sylvan Lake and revel in its beauties for days together.

The JewelerLOOMIS*Pays Respects

U. S. Senator W. Murray Crane, while in Manchester the first of the week, paid his respects to the town officials. Tuesday afternoon he walked through the village from the Masconomo and called at the Town hall, where he met Town Clerk A. S. Jewett and Chairman F. K. Swett of the board of selectmen.

"Menarchee"

A monologue in costume by Mrs. Abby Snell Burnell, in which she portrays the life of a Hindu woman, will be given at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 4.30. Mrs. Burnell has given this impersonation hundreds of times throughout the country, and recently gave it at Poland Springs. So vividly is the story given that many in her audiences have taken Mrs. Burnell to be the real Brahmin woman. She is, however, one of our own American women, who has spent some years in Southern India, and has taken the unique method of putting herself in the place of a Hindu woman and telling a life story in the first person in order to give others a vivid picture of Hindu life. This is not a missionary meeting. Everybody will be interested and everybody is invited. Because of this afternoon service the usual Sunday evening service will be omitted..

IN YACHTING CIRCLES.

The sonder klasse boat Manchester, designed for Dr. John L. Bremer of Cohasset and Manchester, was launched from Fenton company's yards at Manchester Thursday afternoon without a hitch. Dr. Bremer and E. A. Boardman, the designer, were present. The Manchester is similar in type to the Caramba and the Ellen, built for C. H. W. Foster and C. P. Curtis. She will go 36 feet over all, 19 feet 6 inches on the water line, measures 7 feet at the beam and draws 5 feet 4 inches. Experts who saw the Manchester before and after she was launched say she has every indication of proving another strong finisher, and will give the other sonder klasse boats an interesting brush in the trials and in the races for the cup. The heavy shower prevented a trial trip, which was intended for a test of the new boat.

Wonderland's Endless Chain.

Every day now furnishes an example of the powerful, magnetic popularity of Wonderland, the latest development in twentieth century amusements at Revere Beach. The broad scope of the plan developed there for public entertainment on a large scale is fully appreciated on a casual visit, but there is such a seemingly endless chain of novelties that one does not feel satisfied with a single visit. True, it requires but one taste of the feast to delight any amusement epicure, and all are welcome to help themselves to their heart's content; but patrons generally leave the grounds with their minds fixed upon some date when they can return and see the things they neglected.

"The Man from Now."

The fiftieth consecutive performance at the Tremont theatre of Harry Bulger and his associate players in Henry W. Savage's all-summer production, "The Man from Now," was given last Wednesday night, and the indications now are that it will be well over the hundred mark before the attraction leaves Boston and goes to other cities in search of a portion of the success which has been its share in Boston. Messrs. Bangs, Bryan and Klein have been at work upon the play, and as a result several new scenes and considerable new dialogues have been introduced. The summer prices are now prevailing. Matinees are given on Wednesday as well as Saturday.

geniuses, whether in the pulpit, or the platform or the stage, generally succeed in imitating chiefly their foibles and defects.

It is significant that in mathematics a straight line is a right line; rightness never seeks its end by any crooked means; indirection is nearly allied to insincerity and untruthfulness.

If we open the windows of our souls, divine thoughts will be very likely to come in and bless us with their presence.

The drunkard often deserves our pity as well as our blame; but the drunkard-maker should be made to feel that he cannot rise to the height of our disdain.

There have been good and just rulers in the worst times; "good man he was, and muckle awe was of him; durst no man mis-do with other in his time; great peace he made for man and deer." There is great need of such men at all times, to prevent good times from becoming bad, and bad times from becoming worse.

Superficiality and irreverence are nearly related, they are two great evils of our age, they affect our religion as well as our morality and our manners.

Faith is intimately connected with character, some men's faith is worth very little, that of others is worth a great deal. "Better is a little that a righteous man hath, than the riches of many wicked."

Vacation may be the most profitable or the most profitless time of the year.

No good, but only evil, has come from divorcing religion and morality; what God has joined together man is not to put asunder.

There is in man a wonderful adjustment to the world around him; it is conceivable that the sense of hearing might have been so acute that we could not only hear the grass grow, but that the silence of the forest would be like the roar of the city; in this case, how much greater would be the increase of painful than of pleasurable sensations.

However mere speculative views may suffice for certain philosophers, experience shows that morality must rest upon some basis of authority for the majority of mankind.

Science and Scripture can never be at variance with each other, however they may at times appear to be so.

We may err in our interpretation of Science or of Scripture, or of both; but there can be no want of harmony between the works and the word of God.

Revelation may transcend Reason, but it is never in conflict with it. Reason cannot discover religious truth, but it can recognize it when made known. And no truth can be received by us which is unreasonable; only we must remember that what is above reason is of necessity against reason.

Mr. James J. McDonnell has plans out and is securing estimates for his new residence to be built upon the newly acquired lot on Hale street, opposite the Wm. Leahy estate. The plans call for a 2½-story frame dwelling, suitable for occupancy of two families.

The young men of the Beverly Farms church are to hold an outing on next Saturday. The day will be spent on the water in the morning and on Baker's Island in the afternoon for games and sports.

Great preparations are being made for the lawn party to be held on Tuesday, July 24, in Marshall's field. The Lynn Cadet Band orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets are now for sale at 15 cents each.

Plums, peaches, grapes, and all fruits of the season, fresh daily at Preble's market, Beverly Farms. *

Owing to the usual cool temperature of the water about July 4th time, which has in the past been a sort of preventive against many entering the swimming, diving and other water sports, the July 4th committee this year omitted this feature. It has been suggested by many, however, that on some Saturday, for instance, during the month of August, a water carnival be held at West beach, embracing the above sports and other interesting features. Should those who are now the most interested take hold of the matter there seems to be no doubt of its success.

John West Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, are to hold their annual picnic and outing at Conomo point, Essex, about the middle of August.

The present and past members of the city government from Ward 6 are planning for their annual outing, which is to take place this year at Turk's Head Inn, Rockport, on next Wednesday, July 18. This reunion is looked forward to each year, as it gives to those who have been associated together in conducting city affairs an opportunity to greet each other and recall the many pleasing incidents relative to city affairs.

Work has been going on the past week, under the direction of the park commissioners, cleaning up, filling and grading the Haskell street lot, some time ago purchased by the city for a playground. A great improvement has been made, much to the gratification of the community. Let us hope that steps will now be taken to regulate the further use of the property as a dumping ground.

A large crowd enjoyed the dance and sociable held last evening in Neighbor's hall, given by the Holy Name society. A goodly sum was realized, which is to be devoted to the purchase of articles for sale tables in the church fair in August. Heaphy's Singing orchestra received much applause for their excellent music.

Work was started on last Tuesday morning by Messrs. Connolly Bros.' pile driver, opposite the estate of Frederick Ayer, at Pride's Crossing, driving the necessary oak piling into the sand, preparatory to the building of a fine ocean pier.

Charles H. Hull has accepted a position as watchman with the John D. Rockefeller, jr.s., at Pitch Pine Hall for the summer.

George West Larcom is carrying one arm in a sling and taking a vacation, due to a fall from his wheel one evening this week, injuring his shoulder and arm.

Michael J. Murphy, who recently returned to the Farms after a period spent at the Carney hospital, Boston, was taken this week to the Beverly hospital for further treatment.

Miss Ruth Preston of Manchester is spending a week with her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Preston, at East Wenham.

We are agents for the Broad Valley Farm jumbo squabs. Preble's market, Beverly Farms. *

John Woodbury is the new clerk at Preble's market, Central square.

Charles Bent, the electrical contractor, has added his motor boat to the fleet anchored off West beach.

George W. O'Day, the Pride's Crossing painter, has just had erected a good sized building, containing office and workshop, on the grounds of Stephen Eldredge, near the Pride's Crossing R.R. station.

The community received a shock on Tuesday morning in learning of the death of Mrs. Margaret M. Fogg, wife of Samuel Fogg, who passed away at the Mass. General hospital, Boston, where she went only a few days ago for treatment. Mrs. Fogg was well known in this vicinity where, by her energetic spirit and constant desire to perform all her duties both at home and elsewhere, endeared her to the love and respect of her large circle of friends. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Daniel M. Linehan and a son Joseph F. Fogg. Funeral services were held on Thursday morning at St. Margaret's church and interment made at the Beverly Farms cemetery.

An out of town physician was in Beverly Farms one day this week looking over the territory with an idea of locating here the year round.

West Beach is the popular place these days and is the refuge for the people in this vicinity to escape the hot weather as well as the place to find pleasure and enjoyment. The bathers each day increase in number especially on days when the water is warm. A number of swimming and diving rafts are now in use, anchored off the pier which, at certain hours of day are crowded with those who enjoy a dip in the briny deep.

We send you a duplicate of your order, showing the amounts, weights, prices, etc., with each order, each day. Preble's market, Beverly Farms. *

BACK GOES ROAD ROLLER

Council Decides that the Machine does not Fulfill Contract Made with the Iroquois Company

Manchester folk who were interested in the purchase of the steam roller for the town last spring, especially any who were of the opinion that Supt. Kimbail and the board of selectmen were wrong in their choice of the Buffalo Pitts roller instead of the Iroquois, will be interested in the following account taken from the Record-Herald, Hanover, Pa., June 26:

"Mr. Stokes, of the purchasing committee, brought forward the steam roller question. He stated that the road roller received from the Iroquois Iron Works, and tested on our streets, was unsatisfactory and did not meet the requirements of the contract.

"The following resolution was then unanimously adopted, on motion of Mr. Stokes, seconded by Mr. Coulson:

"Resolved, That the Iroquois steam road roller purchased by your purchasing committee from the Iroquois Iron Works for the use of the borough of Hanover is hereby rejected, on the grounds that it does not fulfill the contract made May 9, 1906, between the said company and our committee, and the representations made by the agent of the said company, and that the said company be notified that the

Society Notes

Senator Beverage of Indiana has been spending a week at the Oceanside, in Magnolia, leaving there on Wednesday for the Rangeley lakes. Last Saturday he was among Col. Nelson's guests at a luncheon party at the Grille club. Work on Col. Nelson's cottage at Magnolia is being pushed rapidly. He sails this week for Europe.

Speaker Cannon is to spend most of the summer at Magnolia, where Mrs. Cannon has already registered, a guest of Mrs. J. L. Loose of Chicago at the Oceanside. She arrived Wednesday, and her husband will follow shortly.

Among the guests at the Aborn, Magnolia, are Miss Mollie Johnson of Brooklyn and Miss A. M. Hunt of New York.

Mrs. E. L. Wood of Manchester, Mrs. Thomas Stott and Mrs. C. L. Storer of Magnolia have been attending the Bridge congress at the Hotel Somerset, Boston, this week. Mrs. Wood succeeded in getting top score one of the days, and ended the tournament with a very good total.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Ross of Denver are recent arrivals at the Aborn, Magnolia.

Miss Carpenter is showing a very pretty line of imported novelties and fine jewelry at her store in the Oceanside hotel.

Houghton & Clark, the well-known florists located at the Colonnade, Magnolia, are now carrying a complete line of all kinds of flowers, making a specialty of Killarny roses. They have some beautiful palm, box and bay trees, which they offer at a low price.

Bold Theft

Edward Dalton, a fruit pedlar, hailing from Cambridge, was arrested in Gloucester Wednesday afternoon for the Manchester police, and in court Thursday he pleaded not guilty to the charge of larceny of a gold watch and chain, the property of Miss Hattie Baker. He was held in $200 bail, and not paying this he was remanded to the Salem jail. He was held for the grand jury. Chas. D. Smith of Gloucester appeared for the defendant, and Geo. E. Willmonton for the government.

It seems that the man brought some peaches to Mrs. Nancy O. Burnham's Wednesday, and set them on the dining room table. Miss Baker, who lives with her grandmother, had just laid her watch on the table. A few minutes after the pedlar had gone the watch was missed. Officer Lomasney and F. K. Swett found the suspected thief, took him to the station, searched him and not finding the watch, let him go, as no warrant had been sworn out. Later in the day F. K. Swett and Officer Andrews went

HARBOR ILLUMINATION

And Boat Parade in Manchester on Thursday Evening, Aug. 2—The Grand Water Event of the Season Now Being Arranged For—Open to all Residents of Manchester

The announcement that there is to be a harbor illumination and boat parade in Manchester this year will be met with much interest. On the evening of August 2 such an event will take place, under the auspices of the Manchester Yacht club, and will be open to all the residents of Manchester.

The following prizes will be offered for the best decorated boats: 1st, $25.00; 2d, $20.00; 3d, $15.00; 4th, $10.00, and 5th, $5.00. The judge will be Mr. Eric Pape of the Eric Pape School of Art, Boston, whom Manchester people will recall as the leader of the petition taken before Congress last winter for the preservation of the old fighter Constitution.

Entries, giving length of boat, must be made to the secretary of the Yacht club on or before July 30. All boats must be at Fenton Co.'s wharf at 8 o'clock, and must be provided with a rope at the bow and at the stern for towing purposes, or with a ring to which such rope can be attached. Tow boats will be provided for all boats. At 9 o'clock a gun will be fired at the yacht club, at which signal all owners of shore front property are requested to light red fire.

In case of postponement the Yacht club's cannon will be fired three times at 7 o'clock, in which event the illumination will take place the following evening.

The committee in charge is composed of A. Walpole Craigie, E. S. Grew and Arthur M. Merriam.

Ill-gotten wealth bestowed in charity or benevolence brings no blessing to the giver, however much it may bless the recipient.

E. Percy Lane has been spending the past week at home, guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lane, Vine street. Mr. Lane is chief draughtsman in new construction work, for the New York Central, and is located in the Grand Central station, New York.

Henry Menken, caretaker of the F. M. Whitehouse estate at Manchester Cove, left Monday for a ten days' stay at Long Island.

The electric lights have just been turned on in the Public Library building and in the Police station. G. A. Knoerr did the work.

At a session of the probate court at Salem on Monday, administration was allowed on the estate of John E. Lee of this town.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Temple and family go to Wilton, N.H., today for a short vacation, with relatives.

Mrs. Mary E. Bell returned to Beverly Thursday after a few days' visit with her son, Frank E. Bell.

Prof. C. L. Norton has been spending the week in New York. Next week he goes to Nashua, N.H., to be engaged in some experimental work the balance of the summer.

Edward Crowell was in Concord, N.H., over Sunday and the first of the week.

Men's Bathing Suits at Allen's. *

Alfred C. Needham entertained a small party of friends on his launch the Mahdeen III, over the week-end.

Tuesday was the hottest day of the summer—the extreme humidity making the day almost unbearable.

Miss Elsie Gorman left yesterday for Hampton Beach where she is a member of a house party of young people for a week.

Miss Emily Starrett of Mt. Vernon, N.H., and Miss Hutchinson of Georgetown, are spending a fortnight at Manchester, guests at Mrs. S. Albert Sinnicks', North street.

The selectmen have called a hearing at their room in the Town hall for next Thursday at 4 o'clock, on petition of the Telephone company to place poles on Morse court and Forest street.

Three more autoists were held up by the Manchester police last Sunday and summoned into court, two appearing Monday morning and the other Tuesday, all paying fines of $10. Lawrence F. Percival pleaded nolo contendere, but paid his fine, while Edmond Reynolds said he was not aware he was within the town limits when he was held up.

Miss Lena M. Jones is visiting friends in Henniker, N. H.

Deputy Great Sachem Allen S. Peabody and suite of 17 chiefs picked up the iron trail to Lynn reservation last evening and installed the recently elected chiefs of Poquanum tribe, 105, Red Men, to their respective stumps. The deputy and staff were most highly complimented on their work by officers of the great reservation of Massachusetts, who were present. The visiting chiefs were royally entertained, a feast of corn and venison being served after the ceremony. The theatre train stopped at Lynn last night to convey the staff home.

"The Man From Now"

With seats selling four weeks in advance and a steady demand for them, there is no indication at this time that the run of Harry Bulger in "The Man From Now," the musical novelty which Henry W. Savage offers at the Tremont Theatre, will be brought to an end much before the last day of August. The company will give the 63d performance at the Tremont next Monday and the entire engagement has been one long round of successes from the very start on the afternoon of Memorial day. There are 200 orchestra seats at 50 cents; 200 in the first balcony at 50 cents, and the entire second balcony at 25 cents, all reserved.

The formal opening of the Woman's Club house is to occur next Monday, when between the hours of 3 and 10 the matron, Mrs. Foster, will receive. All women employed in Magnolia are specially invited, whether working in the hotels or in private families. Entertainments and dances are being arranged for and the club house will be of continuous service from Monday on. The bed-rooms in the second story, which are to be for rental to women, will be ready about Aug. 1st. The BREEZE is to contain next week a full account of the new Women's Club house, written by Rev. F.J. Libby, who has been in charge of the enterprise.

The annual sale held by the Village church is to occur next Wednesday in the parlors of the Oceanside hotel from 2 to 9 p.m. Pretty and useful fancy articles, flowers and delicious home-made candies, will be for sale. The children will find on the table, set apart for them specially, just the things they want. The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to the payment of the debt on the parsonage, which amounts now to $2,350.

Mrs. Abby Snell Burnell gave a delightful impersonation of a Hindoo woman to a crowded church last Sunday evening. She was dressed in costume, spoke in the first person and with dramatic power; so that it was hard to realize that she had not personally lived through the experiences which she related. Mrs. Burnell is to give her second impersonation—quite different from Menarchee—at the New Magnolia hotel next Sunday evening.

Mr. L. E. Day, the manager of the Men's Summer club, reports 50 members enrolled already, and the season is just begun. This augurs well for a summer of usefulness for this useful institution. The new rooms now that the walls are finished are very pleasant and attractive.

At the Village church tomorrow sermon by the pastor in the morning. In the evening at 8.15 will occur the second of the illustrated sermons on the Life of Christ with singing by the popular Young Folks' choir.

R. C. Hooper's Famous Steeple-Chaser "Land of Clover" Dead

"Land of Clover," Robert C. Hooper's famous steeple-chaser, said to have been worth at one time $50,000, and which has won over $25,000 in prizes for his owner, was struck by an automobile in Manchester yesterday morning, breaking a hind leg, and injuring him so badly that he was shot.

Mr. Hooper, riding Zinzibar, another famous horse, started a little after 10 o'clock with Michael Hickey, his groom, on a ride along the road toward Manchester Cove. As they reached a point between the Head and Curtis avenues they started their horses a little so as to pass Lewandos laundry wagon, driven by Geo. H. Watson. As they were abreast of the horse an auto came along from behind and tried to pass, it is alleged. As it did so the horse driven by Hickey was struck in some manner, breaking a hind leg and throwing it and the driver to the ground.

The auto, a Packard touring car, was owned by C. S. Houghton of Coolidge's Point. R. W. Jameson, an English chauffeur, was in charge of the car. He said yesterday afternoon the accident was unavoidable, that he was two feet, eight inches from the gutter at the time of the accident. His car was going 15 miles an hour, extra speed having been put on so as to take the hill. Officer Wm. Lomasney shot the suffering animal at Mr. Hooper's request. Hickey was taken to town and given medical treatment. The extent of his injuries are not determined yet, though they will probably not prove serious.

Society Notes

Mrs. E. M. House entertained a party of friends at dinner at the Oceanside, Magnolia, last Saturday evening, including her daughter, Mrs. Randolph Tucker, and Mr. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Tucker, Mrs. Lindsay, Mr. Fitch, Miss Bessie Yoakum, and Mr. Darrah of Texas.

Mrs. Frances S. Watson of Boston was a guest of Mrs. John Phillips at North Beverly the first of the week.

The three attractive young daughters of Baron Moncheur, the Belgian Minister, who has the Von Meyer cottage at Hamilton this summer, were over to Magnolia Wednesday, guests of Mrs. James F. Barbour and young daughter, Miss Marguerite Barbour of Washington, who are guests at the Oceanside. They were entertained at the Dolphin, Mrs. Selfridge's Tea House, in the afternoon.

Miss Anna Vernon Dorsey of Maryland is at Gloucester for part of the summer. Miss Dorsey is well and popularly known to North Shore people, who have heard her in Southern negro songs and character monologues. On the first three evenings of this week she entertained the guests at the Oceanside, New Magnolia and Aborn, respectively, and on the 30th she will appear at the Hesperus. Miss Dorsey is going later to New York State, where she will be a guest of Mrs. Charles Whelen.

Mrs. R. S. Esler and family of New York have taken the Wrenn cottage at Magnolia for the balance of the season.

Mrs. Curtis Guild, jr., Mrs. Wolcott H. Johnson, Miss Johnson and Master Samuel Johnson, were over from Nahant by auto Wednesday, and were guests of Miss Clara Guild, a sister of the governor, at the Oceanside.

Miss E. W. Benham of Washington was a mid-week guest of Mrs. Garrettson at the Oceanside.

Society Notes

Among the several social functions scheduled for next week is the Watteau Fete for the benefit of the Tabitha Cume Home, to be given under the direction of Mr. Joseph Lindon Smith, on the lawn of Miss Haven's place, Beverly Farms, on Friday afternoon, July 27, at 4 o'clock. Tea will be served after the fete. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Robert T. Paine, Jr., Prides Crossing.

The affair will be of quite a novel nature, numerous young ladies and misses, and young men dressed in the costumes of shepherds and shepherdesses adding to the attractiveness of the feature. Mr. Sullivan Sargent of Boston will be the pianist, and there will also be a violinist. Mrs. Paine, Mrs. Chas. K. Cummings and Mrs. S. Parker Bremer are the managers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Reed Anthony are on their annual cruise down the Maine coast to Bar Harbor in their yacht, the Doris. They are stopping at various places along the line and Sunday they were guests of Mrs. C. F. I. Ayer at "Old Fort Iron," Kennebunkport, Me.

Mrs. W. A. Slater entertained at Beverly Cove Monday a party of fourteen at dinner.

Senator Nelson W. Aldrich and Mrs. Aldrich, of Providence, R. I., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at Pitch Pine Hall, Beverly Farms, making the trip by auto. Mrs. Aldrich has also been spending the balance of the week with her daughter.

George N. Black returned to Manchester last Sunday from a fortnight's visit to the old homestead in Ellsworth, Me. The estate is one of those old places such as are to be found all over Maine, and comprises about 500 acres of farm and woodland with the old farm house nestling in its midst. Here Mr. Black likes to go at intervals through the year, and he always finds much enjoyment at this spot.

E. F. Swift and family of Chicago, who summer at Lake Forest, Ill., were guests over the week-end at Swiftmoor, Prides Crossing.

The Victor Talking Machine is just the thing to entertain you this summer. We will be pleased to send a salesman to give a free demonstration of the Victor Machine and Records to anyone interested. Drop postal. The Eastern Talking Machine Co., 177 Tremont St., Boston.

Society Notes

Besides the harbor decoration and procession of illuminated boats to take place on Aug. 2, under the auspices of the Manchester Yacht club, the committee is arranging also for the annual water sports to take place on Aug. 11 at 3 o'clock, and for a children's entertainment later. These events, in addition to the water sports to be held at Crescent Beach, Magnolia, early in August, and the tournament of mounted sports there the last of August will offer considerable in the line of entertainment for North Shore visitors. Plans are also under way for water sports at West Beach, Beverly Farms, some Saturday next month.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walker and son, Charles Walker, returned last Saturday to "Highwood," their beautiful estate at Manchester, after a short absence in Europe.

Mrs. Alice Wheatland returned to York Harbor Thursday after a few days at Pride's Crossing, a guest of Mrs. E. Preble Motley.

Next Tuesday evening Dudley Prescott, the famous humorist, musical mimic and ventriloquist will appear at the New Magnolia hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Willett, who went abroad in the spring returned last Saturday and are now located at their cottage on Coolidge's Point for the rest of the summer.

Miss Clara Winthrop of Manchester, sailed Thursday for Europe for a two months' absence. She will return to the North Shore in September.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Parker Bremer are expected back to Manchester tomorrow from a cruise down the coast in their steam yacht, the Velthra. They had with them on the trip Mr. Bremer's cousin, Theodore Bremer, and Mrs. Bremer.

Society Notes

The first of the series of four musicales to be given at private houses along the shore this season was given yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Edward S. Grew's, West Manchester, and was attended by a representative gathering of North Shore folk. The rest of the series are to be given on Friday afternoons as follows: August 3, Mrs. Washington B. Thomas, Pride's Crossing; August 17, Mrs. Walter D. Denegre, West Manchester; Aug. 31, Mrs. F. Meredyth Whitehouse, Manchester Cove. The series is similar to that given last season. The following ladies compose the committee in charge: Mrs. Francis I. Amory, Miss Mabel S. Boardman, Mrs. Robert S. Bradley, Miss Helen C.

Burnham, Miss Clara T. Endicott, Mrs. W. Scott Fitz, Mrs. Robert C. Hooper, Miss Louisa P. Loring, Mrs. H. M. Sears, Mrs. Russell Tyson.

The artists yesterday were Miss Olive Mead, violinist; Mr. Francis Rogers, baritone. At the remaining recitals the artists will be: Aug. 3, Miss Edith Thompson, pianist; Miss Lilla Ormond, contralto. Aug. 17, Mr. Myron W. Whitney, jr., bass; Mr. George Copeland, jr., pianist. Aug. 31, Miss Susan Metcalfe, soprano; Mr. E. Tramonti, harpist of Chicago orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Cunningham will leave West Manchester next week for an extended visit to Northeast Harbor, Me., where they own an estate. They will return to Manchester in September for the season's close.

Asst. Secretary of State Robert Bacon and family have leased the Walter Cabot estate at West Manchester for the balance of the season. They are expected today.

Mrs. Philip Dexter and young son left Tuesday for a week's automobile trip to the Berkshires.

Miss Newell of Boston has been spending the week with her sister, Mrs. R. S. Bradley, at Prides Crossing.

S. H. Fessenden was the winner of the best net score in the members' handicap golf competition at the Essex County club last Saturday. He played in 90 with a handicap of 10, thus netting 80. George H. Crocker turned in the best gross score, 84. There were 28 players, the largest field of the season thus far.

Society Notes

Mrs. B. F. Yoakum has been entertaining a house party of young people for her daughter, Miss Bessie Yoakum, at Manchester the past week, including three young ladies from Texas, who are to prolong their stay a week or two more. They are Miss Louise Barclay, Miss Mattie Terry and Miss Ella Carr. In the party also were John Darragh, who was graduated from Yale this year, Lawrence Shepard of Brookline and Charles Yoakum of New York. Miss Katherine Yoakum is in New York on a brief visit. Last Saturday evening Miss Yoakum and some of her guests were invited to a dinner party given at the Oceanside, Magnolia, by Mrs. E. M. House, who is stopping there for the summer, at which were also present Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tucker and Mrs. Lindsay of Manchester.

Mrs. Oliver Ames entertained a small dinner party at her Prides home Monday evening. Plates were set for fourteen.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Pierson left Prides Crossing Monday for a short sojourn in Castine, Me.

The J. C. Storers of Waltham arrived the latter part of last week and are occupying the Winch cottage on Smith's Point, Manchester. Mrs. Winch is spending the summer at Windsor, Vt. Her son spends his week-ends with his aunt, Mrs. H. R. Squier at Manchester.

Mrs. Frank Morison was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dalton at Beverly Farms. Mr. Dalton's brother, Henry R. Dalton and family, are occupying the Morison cottage this season.

Nat. S. Simpkins, Jr., has returned to Beverly Farms after a fortnight's visit with some of his Harvard friends at North Haven, Me.

Mrs. George A. Goddard has returned to Beverly Farms after a short visit with friends in Wareham.

Mrs. John B. Schoeffel, weather permitting, will have a large lawn party on the lawn in front of the Masconomo hotel some evening the first week in August with Burr McIntosh as chief entertainer. This will be a bit of news of much interest to North Shore people not only because this sort of entertainment is a new feature here, but because of the popularity of this well known artist and entertainer.

Miss Minnie Ames was on from No. Easton over the week-end, a guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert C. Hooper, at West Manchester.

At the new Notman Studio in "The Colonnade," Magnolia, there is an exhibition of remarkably fine photographic portraits. It is difficult to determine which are the best, but of course the most fascinating are those of women and children. A queenly portrait is that of Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, which is one of the most perfect examples of artistic photography ever exhibited. There is also a portrait of an elderly lady, which for beauty of expression, simplicity and natural dignity cannot be surpassed. Among the excellent portraits of men may be seen the familiar faces of ex-Gov. Long, F. L. Higginson, Pres. Tucker of Dartmouth college, Mark Hanna, Richard Hodgson, John Shepard and many others.

The Victor Talking Machine is just the thing to entertain you this summer. We will be pleased to send a salesman to give a free demonstration of the Victor Machine and Records to anyone interested. Drop postal. The Eastern Talking Machine Co., 17 Tremont St., Boston.

AT THE HOTELS

The annual picnic given to the children at the New Magnolia took place on Wednesday last and proved to be the most successful one that has occurred since this pleasing form of amusement was originated here. The affair was conducted by Mrs. C. H. Mowry, of Boston, and Mrs. G. H. Newell, of Gloucester, who have often shown themselves able to make these occasions a continual round of merriment for the children. There were 30 happy and robust youngsters waiting at the New Magnolia for the wagonettes to convey them over the shady roads to "Crows Nest," one of Magnolia's beautiful pleasure parks, and once there, they enjoyed all sorts of games and frolics, as only such children can. A bountiful lunch was served on the grass. After several hours of enjoyment, they returned to the hotel with fond memories of a real country picnic and a desire for many more.

Mrs. Marian D. Draper and Mrs. Samuel Phipps, jr., of Roxbury are registered at the New Magnolia for a two months' stay.

John V. Black, Mrs. W. A. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. von Liew of New York city stopped at the New Magnolia for a few days, while en route to the White Mountains in their White touring car.

Mrs. G. Johnson and Miss Ethel Johnson of Boston have arrived at the New Magnolia, where they will spend the season.

W. M. Falconer and George W. Reeves of the U.S.S. "Illinois" enjoyed dinner at the New Magnolia Tuesday last. Their ship is laying at Rockport, waiting for the manoeuvres of the Atlantic squadron, which will soon take place. Rockport makes a very pleasant drive from the New Magnolia; the scenery and shady roads cannot be excelled.

Mrs. Frances Dunton Wood, soprano, who has been heard in so much favor in Boston and New York at various functions, will be the artist who will appear in the musicale to be given in the Manchester Town hall on Monday afternoon, July 30, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Charles E. Anthony will be at the piano. The musicale is to be given in aid of the South End Day Nursery,—a most worthy charity, and one which Boston society has always liberally maintained. The tickets are $2.00 and may be obtained from the patronesses, at Lee's drug store, or of Mrs. Stanley P. Clemens of the Hotel Westminster, Boston, under whose management the musicale is to be given. The patronesses are: Mrs. Charles B. Aldrich, Mrs. Daniel Ahl, Mrs. W. J. Boardman, Mrs. Herbert M. Sears, Mrs. T. Jef-erson Coolidge, jr., Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, 2d, Mrs. Franklin Haven, Mrs. F. Meredith Whitehouse, Mrs. D. L. Pickman, Mrs. Guy Norman, Mrs. Thomas McKee, Mrs. Eben D. Jordan, Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby, Mrs. W. Scott Fitz, Mrs. Samuel Carr, Mrs. Ezra C. Fitch, Mrs. R. H. Stevenson, Mrs. Charles P. Hemenway, Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, jr., Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Henry P. King, Mrs. Greeley Curtis, Mrs. Charles T. Bradbury, Mrs. S. Dacre R. Bush, Mrs. T. K. Lothrop, Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. E. B. Hill, Mrs. Rebecca Colfeldt, Mrs. Henry E. Russell, Mrs. James Lee, Mrs. James McMillan and Mrs. A. S. Covell.

One of the best coaches we have seen on the North Shore this year is that of Otto H. Kahn, who, by the way, sailed from Germany Thursday to join his family at Manchester. This coach, drawn by four splendid chestnuts, and driven by the noted driver, Francois Guillot, who was formerly with the William K. Vanderbilts, and afterward with James Hyde of Equitable Life fame, has probably been one of the most admired four-in-hands at the shows the past year. Mr. Kahn has his big string of fine horseflesh on the shore again this year, including some of the best known saddle horses in the country. His pretty little daughter, Miss Maude Kahn, only nine years old, may be seen out daily riding on her wonderful little cob pony, accompanied by her governess and by Albert Boquet, the well known French riding master, whom Mr. Kahn keeps the year round as trainer for his saddle horses. Miss Kahn rides in splendid position and with the grace of a much older horse woman.

Society Notes

Baron von Sternberg, the German ambassador, left Beverly Farms Tuesday morning for a brief visit to New York on official business. While waiting for the noon train in the South station he was so affected by the heat that he was taken to the Emergency hospital nearby, and was not able to proceed to New York until a late afternoon train. A few days' rest will set the ambassador all right again, and no fears for further complications are entertained.

Seawanhaka Cup.

According to advices from Montreal, the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club has appointed a committee to confer with the Manchester Yacht club, at an early date, with reference to another challenge for the Seawanhaka cup, now held at Manchester.

The conditions under which the cup will next be raced for are practically the same as those under which it was taken from Canada, except that the little scows used are permitted an increase of 125 feet of sail, making an allowable 625 feet, and increase in weight of crew from 665 to 680 pounds. The latter condition was to allow for the extra beef of the Manchester men who sail in the races.

The challenge for next year need not be lodged until autumn.

The accompanying engraving represents two views of the automatic tilting board, which has many desirable features in relation to its construction and operation. 1st—It is built in such a manner as to be perfectly safe, either from falling off or getting injured in any way. 2d—The motion is given by double spring boards and is so attached to the stand that the spring boards coming in contact with one another, no sudden shock is felt at the lowest point of the tilting board. 3d—It has convenient seats which can be adjusted to any desired weight. 4th—In the carrying capacity it will seat six adults or as many children as will fill their spaces. 5th—One person can ride by placing a weight on the opposite end and adjusting their movable seats to balance. 6th—The operation of this device is so mechanically arranged as to make its movement almost perpetual.

THE SUMMER HOTELS

Mrs. M. A. Appleton and Miss Florence E. Appleton of Cambridge were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bennett of Worcester joined Mr. Bennett's sister, Miss I. E. Bennett, at the New Magnolia, where she is spending the summer season.

Mrs. Charles M. Presby and family of New York have registered at the New Magnolia for the season.

Mr. Alfred Anderson of New York city, purchasing agent for the Panama commission, has joined his wife, Mrs. Anderson, at the New Magnolia for an extended stay.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sutherland of Hallowell, Me., joined her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Hoyle, at the New Magnolia, where they will remain for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clifton Jenkins and family of Pittsburg, Pa., have registered at the New Magnolia for the season. Mr. Jenkins conducts one of the largest wholesale houses in the country.

In the early hours of any bright morning, one may see Randolph Rose, of Atlanta, Ga., S. R. Weil of New York and Charles Hoyle of Boston, season guests at the New Magnolia, wending their way towards the wharf where lies the fishing yacht "Rosebud," captained by William S. Douglass, Magnolia's typical, old-time captain and fisherman, with many an interesting yarn. Capt. Douglass then sets out with his friends for well known fishing haunts where they bait for cod, haddock and mackerel. Mr. Rose on Monday last succeeded in capturing the largest fish, taking in a 35-pound cod, while their united catch that day yielded them nearly 400 pounds, so the BREEZE man was informed, which gives them an enviable reputation as amateurs and good standing among the old timers. Interest in this sport is increasing daily and many yachts are now seen with happy parties going out to try their luck with the line.

Miss I. A. Shaw of New York city has returned to the New Magnolia for another season.

Miss C. S. Walker of Switzerland is the guest of Miss Lucia A. Northam at the New Magnolia for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dickinson of Paris, France, and Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Young of Berlin, Germany, arrived in their touring car at the New Magnolia hotel, where they will stay while touring the North Shore and surrounding points of interest. They pronounce the roads and scenery along the shore the equal of any in the country.

It takes only good weather at this season to bring out the driving parties. All along the shore, especially on inland roads through woods, the driveways are crowded almost with carriages. It is true many have forsaken the main roads of travel because of the automobiles; but the North Shore is fortunate to possess so many beautiful wood roads where the automobiles so seldom venture.

Old Home Week.

The Old Home Week proclamation of the governor follows. Cut it out and send it to some son or daughter of Massachusetts who has wandered away and add to it your personal invitation.

"The institution of Old Home Week, established but a few years since, has become a well-beloved anniversary. This year the homecoming season is set for the week beginning July 29 and ending Aug. 4.

"Massachusetts extends a hearty invitation to her wandering sons and daughters to return in the vacation season for a brief visit to the old home, with all its associations of history and sentiment. The Commonwealth was never more prosperous, nor have the ancient landmarks of its history lessened in inspiration as the years have gone by.

"During the year one of our most important monuments, the Old State House, has been preserved from further utilization for commercial purposes and is henceforth to be devoted to historic uses.

"From the sea to the mountains, Massachusetts extends a welcome home.

A SUMMER RETORT.

BY JOSEPH A. TORREY.

'Twas Summer in the country,
The sun was pouring down
Its rays upon the head of one
Who lately came from town,—

One who had left the city streets,
(Which have a shady side,)
And sought the country's green retreats Short season to abide.

And as he took his walk abroad.
All on a Summer day,
He saw at work beside the road,
A farmer, raking hay.

He paused awhile to view the scene,
And, taking off his hat,
Against the fence would idly lean
To have a little chat.

By way of a remark, said he,
"I think its deuced hot:
Oh, what a blessing rain would be"—
Said the farmer fiercely, "What"!

"Would you have rain in haying time
And spoil the season's crop?
Your ignorance is quite sublime,
Worthy a city fop"!

Then did the city man resume
His hat and walk away.
His face took on a shade of gloom,
He knew not what to say.

No more along the country side
'Twas his delight to roam,
Within the town would he abide—
His place were best at home.

Next week as on his way he ran
To business in the town,
He saw the selfsame country man—
'Twas surely Farmer Brown!

Amid a knot of city men
Brown mopped his steaming brow.
The citizen to himself said then,
"I'll speak to him, I vow."

Just then the farmer from the crowd
His city friend espied,
Familiarly to him he bowed,
And hastened to his side.

His greetings o'er, he talked about
The crops, the trade, the weather,
And how the dreadful dust and drought
Had held for weeks together.

And furthermore, he said, "'Twas plain,
As any man might see,
That what we needed now was rain,
To lay the dust," said he.

The citizen essayed to speak:
"Is not this haying-time?
When you were raking hay last week
The thought of rain was crime"!

"Oh yes, 'twas just a week ago,"
Said the farmer, with a grin;
"Things now are different you know,
I've got my hay all in".

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Indian chief Masconomo.

Librarian Joseph A. Torrey read a paper on the late Hon. Henry Clay Leach, paying a grand tribute to that man. The paper will be preserved on the records of the society as a memorial to his life and character. The sketch follows:

A Model Citizen.

By J. A. Torrey.

Henry Clay Leach was born at Manchester, Oct. 9th, 1832. He died at Salem, April 17, 1906. He was a son of Benjamin and Lucy Story (Allen) Leach.

At the age of fifteen he graduated at the high school of his native town, and found employment in Boston in the furniture house of Allen and Beal. While in the city he was a member of a large Bible class in the Rowe Street Baptist church, under the pastorate of Rev. Baron Stow, D. D. The class included several of his townsmen, Lewis N. Tappan, George C. Leach, Ariel P. Crowell, D. W. Lee and Samuel A. Parsons. They subsequently, with other young men of the same class, who were serving business apprenticeship, united with the church.

Nearly all of this noted class reached eminence in the social and business world. Two of them became Presidents of the Boston Y. M. C. A., and another the Treasurer. The late Joseph C. Stevens, a well-known summer resident of Manchester, was a member of this class.

Mr. Leach's church association inspired him to improve his education with a view to the ministry. After five years of clerkship in Boston, he entered the academy at Suffield, Conn. At the end of a three years' course, however, he was persuaded to join his elder brother, John, who was in business in St. Louis. Two years later John died, and Henry embarked in business for himself, dealing in steamboat supplies, till his plans were broken up by the outbreak of the war.

In going West, Mr. Leach took with him his Puritan principles, his New England habits and his Bible. He was active in the church, and Superintendent of the Sunday school. He was in the vortex where the West and the South met and clashed with the North. He was in slave territory, where sectional feeling ran high and on the verge of explosion in the impending sectional war. The condition of public feeling at that time and place is admirably depicted in Winston Churchill's story entitled "The Crisis." He was active and fearless in the Union cause, and joined the Union league, till with loss of business and failure in health, he was obliged to return to the East. Here he remained for a year and a half, until 1863, when he joined his friend and townsman, Lewis N. Tappan, at Denver, in the business of hardware and mining supplies. In Denver he was one of the founders of the First Baptist church, and its first Clerk and Treasurer, and Sunday School Superintendent. He took an active part in the stirring events of the period. Society was in a formative state. The Northern and Southern elements struggled for ascendancy.

His sturdy character found recognition in political life. He was elected to the Territorial senate of Colorado, and chosen President of the same. In this connection he was entrusted with an important mission. An effort was being made to have the Territory admitted to the Union as a state. This movement, headed by bad men, and under bad conditions, was opposed by the better element. As a representative of this element, Mr. Leach was sent to Washington to oppose the bill. He enlisted the interest of Senators Sumner and Wilson, but nothing could prevent the passage of the bill by Congress, until, through the influence of Senator Blair of Missouri, President Johnson was induced to veto it. Colorado was later admitted on a better basis.

Mr. Leach was a witness of much of the "Kansas troubles" and Border Ruffianism of the Reconstruction period, and was familiar with the Mormon regime of that day.

In 1866 he married Caroline E. Roberts, a niece of Hon. David Roberts, a former Mayor of Salem. In 1869, on account of the ill health of his wife and the dangerous illness of his child, he returned East, to remain, permanently, with residence at Salem. He became connected with the N. E. Felt and Roofing Co. of Boston, retaining his connection till five or six years ago.

In Salem his active nature was enlisted in various public and benevolent interests. He was for many years Superintendent of Sunday school, and Deacon of the First Baptist church, a member of the School Committee, and President of the No-License League of the city. He was a director of the Asiatic Bank, and a trustee of the Salem Savings Bank. He was a member of the Essex Institute, of the Old Planters Society and of the Salem club. At the time of his death he was President of the Baptist Social Union of Boston. He also held positions as Trustee of estates and guardian of orphans.

You will observe that none of these positions he held were greatly distinguished for fame or emolument. They called for labor and sacrifice, but their rewards were not silver nor gold. None of them led to fortune. In his acceptance of them it would not appear that he asked the too common question, "What is there in it for me?" But rather, "How can I be of service to my fellowmen?"

His interest in his native town grew with his years. All that affected her welfare was dear to his heart. On this soil had dwelt his ancestors from the earliest period. His Summer residence here was the Leach homestead, built in 1640. He was of the eighth generation of Leaches who had dwelt therein. His ancestor Lawrence Leach came with Endicott to Naumkeag in 1628. Another ancestor, William Allen, came to Cape Ann in 1623. Both of these old Planters were founders and original proprietors of Manchester.

He was active in the Historical Society, and in the meetings of the Elder Brethren. He took part in the Water Celebration of 1895, managed the Master Price reunion, and presided at the celebration of the town's 250th anniversary. He was a frequent contributor to public prints on matters of public interest.

He died suddenly on the 17th of April, 1906, while attending a meeting of Directors at the Essex Institute.

"God's finger touched him and he slept."

What is the lesson and the legacy of such a life? It is a lesson of citizenship, the legacy of a worthy example and an honorable record.

A young man, country-bred, of average ability and opportunity, with slender equipment of health or wealth, handicapped by lack of physical vigor, hindered by business reverses, and further burdened by an invalid wife, not reaching till late in life a condition of pecuniary independence, and yet achieving success in the larger and better sense of that word,—an honored record and a useful life—"love, honor, happiness and troops of friends." His life was successful because founded upon moral and religious principles, free from the selfishness of greed, and the passion for accumulation, a modest, busy, useful life, midway between poverty and wealth, without fear and without reproach, permitted to live in stirring times, and to take his part in them, and by the extent of his ability, to make the world better for his living. His principles did not desert him when he cast his lot in a distant community whose customs and traditions were different, nor were his ideals lowered by contact with the rude pioneers of a new country.

He lived to see his grandchildren about him, to die in the full assurance of hope without the pain of a lingering sickness.

"A life to send a challenge to its end; And when it comes, say, Welcome, Friend."

Red Men Raised Up

The recently elected and appointed chiefs of Conomo tribe 113, I.O.R.M., were raised to their respective stumps Wednesday evening by D. G. S. Andrew Paton and staff of Danvers, as follows:

George Gould, sachem; J. Alex. Lodge, sen. sag.; W. J. Lethbridge, jun. sag.; M. A. McInnis, prophet; Ernest Andrews, [guard of the wigwam; Levi Harvie, 1st sannap; A. S. Peabody, 2d sannap; warriors, Thos. A. Baker, John Babcock, Charles Mason, Fred Brasch; Braves; D. Elmer Butler, James Salter, Edmund Lethbridge and John Cool. Following the raising up the chiefs assembled in the forest and partook of a feast of corn and venison.

Greater Paragon Park

A good part of the fun in going to Greater Paragon Park is in the trip down the harbor, and the public is appreciating more than ever the excellent service of the Nantasket Steamboat line.

Some additional and very important new acts are promised in the Bostock animal arena of wild animals, among them being Mon. de Le Rouge with his boxing kangaroo; Abbooh Bendam, a genuine native of India, who gives a most remarkable exhibition of Yogi snake charming; Signor Rinaldo with his group of twelve ferocious African, Nubian and barbarian lions; Senorita Divali, with her school of treacherous but beautiful leopards.

In the free open-air circus is Will Hill, the famous comedy high-wire walker, who alternately thrills and amuses the thousands who gaze at him on his lofty walk, making up his bed on his lofty perch, dancing the cake walk, riding a bicycle, running backwards, etc., on the slender wire at a height of 125 feet.

Another big act in the free circus is the Baker troupe, consisting of five remarkable cyclists and very clever intermingling of some quaint comedy with their skillful trick work.

The sand bumps and the bamboo slide are both free this year, and both provide untold amusement for the children.

There is free music galore, for one will find every section of the park equipped with a free band or orchestra, the most important of which is the Martland band, with the frequent concerts by H. F. Blaney, "the man who sings to beat the band," and Johnny McQuiro, the boy soloist, and Satzamary's Hungarian band. Also the strains of the melodious Fillipino band, the Duplex orchestra and the Sunny South band.

MANCHESTER

Supt. and Mrs. Chas. E. Fish left Thursday for a few weeks' visit to Amityville and other points in Connecticut. They went by way of New York, taking the water trip thence from Boston. Their young daughters are with their sister, Mrs. Alexander Campbell in New London.

Mrs. J. S. Reed has been spending a few days in Boston this week visiting relatives. Next month Mrs. Reed will go to Minneapolis on a six weeks' visit.

Henry T. Bingham is taking a three weeks' respite from his duties as immigrant inspector in Boston, and will spend it for the most part in Manchester.

The Degree of Honor will meet with Mrs. C. A. Mason next Wednesday evening. The society in the future will hold its meetings at the residences of the members and not in the hall.

The grand prize dance to be given in the town hall next Friday evening under the auspices of Peter Sheehan and Thomas A. Baker will be one of the events of the summer in the line of dances, judging from the success of ventures of this nature conducted by these men in the past. Four handsome prizes will be presented to the two best couples on the floor.

Temple & Thyne have taken a painting contract in Waterboro, Me., where they now have six men employed on painting the Baptist church.

Ye Elder Brethren!

The annual gathering of Manchester's well-known organization of Elder Brethren will be held at Tuck's Point at high noon next Wednesday, July 25; if rainy, the day following. Dinner will be served at one o'clock. Membership is confined to men over fifty years of age, and limited to citizens of Manchester, native born or otherwise. Former citizens and men who may have married Manchester women are heartily welcomed, if within the age limit. The gathering is for the renewal of old associations, for a day of social enjoyment, and a revival of the memories of the olden times.

The fourteenth of July, the great national holiday in France, was celebrated in Manchester last Saturday by Julius F. Rabardy and family, and a few friends, included among whom were Mr. Rabardy's nephew, W. J. Batchelor, Mrs. Batchelor and Mr. and Mrs. John Danforth, all of whom live in France, but are home to America for the summer. The day is to France what Fourth of July is to the United States, and is in celebration of the taking of the Bastille, which event considered by itself was of no great national importance, but it marked the beginning of the French Revolution, in 1789. Mr. Rabardy, though a native of France, came here to take part in the Civil War and has since made his home here. He celebrates July 14th every year, by hoisting the French flag in the morning and by fireworks in the evening. Refreshments were served his guests in the evening.

Robert Mitchell, the contractor gardener, is having charge of the greenhouse and estate of Mrs. W. Scott Fitz in the absence of the regular caretaker, Walter Allen who is spending a month at his former home in Leominster.

Visitors to Wonderland the past week have showed particular interest in the "Rube" band that plays in Fire and Flames and outside the entrance to this show between performances, because three Manchester young men are among the "Rubes." They are Frank Pinette, Walter Knight and Lagory Wade.

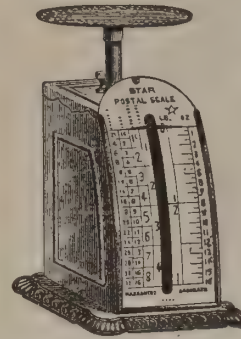

A number of motor boats went over to Marblehead with parties on Sunday, the U. S. Cruiser Brooklyn being anchored off the shore part of the day. The North Atlantic Squadron is now rendezvousing at Rockport, and many from here are planning to visit that place within the next few weeks.

Souvenir Postals—over 20 local scenes, at Allen's.

Officers Installed

The following officers of local 924, Carpenter's union of Manchester, were installed last Friday evening by Bro. Wm. Cook of local 878 of Beverly:

President, M. A. McInnis; vice pres., Manuel Thomas; rec. sec., Geo. J. Norie; fin. sec., Thomas Wiggins; treas., Rod. F. Rose; conductor, Otis W. Stanley; warden, H. H. Preston; trustee, Geo. H. Gould; auditor, Manuel Thomas. A light collation was served after the installation.

CHURCH NOTES

Manchester

Congregational church, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; evening service at 7 o'clock. Sermons by the pastor.

Baptist church, Rev. Edward Hersey Brewster, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; People's evening service of song and praise at 7 o'clock.

Emanuel church (Episcopal), Masconomo street—Morning prayers at 11 o'clock. Holy communion first and third Sundays in the month.

Sacred Heart church, Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, pastor; Rev. John S. Perry, assistant. Sunday masses at 7.00, 8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; Sunday evening devotions at 7.45; First Friday devotions at 5.30 and 7.00 A. M., and 7.45 P. M. Week-day mass at the church at 7.30 A. M.

Rev. William I. Lawrence of Winchester will preach at the First Unitarian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, instead of 10.45.

"The Ministry of Joy" will be the subject of Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning, Hon. Arthur E. Penniman, who will speak at the evening service, is a representation of the Anti-Saloon League of Mass.

The Teachers' Training class will meet Monday evening at the parsonage.

Hon. George W. Penniman of Brockton will preach at the Congregational church tomorrow morning. In the evening he will preach at the Baptist church. Mr. Penniman is well known in his connection with the temperance cause.

Last evening's prayer service at the Baptist church was in the form of a Home Missionary service under the auspices of Home Missionary circle. The program consisted of testimonies by members of the circle impersonating classes of women being reached through Home Mission efforts.

Those who attended the talk given at the Congregational church last Sunday afternoon by Abby Snell Burnell, on "Menarchee," listened to a most graphic and realistic portrayal of life in India. Having lived some years in Southern India she spoke as authority, weaving together, in form of a continuous story, such facts and conditions as she became familiar with. She was dressed in one of the bright, graceful costumes worn by women in that country.

BEVERLY FARMS

About 50 members of John Chipman W.R. corps of Beverly came to the Farms on the early afternoon train, Thursday, and were met at the local station by the Preston W.R.C., who escorted them to West Beach, where the party practically "owned the beach." The various cottages were thrown open for their use. The pleasures of the occasion will long be remembered by the whole party. Long tables were made upon the lawn and fairly loaded with good things, a fish chowder being one of the principal items of the menu. The Beverly party returned home on the evening train, each declaring that on some future occasion the hospitality of the Farms ladies should be in some way materially returned.

Several of the young men of the Farms have been getting up about 3 o'clock in the morning and going out to the fishing grounds, returning in time for their daily labors. Several large catches, both in numbers and size, are reported, which probably accounts for the unusual large amount of fresh fish in this week's market.

Finlay Smith of Why Cocomagh, Cape Breton, after several weeks visiting his brother, Duncan Smith, on Oak street, returned home Wednesday taking along with him for a six weeks' visit Master Gordon Smith, his nephew.

The tracks in front of the local station have just been treated to a fresh supply of crushed stone, which adds much to the appearance of the place.

Daniel J. Linehan has purchased the Rutherford estate, 151-153 Lothrop street, Beverly, consisting of a double frame house and about 10,000 square feet of land. The property is assessed for $2,625. Mr. Linehan bought at public auction for investment.

Assessor Theo. A. Holmes, Cemetery Commissioner Andrew Standley, Councilmen Horace F. Appleton and Frank Rand, Day Officer Calvin L. Williams, Engineer Eli R. Hodgkins, Representative Wm. R. Brooks, former Councilmen John L. Eaton, Thomas J. McDonnell, Howard E. Morgan and George H. Bennett were those from Ward 6 who helped make up the large party of the present and past members of the city government at the annual outing which took place at Turks Head Inn, Rockport, Wednesday. While at Rockport the party visited the battleship "Maine," Admiral Evans' flagship, and were much pleased with the novelty and the courtesy shown them.

Don't forget to attend the lawn party given by the young people of the Baptist church in Marshall's field, Central square, on Tuesday afternoon and evening next. The Lynn Cadet orchestra will furnish the music, and the committee in charge have perfected all arrangements to make a good time for all who attend.

Born Monday, July 16, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walen, Beverly Farms.

The first lawn party of the season given by the ladies of the Sodality connected with St. Margaret's church, and assisted by Rev. D. J. Maguire, assistant pastor, took place on Thursday afternoon and evening on the grounds of Daniel Linehan, West street, near the depot, and was attended by a large crowd. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and electric lights, and on various parts of the lawn were tables containing novelties and refreshments, together with a knife board, where a fine display of assorted knives and other articles could be had. The excellent floor in the large farm barn was utilized for dancing, and this was the popular sport, the music being delivered by an orchestra from a raised platform. A goodly sum was realized, which will be devoted to the furnishing of a fair table at the church fair to be held in August.

A party of ten young people of the Farms, under the chaperonage of Mrs. Lewis Hardy and Mrs. Elmer Standley, enjoyed a day's outing at Chubb's island Wednesday. An excellent chowder served at dinner time was a specially interesting feature of the occasion.

The Hardy club dance is scheduled to take place next Thursday evening in Neighbor's hall. It goes without saying that the party will be the event of the season. Heaphy's Singing orchestra will offer the music.

The section of the State highway from the Chas. H. Trowt estate to Thissell street, mainly in front of H. C. Frick's, which has been partially closed to the public, was fully completed last night and is a fine piece of macadam road. The work was done by Messrs. Connolly Bros., who did it in a remarkable short time.

Misery island, while not utilized this year as much as usual on account of a disposition of the managers to discourage picnics and outings, is, however, the same old popular spot as of old, and a number of the Farms young people have enjoyed several outings there of late.

L. Howard Preston entered the Beverly hospital on Thursday afternoon and yesterday was successfully operated upon for a gland trouble of the neck.

Thomas D. Connolly delivered his lecture, "A Trip Across the Continent to California and Return," before a large gathering at the meeting in Manchester last evening of the Horticultural society.

The West Beach corporation has purchased from Gloucester parties two large ship masts, which are to be utilized for floating purposes under the floats instead of adding more pontoons.

Mr. Harvey M. Hodgkins has rented for the balance of the summer his cottage on Greenwood avenue, and has taken up his residence for the time being at his camp on the Squam river, Gloucester.

Michael J. Murphy, who is confined at the Beverly hospital, is reported to be in about the same condition, no material improvement being made.

Owing to the decidedly warm temperature of the water, the number of bathers at West Beach all this week have been in excess of all records.

The water carnival, as mentioned in last week's issue of the BREEZE to take place on some Saturday afternoon in August at West Beach, has created considerable interest and many expressions, hoping that the same will take place, are heard.

The ladies connected with the different tables for the St. Margaret's church fair, scheduled for next month, are hard at work for the success of the coming event, and already quite a number of fair books are in circulation.

Wilbur J. Pierce lost a valuable dog, "Trooper," which died last Sunday at Mr. Pierce's summer camp at Briar Neck, Gloucester.

Mrs. Louise Wyatt while attempting to cross the street near West Beach one day recently was run into by a small boy on a bicycle and thrown to the ground and has been suffering since from the injuries sustained.

Nancy J. Cross

In the death of Mrs. Nancy J. Cross, who passed away on Wednesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Wightman, Beverly, the Farms loses one of its well-known and highly esteemed residents. Her age was 73 years, 11 months, 11 days, most of which time was spent at Beverly Farms. She was the widow of Philip E. Cross and resided on Hale street, her home adjoining the Catholic church property, where she has brought up a large family, all of whom have gone out into the world, and have made valuable additions to the communities in which they have settled, and are living monuments of the virtues of a typical New England Christian mother. Funeral services are to be conducted this afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Beverly Farms church, and interment made in the family lot at the Farms cemetery.

Alexander Dow left Thursday morning for Princeton, N.J., where he will spend several weeks visiting his son Robert Dow. Mr. Dow, whose age is about 80 years, makes the journey alone and later on anticipates a trip to his old home in Scotland.

Miss Florence Bean, supervisor of drawing in the public schools of Hartford, Conn., is visiting her former college companion, Mrs. Lewis G. Williams, Hart street.

Allen Campbell, who has been for quite a period confined to the Beverly hospital, was allowed home Wednesday of this week, somewhat improved, but he is still obliged to resort to the use of crutches.

Miss Marjorie Lenox of Cambridge and a teacher in the public schools of that city, is spending her vacation at the Farms, a guest of her sister, Mrs. John Grey, Everett street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gallagher (nee Rosella Blanchard) are delighted over the arrival of a little girl who came to their home last Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Edward May and Miss Etna May left the early part of the week for the granite state, and will spend a fortnight enjoying life in the vicinity of Tilton.

Charles H. Bent, the North Shore electrical contractor, purchased a new bicycle Wednesday, and a half hour later left the same against the curbing to visit one of the stores—while inside he heard a crash and hurried out only to find his nice new bike a total wreck crushed by an automobile. While it was an accident Mr. Bent was somewhat provoked, but has the promise of the owner of the auto that the damage will be made good.

Mrs. E. F. Burnham and her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Burnham of Chicago, Ill., and formerly of Essex, are visiting relatives in this vicinity and are at present the guests of Mr and Mrs. Winthrop F. Low.

The many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Katherine Lane (nee Katherine O'Brien), wife of the late Dr. T. Joseph Lane, were given somewhat of a surprise at the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Lane to Thomas Francis Carey. The event took place on Wednesday, July 18, at St. Leo's church, New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bunker and family of Yonkers, L.I., Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Morse of Boston, accompanied by M. E. Ingalls of Swampscott, were among this week's arrivals at the Hesperus for the season.

Prominent among the St. Louis people at Magnolia this summer are Mrs. John W. Nute and family who arrived this week and are registered at the Hesperus.

Rev. John Abbott French of Flushing, L.I., and Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Butler of Madison, N.J., were among this week's arrivals at the Hesperus, Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. L. Thompson and Mrs. Anna Mason of Kansas City, arrived at the New Magnolia in their large touring car and will make this resort their headquarters while touring the North Shore.

J. G. Hamilton and wife, Miss Grace C. Hamilton, Miss Ethel C. Hamilton and Mr. E. Cuthbert Hamilton of New York City, arrived at the New Magnolia in their Franklin touring car for a long stay. Mr. Hamilton says the roads and weather make the North Shore the ideal place for automobiles.

The first informal hop of the season at the New Magnolia was held Monday evening and was attended by about 25 couple from the younger set who made the most of this, one of many pleasant evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Phillips and daughter of Philadelphia, registered at the Hesperus Monday for the season.

Mrs. George Whitefield Brown and Culthbert Brown of Washington are among this week's arrivals at the Oceanside.

The regular Sunday evening concerts at the New Magnolia are being greatly appreciated by the guests at this resort, as they are unusually well rendered this season.

Mr. Samuel B. Dick of Meadville, Penn., a well known Western mine owner, was entertained at the New Magnolia for a few days by Mr. Wm. James of St. James, Mo. Mr. Dick greatly enjoyed his stay here and called Magnolia the most attractive resort he has visited in his many travels.

The New Magnolia orchestra, under the able direction of Claude Fisher, a violinist of note, is composed of well known musicians who are high in their profession. On Sunday evening last, the orchestra was assisted by Mrs. George H. Newell, soprano, and Miss Huntley of Springfield, contralto. Both ladies possess full, rich voices of great range, and their solos were of such an order as to call forth their best efforts which were encored again and again.

DESIRABLE ROOMS may be had for the summer by applying at the Hoyle cottage, corner of Lexington and Flume avenues, Magnolia. *

Society Notes

The North Shore Grill club at Magnolia is getting to be quite the popular place for North Shore folk to go and entertain their guests at little luncheon and dinner parties, and during the past week there have been scores of parties given both on the broad verandas, and in the cosy little dining rooms. Last Saturday evening Mrs. W. H. Coolidge of Brookline, who is at the "Breakers" for the season, gave a party for her daughter, Miss Coolidge, and plates were set for 18 young people, included among whom were Miss McGinley, Miss House, Miss Romeyn, the Messrs. Frothingham, Mr. Stevenson and others. The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a large centre piece of sweet peas blending charmingly with the colorings of the room.

On Sunday there were six dinner parties at the Grill club, including a small party of six entertained by Mrs. H. B. Jaynes, given for Mr. and Mrs

It is best to trim trees while young. Better to amputate a finger than an arm. Likewise better to remove a limb while small than after the tree and limb are large. Large wounds from removing limbs, may decay before they heal over, causing hollow trees. The removal of dead limbs of crossed or superfluous limbs, add to the health, vigor and symmetry of trees. It is also best to thin out trees instead of letting them struggle with one another for head room, getting one-sided and spindling—that is, Selection Thinning.

In a Nutshell

If it isn't right, send it back and get your money. That's the secret of this store's growing popularity, that's the reason of its phenomenal mattress selling.

Hair Mattresses

Are more imposed upon than almost anything in the world. A first-class hair mattress means South American hair; a hair mattress may mean cow's hair—it's hair just the same; but what a difference. We stake our reputation on every mattress we sell and we value that reputation too highly to risk it for an extra two dollars' profit at the sacrifice of goodness.

A mattress bought here is just what you think it is or your money back at any time.

The Women's Club House at Magnolia

Rev. Frederick J. Libby.

The new club-house for the use of all women employed in Magnolia was opened on Monday amid great rejoicing on the part of those eligible to membership. Mrs. H. C. Foster, the matron, received informally from three to ten o'clock, and she and her able assistants were kept busy. Fully a hundred flocked in during the afternoon and twice as many in the evening, so that there is no question as to the desire for such a club home on the part of Magnolia's women employes. It meets a real need.

The Need of the Club

Magnolia, with a summer population of between 2500 and 3000, including over 500 women employes and 300 or more men, offers no amusement in the evening except walking. There are no band concerts, no theatres, practically no dances, except those provided for the hotel guests. This quietness is pleasant for those who come to Magnolia for that very thing, as most people do. The cottagers and the guests at the hotels can find enough to amuse them. But the occupants of top-floor bedrooms are not in a position to invite in friends for a game of bridge or to sit on their verandah. Their only verandah is the beach, which is unlighted

YE ELDER BRETHREN

Twenty-eighth Annual Outing of Unique Organization Held at Manchester Wednesday — Ninety-eight of the "Boys" Partake of Chowder — George Forster Allen Re-elected President for 27th Time

The sun smiled sweetly on the sons of Manchester Wednesday, its warm rays melted away the clouds of the early morning, leaving a pleasant day for the "boys" of 50 years or over, to enjoy their 28th annual reunion. A cool breeze blew across the harbor, through the chowder house, and the outing was, withal, one of the most enjoyable yet held by "Ye Elder Brethren," and one long to be remembered by them. From the flag pole opposite the chowder house floated proudly in

MANCHESTER

Miss Nellie M. Leonard is taking the summer course in the Normal school at Hyannis.

Chester Nye of Somerville, who has many friends in Manchester, came down from town this afternoon to spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Campbell.

Miss Clara F. Allen of Leominster and Miss Edith Bridges of Fort Fairfield, Me., have been spending the week guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Walter E. Allen, School street.

Mrs. Charles Henry of Peterboro, N. H., has been spending the week a guest of Mrs. J. Davis Baker, Lincoln street.

The Misses Emma C. and Flora F. Cook of Philadelphia have been guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Knight, School street.

Mrs. John Wiles and little daughter returned Sunday evening from a fortnight's visit in Newton Centre, Marion, and other points about Cape Cod.

Thirty-nine pupils were enrolled Monday in the summer school being held in one of the rooms of the G. A. Priest school. The school opened a week ago Tuesday with Miss Ina Eldridge in charge. Miss Edna Kitfield started this week as assistant.

Frank Allen of the Cove was before Judge York at the district court in Gloucester Saturday last on complaint of an agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, it being charged that on July 6 he was standing up leaning over the dashboard belaboring his horse with a stout stick. Allen was fined $25 and on appealing, he was ordered to furnish surety in the sum of $200.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wing and daughter have been spending the week in Wareham.

Ruth Clifford Hodges, the little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fletcher Hodges (Miss Andrews) of Indianapolis, is spending the summer with its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews, Lincoln street. Mrs. Hodges will come on in September for a visit.

The continual swaying of the tower of the Congregational church caused by the wind and by vibrations of the bell has necessitated some repairs to the interior of the tower. Additional supports have been built in the past week.

Born, Saturday, July 21, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marr.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Robertson and young son left the first of the week for a visit with relatives in West Woolwich, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cressey and daughter Ruth of Beverly were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Dole.

By only the narrowest margin was another serious accident averted in the Cove woods, so-called, Monday afternoon. At a point nearly opposite the G. M. Lane avenue, two large tip carts were going up the hill toward Magnolia. A buggy containing a lady and son from South Essex were going in the same direction. The latter tried to pass the carts and as it did so a large touring car owned by Magnolia parties came at great speed down the hill and in an instant had struck the light vehicle, smashed the hub to one of the wheels and generally put the carriage out of commission. The horse plunged forward, broke the shafts and the whiffle-tree, and frightened the woman into hysterics. The party in the auto came back and offered to pay for the damage.

Mrs. Leighton Perkins and young son were the occupants of the carriage. Though the autoists offered to take them home they were content to drive home in the carriage after it had been repaired at Horace Standley's.

The Ladies' Aid society held its annual fair in the parlors of the Oceanside hotel on Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. It was a great success, as usual, $490 being realized. The flower table was in charge of Miss McAdoo of New York, a guest at the Oceanside. This table never looked prettier than it did Wednesday. The candy table was in charge of the Misses Libby, and received more than the usual patronage, $94 being taken. Mrs. Willard Boyd and Mrs. Edgar Story were in charge of a table of pretty articles for children, and the fancy tables were presided over by Mrs. Joseph Crispin, Mrs. F. F. Story, Miss Alice Story and Miss Amy Lycett. The ladies take this opportunity to thank all their generous friends who contribute year by year to make this fair a marked success. The receipts are to be devoted to reducing the debt on the parsonage, which now amounts to $2,350.

At the Magnolia ball grounds Thursday the local chauffeurs drew out quite a good sized crowd to witness the ball game between the "gasolenes" and the "steamers," the "gasolenes" winning by a score of 11-10.

Jos. Vasconcellos, who recently returned from the Azores, has bought back his former business from M. Silva, in the Rowe block, and will continue the barber shop in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Willmon-ton have been spending the past few days in Portland, making the trip there by water from Boston.

Alvah M. Glidden of Lowell spent a few days here with his niece, Mrs. Jacob H. Kitfield, this week.

S. Davis Baker led the meeting in the Cove school house Thursday evening.

The noon freight Thursday sent a box car onto the siding near the willow hedge, the force of the impact breaking the bumper and partly tearing down the large willow hedge. The wrecker came down in the afternoon.

Rockport did herself proud last Saturday evening, when the naval officers of Admiral Evans' squadron were feasted at Turk's Head inn. The spread was an elaborate one, with Congressman Roberts as toastmaster. There were after dinner speeches by prominent men. A Rockport Day is now being talked up, and this will probably be set for some time the middle of August.

"The Man From Now"

Harry Bulger in Henry W. Savage's production of "The Man From Now," the Bangs, Bryan and Klein musical success, is now in his third month at the Tremont Theatre, and the engagement is proving one of the most successful ever played in Boston. From the outset "The Man From Now" caught the public fancy, and though opposition continued for some weeks, today the field is clear, and Mr. Bulger and his associates sail along alone on the sea of success. Walter Lawrence, Frances Demerest, Miss Arnold, Lucy Tonge, George O'Donnell, Charles Meyers and William P. Murphy are other deservedly popular members of the company, and the chorus is one of the most fascinating ever gathered together. The production takes its position as one of the most beautiful Mr. Savage has ever made. Summer prices are now prevailing, and matinees are given Wednesdays as well as Saturdays.

FIFTH SEASON

Society Notes

The sixth annual carnival of sports is to be held on the beach at Magnolia next Friday, Aug. 3, at 2.30. This is one of the features of the season at Magnolia, and crowds from all along the shore gather for the event. There will be this year: a 100-yd. dash, a 50-yd. dash for boys under 15 years, potato race, 3-legged race, 100-yd. swim, 40-yd. swim for boys under 15 years, canoe race with four men in the canoe, pillow fight. The tournament of mounted sports will follow within a few weeks.

Rev. John McC. Foster will preach in the Union chapel, Magnolia, tomorrow morning at 11.

Mr. George C. Osborn of East Orange, N.J., has registered at the New Magnolia where he will make an extended visit

Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton of New York was at the Hesperus this week for a short stay.

The Grille club of Magnolia has been serving very dainty luncheons and dinners during the week to members from Beverly Farms, Manchester and along the shore. The consensus of opinion is, that the cuisine and service are equal to the best restaurants of New York. A feature of the club during August will be a well set up tennis court, also music every afternoon and evening by a Hungarian Gypsy band wearing the national costume.

T. Jefferson Coolidge's, jr., is expected home from Europe the last of this month.

Rev. E. E. Buckle of Nashua, N.H., accompanied by Mr. W. S. Carleton and Miss M. A. Carleton has registered at the New Magnolia for a sojourn.

A number of the officers from the 2d Corps Cadets who were visiting officers of the U. S. Kearsarge at Rockport enjoyed dinner at the New Magnolia Sunday. In the party were Lt. Col. Fitz, Major Spencer, Capt. Vaughn, Capt. Perkins, Lt. Vaughn, who were accompanied by Mrs. Vaughn and Miss Moline of Pittsburg.

Mrs. John A. Shea and family of Clifton, S.C., arrived at the New Magnolia Saturday for an extended stay.

Frank Ridlon of Brookline, registered at the New Magnolia Saturday for a two weeks' stay. Mr. Ridlon is president of the Frank Ridlon Co., a well known electrical concern of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Putnam of Cliftondale, and Mrs. W. B. Boardman and Miss Ruth Rogers of Colorado Springs, registered at the New Magnolia for the season.

Mrs. Martha Storey Friend

After a lingering illness Mrs. Martha Storey Friend, widow of the late Daniel W. Friend passed away at her home on School street, Manchester, July 21, in the 88th year of her age.

Mrs. Friend, nee Pierce, nee Martha S. Burnham, was a native of Essex, in which town she spent the early years of her life. Her removal to Manchester was almost coincident with her first marriage to Joseph Pierce in 1842. Three children blessed their union, none of whom, however, survive. Mr. Pierce died in 1888.

Sixteen years ago Mrs. Friend, then Mrs. Pierce, married Daniel Friend, with whom she lived until his death two years ago.

Mrs. Friend was of Puritan lineage, her ancestors being among the early settlers of Gloucester and Ipswich. The influences in whose midst she was bred during the early years of the 19th century left their imprint upon her character, which was quiet, with hidden strength, gracious in its largest relations, and simple in its grasp of truth. She had few intimacies outside the circle of loved ones to whom it was her delight to minister.

She had lived to mourn the loss of many of her family and the shadows of bereavement deepened with the passing years; yet she took great interest in the humanities of life and retained till the last strong convictions touching the religious and moral worlds.

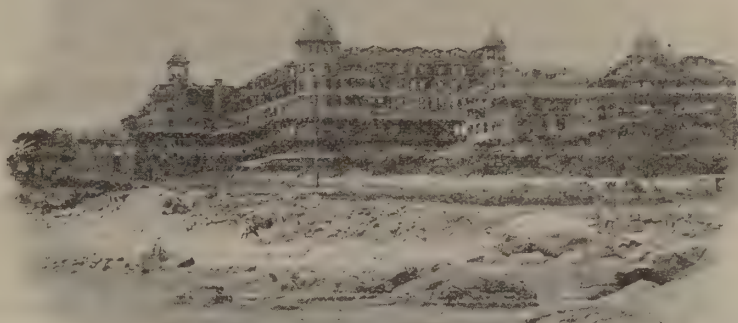

In her youth she had taken excellent advantage of the best educational opportunities of her time and for a number of years taught school. Her tastes and sympathies were refined. Blessed with a clear and retentive memory she took delight in reproducing with graphic distinctness the olden scenes in which she had herself participated, and could faithfully rehearse tales of revolutionary days told her by her grandfather.

In her young womanhood she had confessed Christ in baptism and united with the Baptist church of this town. At the period of its reorganization, however, she withdrew from its communion. In 1905 she again became a member. During the years of isolation and enfeeblement following her husband's death, her faith sustained her and grew richer and firmer toward the close, until the query of the poet rose to her lips:

"What need for cares to blight or fears annoy
The heart whose God is her exceeding joy?"

Funeral services were held at her late residence Tuesday afternoon, Rev. E. Hersey Brewster officiating. Mrs. J. W. Lee and Mrs. J. K. Tappan rendered solos. Burial was at Rosedale cemetery.

SUMMER BREVITIES

By D. F. Lamson.

[In the article with the above caption, two weeks ago, the omission of a little negative in the last paragraph entirely destroyed the sense. Of course, the sentence should have read, "We must remember that what is above reason is not of necessity against reason."]

To walk a tight rope is considered a remarkable feat, but to walk the ways of righteousness perpendicular is a more remarkable one.

Bitter medicines are not pleasant to the taste, but they are sometimes more beneficial than soothing syrups.

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again"; but that is no reason why truth should be trodden under foot in hope of a rejuvenation.

Great crises sometimes reveal character, and sometimes they reveal the lack of it.

Riches profit not, unless one is well ballasted with saving common sense.

To learn to distinguish between things that differ, seems often more difficult than to learn the parallax or the Hebrew vowel points.

To speak the truth is often easy, and to speak in love is often easy; but to "speak the truth in love" is often far from easy.

There is a via media, a middle way, which is often difficult to find; it is where true conservatism and true radicalism meet; but one Saul of Tarsus who is also called Paul found it long ago: "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good."

Crowds at a ball game on a hot July afternoon suggest that people will go where they want to go, will pay for what they want to see, and endure any amount of discomfort if it only goes by the name of pleasure.

People generally seek, not for what they need, but for what they like; those who can meet the popular demand and satisfy the popular taste will be popular.

Great men are not always wise, and wise men are not always great in the world's estimation; there was a poor wise man who once saved a city, but no one remembered the same poor wise man.

The work of preaching the gospel and promoting the reign of righteousness on earth is carried on with a great deal of seeming waste; but no one complains when two lighthouses are built side by side for the purpose of distinguishing the light from others, though this seems to be a needlessly expensive arrangement.

"The magicians did so with their enchantments." Every good thing has its counterfeits. Counterfeits prove the existence of the genuine. A counterfeit is witness to the worth of the original; men do not counterfeit that which is of little value; counterfeit faiths prove the worth of Christianity.

Nature spreads before us an open book, but only the nature lover can read it, and only a trained eye and mind like those of a Thoreau and a Burroughs can discover and interpret its deeper truths. But this does not hinder the least intelligent and least scientific from enjoying the beauty of flowers, the mountain's grandeur, the glow of sunset, the many-twinkling smile of ocean.

Miss Elsie Carr returned to West Manchester the first of this week after a delightful visit in the Berkshires with her friend, Miss Nora Jasigi, at Stockbridge. She was also visiting some friends in Litchfield, Conn., for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Thaw, son and daughter, of New York, came up from Newport in their large touring car, and were guests of friends on the North Shore, Tuesday.

Mrs. C. A. Munn entertained at a pretty informal luncheon at the "Dodge Cottage," Manchester, Tuesday afternoon. Plates were placed for ten. Mrs. Munn's son has a number of his friends down for the week end.

Mrs. Lewis W. Hill and her mother, Mrs. Taylor, who came on to Manchester Monday for an extended stay on the shore, went over to New York rather hurriedly Tuesday evening so as to be near Mrs. Hill's brother, Courtland Taylor, who was operated on for appendicitis Tuesday. He has since recovered sufficiently so that he is considered out of danger. Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, are expected to arrive at Manchester today, where they will be registered at "Brownland."

Burr McIntosh is announced to give his lecture, "With Secretary Taft in the Orient," at Library Hall, Magnolia, next Wednesday, Aug. 1, and, according to the newspapers in the various cities he has visited, Mr. McIntosh has succeeded in arousing a great deal of genuine interest, not only because of the beauty of the pictures which he shows, amounting to nearly 275, but because of the many vital questions which are before the American people today. The full meaning of the United States Senate holding up the Philippine bill, and the manner in which it is handicapping the growth of that country, as well as the conditions in China today, which the people of the country really seem to know very little about, are forcefully explained. After seeing the views and hearing the lecture, a very definite knowledge of the Philippines, China and Japan as they are today has been had. Mr. McIntosh is widely popular in society, and one of the most fascinating of speakers. Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge has charge of the subscriptions at her tea house in Magnolia. He appears also at the Masconomo House Aug. 3.

Mrs. James Lowell Putnam is a guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. George Putnam at Manchester.

Hon. William Everett gave another of his interesting readings yesterday, this one being at Mrs. W. L. Putnam's, Manchester. The readings are being very well attended. Mrs. Putnam has as her house guests at present Miss Annie Nelson and Miss Laura Caswell of Boston and George Putnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Holmes of 296 Beacon street, Boston, are spending the summer at "The Narrows," Manchester, with the latter's mother, Mrs. W. Scott Fitz.

The smartest event of the season at Magnolia, and one which many of the cottagers will attend, is the July ball at the Oceanside this evening. The fact that a number of the naval officers will be over from Rockport will add to the brilliancy of the affair. The officers will be entertained at dinner by the hotel, and a committee composed of well-known men will receive them, including Capt. Edw. Farmer, U.S.N., retired, A. B. Dewey of Chicago and others.

Miss Mary Guild, a niece of Gov. Guild, has arrived at Magnolia for a short visit with her grandfather, Curtis Guild, at the Oceanside. One afternoon, on the first of the week, Mr. Guild and sister, Miss Clara Guild, were out driving, when a noisy auto frightened their horse so that the animal shied. The occurrence was nothing out of the ordinary, but some one who saw Mr. Guild and his sister get out of their carriage started the story they were injured, and several of the Boston papers came out with the startling announcement that "the Governor's father and aunt had a narrow escape," etc. Letters and telegrams of condolence and sympathy followed in such numbers that the thing came to be quite a joke.

There was a brilliant German at the New Magnolia last evening, the attractive large ball room containing one of the largest parties of the season. Among those who took part were Misses Gladys Stewart, Isabelle Ober, Isabel Harder, Marion Haley, Laura Harder, Celestine Ober, Ruth Rogers, C. Newell, Gertrude Whiting and Elizabeth Presly, Lewis Harder, George C. Johnson, C. Merton Haley and others.

Arthur J. Wear, his sister, Mrs. M. Kotary, and his mother, Mrs. James H. Wear of St. Louis, arrived at the Hesperus this week for an extended stay.

Society Notes

Mrs. John A. McGinley has as her house guest at Magnolia for a few weeks Miss Gertrude Holden of Cleveland, O., fiancée of Mrs. McGinley's son, T. A. McGinley.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson Evans of the Beverly Cove summer colony, who are spending the summer in Europe, motoring, are much amused at the circumstances of their being fined 75 francs recently for innocently and unintentionally crossing the border of the Canton of Unterwalden, when they were quite unaware of the penalty. Mr. and Mrs. Evans made the famous run from Lucerne to Interlaken in their auto, and at last accounts they were located at Interlaken. Their estate at Beverly is occupied this season by the C. Howard Clark, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Mr. Hooper's fondness for "Land of Clover," his famous horse, which had to be shot last Friday as the result of a broken leg, sustained by an auto running into it from behind, is attested by the fact that Mr. Hooper had Dr. J. F. Riordan take off the horse's forefeet, preparatory to making the hoofs into inkstands. The tail is also saved as a memento of the fastest steeplechaser ever developed in America.

Among the more recent arrivals at "Brownland," Manchester, for the balance of the summer are Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shaw and two sons of Wellesley; Mrs. J. B. Warren and son of Boston; Dr. and Mrs. Clapp of Waban.

Judge George A. Carpenter, Mrs. Carpenter and two children are expected on to Manchester from Chicago next week, and will be at "Brownland" during August.

Sudden Death.

John R. Gibbs, who was registered at the Oceanside, Magnolia, for the summer, died suddenly of heart disease Sunday, at the age of 47 years. The body was sent to his late home in Brooklyn, N. Y., Monday morning.

At the "Notman Studio," Magnolia, are two features of unusual interest to lovers of artistic form and color. These products are Opus Pictum and Fésole Pottery, both coming from Frederick Parson's Boston studios and never previously seen at Magnolia.

Opus Pictum, literally color work, is a very successful solution of an old problem in art, namely: The combining of modeled form in bas-relief with independent and original color. Mr. Parson's work has the endorsement of Charles Eliot Norton, Louis Prang and many other colorists and art critics of international reputation, and the little collection at the Notman studio gives an excellent opportunity of seeing in small and attractive pieces what the artists' special and original methods and technique is capable of producing in fine and permanent color. Fésole pottery is a pleasing combination of art and utility in flower vases, candle sticks, jugs, etc. Every piece is an individual work, many of them having the potter's name inscribed thereon. They are thrown, glazed and fired at old British potteries by men and women who know positively that their old brick-kilns have been used by their forbears for at least a hundred years, and where tradition associates both spot and family name with old British and Welch ware for over 500 years. Fésole pottery aims to be artistic when in use.

AT THE HOTELS

The New Magnolia began its social season in earnest on Friday night last when the annual July ball took place in the Casino and was the most successful of these affairs ever conducted at this famous North Shore resort. The ball room was specially decorated for the occasion with bowers of maple and oak leaves along the sides and festoons of variegated foliage adorning the walls, while the soft rays from pink shaded lights showed off the many beautiful gowns to advantage. A number of the officers from the ships of the Atlantic squadron stationed at Rockport were present, and lent brilliancy to the occasion. A full orchestra rendered popular dance music and this pastime was enjoyed until midnight. Mr. Charles H. Mowry, the genial manager of the New Magnolia, to whose efforts the success of this ball was mainly due, provided punch and dainty refreshments which were dispensed throughout the evening on the broad verandas.

Mrs. Garrettson entertained at an informal luncheon at the Oceanside, Wednesday, her guests including Mrs. Henry F. Clark and Edward Clark of Cleveland and Mrs. Getzen-Danner and Miss Getzen-Danner of New York.

Mrs. Wm. D. Godley of New York has arrived at Magnolia this week for the rest of the season, joining her friend, Mrs. Wm. H. Hulick, at the Oceanside.

Dr. A. Carleton Potter of Boston is a guest of his father, H. Staples Potter, at Magnolia for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Goltia, E. Field Goltia, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dana, of St. Louis, and Miss Russell of Jacksonville, Fla., arrived at the New Magnolia Monday and will make this resort their headquarters while touring the North Shore.

Mrs. Thomas Lynch and family of Greensboro, Pa., have registered at the New Magnolia for an extended visit.

Watteau Fête

Better weather conditions could not have been offered yesterday afternoon for the Watteau fete at the Haven place, in Beverly Farms, in aid of the Talitha Cumi Home. The beautiful large estate offered a delightfully pretty setting for the affair, and the whole thing went off very successfully, more than 500 people from all along the North Shore and more distant points coming by train, carriage and automobile to witness the affair. Shepherds and shepherdesses, court gentlemen and court ladies went through the stately dances and braided the maypole with all the grace of their prototypes of years ago. The costumes were gorgeous, and those for the ladies were planned by Mrs. John Caswell, Mrs. Russell Codman and Mrs. Boylston A. Beal.

The young ladies who took the part of shepherdesses were: Molly Eliot, Margaret Thomas, Leslie Bradley, Margaret DeFord, Alice DeFord, Katherine Putnam, Edith Fitz, Faith Simpkins, Pauline Croll, Evelyn Curtis, Lucy Blair, Helen Hooper, Hilda Rice, Martha Bacon and Miss Ather-ton.

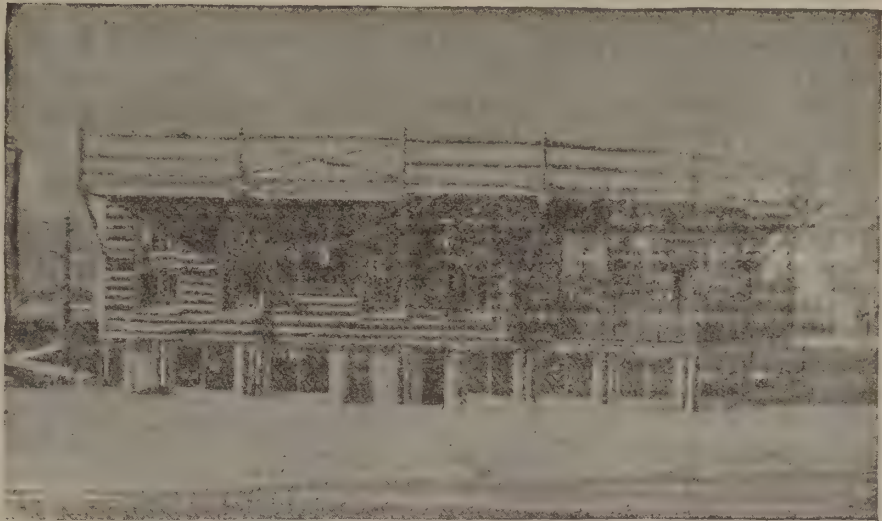

The court ladies were: Alice Sohier, Charlotte Talbot, Elsie Carr, Rosamond Bradley, Mary Amory, Helen Thomas, Mabel Lewis, Marie Lee, Miss Lyman, Barbara Higginson, Helen Read, Dorothy Jordan, Mrs. H. W. Mason, C. L. Munn, Margaret Crocker, Isabel Morison and Miss Wright.

The shepherds: John Simpkins, John Hodges, Meredith Whitehouse, Sam. Mixer, C. E. Cotting, jr., F. H. Ross, F. Bradley, W. L. Bradley, W. D. Sohier, jr., T. Beal, Deford Beal and Ned Wigglesworth.

The court gentlemen: Lawrence Morgan, Neal Rice, Reginald Fitz, Sam. Eliot, R. Atherton, Seymour Blair, Robert Jordan, Henry Lyman, C. V. Burrage and Norman Read.

Besides these there was the nymph, which part was very prettily taken by Miss Margaret Winthrop, and the shepherd, taken by Norman Read, John Caswell, eros, and Frances Bradley, fairy. The executive committee for the fete was composed of Mrs. Parker Bremer, Mrs. Charles K. Cummings, Mrs. F. L. Higginson and Mrs. R. T. Paine, jr.

Miss McNamara of 665 Boylston street, Boston, who is located at 39 School street, Manchester-by-the-Sea, for the season, is prepared to do shampooing, marcel waving and manicuring. Telephone connection.

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

FORESTRY

It is best to trim trees while young. Better to amputate a finger than an arm. Likewise better to remove a limb while small than after the tree and limb are large. Large wounds from removing limbs, may decay before they heal over, causing hollow trees. The removal of dead limbs of crossed or superfluous limbs, add to the health, vigor and symmetry of trees. It is also best to thin out trees instead of letting them struggle with one another for head room, getting one-sided and spindling—that is, Selection Thinning.

Society Notes

Among Thursday's departures for Europe were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore of Pride's Crossing, who are to spend the late summer abroad, and will do some motoring in France and pass a fortnight or so in Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Moore sailed from New York for Havre on "La Provence."

It is said that J. D. Rockefeller, who has just returned from Europe, will accompany his son to the Farms for a few weeks' visit.

The second in the series of recitals being given at Library hall, Magnolia, under the management of Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge, is to be given this afternoon, when Edward Brigham, basso, will appear in the Tennyson-Strauss "Enoch Arden." Next Saturday Signor Campanari, baritone, of the Metropolitan Opera House, and Mrs. Rider-Kelsey, soprano, will be the artists.

The New Orleans, one of the sonder klasse boats built by White at Manchester, is showing up remarkably well in the preliminary races. At Hull, Wednesday, she led the class and came in an easy winner, being one of the three boats to finish in a running of nine.

Despite the popularity of automobiling along the North Shore this season, the horse is still in popular favor with a great many. The Park Riding School master, who is at Manchester for the summer, says he is surprised to find the business so good and the streets so fine. For a number of years the school has had a branch at Magnolia, but this year it is located at the Masconomo stables in Manchester, where they are doing a splendid business.

Harbor Illumination

There is considerable interest manifest in the harbor illumination and parade of boats which is to take place next Thursday evening. A number of local boat owners as well as members of the yacht club are planning on entering and competing for the prizes, which range from $25 to $5. The start will be made from the Fenton boat yard at 8 o'clock and owners of property on the water front are requested to light red fires at 9 o'clock, at a signal from the yacht club.

the breeze, the pennant of the association. Only once a year is this flag unfolded, and this is a day of happiness for every member of the organization.

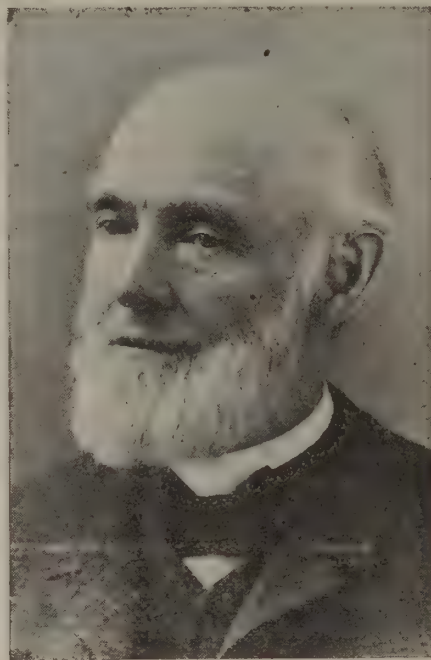

The Elder Brethren is one of the most unique organizations in the country. Over a quarter of a century ago a number of Manchester men for several years went to the chowder house for a day's outing, enjoying a chowder and all the fixings. Twenty-eight years ago the 15th of next month, 75 were present at one of these gatherings, and the Elder Brethren was organized. Every year since that time an outing has been held. Of the 75 men present at the organization only six now survive,—George Forster Allen, Dea. A. E. Low, W. C. Rust, Jacob Cheever, A. M. Merrian and Wm. H. Tappan. All of these were present Wednesday except Dea. Low whose increasing feebleness—he is now on the road to his 97th birthday—would not permit his presence.

It is said that the Old Home week idea originated in Manchester from this unique organization.

One of the requirements for membership to the association is that the applicant must have passed the half-century mark. Mr. Henry S. Grew said at the outing Wednesday that men don't die in Manchester, they dry up. An outsider who could see the hundred or more men between 50 and 95 years, who attend these gatherings, would agree with this statement. This year there were 98 present, all but two or three of whom were 50 or over.

Librarian D. L. Bingham was the oldest man present. His age is 91 years. Among the others present 80 years or over were: Jacob Cheever 86, William Johnson 89, Andrew J. Johnson 85, F. A. P. Kilham 82, Joseph Knowlton 80, John Lendall

GEORGE FORSTER ALLEN

81, J. L. Story 81, J. T. Stanley 80, A. F. Bennett 82.

Among those present were former ambassador to France, T. Jefferson Coolidge; Gen. James M. Curtis and Commodore J. K. Winn, U.S.N., retired, of Chelsea.

Several hours before noon they began to arrive and toward 11 o'clock the barge began to bring others from town. The hour or two before dinner was spent in renewing acquaintances, for there were many from out of town, and many of those in town had not met since the last reunion. At 1 o'clock came a most interesting feature, the annual chowder. It is needless to say that the steaming bowls of clam and fish chowder were thoroughly enjoyed, for chowder has always been the feature dish of these gatherings.

It was 2.15 when George F. Allen called the gathering to order, after the tables had been removed. Mr. Allen was the original president of the Elder Brethren and he has been re-elected every year since. W. J. Johnson, who succeeded Wm. H. Tappan as secretary-treasurer a couple of years ago, was re-elected this year. T. B. Stone was added to the executive committee to succeed the late H. C. Leach.

In his report Secretary Johnson gave the list of those who had passed away during the year as twelve, as follows: William Lynn of Beverly; Geo. Bartol, Lancaster; Geo. J. Kerr, Salem; N. P. Sanborn, Manchester, and J. Crowell, Beverly Farms; H. C. Leach, Wm. H. Haskell, Geo. Willmonton and H. S. Chase, John Collins, Albion Gilman and John Lomasney, Manchester.

The treasurer's report showed the receipts in 1905 were $50.50 and the expenditures $53.39, a deficit of $2.79. The amount on deposit is now $112.19.

The committee appointed last year in the matter of a monument to Masconomo reported as follows:

"The lamented death of our friend and brother, Henry C. Leach, has left the undersigned to act without his valued counsel.

"The committee recommends the erection in some public place,—preferably the Common, if the consent of the town is obtained,—of a rough boulder monument, or some other memorial, to the memory of Masconomo, chief of the Agawams, who, according to tradition hospitably received the first settlers and lived always on terms of amity with the white man.

"We recommend that a committee be appointed to act with a committee already appointed by the Historical society to prepare a more formal and detailed plan to be submitted to the Historical society for further suggestions, with the view of presenting the matter to the town at its next annual meeting.

"D. F. LAMSON,
"J. A. TORREY."

J. A. Torrey suggested that two or three Red Men, the only representatives of the Indian tribes in this vicinity, be added to the committee. W. C. Rust moved that an additional committee of three be appointed to act with the committee already appointed in order to bring the matter before the town.

Mr. Allen said he had acted as president of the organization for 27 years and in all that time he had not once missed being present. He almost thought he should not be here this year, but was pleased to think he was able to be present and extend greetings. The memory of these gatherings linger in the minds of the members many years, he said.

It was suggested by Rev. Mr. Lamson that a copy of the paper prepared by Mr. Torrey and read before the Historical society on the death of the late H. C. Leach, be placed on the records of this organization.

Rev. John M. Masters of Cambridge was first called upon for remarks. He related several interesting anecdotes of his grandfather, who was likened to Don Pedro, and of his leading the Manchester company in the march to Lexington when the alarm of attack by the British was sent out, and of the intense excitement that prevailed during the battle of Bunker Hill, the noise of the artillery being plainly heard from the surrounding hills. Mr. Masters later took exceptions to the manner in which the summer visitors had appropriated the lands of his ancestors, and he strongly advocated the doctrines of Henry George.

his pleasure in being able to attend these gatherings, and said the two great turning points in his life had been when he turned his face toward Manchester, and when he turned his face from Manchester, and he was now looking forward with doubt to the time when his face will again be turned toward Manchester.

Francis M. Stanwood was next called upon. He spoke interestedly of his ancestors, who, much to his delight, he found originated in this vicinity. He was of the 8th generation from Philip Stainwood who landed in Gloucester. His great-grandfather enlisted in Ipswich in the "April trouble" of which Mr. Masters had spoken.

A. S. Foster told of his boyhood experiences while his father was master of the almshouse, and of his first fishing trip.

Rev. Mr. Brewster of the Baptist church, when called upon to speak from the young man's standpoint, made a stirring impromptu address, predicting a dissipation of the Puritan spirit with coming generations, yet he was of the opinion that the influence of those men will forever remain a guide and help for men of future years.

A vote of thanks was extended the young men who had waited on the tables at the dinner in the early part of the afternoon.

A Women's Class was organized last evening at the Baptist church, Miss Manley of Melrose being present and aided in effecting the organization. A large number were present. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

In an auto accident at Pride's Crossing recently, opposite the Oliver Ames estate, S. A. McKinnon and John Kett of the North Shore Fish Co. had a narrow escape from serious accident if not fatal injury. The heavy car struck the light livery wagon, disabled it, frightened the horse, threw the occupants into the road, and incidentally scattered several valuable orders of goods promiscuously over the road. The auto was from Magnolia, and the parties were not sufficiently interested to find out the extent of the injuries to the party they run into.

Mrs. Delia McNeil is making over the building heretofore used as a stable into a cottage dwelling house. All the modern improvements will be installed.

The Young Men's Lyceum club connected with the Beverly Farms Baptist church held a day's outing at West beach the first of the week. Capt. J. Frank Blaney furnished one of his famous lobster stews as one of the principal items of the menu. The ball game between the single and married men furnished lots of sport, which was won by the single men by the close score of 6 to 5.

Forrester H. Pierce and family are contemplating spending some two weeks in the near future enjoying camp life upon the shores of New Found Lake, near Bristol, N.H.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

Each Spring and Summer hundreds of people all over the country turn to the advertising columns of the Boston Evening Transcript for information as to where the most desirable summer boarding places are located. If you intend to accommodate boarders it will be to your advantage to send us your name and address at once, together with a description of your place and of the accommodations you offer, and we will assist you in getting up an attractive advertisement which will undoubtedly bring excellent results. Advertising rates from 50c per day upward. Each season The Transcript publishes more advertisements offering board for the Summer than all the other Boston newspapers combined, proving it to be the most successful medium for this purpose. Sample copies, full information, testimonials, etc., upon application to BOSTON TRANSCRIPT COMPANY, 324 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

Fast Route to North Shore

About the most ambitious project in the way of an interurban electric railroad that has yet been launched is that which is outlined in the announcement of the proposed Boston & Eastern Electric Railroad made public Tuesday. According to this announcement the road is to connect Boston and Beverly, with a branch to Danvers; is to be constructed on a private right of way and carried over highways on concrete arches and over other railroads on steel bridges; is to have a double track the whole length, with provision for four tracks between Boston and Lynn; and is to be carried through cities on an elevated structure of concrete or earth.

The plans, furthermore, provide for specially constructed steel cars and gearless electric motors, and the trains are to be run at intervals of fifteen minutes, with an express running-time between Boston and Beverly of 23 minutes, and fares lower than those of the steam railroads. Among the subscribers to the stock is the well-known Pride's Crossing contractor, John H. Linehan.

C. H. Haberkorn of Detroit and Mrs. Haberkorn, who comes here for her health, are guests at Mrs. E. P. Stanley's, Summer street. Mr. Haberkorn is a large manufacturer of furniture. Wednesday he attended the Elder Brethren's picnic and was highly delighted with this unique gathering.

Among former Manchester boys who returned this week for the annual gathering of the Elder Brethren were Charles G. Rust and his father, Charles H. Rust, of Philadelphia. The former is general manager of the U. S. Express Co. in Philadelphia.

Walter W. Harding, who recently resigned his position as resident manager for Clark & Mills Electric Co., has assumed his new duties this week in charge of the electric plant and automobile station at the Walter D. Denegre estate, West Manchester. Mr. Jack, who formerly held this position, has concluded his services.

Held for Grand Larceny

Thomas Gray, an employee at the Masconomo, in Manchester, was held for the grand jury in $500 bail, at the district court in Salem Wednesday. The charge against him was larceny.

Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock the American Express Company's wagon stopped in front of the Masconomo. When the driver was inside Gray, it is alleged, stole two packages from the wagon, one of which was addressed to Mrs. Horace Brock, a Smith's Point summer resident, the bundle containing dress goods valued at $500. A witness to the theft asked the driver later if he had lost anything from the wagon, and the latter immediately noticed two bundles were gone. These were later in the evening found in Gray's room.

Agent Cawthorne apprized Chief Peabody of the facts early Monday evening, and the next day the latter got out a warrant for Gray's arrest. Officer Lomasney went to the hotel Tuesday morning and made the arrest. Gray claimed in court Wednesday he was drunk at the time of the theft. He was held for the grand jury, and nobody going his bail he was remanded to the Salem jail. This makes the second larceny case Manchester has awaiting the grand jury.

DISPLAY OF SWEET PEAS.

Beautiful Collection of the Blossoms at Lee's Hall, Manchester, Last Friday Evening.

There was a beautiful display of sweet peas at Lee's hall last Friday evening at the bi-monthly meeting of the N. S. Horticultural society. Though not a regular scheduled show the collection was of a fine order and many were out to see the display.

After the business of the meeting had been disposed the members were given a very interesting talk by Thos. D. Connolly of Beverly Farms on his visit to California a year ago.

The flowers were displayed in vases on tables arranged about the room. The most beautiful collection Wonderland's Greatness.

The secret of the extraordinary and ever increasing popularity of Wonderland is revealed in the magnitude and multiplicity, the novelty and the merit of its attractions.

The completion of the Wonderland garage is a fact thoroughly appreciated by automobilists, and their number is steadily increasing, who, the more the number and the multiplicity of the attractions there are exploited, are making Wonderland a favorite rendezvous.

One of the latest innovations at the electric city is the afternoon and evening parade, at 2 and 7 o'clock, of all the shows and all the bands, headed by Wonderland's police brigade and the lady cashiers in cap and gown. It is a departure thoroughly appreciated by the visitors and illustrates the number and variety of people and the attractions in Wonderland.

The sensation of the week have been the balloon ascensions of Professor La Roux and his corps of trained assistants. They occur daily at 5 o'clock.

GARTENFEST.

Pretty Affair Held in Manchester Town Hall Monday and Tuesday in Aid of Sacred Heart Church.

The gartenfest held in the Manchester Town hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week in aid of the Sacred Heart church, was very successfully conducted, despite the somewhat inclement weather. On Tuesday evening in particular the hall was crowded.

A sunlight gartenfest on both afternoons brought many children to the hall, and all had a delightful time.

The decorations were something out of the ordinary; in fact, they were pronounced by many to be the finest yet seen in the hall. Over the main entrance was an arch covered with crimson rambler roses, and around the entire hall was a hedge of hemlock trees, broken at each window and door with smaller arches covered with ramblers, showing in each window a box filled with sweet peas and various other cut flowers.

In the centre of the hall was a fountain, surrounded by flowers. The side walls were covered with crimson rambler and Dorothy Perkins roses.

Hanging from each chandelier, which were covered with greenery, was a Japanese parasol covered with flowers, and this was a pretty feature for the dancers. In each corner was a Japanese lantern.

Home-made candy, ice cream, cake and tables with various kinds of fancy articles were for sale. These were in charge of Miss Annie Clark, Mrs. John Connors, Mrs. Hannah Tappan, Mrs. Charles Francis and Mrs. Arthur McCormack.

The stage was one bank of palms, rubber plants, auricarias and cut flowers. Behind this Long's orchestra diffused music for the dancers. The grand march on Tuesday evening was led by M. A. McInnis and Miss Annie Cronin.

The whole affair was planned and conducted under the direction of J. J. Gorman.

BEVERLY FARMS

John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers have decided to hold their annual picnic and outing at Conomo Point, Essex, on Thursday, Aug. 2d, where they will have the use of one of the cottages for the day.

The grand fair in aid of St. Margaret's Catholic church will be held in Neighbor's hall, commencing Monday, August 27, and continue through that week, concluding with a grand social and ball Labor Day evening, Sept. 3. The different committees in charge are laboring in earnest and intend to make the week's event a pleasant one, adding many new features which will be interesting and entertaining.

The St. Margaret's Court of Foresters will give a "garden party" on the evening of August 16, at the estate of Daniel Linehan, West street, near the station. Dancing in the barn and various novelties, together with refreshments, are some of the attractions. The proceeds are to be devoted towards furnishing their sales table in the August fair.

The lawn party given by the young people of the Beverly Farms church, in Marshall's field on Tuesday afternoon and evening, was a success and was attended by a large crowd. The various tables over which the ladies of the parish presided, together with the other interesting features, all did a rushing business and a goodly sum of money was realized. In the evening the grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and the Lynn Cadet orchestra furnished excellent music.

After several weeks spent camping at Jefferson, N.H., with a party of college companions, whose homes are in Virginia, Frank Trowt returned home the middle of the week to spend the balance of his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Trowt.

Mr. John Ford, age 82, and daughter Miss Mary Ford of Springfield are visiting their Beverly Farms friends and are much delighted with the beauties of the North Shore.

Miss Nellie Preston has severed her connection with Messrs. Pierce & Pierce, plumbers, to accept the position of bookkeeper at the Beverly Farms Coal Co.

Mrs. Ella Treat and her daughter, Miss Helen Treat, came up from Bangor the first of the week and are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Hardy.

L. Howard Preston came home Thursday from the Beverly hospital where he has spent a week.

John Daniels, the Central square provision dealer, last Tuesday lost a valuable horse due to a severe attack of colic.

Miss Dorothy Larcom is visiting her brother David Larcom at Sanford, Me.

We are now receiving fresh young chicken turkeys from Rhode Island. Preble's Market, Beverly Farms. *

An affair sure to be interesting to many is the grand ball Thursday evening, Aug. 9th, of the Clan Wallace, 127, O. S. C., of Beverly, to take place in Neighbor's hall. Selections will be given by Scotch pipers in Highland costume and Whitaker's orchestra will also be present.

Carl Marx of Boston is enjoying life in the vicinity of West Beach and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Millett F. Spear.

On Friday evening of next week, Aug. 3, will be given the Rambler's grand social and dance, which event each year is greeted by a crowded house and is without doubt the leading dancing party of the summer season.

Plums, peaches, grapes, and all fruits of the season, fresh daily at Preble's market, Beverly Farms. *

WOMENS' CLUB HOUSE

in the evening. All games they have to forego for want of a place in which to play them. All that they can do for amusement is to sit, or walk, or go to bed.

History of the Club

This wretched plight of the friendless employees was perceived a few years ago by some of those most deeply interested in Magnolia's welfare and through the well-directed efforts of the Rev. M. W. Stackpole, a club-room was started, first for men. This was successful and two years ago one was established for women. A room in the Library building was secured and fitted up comfortably for reading and recreation. A very competent matron was found in the person of Miss Mary A. Ballou. Entertainments were provided through the co-operation of the talented among the hotel guests, dances for women only were held weekly, classes in Indian basketry and embroidery were instituted, and in many ways the club room was made very useful throughout the summer. This was in 1904.

In 1905 a step forward had to be taken owing to the impossibility of securing a room in the Library building. The small house of Mrs. Elbridge Foster in "Lobster Lane" was hired by a fortuitous circumstance for half its usual rental, and subscriptions were secured from generous supporters to cover this extra expense. Miss Ballou was unable to return and her friend, Miss Ethel H. Bardwell, took up the work and carried it on with like devotion and efficiency. A sewing machine and a piano were added to the club's resources. Club stationery was presented. Although the house was tiny for such a work, the number of members enrolled for the summer was 140, and the daily attendance, including Sundays, was 40 during July and 45 during August.

Need of the New Club House

This arrangement was good, but necessarily temporary. The rent of this, the most inexpensive house on the Point, would be regularly $400, or the interest at five per cent. on $8000. There would be other expenses, too, making the sum too large a one to raise by subscription every year. Moreover, the accommodations in a little dwelling house are not those required in a large club. When an entertainment was held, the house seemed literally to burst and its human contents to flow over. A dance there was impossible. So it seemed wise to secure a lot while there was one to be had and to build a club house adapted to the work required. This has been done.

Location of the Club House

The lot on which the club house stands is the best one in Magnolia for the purpose. It is on "Lobster Lane," commanding a beautiful view of the sea and the beach, and across to Coolidge's Point. It is near the hotels, being between them and the beach, and therefore most convenient for "dropping in," and at the same time it is far enough from the cottages to cause no annoyance.

Finally it was a lot with a valuation within the bounds of reason, and of just the size required for a good-sized house, being about 40x80, and sold to us through the generosity of the owner, Mrs. T. F. Oakes for $800, the original price set upon it being $1000.

The Club House

Upon this lot and practically filling it, the club-house has been built.

It is a two-story structure, nearly 75 feet long, including the piazza, and 30 feet wide. The plans were drawn by Mr. James S. Lee, who gave them as his contribution to the good work. They have resulted in a building that is both useful and ornamental, though not in any respect elaborate or extravagant. Every dollar paid out has been looked at twice and has brought in the full equivalent, as a study of the financial statement and comparison of its items with the cost of an ordinary cottage will clearly show.

The first story is devoted to club purposes wholly. It consists of a large hall 30 feet square opening by sliding doors into a club-room half fire-place, which one sees as soon as one enters the building. There is an office for the matron opening off the vestibule with a coal closet opposite, and at the back of the building there is a little kitchen. Across the front of the house is a spacious piazza adorned with window-boxes, the flowers of which give a pretty setting to the picture of the water as seen between the piazza posts.

The second story is to support the first, to speak paradoxically. It contains only one room for club use, the delightful sewing room over the piazza. The rest of it comprises 11 bedrooms and one good sized bath-room, the rental of which is to be the main source of income to pay the club's running expenses. The rooms are to let for four and five dollars a week furnished and this with club dues at 50 cents for the season, and with the rental of the hall in winter to the permanent residents of Magnolia, will make the club-house a self-supporting institution.

There is in addition to the above rooms a small cellar to contain the furnace and the hot-water heater for the use of the bath-room, and there is a good loft under the roof for trunks. The building is lighted throughout by electricity. The second story is plastered, while the first floor is finished with the studding showing, and is stained, the walls green, the ceiling brown. The doors and window frames are all finished natural and the shingles on the outside are to be left to the fogs to weather.

Financial Statement

The total cost of this building will be about $5400, or with the lot and furnishings between $6500 and $7000. It has been built by the day, under the admirable management of Michael Kehoe as foreman, and a saving of $1500 has thus been made over the lowest bid for the contract offered. This has been made possible by the hearty co-operation of all who have had a part in the enterprise, sub-contractors, carpenters and J. F. Pope & Son, the lumber dealers, all of whom have helped to give us a first-class building at the lowest possible cost. In round numbers the items of the cost are as follows:

Lumber	$1700.00
Labor (foreman and carpenters)...	1500.00
Windows, doors and blinds.....	315.00
Plastering and lathing.....	275.00
Iron and hardware.....	185.00
Stone-masons	400.00
Brick-masons	350.00
Electricians	175.00
Painters	275.00
Plumbers	140.00
Incidentals, freight, trucking, etc...	125.00

Adding to this $800 for the lot and allowing $500 for the furnishing, we have the total of about $6700. It is hoped that someone will present the house with a small second-hand furnace and save us this additional expense.

Present Financial Standing

Of the $6700 needed, $4700 is pledged in one of two ways, either as a subscription already paid, or as backing due if needed Oct. 1, 1907. This backing is from twenty people who had already subscribed once and amounts to about $2300 of the $4700. It is hoped that the generosity of other donors will make it necessary to ask for only a part of this, say one-half. Reckoning one-half to the paid subscriptions, we have a balance to raise of about $3000. But as the income will carry a mortgage of $1000 if necessary, although it is not desirable, we have actually $2000 to raise.

The Club House Fair

To raise this sum, a grand fair is to be held on Aug. 15, in which it is hoped that everybody who loves a good work will help. The fair is to be held at the club-house and opportunity will be given all comers to inspect the building from cellar to loft. Refreshments are to be served. Tables are to be stocked with salable articles of various and sundry description, and for these tables contributions are asked. We want to make $2000 by the one fair, and it can be done if all help. All who contribute $25 are to receive a share in the property, it being the plan to incorporate the subscribers as a means of securing permanency and stability, as well as exemption from taxation. The fair is to be under the management of the matron, Mrs. H. C. Foster, to whom communications regarding it should be addressed. Remember the date, Aug. 15.

This week's mail brought to many the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mabel Blanche Fogg to Mr. Harry Joseph Garceau, the ceremony taking place at Melrose, Monday, July 23d. Miss Fogg is well known in Beverly Farms where she has a host of friends and was for quite a period a popular teacher in the Farms public schools. The many friends and acquaintances unite in extending to the happy couple their best wishes upon life's journey.

Mrs. John McKeone and family of Everett street, moved the latter part of this week to Beverly, where they have purchased a house and expect to make their permanent residence. Their Beverly Farms house has been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ward.

Miss Agnes Leahy after a months' vacation at the Farms has resumed her occupation as trained nurse in the Peabody family at Danvers, Mass.

The Hardy club social and dance, an event which has been looked forward to for some time, came off on Thursday evening and was attended by a large crowd, many out of town visitors being present. Heaphy's Singing orchestra furnished new and popular music. President of the club, Jeremiah Toomey, had charge of the affair and was assisted by a large corps of club members.

We send you a duplicate of your order, showing the amounts, weights, prices, etc., with each order, each day. Preble's market, Beverly Farms. *

Miss Honora O'Brien of Gloucester, the popular teacher at the Farms school, came to Beverly Farms this week and will spend part of her vacation here.

Mrs. Patrick Cahill (nee Elizabeth McCarthy) of Brighton is visiting her parents, Councilman and Mrs. John C. McCarthy, Greenwood avenue.

Messrs. Connolly Bros. started this week installing the new fountain which Mrs. Henry C. Weston has presented to the city to be located at the junction of Hale and Hart streets—the exact location being changed from the old site some 10 feet so as to bring it in the centre of the square. The foundations and drains are already completed, and it is expected that before the close of another week the granite and marble will be set up and the fountain practically completed.

Make a Big Addition

The people of the North Shore will learn with pleasure that the Webber Co. are about to make a large addition to their present establishment. The steady and rapid growth of their business has compelled them to do this. They have taken the entire building on the corner of Washington and Essex streets, with the exception of the ground floor now occupied by the Merchants' National bank. Contractors are now at work taking down walls, putting in large plate glass windows, and will in a few weeks cut arches through to connect their present store. When completed, the firm will occupy the entire second and third floors of the corner building, thus adding many hundreds of feet of extra floor space, and the result will be the spreading out of many departments which at present are very much overcrowded, and the store being so centrally located, in fact, right in the heart of Essex county, it will be Bigger, Busier and Better than ever before.

In a Nutshell

If it isn't right, send it back and get your money. That's the secret of this store's growing popularity, that's the reason of its phenomenal mattress selling.

Hair Mattresses

Are more imposed upon than almost anything in the world. A first-class hair mattress means South American hair; a hair mattress may mean cow's hair—it's hair just the same; but what a difference. We stake our reputation on every mattress we sell and we value that reputation too highly to risk it for an extra two dollars' profit at the sacrifice of goodness.

A mattress bought here is just what you think it is or your money back at any time.

HARBOR ILLUMINATION

Manchester in Gala Attire for Boat Parade, But Dense Fog Mars Enjoyment of the Occasion — Eric Pape Awarded Prizes

A dense fog was the only thing to mar the enjoyment of the harbor illumination and boat parade at Manchester Thursday evening. The river was quite prettily illuminated and the dozen boats in line were effectively decorated, though the whole affair was not as good as might be expected in a watering place like Manchester, where there are so many boats and such a grand opportunity for an event of this kind.

The carnival was held under the auspices of the Manchester Yacht club, the committee in charge being Edward S. Grew, A. W. Craigie and A. M. Merriam. Eric Pape, the artist, judged the boats from his launch, the "Viva," anchored in the harbor, just off the club house.

ANDREW CARNEGIE, 2d's, SUMMER HOME AT MANCHESTER

A mammoth bonfire on the Smith farm, where what remained of the recent fire there was burned, lit up the entire inner harbor. Other smaller fires appeared along the shore line, and red fire was burned profusely. Several of the estates running down to the water front were illuminated, including the E. C. Fitch, Chas. A. Read, Wm. A. Tucker, A. M. Merriam, F. M. Stanwood, E. S. Grew, A. F. Bemis, Mortimer B. Mason, Foster's wharf, the David Fenton Co.'s wharf, and long pier in the outer harbor.

The club house and floats were fairly ablaze with small lanterns, which encircled the building in several rows, while numerous large Japanese lanterns interspersed lent richness and color to the scene. The "Velthra," Commodore S. Parker Bremer's steam yacht, was a glow from stem to stern with electric lights.

The parade started a little before 9 o'clock from the David Fenton Co. wharf, with 12 boats in line. Some

Mrs. Howard L. Winchester and son are at Norway, Me., for the month of August. Mr. Winchester will join them today for a week.

George E. Willmonton is out with a 4-cylinder Rambler touring car, which he obtained on his recent visit to Portland, Me. Accompanied by Fred K. Swett, he went to Portland Thursday night and brought the car back over the road.

Mrs. J. A. Lodge has been spending the week visiting her parents in Peterboro, N. H. Mr. Lodge is there over Sunday.

Thomas Macdonald has gone to Needham, where he is employed at carpentry work by Connolly Bros. of Beverly Farms, who have a big contract on there.

W. R. C. members who did not take the privilege of attending the outing and basket lunch of the corps and their friends at Tuck's Point last Friday missed a most delightful time. The affair was one of the most enjoyable held by Allen Relief Corps for years, a feature of the occasion being the bounteous spread provided by the committee in charge. Several guests were present from Salem, and the chairman of the executive committee, Mrs. Nichols, and Mrs. Jewett of the Ipswich Corps, with many others were in attendance. Games were played and sailing in the harbor in sail boats and launches was a pleasing pastime for many.

Manuel Miguel and family have moved into the Aveney house near the railroad on Summer street. Mr. Aveney and family have moved to Randolph, where they have a farm.

T. William Lomasney has purchased a lot from Frederick Burnham on Vine street, second from the corner of Vine street and the proposed Norwood avenue extension, and he has moved the old homestead from Brook street to the new location. He intends to make some improvements on the house, including the addition of a piazza, and two or three dormer windows.

A number of local Odd Fellows attended the Encampment outing at West Gloucester Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dillon of Dorchester have been spending the week in town with the former's family on Brook street.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Baker and child of Brookline are spending a fortnight in town, visiting relatives.

Men's Bathing Suits at Allen's. *

Miss Gertrude Leonard of Roxbury spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCormack. Miss Leonard is a recent graduate of the Conservatory of Music, Boston.

Arthur H. Merriam, one of Clark & Mills Electric Co.'s electricians, has moved his family from Cambridge to the tenement in the Lutz house on Brook street.

Mrs. Geo. F. Allen attended the funeral services over the remains of the late Elizabeth Porter Gould, in Brookline, Monday.

Edward Leach.

The remains of Edward Leach were brought to Manchester for burial Monday afternoon, services being held in the Crowell Memorial chapel. Rev. D. F. Lamson officiated. Interment was in the family lot, Union cemetery.

Edward Leach was a native of Manchester, being born in "Newport," so called, 66 years ago next November. He was a cabinet maker by trade. For a number of years he has been in ill health, due to a complication of diseases. He has been away from Manchester 25 years. He died in Cambridge last Saturday. A widow, and an adopted daughter, one brother, Albert Leach, and three sisters, Mrs. W. C. Rust, Mrs. Mary Russell and Miss Charlotte Leach, survive him.

MAGNOLIA

Posters are up along the North Shore announcing the fair for the Women's club house at Magnolia which is to be held Wednesday, Aug. 15. The club house is to be thrown open all that day for inspection. There are to be tables for the sale of useful and fancy articles, home-made cake and candy, flowers, toys, etc. For all of these tables contributions are asked from any one who is interested. There is also to be a table for the sale of shares in the club house. The plan is to incorporate the club under the title of "Women's Club House Association." The price of shares has been fixed at 25 cents each. It is hoped to sell 40 of these shares on that day. Refreshments are to be served, fruit punch in the morning and evening, and tea in the afternoon. The fair is to be under the management of the matron, Mrs. Harry C. Foster. A long list of patronesses is to grace the cards which are being printed to advertise the fair. All communications addressed to Mrs. Foster at the club house. The telephone number is 8119. Remember the date Wednesday, August 15th!

Social events at the Women's club house have been numerous the past week. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs.

Wednesday evening Miss Gertrude Sands, whose violin playing has been heartily enjoyed in Magnolia during previous summers, entertained the members of the club for more than an hour. Thursday Mr. Miller, manager of the Hesperus, kindly offered the orchestra for the evening, and last night there was a meeting of the members to plan for the fair. The membership has passed 125. The pretty rooms in the second story, each with a view of the sea, are now ready for occupancy and are being rapidly taken by women coming to Magnolia for August.

very pretty effects were introduced. In the middle of the line was a beautiful white sea-gull with wings outstretched as if alighting. This was by Wigglesworth and Fuller and was awarded first prize, $25.00. A. I. Croll's launch, with pretty color effects, was awarded second prize, $20. A novel effect was the iceberg, by T. L. White, the boat builder. This drew third, $15. The Mahdeen III, A. C. Needham's launch, was very effectively dressed with varicolored and shaped lanterns, and red fire burned from an improvised smoke stack. This drew fourth prize $10. The battleship, owned by Norman Read was awarded fifth, $5.00.

Other boats in the line were E. P. Stanley's sailing yacht; a boat representing a swan and another representing a lotus flower, owned by W. A. Tucker; and boats owned by Miss Helen Read, L. O. Latons and Geo. W. Mansfield. R. L. Cheever's launch was decorated but did not enter the line. The fog was so thick at times that the boats could not be seen 100 feet away.

Wonderland's "Thrillers."

Wonderland's popularity and patronage, ever on the increase, apparently knows no bounds, and the average daily attendance now totals 20,000 people, with Saturday and Sunday's patronage aggregating 50,000. The quantity of fun and entertainment one may secure at Boston's newest and greatest summer amusement realm for a very small expenditure is really remarkable. Not only is the visitor provided with free entertainments at every turn, but the admission charges at the "pay" attractions are indeed trivial when one considers the high quality of the entertainments.

It will interest automobilists to know that Wonderland's garage, situated just outside the main entrance on Walnut avenue, is free to all.

Miss Turnbull of Morristown, N. J., is a house guest of Mrs. Otto H. Kahn at Manchester for a few weeks, and Charlie Oelrich of New York, whose engagement to Miss Turnbull was recently announced, will be their guest very shortly also. Though the Kahns have leased the Charles Head house for July and August it is likely they will not spend such a long season here as last year, but they expect to go to their mountain home in the Adirondacks about the middle of August.

Mrs. G. R. Webb, Miss Webb, Miss H. A. Webb and Miss R. E. Vickers of Baltimore, who are touring the New England resorts by auto, were guests at the Hesperus, Magnolia, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Benson and family of Passaic, N. J., registered at the Aborn, Magnolia, this week for the rest of the summer.

There has been any number of prominent arrivals this last week at the New Magnolia, most of them to remain until September. Mrs. L. S. Skinner of Wayland, Mass., who is here for her second season, is one of these. Then there are the R. D. Van Namens, also from Wayland.

Mr. Van Namen is an ardent lover of good horses and has a fine string in his stable here this year. He may be seen early mornings handling the reins over a spirited pair, or riding one of his prize winning saddle horses on a good cross country run. The two sons of the family, Howard and Theodore, can be counted on for leaders in the gaieties of the young people of the hotel.

On August 18 the world-celebrated David Bispham gives his song recital in Library hall, Magnolia, at 4 o'clock. He returns from England in order to keep this engagement, and his many friends along the North Shore will, no doubt, give him a hearty welcome. He has already accepted invitations to several dinners for the time that he is to be here.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mason, Miss H. Gladys Mason, Jerome Dudley Mason and Miss M. Frances Foye of Boston, Md., have come to the New Magnolia to remain for the rest of the season.

A. C. Blanchard of South Framingham has registered at the New Magnolia for the month of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Rockwell and Miss Rockwell of Bristol, R.I., came to the New Magnolia in a large touring car this week and will remain some time.

From the west and for their second season have come Mrs. Mary C. Bourke, Tom Bourke, Wilfred Bourke and Miss Kate Corrigan. Their home is in Kansas City, Mo., but they spend August at the New Magnolia hotel.

Society Notes

An event which is looked forward to with considerable interest by North Shore folk is the annual aquatic sports of the Manchester Yacht club, which are to be held off the club house next Saturday, Aug. 11, at 3 o'clock. There will be the usual sports, including blind dory race, diving contest, swimming race, obstacle race, walking the pole, rowing race, canoe tilting and a war canoe race. Yacht owners have been requested to dress ship and anchor their yachts near the club house. The various events are open to members of the club and friends. Entries should be made to A. M. Merriam, secretary of the committee in charge, of which A. Walpole Craigie and Edward S. Grew are the other members. Tea will be served after the sports on the club house piazza. Misses Mary Eliot, Edith Fitz, Helen Read and the Misses Wigglesworth will preside "over the tea cups." The date of the children's entertainment will be announced later.

Subscribers to the series of recitals being given under the management of Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge will be interested in the announcement from Mrs. Selfridge, that on account of the wedding on August 25 of Miss Mitchell and Mr. Shaw, the recital of Mrs. Kitty Cheatham-Thompson, soprano, scheduled for that date, will be held on the day previous, Friday, August 24, at 4 o'clock. Tickets for this and for the other recitals may be had at the Dolphin and at the door.

Beatrice Herford will give her delightful monologues for the benefit of the library at Library hall, Magnolia, next Saturday, Aug. 11, at 4 o'clock. Many North Shore people will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing this popular entertainer. The tickets, at $1.00 each, may be had at the Dolphin, Magnolia.

The Manchester II., owned by Dr. J. L. Bremer, has been showing up splendidly in the sonder klasse races at Marblehead this week. In Wednesday's race she beat the ten other boats in this class and crossed the line almost five minutes in the lead. Thursday the Manchester came in third.

Mrs. M. R. Talmage of New York City has registered at the New Magnolia for another season.

Col. and Mrs. Charles Arthur Carlisle, who are spending part of the summer at "Seacrest," one of the Oceanside hotel cottages, Magnolia, with their children, and Mrs. Geo. E. Vincent of Chicago and her children, and Mrs. Herman Hageler of Danville, Ill., were guests Sunday afternoon of Rear Admiral R. D. Evans, commanding the U. S. fleet off Rockport, on board the flagship Maine. After looking over the ship Admiral Evans served tea in his cabin with Mrs. Carlisle presiding.

Miss Gertrude Gerdes of Newport is a guest of Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter at "Cranleigh," Wenham Neck.

W. McC. Blair left Beverly Farms a day or two ago for Raquette Lake, N. Y., where he is a guest of Livingston Platt.

The Magnolia Tennis club nine played the Essex County club nine at the County club grounds at Manchester Saturday afternoon, the former being the winner, 12 to 11.

Dr. C. B. Porter and daughter, Miss Hortense Porter, left Beverly Farms Wednesday morning for a month of out-of-door life in the Maine woods. They are located at Roach river.

Miss Dorothy Upham, who is spending the summer at Beverly Farms with the Hon. and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes, is on a visit to York Harbor, Me., with friends.

Warner-Hooper.

In St. John's Episcopal church, Beverly Farms, this afternoon at 3:30 will be solemnized the marriage of Miss Mary Hooper of Beverly Farms and Boston, and Mr. Roger Sherman Warner. The wedding will be of a rather quiet nature and will be attended by only a small number of the friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

The officiating clergyman will be the Rev. Prescott Evarts of Christ church, Cambridge. The bride is to be given away by her cousin, Dr. W. S. Bigelow.

There are to be no bridesmaids; the best man will be J. Wells Farley; Henry James, 2d, Charles Jackson, J. T. Curtis, Dr. Austin Riggs, T. K. Lothrop, Jr., J. F. Perkins, Malcolm Donald and H. D. Chapin are the ushers.

A very small reception will be held at the summer home of the bride in Beverly Farms after the ceremony.

One of the smartest functions of the season, no doubt, will be the dance to be given at "Villa Crest," on Aug. 15, by Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Denegre. Invitations will be sent out for probably three or four hundred guests. The dance will be held in the coach house, off the beautiful large court adjoining the house.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Allen Porter are receiving congratulations on the advent of a little boy in their summer home, off Hale street, Beverly Farms, a week ago yesterday morning. On the evening previous the home of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Cushing, in the next cottage to Dr. and Mrs. Porter, was gladdened by the arrival of a little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bacon and family, who have been spending a fortnight in North Shore waters in their steam yacht, the "Thetis," left Thursday for Dark Harbor, Me. They have been entertaining quite a number of young people on their yacht during their visit here.

Dr. H. O. Marcy of Cambridge is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Paine, at "Brookside," their Beverly Cove cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. King of Prides Crossing are spending much time on their 56-foot sloop yacht "Ranger" this summer, though they have not taken any long cruises thus far. About the middle of this month they are going down the coast as far as Bar Harbor.

Miss Elizabeth W. Perkins of Beverly Farms went down to York Harbor yesterday on a short visit.

Some thirty players were entered in Saturday's members' handicap golf tournament at the County club at Manchester. J. H. Hammond won in the net score competition with 78, and for best gross, H. R. Johnstone and J. F. Curtis tied at 82 each, playing from scratch.

Ambassador Baron von Sternberg, Count Hatzfeldt Wildenburg, R. von Kuhlman and Wilhelm von Frericks, the first, second and third secretaries of the legation, accompanied by Viscount de Chambrun, first secretary of the French Embassy, who is spending the summer at Beverly Farms, also, were guests at the Eastern Yacht club, Marblehead, Tuesday, and witnessed the open regatta sailed under the auspices of the club in the afternoon.

AT THE HOTELS

The New Magnolia whist parties, invariably followed by informal dancing, are among the most delightful events of hotel life in Magnolia. They are given on Monday nights, and this week the participants included many whist enthusiasts who are known as crack players in their home cities. Fifteen tables of players occupied the casino. Handsome prizes were awarded, Mrs. J. Simpson of New York and Mrs. S. G. Presbee of Boston winning first honors. Miss Ethel Johnson of Boston and Mrs. George H. Newell of Gloucester captured the second prizes, while the consolation souvenirs went to Miss Lutkins of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Mrs. G. Johnson of Boston. At the conclusion of the games, punch was served, and the dance that followed was really an event in itself. It was given by Manager Mowry in honor of the young people of the F. B. Harder party who have been such an acquisition to the social life of the hotel since their arrival and whose departure the following day for an extended trip through the mountain resorts, was sincerely regretted.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Steck and Miss Edna Steck of Hartford, Conn., have arrived in their large touring car at the New Magnolia, where they will make an extended stay. Mr. Steck is well known as the promoter of the famous automobile races at Ormond Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Bruen of East Orange, N.Y., entertained as their guests at the New Magnolia on Thursday, Mrs. Wellman, Mrs. Hall and Miss Messenger, of Brooklyn.

Miss Van Slyke of Hudson, N.Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Harder of Philmont, N.Y., at the New Magnolia for a few days.

Mrs. Rudolph Kauffman and Miss Kauffman of Washington, D.C., have registered at the New Magnolia for the season.

H. V. Putnam of Cliftdale arrived in his touring car Friday and will spend a few days with his family who are registered at the New Magnolia for the season.

There has been much entertaining of visitors this week by the New Magnolia guests. The Rev. Mr. McGleeson, chaplain of the U.S.S. Missouri, Thursday entertained at the New Magnolia Lieut. and Mrs. A. W. Marshall and Miss Marshall of the U.S.S. Kansas. M. W. Falconer of the U.S. S. Illinois gave a pretty dinner one night early in the week at the New Magnolia to a party of friends from the U.S.S. Missouri.

One of the smartest dinners of the week was that given at the Grill club Wednesday evening by Henry Sleeper of Boston. Plates were placed for twenty-two. Mr. Sleeper is at the Oceanside for the summer. Among his guests Wednesday evening were the Misses Southerland, the Misses Colton and Miss Sarah Brown of Washington, Miss Eva McAdoo and Miss Lucile Stevens of New York, and Miss Louise Nugent of St. Louis, Messrs. Richard Lawrence, Roger Kinnicott, G. McC. Sargent, Piatt Andrews, Kenneth Hill, Radcliffe Romeyn and Mr. Stanley. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sargent chaperoned the party, which was given in one of the charming small dining rooms of the Grill club. The decorations were sweet peas.

Miss Katherine Tweed returned from her visit to Oyster Bay last Saturday, and has as her guest at Beverly Farms Miss Margaret Roosevelt of New York and Oyster Bay. Harold Tweed went down to Narragansett Pier Monday with the Myopia Hunt club team.

Dr. Malcolm MacFarlan of Philadelphia has been a guest of Mrs. Catherwood at the Oceanside this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fairbanks and child of Chicago are among the week's arrivals at the Oceanside. Mr. Fairbanks is a son of Vice-President Fairbanks.

Miss Hazel Ellis and Miss Helen Ellis of New Orleans are among this week's arrivals at the Oceanside. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ellis, who will join them shortly for the balance of the season, and are quite the favorites among the younger set at Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bentley and family of Youngstown, O., arrived at Magnolia Wednesday for the balance of the season.

Among Wednesday's arrivals at the Oceanside were Dr. Irving M. Snow and Mrs. Snow of Buffalo, N.Y., who will remain here during August.

The Notman Studio, in the Colonnade, Magnolia, seems to be quite the popular dropping-in place for hotel guests and cottagers. They have a beautiful display of photographs in their windows and on the walls. *

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

It is best to trim trees while young. Better to amputate a finger than an arm. Likewise better to remove a limb while small than after the tree and limb are large. Large wounds from removing limbs, may decay before they heal over, causing hollow trees. The removal of dead limbs of crossed or superfluous limbs, add to the health, vigor and symmetry of trees. It is also best to thin out trees instead of letting them struggle with one another for head room, getting one-sided and spindling—that is, Selection Thinning.

THE SUMMER HOTELS

James Lane Allen, author of "Kentucky Cardinal," "Choir Invisible," and other equally popular novels, is a guest at the Oceanside. His New York headquarters is at the Century club. He will remain on the shore during August, and will no doubt be entertained considerably during his visit.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Kemble and family of Philadelphia, who have been spending July at the New Monmouth, Spring Lake, N.J., have arrived at the Oceanside for the month of August, their coming adding materially to the social life at this popular resort. Mr. Kemble is especially welcomed by the golfing contingent.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Plummer Posey of Philadelphia are guests of Mrs. Chas. Howell at the Oceanside for August. Dr. Posey is one of the leading physicians in the Quaker city, and Mrs. Posey is quite prominent in the social life of the place.

Mrs. H. B. du Pont of Wilmington, Del., arrived at Magnolia Wednesday and will be located at the Oceanside for the balance of the season.

AT THE HOTELS

Monday was, indeed, a gala day with the young people at the New Magnolia. About 50 of them, under the leadership of E. L. Harder and C. Morton Haley, chartered three tally-hos and went gaily away to the beautiful Fern Grove picnic grounds for luncheon. They carried the luncheon with them carefully stowed away in the bottom of the coaches, and this was later served in true picnic fashion on the soft green turf of a delightfully shaded spot. The picnickers were: Mrs. George Newell, F. B. Harder, the Misses Laura, Sara, Clara and Isabelle Harder, Philip Harder, Harold Harder, Lewis Harder, Miss Van Slyck, Miss I. A. Shaw, Miss Marion Haley, Miss Rogers, Miss Kenison, George Tyler, George Johnson, Miss Whiting, Miss Gladys Stewart, the Misses Clara and Marjorie Newell.

Mrs. Thomas C. Jenkins and Miss L. F. Elliott of Pittsburg, Pa., came last week to the New Magnolia to remain until September.

James Rodgers, manager of the Harper's Publishing company of New York, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. A. M. Lord of New York, made the trip to Magnolia the first of the week by auto and are at the New Magnolia for an extended visit. Another touring party that will spend some time at the New Magnolia consists of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Rohr, Miss Rohr and Mrs. S. F. Gill of Philadelphia.

Led by the handsome young Peruvian secretary of legation, Senor A. A. Calderon, the New Magnolia young people are going in for tennis with unwonted enthusiasm. The hotel courts are kept in exceptionally good condition, and early morning and late afternoon finds a group of white-flannelled young men and short-skirted, bare-armed young women playing the ancient old love game. Only, so adept are most of the players that few love games are scored. The last week, too, has seen a good many of the New Magnolia guests riding and driving, some of them displaying splendid horsemanship, both in the saddle and with the ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Arrott and William Arrott of Philadelphia came to the New Magnolia by automobile this week and registered for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. Edward Weidenfeld of 74 Madison avenue, New York, announces a one-day exhibition and sale of studio laces, Irish crochet and cluny, leather novelties, etc., at the Dolphin, Magnolia, next Monday.

J. C. Ernst of Cincinnati has been spending the week at the Aborn, Magnolia.

There was an interesting baseball game at the Essex County club grounds Wednesday afternoon when the Junior Essex County club nine and a picked team from among the town boys played. The latter won 6 to 5.

Supt. Geo. Kimball was on the water wagon last Sunday. One of his men who drives the cart Smith's Point way was missed from his usual route after starting on the first trip. After some searching the wagon was located on Proctor street. The driver was located also, a little later. He was put in the cooler till he sobered off. Meanwhile the genial superintendent brought the cart back to town.

Gasolene in the bottom of Hollis Roberts launch caught fire in some manner on the evening of the illumination and serious results to the boat were only averted by the young men aboard taking off their coats and smothering the flames.

To Sell His Plant

Jos. Leman, who has conducted a printing office in the Knight building on Beach street, near the railroad, for the past eight years, intends to sell his place at once. His health is very poor, and he has been unable to handle the business properly for more than a year. It is likely that J. A. Lodge, of the NORTH SHORE BREEZE, will get possession of the plant and have a man to take Mr. Leman's place Monday.

It is to be regretted there is not more public spirit in Manchester than was evidenced the other night on the occasion of the harbor illumination and boat parade. While crowds turned out to witness the event, few—very few—had the interest to go into the thing and do their part toward making it a success. A water carnival should be one of the events of the season at Manchester. Few places offer such an opportunity for an event of this kind. There was not a light of any kind on the town pier at Tuck's Point, even.

Isn't there some way of keeping street organs out of the centre of the town on band concert evenings? There has not been an evening thus far this summer, when the band was playing on the Common in Manchester, that the pleasure of the occasion has not been marred by the appearance of one or two of these organs. If it is not now within the power of the police to order them away on Wednesday evenings some special provision should be made whereby power can be given them to act in this matter.

Old French Proverb

Some of your griefs you have cured
And the sharpest you still have survived;
But what torments of pain you endure
From the evils that never arrived?

TWILIGHT ON THE SHORE

BY S. S. STINSON

The day is done, and swiftly in its flight
The sun has kissed the sea a fond farewell.

Grim shadows mingle with the dusky light
And swallow up the vagrant sunbeams bright

That linger on the crest of every swell.

The sea is silent, silent and alone,
Save for the restless waves, that all the day

Have kissed the earth's hard lips, and backward flown

In petty anger, now have peevish grown,
Like children who have tired of their play.

The waves roll in and break upon the shore.
Then, with a sullen murmur turn again,
And rushing seaward with a mighty roar,
Fly back to Mother Ocean's breast once more,
And sob their grief in many a plaintive strain.

A single gull, belated in its flight,
Cries for its mate in tones of wild despair,
And does not heed the fast approaching night,
Now plunging through the white spray in affright,
Now circling through the dusky upper air.

How slow the mantle falls! The sky grows gray,
And ghost-like mists arise from out the deep.

A pregnant pause. The eastern skies betray
A golden gleam that drives the gloom away.
Old Ocean calmly lulls herself to sleep.

Make War on Moths

If every person, in front of whose house stand trees, would make it a point to go out every morning, raise the burlap around the trees, kill the gypsy moth caterpillars and destroy cocoons, he would confer a favor on the entire community.

It would take perhaps 10 minutes, but every householder ought to have 10 minutes' worth of public spirit to donate for the next few days.

Some citizens never bother to assist the department in its work, by killing the pest on their own trees, or trees in front of their estates. Doubtless some of these would reply that the town is paying men to do this work.

While that is true, these men cannot be everywhere at once, and if, as before stated, every citizen would make it a point to examine the burlaps about the trees in front of his house, and kill the bugs there, he would be doing a public service and incidentally would preserve the tree to a great extent at least, from the ravages of this terrible pest.

There seems to be a mistaken idea about the province of this burlap. The strips of burlap are not traps. They are simply placed there for the purpose of providing shelter for the caterpillar during the day. The gypsy moth caterpillar feeds at night. When dawn comes it seeks some dark place. Such a place is provided by the bands of burlap. The caterpillars quickly find it and crawl beneath its folds to escape the light.

Therefore, incidentally the burlap is a trap, but it does not hold the caterpillars. It simply assembles them, and in order to have a material benefit the caterpillars must be killed, or at night they will crawl out and go up into the tree again to feed during the night. Let every family appoint itself a committee to kill the caterpillars under the burlap on the trees in front of the house, and more actual results can be accomplished than by an army of employees.

Auto Accidents

Monday afternoon two big touring cars came together at the corner of School and Pleasant streets, Manchester. One was owned by M. B. Mason, and in it at the time were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Mason, infant daughter, and Mrs. M. B. Mason. The other car was owned by B. F. Yoakum, and was filled with a party of young people. Fortunately no one was injured, outside a thorough shaking up and fright. Mrs. M. B. Mason was taken to a nearby house until she had recovered from a severe nervous shock.

An auto said to be owned by Geo. Lee, went down Norwood avenue in Manchester last Sunday evening and instead of turning when Vine street was reached, kept straight ahead and went over the side of the road into the ditch beyond. The party was on their way to the Essex County club. The car was removed before morning.

Beverly Farms

Preston Post, 188, are forming plans for a day's outing and picnic. A trolley ride to some popular resort for dinner—and possibly a vaudeville theatre or an ocean trip in the afternoon—are the possibilities. The Woman's Relief Corps and Associates will be guests.

The reputation of the Ramblers for a big crowd and a good time was fully sustained last evening, when their 4th annual concert and dance was given in Neighbor's hall. During the evening there were a number of vocal selections finely rendered by well-known artists. Heaphy's Singing Orchestra maintained their old-time popularity, and at intermission refreshments were served.

Ezra P. Williams, Eben Day and Geo. H. Wyatt of Preston post, 188, attended the reunion of the 8th Mass. Reg. at Gloucester on Wednesday.

A party of young people from Beverly enjoyed an outing at West Beach, Thursday.

D. Linehan & Son have the contract for all the stone work on a large summer house to be built for C. F. Searle at Ipswich, and started work on it this week.

Joshua Younger and Arthur Woodbury have been spending a part of this week at Plympton, Cape Cod, visiting Mr. Younger's brother, George W. Younger, formerly of this place, who has a farm there.

Alexander Carr, the popular foreman gardener at the Sunnyside greenhouses, expects to sail for England in about a week's time for a vacation trip, visiting relatives and friends at his former home.

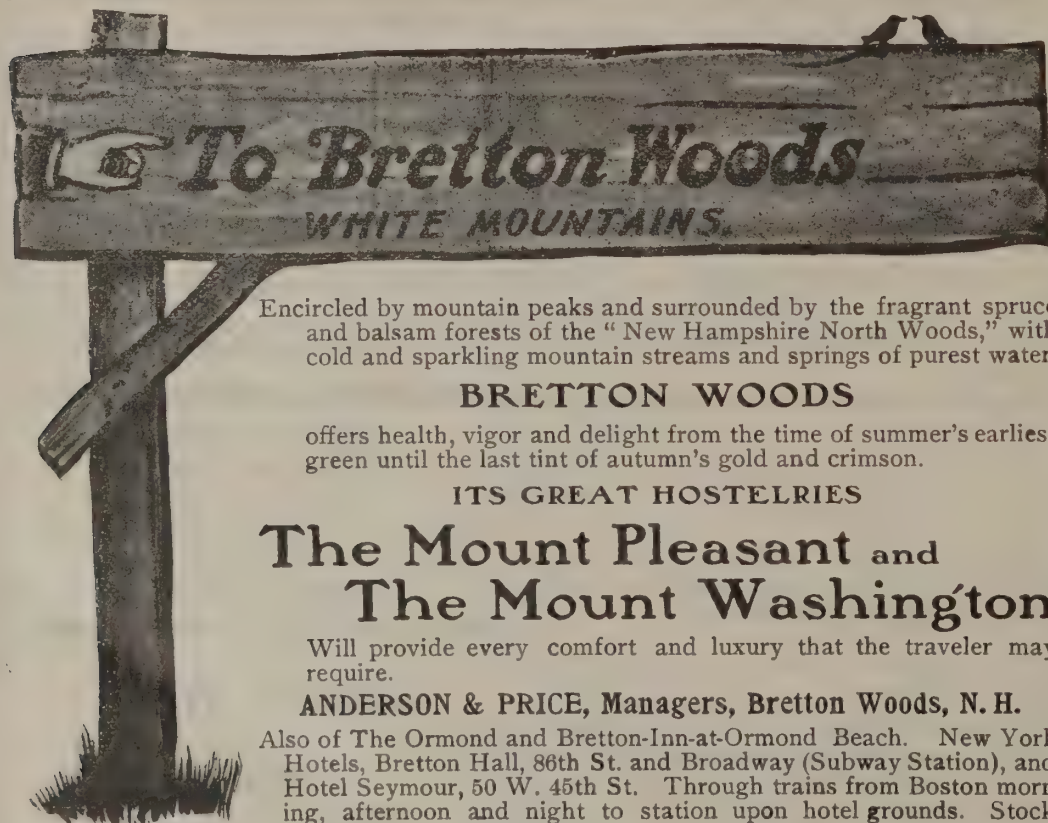

Thomas Neville has purchased from Gloucester parties the trim clipper built motor boat "Clytie"—27 feet long—and especially fitted with accommodations for a party boat. Mr. Neville, while not especially fond of sailing, bought same with an idea of selling should the occasion arise.

Capt. J. Frank Blaney was host on Thursday evening to a party of young men at his residence on Hale street. The party sat down to one of the captain's famous lobster stews with "fixins."

Many are looking forward to next Thursday evening, August 9, to hear the selections to be given by the Scotch pipers in Highland costume at the party to be given by the Clan Wallace, 127. The fact that Whitaker's orchestra will furnish music is also an extra inducement to attend.

George O'Toole, an attorney-at-law of Clinton, has been spending a part of his vacation enjoying the beauties of Beverly Farms and incidental side trips along the North Shore.

F. P. Gaudreau, the popular Central square tonsorial artist, is now wearing the full regalia of a yachtsman, having recently purchased the trim motor boat "Pastime," since which time he has been busy taking his friends out for a sail.

Encircled by mountain peaks and surrounded by the fragrant spruce and balsam forests of the "New Hampshire North Woods," with cold and sparkling mountain streams and springs of purest water,

MANCHESTER

Misses Grace and Edith Gilman, daughters of Dr. Charles L. Gilman, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Needham, Union street.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Leach, on School street, was the scene of a pleasant occasion Thursday evening at a christening of their infant son, Anthony Osborne Leach. Dinner was served those who attended the christening.

Elizabeth Porter Gould, known to some extent in Manchester, where she frequently visited until within a few years, passed away the latter part of last week. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at her late home in Brookline. Her remains were cremated in Mt. Auburn. Miss Gould was a niece of the late H. C. Leach. Her age was about 58 years.

Miss Edna Emery of Shawmut, Me., is a guest of Mrs. D. Elmer Butler, Pleasant street.

Rev. and Mrs. Elvord of Woonsocket, R. I., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Leach the past week.

Greater Paragon Park

It is somewhat of a remarkable fact that the small admission price to Greater Paragon Park provides a whole day's entertainment with no need of making any further expenditure unless the visitor so desires. The seeker of amusement at this beach resort of a million marvels at Nantasket, may enter the park at the opening time, 1 o'clock, and from that hour until 6.30 there is continuous entertainment of some sort to take up every minute of the time without going into any of the attractions where an extra admission is charged. For instance, at various periods of the afternoon the different acts in the free open air circus take up nearly two hours, such acts as one finds in the Barnum or Ringling circuses where fifty cents is the smallest price that will get one into the big tent. In the free circus one sees both afternoon and evening such acts as Will Hill, the world famous comedy high wire walker in his constantly varied programme and repertorial changes of the "Rube," Irish washer-woman, and the sailor, accomplishing the most perilous stunts on a wire a hundred feet above the surface of the lagoon.

One should not miss seeing such features as the Bostock Animal Arena Hades to Paradise by Airship, Lovers' Lane, The Foolish House, Pike's Peak, the Bijou Circus and many others.

At the First Unitarian church tomorrow at 11 o'clock Rev. Albert Lazenby of Lynn will preach.

The Teachers' Training class will meet Monday evening at the parsonage.

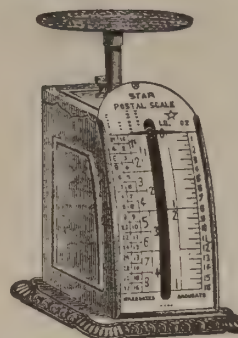

The Rev. E. Hersey Brewster will lead the meeting at the Cove next Thursday evening.

Strangers' Sunday

At the Baptist church, Manchester, tomorrow, there will be services of a special nature in recognition of the strangers within our gates. During the summer months so many visitors attend church that this expression of welcome will doubtless be widely appreciated. Decorations of flowers and inscriptions will speak a greeting. At the morning service the children of the Sunday school will sing and an appropriate sermon on the theme, "The church and the stranger" will be preached by the pastor. In the evening a more informal reception will be given the visitors. Cards will be given the congregation as they assemble, upon which each will write their name. At the conclusion of the service the cards will be exchanged and strangers introduced. There will be special music. Rev. E. Hersey Brewster will take for his theme, "The Travelers' Lamp."

It is expected the day will be of such mutual profit that it will come to have its annual place in the church calendar. Neat cards of invitation have been sent to summer residents.

I have just taken on a choice selection of Souvenir Postal Cards, with Manchester and North Shore scenes. Beach street café.

THE SUMMER HOTELS

Mr. and Mrs. Abeil F. Davis, Cyrus Barker, Earl R. Davis and Leslie C. Swanson of Providence, R. I., stopped at the Hesperus over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Perkins of New York are registered at the Hesperus for August.

Among the arrivals at the Aborn cottage, Magnolia, this week was a party of seven from Newark and East Orange, N. J., including: Mrs. W. T. Carter, daughter, Miss Carter, and son, Master K. K. Carter, the Misses C. E., T. F. and W. B. Condict and Miss Martin, who have arrived for August.

Among the many auto parties who stopped at Magnolia over the week-end was one composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gile and Miss Helen B. Gile of Boston, who were registered at the Hesperus.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker Smith, Mrs. G. R. Kemper and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Stevenson, Mrs. Andreas Burkhart and daughter and Mrs. Burkhart, compose a party of Cincinnati people at the Aborn for August.

July Ball at Oceanside

The July ball at the Oceanside last Saturday evening was by far the most brilliant event of the season thus far at Magnolia. From all the other hotels and cottages and from along the shore came scores of smartly gowned women, the presence of half a hundred or more officers from the battleships at Rockport adding brilliancy to the occasion. The large dining-room was cleared of tables, and it was here the dance was held. Fully 1,200 people were either inside the room or lined the verandahs of the hotel watching the dancers. The room was beautifully decorated. Among the naval officers present were:

Besides Captain Pillsbury, the executive officer of the fleet, and Mrs. Pillsbury, who is at the Oceanside for the summer, there were present: Asst. Surgeon W. A. Angwin, Capt. B. E. Tilley, Mrs. Tilley, Miss Edelin Tilley, Lieut.-Commander H. K. Hines, Mrs. Hines, Lieut.-Commander O. W. Koester and Mrs. Koester, 1st Lieut. U. S. M. C. W. M. Small and Mrs. Small of the Iowa; Lieut.-Commander C. E. Preston, Lieut. W. P. Scott, Capt. J. S. Turrill and 2d Lieut. B. S. Berry of the Missouri; Lieut. J. L. Sticht, Lieut. Amon Bronson, Lieut. Society Notes

Hon. Robin Gray of London, Eng., who has been spending a week at "Undercliff," a guest of Otto H. Kahn, left Manchester Monday, accompanying Mr. Kahn over to New York. Mrs. Kahn has as her house guest for a few weeks Miss Trumbull of Morristown, N. J.

Hon. John L. Zimman, Mrs. Zimman and sons, Charles and John L., Jr., of Springfield, O., and Gen. B. A. Richardson and son of Indianapolis, Ind., are at the Masconomo in Manchester for a fortnight's sojourn.

It was a representative North Shore gathering that nearly filled the Manchester Town hall Monday afternoon, when the musicale in aid of the South End Day Nursery was given under the management of Mrs. Stanley P. Clemens of Boston, whose work in connection with this well-known charity as one of the directors is well known. The artists of the afternoon were Mrs. Frances Dunton Wood, soprano, and Chas. E. Anthony, pianist. Mrs. Wood's voice, which shows exceptional training, and is remarkably clear and flexible, was heard to great advantage in three groups of songs, mostly new. Mr. Anthony rendered two groups of numbers most felicitously chosen, among them several Chopin numbers and the March Militaire of Schubert.

Norton Wigglesworth won the sailing tender race of the Manchester Yacht club which was sailed in a fair southeasterly breeze off West Manchester Saturday afternoon. There were five starters—R. W. Smith's boat finished second and C. E. Cotting, Jr.'s, boat third, Richard Wigglesworth was fourth and T. M. McKee fifth. The Crowhurst cup race will be sailed next Tuesday, Aug. 7, at 2 P. M.

A golf competition is to be held at the Essex County club, Manchester, on Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1, and will be open to members and associates of the U. S. Golf association. On Thursday, Aug. 30, 9 A. M., there will be a qualifying round of 36 holes—First sixteen to play off by match play for possession of the Crocker-McKee cups; second sixteen to play off by match play for a cup; third sixteen to play off by match play for a cup; medal for best gross score. Friday, Aug. 31, 9 A. M. Match play—first round. 2 P. M. Match play—second round. Saturday, Sept. 1, 9 A. M. Match play semi-finals. 2 P. M. Match play finals. Pairs will be drawn by lot immediately after conclusion of the qualifying round. Entries must be received by the Golf Committee of the Essex County club before 9 A. M. Aug. 29. The privileges of the club are extended to competitors during the entire week.

A large number of Beverlyites, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ober, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stickney and family, Mrs. John W. Patch, Misses Rosamond Patch, Annie Lee, Helen Patch, Dorothy Hoogs, Eleanor Patch and Mrs. George H. Stickney left Thursday for Twin Lake Villa, New London, N. H., for their summer outing.

The action of the police in detaining Mary L. Bedford and Elizabeth I. Cooley, charged with robbing clotheslines in the vicinity of Bedford street, and their subsequent sentence of four months each in the house of correction, will put an end to these nightly depredations, it is hoped. The feeling of slight regard for the property of others in every particular is altogether too common and a few lessons like this one will be of great value in securing to householders freedom from such maraudings.

A Check Account is a Necessity

You may carry a check account with us, against which you may give checks in paying all bills. The advantage of this is: that should a receipt, or a receipted bill, miscarry by any chance, your returned check would be a receipt, affording protection. This method is simple and convenient—it tabulates and systematizes your expenditures—and puts you on a footing with the most experienced and astute business men of the country.

A daughter came on Wednesday forenoon to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory P. Connolly of Everett street.

Owing to the increased demand and limited accommodations on the floats at West beach pier for the boats belonging to the members of the West beach corporation, the board of directors have placed a nominal charge for the keeping of such boats there upon each member. All other parties not members of the corporation will be expected, as in the past, to pay for the pier and float privileges.

Dr. Hubert T. Holland and family of Jamaica Plain are cosily installed in the Harvey M. Hodgkins' Greenwood avenue cottage for the remainder of the summer.

In spite of the fact that the West Beach corporation the early part of the month of July spent considerable money and had the beach cleaned up, the recent south and east winds have, it would appear, gathered all the rubbish and seaweed for miles around and deposited the same high and dry upon the beach, which has in a way caused some unfavorable comment. While the board of directors try to keep the beach as clean as is possible with the limited amount of money at their command, it is almost impossible to do so unless a large amount of money is spent.

Proctor Denno has resigned as night operator at the local exchange of the New England Telephone Co. and is succeeded by a young man from Salem.

A large Magee Oxford range displayed in the window of Thos. McDonnell's plumbing shop, has been attracting much attention the past week. It is to be given away at St. Margaret's bazaar, to be held in Neighbor's hall this month. It will be one of the prizes in connection with the Holy Name table.

F. W. Varney, the Central Square druggist, has found it necessary to employ the services of an expert soda dispenser to handle his large and constantly increasing soda business. Several new drinks and college ices have been added to the long and popular list. Mint rickey and "tel-club" college ices should be sampled by every one desiring a cool and refreshing summer beverage. Mr. Varney has spared no expense to make this branch of his business the best to be found on the North Shore.

The Friend's Bible class, organized by the late Mrs. Whitman of Beverly Farms and who taught in the Bible school of the Baptist church, is to hold a bazaar on Thursday, August 23, to pay off the indebtedness on the parsonage. The parsonage was suggested and planned by Mrs. Whitman, and the class has been industriously at work all through the winter for this event. It is expected that they will be able to clear the debt at this time. The house was erected in 1903. The indebtedness now is about $850. The fair will open at 10 in the morning and will continue through the evening. Supper is to be served at 6 o'clock, and in the evening at 7.30 a program has been planned.

Miss Prince, who sails this fall for the foreign field, will speak at the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Daniel F. Riordan is the latest Farms man to fall a victim to the automobile, having recently purchased an up-to-date Standley steam carriage.

Mrs. Myles Walsh and child leave shortly for a trip to Ireland, where she expects to spend several weeks among relatives and friends at her old home and vicinity.

Wednesday evening a party of the Farms young people enjoyed immensely a "moonlight straw ride." A large hay cart filled with a goodly amount of newly-mown hay offered the accommodations. The ride was along the shore to a neighboring town, where a dinner was served, the party returning about midnight.

Fine weather favored a large party of John West colony of Pilgrim Fathers who, on Thursday, went by barge to Conomo Point, Essex, for their annual picnic and outing. They had one of the cottages at their disposal. A fish dinner was one of the attractions of the day, and with various kinds of sports the day was most happily spent. The return journey was made in the evening via Manchester, where the party witnessed the harbor illumination.

Plums, peaches, grapes, and all fruits of the season, fresh daily at Preble's market, Beverly Farms. *

MANCHESTER

Robert W. James, chauffeur for C. S. Houghton, charged with reckless driving of an automobile in Manchester, was found guilty Tuesday afternoon, to which time the case had been continued. He was fined $50, and appealed. The case is the result of the accident a fortnight ago when R. C. Hooper's famous steeplechaser "Land of Clover" was struck and was afterward killed. The theory of the government was that the auto was driven recklessly up the hill and against the horse which was being ridden by Mr. Hickey, a groom, when there was ample room for the auto on the other side of the road, while the defense claimed that the cause of the accident was that "Land of Clover," just as the auto was passing some four feet away, suddenly wheeled and kicked the machine and in so doing caught its foot in the brake rods, breaking its legs.

SUMMER BREVITIES

By D. F. Lamson.

August heats and dog days have their compensations; they ripen the corn, and make amends for the backward days of June. So with most things in life; the good and evil are more nearly balanced than always appears to the superficial observer.

We send out our thoughts like ships over the deep, and those that sail the farthest often return to us most richly laden.

The most mighty and beneficent forces in nature are the most gentle; the morning light, that does not waken an infant in its cradle, perpetually re-creates the world, rescuing it from the dominion of chaos and old Night.

The great secret and charm of all true oratory is sincerity and naturalness.

FLOWERS

BY MARGARET L. CORLIES

Oh, violet! pale, and meadow-sweet so meek,
Timidly shrinking in your mossy bed;
A sweeter spot it would be hard to find,
A pillow fairer for your dainty head.

E'en brook is hushed as by you it glides on,
And softly murmurs love songs, as it flows
O'er pebbles white and lichen covered stones,
And the wind sways you as it gently blows.

The fiery heat of noonday's scorching sun,
N'er toucheth you in your cool safe retreat,
Softly the moonbeams kiss your drowsy eyes,
So gently kiss you, that you fall asleep.

Lingering so lovingly they watch o'er you;
Till overcome with shame at their delay,
And their most rapturous kiss, so full of love,
They slowly fade away as breaks the day.

May rest be ever with you, gentle flowers,
With sapphire eyes, and fragrance sweet and rare;
Radiant ever in your loveliness,
What on this earth shall we, with you, compare.

Fresh, and so dainty white, and blue and gold,

A message bring us from your blest abode,
And then to still these restless hearts of ours
Strew blossoms for us on our daily road.

Minstrels to Appear on The North Shore Next Week.

The LaBarre Bros.' minstrels, band and orchestra, will appear at several places along the North Shore next week, including Manchester, Magnolia and Beverly Farms. They bring with them a fine array of minstrel talent and give two and one-half hours of solid fun and amusement.

The company is of more than ordinary merit, comprising singers, dancers, acrobats and novelty acts, a fine band and orchestra and a free street parade at noon. Tickets are now on sale for the shows, and from the manner the seats are going it would appear that this well-known troupe is to draw good houses each night.

They were here last year, under a different name. They are returning now from a tour of the resorts on Cape Cod and in the Buzzard's Bay section. The company embraces many clever artists, including Eddie LaBarre, Chic Harvey, Flexible Lovett, Balancing Stevens, Billy Graham, the Diamond Quartette, eight great dancers, eight funny end men and a host of others well known in the theatrical world.

They will appear at Beverly Farms Monday evening, Aug. 13, at Library Hall; Magnolia, Tuesday evening, and at the Manchester Town hall on Wednesday evening. Tickets for the latter are on sale at Cheever's Drug Store.

The Leman Printing Plant in Manchester Purchased by J. A. Lodge of the North Shore Breeze.

The printing plant conducted in Manchester the past eight years by Jos. Leman of Rockport was purchased this week by J. A. Lodge, the editor of this paper. Because of continued poor health Mr. Leman felt obliged to make a change. Mr. Lodge will conduct the business in connection with the publication of the BREEZE, though the capacity of the office will not permit, of course, of the BREEZE being printed in Manchester.

The office will remain where Mr. Leman started it over eight years ago, in the Knight building, near the railroad crossing, on Beach street. As soon as the summer's rush is over the BREEZE office will be removed to the printing office also.

With the addition of some new types and other equipment the plant will be in a condition to turn out the finest of work and with quick despatch.

Mr. Lodge was very fortunate in being able to secure at the outset a thoroughly competent man to take charge of the office. H. E. Pratt, who started work Monday morning, has been in the business practically all his life. He was connected with a large office in Marlboro for a number of years, and for the past three years he has been foreman for Jeffrey, the Gloucester printer. Previous to going to Gloucester he was on the road for the Correspondence School of Scranton, Pa.

Probably No Increase in Manchester Tax-rate.

The Manchester assessors are putting in some solid work these warm days and it is needless to say they handled so many figures lately they are getting quite proficient in the art. Despite all thoughts to the contrary the tax-rate will probably be the same as last year in Manchester,—$8.30 or $8.50 on $1000. Though the increase in expenditures is greater this year, there is a corresponding increase in valuation, due to new buildings and added personal estate. The rate will be announced next week.

FIFTH SEASON

Society Notes

One of the smartest dinner parties of the season at the Essex County club was that given last Saturday evening by John Torrey Morse, 3d. There were plates set for 30, and Mr. Morse's guests were all young people. The dinner was followed by a dance.

Mrs. Randolph Tucker gave a pretty luncheon at the Essex County club Wednesday afternoon to fourteen young people.

The annual Bass Rocks water carnival, open to summer residents of Bass Rocks, East Gloucester, Annisquam and Magnolia, will be held at Little Good Harbor Beach, Monday, Aug. 20, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The Tedesco club dog show is to be held at the Country Club grounds, Swampscott, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 13 and 14.

Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Ellenwood have as their house guests at the "Kimball cottage," Manchester, Mrs. Dr. Francis Cox of Albany, Mrs. Samuel Campbell, New York Mills, Dr. Gage, Utica, and Garrett Brunson of Clinton, N. Y.

Senator and Mrs. W. Murray Crane (Miss Boardman) sailed Tuesday for Europe on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse from New York.

To Enforce Auto Restrictions.

So much pressure has been brought to bear on the Manchester officials as regards the enforcement of the automobile speed laws that it is likely a move will be made at once toward enforcing a more strict observance of the law. Thursday afternoon an informal hearing was given those who had grievances at the office of the selectmen, several of the summer residents emphasizing their position in the matter. All present said they had had narrow escapes from being run into by autos.

The Manchester police force is handicapped somewhat by lack of day officers, and as the trap system employed last season was not considered favorable by the selectmen it was not tried again this season, and an open road has been offered speeders.

The new law allows a speed of 20 miles, but in the in-town sections where the houses are within 200 feet of each other for a stretch of a quarter of a mile the limit is only 10 miles. It is safe to say that the average car beats these restrictions by at least 10 miles.

Miss McNamara of 665 Boylston street, Boston, who is located at 39 School street, Manchester-by-the-Sea, for the season, is prepared to do shampooing, marcel waving and manicuring. Telephone connection. *

Real Estate

This weeks real estate transfers records the purchase from the Misery Island Trustees of a lot of land on Misery Island 164x236—the purchaser being Helen N. Sheldon of Watertown. It is understood that the buyer intends to build shortly.

Raymond C. Allen of Manchester conveys to Francis M. Whitehouse, 1 acre 48.5 poles of marsh land in Manchester.

Mansfield M. Crafts et al. of Manchester convey to Charles L. Barlow land on Highland avenue, Manchester, 36.80 by 91 feet.

Salome W. Lee of Essex, Elizabeth B. Dow of Beverly and Ursula M. Goodrich of Manchester, all quit claim their interests in the same.

Society Notes

Mrs. Brewster of Boston entertained a luncheon party at the Ocean-side Monday including Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah and Miss Ida A. Shaw of New York; Mrs. W. W. Lansing, Miss Lucie Lansing and Master Frank Lansing of Yonkers; Mrs. E. W. Taylor and Miss Ruth of Boston.

The Seniors and Juniors of the Essex County club crossed bats in a well played game on the club grounds last Saturday afternoon, the Seniors winning by a score of 5 to 4. Both Bartlett and Craigie pitched good ball but the superior stick work of the Seniors won out. The Manchester Brass band, Benj. Clark, director played selections during the game.

Mrs. George W. Johnson and daughter, Miss Mollie Johnson of Brooklyn, are at the Aborn for the balance of the season.

Dr. John Cuckson of Plymouth, Mass., will preach at the First Unitarian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The ticket office at the Montserrat station was entered some time Tuesday night and a tobacco pouch, a mileage book and three dollars in pennies were taken.

In cases of sickness in hot weather, electric fans have often saved the lives of patients. A number of fans are always kept in stock by the Clark & Mills Electric Co., of the Post-office block, Manchester. Telephone them, 146-5 Manchester, and they will deliver an instrument at once.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray Forbes and family who have been spending six weeks with Mrs. Forbes parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cochrane at Pride's Crossing, have gone to Readville for the balance of the season.

Mrs. C. A. De Gusdoff of New York is a guest of Mrs. A. G. Hodge at Pride's Crossing.

Next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Mrs. W. L. Putnam's, Smith's Point, an entertainment is to be given in aid of the Floating Hospital. "Scenes from Alice in Wonderland" will be the feature. Tickets are 50 cents.

Miss Mary Curtis who has recently returned from a visit to Hero Jct., Vt., is now visiting friends in Coopertown, N. Y.

Clay Arthur Pierce has come on from St. Louis joining his family at the "Longworth Cottage," Pride's Crossing, for the balance of the summer.

Henry Clay Pierce and family are expected at Pride's next Thursday for the rest of the season. Miss Violet Pierce has been studying abroad and instead of returning the first of the summer she was joined by her two brothers, Theron and Roy, who went abroad immediately after Harvard Commencement. They sailed for home a few days ago.

North Shore cottagers who drive down to Magnolia should not miss a visit to the little store in Room A, at the Oceanside, conducted by Miss Carpenter, where a most choice line of imported novelties and fine jewelry may be found. Miss Carpenter's association with big dealers in the south and elsewhere, places her in a position to get the best and most exclusive things on the market, and these are to be found at her shop.

Electric flat irons should be used in hot weather. Clark & Mills Electric Co. Telephone 146-5 Manchester. *

The Oceanside.

John Sherwin of Cleveland has joined his family at the Oceanside for the balance of the season.

course against wind and tide, against currents of opinion and fashion, and through the Sargosso sea of apathy and indifference.

The Roman poet showed a deep knowledge of human nature as well as anticipated the seventh chapter of Romans, when he said, "I see and approve the better, and follow the worse." But for the confessed impotence of human nature there is a sofran remedy within every man's beck and hail.

Life presents constant and varied opportunities of service to one who is looking for them, if it is only, as Kingsley says, "helping lame dogs over stiles."

Blowing one's own trumpet is a very common practice, but it can hardly be called a very dignified one; the herald who announced his lord's titles and honors was a useful institution if he did belong to Feudalism, which happily we have got rid of.

Many seem to mistake notoriety for renown, though they are only very distantly related; the former is a pinchbeck affair, but the cheap substitute deceives, and satisfies many.

Desultory work is better than no work; but the best results are gained by concentration. "This one thing I do."

An eminent educator has said, "There is no period so dangerous to a man or to a generation, as the period following a time of strong emotion"; a statement that is brimful of suggestion.

There is a tendency to decadence in speech, words often degenerate in their meaning; the old Greeks called an actor a hypercritos; and as acting is often next-door neighbor to deceiving, our derivative hypocrite has come to have an altogether bad meaning.

Excess is commonly better than deficiency, over-doing than under-doing; enthusiasm is less harmful than apathy; who would not rather a river should overflow its banks than that it should dwindle into a brook or be lost in the sands?

Society Notes

The A. C. Wheelwright house on West Beach, Beverly Farms, was occupied the early part of the week by R. H. Stearns and family of Brookline.

Golfers will be interested in the coming competitions at the Essex County club for three cups. Today the players returning the best eight net scores will be eligible to play off by match play for the custody of the Handicap Challenge Cup for the season of 1906. Next Saturday players will be selected in a similar way to compete for the Scratch Challenge Cup, and on the week following, Aug. 25, the players returning the best two gross scores will play off by match play, 36 holes, for the possession of the DeArcos Cup until next season. These competitions are not open to guests or visitors.

Ralph Milburn of East River, Conn., has been a guest of Mrs. W. A. Slater at Beverly Cove the past week.

Col. and Mrs. H. E. Russell who have been spending July at Brownland in Manchester, sailed Tuesday for a six weeks European trip.

Miss Barbara Higginson of Pride's Crossing has been spending the week in Dublin, N. H., a guest of Miss Amy Lowell.

It was a merry party of boys and girls that helped little Miss Elizabeth Caswell celebrate her fifth birthday yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Caswell had fifty of the little folk over to their estate in Pride's Crossing for the afternoon and they all had a most delightful time. "Bunnie" Woods offered the entertainment for the children. They all remained to supper.

Miss Susie Amory left Pride's Wednesday for a short visit with friends in Bar Harbor.

Mrs. Guy Lowell of Brookline has been a recent house guest of Mrs. Frank Higginson at Pride's Crossing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saltonstall of Readville are guests of Mrs. R. H. Stevenson of Pride's Crossing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ridgeway and son who were guests over the week-end of the W. A. Burnham's at Pride's Crossing, left Wednesday for Bar Harbor. Mr. Burnham joined a party of friends the middle of this week on the yacht "Admiral" in Long Island Sound, a guest of George Sheldon.

As an index of the automobile travel along the North Shore on a Sunday it is of interest to know that by actual count last Sunday 108 cars passed through Washington street, Manchester, in an hour.

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

The Fern-Croft Inn Co.,

ROBERT A. MITCHELL Contractor = Gardener FORESTRY

It is best to trim trees while young. Better to amputate a finger than an arm. Likewise better to remove a limb while small than after the tree and limb are large. Large wounds from removing limbs, may decay before they heal over, causing hollow trees. The removal of dead limbs of crossed or superfluous limbs, add to the health, vigor and symmetry of trees. It is also best to thin out trees instead of letting them struggle with one another for head room, getting one-sided and spindling—that is, Selection Thinning.

The Grill Club garden, which was opened the first of the week, on the velvety lawn adjoining the club house, was quite the hit of the week at Magnolia, and the place grew at once into popular favor, as was attested by the large numbers who have been there each afternoon to have tea. The Hungarian orchestra plays from a platform in the centre of the garden. Bay trees and flowers, both cut blooms and natural growing flowers, add charm to the spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Hopkins had as their guests for a brief visit this week Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hegerman, who sailed away in their yacht yesterday for Bar Harbor. Mr. Hagerman is president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of New York. Mr. Hopkins' mother, Mrs. C. A. Hopkins arrived at Manchester Tuesday for a visit.

Miss Margaret Corlies of Philadelphia, who is stopping at the Ocean-side for a few weeks, gave a delightful little luncheon at the Grill Club in Magnolia Monday for her mother, Mrs. S. Fisher Corlies, among her guests being Edward Browning the noted whip of Philadelphia, who is at Colonial Arms, in East Gloucester for the summer; also Mr. Bell and Henry Sleeper of Boston. Those who read Miss Corlies' little volume "Shreds," published last winter, will be interested to know the John C. Winston Publishing Co. are soon to put another volume, "The Old Schloss", on the market. This will have twenty beautiful illustrations.

Among the arrivals at Brownland in Manchester this week are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beers and daughter of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Bent and child of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson. They are both here for the balance of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby left Boston this morning in their large Pierce-Arrow touring car for a trip through the state to Saratoga, where they will remain a week or ten days while the racing season is on.

One of the merriest parties of the week was that of Monday night when Mrs. J. H. Walker of Detroit who is at Miss Stearns' villa for the season, entertained a party of twenty-four young people at a lunch at the Grill Club, after a hayrack ride up the North Shore through Manchester and Essex.

Tennis Finals

Tennis has been attracting much attention at the Essex County club the past week. Miss Evelyn Sears won out yesterday in the ladies' finals, defeating Miss Priscilla Stackpole, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2. Miss S. Thayer won out against Miss Blair in consolations, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. The mixed doubles are down to the finals.

Society Notes

The Marie L., owned by George Lee, won the Crowhurst cup off Manchester Tuesday. The Manchester, Dr. John L. Bremer's sonder klasse boat, came in second.

David Bispham will be the artist in the next of Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge's recitals at Library hall, Magnolia, next Saturday at 4 o'clock. Last evening Library hall was crowded when Miss Beatrice Herford entertained with some of her monologues.

Mrs. S. V. Keller of St. Louis entertained a dinner party of nine at the Grill Club Monday evening. Monday afternoon Mrs. C. I. Hood entertained a number of friends here with a luncheon, her guests including Mrs. Stott, Mrs. Deutcher, Mrs. Elliot, Mrs. Carter and Miss Wilder. Miss Josephine Stevens entertained a luncheon party of nine Tuesday. Mrs. Hugo Johnstone was over from Hamilton Sunday and entertained a party of six friends at luncheon.

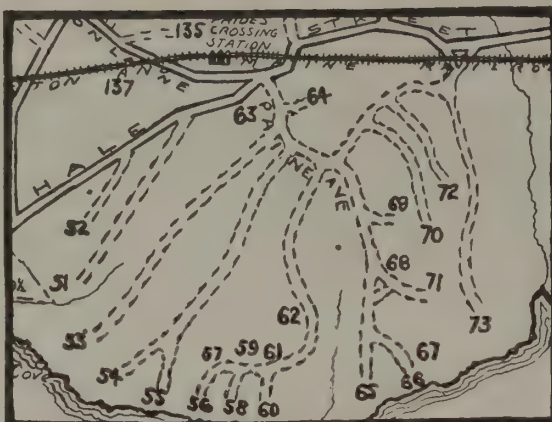

Mrs. Selfridge's tea house, the Dolphin is growing much in favor as a meeting place for North Shore folk who drive down the shore to Magnolia. Tuesday Mrs. Gen. W. A. Draper was over from Manchester and gave a delightful little luncheon party for Gen. Horace Porter, formerly minister to France, and now one of the Peace Commissioners at the Hague. Last Saturday after the Campanari recital, scores of the ladies who attended flocked into the Dolphin and chatted over cups of tea, and many had an opportunity of meeting the well known singer, including Baroness Rosen and Baroness von Sternberg.

Mrs. Prentiss H. Manning, a cousin of Robert Minot who formerly owned the estate where Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, 2d, now live, in Manchester, is to be at the Dolphin in Magnolia Thursdays by appointment the balance of the season, to give character readings through the hand.

The Dolphin in Magnolia was the scene of a silver wedding anniversary one day last week when Mr. and Mrs. William Rice observed the event at a pretty little party given them by Miss Brown and Mr. Norcross. The tables were beautifully decorated, the dishes being served in beautiful old sheffield plate, which, much to the surprise of the "bride and groom," proved to be their anniversary gift.

Miss Selfridge is to go over to the Colonial Arms in East Gloucester on Tuesday with a collection of rare art objects and objets de vertu, including some ancient relics of Louis XVI time. She also takes with her some

Rev. E. H. Brewster will preach at the First Baptist Church, Salem, tomorrow. Monday he goes to Northfield, where he will spend part of his vacation. He will be accompanied by D. Milton Knight and Herman C. Sweet who will remain a week or more.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Waldradt of Whitman were in town yesterday renewing acquaintances, and were guests for the day of Mrs. William Follett. Mr. Waldradt was formerly superintendent of the Manchester schools, and he is now acting in that capacity at Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lodge and son Arthur left this week for a few weeks' visit to Mr. Lodge's native home in Catalina, Newfoundland.

Mrs. Edward Haraden left this morning for an extended visit with her sister in Minneapolis, making the trip there in company with two Beverly ladies, Mrs. Hodgkins and Mrs. Perkins.

The annual Sunday School picnic of the Congregational church was held at Tuck's Point Thursday and was well attended. A most enjoyable day was spent by all. Games were played and many enjoyed a sail down the harbor. Through the generosity of a friend ice cream and candy was furnished free to all who attended.

The beautiful flower garden of J. S. Reed, at the Beach street cafe, has been attracting no end of attention the past few weeks, and now that the garden is in its best dress it is indeed a pretty sight. Encircled in a hedge of golden glow on one side, the garden presents a very pretty setting for the numerous other flowers, which include nasturtiums, caumas, dahlias, sweet ellisum, phlox, the constant blooming pink and white lavetra, etc. A noticeable feature is the little lily pond in the middle of the garden, where there are now several lilies in bloom.

Neat line of shirts at Bell's. *

Don't forget the first grand ball given under the management of William Sheehan and Ernest Howe in the Manchester Town hall next Friday evening, August 17. The music will be by Long's Orchestra. It will be one of the parties of the summer. Don't fail to attend! *

STRANGERS' SUNDAY.

Unique Service at the Baptist Church in Manchester Last Sunday.

Last Sunday was observed at the Baptist church in Manchester as Strangers' Sunday, the services being of a rather unique form, but so much in favor was it that in all probability "Strangers' Sunday" will find a place on the Church Calendar annually.

The attendance was especially large. The church was effectively decorated with a frame of hemlock boughs back of the pulpit, overlaid with letters of gold "Welcome to Strangers." The singing in the morning was by the children, in the evening a trio, consisting of J. Davis Baker, tenor; Mrs. J. Warren Lee, soprano, and Miss Sadie Noyes, alto, sang "Lighten Mine Eyes," and "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, the pastor, preached two eloquent sermons, his subject in the morning being "The Church and the Stranger," and in the evening "The Travelers Lamp." Cards were exchanged in the evening, quite a number of acquaintances being formed. Mr. Brewster said in part, in the morning:

"Manchester is not a summer resort for the rich, but a summer home.

When our friends come to us from the cities of the East and West they leave behind them a larger volume of life but not their homes. The great shore mansion with its sea view, parks and lawns is really a domicile.

"But if in most respects the interests of the home suffer no disturbance, it is quite likely to be the case that whereas in the city church relations are regularly maintained, here in the summer home this feature of family life is either neglected or suspended.

"We are glad therefore that so many of you who make your homes in Manchester for four or five months of the year are at home in this respect as well. You have not only entered into the externals of our village life, picking up on our streets and beaches such loose impressions as come to a tourist in his flight from place to place, but in entering into religious fellowship with our citizens you have established a harmony of intercourse which alone begets the feeling of home.

"There are never any strangers in the house of God. In church etiquette it is an impropriety to remain ignorant of one's chance neighbor. The lines of distinction which elsewhere seem so formidable are erased and scattered in an hour of Christian worship. This fellow feeling is due to the common attitude of us all toward God and to God's common attitude toward us all.

"The stranger has the advantage over others of being more quickly appreciated. Unfamiliar with the service as he is, and with the surroundings which give tone to it, he is more likely to weigh well the value of the hour and to see more clearly its opportunities. It is not derogatory to the townsmen that this is so. It is however an advantage which carries with it considerable benefits.

"The stranger has a high function to assume. In entertaining strangers men have sometimes entertained angels unawares. You may come to us with spirit of helpfulness which is always the spirit with which the angel host visits the earth. You have already been an inspiration to us in your habits of devotion and kindly appreciation. You have brought to us the message of Christ's influence in other places. You have made clear to us that the gospel of our Savior has suffered nothing in its drawing power during all the centuries of its onward march."

..VACATION TIME..

We sincerely hope it will prove a very pleasant time, and we are ready to guarantee you accurate time, if you will bring us your watch and let our expert watch makers put it to rights before you start.

Does it need cleaning, oiling, adjusting—a new jewel, mainspring, or pinion—is it out of kilter?

If for any reason it refuses to keep accurate time, just bring it to us for intelligent treatment. We guarantee all work for one year.

AUTO ACCIDENT COLUMN

Late Wednesday afternoon, as William Votterus, clerk at Revelas' fruit market in Manchester, was driving out of the avenue leading to the Dana estate a large automobile, owned by a man named Hodgkins of Gloucester, came thundering along at breakneck speed, and in a twinkling smashed into the light democrat, broke the wagon and the harness and threw the driver into the street. Mr. Votterus fell partly on his back, spraining his shoulder and hurting his head. It was almost a miraculous escape from death. The young man has hardly gotten over the fright yet.

A serious accident occurred at Beverly Farms about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, when Wm. S. Sarsfield, who is a chauffeur for Dr. James M. Jackson, was run into by a swift-moving automobile and badly hurt. Mr. Sarsfield was on his bicycle and rode out of Dr. Jackson's avenue to Hale street, which at this point makes a rather sharp turn in the road. The automobile was coming around the corner, and before either party could make a move to prevent a collision the two came together. The man was knocked down and a portion of the auto passed over him. He was picked up and Dr. Jackson rendered first relief, and later on the young man was taken to the Beverly Hospital, where from reports at this writing he is as comfortable as could be expected.

Mary E. Morgan

Mrs. Mary E. Morgan, wife of Lewis Morgan of Manchester, passed away last Sunday at her late home on School street in her 65th year. She was a daughter of the late William and Mary Stone, and was born in Manchester. She was a quiet and unassuming woman, and was always much attached to her home. In her younger days she was a member of the choir of the Baptist church. She is survived by a husband and a brother, Charles H.

Stone, of this town. Funeral services were held at her late residence Tuesday afternoon at 2 30, Revs. D. F. Lamson and E. H. Brewster officiating.

An immense moose head, with a magnificent set of antlers, came to the Farms yesterday afternoon by Smith's Express Co. and attracted considerable attention. It was pronounced by those who saw it to be the finest specimen ever seen in this section. It was consigned to H. C. Frick, and will probably grace the beautiful entrance to his mansion.

An investigation is said to be going on by the authorities concerning the recent trouble which occurred at the Ramblers' dance last week, in which the police officers and a number of the dancers got into a mix-up and one was arrested and then released early in the morning without being carried to court. It is also said that one of the officers who was filling a private position at the rate of $3.00 per night lost his job on account of the affair. It is very likely that in a short time the true facts of the case will be brought out. In the meantime considerable comment is being made over the affair.

A Check Account is a Necessity

You may carry a check account with us, against which you may give checks in paying all bills. The advantage of this is: that should a receipt, or a receipted bill, miscarry by any chance, your returned check would be a receipt, affording protection. This method is simple and convenient—it tabulates and systematizes your expenditures—and puts you on a footing with the most experienced and astute business men of the country.

The out-going Ivernia of Tuesday last had as passengers Mrs. Myles Walsh and two children, who are to spend the next few weeks at Galway, Ireland, the former home of Mrs. Walsh, which she left some 12 or more years ago.

Alexander Carr secured a month's leave of absence from his duties as foreman at the Sunny Side greenhouses, and sailed for England on Wednesday to spend his vacation at his former home.

The property of the Winslow-Day estate, East Wenham, corner of Horse Hill lane and Grape Vine road, and adjoining the Fredk H. Prince estate, will be sold on Monday, Aug. 20, at public auction. The estate consists of a large area of splendid land and some buildings, which are somewhat out of repair. The sale is for the purpose of settling up the estate.

Night Officer Webster K. Bray is taking his annual vacation and is spending it with his family at camp, Conomo Point.

William Roberts and family have moved into the Davis homestead, Preston place.

Miss Sophia Bennett has accepted a position in Boston with the Library Bureau on Atlantic avenue.

Mrs. Thomas Steer and child of Boston are this week renewing acquaintances at the Farms, being guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Osborne of High street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Day on Thursday took a trolley trip, winding up with a trip around the Cape and a visit to the numerous points of interest at Gloucester, Rockport and vicinity.

Millard F. Spear and family leave early next week for Gardiner, Me., where they expect to pass a week or more visiting Mr. Spear's old home.

Victor Borden has been entertaining his two sisters, the Misses Ethel and Florence Borden of Dorchester.

Driver Fred Woodbury of the Farms Fire Dept., is enjoying his annual vacation, and is spending a part of it with Mrs. Woodbury visiting the former's parents at Mt. Vernon, N.H.

Howard Doane, the contractor, met with an accident the first of the week, which was very painful and for a time looked to be very serious. Mr. Doane was at White's yacht yard in Manchester, and stuck a rusty nail into the palm of his hand. In spite of the usual remedies his hand became badly swollen, and a consultation of doctors pronounced it blood poisoning, resulting in an operation, in which the wounded part of his hand was removed. For several days Mr. Doane suffered intense pain, but is now able to see the bright side of life again.

Frank Andrews of Essex, who has been spending the past few weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Parker, returned home yesterday morning.

John K. Dodge

John K. Dodge died at his home in East Wenham at noon yesterday at the age of 79 years. Death resulted from heart trouble. He was born and has always lived upon the site where he died, which was designated the Dodge farm, or Dodge corner. Mr. Dodge was never married, and his nearest relative is Mrs. Hetty Williams, who lives nearby.

He leaves a large number of relatives, however. He was of the good old New England type of man, honest and of an upright character, respected by all, and well known for his many deeds of kindness, especially in his giving financial aid to the needy. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at his late residence, and interment will be at the Wenham cemetery.

CHURCH NOTES

Manchester

Congregational church, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; evening service at 7 o'clock. Sermons by the pastor.

Baptist church, Rev. Edward Hersey Brewster, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; People's evening service of song and praise at 7 o'clock.

Emanuel church (Episcopal), Masconomo street—Morning prayers at 11 o'clock. Holy communion first and third Sundays in the month.

Sacred Heart church, Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, pastor; Rev. John S. Perry, assistant. Sunday masses at 7.00, 8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; Sunday evening devotions at 7.45; First Friday devotions at 5.30 and 7.00 A. M., and 7.45 P. M. Week-day mass at the church at 7.30 A. M.

Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln leaves Manchester Monday for a month's vacation, most of which will be spent in Connecticut. The pulpit at the Congregational church will be occupied by a supply each Sunday during his absence.

Rev. D. F. Lamson will preach tomorrow at the Baptist church.

Chromatic Spectrum.

A Chromatic Spectrum, to be displayed in Town hall, Manchester, during the evenings of the week beginning Monday, August 27, has been devised to swell the building fund of the new Sacred Heart church.

In plain terms, it is to be a church fair; but the arrangement of the tables is to be on unique lines. The seven primary colors of the solar spectrum are to distinguish the seven tables in the body of the hall. From a spectroscope placed at the centre of the proscenium frame, four rays, in prismatic coloring, are to dart towards each table, the general tint of which will be in unison with its controlling rays. From the refreshment table, placed at the back stretch of the stage platform, and representing the sun, white rays will enter the spectroscope, to be dispersed in iris-light. The impression of the general decorative scheme will be that of an indoor rainbow.

A grand assembly will be held Monday night, Sept. 3, from 8 o'clock to 12.

Special tickets for the assembly, 50 cents. Season tickets for the Spectrum, 50 cents. Admission to the hall, 10 cents for each evening of the Spectrum.

Samuel Scott, the superintendent and gardener of the E. C. Swift estate, "Swiftmoor," at Pride's Crossing, has resigned.

Clan Wallace, No. 127, of Beverly gave a delightful social and dance on Thursday evening in Neighbor's hall, which was attended by a large party and hugely enjoyed. The selections given by the Scotch pipers in Highland costume were especially fine and brought forth numerous encores.

Next Thursday evening, Aug. 16, promises to be one of pleasure to the many who attend the garden party held under the management of the Order of Foresters, to take place on the grounds of Daniel Linehan, West street, near the Beverly Farms station. Many novelties are offered besides dancing from 8 to 12.

Miss Mollie McNulty of New York city was at the Farms the first of the week visiting friends. Miss McNulty lived here formerly, but some 10 years ago moved to New York.

A swim from Misery island to West Beach is a little more than the ordinary "water dog" cares to undertake, but this feat was easily accomplished on Monday last by Messrs. Charles McCarthy and Frank Trowt. A boat accompanied them across in case of need.

Mrs. J. M. Publicover and young daughter are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. George Hamor in Gloucester.

Howard Williams left Thursday on a vacation of two weeks, most of which he will spend with friends in Oldtown, Me.

Misses Nellie and Mary Neville went to New York the first of the week, where they are enjoying a visit among relatives and friends.

A petition having the required number of signatures was presented to the board of aldermen last Tuesday evening, praying for the acceptance of Elliott avenue. This is the new street recently cut through the Trowt or Marshall field, from Vine court to Hale street. The name Elliott avenue has been given to the new thoroughfare because the property was owned by the Elliott family or descendants for more than 250 years.

Frederick G. Haynes, who formerly conducted a drug store at Pride's Crossing, this week filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $1,187 and the largest creditors are the Eastern Drug Co., Boston, $350, and Gilman Bros., Boston, $446. His assets are uncertain.

The sale of the household effects of the late Daniel W. Friend took place at the Friend house on School street Wednesday. The sale was of particular interest from the fact that so many pieces and articles of antique origin were to be auctioned. Important among these was an old-fashioned calendar clock, made by John Wood of Philadelphia, at least 150 years ago. This was sold to Mrs. Susan C. Andrews of Gloucester for $200.00. A banjo clock sold to J. F. Rabardy for $21.00.

The Manchester Brass band discoursed some new and popular airs at the regular weekly concert on the Common Wednesday evening. A large crowd filled the centre of the town and listened to the music. The concerts will continue for two or three weeks more.

THE SUMMER HOTELS

The New Magnolia

The New Magnolia Hotel is becoming very favorably known in the Southern States, which fact is attested to by the number of Southern people who have registered at this hostelry during the present season. Among those who are prominently known are Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Rose of Atlanta, Ga., together with their family and maids. Mr. Rose is the leading distiller in the South and one of the prime movers in political affairs in that section. Then there is Mr. and Mrs. Arch. M. Robinson and their two children from Louisville, Ky., who are registered at the New Magnolia for the balance of the season. Mr. Robinson is extensively engaged in inaugurating new trolley lines in the South and West. Herman G. Hartwell of Louisville, Ky., is also registered at the New Magnolia for another season, as also are Mrs. J. E. Shea and family of Clifton, S.C.; Miss Florence G. Hunt of Charleston, S.C., who has joined Mrs. James Simpson; Mrs. L. H. Prewitt of Winchester, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Taylor, and is registered for the season. Fulton Colville of Atlanta, Ga., well known in the army and navy circles, has joined his friends, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Arkwright of Atlanta, Ga., at the New Magnolia, where the latter are spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kemp Bartlett and family of Baltimore, Md., are registered at the New Magnolia for the season. Mr. Bartlett is one of the leading attorneys of Baltimore.

The young people at the New Magnolia have had a pleasant addition to their number this week. Miss Bessie Dyer, as charming a Southern girl as has come to Magnolia for many a season, spent the week at the hotel, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Mowry. Miss Dyer is a Baltimore girl, but she has spent much of her life in Port Antonio, Jamaica, where her father is manager of the Atlantic Fruit company. Miss Dyer is a much travelled, accomplished girl and very pretty. She came up to the New Magnolia from Swampscott, where she is spending the summer at the New Ocean House, the guest of Mrs. E. R. Grabow.

Mrs. John Craig Simpson of Washington, D.C., has joined her sister, Mrs. Rudolph Kauffman of Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Potter of Rochester, N.Y., are registered here for another season.

Miss A. I. McGuire, Miss H. L. S. Gamble and Miss R. F. Gamble of Brooklyn, N.Y., are spending the month of August here.

Martin Erdmann of New York, a prominent member of the New York Stock Exchange and well known in London business circles, has registered for an extended visit.

THE SUMMER HOTELS

The New Magnolia

The foggy evenings of the past week have been pleasant ones for the amusement-loving folk at the New Magnolia. Early in the week, some entertainment was planned for every evening, but this schedule was delightfully augmented on Wednesday evening, when, under the inspiring guidance of Mrs. R. D. Van Namen of Wayland, who already is one of the leaders in the social gaieties of this hotel, a donkey party—the old-time mirth-provoking donkey party—was held. Old and young participated, and for more than an hour the casino was filled with merry folk bent on pinning long blue tails to a wonderfully constructed donkey suspended on one side of the room. The men in the party, oddly enough, were not nearly as skillful as the women, although W. B. Carleton, who won the men's first prize, did almost as well as did Mrs. C. H. Mowry, who won the ladies' first prize, a handsome burnt leather post-card album. Miss Mary Gheen and Miss Katherine Motley won second prizes. Mr. Arkwright, Mr. Rohr and little Katherine Bruen received the consolation prizes. After the donkey party and before the hop planned for the evening began, delicious punch was served.

Among those who came down the shore by auto Sunday and lunched at the New Magnolia were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hill of Wellesley Hills; Mrs. Thomas Smith, New Haven; Miss Vena M. Houston, Miss A. J. Houston, P. L. Houston, Holyoke, who came over in their touring car and registered for the balance of the season. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Merseneau, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. D. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Calhoun, and Mrs. A. B. Lambert of St. Louis, Mo., made up another of these parties.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Garlich of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Chapin and family of Buffalo, N.Y., have arrived for the month of August.

Mrs. W. D. Draper of Dorchester has for her guests Dr. Louisa P. Tingley of Boston and Frank L. Tingley of Providence, R.I.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Beale and Frederick A. Beale of Philadelphia have registered for another season. Mr. Beale is president of the board of education in his home city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Eaton of New York, accompanied by Mrs. E. W. Oswell of Berwick, Pa., have registered for the balance of the season. Mr. Eaton is president of the American Car and Foundry Co., and is closely allied with other large business enterprises.

B. S. Roberts had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Warren of Boston.

E. M. Wald and Miss Wald of St. Louis are here for August.

Mrs. C. M. Taylor, Miss Elizabeth Taylor and Master Charles Taylor of Little Rock, Ark., are here for an extended visit.

George A. Calderon of Pittsburg, Pa., has joined his brother, A. A. Calderon of Washington, D.C., secretary of the legation of Peru, for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac G. Lombard and Mrs. J. L. Lombard of Chicago are here for August.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hodgkins of Toronto, Can., are spending the balance of the season here.

Miss Helen Dole of Brookline has joined her friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Van Namen of Wayland, for August, as has also Mrs. E. W. Skinner of Boston.

Miss Anna E. M. Wild, accompanied by her nephews, Paul C. Wild and Marcellus E. Wild of Rochester, N.Y., have registered for the season.

Wonderland's Popularity.

The multitude of people at Wonderland, Greater Boston's million-dollar electric city and pleasure realm, this week has proven beyond question the extraordinary hold which it has upon the people of Boston and of New England. With the clear skies and hot weather, there has come to Revere Beach and to this amusement realm such an extraordinary patronage as to smash all records there and make Wonderland appear to be a veritable Mecca for all classes of pleasure seekers. On Monday last the pure breath of the western plains was brought to Wonderland in the person of Miss Annie Shaffer of Texas, better known as the "queen of the cow girls," a title which she has fairly won by her intrepid feats of equestrianism, coupled with her other deeds of valor and her life in general on the western border.

For next week the two feature shows among the free attractions will be the high rope walking of James E. Hardy, hero of Niagara in '96, the marvel of Genesee Gorge in '97, and of Montmorency Falls in 1903, and the humorous and daring equestrienne feats of the Darling ponies.

"The Man From Now."

Ten weeks of unabated success is the record of Harry Bulger at the Tremont theatre in Henry W. Savage's all-summer production, "The Man From Now," and this success is to continue until the end of the coming month, when Mr. Bulger goes to New York for an extended engagement at the New Amsterdam theatre, and another of the Henry W. Savage productions will come into the Tremont. "The Man From Now" has been one of the most pronounced "hits" Boston has ever known. There is not a dull moment in the play, and the authors fitted Mr. Bulger with the greatest care when they wrote the part of Steve Waffles for him. The production is one of the most complete and elaborate Mr. Savage ever made, and the chorus is the most bewitching Boston has viewed in many days. Seats, at summer prices, are selling three weeks in advance. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

The Victor Talking Machine is just the thing to entertain you this summer. We will be pleased to send a salesman to give a free demonstration of the Victor Machine and Records to anyone interested. Drop postal. The Eastern Talking Machine Co., 177 Tremont St., Boston.

Collecting lots of souvenirs at this time of year? Souvenirs in china very likely, valuable pieces, too, a century old, perhaps, some of them—a plate here, a jug there, and a bowl somewhere else.

A China Closet Thought

Fits in here as naturally as a foot in an old boot. This one has peculiar advantages. It is a semi-circle of glass set in a frame of grained quartered oak. It stands 65 inches high and has a diameter of 30 inches. The shelves are adjustable and double grooved for different sized plates or platters. It is one of the most artistic little pieces we've ever brought out, and the price is very modest.

TAX RATE, $8.60

The Manchester Assessors Fix Rate a Little Less than Last Year—Valuation of Over $11,000,000.

The rate of taxation in Manchester for the present year will be $8.60 on $1,000, an increase of 30 cents over last year and just the same as in 1904.

The figure was given out by the assessors on Wednesday. Inasmuch as the appropriations this year are much in excess of last year, it was expected the rate would increase in like proportion, but there is an increase in valuation of $370,565, which of course helped keep the rate down.

The taxable valuation this year is $11,360,627, after $38,920 worth of property exempt from taxation is deducted. The total valuation is $11,399,547, of which amount the resident personal is $4,095,944, the resident real estate $3,193,550, the non-resident personal $372,133, and the non-resident real estate $3,737,920. There are 771 polls.

This rate of $8.60 gives to Manchester probably the lowest rate of any town in the commonwealth—that is, any town deriving the benefits enjoyed by our citizens of good roads, walks, water, schools, fire and police protection, etc.

NIGHT

BY MARGARET L. CORLIES

Oh love, with myriad hues,
Thou moonbeams soft and bright,
And brilliant starry gems,
That fleck the sky at night.
Into my radiant soul,
I feel thy presence steal,
Casting a ray sublime,
As at thy shrine I kneel.

A halo bright hast thou,
Which softly shines on me,
And with that lighted torch
Thy radiance I see.
Entwined in close embrace,
In thy loved arms I'll hide,
And while thy kisses reign,
I shall be glorified.

Interesting Form of Entertainment Furnished by North Shore Young People to Raise Funds For Purchase of Books for Magnolia Library.

A most interesting form of entertainment was furnished at Library hall, Magnolia, Thursday evening, in the tableaux, given for the purpose of raising funds to purchase books for the Magnolia library. The young men and women who took part were all members of the summer colony along the shore, mostly from the hotel guests at Magnolia.

Miss Gertrude Savage Sands, so well known in connection with the Vincent Club and other amateur theatricals in Boston, managed the business end of the affair, assisted by Miss Lillian Gillette of Chicago. Both young ladies are guests at the Oceanside.

AQUATIC SPORTS

Annual Events Bring Out Large Crowd at the Manchester Yacht Club.

The annual aquatic sports held at the Manchester Yacht club last Saturday afternoon were very acceptably conducted, and were among the most successful events of this kind yet held at the club. Both from the point of number of entries, and the large number of people who attended was it a banner day.

The club house was beautifully decorated within and presented a most cheerful appearance. Flowers from the gardens of Mrs. H. L. Higginson, Miss M. F. Bartlett, Mrs. Wm. A. Tucker, Mrs. E. S. Grew, Mrs. W. L. Putnam and Mrs. Geo. R. White were tastefully arranged about the room, a great bunch of golden glow, brightened with red roses, filling the open fireplace and mantel, while in front of this was a large pyramid of asters, zinnias, etc. The whole affair was very ably carried out through the efforts of Mr. Craigie, chairman of the committee in charge.

Following the sports tea was served on the verandah and within the club house by a number of ladies, including Miss Helen Read, Miss Mary Eliot, Miss Edith Fitz and the Misses Wigglesworth. Off the club house in holiday dress were Commodore Bre-mer's yacht, the Velthra, Judge Moore's yacht, the Zingaree, Mr. Tucker's Khalifa, A. C. Needham's Mahdeen III, and others. The summary:

Blind dory race—14 contestants; won by Bradford Allyn.

Diving contest — Eric Winston, T. W. Wigglesworth, A. M. Goodale, S. Eliot, H. Lee, J. Simkins and Charles Reed; won by Lee, Winston second.

Swimming race—12 entries, and the contestants swam from a yacht anchored 50 yards from the float to shore. J. P. Gardner, Jr. won first prize and A. M. Goodale the second. There was an event in connection with this not down on the program. A. W. Craigie, one of the judges, who was out in a boat starting the race, lost his balance and fell overboard, but was rescued by the club launch. The other judges awarded him honorable mention for his exertion of swimming.

Obstacle race—four entries, won by H. Lee.

Walking the pole. The constants were required to appear in costume and some intelligent and grotesque disguises appeared. The following were the characters: Norman Read, policeman; A. Malcolm, bathing girl; Carl Ward, court jester; George Washburn, clown; Harry Lee, farmer boy; Frank Wigglesworth, a devil; S. Francis, fisherman; R. Weston Smith, coolie; J. F. MacDonald, Irish laborer; Eric Winston, farm hand; S. Fairbanks and R. Wigglesworth, farmers; M. D. MacDonald, pajamas; Sellars McKee, bathing girl; Charles Read, Diogenes; C. Weston Smith, bathing girl. The prize for best costume won by Norman Read, Carl Ward second. R. Wigglesworth won first prize for walking the pole.

Rowing race—each boat having two oarsman and a coxswain. Won by S. Eliot and C. Loring with M. Pierce as coxswain, each receiving a cup.

Canoe tilting was in two heats and was the hardest fought contest. The last match was between Bradford Allyn and Charles Read and Sam Eliot and H. B. Richardson and was won by Allyn and Read.

War canoe race—H. Lee, J. Gardner, C. Loring and S. Eliot manned the winning canoe.

The judges were William A. Tucker, A. M. Merriam, Edward S. Grew, A. Walpole Craigie and Randolph Tucker.

Everybody Makes Mistakes.

It would be unwise for us or anybody else to try and prove otherwise. Some of our buyers have made mistakes in the last six months in buying too much of some merchandise or too little of another, thus making a surplus or leaving tag ends. August is the month when stocks must be lowered to make room for Fall Merchandise, and our merchandise man has gone through and marked prices on goods that seem ridiculous, but it cannot be helped as we need the room.

You will find throughout our THIRTY-TWO DEPARTMENTS many tempting values that will fully repay you for a visit to the most

AUTO ACCIDENT COLUMN.

A prized little cocker spaniel owned by Alfred E. Parsons, gardener for E. S. Grew at West Manchester, was run over by an automobile last Saturday evening. The dog is pure bred and is valued at $200. He was nursed back to life by a specialist. It is claimed the auto was going at a terrific speed up the hill near the Hanks estate, and that the parties did not stop to see the extent of the trouble they had caused, but rode along laughing over the accident.

Tuesday noon as George N. Black was riding horseback through the square in Manchester, the animal became scared of an auto, throwing its rider heavily to the hard road. Mr. Black struck on the back of his head, making a scalp wound, besides being severely shaken up. He was taken to Dr. Blaisdell's office.

Police Commissioner O'Meara says that reckless driving is illegal at all times, and that it is possible for an operator going only two or three miles an hour to violate the law as declared in these words: "Every person operating an automobile or motor cycle on any public or private way laid out under the authority of law shall run it at a rate of speed at no time greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to traffic and the use of the way and the safety of the public." And he adds that this gives a power to the police which can be used for the protection of the public in crowded places without the obligation of proving an excessive speed in miles. This power should be exercised constantly, with firmness and discretion.

=====FIFTH SEASON=====

Society Notes

Baron Hachiro Yamada and Baron Kichizô Iwaya are established at The Dolphin, Magnolia, for the balance of the season, where they have a suite of rooms and a private parlor. Baron Yamada is a brother-in-law to Baron Kaneko, who last year tarried on the North Shore and who made so mysterious and delightful an entré into Boston society just prior to the Russo-Japanese war. The two young barons are being extensively entertained by Baron Kaneko's friends, among whom are Mrs. Charles Aldrich and Mrs. Prescott Bigelow. Baron Yamada is a student at the School of Technology, where he is following a course of electrical engineering, and Baron Iwaya is taking in three years a four years' course at Harvard.

Among the players for the Progressive Whist at the Masconomo last evening were: Miss Claire L. Kennedy, Miss Grace C. O'Brien, Miss Josephine Harris, Mrs. Santry, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Kennedy, John O'Brien, George Kennedy, Miss Pearl G. Kennedy, Y. S. Santry, S. B. Booth, Miss Rogers, E. K. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Keeler.

Miss Greely of Manchester has given two very elaborate lunches this week at The Dolphin, having each time a dozen people. Mrs. Selfridge, in honor of these occasions, put in use the handsome pink Sevres service which belonged to her father, the gallant General Kearny, in the time of the empire when the lovely young Mrs. Kearney was known at the French court as the "American Rose." The cloth napkins were hand made Venetian lace, and the silver heavy family plate.

Tennis.

The tennis tournament held at the Essex County club last week, both in ladies' singles and mixed doubles, was quite successful, both from the interest taken, and from the number of entries. The finals in the singles were recorded last week. Saturday two doubles were completed, Miss A. Thorndike and N. S. Barflett, Jr., defeating Miss Hannah Stevens and T. B. Gannett, Jr., 5-7, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

The men's tournament will start next Monday with singles (scratch) and will be open to members of the club and junior members. Entries will be divided by the committee into two classes and hours of play assigned beforehand, but all players must be prepared to begin their match not later than five o'clock. The men's doubles (scratch) will begin on Wednesday, August 29. Entries for the above events must be sent to the Tennis committee, Essex County club, on or before Tuesday, August 21.

Society Notes

The "Prosit," John B. Schoeffel's trim yacht, has been put in commission this week, after being completely overhauled from stem to stern and new engines put in. The yacht arrived in Manchester harbor Wednesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Schoeffel have been entertaining their friends by little trips along the coast the past few days.

The Dolphin has become the rendezvous of all the embassy chiefs and secretaries who are located along the North Shore and at Hamilton this summer. The ladies give luncheons and dinners and the several secretaries dine there almost every day. The Russian and German embassies in particular are habitués of The Dolphin, and give the gift shop, which Miss Virginia Selfridge has there, much support.

At The Dolphin, Magnolia, Prince N. Kaūdacheff of the Russian Embassy gave an elaborate lunch for twelve people on Sunday last, in honor of the Swedish Ambassador and his wife. The First Secretaries of the Dutch and of the Italian Embassies, also Mr. Darragh of Texas were among the guests.

The Outlook, the Manchester Yacht club boat, which won the Quincy cup for the Manchester club a few years ago, is to be torn up and relegated to the scrap heap. The "freak" has been lying in the Fenton Co.'s yard for several years.

On Tuesday afternoon the base ball nine made up of the young men guests of The Masconomo will play the Manchesters, at 3 p.m., upon the spacious lawn of the hotel. The Masconomos are looking for a game in the near future with either the Essex County Club or Magnolia.

Automobilists are finding the Masconomo a convenient stopping place when en route to Maine and New Hampshire, curtain rooms being set aside for their accommodation, and although the hotel had enjoyed "all full up" for the past three weeks, the management have found it good policy to "take care" of the autoists.

Among those stopping while touring our shores are: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fairbairn, Mrs. C. L. Fairbairn, Miss Fairbairn; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Johnson, Miss F. E. Johnson, Miss N. P. Johnson of Cambridge; I. N. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cathen of Davenport, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taff, Brookline; Mrs. W. Whitney and party, Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crozer, H. B. Carpenter and Wm. F. Lind, jr., of Philadelphia; Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Draper, of Chestnut Hill.

The Quincy Yacht club Challenge Cup races, open to one representative each of the Quincy, Boston, Corinthian Yacht club's challengers, and the Manchester Yacht club's defender, are to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, August 22, 23 and 24, at 2.00 P. M. each day. The races will be governed by the rules as specified in the declaration of trust, and will be held off West Manchester.

The tableaux were divided into three sections—"Gibson Pictures," "Ideal Pictures," and "The Flight of Time in America," in all of which were some very interesting subjects, which merited much applause from the audience. The hall was crowded, many driving over from Manchester and along the Beverly shore.

Prominent among the "Gibson Pictures" were "Angel Cake," posed by Mrs. Ethel Tucker Lindsay and Julius East, one of the foreign attaches. "His Dance," in which Miss Gertrude Childs and her fiancé, Charles Foster and Rufus Thomas posed, was very pretty. Miss Margaret Gummey of Boston made a splendid "Jolly Good Fellow." "Oh! what a tangled web we weave, when first we practise to deceive," was very effectively pictured by Miss Mildred Lee of Philadelphia. She was sitting and from her girdle were woven numerous little cobwebs, in the meshes of which were little gold hearts. This was a very elaborate picture. "Worshippers" was very nicely posed by Miss Faithful Ames of Chicago and Charles Foster. Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tucker posed for "Elopement a la gasoline."

One of the most striking of the "Ideal Pictures" was Madame Le Brun posed by Miss Helen Cooper of St. Paul. Miss Eva McAdoo of New York also made a pretty picture in "Lady Hamilton." "The Age of Innocence" was posed by the little Miss Cécile Howell of Philadelphia, "Souls Awakening" by Virginia Kemble of Philadelphia, "The Broken Pitcher" by Miss Lucile Johnson, "Ruth" by Miss Roslin Romeyn and "Hosea" by Victor Kennard.

During the evening the audience was charmed by the "automobile dance" by Misses Josephine and Beatrice Howell, and by Miss Louise Brown of Boston. Joseph Seabury also did a song and dance stunt.

"The Flight of Time in America" brought a pretty climax to the evening's entertainment, the first of the scenes being the "Indian Girl" of 1500. Miss Marion McGinley in real Indian costume looked so much like a real squaw that few in the audience could tell the difference. Chas. Fish was her companion. Miss Elsa Putnam, Miss Josephine Howell, Miss Marion Brown and Miss Helen Johnson formed a pretty group of "Puritan Girls" of the 1600 period. The "Empire Frocks" of the 1700 period were pictured by Miss Orthwine and Mrs.

Frazer Harris. Mrs. Lindsay, Miss Mary Lord, Miss Roslin Romeyn and Miss Josephine Stevens posed as representing the 1800 period, all wearing hoop skirts. But the grand finale was the 20th century girl. Miss Lillian Gillette wore a complete auto outfit, which she brought back from Europe with her recently; Miss Childs was in driving costume; Miss Isabelle Coolidge made a very pretty sailor girl; Miss Lucile Johnson's tennis dress was quite apropos; Miss Janet House was in horseback riding costume; Miss Helen Cooper was in bathing costume and Miss Harriet Southland wore a handsome ballroom gown.

Mrs. Randolph Tucker, Miss Childs and Miss Helen Fitch were in charge of the posing and Mrs. E. C. Richardson the stage properties.

The riding master of the Masconomo, Mr. de Irsay, had an equestrian party with seven in the saddle from the hotel on Wednesday. This form of entertainment seems quite popular with the guests. On Thursday a party of ladies enjoyed a fine ride and formed a pretty picture as they rode out of the grounds.

Society Notes

The engagement has recently been announced of Miss Gertrude Childs of Pittsburg and Manchester and Charles Foster of Pittsburg who is on to the shore for the summer. The wedding, it is understood, will take place at Pittsburg, in November.

Among the young women spending the summer at Magnolia who are attracting much attention for their excellence in driving is Miss Helen Cooper of St. Paul. Miss Cooper is a splendid whip. She can handle the ribbons better than the average men. She is fond of driving a tandem and may be seen out almost any day behind a pair of handsome steppers. Tuesday morning Miss Cooper drove over from Magnolia with her tandem in time to catch the 7.30 train from Manchester to Boston.

Mrs. George Lee of Beverly Farms gave a handsome luncheon on Sunday at The Dolphin. Colonel McLean of England was included among the guests.

Miss Louise Denegre is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Denegre at West Manchester.

F. W. Whitehouse and son are on a cruise in the "Seaster" to Buzzards Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Bayley and family arrived at Magnolia Wednesday after a European trip. They have taken a cottage for the balance of the season.

N. S. Simpkins and two sons left Beverly Farms yesterday for Yarmouthport, Mass.

The daily table d'hôte lunches at The Dolphin, Magnolia, are meeting with great favor. Each day the tables are crowded, many people telephoning ahead for tables to be reserved for them. Mrs. Selfridge has very delicious cooking, and the people appreciate the foreign style and simplicity of eating on the wide verandah, under awnings, amid flowers, as well as the extremely moderate prices for which The Dolphin has already made such a fine reputation.

The Grand Maison de Blanc is getting to be a very popular place for North Shore folk to go on shopping expeditions. Here is shown a most exquisite line of lingerie, fine linens, etc. Next week there will be a special display of fine table linens and embroidered sheets. Mr. A. R. Brown of the New York store is in personal charge of this branch.

Society Notes

Prince Koudacheff and B. Kronpensay of Washington, D. C., have registered at the New Magnolia for an indefinite stay. They are connected with the Russian Legation which has its headquarters at Coolidge Point, Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Goodrich have joined the latter's father and brother at the "Chubbs," West Manchester, after a short trip abroad, being among the saloon passengers arriving on the White Star liner "Republic" last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, who left Prides Crossing a few weeks ago for a short European trip, are to have a handsome new house for a winter home built for them on Massachusetts ave., Washington, though it will not be finished for the coming winter.

At the Myopia hunt club golf links Wednesday two matches were played. Eben M. Byers, the national amateur golf champion, with Hugo R. Johnstone as a partner, played against Alex Campbell of the Country club and T. G. Stevenson of the Myopia hunt club. Byers and Johnstone won the morning match, and Campbell and Stevenson won in the afternoon. No scores were kept. The interest in golf this season, though lacking the spirit of four or five years ago, is much in advance of last season, at both the Myopia Hunt and Essex County club grounds. Among the well-known golfists on the shore at present is Arthur T. Stickney of St. Louis, who is a guest of the Clay Arthur Pierces at Prides Crossing.

One of the largest fields of the season was out for the golf tournament at the Essex County club last Saturday, though less than half of the 44 players turned in cards. S. S. Stevens, Jr., won the first prize, netting 75. E. M. Byers, the national amateur champion, had the lowest gross score—81, but he played from a plus 2 handicap. The eight players turning in the highest net scores qualified to compete for the Handicap Challenge Cup, to be played off on or before Aug. 29. These were S. S. Stevens, Jr., Saml. Carr, W. G. Devereaux, R. Kinnicut, C. M. Amory, Wm. B. Lambert, F. T. Pfaelzer, and the winner of a match between G. F. Willett and F. W. Kemble, who tied for eighth place at 82 net.

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

THE SUMMER HOTELS

The New Magnolia

The New Magnolia still maintains its reputation of being the popular stopping place for automobilists who are touring the North Shore or who chance to pass through this famous seashore resort while going to and from the White Mountains. The fine roads that skirt the ocean here and there, the beautiful scenery, and the easy riding distances to the numerous points of interest make the New Magnolia Hotel an ideal resort for touring parties, which fact was taken advantage of by many during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Murdock, Miss Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sutton of Cincinnati, spent a few days here before proceeding on their way to the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Elwood of Minneapolis were here a few days while enroute to the mountains.

A. M. Lindsay and Miss Lindsay of Rochester, N. Y., are spending a few days at this resort while touring the North Shore.

Society Notes

The most brilliant social function of the season was the ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Denegre Wednesday evening at their beautiful estate, Villa Crest, West Manchester. Almost 400 guests were present, including the most select of the summer visitors along the North Shore. The dance was held in the building, formerly used as a barn, located on the opposite side of the beautiful court from the house. This was decorated for the occasion, and though not elaborate in its setting, it was excellently fitted for an affair of this sort. Hemlock boughs, hydrangeas and bay trees formed most of the decorations within the building, and these offered an excellent setting for the many electric lights. The color scheme was green rosettes, with red border. Over the entrance to the building were celluloid balls over lights. In the court were many lanterns, including some large Japanese lanterns hung from tripods, each bearing an emblem, designating the standing of the high cast people in Japan. These lanterns are carried on the streets in Japan the same as the pennants on ships, to designate the class standing. There were many other lanterns hung about the court yard, most of which were brought from Europe by Mrs. Denegre for the occasion. Around the court were set tables, and covers were placed for over 300 guests, who sat down at a little after midnight. The lighting effect was very striking, all the illumination being furnished from the private plant on the estate. The Denegre estate is considered one of the most charming on the North Shore.

At the Aborn

Mrs. James R. Minor of Covington, Ky., and Mrs. James C. Stodder of Bangor, Me., are among the week's arrivals at the Aborn.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Slater of Jersey City, N. J., are at the Aborn for the balance of August.

Mrs. S. J. Remington and daughter, Miss Alberta F. Remington of Attleboro, are registered here for a couple of weeks.

Col. Ezra Woodruff, Mrs. Woodruff and Miss Grace Woodruff of Boston are among the recent arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Harper of Cincinnati, E. M. Gallaudet of Washington, head of the Gallaudet School for Deaf and Dumb, are among the week's arrivals.

Society Notes

North Shore society is much interested in the engagement, announced a few days ago, of Miss Margaret Winthrop, daughter of Mrs. Robert C. Winthrop of Boston and Manchester, and James Grant Forbes of Boston.

Two weddings, both to occur next Saturday afternoon, are being looked forward to with much interest by the North Shore colony. One will be that of Miss Naneen C. Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Mitchell of Manchester Cove, and Robert Gould Shaw, 2d, and the other is that of Miss Emily Sargent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sargent of Magnolia, and Baron John Ludwig Knoop of Schloss Muhlenthal, Germany, who arrived Wednesday.

Henry Clay Pierce arrived at Pride's Crossing Tuesday, making the trip from New York in his yacht, the Yacona. He has since been joined by his daughter, Miss Violet Pierce, and by his two sons, Roy and Theron, who came from Europe. They will remain here the rest of the summer.

Yesterday afternoon the beautiful summer home of Mrs. Walter Denegre was thronged with a representative North Shore gathering for the fourth in the series of musicales given on Friday afternoons, under the management of a committee of which Mrs. Russell Tyson is the head.

The mid-summer ball in the Masconomo casino Thursday evening was quite a pretty affair, a number of the cottagers joining with the hotel guests in making the affair a success.

The Hesperus

The August ball at The Hesperus Wednesday evening was the prettiest function of the season at this popular hostelry. There were on the floor, besides the regular guests at the hotel, scores from the other hotels and cottages, adding much gaiety to the occasion.

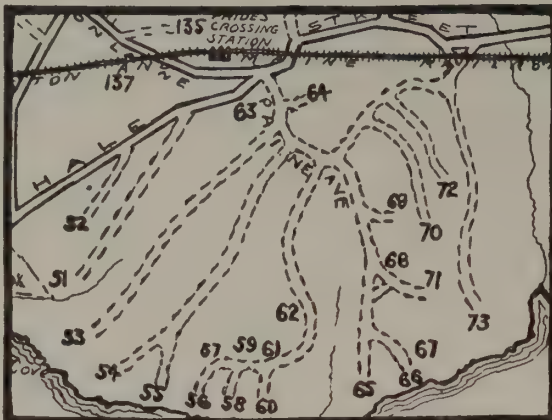

Mrs. H. L. Lewis and son, A. G. Lewis of Boston, arrived Monday for a fortnight's stay.

Mrs. A. M. Lindsay and Miss Lindsay arrived from Rochester, N.Y., in their touring car the first of the week, and are here for two or three weeks.

Miss Edna K. Anthony of Fall River has been spending the week at Magnolia with her friend, Miss Grace Martin of Chelsea, who is at the Hesperus for the season.

James M. Green arrived from Washington Wednesday to spend a fortnight with Mrs. Green, who is here for the season.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. James K. Tappan had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday. She tried to board the 2.54 train bound Boston-ward after it had started. She lost her balance and the only thing that kept her from falling under the wheels was the fact she kept hold of the rear railing. She was pulled from her predicament by Ass't. Conductor Thomas. The train stopped, but proceeded on its journey at once. Mrs. Tappan was little the worse for her fall.

One of Manchester's admiring friends who think their year is not complete without a visit to the town is William H. Norie of Chicago, who has recently returned to his western home after a brief visit with his brother, George Norie on Bennett street. Mr. Norie is also a staunch friend of the BREEZE. Every time he leaves he goes with a greater desire to return and enjoy Manchester's hospitality.

Rev. Dr. Lamson led the meeting at the Baptist church last evening. Rev. Mr. Johnson pastor of the Swedish Baptist church of Cambridge was present and made some interesting remarks.

Miss Clark of Salem is visiting Mrs. Fred Johnson, Bennett street, for a week or two.

Mrs. May Allen of Pine street has been spending the past fortnight visiting friends in nearby places, accompanied by her grandchildren, the Bradley children.

James F. Shaw to RunFor the Senate this Year

James F. Shaw of Manchester has announced that he is a candidate for the State Senate again this year. It will be remembered that last year Mr. Shaw won the nomination by acclamation and everything pointed to success at the polls until Schofield of Ipswich put in an appearance. Though a Democrat in a Republican district, Mr. Schofield won out. Mr. Shaw says he is in the fight this year to stay, and his friends around the district are rallying to his support. It is understood that Hubbard and McIntire of Gloucester are both in the field. Mr. Schofield, it is presumed, is looking for some other office,—perhaps county commissioner.

A Communication

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

Why not suggest through your columns that the Historical Society of Manchester take steps to renovate the monument to the lieutenant who died in colonial days en route to his ship in Gloucester. The inscription is almost obliterated and if the letters were cut in and then painted white the records would always be preserved. The stone is in the Township of Manchester and it seems a shame that it has been neglected.

Fair for the Women's Club House

The fair in aid of the Women's Club house at Magnolia was held on Wednesday of this week in the newly-finished club house, and was patronized by all Magnolia and the vicinity. From 10 in the morning until 10 at night people streamed in that direction in autos, carriages and on foot, and few went empty away. The receipts were about $675, nearly all of which is net, and $136.50, received from another source about to be mentioned, brings the receipts thus far up to about $800 of the $2,000 needed.

The other source mentioned is the sale held by five girls on Tuesday. The Misses Isabella Wadsworth, Cecile Howell, Helen Wheelock, Margaret Crocker and Lavinia Janes had desired to do their part to advance the cause of the club house independently, and the event showed the wisdom of their scheme. They were busily engaged for several weeks in making things, and Tuesday afternoon they held a sale on the lawn of the Perkins cottage. When they had practically sold out, they went to the club house and counted the big pile of bills and change which their wares had brought, and found it to contain $135, which a later sale brought up to $136.50. This was handed to Mrs. Foster, the matron, with just pride as their contribution to the Women's Club house. It was an auspicious beginning of the fair, which was opened at 10.30 the next morning.

Saleable articles for the various tables had poured in steadily all day

Tuesday, and on Wednesday morning the ladies in charge of the tables found abundant material to their hand for tempting displays, which they made good use of, with the result that the rooms looked most attractive. The handsome flower table on the left of the hall was in charge of Miss Sands and Miss Felton, who were efficiently aided by Miss Austin and Mrs. James S. Lee. The candy table adjacent was under the management of the Misses Covel, and the cake table of Miss Baldwin, Mrs. Alex. Wadsworth and Miss Bigelow. The various tables of fancy and household articles were presided over by Mrs. F. F. Story, Miss Singleton, Mrs. W. R. Boyd, Miss Libby and Miss Amy Lycett, assisted by others through the day. Miss Winslow sold postal cards, and Mrs. Michael Kehoe and Miss Evelyn Turner did an amazing business in "mysteries." The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. B. Manfred Thornberg, assisted by Mrs. Wellington and Mrs. Duncklee and Misses Story and Sanborn. The rug man was there, too, with a showy display of costly Oriental fabrics, to be sold on commission, which added much to the attractiveness of the club-room.

The crowds came early. The affair was under distinguished patronage, the printed list containing fifty of the well-known people on the North Shore, and among the names sent too late for publication were those of Baroness de Rosen, Mrs. Augustus P. Gardner and Mrs. Ernest Longfellow. The object for which the house has been built has general approbation and rich and poor united in aiding it.

The members of the club themselves held sway in the evening. A part of the flowers, cake and candy was auctioned off. One member quietly told fortunes in a corner "to help along." This was the prevailing spirit: "What can I do to help?" It is hoped that subscriptions for shares will during the next fortnight bring the receipts up toward the $2,000 needed.

Mrs. S. A. Carlton of Boston is back to the Oceanside after a short visit to Whiteface, N. H.

S. W. Bonsall of New York, and his mother, Mrs. M. M. Bonsall, and two daughters, Misses Beatrice and Vera Cornell have arrived this week for the balance of the season. They are at the "Shore View."

Fred C. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, son of Vice-President Fairbanks, is at the Oceanside, accompanied by his friend John R. DeWitt of Philadelphia.

F. W. McConnell, assistant manager of the Touraine, spent the weekend with Mrs. McConnell at the Oceanside.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Duncklee of Brookline were guests over the weekend of Mr. W. H. Sands.

Lieut Jackson of the Alabama was a guest the early part of the week of Mrs. H. W. Southerland.

Miss A. S. McKey of Brookline arrived Wednesday and is a guest of Mrs. Chas. H. Howell.

"The Indian store," whose home is at 186 Boylston street, Boston, is now at the height of its fifth season at Magnolia. Besides an interesting collection of American Indian products, such as baskets, bead-work, mocasins, etc., a very full stock of Japanese goods is carried, special attention being paid to pottery suitable for flowers and growing plants. In offering the above, as well as a very full line of post cards and novelties of various kinds, the policy of former seasons has been continued. Regular prices are not increased for the summer trade, and no "closing-out sale" marks the end of the season."

Visitors' Day at Babies' SummerHospital on Baker's Island

Wednesday, Aug. 15th, was observed as public day at the Babies' Summer Hospital on Baker's Island, and the large number who attended shows the interest taken in this beautiful charity by the summer residents of the North Shore, as well as the permanent dwellers in the towns benefited. Subdued exclamations of sympathy and interest came from the ladies as they paused beside each crib containing a sick infant, or in some cases two babies. The sick twin babies touched all hearts, but when the little black baby was reached it seemed to be the general opinion that he was "just too cute."

The president, Hon. David M. Little, and Mrs. Little were present, and after the inspection of the wards the ladies of the executive committee, Mrs. D. P. Grosvenor, Mrs. W. L. Harris and Miss Alice Nelson, invited the visitors to a pretty tent, where delicious lemonade and cakes were served. Everyone seemed pleased with the arrangements of the hospital and the success attending the treatment of the little patients. Among the visitors were physicians from Salem, Beverly and Peabody, and nurses from Salem and Boston hospitals.

Newell and Daisy Presby, both little girls, a series of tableaux was given. A substantial sum of money was raised. The tableaux were pictures posed by the small girls and boys. The smallest girl, Florence Hunt, aged 6, was the maid in "The First Proposal," and Charles Presby was the diminutive lover. Katherine Motley as "The Flower of the Family" made one of the prettiest pictures, as did Edith Robinson as "The Dancing Girl." Other children posing were Mary Green, Marion Bruen, Katherine Newell, Marie Bartlett and Marjorie Newell. Miss Green played the piano accompaniments.

Next Monday, at Mrs. W. L. Putnam's, Smith's Point, the young folk of that section are to give an entertainment in aid of this same institution—"Scenes from Alice in Wonderland." This is the same as was announced last week to take place yesterday, the date having been changed.

are rejoicing over the gift of a pipe organ, the announcement of which was made in the church last Sunday.
Mrs. McM. Colfelt and her mother Mrs. McManes are the donors. The organ is to be such as to be best suited to the church and will cost about $2000, the church paying for such alterations as may be necessary for installing it. The contract is to be made early in September and the organ will be ready for use by Christ-

OLD SOUTH BUILDING, - BOSTON

Orders may be left at the North Shore Breeze Office, Post-Office Building, Manchester.

The grounds of the Daniel Linehan estate on West street, near the Farms station, was a very pretty sight on Thursday evening, when the order of Foresters held their garden party. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and other lights, while sales tables occupied various parts of the grounds. Other interesting features also were to be had, together with dancing in the barn to the strains of an excellent orchestra. A large crowd, together with the best of weather, made up one of the pleasantest parties of the season. The money will be devoted toward furnishing the Foresters' table in the coming bazaar.

Victor Borden is carrying his arm in a sling, due to being struck by the crank of an automobile, badly wrenching it.

Mrs. Albert Mayberry and Robert

Perry Williams are both victims to a mild form of blood poisoning, caused by the handling of cunners or perch, which fishing parties usually catch an abundance of these days.

A Check Account is a Necessity

You may carry a check account with us, against which you may give checks in paying all bills. The advantage of this is: that should a receipt, or a receipted bill, miscarry by any chance, your returned check would be a receipt, affording protection. This method is simple and convenient—it tabulates and systematizes your expenditures—and puts you on a footing with the most experienced and astute business men of the country.

An open air concert and minstrel show given one evening this week upon the grounds of a nearby summer resident was exceedingly fine and much enjoyed by a large crowd of the village people who stationed themselves at nearby points.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Trowt on Wednesday enjoyed a trolley trip from Boston to various points of interest in Cambridge, and concluded the day with a trip via boat from Boston to Gloucester and home by trolley via Essex to Montserrat.

Messrs. Connolly Bros., the Farms contractors, who are the owners of quite an extensive amount of real estate in Topsfield, among which are two farms, have this week added to their "Drumfire farm," situated on Rowley street, some 50 acres of land adjoining, which consists in part of a splendid extremely high hill, from which points of interest for miles around can be seen, including the stand pipe at Rockport, different points of view of Beverly, Danvers and surrounding country. It also has a goodly frontage upon Hood's pond. They have also purchased some 14 acres of fine land situated in Ipswich just over the Topsfield line, bordering some 400 or more feet upon Hood's pond, and situated upon Limebrook road.

Andrew Standly on Thursday attended the reunion of his old regiment, the 3d Mass. Heavy Artillery, at Nantasket point, a fish dinner at Wade's being one of the features of the day.

The regular monthly meeting of Preston W.R.C. is to be held on Tuesday evening next, Aug. 21.

The engagement of Miss Nellie E. Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Preston of Beverly Farms and East Wenham, to Victor Borden of Dorchester is announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Connolly took a trip to Exeter, N.H., yesterday with a stop over at Hampton beach for dinner. The trip was made mostly by trolley.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Williams (nee Martha Blanchard) are being congratulated upon the arrival of a little daughter, Bessie Gertrude, which came to their home last Monday evening.

Miss Annie K. Holmes, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Annie Kemp of Lynn, leaves today for a two or three weeks' visit with relatives at Randolph, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hooper, Mrs. Wm. C. Webster, Mrs. Winthrop F. Low and Mrs. Wm. H. Gerrish were among the party of Beverly Farms people who on Thursday visited the war ships at Rockport and other points of interest on Cape Ann.

The "Onaway," a trim motor boat belonging to Messrs. John Daniels and James E. McDonnell, caught fire at its moorings, off West Beach pier, Wednesday, and was badly damaged. It is supposed that the fire was caused by an overheated muffler, but it is somewhat of a mystery that fire should break out some two hours or more after the engine had ceased its labors.

Mrs. Frank T. Mitchell of Pawtucket, R. I., is the guest of Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley, West street.

Miss Myrtle Doe of Bangor, Me., and formerly of the Farms, is spending a part of her vacation visiting friends here.

The Beverly Farms Fire Dept. answered two alarms of fire this week. The first was on Tuesday forenoon for a lively blaze, which got started in some unaccountable way in the dump on Beach street, near the railroad crossing, and was soon extinguished. The second was on Thursday afternoon, when the steam carriage of Dr. James M. Jackson caught afire, and for a time it looked as if the stable were in danger, but the car was taken out of doors, when the fire was put out without much damage being done, although the stable was filled with smoke. The department answered both alarms in double quick order, and thoroughly showed their ability to render, if need be, good service.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard F. Spear and son Theodore, left the early part of the week and are the guests of Mr. Spear's parents at Gardiner, Me.

Charles Parker, the popular Central Square caterer, has had lately installed into his restaurant an up to date pianola which can be played either by hand or a "nickel in the slot." With the electric fan and with or without music, this proprietor is trying to look after the comfort of his patrons.

Miss Annie Riordan who has been in the West for several months for her health returned the earlier part of the week to her old home on Hart st. with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Riordan, very much improved in health and happy to be home again.

Among the many bequests in the will of the late John K. Dodge, who died at his home in East Wenhan last week are the following:— The old homestead and the lands connecting same to George Williams, the eldest son of Addison Williams; all U. S. bonds, mortgages and wood lands, both in this vicinity and New Hampshire, to his sister, Mrs. Hetty Williams; to his nephew Henry Stillman, who has always lived with him, the sum of $4000, and to the rest of his nieces and nephews $1000 each. There are also many minor bequests.

Thomas J. McDonnell has awarded the contract for the cellar and foundation for his new house to be erected, corner of Hale st. and Elliott ave. to Messrs. Watson Bros., and ground was broken for same the first of the week.

Miss Elsie L. Preston is home from a brief vacation trip to Bethlehem, N.H.

Senarita Aurora De Mena of Havana, Cuba, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Connolly, Oak street. Miss De Mena was a Cuban patriot, being at one time imprisoned during the war, by the Spaniards. She is now supervisor of 38 Cuban schools and is here attending the Harvard Summer school. One evening this week some of her Farms friends unexpectedly called upon her and spent the evening in a social way, including the pleasant and novel feature of selections from a number of Italian musicians which came in the way of a sort of a serenade.

A number of charitably disposed persons are considering plans to raise funds for the benefit of a family whose head has been for a long time unable to work as the result of sickness and whose prospects for the future are not good. Though the mother is a hard working woman, she has eight small children to care for. This is a truly genuine case for a little of one's spare change to be devoted for a deserving charitable purpose.

Miss Lida Pierce is being entertained at Ipswich at the home of her uncle, Elmer Wiley.

Forrester H. Pierce and three sons, Leon, Ralph and Forrester, jr., leave on Monday next for East Hebron, N. H., where they will enjoy the next week or ten days occupying a camp cottage upon the shores of New Found lake.

Next Thursday, August 23, the Friends' Bible class of the Baptist church will hold their fair, which each member of the society has for a long time worked to make a success, the object being a worthy one and well deserving the patronage of all, as the money is to go toward paying off the mortgage on the parsonage. The fair will be held from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. At 7.45 a pleasing entertainment is to be given.

Frank Rand, the popular B. & M. station agent, and family have been spending the past few days visiting Mr. Rand's parents at Portsmouth, N. H. Miss Cassie Williams accompanied them.

The Irish terrier "Jack," the pet dog belonging to Miss Ella Low, met death on Wednesday, on Everett street, by being run over by a swift moving automobile.

The grocery and provision clerks of the various stores in the Farms are to hold a grand ball in Neighbors' hall the night of Friday, Aug. 24. Dancing from 8 to 1.

Rev. Henry W. Foote of Ann Arbor, Mich., will preach at the First Unitarian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Rev. M. C. Ayres of Newton will preach at the Congregational church tomorrow, morning and evening. The evening services will be at 7 instead of 7.30 o'clock.

Rev. Robert M. Martin of Salem will supply at the Baptist church tomorrow in the absence of the pastor.

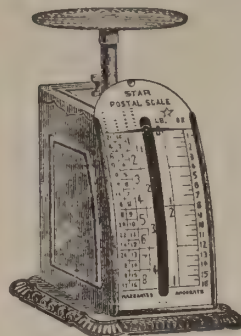

The Missionary society of the Congregational church held their picnic this week, going to Annisquam to Mrs. J. F. Rabardy's cottage on Wednesday. A number enjoyed a trip around the cape by electric, seeing the war ships in Rockport harbor.

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, one of the promising young men in the Baptist ministry, and pastor of the Baptist church in Manchester-by-the-Sea, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church in the city yesterday forenoon. He read as his Scripture lesson the third chapter of Philippians, and the subject of his sermon was "The ministry of joy." He is a very fluent, extemporaneous and rapid and eloquent speaker.—Salem News, Aug. 13.

Gulf Stream Changing.

That the Gulf Stream has its shifts and strays, that it is wandering northward in its wonderfully beneficent path is again put in evidence by Captain Jensen of the United Fruit Company's steamer Admiral Schley, just arrived from Jamaica ports.

It was only a few months ago, on May 29, in fact, that Captain Frost of the same company's fleet reported that he had failed to find a current where according to geographies one was to be expected.

But that was south of Captain Jensen's findings, and it seems that within three months there has been a decided northward shift.

Captain Jensen states that ordinarily the stream runs from lat. 34 degrees to lat. 38 degrees north, when it goes to the eastward and is lost to vessels bound for Boston. Now it is running strongly from lat. 34 to lat. 40.13, or within 25 miles of Nantucket South Shoal lightship.

A change in three months in a current which has held its steadiness for years may seem something extremely important, although there is a chance that this is just a temporary freak of this mysterious swirl of water.

If the northward movement continues it won't be beyond the present generation before a warm current is attacking the northern ice and then neither a Peary nor a Walter Wellman will be needed to find that vague northern point for which so many have vainly sought.

Boston Theatre.

One of the unique features arranged to mark the opening of "Cape Cod Folks" at the Boston Theatre, August 27, is a general invitation that has been extended by Liebler & Co. and the management of the Boston Theatre to certain residents of Cape Cod itself. This invitation, couched in formal terms, bids the selectmen of the various towns and villages enumerated below to the opening of the play, and makes it clear that these officials shall attend as guests of the management.

The interest of the occasion should centre in the manner in which these estimable gentlemen will receive certain types they will be bound to recognize, for while the locale of the piece is in Hyannis, the characters have been drawn from as far north as Provincetown itself, and there is hardly a municipality on the cape that has not been drawn upon for one or more of its most characteristic types.

Each and every individual selected for the various parts has been chosen particularly with a view to his or her fitness for the various roles, and upon their success depends the manner in which the municipal fathers will view the prototypes they have long known as intimates.

Society Notes

Mrs. Otis H. Luke and daughter, Miss Annetta Luke, left the Farms on Thursday for a week's visit at Springfield, Mass., the guests of relatives.

Henry Pratt McKean and family arrived at Pride's Crossing Wednesday to spend the balance of the season at their beautiful cottage on Pride's mountain, which has heretofore this season remained closed. The McKean family have been in Europe.

The proceeds above expenses from the entertainment given by Beatrice Herford in Library hall, Magnolia, last Friday night, under Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge's skillful management, amounted to $86. This entertainment Mrs. Selfridge took out of her original course of summer recitals to give it for the benefit of the Magnolia library, as a manifestation of her interest in Magnolia, and as a token of appreciation of all the kindness which she feels has been so generously extended to her and to her daughters by the residents of Magnolia, by the hotel proprietors, the summer guests, and by all the people along the entire North Shore. The Dolphin and the Selfridges have come to stay.

Mr. David Bispham gives his song recital in Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge's series, at Library hall, Magnolia, this Saturday, Aug. 18, at 4 p.m.

The picture gallery of Messrs. Dunton and Gardner in the Colonnade, Magnolia, is receiving much favorable comment from its many visitors. The fine pictures, reminiscent of foreign art and travel, hung against a cool, grey background, make the room a charming and interesting one to visit. Messrs. Dunton and Gardner have been long and favorably known in Boston and their Boylston street store is regarded as one of the most attractive in that city.

It is not at all improbable that Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth will pay a visit to the North Shore before the season closes. They arrived in New York last Saturday on the St. Paul and went at once to Oyster Bay.

Miss McNamara of 665 Boylston street, Boston, who is located at 39 School street, Manchester-by-the-Sea, for the season, is prepared to do shampooing, marcel waving and manicuring. Telephone connection. *

The JewelerSIWOOT*Obituary.

The following account was handed to the "Death" editor last week:

"No dog was better known in Manchester than 'Friskie,' having been a familiar figure on our streets for more than twelve years. He came to Manchester from the western part of the state of Illinois in April, 1894, the property of Mr. Daniel Leach. He was a pure Scotch collie, and, as his owner expressed it, had a pedigree a mile in length. He was a shapely animal, having the finest head and face the writer has ever seen on a dog. With a perfect disposition, affectionate, and exceedingly energetic he was always a favorite, and when his master died some ten years ago, he transferred his devotion to Deacon Low, whom he accepted as his rightful owner, showing his attachment to the last. For the last two years he had been failing, and on Sunday gave evidence of having had a shock of paralysis. He was so feeble and helpless that it was thought best to put him to sleep, and Tuesday evening 'Friskie' breathed his last and became a memory of the past, having lived thirteen years."

Sensations at Wonderland.

Every person who has visited Niagara Falls and the gorge below them will doubtless feel an intense interest in one particular feature on the programme of free attractions at Wonderland this week. That feature is James E. Hardy, who in 1896 walked a tight-rope across Niagara's rushing rapids from the Canadian side of the deep ravine to the cliff-top on the American side. This thrilling experience gained for Hardy the title of "The Hero of Niagara." The next year he crossed the gorge at Portage, on the Genesee River, and three years ago he went up beyond the City of Quebec, and, despite the attempted interference of the Canadian authorities, walked on a tight-rope across the rushing torrent of Montmorency Falls.

Wonderland's other big shows now playing to capacity are Fire and Flames, Shooting the Chutes, Thompson Scenic Railway, Hell Gate, South Before the War, Infant Incubators, Hale's Tours, Circle Swing, Whirl the Whirl, Princess Trixie, Ferari's Trained Wild Animals, Japanese Village and Beautiful Orient.

This paper sent to any part of the U.S., Canada or Mexico for $1.00.

Down Again

Can't begin to tell you how much satisfaction it gives us every time we can squeeze some concession out of some manufacturer for you—satisfaction to do it in the first place, and satisfaction to tell you about it in the second, because it proves to you how on the alert we are for you, and how determined we are to give you every buying advantage we can get—just to make you trade here. Today it's

Merritt Couches

One of the most convenient things a house can hold. It's as comfortable a couch as one would wish for; and if there's a guest or two more than the regular beds can take care of, Presto change, and in a twinkling it's a regular bed with national spring, mattress and pillows complete—better than that, you needn't take up all the space in the room by making it a full sized bed unless it's necessary. Simply raise one side and it's $\frac{3}{4}$ size; can you conceive anything more practical?

SUMMER BREVITIES

By D. F. Lamson.

We cannot turn back the wheels of progress. Perish the thought. But it is to be hoped that they will not run away with us, as an automobile did the other day in Jersey, hurling its occupants over the wall; people say we must keep up with the times; not so, if the times are moving in the wrong direction.

Not how fast we can get through this world, at what break-neck speed and with what show and noise; but how well we can get through it, is the main point.

In a rational state of society, battleships will be at a discount, and plows at a premium.

Some things are worse than war, but a just and honorable peace is not one of them.

A man's business is spoken of as his "calling"; but often the only "call" in the matter is that of the love of money or position, of self-will or caprice.

Some men will stoop to almost anything mean and dishonorable for the sake of money, if they do not literally rob dead men's graves.

Between love and righteousness, there is no necessary antagonism, but a weak sentimentality may defeat the ends of justice.

Impatience of authority seems to characterize the age, in the family, the school and the state; and it is not far different in the church.

Certain amusements and sports distinctly tend to coarsen the features as well as the character; there is a closer connection between ethics and esthetics than many people imagine.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Mary E. Hill left Monday for Winthrop, where she will make her home in the future with her grandson, William L. Hill. Mrs. Hill is a native of Manchester, being born in "Newport" 92 years ago last March. She has been living in the family of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dole, Norwood avenue.

Librarian D. L. Bingham is taking a few weeks' respite from his duties at the Public Library, but will spend the time in Manchester.

Lewis Morgan has been spending a few days in Maine this week, making the trip to Portland by boat Tuesday night.

Arthur J. Green, former proprietor of Cheever's drug store, has been spending a few days in town, a guest at Mrs. Wheaton's on Norwood avenue.

The Misses Mary Bennett and Nellie Leonard, Herman Swett and E. S. Bradley returned Monday from a week's visit to Northfield. D. Milton Knight, who has been there for a fortnight, returned yesterday.

A maid employed at one of the summer cottages on Beach street telephoned the police about 10 o'clock Monday night that she saw something floating in the water near the shore, at Singing beach, resembling the body of a woman. Lieut. Andrews, Night Officer Jones and Special Leary went to the beach, but could find no body, and Officer Leary went there again at daylight Tuesday morning, but a log high and dry on the beach was the only thing found, in the least resembling a human body.

The annual outing of the Roundabout club of Gloucester, which was to have been held at Tuck's Point, Wednesday, has been postponed till next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Spooner of Natick have been guests the past week of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ireland, North street.

Society Notes

A children's entertainment is to be given at the Manchester Yacht club next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. After the entertainment, on invitation of Mrs. S. Parker Bremer, the children (and nurses) will be taken for a short sail down the harbor on the Velthra.

B. F. Yoakum, Miss Katheryn Yoakum, and their guest, Mr. Russ of Texas, left Manchester by auto Thursday for Newport for a week's stay.

The grounds of Mrs. W. L. Putnam's estate at Smith's Point was the scene of a delightful gathering of children and many older folk as well, Monday afternoon, when scenes from "Alice in Wonderland," and "Through the Looking Glass," adapted by Miss Washburn, were given in aid of new Floating Hospital. The young people who took part were all from among the members of the summer colony in this vicinity. The players:

The White Rabbit.....	Augustus Putnam
The White Knight's Charger, by himself
Miss DeFord sang.

Mr. David Bispham's song recital on Saturday afternoon drew a good-sized audience at Library hall. The sale of single tickets was unprecedented. After the concert was over a hundred people took tea at The Dolphin. Mr. Bispham is always most kind to young artists and when Mrs. Selfridge asked his interest in the young singer, Miss Blanche Fox of Roslindale, Mr. Bispham permitted her to sing several arias, and was much gratified to find Signora Bianca Volpuck—her stage name—had a fine voice and that she gives promise of being heard from.

Mr. and Mrs. Kotany of St. Louis are often seen dining of an evening with a little party of friends on the wide and attractive piazzettas of The Dolphin, Magnolia, where the electric lights in Japanese lanterns cast a pleasant light, amid the flowers under the wide spreading awnings.

Sensitiveness is only a kind of euphemism sometimes for selfishness; it sounds better, that is all.

Cabals, intrigues and jealousies came near wrecking the American cause in the Revolution and breaking the heart of the great Father of his Country; maladministration and greed, corruption and graft, are no new thing under the sun; there is perpetual need of reform and of reformers, of a regenerating force in society.

The thing that hath been is that which shall be, in a large sense, at least so far as human nature is concerned, maugre all inventions and discoveries, until the announcement shall be heard: "Behold, I make all things new."

The skies pour out water, and loud is the complaint of excessive moisture; a few years ago, there was an equally loud complaint of excessive dryness; and so it is, man is a being who is seldom suited. The wisdom of the Shepherd of Salisbury Plain is a somewhat rare quality: "It will be such weather as will please me, because it will please God."

There are some things that are necessary truths, e. g., the existence of God, which are nevertheless so far above us that the very attempt to comprehend them must convince us that our highest attainments are like a child's prattle; and yet we need not for that reason make fools of ourselves and become agnostics.

Some occupations that are honorable enough in themselves seem to present more temptations to dishonesty than others, or at least offer more opportunities for fraud and over-reaching; wherefore a wise man in choosing an occupation will ask himself first, not is it likely to be profitable, is there money in it, but what will be its effect upon character, will it strengthen or weaken, elevate or debase?

Located in the very heart of the North Shore woodland drives, on the shore of the beautiful Chebacco lake, Lake-Croft Inn is getting to be quite the spot for North Shore folk to go and rest a little while, after the refreshing drive through the woods from Manchester or Beverly Farms. This inn has become famous for its chicken dinners. One has only to eat at this place once to be thoroughly convinced of the excellent quality of its cooking and service. A week ago yesterday a party of eleven were over from East Gloucester to dinner, including Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Loftus, Mr. Chewn, Mr. Terr, Master Loftus of Washington; Mrs. Page Brown, Mrs. St. John Butler and Miss Kuhn of New York, and Miss C. Mills of Philadelphia. On the same day Mrs. Thomas C. Jenkins, Mrs. Clifton Jenkins, Miss Elliotte and Alfred E. Jenkins of Pittsburg dined here. A week ago Saturday Mrs. Charles A. Potter was over from Magnolia and entertained a party of thirty. The inn is now owned and personally managed by John C. Rauch, a man who made chicken dinners famous at old Cooper Tavern in Arlington.

The annual meeting of the Manchester Yacht club will be held next Monday, Aug. 27, at 5.30 P. M., at the club house.

The Essex Agricultural society will hold its 86th annual exhibition on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 18, 19 and 20, at Peabody.

The BREEZE sent by mail to any part of the U.S.—1 year 1 dollar. *

Miss Eleanora Sears returned from Newport Wednesday, where she went to play in the tennis tournament last week.

Mrs. Walter Denegre gave a delightful children's party for her young daughter, Miss Elaine Denegre, on the occasion of her 11th birthday Monday afternoon. There were 36 young folk invited in for the occasion and a most merry time they all had. "Bunnie" Woods had charge of the entertainment feature, games, racing, etc., forming a greater part of the amusement.

Miss Rosamond Wheeler of New York has moved into the Haven "Red" cottage on West street, Beverly Farms, for the balance of the season.

F. H. Prince, jr., was registered at the Hotel Virginia, in Chicago, this week.

The E. H. Harrimans of New York have been on the North Shore this week, coming to Beverly Farms Wednesday in their large steam yacht, the Sultana. Yesterday they steamed away to Bar Harbor.

Miss G. Gerdes returned to her Pittsburg home Wednesday after a visit with the D. Herbert Hostetters, Beverly Farms.

On Friday last Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo gave a handsome dinner of 12 at The Dolphin, when the fish course was served in a new style, the receipt for which, with its peculiar sauce having a high tang, had been sent lately to Mrs. Selfridge by the American ambassador at St. Petersburg. Besides Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo, were present Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. Janes, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Miss McAdoo, Miss Perry, Mr. East and Mr. Sleeper. The head cook, a Swede, received many compliments on her fine cooking.

One of the most attractive features of "The Colonnade" in Magnolia is the beautiful display of photographic work by the Notman Co. of Boston. Their portraits excel, in naturalness of expression, artistic posing, clearness of detail, fine quality of work and exquisite finish, anything ever exhibited on the North Shore. That the summer guests and cottagers appreciate the presence of a genuine artist and an ideal studio at this famous resort is evidenced by the numbers of ladies and gentlemen who daily take advantage of their own leisure during the summer and the convenient appointments at Notman's for securing a sitting and the very best of photographs.

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, jr., left Beverly Farms Wednesday for New York, but she will spend the week-end with her parents, Senator and Mrs. Aldrich, at Warwick, R.I. Her sister, Miss Lucy Aldrich, who has been visiting on the North Shore, has returned to Rhode Island.

Mrs. R. H. Robinson left Beverly Farms Thursday for a short trip to York Harbor.

Stuart Farrar Smith is a house guest of the S. B. Danas at Beverly Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Wilcox of Philadelphia, recent house guests of Mrs. C. Howard Clark, jr., at Beverly, are now at The Dolphin, Magnolia, for a two weeks' stay. Mr. Wilcox, who was threatened with pneumonia, is recovering very rapidly in the fine air of the North Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Parker Bremer, had a very thrilling experience last Sunday. They left Manchester in the morning with a few friends for a cruise in the Velthra down the coast to Little Boar's Head, where they were to call on some friends. They were rowed ashore in the tender and the boat had started back to the Velthra when the cry of "help, help," sounded over the waters. It appears that a woman was teaching a girl to swim, and in some manner they were swept off the bar, the woman being seized by cramps. The pair went under and would have drowned but for the presence of Mr. Bremer and Mr. Hosmer, his friend, and the boatman. The first two rushed into the water and reached the two women at the same time the boat reached the spot. Charles Peterson, the boatman, caught the drowning woman as she was going down for the third time. The young man was rewarded the next day by a good-sized check for his rescue, by the father of the girl being taught to swim.

Now that there is a movement on foot in Manchester to erect some monument to the Indian chief Masconomo, it is of interest to learn of the forms of memorials erected in other places. In Camden, Me., next Thursday, will be unveiled the Conway tablet, to honor the memory of a Civil War hero. The memory consists of a huge boulder, to which has been affixed a bronze tablet. This form of memorial has been suggested for Manchester. Why not carry out this suggestion and erect a monument of this kind, either at the Beach street park or at Tuck's Point?

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Hodges of Indianapolis, who have been making an extended tour through Canada, spent one day in town the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Frances M. Andrews. Mrs. Benj. Huntoon of Beverly has been spending a few days here this week with Mr. and Mrs. Andrews.

Miss Lucy Tent and grandson, Frank Jewett, returned to Manchester this week, after spending a few weeks in Newton.

Edith and Clarence Menken returned home Tuesday, after spending three weeks at Central Park, L.I., guests of relatives.

Mrs. Chester Hooper and children, from Connecticut, are spending a few weeks here, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hooper.

Miss Etta Taylor has been spending the past week in Revere visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Kitfield spent the first of the week in Hudson, N. H., and Lowell visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Denegre left Manchester Tuesday in their Packard touring car for Newport, where they will be entertained for a week or ten days. Miss Louise Denegre of Philadelphia, who has been their guest, has returned to Narragansett Pier.

Edgar Farnum, the well-known artist, has been spending a week at the "Uplands," Miss Adele G. Thayer's delightful summer home in West Manchester. During his stay he made some sketches about the estate, which offers some beautiful little bits of scenery for the artist's brush. Mr. Farnum returned to his summer home in Gloucester Tuesday.

Among the distinguished visitors to the North Shore last week was J. J. Hill, the well-known railroad magnate of St. Paul, who was at Manchester a few days with Mr. Hill, and daughters, Miss Gertrude Hill and Mrs. Beard of New York. They came to the shore in Mr. Hill's large steam yacht, and were guest for a few days of Louis W. Hill and family at the Sturgis cottage, Manchester. Friday they left for a cruise to Bar Harbor, and Monday they left there by rail for Lenox. Mr. Louis Hill left Manchester Tuesday for St. Paul on a brief business trip. Mrs. Hill has as her house guests her sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Taylor and little daughter, Isabel, of New York.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer B. Mason in the White Mountains, Mrs. Mason's sister, Mrs. C. S. Seabury, and daughter of Wellesley are at the Mason summer cottage in Manchester. Miss Helen Flint of Jamaica Plain is also a guest there. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mason (Elizabeth Andrew), who are occupying the Andrew homestead at Hingham, are expected to come over to Manchester next week for a few weeks' stay.

Bright Brenton of Beldale, L. I., was a guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. S. Moore at Beverly Farms.

George H. Lyman and son, George H., Jr., are on a fishing trip to Quebec, leaving Beverly Farms last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Patten of Wellesley were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Grew, at West Manchester.

Mr. Ford Thompson, jr., of Washington has taken rooms at The Dolphin for several weeks.

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

The Fern-Croft Inn Co.,

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Whitehouse and their son, Master Meredith, returned yesterday after a delightful cruise of three weeks in their yacht, the Siesta, to Long Island sound, Nantucket, and other points in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner M. Lane left Manchester Tuesday for a European trip. During the balance of the season the Lane residence will be occupied by some of Mr. Lane's friends. They will not return from Europe till the season closes, and will go at once to their Boston home.

Excellent weather conditions favored the forty or more players in the handicap golf tournament at the Essex County club last Saturday. F. T. Pfaelzer made the best net score, playing in 90 with a handicap of 18, thus netting 72. James McMillan and F. W. Kemble tied for lowest gross score, each turning in cards for 79. Last Saturday the eight players turning in the best gross scores qualified to play for the scratch challenge cup. They were D. L. Edwards, G. Owen Winston, Samuel Carr, F. W. Kemble, E. S. Moore, G. Crocker, J. T. McMillan and the winner of a play-off between R. Kinnicutt, J. W. Kimble and G. F. Willett. Considerable interest is being manifested in the coming tournament for the Crocker-McKee cups, which begins next Thursday morning, Aug. 30. This is open to all members and associates of the United States Golf association, and will attract a large field of players from many clubs. The first 16 will qualify for the cup, and the second and third 16s will play for special trophies.

Society Notes

Cards are out for Miss Godshalk's lecture on Thessaly with 25 prominent ladies of Magnolia as its patronesses. Miss Godshalk was in Greece soon after Miss Stone's capture and made her visit to Thessaly under the protection of an armed escort. Mount Olympus and Thermopylae and Delphie are names to conjure with, yet they are rarely visited because of their relative inaccessibility. The lecture is to be given in the Library hall, next Thursday evening at 8.30. The entire proceeds are to be given to the Village church.

It is reported that Otto H. Kahn has bought a place in Manchester and will come to the shore permanently summers hereafter. This is not verified at this writing, however.

Quincy Cup Races

Some interesting yacht racing has been going on off Manchester the past week, the competitions being for the Quincy Cup, now held by the Manchester Yacht club. The Manchester II, owned by Dr. John L. Bremer, is the cup defender. The three challengers are: Auk, owned by Chas. Francis Adams, 2d, the Windrim Kid, representing the Corinthian Yacht club, and Bonidrei of the Boston Yacht club. The first race on Wednesday was won with ease by the Manchester II. On Thursday the Windrim Kid won, and yesterday the Bonidrei won, with the Manchester second.

As the boat winning the cup must win at least three races, it is likely that the series will be carried well over into next week. Singularly enough the Auk, one of the boats selected for the German-American races, has not captured a leg thus far.

At his attractive estate outside of Albany Robert Lincoln is to make extensive improvements, including the moving of a number of large trees. Linehan, Estes & Co. have the contract for the work. Mr. Estes is an expert in this line.

MANCHESTER

James K. Pulsifer and son returned Tuesday from a week's trip to Montreal and Quebec.

Late Wednesday afternoon as the lamplighter was lighting the street lamp in front of G. W. Hooper's store the measure of gasolene caught fire in some manner, and being dropped, spread all over the bottom of the wagon. The young man took off his coat and tried to smother the fire, but it covered too much area for the coat, and more serious results were looked for. Somebody finally obtained two fire extinguishers from the engine house, and after some difficulty learned how to work the machines so as to get results from them. Unlike the usual fire extinguishers, those on the chemical are necessarily constructed so that the contents will not run out by turning the receptacle upside down. A slight twist of the head, however, is all that is needed to make it work. Those who obtained the extinguishers Wednesday were not sufficiently acquainted with them to use them.

Society Notes

Capt. Hebbinghaus of the German navy, who is here in connection with the German-American races, was a guest of the German ambassador and Baroness von Sternberg at lunch on Wednesday. On Thursday Mr. Wm. Endicott of Ipswich was their guest. Baron and Baroness von Sternberg started for Saranac Inn, in the Adirondack, yesterday.

Count Hatzfeldt, first secretary to the German legation, returned on Wednesday from a week's visit to Newport.

Among those who have entertained at the Grill club the past week were Miss Anna Richards, who entertained a party of eleven at tea Wednesday; Mrs. Emerson of Nahant, nine at tea on the same day; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Steinert were over from Beverly Cove Tuesday and entertained a number of friends at a little dinner party; Mr. East of the Peruvian contingent gave a dinner for eleven on Wednesday and six on Thursday.

Tournament of Mounted

Sports Postponed One Week

The tournament of mounted sports scheduled for this afternoon on the beach at Magnolia was postponed till next Saturday. Two weddings taking place at Magnolia today, with the fact that the tide was not best suited for today, and because some of the polo ponies of the Myopia Hunt club will be here next week, was responsible for the change in plans.

Among the entries in the children's saddle class are Miss G. O'Brien and Master R. O'Brien. Capt. F. de Joney has entered his ponies and one of these will be ridden by Miss Wadsworth. Master Wadsworth will ride Mr. Van Namen's "Lady Love," which captured so many ribbons in England. J. Henry Coulter has entered his ponies also.

In the potato race will appear Reggie Bolles, H. C. Washburn, H. Van Namen, Miss Helen Carl, Miss Margaret Summey, Miss Carleton, Miss Curry and Harold Potter.

Peter Roche has entered several horses in the quarter mile; Capt. de Joney has entered two horses; Reginald Fitz has entered "Nine o' Hearts" and Harold Fund may also enter his pony. J. H. Coulter will ride "Brown Jug."

In the quarter-mile flat Capt. de Joney has entered "Starlight" and "Princess;" J. H. Coulter has entered "Slivers," "Happy Days," "Brown Jug;" Mr. Fitz, his "Nine o' Hearts."

From these entries it will be seen the events are to be of unusual interest next week. The hour set is 2.30.

SATURDAY, AUG. 25, 1906.

TWO PROMINENT WEDDINGS

North Shore Folk Interested in Two Weddings Today, One at Manchester Cove, the Other at Magnolia

KNOOP-SARGENT

At the pretty home of the bride on Magnolia Point, at 12.30 o'clock this noon, Miss Emily Sargent, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sargent, was married to Baron John Ludwig Knop of Schloss Muhlenenthal, Germany.

The nuptials were attended by only the immediate families of the couple, and was a very quiet, though pretty home wedding. Though Baron Knop's home is in Germany, he is a British subject and the couple will make their home in England for the present, at least. Captain Wyndham, the British consul at Boston, was among the very few present at the wedding.

Miss Sargent was unattended. She was given in marriage by her father, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Markham Stackpole of the Central Congregational church, Boston, but formerly of the Village church, Magnolia.

The house was very prettily decorated for the occasion, with a profusion of pink and white flowers, the decorations being by Houghton & Clark of Boston and Magnolia. A breakfast was served at the Sargent home after the wedding.

SHAW-MITCHELL

One of the most prominent weddings of the year in this section will be that this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock of Miss Naneen Campbell Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Mitchell of Manchester, and Quincy Adams Shaw, 2d, son of Mrs. Louis A. Shaw of Chestnut Hill. The wedding will occur at the Mitchell summer home in Manchester and will be attended by only the immediate families of the couple, though the reception which will follow on the lawn in front of the cottage will be attended by several hundred people from along the North Shore.

Rev. William H. Dewart, rector of Christ's church, Hyde Park, who summers at Manchester Cove, will be the officiating clergyman. The Episcopal ring service will be used.

The house has been beautifully decorated for the wedding with a profusion of pink flowers, mostly lilies, and white hardy hydrangeas, which form the floral effect in the arch under which the couple will stand.

The bride's gown is of white satin, covered with white tulle, trimmed with Brussels lace, and en traine. She will wear a long bridal veil of Brussels lace, with orange blossoms.

Miss Mary Bigelow of Cohasset will be the maid of honor. The bridesmaids are Misses Eleanora Sears, Alice West, Grace Probasco and Susan Thayer. All the attendants wore gowns of white Valenciennes lace, with white hats, trimmed with ostrich plumes, and carried lilies of the valley.

Samuel Walcott of Boston will be the best man. The ushers are George West and Louis Shaw of Chestnut Hill, Harry Tweed of New York, Rudolph Wells of Boston, Robert Grant of Nahant.

The music at the wedding will be furnished by the boys' choir of Trinity church, Boston, under the direction of Wallace Goodrich. There will also be four men's voices.

Following the ceremony there will be a reception on the beautiful lawn adjoining the Mitchell house. The Salem Cadet Band will furnish the music.

Edward Knowlton

Edward Knowlton, son of the late D. L. B. and Mary Knowlton, was found dead on his bed at Manchester last Friday night, having lain down with his clothes and shoes on. Medical Examiner Haddock was called and pronounced death due to epilepsy. One brother and two sisters survive. The deceased was 45 years of age and unmarried.

The "Students' Concert" scheduled to take place at the Manchester Town hall Thursday evening of this week was postponed because of the sickness of the principal performer. The entertainment will be given, however, on Sept. 5, at the same place and hour.

ST. MARGARET'S RECTORY

Work Has Been Started on Beautiful New

Work is now well under way in the construction of St. Margaret's Rectory in Beverly Farms, which, when completed will make one of the finest looking buildings along the North Shore. It is to be built at a cost of about $20,000, on the knoll, off Hale street, and adjoining the Catholic church, about midway between Beverly Farms and Pride's Crossing.

The house will be built of stone, taken entirely from the site on which it is to be built, and it will be constructed with an eye of architectural beauty, so as to be thoroughly in keeping with the houses in this section of the North Shore.

The site on which the house is to be built, comprising about 32,000 feet of land, was purchased from the city of Beverly last winter at a cost of about $5000.

It will be quite a large structure, having 11 rooms in the main part of the house, not counting the top floor which will be left unfinished for the present, the kitchen, servants' rooms, baths, etc. The interior is to be finished in oak. A high dado will run around the rooms on the lower and upper floors. The library on the first floor will be fitted in first class style. The parlor, sitting room and an office will also be on this floor. On the second floor there will be two rooms each for the pastor and curate, with baths connecting.

A verandah will add to the exterior beauty of the house on the ground floor and on the second floor as well.

Edward Graham of Boston is the architect. The contract for building the house has been awarded to Watson Bros., of Beverly Farms, while the carpentry work will be done by Mr. Logue of Boston. The foundations have been completed and work on the main structure has been started.

The need of a rectory has been realized in Beverly Farms since a parish was established here a year ago last winter, and the late Fr. Downey took steps toward starting the work, but not till Fr. Nicholas R. Walsh took charge of the parish was any definite move made.

The house, built of stone, and standing out on a small knoll on the main line of travel along the North Shore, will no doubt be much admired by the many North Shore visitors. The grounds about the house will be trimmed up and turned into quite a pretty spot. An open passage way will run from the house to the church alongside.

Society Notes

Mr. B. Kroupensky of Russia has taken a suite at the Grill club, in Magnolia, for the rest of the season and not at one of the hotels, as reported last week. Sunday he entertained a number of friends in the Grill club garden with afternoon tea, at which were present Baron and Baroness Rosen and the Russian consul at Boston and wife.

Edward Clark entertained the representatives of the Kaiser sent here for the German-American races at a luncheon at the Grill club Tuesday.

C. S. Williams of New Orleans has taken a suite at the Grill club for the balance of this month. Mr. Williams was best man at the Tucker-House wedding last December.

Mrs. Gen. Wm. A. Draper was over from Manchester Thursday and entertained a small luncheon party of ten covers at the Dolphin, in Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Merrill, and Miss Raymond, Mrs. Merrill's sister, were included among the guests at a little dinner given by Mr. Bartlett at the Grill club, in Magnolia, Tuesday night.

R. J. Wilson of Sydney has been a recent guest of George R. White at "Lilliothea," Manchester. Mr. Wilson is a nephew of Sir Alexander Stuart, prime minister of the colony of New South Wales till his death, and one of the best known men of his day.

Harold Tweed is at Saratoga. He will sail for England shortly to take in the Harvard-Oxford boat races.

H. A. Richmond returned to Beverly Farms Monday, after a visit with friends in Bar Harbor.

Miss Alma Pond of Cambridge is visiting her brother, Rev. Clarence Strong Pond, High street.

Despite the extremely hot weather on Thursday, the fair given by the Friends' Bible class of the Beverly Farms Baptist church was largely attended, and was an affair which not only afforded the people of the village an opportunity to get together in a social way, but served, as well, in realizing a goodly sum of money in aid of the parsonage fund. The proceeds will help materially in lightening the burden of the mortgage debt. There were numerous sales tables. Supper was served at 6 o'clock. An entertainment was offered in the evening.

Last Monday the estate of the late Elizabeth and Ivory Day, situated on Grapevine road and Horse Hill lane, East Wenham, was sold at public auction. Agent L. E. Libby of Wenham was the purchaser, representing Mrs. Abbie Prince, whose estate adjoins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warner are spending a week at Portland, Me., visiting relatives of Mrs. Warner and incidentally taking in the points of interest in that vicinity.

Jesse Pierce, the proprietor of the Pierce nurseries, Hart street, is taking a well-earned week's rest, and is spending it at East Wakefield, N.H.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

Each Spring and Summer hundreds of people all over the country turn to the advertising columns of the Boston Evening Transcript for information as to where the most desirable summer boarding places are located. If you intend to accommodate boarders it will be to your advantage to send us your name and address at once, together with a description of your place and of the accommodations you offer, and we will assist you in getting up an attractive advertisement which will undoubtedly bring excellent results. Advertising rates from 50c per day upward. Each season The Transcript publishes more advertisements offering board for the Summer than all the other Boston newspapers combined, proving it to be the most successful medium for this purpose. Sample copies, full information, testimonials, etc., upon application to BOSTON TRANSCRIPT COMPANY, 324 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

The new apportionment of the county into representative districts seems to please the politicians. The placing of Beverly with Danvers as a double district gives satisfaction to both places. It is proposed that Beverly have thirteen and Danvers seven of the twenty representative places.

MAGNOLIA

The Village Protective and Improvement association held its annual meeting and election of officers at Library hall on Thursday evening. The same officers as last year were re-elected, with the addition of Lafayette Hunt to the Board of Directors. A new constitution and by-laws were presented by the directors and approved by the meeting, and a special meeting is to be called later with a view to their adoption. The smoke-nuisance was vigorously denounced and the automobile-nuisance no less vigorously, and steps were taken leading to their abatement. The following are the officers for the ensuing year: Clerk, Joseph Sargent, jr.; treasurer, Otis Weld Richardson; directors, Chas. W. Jones, Joseph Sargent, jr.; Otis Weld Richardson, Chas. E. Billings, Geo. A. Upton, James S. Lee, Horace B. Stanton, Frederick J. Libby and Lafayette Hunt.

Affairs at the Women's Club House have been lively during the past week and promise to continue so till the end of the season judging by present indications. Monday evening the Oceanside orchestra gave a most enjoyable concert and dance. Tuesday Mrs. Newell assisted by the orchestra of the New Magnolia gave a delightful concert, for which through the courtesy of the hotel management souvenir programs were printed. A rarebit party was the attraction Wednesday. Progressive whist had been planned for Thursday, but the shower prevented a large attendance. Tonight there is to be an informal dance. Among the attractions for next week are a stereopticon lecture by the Rev. M. W. Stackpole, an entertainment given by members of the club, and a concert with mandolin and guitar by Misses Dustin and Rice and Mr. Brooks of Gloucester.

There is to be a lecture on Turkey illustrated with the stereopticon at the Village church tomorrow evening. The pastor will describe his own experiences in the land of the sultan.

The notorious Pine Tree Inn which has long disfigured the road between Magnolia and Gloucester was bought this week and torn down by Michael Kehoe.

The pool tournament at the Men's Summer club is progressing well and the third round is beginning. Mr. Louis E. Day, under whose management the club has attained a membership of over 100, has resigned to take up other work, and Mr. F. S. Hayden is to be in charge for the balance of the season.

A BUNCH OF BEAUTIES

in the Prince of Pilsen, at the Tremont Theatre Boston, commencing Monday, Aug. 27.

"Cape Cod Folks."

In constructing the new play, "Cape Cod Folks," which will be seen for the first time on any stage at the Boston theatre next Monday evening, the authors have gone far afield for novel situations, and one of the most important is the famous story of Grace Darling. Mary Hungerford, the pretty Boston school teacher, puts out in the teeth of a fierce storm on the Cape, and battles her way in a small dory to the wreck of the schooner in which her lover had sailed away in a moment of anger.

Throughout the play runs the true atmosphere of the Cape, and the quaint characters make it unique in this class of drama.

With a view to exciting the imagination of the young in relation to Cape Cod and its people, Manager McCarty offers as a prize to the school boy or girl who, after witnessing a matinee performance of the play, shall write the best essay on the lessons contained therein, a $1000 Toppan speed launch of the latest pattern. The prize will be awarded at the last matinee performance of "Cape Cod Folks" on Saturday, September 15.

BEVERLY FARMS

Some sentiment is being expressed concerning the name of "Elliott avenue" the new street across the Marshall or Trowt field. The claim is set up by some that this name might be confused with Elliott street in Beverly and that the new street should be called "Vine street" as it is a continuation of the present Vine court, while others think an entirely new name would be the better plan.

The past week has indeed been a hot one, but Beverly Farms has been fortunate in having a place like West Beach which has been all along quite a number of degrees cooler than most places in this vicinity. The property is truly the mecca for large numbers, especially the children who are these days enjoying themselves there to their hearts content from morning to night. This week's record for bathing is the banner one, more enjoying a dip in the briny deep, than any other week during the present season.

Rep. Wm. R. Brooks, Howard Doane, John Wallis, Jos. B. Harlow and George Coburn were those of the Farms who on Monday last enjoyed the Masons outing at Chebacco lake, where one of the cottages was thrown open for their use and a splendid clam bake was one of the pleasant features.

At the coming Republican caucuses in September Mr. William R. Brooks will probably be a candidate for re-election to the state legislature — as it has been in the past customary to give three consecutive terms to each member. Mr. Brooks has served but two terms and they were not consecutive. It does seem that his claim for the usual treatment is a just one, especially so, in view of his excellent record and splendid work at Beacon Hill the past year. The feeling at the Farms is unanimous for Mr. Brooks' return.

Mrs. Frank Garrell of Manchester, has been spending the past few days with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. M. Blanchard at Preston Place.

Arthur Day, a Farms young man, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Day, Hart street, who has been quite ill for a week or more, was taken on Thursday morning to the New England Baptist hospital, Roxbury, for treatment.

Miss Nellie Fay of Roxbury, is spending a part of her summer vacation at Beverly Farms, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Morgan, West street.

Mrs. Lewis G. Williams and child have been spending the past week at Everett, guests of Miss Florence Bean.

A. Standley, the Central square shoe dealer, has on exhibition a pair of specially high grade shoes which he will donate to the winner at the Catholic Bazaar, next week.

The employees of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Richmond on Wednesday evening gave to their friends a very pretty "barn" dance, the same taking place at the summer home off Haskell street. The building and grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns.

The grocery and provision clerks of Beverly Farms gave an enjoyable dance in Neighbor's hall last evening. The hall was well filled and the party kept up till a late hour.

Mrs. Gordon Bartlett is the guest of relatives at Westport, N.H.

Mr. Moran is the name of Parker's new baker. He is a man of a great many years' experience and is excellently fitted to cater to the best trade which Mr. Parker demands. Tonight Mr. Parker intends to give away a free sample of cake with every dish of ice cream sold. Drop around and hear the music. The pianola will be working.

Last Sunday the Misses Connolly, daughters of Thos. D. Connolly, with some half a dozen or more friends, went over to Misery island for a few hours' stay. Upon landing they were met by T. C. Hollander, a cottager, who, garbed only in a bathing suit, warned them not to land. As Mr. Connolly, of the firm of Connolly Bros., is a bond holder, and therefore a tenant in common with others, the demands of Mr. Hollander were met with somewhat of a surprise by the young people. When they landed Mr. Hollander telephoned to Salem for a policeman. Not desiring to cause any further trouble, though they had a perfect legal right to remain on the island, the party left on the demand of the officer. Mr. Connolly has taken the matter in hand and will go into it thoroughly, and no doubt later on will be instrumental in cleaning up the affair, in which justice will be done to all, thereby preventing a re-occurrence of such an unpleasant situation.

Mrs. Frank McCoy left Wednesday for Nova Scotia, where she will spend the next two weeks visiting her former home and friends in that vicinity.

A little girl was born on Sunday last to Mr. and Mrs. James Hicks (Gertie Chipchase) at Pride's Crossing.

Miss Aurora de Mena, the Cuban young lady who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Connolly the past week, returned to Cambridge yesterday. She will shortly leave for Cuba to resume her duties as supervisor in the Cuban schools.

The Misses Mary and Katherine Casey, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Connolly, Oak street, returned to their home in Providence, R. I., today, Miss Gertrude Connolly accompanying them for a week's stay.

The bazaar in aid of St. Margaret's rectory will open in Neighbor's hall on Monday evening next, Aug. 27, and will continue through the week, each evening, concluding on Monday night, Sept. 3, with a grand social and dance. Stationed around the hall at different places will be numerous sales tables, upon which will be displayed an assortment of useful and fancy articles, together with novelties and refreshments. There is also to be introduced many new features which will afford considerable amusement; as will also the entertainment to be provided each evening. A large committee of the ladies of the parish have for a long time labored indefatigably, and to their efforts, no doubt, the success of the affair will be due.

The Summer Flower Show

The annual summer exhibition of flowers, fruits and vegetables of the North Shore Horticultural society will be held next week, on Wednesday and Thursday. By courtesy of the Essex County club the show will be held again this year on the club grounds. The hours will be from 2 to 10 on Wednesday and 10 until 10 on Thursday. The admission will be 25 cents, but each evening the admission will be 10 cents.

Being held on the lawn near the club house, on the same afternoon as the band concert the exhibition will be of particular interest to the North Shore people who gather here every Wednesday. The fact that the men's tennis tournament and a special golf tournament will be on next week will also add materially to the interest. It is expected that the show will surpass every effort of the past in this direction. An orchestra will play evenings.

The show committee desires to call attention to the fact that any flower grown from seed sown this year and treated as annuals will be admitted in competition for the Schlegel & Fottler Co.'s special prize for annuals of $35 in gold.

The following letters illustrates the frame of mind of those who are receiving the results under policies of the New York Life Insurance Company:

Lynn, Mass., June 16, 1906.
Mr. Chas. H. Fleming,
Salem, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

I would state that I am well pleased with the settlement of my policy in the New York Life Insurance Company. The policy was written on the 20-Payment Life Plan for $2000. I am offered in settlement a cash dividend of $407, and continue my insurance, or a cash payment of $1265.10, and surrender my policy.

Yours truly,

Frank H. Frizzell.

Marblehead, Nov. 20, 1905.

Mr. Chas. H. Fleming,
Salem, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt this week of $1268.75, for which I return thanks. It does not seem 15 years since I took this policy out, I being at the time only nineteen years old.

It has been a great help to me, as I have had occasion to use the loan clause, which is one of the useful features of this policy.

I will now close by wishing you success. I remain,

Yours truly,

William Ward.

Mr. C. H. Fleming,

Dear Sir:—

I have yours of May 28th, including list of options on my policy. I would say that I have decided on Option H of Dividend of $486.67 with a paid-up policy of $3000.

Needless to tell you that I have had entire satisfaction in the way of management when I have taken out two new policies of the same form.

Thanking you for your kindness in settling the matter for me,

Yours truly,

P. L. M. Gaudette.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1906.

In the month of July the company paid Endowment settlements amounting to $280,631, for which the policy-holders had paid $220,810, and they were insured meantime.

In death claims the company paid in July $1,819,853 on the lives of 593 persons.

AT THE HOTELS

The New Magnolia

At no time this season has the display of wealth and fashion been more marked at Magnolia than during the last week, and among the folk contributing to this society pageant the guests of the New Magnolia Hotel played a most conspicuous part. There were numerable entertainments at this hotel, but the event of the week, indeed, the event of the season at this most popular of North Shore hostleries, was the Pop concert given last night in the New Magnolia. Manager Mowry inaugurated these concerts three seasons ago, and so immediate was the success of the novelty that the pop concert given each August has come to stand for all that is fashionable and enjoyable. The concert was given in the large dining room. All about the room were bankings of shrubbery and grouping of pine trees. The electroliers were half hidden by masses of oak leaves, and the lights fell through yellow shades. Quantities of golden rod and golden glow helped to carry out the yellow decorative scheme. The concert was excellent, a large orchestra giving a splendid program, while the Weber Quartet of Boston and several soloists of note also appeared. Every table was filled with guests, many people coming from Boston and other places along the shore, and a varied menu was served to order. The scene was that of a fashionable roof garden, and the music was all that the music at an entertainment modelled on Boston's famous pop concerts should be.

Another entertainment of particular fascination to the New Magnolia guests was the Package party Tuesday night. All the guests had contributed a package, and these were suspended from a string stretched across the casino. When the people had assembled, each in turn was blindfolded and told to choose his present. The first package touched became the property of the blindfolded one, who was then obliged to open it in the presence of the entire assemblage. It may be that there was some manipulation of these packages, for R. D. Van Namen, whose horses are famous, found in a great heavy wooden box a tiny tin horse labelled "Lady Love," after his star prize winner. Miss Gladys Mason, the pretty Boston girl who is to be married in the winter to E. B. Hayward, also of Boston, received a miniature cook stove. The evening finished with an informal hop and the serving of punch and light refreshments.

Miss E. M. Tompkins of Adamsville has joined Mrs. O. Tompkins at this hotel, where they will spend the balance of the season.

Julius E. Ober of Pittsburgh, Pa., has joined Mrs. M. A. Ober of Brookline at the New Magnolia, where the latter, with her family, has been spending the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ledger of Hartford, Conn., and F. E. Pratt of New York are at the New Magnolia for an extended stay.

Mrs. F. H. Bunch and family of Little Rock, Ark., have joined her friends, Mrs. C. M. Taylor and family, here, where they are making an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hale and Mrs. A. H. Sawyer of Newburyport came over in their auto the first of the week and will spend a few days at this hotel.

Mrs. John Spencer Camp and Mrs. E. Henry Hyde of Hartford, Conn., accompanied by Mrs. Frank S. Freeman of Brooklyn, N.Y., are registered here for the balance of the season. They have their Mercedes touring car with them, which will be used in sight-seeing along the North Shore.

F. E. Emerich, L. B. Emerich and Miss P. Emerich of Oswego, N.Y., and Miss Ruth Burns of Middletown, N.Y., comprised another auto party who enjoyed the hospitality of the New Magnolia on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Benson of Oswego, N.Y., are among the week's arrivals.

Mrs. George A. Keeney, George A. Keeney, jr., C. B. Keeney and A. P. Keeney of Elizabeth, N.J., have registered for an indefinite stay, having made the trip in their touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fay of St. Louis have registered for the balance of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. de Meuron of Yonkers, N.Y., are making an extended stay at this hotel. Mr. de Meuron is prominently identified as one of the leading architects of New Jersey.

Emanuel church (Episcopal), Masconomo street—Morning prayers at 11 o'clock. Holy communion first and third Sundays in the month.

Sacred Heart church, Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, pastor; Rev. John S. Perry, assistant. Sunday masses at 7.00, 8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; Sunday evening devotions at 7.45; First Friday devotions at 5.30 and 7.00 A. M., and 7.45 P. M. Week-day mass at the church at 7.30 A. M.

Rev. Robert Collyer of New York will preach at the First Unitarian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, who has been spending a fortnight at Northfield, was joined Thursday by his mother, Mrs. Brewster, who accompanied him to her former home in Grandville, N. Y., where Mr. Brewster will preach tomorrow at the Grandville Baptist church. Miss Harriet Brewster is visiting some of her young friends in Whitman.

Rev. M. C. Ayres of Newton will preach at the Congregational church tomorrow, morning and evening. The evening services will be at 7 instead of 7.30 o'clock.

Rev. Robert M. Martin of Salem will supply at the Baptist church tomorrow in the absence of the pastor.

Return of "The Prince."

Next Monday, Aug. 27, the "Prince of Pilsen" will "return to its own," and will begin a brief but welcome engagement in the Tremont Theatre, where it scored its first triumph and was started on a career that has made its melodies, its comedy and its lyrics popular wherever the English language is spoken. A complete equipment of new costumes will be shown for the first time here, and Manager Savage has provided every factor necessary to maintaining the "Prince of Pilsen" in the position it holds as the most popular and successful musical comedy ever produced in America.

Wonderland Is Booming.

It is the unanimous and invariable verdict that this new amusement realm stands pre-eminent, both in point of the novelty and variety as well as the merit of its attractions. Its free shows alone have done much to insure and enhance its popularity. Professor Darling's performing ponies are in evidence as one of the free shows, and those dainty little animals, by their clever tricks and skilful manoeuvres, furnish a decidedly interesting and entertaining performance.

Just now everything at Wonderland is on the boom, and all the shows are generously patronized. This no doubt will continue to be the case until the close of the season, which, according to the original intention, was to have been the 9th of September. Now, however, the time has been extended so as to include the Revere Carnival, and Wonderland will close its gates for the season on Sunday evening, September 16.

Merritt Couches

One of the most convenient things a house can hold. It's as comfortable a couch as one would wish for; and if there's a guest or two more than the regular beds can take care of, Presto change, and in a twinkling it's a regular bed with national spring, mattress and pillows complete—better than that, you needn't take up all the space in the room by making it a full sized bed unless it's necessary. Simply raise one side and it's $\frac{3}{4}$ size; can you conceive anything more practical?

THE MASQUERADE

MARGARET L. CORLIES

On fashion's topmost pinnacle I stand,
In satin dressed, a fan within my hand —
Would it flutter if I heard him speak today,
As on the night I promised to obey?
Nay, the fond heart is dead, once full of life,
Killed when I vowed to be his faithful wife.
Pray do not weep and beg me trust today,
My heart is cold and hard and far away.

It was the evening of that happy day,
The feast was o'er, the guests had gone away,
And I was dressing with a natural pride,
Which any girl might feel who's just a bride —

I was in such a gay and happy mood,
With gloves in hand before my glass I stood,
My heart was throbbing and my pulses burned,
When the door opened and I gaily turned.

One moment I was locked in glad embrace,
As proudly 'gainst his breast I hid my face;
And then the door swung softly back again,
Ah, could I from this memory refrain.
A gentle fragrance seemed to fill the room,
Of violets pall, or some such sweet perfume;
As clad in black a woman crossed my life
The door swung to again — she was his wife.

The social world was left — I'd flung away,
My richest jewel for this heart of clay;
A dazzling brilliant dream had lost its light,
It was as dark now as it had been bright.
Why do I tell you this at last my friend?
Because my journey here is near its end,
I am so cold, so hard, so weary too,
Of living my lone life with dear ones few.

I've hid the ache, the loneliness and strife,
The social magnates think they've filled
my life,
I've breasted high the crowd who crave to know
What turned my life from happiness to woe.

As fashions feted darling I am known,
My pathway with rare blossoms has been strewn,
But one was plucked from me with bitter tears:
Ah, — friend how long ago? How many years?

Tonight I am in richest satin dressed,
Not looking, as I know, quite at my best,
Still I am keeping up the idle show,
I cannot drop the mask just yet you know.
Bend near me, friend, the light is growing dim,
Talk gently of that long ago — and him.
When I am gone and you shall take his hand,
Tell him I loved him best in all the land.

ON THE MANCHESTER-MAGNOLIA ROAD

Say that I did forgive, for who can tell
How hard the struggle when temptation fell.
For him I longed and wondered if I'd send,
If in his arms he'd take me e'er I went.
A sham, a masquerade, an idle show,
Is what is forced on some of us you know.
Hold tight my hand and dry your tears, dear friend
The light is going — strife is at an end.

SUMMER SHOW

August Flower Show of the North Shore
Horticultural Society Held at Essex County Club This Week — Some Excellent Exhibits

The annual summer flower show of the North Shore Horticultural society was held at Manchester Wednesday and Thursday of this week in a mammoth tent on the lawn, near the Essex County club grounds. Both in point of excellence in the display made and in the attendance on both days, did the show excel any similar event of the past on the North Shore.

The growing interest in the shows of the society was very much in evidence this week, in the large number of people from along the Shore who attended. The fact that the weekly band concert was held at the club on Wednesday afternoon was responsible for bringing many people to the show.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. F. K. Hooper, Mrs. Charles Hooper, Harry and Charlie Hooper returned Tuesday from a week's visit to East Lyndboro, N.H., where they were located at the "Pinnacle House."

Stephen Hoare and Edward Wheaton were on a trip to Provincetown Wednesday.

Miss Alice Reed of Cambridge has been a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Swett.

Next Friday evening, when the next meeting of the North Shore Horticultural society will be held, the subject to be discussed will be "Hardy Plants," the discussion to be opened by Messrs. Joseph Clark and Philemon Sanborn.

Lenora F. Gorman of Manchester conveys to W. H. McEachran of Manchester, land and building on Pine street, Manchester.

In the district court at Salem Tuesday, Timothy Cronin, charged with non-support of his children, was ordered to pay $6 a week.

Comrades Edwin P. Stanley, Thomas A. Morse and Daron W. Morse attended the 19th Mass. Regimental reunion at the Revere house, Boston, Tuesday. There were 54 of the "Boys of the old 19th" present. Mr. Stanley was chosen the first vice president. Next year, probably, the reunion will be held at Manchester, the invitation extended by Mr. Stanley being considered very favorably. Two prominent members of the regiment, General Devereaux and General Edmund Rice, and Benjamin Tuck of Manchester, were among the deaths recorded for the year.

George L. Knight goes to Sutton, N. H., today, where he will join Mrs. Knight for about a month's visit.

The last band concert of the season will be given on the Common next Wednesday evening, practically all the $500 appropriated at town meeting for the purpose being expended.

Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Saben returned Thursday from their summer's vacation spent at Winchester, N.H., where they had a farm house for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Hill and daughter, Miss Edna Hill of Flushing, N.Y., Mrs. Charles G. Faxter and daughter, Miss Mabel Faxter of South Framingham, have been the guests of Mrs. John R. Cheever, Union street, the past week.

The work of the assessors has been practically completed for the year, and this morning Chairman Swett turned over to Treasurer Stanley the warrant of taxes. The new tax bills have just been printed at the office of The Breeze Print and it will be a matter of only a few days before the bills will be made out and distributed. Then it will be the tax-payers' innings.

Miss Gwendolyn Glendenning returned yesterday from a month's visit with relatives in Sawyerville, Que.

Wm. A. Smith of Boston will be in charge of James Culbert's harness shop in the Knight building, Beach street, for the balance of the season. Mr. Smith has been till this week in charge of Mr. Culbert's Boston shop, and is an exceptionally fine workman.

With the full and complete line of goods Mr. Culbert has to offer, and with good bargains for the season's close, this shop is offering some fine trades to its patrons.

Society Notes

Miss Helen Fitch of Manchester is the owner of one of the handsomest and best bred dogs on the North Shore this season, in the English bull dog which was brought from England recently. Its sire, Champion Dr. Selwonk, is the most noted dog in the world probably. L. J. Knowles paid $5000 for it, and King Edward is said to have offered $8000 for this noted champion. Miss Fitch will no doubt show her pet in some of the future dog shows.

H. P. King is on a cruise down the Maine coast in his trim yacht, leaving Prides Crossing last week.

Mrs. J. S. Cabot has as her house guest, at Prides Crossing Mrs. Merritt Trimble of New York

Mrs. H. M. Sears has been paying a visit to the J. C. R. Peabodys, at Paul Smith, in the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brooks and Miss Brooks, Dr. W. Horace Hoskins and wife and Miss Hoskins of Philadelphia spent Sunday at Magnolia.

Miss P. S. Stackpole, who has been a recent house guest of Mrs. R. H. Stevenson at Prides Crossing, is now a guest of Mrs. Bryce J. Allan at Beverly Cove.

Guy Norman will be among the North Shore people who will take in the oar races in England next week. He sailed for Europe Saturday.

It was a merry group of children that thronged the Manchester Yacht club Monday afternoon for the annual Children's Day. The young folk were entertained by F. O. Harrell with legerdemain and social novelties, after which they were given a short sail down the harbor on the Velthra, by invitation of Mrs. S. Parker Bremer.

Mrs. George von L. Meyer of Boston, wife of the United States ambassador to Russia, arrived at New York Thursday. She was accompanied by her daughters, Julia and Alice, and her son, George. Mrs. Meyer had little to say regarding conditions in Russia, save that everything was quiet when she left St. Petersburg two weeks ago. The party left Sunday for Hamilton, Ontario.

The Round About club of Gloucester held one of its monthly picnics at Tuck's Point, Tuesday afternoon. Launches were provided to take the guests down the harbor and along the Beverly Farms shore as far as the Frick estate. At 5 o'clock the party, some fifty in number, sat down to a bounteous supper on the pavilion. The day's outing proved a most enjoyable one.

Mrs. Fred Hiscock of New York City has been spending a few days in town this week visiting Mrs. Charles A. Lodge, Bennett street.

James Deviney, who has a position with the Ward Electric Co. of Boston, is spending a fortnight's vacation in town, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jane Deviney.

Work has been started at Eaglehead, the McMillan estate, on the construction of a large hen house to take the place of those burned last spring. The building will be 40 feet long and 16 feet wide, and will be finished inside with plaster. It will be heated throughout, and all modern appliances for the best care of fancy poultry will be installed. This has always been one of the most interesting features of the McMillan estate.

A driver for Pope, the lumber dealer, while driving to Manchester Thursday with a load of 3000 feet of lumber for Chester L. Crafts, tried to put on the brakes while coming down Mingo Beach hill. In some manner the heavy wheel passed over his foot, breaking two toes. The fellow was full of pluck, however, and instead of seeking relief from the pains, he proceeded on his road and would have unloaded the lumber but for the apprehension of some friends in Manchester, who persuaded him to go to Dr. Blaisdell's office and have his broken members set. The man drove his horses home, and was as unconcerned, apparently, as if he had merely scratched his finger.

SUMMER HOME A MODEL OF FAMOUS VILLA.

Attorney Searle Having Unique Summer Home Built at Ipswich.

Transported, as it were, from the land of architectural renaissance to New England's shores, a dwelling modelled after the famous Villa Belriposa, near Florence, is soon to form a handsome and unique addition to the summer homes of wealthy Bostonians of the North Shore.

This $40,000 villa is being erected for Charles P. Searle of 280 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and like the Gardner Italian palace in the Fenway, will, when completed, resemble line for line one of the old world show places, which the America's love of Italian architecture is gradually introducing into New England.

Located on the north bank of the Ipswich River on a 90-foot elevation of the old General Sutton estate of 200 acres, and overlooking the sea from Annisquam to the mouth of the Merrimac, this spot which Mr. Searle has recently purchased for his new home at the expense of $27,000, is one unsurpassed in beauty of outlook along the stretches of the North Shore.

The villa, which is to be built by Messrs. Kilham & Hopkins of Boston, will be two stories in height, having that long, low effect peculiar to buildings in the Italian style. The material for the exterior construction will be plaster, the whole a red roofed building with wide overhanging eaves and without dormer windows. The main portion will be 90 feet long, with a wing 50 feet in length. The width of the main section will be 145 feet.

D. Linehan & Sons of Pride's Crossing have the contract for the extensive ground improvements and the mason work throughout. Some magnificent drives, similar in style and construction to those on the Frick estate at Pride's Crossing, totalling some 2600 feet in length, are already in course of construction. These will be lighted by electric lights. A stone crusher has been taken to the place by this concern to enable them to get out stone for the road construction, which when laid, will form a surface tougher than macadam.

Mr. Searle is a well known Boston lawyer. The estate which he will have when completed will be one of the finest on the North Shore. A hundred or more workmen are already at work on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Cunningham are expected to return to their summer residence in West Manchester the middle of next week. They have been spending the past month at Northeast Harbor, Me., but will remain on the shore now till the middle of next month.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. McMillan, who are at Eaglehead, Manchester, for the balance of the summer, have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Curry of Detroit, in whose honor they gave a delightful little dinner of fourteen covers Wednesday evening. The Philip McMillans are at W. C. McMillan's country home just outside Detroit for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moore have closed the Preston cottage on Grove street, Beverly Farms, which they have been occupying since early summer, and are at "Rockmarge," Prides Crossing, with the Judge Moores for the balance of the season.

Mrs. Henry Brewer of New York gave a delightful little tea at The Dolphin yesterday to a number of her friends who are stopping at Magnolia. She had a surprise cake for her guests and quite a unique menu, which included "gorfles from Brussels."

Mayor and Mrs. Raymond of Worcester have been spending a few days on the shore this week. On Tuesday General and Mrs. Wm. A. Draper were over from Manchester and gave a little luncheon party for them at The Dolphin, in Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Denegre have had as their house guest part of the week, at Villa Crest, Mrs. C. S. Hoffman of Newport, of whom Mr. and Mrs. Denegre were guests last week on their visit to Newport by auto.

Society Notes

Miss Mary Southerland who is at the Oceanside for the summer has gone to Oysterville for a week's visit with Miss Zadie Gaff of Washington, who was here to attend the wedding of her cousin, Naneen Mitchell, last Saturday.

Mrs. Huntingdon Wilson left the New Magnolia Friday to join her husband, the newly appointed third assistant secretary of state at Washington. They have taken an apartment on 16th street, for the season.

The secretary of the Swedish legation and Mme de Strale entertained the charge d'affaires of the Italian embassy, Signor Montagna, and his colleague, Count Mocenigo, at the Pop Concert at the New Magnolia this week.

Senor Alfreda Calderon, first secretary of the Peruvian legation, returned this week from a hasty trip to New York, where he met his chief, Senor Pardo, who has just signed a lease for a house in Washington on Massachusetts avenue, between the houses of Mrs. Richard Townsend and Com. Miller, and where he and his bride will entertain extensively this coming winter, planning especially a series of dinner parties. Secretary of State Root will have Senor Pardo's house in Lima, during his visit in Peru.

An Auto Incident

Frederick Fairbanks, son of Vice-President Fairbanks of the United States, is having some exciting experiences while autoing on the North Shore. A week ago the Manchester officers had him before the court for over-speeding, and this week he tried to drive home from Ipswich to Magnolia by a short cut across Ipswich Bay, but unfortunately the water and mud in that vicinity would not lend a willing surface for autoing.

Tuesday, Mr. Fairbanks, with a party of friends from Magnolia where he is spending the summer, were autoing over Ipswich way, in coming home they took the shore road to Ipswich Neck by mistake and after a fast run struck a causeway at the base of Eagle Hill, and finally brought up at the dead terminal of the road. In trying to turn the machine it ran over the embankment to the mud flats and plunged deep into the mire. A sort of pontoon bridge was afterward constructed, and with the assistance of four horses from a farm house a mile away the machine was finally drawn from its soft bed. About 3 a.m. the party made a fresh start for Magnolia. They arrived in time for an early breakfast.

Society Notes

S. Parker Bremer went down to Cottage City with a small party of friends in his steam yacht, Velthra, Thursday, but will return tomorrow so as to be here for the international races off Marblehead Monday and the days following. The Velthra has been selected as one of the guard boats and will act in that capacity with two revenue cutters.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pratt McKean have returned to Prides Crossing from their European trip. They will remain on the shore now till the season's close.

W. S. Spaulding and a party of friends returned to Prides Crossing Sunday from a cruise down the Maine coast in the Isis.

H. C. Pierce returned to Prides Crossing Sunday after a short cruise along the coast as far as Portland in the Yacona.

Augustus P. Loring and family left Prides Crossing Monday for a three weeks' camping trip on their island off the Maine coast, where they go every year about this time.

Charles Cotting's sailing tender won the race in the Manchester Yacht club series Saturday afternoon. There were five other entries, finishing in the order named: R. W. Wigglesworth, F. A. Bemis, G. Wigglesworth, H. S. McKee and Norman Reed, the latter two not finishing.

Samuel Carr, who has an attractive summer home, "The Jungle," on Jersey lane, West Manchester, has recently purchased one of the old farms in Southboro, not far from the Montgomery Sears place.

The entry list in last Saturday's golf at the Essex County club was much smaller than usual, owing to the fact that many were kept away by the two weddings on that afternoon. Special interest centered in last week's competition from the fact that the winners of the two best gross scores qualified to play off at match play, 36 holes, for the possession of the DeArcos cup, presented by Duke DeArcos in 1901. It is to be won three times by the same person before becoming the permanent property of any member. H. H. Wilder and J. T. McMillan turned in the lowest scores, but as the former was not a member, it went to the next lowest, George F. Willett, who will try honors with Mr. McMillan for the cup. R. Bentley won the lowest net score, going around in 77 net, with a handicap of 20.

Fern-Croft Cabin, Marblehead

The most unique dining place on the North Shore is that in quaint old Marblehead, at the terminus of the trolley line near Fort Sewell. It is unique in that it is a LOG CABIN, built on the edge of the water. It is conducted by Mr. E. M. Bevins, who has a wide reputation in the restaurant business at some of the famous places along the shore, and is known as FERN-CROFT CABIN. It has been built and designed by the same man who designed and completed all interior and exterior improvements at Ye Olde Fern-Croft Inn, Danvers. A specialty made of a Combination Chicken and Fish Dinner, $1.00. The famous Fern-Croft Chicken Dinner $1.50, and the Fern-Croft Fish Dinner $1.00,—the best to be found anywhere. Private Dining Rooms. A room for chaffeurs and garage with accommodations for 40 autos. Table reservations can be made by telephone.

The Fern-Croft Inn Company

Having sustained a serious loss by fire, would respectfully give notice that plans have been perfected to provide for the wants of the patrons of the old Inn. A large cottage on the estate has been fitted up for the convenience of patrons and a large addition for kitchen purposes has been constructed. A dining pavilion has been added, 25x45 feet, which will give, with the several private dining rooms, ample seating capacity for guests, and is now open for business.

The same chef who has made the Fern-Croft chicken dinner famous all over the country, has been retained, and the same corps of waiters and other assistants will make the service of the best. Chicken dinners will be served for $1.50 per person, a whole broiled chicken for each diner, as before, and all the specialties for which Fern-Croft Inn has been famous can be had.

Telephone 45-2 Danvers and carriages will meet the visitor by train or trolley at Hathorne. Take trains on the Lawrence branch, Eastern division of the Boston & Maine R. R., and leave the cars at Hathorne.

Thanking their friends for the patronage of the past, The Fern-Croft Inn company solicits a continuance of their favor, assuring them that every effort will be made to provide for their comfort. Having acquired possession of the entire interest in this fine old estate and disposed of its interest in Lake-Croft, the company would announce that it has no connection whatever with any place except Fern-Croft Inn, which will be reproduced in a few months in its original Colonial form, but with the addition of many conveniences for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

The Fern-Croft Inn Co.,

THE SUMMER HOTELS

The Magnolia season has been the best in years, say all the hotel proprietors. For the past three weeks all the houses have been filled to overflowing. The New Magnolia under the very efficient management of Chas. H. Mowry, is experiencing the best year in its history. Mr. Mowry, has a faculty of drawing some of the very finest people in the country to Magnolia. This hostelry will close its doors for the season probably on Sept. 15. The Oceanside will close on the 24th; the Aborn will remain open through September, and the Hesperus will close probably before the middle of the month.

At the Aborn

Prominent among the Cincinnatians at Magnolia for the season's close are Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Blackmore and son, Misses Isabel, Mary, Lucy and Edith Neff and L. F. Walter, all of whom are at the Aborn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Askin, son and daughter of Pittsburg, Pa., are registered at the Aborn for a few weeks' stay.

G. H. Crocker of the Essex County club and Hugo R. Johnson of Myopia tied for the gross score medal in the 36-hole qualifying round of the Essex County club's invitation tournament held on the club course Thursday. It was one of the most successful tournaments ever conducted by the club and the contest attracted more than 90 of the best players in the state. The course was in admirable condition with the fair green clipped close and the putting greens in fine shape for a tournament. The best single score of the day was by H. H. Wildes of Vesper Country club, who turned in a card of 78.

There will be 14 classes entered for the open air horse show at the Myopia Hunt club, Labor Day. The largest exhibitor will be Judge W. H. Moore of Pride's Crossing, who will exhibit several of his blue ribbon horses; Robert Jordan, son of Eben D. Jordan, will have some fine exhibits. The committee who have the show in charge are George S. Mandell, T. G. Frothingham, Walter D. Denegre and Wm. H. Seabury.

Frank Bros. of Fifth avenue, New York city, the well-known boot makers, have opened a branch in the Colonnade, Magnolia, for the balance of the season, and will remain here probably till after the 15th of this month. They are showing a complete line of fall samples.

The summer residence of Dr. Morrill at Magnolia was entered by burglars Sunday night, who made off with about two dozen silver spoons and a dozen silver forks, leaving dozens of other articles on the sideboard from which they took their booty. Entrance was made through a window which opened from the piazza into the dining room.

Manchester

At the First Unitarian church tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Howard N. Brown of King's Chapel, Boston, will preach.

Miss Clara D'Entremont and Mrs. Isaiah D'Entremont, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Arthur McCormack, the past six weeks, left for their home in E. Pubnico, N.S., last Friday on the Prince George.

Society Notes

The wedding last Saturday of Mr. Shaw and Miss Mitchell at Manchester Cove, an account of which was given in last week's paper, was very largely attended, the whole North Shore, seemingly, being out. At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Shaw rode away in an automobile for Boston, where they remained over night at the Somerset. It was here also that Baron Knoop and his bride, who were married on Saturday afternoon at Magnolia, stopped, and the two couples met. The latter two have since sailed for England. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will spend the fall on the North Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Head returned a day or two ago from their Lake Champlain estate and have been spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Russell, at Manchester Cove, before occupying their own house for the balance of the season.

The last in the series of subscription recitals given on Friday afternoons this summer under the direction of a committee composed of Mrs. Russell Tyson and others, was held yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Francis M. Whitehouse's, Manchester. The recital was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Whitehouse returned Thursday from a cruise in their yacht to Nantucket.

Boston Boat Wins Cup

The Bonidrei, representing the Boston Yacht club, has taken the Quincy Cup, held by the Manchester Yacht club since 1900. The winning race, the sixth in the series, was sailed Tuesday, the Boston boat winning over the others in the final race by a wide margin.

According to the rules of the contest the winning boat must take three legs of the series before coming in possession of the cup. The Manchester won the first leg, the Bonidrei and Windrim Kid each following with one each, then Saturday the Bonidrei took another. Monday the Manchester all but won another leg, but after a most sensational finish the Windrim Kid stole up from behind and crossed the line five feet ahead of the local boat, which everyone had conceded to be a winner. Tuesday the Boston boat won her third race, and the cup.

Few photographers are better known the country over today to the art critics than Henry Havelock Pierce of Boston, who has opened a North Shore office in the Post Office building, Manchester, for the summer.

Mr. Pierce is probably the most "pictorial" of professional photographers in the country, and it is said of him, "he has the gift of finding something picturesque in anything he 'takes'." He is what might be termed a traveling photographer. Two summers ago he was at Newport; last year he was at Narraganset Pier; this year he is on the North Shore. He may be at Bar Harbor or somewhere else next year. He is having calls now to go all over the country. He was out to St. Louis a few weeks ago, and he returned the first of this week from Maine. He has had all he could attend to on the North Shore, and has bookings way up into October. His work is much sought after.

AT THE HOTELS

The Oceanside.

One of the prettiest parties of the season at Magnolia was the rose cotillion at the Oceanside last Saturday evening, the event being attended by hundreds of the hotel guests and cottagers at Magnolia. The leader of the cotillion was A. P. Ellis, Jr. of New Orleans. There were a number of fancy figures, including military flag, arbor and regulation groupings of events of this nature, the effect being enlivened by the many-hued electric lights in the room. General dancing followed, many elaborate costumes being noted.

E. E. Kaufer, the well known miniature artist has returned to the Oceanside for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Dallett and two children of Philadelphia are here for a few weeks' stay.

Misses Helen S. Johnson and Nancy P. Johnson of Cambridge, arrived at the Oceanside Monday for a short visit.

Mrs. H. L. Thompson and Miss A. J. Brown of Brooklyn have registered here this week for an extended stay.

Mrs. James W. Jenkins, Mrs. J. C. Cooper and two children and Miss Louisa C. Robinson of Baltimore have taken rooms at the "Seacrest" for a few weeks' stay.

Mrs. John Stewart, Miss Stewart, Miss A. C., Mr. E. H. and Miss Norma Stewart, of Richmond, Va., arrived last Friday for the balance of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Burnham of Cleveland are at the "Highland Cottage" for the next few weeks.

Florence Virginia Cummings of Cambridge arrived Monday for a visit with friends at the Oceanside.

Mr. and Mrs. Layton Brewer, child and maid, of Montclair, N.J., are among the late comers. They will remain here till well along in September.

Miss Blanche DeLong of St. Martin's, Pa., and Miss Louise A. Howell of Whitford Chester, Pa., are at the "Russell Cottage," being among the early week arrivals.

Mrs. Frederick W. Jackson and Miss Marguerite Jackson of Chicago, Wm. N. Crane of Tarrytown, S. W. Bonsall of New York, are among other arrivals at the Oceanside this week.

Have your printing done at The Breeze Print, Manchester.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Leo Gorman Killed in Manchester by Auto

All Manchester was shocked the first of the week by the sad accident in which 12-year-old Leo Gorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gorman, lost his life. The lad was playing with some companions at Boyle's livery stable last Sunday night about 9 o'clock, when he ran into the street. Half looking back over his shoulder at the one who was chasing him, he did not notice the approaching auto, nor did the autoist see him. In an instant the two collided and when willing hands lifted the boy from the road life was almost extinct.

The automobile was owned by Frank A. Russell, the well known real estate man of Brookline. He had been a guest over the week end of Mrs. Sylvester Tower and daughter, at Smith's Point, and the party were then returning from the direction of Gloucester. Mr. Russell and those who were with him said the car was not traveling over twelve miles an hour. This fact was attested by those who saw the accident.

Rev. Fr. Powers was notified immediately after the accident, but life was extinct before he arrived. He carried the news of the accident to the mother, who was stunned by the awful news. The father was in Salem at the time and knew nothing of the affair until he reached home after ten o'clock.

Medical Examiner Haddock of Beverly was called. He said that death was caused by concussion of the brain.

It was indeed a sad accident. The young lad was very popular. He has been a messenger boy at the Western Union most of the summer. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon.

At the District Court in Salem, Monday, Mr. Russell was held on a technical charge of manslaughter, the charge against him being that he "did assault and beat one Gerald Gorman and by such assault and beating did kill the said Gorman. Bail was fixed at $1000, and the case was continued until Oct. 9, pending, it is understood, the result of the inquest. Bail was furnished by Henry Rich of Brookline.

Blynman Hotel Property Sold

One of the most important real estate transactions in years on the North Shore has just been consummated, whereby the Blynman hotel property, in the town of Manchester, but confronting Crescent beach, Magnolia, passes into the hands of two Boston summer residents here, Wm. H. Coolidge of Newton Center and Edward A. Clark of Jamaica Plain.

The Blynman hotel occupies what is accounted the most sightly position at Magnolia.

Last fall the proprietor, Warren A. Knowlton, made extensive additions, covering it with a mortgage of $17,000 to the City National bank of Gloucester.

It was the intention of the bank to foreclose when the two Boston men came into the field and made Mr. Knowlton a proposition for the purchase of the property which was accepted and the papers passed.

It is the intention of Messrs. Coolidge and Clark to erect two fine summer residences on the extensive grounds. The buildings now located there are for sale.

IN AID OF CHURCHES

Manchester Town Hall crowded every Night this Week at "Spectrum" in Aid of New Sacred Heart Church.

The "Chromatic Spectrum," on exhibition every night of this week in the Manchester Town hall, in aid of the building fund of the New Sacred Heart church, has been very popularly patronized. The name was quite appropriately given, for the color effect in the hall was most striking, indeed. The rays of the spectrum all started from a points in the center of the stage, at which hung a painting of Rev. Fr. Powers, the pastor.

The tables, each in its distinctive color, presented an exceptionally harmonious scheme, the ray work adding to the prismatic illusion. The "corner" features,—knife board, shooting gallery, fish pond, etc.,—took care of all the loose dimes and nickels, the work of "Feeding the lion" arousing special interest. The best "feeder" for the week is to be awarded a five-dollar gold piece.

The following contests are to be decided Saturday night: For a gold watch, between Miss Lizzie Dillon and Miss Theresa O'Neil; four-in-hand whip, between John Chane and Thomas O'Brien; boy's gold ring, between David Gillis and Thomas Marsh; little girl's silver watch, between Marion Spinney and Lily Kinsella; dressed doll, between Margaret McNeary and Catherine Leary.

Successful Fair held at Beverly Farms in Aid of St. Margaret's Rectory. Fair Opened by Mayor Wallis.

More interest has seldom been manifest at a fair at Beverly Farms than that of the past week in connection with the Bazaar in aid of St. Margaret's church and rectory. Mayor Joseph A. Wallis opened the fair Monday night, and despite the rain there was a big crowd out. Dancing has been in order three nights.

The hall, tastily decorated with flowers, bunting and flags, presented an extremely pretty appearance. The booths were arranged with much care, and were loaded down with articles, both useful and fancy. These have diminished in size each night, at the mercy of ready purchasers.

The fair will close Monday night with a grand assembly. Next week's paper will contain a list of the prize winners.

The judges at the N. S. H. S. show this week were J. W. Duncan, assistant superintendent of Boston park system; Robert Cameron of Harvard Botanical Gardens, James Stewart of Brookline. The flowers left over from the show were distributed among the sick in Manchester, and were sent to the hospitals in this vicinity and in Boston.

BEVERLY FARMS

A son arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Eddy yesterday morning.

Last Saturday evening the Beverly police made a second descent upon the Beverly Farms House, of which Lawrence Diggins is the proprietor. A wagon load of wet goods was found. The sequel will be at the District court within a short time.

Dr. J. J. Riordan's old time ability as a sprinter was well demonstrated Wednesday morning when the genial doctor received a hurry call for Gloucester. He was in sight of the train as it started to pull out from the station. The old sporting blood for doing a couple of hundred-yard dash in record time came to the surface and after a nip and tuck chase down the track the doctor finally landed a winner, on the rear platform.

Labor Day is being looked forward to by many of the Farms' folk as being the best holiday of the year for taking in the various attractions. The Horse Show at the Myopia Hunt club grounds will be a big drawing card and a large number is sure to be present.

WHISPERINGS

Howard A. Doane, the young contractor and builder, of Beverly Farms, I have been informed by some of his friends, is thinking of a change in business. Adept though he may be in pulling nails from boards, he is even more proficient in pulling fish from the deep blue sea and it is in this direction, I am informed, his attentions will be turned in the future. Tuesday of this week he pulled from the water, off Long Pier, Smith's Point, an 18-lb. cod. There are a number of witnesses who will testify to this.

Last Week of "The Prince."

"The Prince of Pilsen" will begin the second and final week of its engagement at the Tremont Theatre next Monday night, and this will be its thirty-first week at that house, a record that is rarely paralleled in the annals of musical comedy. In fact the entire career of this tuneful and humorous play has marked it as a work possessing exceptional qualities that make for lasting popularity. "The Prince of Pilsen," best of its class, grows in popularity with each recurring season, and in recognition of its worth, Manager Henry W. Savage contributed to its longevity by keeping it at the highest possible notch of excellence.

MAGNOLIAAbbott-CrispinAt the Village church, Magnolia, August 26th, Miss Helen Marie Crispin and Thomas Prescott Abbott, both of Magnolia, were married by Rev. Markham W. Stackpole, assisted by Rev. Frederick J. Libby.The front of the church was beautifully decorated with violets, hydran-geas, ferns and oak leaves, making a very attractive background for the wedding party.At eight o'clock Miss Elsie Crispin, a cousin of the bride, began playing the march from Lohengrin, and the two clergymen, Mr. Abbot and his best man, Mr. Fred Lycett, took their places. Then came the bridal procession, led by the ushers, Mr. Edward Wilkinson and Mr. Fred Dunbar.
The bridesmaids, Miss Ethel May and Miss Alice Story, wore very dainty gowns of point d'esprit over pink and carried bouquets of pink spirea.
The bride came in on the arm of herbrother, Mr. Gilbert Crispin. Her gown was of white net over white satin, with trimmings of lace and pearl.
She wore a long bridal veil and carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley. The Episcopal ring service was used.After the wedding a large reception was held at the house. Refreshments were served and a box of wedding cake was presented to each guest.
At 10 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Abbot went away in an automobile amid showers of confetti and good wishes from their many friends.The pool tournament at the Men's club has reached the interesting stage. H. A. Whitehouse and E. P.
Millette are the semi-finals with the winner of the match between Harry Diffin and J. A. McCarthy. The final matches will be played off on Monday and Tuesday evening.Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Converse of Malden, who spent last year at the Luke cottage, Beverly Farms, recently home from Europe, traveled 3,800 miles on their Pierce Arrow touring car. The longest run was from Nuremberg to Wiesbaden.
They traveled extensively in England,
France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and Holland.Work on the moth suppression has been temporarily abandoned in Manchester. Mr. Worthley, who has been in charge of Essex county district has been appointed to the official staff,

BEVERLY FARMS

Dr. M. F. Fallon, Mrs. Fallon and child, who have been enjoying for several weeks life at West Beach and Beverly Farms in general, return the earlier part of the week to their home in Worcester.

The famous Sol Sabotka, the "mixer" at Varney's soda fountain, has concluded his engagement there and returned to Boston, much to the regret of a large circle of old as well as new made friends.

"R U ON for a good time" is the way the local drug clerks announce the coming of their dance which is being billed to take place in Neighbor's hall on Wednesday eve, Sept. 12. A special feature of the evening is the contest for the best waltzing for which the winning couple is to receive a $5 gold piece. Heaphy's Singing orchestra will furnish popular music.

Miss Margaret O'Hearn, who has for some time past made Dublin, N.H., her home, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Hearn, near West Beach.

Day Officer Calvin L. Williams has this week been enjoying his annual vacation and has mainly spent it by making one day trips to various points of interest in this vicinity. Officer McLean is substituting.

Mrs. Mattie Hanson, the Misses Hanson, Mrs. John Holtman and children, who have been spending the past two months in Sweden, arrived home on the incoming Arabic last Saturday and report a most delightful trip. The time was mostly spent at their former homes.

Tuesday evening the many girl friends of Miss Alice Preston of East Wenham paid her an unexpected visit carrying with them numerous bundles which soon developed into a "linen shower." Miss Preston proved an excellent hostess for the entertainment of her friends for the evening.

Arthur Hawkins has been kept from duty for several days as the result of severely jamming his foot, by dropping a heavy milk tank upon it.

Mrs. Frank T. Mitchell and daughter Marguerite, who have been the guests of Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley, concluded their visit the middle of the week and returned to their Pawtucket, R.I., home.

Frank Trowt was remembered on Wednesday evening by a number of his friends in this vicinity on the occasion of his birthday. He will enter Amherst college this month.

A merry party of Farms' young people, including Misses Alice Witham, Alice Bolam, Elsie Preston and Maude Culbert, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mayberry, Messrs. Frank Preston, Irwin Davis, Harry Cole and Richard Davis, are in camp at Conomo Point, Essex, over the holiday. Mrs. Preston is chaperoning the party.

Miss Louise Jordan of Jamaica Plain is spending a fortnight here with Mrs. W. B. and Mrs. J. M. Publicover.

Mrs. John C. Mountain of Albert, P. E. I., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Publicover, High street.

A goodly sum of money was realized from the late fair of the Friends' Bible class. A generous contribution was received from a well known summer resident who sent in his personal check and helped materially towards reducing the debt upon the parsonage.

Henry H. Kent of Palatka, Fla., and formerly of Beverly, was at the Farms on several occasions this week, shaking hands and otherwise renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Hortense Hardy of Bangor, Me., is a guest of her cousin Miss Ruth Hardy.

Master Gordon Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan F. Smith, who has been visiting relatives at Whycomaugh, N.S., has returned home.

Early Thursday morning Gregory P. Connolly and son, Tommy, together with Gregory P. Connolly, 2d, and Wilbur J. Pierce, started on Mr. Connolly's steam carriage for a week's automobile trip to and through a portion of New Hampshire. It is the intention of the party to visit Forrester H. Pierce and son who are at present enjoying camp life in a cottage upon the shores of New Found Lake at East Hebron.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ober of Wellesley are renewing acquaintances in this vicinity, being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Addison Williams, East Wenham.

Miss Ina Brown of Roxbury is paying her annual visit to the Farms and is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Bennett, Greenwood ave.

Arthur Day, the Farms young man who was taken to the Park hospital, Roxbury, last week, had quite a successful operation performed and is reported to be improving.

The Hardy club baseball teams and the "Yannigans," of which Frank Gaudreau is captain and manager, are to "saw it off" on Labor Day afternoon. As there is considerable rivalry between the teams and a goodly number of supporters, lots of fun is expected.

Capt. Peter Gaudreau of the motor boat "Pastime," on Monday last, while watching the yacht races off West Manchester, had a narrow escape from being swamped and, as it was, his boat suffered considerable injuries by being run into by a fast sailing yacht during a squall. Mr. Gaudreau says he thought he was "all in" for a while and don't care to have the occurrence repeated.

A foal born in Messrs. Connolly Bros. stables the first of the week is an object of especial interest to the children in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Thomas Langdon and child of New York City, who have spent some two months at the Farms, returned home the middle of the week.

Miss Julia McCarthy has returned from a short visit at Concord, N.H.

Miss Ethel Standley of Manchester-by-the-Sea, has been enjoying Beverly Farms lately visiting her grandfather, Andrew Standley "by the depot."

Larceny Is Charged.

At the District Court in Salem, Monday, George Jackson, until Saturday the headwaiter at the Masconomo house in Manchester, was held in $500 for the grand jury on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $190 from John J. Ritchie, a guest at the hotel. Probable cause to believe him guilty was found.

This makes the third grand jury case held over for Manchester, all of which are for larceny. One is the case of the fruit peddler charged with stealing a watch from Miss Baker on Pleasant street, and the other the case of the theft of packages valued at over $500 from the American Express Co.'s wagon at the Masconomo.

According to Ritchie, he is a chemist in New York, and came to the Masconomo last Friday. Saturday forenoon he had some ale in the wine room and saw Jackson there and asked him to join him, "not wishing to appear stingy." Not being well, Ritchie retired to his room about noon and asked the bell boy to bring him another bottle of ale. Jackson brought it instead of the bell boy.

Ritchie went to bed and left $150 in his coat pocket and $45 in his trousers pocket. He didn't lock his door. He awoke at 4 P. M. and discovered that the money was gone. He reported the matter to the manager, and told of the unusual interest Jackson seemed to show in his welfare.

Jackson had left Manchester by the time the police had started after him, but he was arrested by the Boston police that night. When he found he had to be locked up in Salem jail to await the grand jury, it was too much for him. On his way to the jail he broke away from Chief Peabody and ran like a steer. The chase which followed occasioned much excitement and attracted a large crowd. The chief was no match for him in the race, but the keen eye of a Mrs. Murphy espied Jackson as he darted from a side street into her yard and from there to the cellar, where he was found after some Salem officers arrived.

Stewart W. Noble, employed at the Masconomo house, swore out a warrant last Saturday for the arrest of James Quigley, a fellow workman, charging him with assault and battery. Noble failed to appear against Quigley in court Monday, and the case was dropped.

SEPT. 10, 1808,

Mrs. Elizabeth Crafts, the first occupant of the Corner Store, gathered up the products of her trade, consisting of Potatoes, Corn, Eggs, Butter, and other fruits from the soil of the Town, and shipped them in the Packet for Boston, where she disposed of them and with the proceeds thereof purchased her Fall and Winter trade.

Unlike the contents of the OLD CORNER STORE of today, there was no Priscilla Muslin Underwear, no King Pin Waists, no Ruffled Petticoats, no Lisle Hosiery, Hair Pins, Side Combs, Stock Collars, Art Goods, and other goods galore.

No! Our ancestors' wants did not call for them. Just imagine what she did have, and what there is for you at the Old Corner!

"Cape Cod Folks" at the Boston Theatre.

The 53d season at the Boston theatre was ushered in last Monday evening with a performance of "Cape Cod Folks," Liebler & Co.'s mammoth production of the new nautical play. The theatre, large as it is, was filled almost to capacity with an exceptionally enthusiastic audience, and, judging by their many evidences of pleasure, the same condition of affairs is likely to exist throughout the engagement.

"Cape Cod Folks" is in four acts and six scenes, all laid at Provincetown. The first shows a stranded vessel which has been transformed into a residence. Next comes the schoolroom on the Cape. The third act contains three scenes, the first showing a haunted house on the edge of a marsh, the second a strip of beach, and the third the shipwreck, which is said to be the most effective bit of stage mechanism yet placed before the public. The last act returns to the old ship.

During the engagement there will be matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, together with a special afternoon performance next Monday, Labor Day.

Thursday the open golf tournament drew many more to the grounds, and the attendance, though not as great the first day, was very large.

This is the season of the year when the gardens are in their best dress, though a week or two earlier might have showed better results. The quality of flowers, fruits and vegetables was above the ordinary degree of merit. The tent in which the show was held was almost twice the size of that used in the June show. It measured 140 feet by 55, and was furnished by A. Erickson of No. Market street, Boston.

It might be thought that the light would be poor in the evening particularly, but this was not so as the tent was lighted by 10 Nernst lamps, which threw a natural color on the plants. On each evening Long's orchestra furnished excellent programs, thus adding materially to the life of the occasion.

While it is difficult to say which was the best display at the entire show, it is safe to say no collection merited so much admiration as the display of foliage and flowering plants by Mrs. Lester Leland (Mr. Wittelow, gardener). This was not for competition.

The most striking specimen plant displayed was a huge fern, Cibotinus Schiedeii, from the G. N. Black greenhouse (A. Magnuson, gardener).

Mrs. R. C. Hooper was awarded the beautiful silver cup offered by Lord & Burnham of Boston, for the best display of 20 plants arranged for effect (W. Swan, gardener). This cup, however, must be won twice before becoming the absolute property of a winner.

The society medal was won again by Mrs. H. L. Higginson (J. Scott, gardener). This medal is offered for the best display of flowers arranged for effect, filling one society table. Mrs. Lester Leland was awarded the second prize. In this class also were very pretty and effective tables by Mrs. F. R. Tibbetts (Donald Mitchell), Philemon Sanborn and Robt. A. Mitchell.

In the special class of tables arranged for effect, for ladies only, Mrs. W. Scott Fitz was awarded the medal. The blending of color in this display was an especially beautiful feature. Mrs. Geo. E. Cabot was awarded second place. Mrs. James Means, Mrs. M. B. Mason and Miss M. F. Bartlett also had splendid tables in this class.

Particular interest was taken in the class for annuals from the fact that Schlegel & Fottler Co. of Boston offered $35 in gold to the winner. This prize was won by Mrs. G. M. Lane (Herbert Shaw), who had a beautiful display of very choice annuals. The Misses Loring (C. Murray) had a large collection, as did Mrs. C. H. Tweed (Mr. Griffin) also.

Mrs. R. C. Hooper had a very creditable showing of hardy herbaceous flowers, as also did Miss A. G. Thayer.

Mrs. E. C. Grew (Mr. Sanderson) had a table of very nice cut flowers, mostly white, not entered for competition, however.

A large display of native evergreens by Jesse Pierce of Beverly Farms attracted much attention. This was awarded an honorable mention.

The collection of vegetables this year was above par, and better than that shown in the Boston exhibitions. The best collection in this class was by Mrs. P. Dexter (Jas. Salter). The onions in this display were worthy of especial mention. Swiftmoor farm (D. Wakefield) was awarded second honors in this class. Mrs. G. M. Lane had a very creditable showing also.

Mrs. Wm. B. Walker (Mr. Jack) was awarded the beautiful silver cup offered by R. & J. Farquhar for vegetables. The melons in this class were especially fine. Mrs. C. E. Cotting was given second place.

Arthur Jackson was awarded a special by the judges, for his excellent showing of tomatoes.

The North Shore Ferneries had a large display of garden furniture, both inside and outside the tent. For their display of mixed plants a certificate of merit was awarded.

It is safe to say there was no feature of the whole show that attracted so much attention as the night-blooming cereus of Mrs. Wm. Cheever. This plant is 15 years old. At 5 o'clock Wednesday it blossomed and at the request of the society Mrs. Cheever allowed it to be taken to the show. There were 25 blooms,—a most beautiful bloom, indeed, and sweetly perfumed. Miss Edith Wheaton had a plant with three blooms, also. Singularly enough, both plants bloomed on the same night, and that the public should have been given an opportunity of seeing them.

Among the other displays that attracted much attention was that of Henry A. Dreer of Philadelphia, represented by John S. Hay, who had a splendid exhibit of aquatics. Particularly noticeable among them was the nelumbiums, or Egyptian lotus, more Wonderland Spells Popularity.

Wonderland spells popularity. This fact was perhaps never quite so clearly demonstrated as during the past fortnight, when the average attendance has soared as high as 40,000, with 65,000 as the estimate for last Sunday.

The free shows which, since the opening of the new million-dollar amusement realm, have been one of the chief elements to its success and popularity, have steadily improved from week to week, until now they may safely be reckoned the best ever presented at a summer park.

The season at Wonderland will last until the 16th of September, comprehending the full two weeks allotted to the Revere Beach carnival.

"The Lion and the Mouse."

The extraordinary success of Charles Klein's play, "The Lion and the Mouse," which followed the stamp of approval put upon it by the press and the theatre-going public of Boston last fall, can now be stated without fear of contradiction to have been most emphatic and some of the results achieved supreme in modern theatricals.

Since the premiere of the play last October, something over three hundred performances have been given by the original company in Boston and New York, while the second company made a limited tour of large western cities returning to Chicago, where on September 1st it will have had an uninterrupted run of over three months at the Illinois theatre.

"The Lion and the Mouse" will re-open the season of the Park theatre beginning with a matinee Monday afternoon, September 3 (Labor Day). Notwithstanding the importance of this limited engagement, the regular house prices will prevail.

Schools Open Tuesday.

The Manchester schools will open next Tuesday for the beginning of the school year after a vacation of almost eleven weeks. The teaching force will be practically unchanged. Miss Jessie D. Alexander of Roxbury, who recently taught in Lancaster, succeeds Miss Avis Antil as teacher in Grade 5.

The kindergarten school will open for the first time this year, in one of the rooms of the John Price Primary school. This will be in charge of Miss Rachael Babcock, a graduate of Miss Wheelock's Training school, and for the last three years engaged in kindergarten work in Somerville. She will be assisted by Miss Beth Jewett, Story High school, 1906.

There are so many mild cases of whooping cough in town at present that the committee and superintendent are guarding against any undue spread of the disease by asking for a strict adherence to the regulations on this point, which read thus:

"And no child who is a member of a household in which measles, whooping cough or any other contagious disease is prevailing, shall be allowed to attend school while the disease is in progress; nor until all danger from contagion is passed."

But they want it understood that "in a family where whooping cough is prevailing, any child who has had the disease may be allowed to attend school after depositing with some member of the Committee a certificate signed by the parents stating such to be the fact."

If the number of cases warrant, it is possible and, it might be said, probable, that a special class will be conducted, attended by pupils who have the whooping cough.

A Wonderful Endorsement

Yesterday at Watertown, Mass., there met together a body of men representing nearly every city and town of any considerable size in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut attracted there by invitation of the promoter to see the accomplishment of one of the greatest efforts in modern manufacturing brought to a successful completion, and the starting off to their destination of a solid train load of their products.

At two o'clock at a signal given by a B. & M. official, two massive, powerful locomotives slowly spread out to the Walker and Pratt foundry thirty-four cars loaded solidly with Crawford Ranges, all to be distributed throughout New England for use this fall. 'Twas a sight never witnessed before and is a tremendous evidence of the endorsement that manufactured products rightly made receive by the people here in New England.

The vast body of men gathered there represented the selling agents of the Crawford Ranges throughout these four states, and in studying the personnel of these men, they were found to be the foremost merchants of the several cities and towns from which they came.

Another very strong endorsement as to the standard of this foundry's goods.

Quite a full account of this wonderful occasion appears in the Boston papers this morning, which would be interesting to read.

Manchester's Grand Old Citizen Passes Away at the Age of Almost 98 Years—Funeral
Last Wednesday—Stores and Schools Closed

Deacon Albert E. Low, Manchester's "grand old man" passed away last Sunday morning at his home on Ashland avenue. His age was 97 years, 11 months, 7 days. He had been in failing health for some months, but not until within a fortnight was it feared that the end was near.

In his death Manchester loses a man who has been her oldest citizen for a number of years and one whom everybody knew and loved. Until within a year he has been able to mingle with his fellow townspeople, and quite frequently has been seen walking down town, stopping now and then to chat with an acquaintance, or to call on some of his friends in the stores. His was a ripe old age, indeed.

The honor in which he was held was well attested Wednesday, when business was suspended for an hour or more prior to burial, a remark-

HORSE SHOW

Annual Open Air Event at the Myopia Hunt Club Attended by a Large Gathering of the Summer Contingent

The event of the week on the North Shore was the annual open air horse show at the Myopia Hunt club on Labor Day, and as usual a representative gathering of the cottagers along the shore were over there for the occasion.

Though not so strictly a horse show as in past years, that division of the sport being confined to the afternoon, there was considerable interest manifested. There were fourteen classes. The morning suffered considerably through the showers, and the attendance was not as large as in the afternoon.

The "Speedway opening" evoked a lot of interest. The card was made up of a trot, a pace and a free-for-all. The course is but a trifle in excess of a quarter-mile, and the races were sprints of that distance, but three in

MANCHESTER

Miss Florence Harding of Newton was a guest the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Allen.

Miss H. Florence Gould of Boston is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Leach, School street.

Miss Augusta Friend returned on Wednesday to her home in Minneapolis after a few weeks' visit with friends in town. She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Blaisdell, who will spend a month or more visiting Miss Friend. Fred Friend, who was here recently for a few days, is to be married the latter part of next month.

Manchester was well represented on the Lake Winnepesaukee excursion Wednesday, some 55 persons going from here on the special train at 8.13 and returning at 7.45.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Haskell were on a trip to Canobie lake Thursday.

The stand-pipe is being subjected to a fresh coat of paint this week, as is also the Congregational church exterior. E. A. Lane is doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Needham were registered at the New Cliff Hotel, Newport, and the Imperial, Narragansett Pier, the first of the week.

Frank Sinnicks has been spending the week visiting friends at Amherst, Mass. Charles Lodge was there also over Sunday and the holiday.

Miss Lena Jones is teaching in North Andover this year and assumed her duties there this week.

Mrs. George P. Dole entertained a party of friends from Beverly at her home on Norwod avenue, Wednesday.

The local members of the Bell family were well represented at a small reunion of the family over the holiday at Sagamore Hill, Ipswich, where they had hired three cottages for the occasion.

Frank Fleming and Bert Floyd will be the first of the large number of Manchester young people to start away to school this fall. They will leave Monday, the former entering Dartmouth, and the latter entering Cornell, where he will take up architectural engineering.

"Dewey," otherwise known as John O'Brien, celebrated Labor Day in the usual manner. The judge fined him $10 in court Tuesday. Expensive drinking!

Mrs. Mary Bagley of Boston has been spending the week with Mrs. Charles A. Lodge, Bennett street.

Neat line of shirts at Bell's. *

Captain Thomas Dow is confined to his home on Vine street with illness. Captain Dow is one of Manchester's octogenarians.

Miss Emma Johnson was in town over Sunday and the holiday on her return from a vacation spent in Waterbury and East Montpelier, Vt., but she has since resumed her duties in the beekeeping department of the United Shoe Machinery Co. in Lynn.

Miss Beth Meldrum returned Monday from a three weeks' stay with her sister, Mrs. Webster Putnam and family of Danvers, at Kennebunk Beach, Me. Mr. N. P. Meldrum was also there over Sunday.

Master Wm. H. Magee of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., who is staying at Mrs. B. J. Manion's, Tappan street, celebrated his fourth birthday last Thursday very pleasantly by entertaining a few of his little friends.

Manuel T. Lopes and family have vacated the Lucas cottage on School street, and are living with Mr. Thomas' parents on Forest street.

Alex. McKowen, second gardener at the F. M. Whitehouse estate, has concluded his services there and has accepted a position as head gardener at the W. D. Denegre estate, West Manchester, to succeed Mr. Whiteley.

To the voters of Manchester and the Third Essex Senatorial District:

I take this method of announcing to you my candidacy for the republican nomination for state senator from the Third Essex Senatorial district. At the outset I wish to state emphatically that I am in the contest for the nomination to the finish and under no consideration shall I withdraw.

I feel that people in this section are well enough acquainted with me and my record to pass upon my fitness for the position I seek. My services to my constituents during my three years of service as representative to the general court are of such recent date as to be familiar to all. My record at the state house is open to the inspection of all. Every measure affecting the welfare of my district found me working for the interests of my constituents. I may be pardoned if I refer in particular to my work on the bill for the dredging of Annisquam river and the new bridge on Western avenue in Gloucester.

My vote on all measures of public importance was cast openly and based on honest conviction. Organized labor and any and all workingmen will find my record, both as a legislator and employer of labor, what it should be.

I shall spend no money in this campaign. I have none to spend in this way, beyond what is necessary for legitimate expenses. I wish to be distinctly understood on this point. I shall make my contest on my past legislative record and my standing as a business man and citizen, and I ask, and will be thankful for, your support and influence.

AUGUSTUS HUBBARD. *

Manchester Burglar Murdered by Pals in Boston.

William J. Welsh, who was murdered, presumably by his pals, in South Boston last Sunday, is well known to the Manchester police. It appears that he is the same man who burglarized Mrs. William LeBrun's summer cottage here a year ago last March, and was subsequently sent to jail.

He is thought to be the same man who rifled the office of the West Gloucester railroad station this spring, and the Monserrat station later, and probably the West Manchester station, also.

Chief Peabody was in Boston Wednesday and identified the murdered man as the one arrested here in 1905.

On Sunday evening, March 19, 1905, a number of people noticed a light in the "Apple Lane Cottage," off Bridge street, West Manchester, and M. E. Gorman telephoned the police. Officers Andrews and Lee started out at once, and Chief Peabody followed later, going by way of Ashland avenue. The man could be seen at work inside when the officers arrived and surrounded the house, and as he went to the basement with his arms loaded with booty and was about to step out Officer Lee flashed his light in the man's face and placed him under arrest. Everything in the house had been overhauled, trunks cut open and valises ransacked. In court the following Thursday Welsh was bound over in $500 for the May sitting of the superior court, when he was sent to jail. He told the court at the time he was a fisherman sailing from Gloucester, and that he went to the LeBrun house to sleep for the night.

Fire in Manchester.

The Manchester department was called out a week ago yesterday afternoon for a blaze in a small shed in the rear of the James Cronin property on Friend's court. The alarm was sounded from Box 52, at the Engine House, a little after 4 o'clock. Children and matches were responsible for the fire, which came dangerously near catching the house adjoining the shed. Loss, $25, covered by insurance.

A party of North Beverly people, including Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stanley and family, Mrs. John M. Watts, Miss Watts and Miss Harriet Watts and Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Hirst, enjoyed an outing at Singing Beach, Manchester, on Labor Day.

SYLMAR OLIVE OIL IS PURE!

Scientists and all leading physicians are advocating an increased use, both internally and externally, of pure California Olive Oil, which is largely superseding the use of the Imported Olive Oil, often found to contain cotton seed and other mixtures.

Sylmar Olive Oil is absolutely pure and clean, the sweetest, and superior in flavor and every other desirable point of any Olive Oil manufactured in California.

It has a sweet, delightful flavor and pleasant odor, also that peculiar delicacy of taste so much desired by connoisseurs and epicures.

 If you use Sylmar Olive Oil once, you will always use it—in preference to all others. On sale in Candy Department.

Capt. John Caswell of Prides Crossing was elected one of the directors of the National Rifle Association at Sea Girt, N. J., last Friday, where he had gone with the Massachusetts team for the annual shooting of the regimental team matches. The match was won by the Massachusetts team.

Hugo R. Johnstone of the Myopia Hunt Club captured the Crocker-McKee trophy at the Essex County club last Saturday afternoon, by defeating Thos. G. Stevenson, also of Myopia, by 2 up in the final round of match play in the first flight. In the second flight G. M. Brooks of Arlington scored a 3 and 1 victory over W. E. Stiles of Brae-Burn, and in the third flight A. F. Bemis of Essex county took the trophy from H. A. Stiles of Brae-Burn, by 6 and 5. The play-off for the gold medal in the quali-fyng round between Hugo R. Johnstone and George H. Crocker of Essex county was won by Mr. Crocker with a score of 84, Johnstone being one stroke higher.

G. H. Crocker, J. T. McMillan and J. H. Dodge tied for first place in last Saturday's handicap golf competition at the Essex County club, the first two playing in 84 from scratch, and the last with a handicap of 14. There were 30 entries.

Objected to Mr Sinnicks' Plan.

A few Manchester people attended the hearing given before the board of harbor and land commissioners at the State House Wednesday on petition of George S. Sinnicks, for a license to erect a pile structure and building near the Beach street park, on the land formerly owned by O'Brien Bros., but recently purchased by Mr. Sinnicks.

Engineer R. C. Allen, representing Mr. Sinnicks, stated that it was desired to put in several cement piles, on which to erect a brick building for the storage of lime and cement on the first floor and for general storage on the second floor.

Selectman Swett was unable to attend the hearing, but a communication was sent by the board stating that they were opposed to the petition on the ground that the Beach street park land would be damaged by the erection of a building at this place.

Mr. Sinnicks' colleagues on the park commission, Messrs. Beaton and Howe, however, were present and voiced their opposition to the granting of the petition. They stated that the town had already expended in the neighborhood of $30,000 on this property, and plans to expend about as much more in making it a fine public park, but if the proposed building is erected the value of the land for park purposes would be greatly decreased.

They said the town would probably buy the property sometime if the price can be arranged.

It was suggested that the hearing be postponed until after town meeting in order that the town may authorize the park commissioners to purchase the lot owned by Mr. Sinnicks.

The hearing was continued in order that the plans may be changed to conform to the requirements of the board.

Mrs. William A. Slater is leaving Beverly Cove Monday for a trip to Europe. The cottage which the Slaters have been occupying will not be closed at once, though Mrs. Slater will return directly to her Washington home instead of again coming to the shore.

Count Mocenigo of the Italian legation, who is spending the summer at Manchester, goes on a leave of absence in October, and will spend it at his home in Venice, Italy, where his sister will be married about Oct. 15.

Counsellof of the Swedish legation and Mme. de Strale and Mlle. Gladys de Strale expect to go to Europe in October on a leave. They will probably spend the winter in Rome.

Senor Alfredo Alvarez Calderon, first secretary of the Peruvian legation, and son of the former Peruvian Minister to Washington, is going to leave the diplomatic service temporarily, during which time he will engage in commercial pursuits in his own country. He will go to South America next month, and then return unofficially to Washington for the winter season. After three months he will go back to Peru for a period of several years. He is spending the summer at the New Magnolia.

Mrs. Southerland, wife of Commander Southerland, U.S.N., and her daughters, the Misses Southerland, will leave Magnolia Sept. 18 for Bryn Mawr before returning to their home in Washington.

The New Magnolia

Mrs. Dickinson Lewis and her daughter, Miss Marion Lewis of New York, spent a few days at the Magnolia the past week.

Alexander M. Harrison will spend the week-end a guest of friends at the New Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Parks of Wichita, Kan., and Mr. and Mrs. J. H.

Beck of Wichita, are registered here for a few days before leaving for the West.

Mrs. George H. Morrill and Miss E. F. Morrill of Boston are registered at the New Magnolia for the balance of the season.

Charles E. Lee of Jamaica Plain, one of Boston's prominent real estate men, is registered here for two weeks' stay.

Mrs. S. D. Lewis and Miss J. M. Lewis of New York are registered for the balance of the season.

Miss E. L. James of Baltimore, Md., has joined her friends, Mrs. and Mrs. J. D. Mason of Brookline, for the balance of the season.

Miss May Young of Boston has joined her father and mother, Capt. and Mrs. S. C. Young at the New Magnolia for a sojourn.

Mr. and Mrs. William James of St. James, Mo., are entertaining as their guest at the New Magnolia Mr. Nat. S. Green of Melbourne, Aus.

SEPT. 10, 1808,

Mrs. Elizabeth Crafts, the first occupant of the Corner Store, gathered up the products of her trade, consisting of Potatoes, Corn, Eggs, Butter, and other fruits from the soil of the Town, and shipped them in the Packet for Boston, where she disposed of them and with the proceeds thereof purchased her Fall and Winter trade.

Unlike the contents of the OLD CORNER STORE of today, there was no Priscilla Muslin Underwear, no King Pin Waists, no Ruffled Petticoats, no Lisle Hosiery, Hair Pins, Side Combs, Stock Collars, Art Goods, and other goods galore.

No! Our ancestors' wants did not call for them. Just imagine what she did have, and what there is for you at the Old Corner!

Mrs. W. Scott Fitz is leaving Manchester next week for her cottage at Jackson, N.H., where she will remain the balance of the season.

The F. F. Ellenwoods, who have been at one of the Kimball cottages in Manchester again this summer, returned to their Utica, N.Y. home this week.

Rev. and Mrs. William H. Dewart have closed their cottage at Manchester and returned yesterday to their home in Hyde Park.

The C. F. Emersons, who have been at the Furguson cottage in Magnolia, left Wednesday for their home in Titusville, Pa.

The W. H. Aspinwalls will be among next week's departures from Magnolia. They will return to their home in Chestnut Hill.

Admiral John H. Upshur, U.S.N., retired, and Mrs. Upshur, who have been spending a month at Nahant, were over to Magnolia Thursday and were guests of Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge, at the Dolphin. The admiral is now en route for Cazenovia to visit his daughter, Mrs. Moreland. Mrs. Upshur is coming over to Magnolia Monday for a fortnight's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Selfridge, and will later join the admiral in Lenox, where they will spend a few weeks before returning to their home in Washington.

The Hesperus at Magnolia was the first of the houses to close. The doors were closed Wednesday.

Mrs. C. H. Howell of Philadelphia gave a pretty luncheon of 10 covers at The Dolphin, Magnolia, Thursday afternoon.

The Misses Hooper have closed the Adams cottage at Beverly Farms for the season, Miss Ellen Hooper going to Dublin, N.H., and Miss Louise Hooper to Harvard, Mass., until their town house is opened later.

Prince Koudacheff of the Russian Embassy has taken rooms at the Dolphin the rest of the season. He has been visiting in Newport.

Barons Yamada and Rwaya of Japan, who were guests at the Dolphin some weeks ago, were down to the shore again this week and entertained a number of their friends at a spread at the Essex County Club on Thursday. Covers were set for some twenty or more.

Mrs. Brooks and family of Marlboro street, Boston, who have been occupying Mrs. S. P. Blake's cottage at Manchester during August, returned to town Thursday. They will later go to York Harbor for a visit.

Supper was served at midnight.

The Masconomo House in Manchester closed for the season Wednesday.

Mrs. Edward L. Woods is entertaining at her cottage in Manchester over the week-end a number of friends from New York.

ERNST--EARLY

The marriage of Mrs. Jennie S. Early and Mr. James C. Ernst, of Covington, Kentucky, took place at the Hotel Aborn, in Magnolia, Thursday evening, September 6th.

Mrs. Early is the daughter of Dr. J. J. Stites, a very prominent physician of Pontiac, Ill., and is a woman of considerable literary ability, being a member of the Women's Press Club of Cincinnati and also the American Folk-Lore Society.

Mr. Ernst is a well-known capitalist of Cincinnati and Covington, being president of the Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Street Railway Co., the Union Light, Heat and Power Co., the German National Bank and numerous other enterprises.

The relatives of both parties arrived on Wednesday to be present at the wedding.

Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. John Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. Richard

P. Ernst, and their daughter, Miss Sarah Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. James Minor, Mrs. Theodore Dohrmann, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ernst, Miss Baynard L. Kilgour of Cincinnati, all relatives of the groom, and Ellis G. Kinkead of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Witsch of Newark, N.J., Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. Lawton of Boston, Mr. C. A. Hinsch, president of the Fifth National bank of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Hinsch, Mrs. Emma Burkhardt and daughter, Miss Beatrice Burkhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Andreas Burkhardt of Cincinnati, the Misses McKee of St. Louis, were among others present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. Libby, pastor of the Village church, in the parlor of the hotel, which had been transformed into a perfect bower of greenery and flowers for the occasion, the floral arrangement including ferns, wood juniper, asters, gladiolia, phlox, etc. Mr. Tracey of Hamilton was in charge of the decorations.

The bride's only attendant was her niece, Miss Emily Orr of Covington. A supper was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Ernst will remain here several weeks before taking up their residence in Cincinnati.

Dea. ALBERT E. LOW

street, Manchester, where the residence of Samuel Knight now stands. The house was destroyed in what was known as "the great fire," about 1835. He obtained the usual education afforded children of his day. As the town did not have public schools until he was 10 years of age, school was held in private houses, and it was under conditions of this kind he obtained his early education.

At the age of 13 he went as cook on a fishing schooner, remaining in this vocation four years, serving later on coasting vessels. At the age of 21 he started to learn the cabinet-making trade, going to Boston. His trade learned he remained in Boston a short time. He then returned to Manchester and became engaged in manufacturing chairs in a building at the corner of Washington and North streets, continuing there until 1833, when he went into business in Beverly for several years, after which he returned to Manchester. He continued the manufacture of chairs until the gold fever of 1849 raged, when he and several others purchased a schooner at Gloucester and started for the gold mines sailing Dec. 11. The trip around Cape Horn was a six months' voyage, stopping at several places en route. They finally landed at San Francisco. He did not enter the mines. Being subject to rheumatism, he contented himself with engaging in business, but the venture did not prove a success. After three years he returned to Manchester and again took up the work of cabinet-making till failing health forced a change. He bought a farm in Middlesex County and starting farming, continuing for three years. After that he returned to Manchester and again engaged in cabinet-making. He continued in this work till about 12 years ago.

He was twice married. Two daughters, Mrs. Eliza Leach and Mrs. Julia Currea survive him. He served on the board of selectmen 11 years, also town treasurer for a number of years, and served for some time on the school committee. He was a representative in 1844 and again in 1856. For over 65 years he was a deacon of the Congregational church.

From a Poem Written for Dea. Low's Ninetieth Birthday, 1898

BY J. A. TORREY

How rare among our fellows do we find
Such strength of frame, such clarity of mind,
Such passion pure for justice and for truth,
Wisdom of manhood with the zeal of youth,
Such liberal mind so tolerant and just,
Large charity, firm hope, and faith robust,
Mingling the graces of the modern man
With the stern virtues of the Puritan.

Blest in the service of his fellow men,
Blest in love given and returned again,
Blest in the Church, his first and dearest love,
In deeds impartial Conscience can approve,
Blest in his children, kindred, friends, yea, blest

In all that gives to mortal life its zest;
Blest above all in aspiration high
For an immortal life beyond the sky.

Deacon Joseph A. Torrey pays tribute to Deacon Low in the following lines written for the BREEZE:

(BY JOSEPH A. TORREY.)

Dea. Low impressed me as a man of the Geo. Washington type, in the broadness of his character. He was well proportioned physically, mentally and morally. His head and heart were level. He was a Puritan without bigotry. He was liberal but not lax. He was not too pious to be an active citizen and mingle with all sorts and conditions of men. He knew not how to separate the secular from the sacred. He illustrated the truth that a Christian may go where he please, if only he go on his knees.

He was patriotic, for in his veins was the blood of Admiral John Low. In his boyhood he witnessed the battle of the Chesapeake and Shannon in our bay. The events of the Revolution were then fresh tradition, and his neighbors were among its heroes.

His education was such as could be obtained in the primitive schools of ninety years ago, supplemented by solid reading, continued through a long life. A student of the Bible, he was also a student of the times. Each interpreted the other. His memory of the past did not dull the appreciation of the present. He was interested in current topics, in scientific and social progress. New views in religion interested him, but did not undermine his faith.

In the long run a man's character may be judged by the offices he has filled, and the responsibilities he has carried, in state and church. The people learn whom they can continue to trust. As a rule a man's neighbors take his weight and measure. The Deacon did not thrust himself upon their suffrages, nor did he decline public duty. The office sought the man and found him faithful.

My personal memories of him reach back nearly fifty years, when Rev. Mr. Freeman, fresh from the seminary, and I, just graduated from the Normal School, became inmates of his family. It was a pleasant and valued experience for us. His example was an inspiration, and his counsel steered us in our inexperience thro' many difficulties. The links that bound us then have been kept bright. The circle was not broken by death till now.

He was a man with a combination of qualities rarely met with—

"A combination and a form indeed
Where every god did seem to set his seal
To give the world assurance of a man."

His life was notable, not only for its length, but for its breadth and depth. It would seem fitting that a votive tablet or memorial window should commemorate his virtues.

George F. Allen writes the following lines about Dea. Low for this paper:

(BY GEO. F. ALLEN.)

Deacon Low spent his boyhood and youth in that part of the town called Kettle Cove. He studied under the tuition of Master Moore of Gloucester, who came to Manchester in those days and gave special instruction to the youth of that part of the town. Later he left the Cove and came to the Village. Then he learned the cabinet-making, or the manufacturing of furniture.

Under the pastorate of Rev. Samuel L. Emerson he united with the church July 6, 1834, and Jan. 3, 1841, was elected deacon. He was baptized in the old church, built in 1719, and razed in 1809, the year following his birth, when the present church was built.

His career has been an eventful one. He served the town as representative in Massachusetts legislature two terms. He was one of the selectmen seven years, and served as chairman four years. He was town treasurer for several years at a salary of $50.00 and he often walked to Salem and other towns in the transaction of the town's business. He was a member of the school board with the late Dr. Priest and others.

He was a strong and most useful man in the church; — a burden bearer, wise in council, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord and his fellow man.

In 1849 he was one of the party who went to California in the schooner Bounding Billow, making the voyage around Cape Horn. He had a fund of humor and his stories, relating to his experiences, were always interesting.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon. From 1 until 2 o'clock the body lay in state at the Congregational church, and many viewed the remains. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln who had returned from Connecticut, where he is spending his vacation. He was assisted by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, of the Baptist church, Rev. Geo. E. Freeman, a former pastor, and Rev. Dr. Lamson. The Schubert quartet of Boston sang.

Rev. Mr. Lincoln eulogized the late deacon, speaking of his integrity of character, his faithfulness, helpfulness and of his cheerful and helpful disposition at all times.

Rev. Mr. Freeman said that it was a little more than 50 years ago he came here from the seminary and the first two men he met were Deacons Price and Low. "In these early times," he said, "there used to be five of us sit at the table. The circle has never been broken, until Dea. Low left us. The rest are all here today." He spoke of the many great changes that have taken place in the commercial world since Dea. Low was born,—such as the introduction of travel across the ocean by steamer, the progress of the railroad across the Continent, introduction of telegraphy and the telephone, etc., but for a man to live through such changes and keep up his interest and sympathy, he said, yet never get behind the times, is remarkable. "He was always in perfect harmony with the best going on about him. He was true and faithful, making no great demonstration, but with such a fund of common sense, and with such an adaptation that a minister could always approach him, and get just that advice which he needed. Since Dea. Low has taken his place here as worshipper there have been 13 ministers. He dismissed one with kindness, cheer and good fellowship and received another in like manner."

Rev. Dr. D. F. Lamson spoke of the uniformly sunny disposition. "He was an optimist. He always represented what was true, honest and of good report. He was a very conscientious man without pretense, without show, very unassuming. He was a faithful venerated servant of God."

"Life's work well done,
Life's race well run,
Life's crown well won."

The bearers were Frank G. Cheever, Frank A. Rowe, Howard M. Stanley and J. Alex. Lodge. Burial was in the Union cemetery.

$2000 Robbery at "Eaglehead," Manchester, Reported to the Police

William C. McMillan, who with his family is spending the balance of the summer at "Eaglehead," in Manchester, in the absence of Mrs. James McMillan, who is abroad, reported to Chief Peabody yesterday morning that the McMillan house had been entered on Thursday night and that the looters had made off with some $2000 worth of jewelry and valuables, including about $100 in gold.

Entrance to the house was made over the piazza on the front of the house, while the family were at dinner. The discovery was not made, however, until yesterday morning, and Mr. McMillan, after making sure the house had been entered, called upon the police.

Whoever did the work must have been acquainted with the layout of the house and the habits of the family. The entrance was made into rooms which were connected with the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. McMillan, and the time selected for the work was when the family were all down stairs to dinner.

Mr. McMillan said he noticed a drawer pulled out when he went to his room about 9 o'clock Thursday night, but gave the thing no more thought. Among the things stolen were a diamond scarf pin valued at $250, a gold match box set with a sapphire worth $150, a pair of pearl studs worth $400, a ladies' comb set with clusters of diamonds valued at $175, a necklace worth $175, a purse containing $100 in gold, also a gold watch and chain. The estimated loss of $2000 is conservatively placed.

Chief Peabody called Chief Watts at Boston yesterday and asked his assistance in catching the thief or thieves, and a description of the stolen articles will be sent out soon, a delay of a day or two being made necessary from the fact that the printing is not being done in town.

Successful Close of Spectrum

The spectrum in aid of the building fund of the new Sacred Heart church Manchester, after a most successful week, came to a close on Labor Day night with a grand ball in the Manchester Town hall. The hall was not large enough to hold half the crowd who tried to dance.

Last Saturday evening the result of the five contests of the week were announced as follows:

West Manchester table, chatelaine silver watch, won by Miss Marion Spinney.

Sodality table, gold watch, Miss Theresa O'Neil ($182 00).

S. S. table, boy's silver watch, won by T. Marsh.

Curate's table, doll, won by Margaret McNeary.

Whip, won by Thomas O'Brien.

Robert Treat Paine, Jr., has been elected a member of the executive committee of St. John's Episcopal church in place of W. C. Loring, who has resigned.

The case of Lawrence Diggins, charged with keeping liquor with intent to sell, was called at Salem, Tuesday, and was continued one week.

Miss Ella McGee of Boston has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Calnan on Haskell street.

A pretty dancing party was held in Marshall's hall, Beverly Farms, Thursday evening, when a select number of young people enjoyed a social and dance under the direction of Miss Florence Slavin and Miss Delia Walsh. Among those present were the Misses Bessie Donnell, B. Tully, M. Harkins, N. O'Hearn, M. Dwyer, M. Tully, L. Bennett, and Messrs. McKee, T. Twoomey, J. White, D. Murphy, P. Connor, E. Murphy, P. Twist, T. Egan, and K. McClellan. The party proved a most enjoyable affair indeed.

Miss Mildred A. Varney of Portland, Me., is visiting her brother, F. W. Varney.

Calcium chloride, a preparation dissolved in water, has been sprinkled from a watering cart on a portion of West street one day this week by Messrs. Connolly Bros., for the Mass. highway commission, as a test to determine its worth as a "street damper" to lay the dust, it being claimed that this concoction will, without repeating, lay the dust for quite a period, and if so will necessarily be a great saving in the future on public street watering.

The popularity of the excursions to Lake Winnepesaukee was illustrated on Wednesday last, when 17 Beverly Farmers took in the excursion and report a delightful trip. There is to be another excursion on Monday next, Sept. 10.

Miss Anna C. Connolly has been spending the past week at Providence, R.I., being a return visit to the Misses Casey, who were recently entertained at Beverly Farms.

The following list of election officers for Ward Six was presented by the mayor at the meeting of the common council Tuesday evening and was laid over for one week:

Warden—Ralph W. Osborne.

Deputy Warden—Charles H. Hull.

Clerk—Thomas J. McDonnell.

Deputy Clerk—Lawrence J. Watson.

Inspectors—Howard E. Morgan,

Frank I. Lomasney, George H. Bennett, John E. McKigue, Lewis G. Williams, John E. Cahill.

Deputy Inspectors—George P. Coburn, Charles McCarty, John M. Publicover, Edward Kelly, Albert Standley, Joseph F. Fogg.

BORDEN--PRESTON

Victor Borden of Dorchester and Miss Nellie Evelyn Preston of East Wenham, were united in marriage, Tuesday, Sept. 4, by Rev. Chas. Le Vecente Brine, at Christ Church (The Peace Church), Portsmouth.

While the marriage of Miss Preston, who is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Preston, of Beverly Farms and East Wenham, to Mr. Borden, was expected to take place within a short time, even the friends nearest the happy couple were completely surprised when it became known on Wednesday last that the bride's parents had just received a telegram dated Portsmouth, N. H., announcing that the ceremony had taken place in the latter place the day previous, where the pair had gone, apparently for an automobile ride only. The bride and groom have returned to Beverly Farms, to receive the hearty congratulations of their friends, where they will live until the middle of October and then will take up their abode in Boston.

Mr. Borden is at present the chauffeur for Mr. Philip Dexter at Beverly Farms.

Frazier—Houghton

Scott Frazier and Miss Frances Houghton, popular young people of the Farms and employees of Mr. John Caswell of Round Plain farm, were united in marriage Wednesday evening in Beverly by Rev. E. J. V. Hugginn. The happy couple returned to the Farms at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Wood on Hart street, where some 50 or more of their friends awaited them, and amidst a liberal display of fireworks, red fire, bonfire and "music" by the "Bingville Band" the party were invited into the house and made welcome, the newly-wed couple waiting upon their guests with refreshments and cigars. Congratulations and best wishes were extended, after which the party left, each with a piece of wedding cake as a souvenir.

"Cold feet" is the term applied by Capt. Frank Gaudreau of the "Yonnigan" ball team to the Hardy club team for their failure to put in an appearance on Labor day, when the final game between these two clubs was to be played for first honors.

Miss Alice Duffy of Boston is vacationizing at Beverly Farms, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory P. Connolly, Everett street.

Messrs. James B. Dow and John D. Knowlton went to Bar Harbor last Saturday, in which vicinity they have been spending a part of this week, returning home Wednesday.

Mrs. Forrester H. Pierce and daughter, Eleanor, last Tuesday morning went to East Hebron, N.H., where they joined Mr. Pierce and the three sons, who are enjoying camp life upon the shores of New-found lake.

Miss Mary Hill, a popular Brookline young lady, is renewing acquaintances at the Farms and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Connolly, Oak street.

Miss Irene M. Fay of Roxbury is spending a part of her vacation at the Farms and incidentally at West beach, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Morgan, West street.

Day Officer Calvin L. Williams is enjoying his annual vacation. He has spent a part of it at Newbury and Stoneham. Mrs. Williams accompanied him.

Thomas Murray has given up the duties of assistant postmaster at the Pride's Crossing office to resume his former position at Varney's drug store.

Miss Ruth Hardy one evening recently gave a party to a score of her friends at her home on Hale street in honor of her cousin, Miss Hortense Hardy of Bangor, Me., who is visiting her.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gould are enjoying a week or ten days visiting friends at Charlestown, N.H.

It is reported that Alderman Robt. E. Hodgkins will probably seek a reelection, and if successful will make the third consecutive term honored by Ward 6 voters.

J. E. Gorman of Gloucester, and until recently with the Ropes Bros. of Salem, is the new prescription clerk at Varney's drug store. Mr. Varney has also secured the services of Henry Thomas of Peabody.

The first annual assembly under the auspices of the drug clerks is billed for next Wednesday evening, Sept. 12, at Neighbor's hall.

The portable saw mill, which has been doing quite a business on the Wenham road, near the estate of Geo. H. Wyatt, on Thursday was disconnected and loaded on cars for New Hampshire points for fall and winter duty.

Monday night last (Labor Day) the fair, which has been running for a week in Neighbor's hall in aid of the new parochial residence connected with St. Margaret's church, came to an end with a grand ball. Each night during the fair the hall was crowded. The various sale tables, which were mostly under the direction of the ladies of the parish, did a rushing business, as did the other novelties and attractive features. Each evening the prize winners for the various long list of articles were announced, which brought congratulations to the lucky ones from their friends, and added to the fun-making, as one lady would win some such prize as a harness, whip or pipe, or while a gentleman carried off a washing machine, or some feminine wearing apparel. The net receipts will show a goodly sum of money on the right side of the balance sheet, for which all concerned are truly thankful.

Over a score of the members of the High school classes graduating in the years 1872 to 1878 inclusive attended the obsequies of their beloved principal, Rev. Willard G. Sperry, D. D., at the Maple Street church, Danvers, on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Sperry died quite suddenly at York Beach, Me., and his death came as a distinct shock to his very many Beverly friends; for during the years he was at the head of the High school, he won the love, respect and admiration of his fellow-citizens, students and parents alike. He will be sadly missed.

"Cape Cod Folks."

A new rival to the standard New England success is "Cape Cod Folks," now in the last fortnight of its engagement at the Boston Theatre. It has started in with a virility characteristic of its namesakes to reach for all stage records incidental to New England plays. It is the biggest kind of a popular hit, and cheers and curtain calls greet the great shipwreck scene in the third act nightly. The play fairly smacks of the salt-laden breezes of the Cape, and it seems eminently fitting that the powerful character portrayal should first be greeted at the famous playhouse which has been the home of those other strong glimpses of New England life, "Shore Acres," "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down

One of the prettiest weddings of the summer was that solemnized at Crystal Lake Farm, Groton, on Labor Day, when Effie Fettyplace Lefavour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Lefavour of Lothrop street, was united in marriage to Roy Adrian Cunningham, also of this city, by the Rev. S. Ingersoll Bryant. The knot was tied out in the open air beneath the trees. A reception followed the ceremony, a wedding supper being served to the guests. A large number of Beverly friends and relatives were present.

Milo C. Dodge of Plymouth spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Dodge of Summer street.

Principal Benjamin S. Hurd of the High school and Mrs. Hurd have returned from St. Stephens, N. B., where they spent the summer.

Miss Clarice Branch of Danielson, Conn., has returned to her home after a fortnight's vacation pleasantly spent as the guest of Miss Nettie C. Morgan of Bartlett street.

Mrs. Harriet P. Cross and family of Rochester, N. Y., left for home on Labor Day after a month's visit with relatives in the city.

Mrs. C. F. Davis and Miss Pearl Davis are on a trip to Lake George.

The city began the collection of ashes and rubbish in the various wards of the city proper on Tuesday. During the winter collection will be made twice per month, but during the summer months but one collection per month will be made. It would seem that the city went "back-side-to" in the matter of the collections of refuse, and that the proper matter to be collected should have been the garbage which is a menace to the health of the community as well as being a distinct nuisance to the householder who finds it extremely difficult to have it removed. But next year will bring both collections, it is hoped.

Miss Grace S. Perry of Broadway has been entertaining Miss Helen Carter of Sutton, N. H., formerly of Beverly, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Elliott of Butman street are enjoying a fortnight's vacation at Straw cottage, George's Mills, N. H.

Wonderland's Glorious Carnival.

It has been the aim all along on the part of Manager Floyd C. Thompson to accentuate the importance of Wonderland's free shows, giving, in addition to the concerts every afternoon and evening by the Salem Cadet Band, a number of other very strong features. This idea, so steadfastly adhered to since the opening of the season, is even more strongly manifest now than ever in the celebration of the free carnival at Revere beach, which began on Labor Day and lasts until Sept. 16, the date of the closing of Wonderland. There are fully 50,000 extra Edison incandescent lights, and thousands of Japanese lanterns add their swaying, shimmering glow to the illumination which every night makes Wonderland a veritable fairy land.

Next week is positively the last week of Wonderland's merry, and by all accounts, supremely prosperous season.

A Check Account is a Necessity

You may carry a check account with us, against which you may give checks in paying all bills. The advantage of this is: that should a receipt, or a receipted bill, miscarry by any chance, your returned check would be a receipt, affording protection.

This method is simple and convenient—it tabulates and systematizes your expenditures—and puts you on a footing with the most experienced and astute business men of the country.

GYMKHANA AT MAGNOLIA

Most Brilliant Out-door Event of the Season at this Popular North Shore Resort Last Saturday.

All Magnolia, and in fact a large number of people from all along the North Shore, lined Crescent beach, Magnolia, last Saturday afternoon for the second annual gymkhana and tournament of mounted sports. Hundreds of interested spectators drove to the beach in automobiles and vehicles, while everybody simply poured out from the hotels.

It was the most brilliant out-door event of the season at Magnolia.

The initial event of the afternoon was the children's saddle competition for boys and for girls, a riding bridle presented by J. Henry Coulter being the prize offered for the boy, and a beautiful little silver cup from the Hesperus for the girl. Samuel and Isabel Wadsworth of Philadelphia, aged 14 and 12, respectively, took the first prize in the former and second in the latter event.

In the potato race for men and women there were two divisions. Miss Covell won in the women's division and H. C. Washburn in the men's. In the final heat Miss Covell, who rode finely, beat out Mr. Washburn by a fraction of a second. Among other contestants in this event were Misses Eleanor Sears, Margaret Gummey and Mrs. Carleton, and Messrs. Reggie Bolles, H. Van Namen, W. J. Carleton and C. M. Haley.

In the jumping class, open for men and women, the horses were all quite nervous. R. S. Bradley, on Paragon, won first, and also third on Mikado. Miss Alice Thorndike won second on Iron Duke. Other contestants were Miss Sears, riding Hamilton; Miss M. A. Carleton on Maid o' Erin; Hilda Rice; Reggie Bolles on Patrice, and afterward on Fearnought, the handsomest actor of the day; Miss Margaret Gummey on Joker. The height of the jump was 4 feet and the prize was a silver cup offered by Mr. Bolles.

The quarter mile flat race was won by Neil Rice, the 13-year-old son of C. H. Rice of Ipswich, who rode Gold Band. He won out by a great burst in the last 20 feet, the time being 19½ seconds. Nine of Hearts, ridden by Reggie Fitz of Manchester, although making a bad start, pulled clear in the lead and seemed to have the race well in hand, when he was beaten out by an eyelash. Other horses entered were Capt. De Jony's Starlight, H. Potter; Capt. De Jony's Princess, S. Vidouves; Harry Tweed's Miss Tracy, Louis Shaw; J. H. Coulter's Slivers, J. Collins; J. H. Coulter's Happy Days, J. H. Coulter.

The quarter-mile hurdle race, with three hurdles, was also an exciting event and was won by J. H. Coulter's Wonderland, ridden by Mr. Coulter, with Apple Blossom second and Starlight third. Reggie Bolles rode a winning race on Fearnought, which took the wings rather than the hurdle. At the last wing he shied to one side, throwing the rider, who fortunately escaped without injury.

The Gymkhana, the concluding event, furnished the grotesque and comedy element of the day. In this the men wore bright calico skirts, started at signal before mounting, mounted without use of stirrup, went a quarter mile, dismounted, drank a bottle of ginger ale, picked a cigar out of a box on the ground, lighted it, went fifty yards, picked up a bright red or green parasol, opened and held it above the head and returned to the starting point.

J. H. Coulter won the cup offered by the New Magnolia in a canter, the other contestants being R. F. Bolles, H. C. Washburn, C. M. Haley and Howard Potter.

The committee in charge was G. H. Desmond, R. F. Belles, Dr. E. A. Dakin, George Christopher, Howard Potter, H. C. Washburn, H. M. Curry, Dr. G. H. Newell, Rev. Dr. Charles Wadsworth, J. Collins, S. De Irsay.

The officials: Judges, P. F. Roche, Beverly Cove; Claude Kilpatrick, Magnolia; marshal, R. D. Van Namen; assistant marshals, Capt. D. Jony, J. H. Coulter; starter, I. O. Weir.

Gymkhana Ball

The gymkhana ball at the Oceanside hotel last Saturday evening brought to a brilliant conclusion the gymkhana and tournament of mounted sports on the beach at Magnolia last Saturday afternoon. It being the last ball of the season was responsible in some measure for the enthusiasm manifest. Many were over from Manchester and along the Beverly shore for the occasion, and many very pretty gowns were in evidence.

HORSE SHOW

five. There were four entries in each class. Levi S. Lord's General won the trot, taking the first, second and fourth heats. C. S. Gurin's Lady Laurin won the pace in three straight heats, and S. C. Gould's Newton the free-for-all in a like manner.

Meanwhile, a polo game had been started between two Myopia teams, made up of Reds: 1, Dudley Rogers; 2, R. G. Shaw, 2d; 3, J. H. Proctor; back, G. G. Amory. Whites: 1, George L. Peabody; 2, Maxwell; 3, Adelbert Ames; back, F. B. Tay. The game was called on account of rain at the end of the second period, at which time the score stood: White 7, Red 5.

On the track between the harness races a special match was run off between T. E. Proctor's Jennie Lind and C. G. Rice's Gold Ban, two speedy polo ponies. The victory rested with Jennie Lind. Another running race was won by Mr. Kerens' Will o' the Wisp. A display of brood mares and colts closed the morning.

The horse show opened with a most discouraging performance. The rain had made the take-off of the first jump—a four-foot stone wall—very slippery. The hunters were "green," the class being for the Abbott cup, and there was not a single creditable performance among the whole twenty-two entrants. Before the next jumping class was called, however, the wind had dried the ground enough to make the footing reasonable and the performances were much better. All the same, it sent the prizes to the more experienced and "knowing" of the horses, not bad qualities in a hunter. The entries for the Masters' cup numbered twenty-nine.

Judge Moore, as usual, was the mainstay of the harness classes, having, roughly speaking, two entries in each class. With such horses as his to compete against, third ribbon might be considered as good as a win in any other company.

James W. Appleton, James Parker and T. G. Frothingham judged the hunters. Charles F. Baker, assisted

The Merchants' Mission

To serve you at your command, to have for you, at hand, those things which in the ordinary course of events are needed in every household—to have, to present to you such of the out-of-the-ordinary things as by his research and judgment he has proven are practical. To be able to answer to your satisfaction the questions that confront you as to the probable future desirability of new schools of design. To be so well informed in the practical construction of his wares, as to be able to bring to your notice those features that go toward the making of the difference between properly constructed goods and those that are otherwise. To offer you his wares, secured necessarily through a natural instinct for values, at a less cost to you than his competitors, and then to insight in you the confidence that his every effort and act is committed in the hope and expectation of your entire satisfaction.

When this mission is fulfilled the institution accomplishing it becomes a factor—enjoys success while casting forth its benefits.

'Tis a noble mission, and one we modestly assert, we have striven to attain.

Evidence of it is shown by our constant growth at home—a business increased three-fold in 10 years—and our reputation abroad—we were complimented very recently by two of Boston's biggest dealers, by their acknowledging to us, that they actually heard more from us than from any concern anywhere—and while we enjoy compliments we invite and appreciate criticism. On the eve of the greatest season we believe we have ever had, if there is any suggestion you might offer wherein we can improve, we crave it.

Fall Showing is every day Growing.

BUILDING OPERATIONS

A Busy Winter is in Store for North Shore Mechanics—Several New Houses to be Built—Contracts Being Awarded

From present indications the coming fall and winter is to be a busy season for mechanics on the North Shore. Several contracts have already been awarded for work, and other deals are now on which will no doubt lead to the building of three summer residences at least.

The contracts have been awarded this week and work has been started on the Frederick Ayer estate at Pride's Crossing—the place which Mr. Ayer bought a year ago from the Royal Robbins heirs. The work will result in what will practically be a new estate. The old house—a wooden one—is to be demolished and a fine structure, mainly of brick, with the plaster exterior so extensively used on the shore, is to be built. The site of the new house will be on that of the old house, approximately.

Large terraces, gardens, new avenues, regrading and extensive landscape work will be included in the building up of the estate, which, when completed, will make one of the show places of the North Shore.

The house plans are by Messrs. Parker & Thomas, architects of Boston. The contract has been awarded to F. L. Whitcomb of Boston. The landscape designs are by Olmstead Bros., Brookline, and all the house foundations, terraces, avenues, grading and landscape will be performed by Connolly Bros. of Beverly Farms.

Manchester

It is stated on good authority that A. L. Devens, who recently purchased a lot from Philip Dexter off Forest street, Manchester, is to build this winter.

The party who bought a lot on Smith's Point, next to the Unitarian church, will also build the coming winter, it is said.

Two Large Greenhouses

Beverly Farms

Operations were begun this week upon the newly purchased land off Greenwood avenue, by Messrs. J. T. and W. S. Spaulding, for the erection of two greenhouses, each building to be some 150 feet in length, together with a work house adjoining. The structures, besides having the usual iron frame and glass, are to have walls and foundations of concrete masonry to conform with the present storage and garden buildings recently erected. There is also considerable drainage and grading to be done in connection with the new plant.

The houses are to be equipped with the very latest innovations in this line, and will be, probably, the best equipped in this vicinity for the growing of plants, fruits and vegetables.

A New Jersey firm has the contract for the greenhouse materials, Messrs. Morley, Flatley & Co., the foundation, and J. A. Mayberry, the wood work.

Vim Wins Roosevelt Cup

Under rather poor conditions the final in the series of races sailed off Marblehead between the American and German boats for the Roosevelt cup was sailed Monday afternoon, after it had twice been postponed on account of the fog. The Vim, representing the American Yacht club of New York, won, it being her third race. The Auk was second and the Wannsee, the only German boat in the finals, which had won on Saturday, came in last. Many North Shore yachtsmen attended the banquet tendered the visiting yachtsmen at the Eastern Yacht club Monday evening.

S. Alexander Orr and family, who have been occupying the Owl cottage on Valley street, Beverly Farms, concluded their season on the shore this week, removing on Thursday to Troy, N.Y.

FIRE AT MANCHESTER

Blaze in the Building Opposite Manchester Police Station Called Out Fire Department Early Yesterday Morning

The Manchester fire department was called out yesterday morning a little after 5 o'clock for a blaze in the building on Central street, owned by Mrs. Slade, and occupied by Brion Manion as a fish market and by Chas. Francis as a barber shop.

Being on one end of a row of wooden buildings in the square, in which there have been several bad fire scenes in the past three or four years, the firemen can consider themselves fortunate to get out of it with so little work.

The fire evidently started in the back room of the barber shop, in a corner where was located the little metal boiler in which water for the shop was heated by a little oil stove. Though Mr. Francis had not been there all of Thursday afternoon and evening and says the stove was not burning when he left, the fire started from all appearances in that corner. Eating its way through the thin board partition into Manion's fish market, it was just gaining considerable headway when discovered. The most of the damage was done to the rear of the fish market.

It was about 5 o'clock that the fire was discovered. Joseph Slade, whose mother owns the building, was on his way to his fishing dory at the town wharf. He was about to turn down by the police station when he noticed smoke oozing from the front doors of the building, and on close observation he could see a flame within. He hurried to the fire station and after a little delay the alarm was rung in from Box 52. The hose wagon was taken over and within a few minutes the flames were smothered. Meanwhile crowds of people had assembled. The loss will not be so heavy.

At the First Unitarian church, tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock, Rev. Charles E. St. John, secretary of the American Unitarian Association will preach.

The engagement is announced of Frank R. Robbins of Boston and Manchester and Miss Catherine Britton of Boston. The marriage will take place, it is understood, in late November. Mr. Robbins is the groom at Mrs. Scott Fitz's and is very popular along the shore.

Mrs. Robert Baker and little daughter, Esther, are sojourning with friends in the Granite State.

An inventory on the estate of the late Edgar W. Knowlton was filed at the probate court in Salem Monday, in $766.97.

John G. Haskell was drawn as juror Thursday for the October sitting of the superior court which meets at Newburyport.

Mrs. Hattie Perkins returned the first of the week from Minneapolis where she went some weeks ago to attend the W. R. C. annual convention.

Cards have been received here this week announcing the marriage on September 5 at Portland, Ore., of Dr. George Burnside Story and Miss Grace Edna Watkins. Dr. Story is a son of George Story, a native of Manchester, and a grandson of Dr. Asa Story, for whom the Story High school has been named.

Marshall, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Winchester, had a close call the day before Mr. and Mrs. Winchester, who were camping on a lake, near Norway, Me., started for home. The lad was playing in a boat supposed to have been hitched to the landing near the cottage when a sudden squall of wind blew the boat away from the shore and toward the center of the lake, with the little boy in it. There were no other boats in the vicinity and as the drifting boat moved farther and farther away the situation began to grow more serious. Mr. and Mrs. Winchester were helpless on the shore. Finally a lady on a little island boarded a small boat, after some difficulty, and after taking Mrs. Winchester on board, started up the lake and caught the drifting boat after it had gone a mile and a half. A steamer afterward took them aboard and brought them home. The wind just after that was terrific and the fate of the lad, had he been out in it, would have been rather hazardous. It was a close call.

Neat line of shirts at Bell's. *

Selectman and Mrs. Fred K. Swett started Tuesday on a twelve days' trip, going first to New York by water from Fall River, thence up the Hudson, and then to Thousand Islands, Montreal, the St. Lawrence river to Quebec and home by way of the White Mountains, where they will spend a few days. The tour is one of the most delightful that could be taken at this season of the year.

Hollis Bell has taken the agency in Manchester for Collier's Weekly and is soliciting subscriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Johnson have been spending a few days this week at Canobie Lake, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Elmer Butler and children returned last Saturday from a four weeks' visit to Plmyra, Me., and nearby points.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gorman left Thursday night for a brief trip to Chester, Vt.

Miss Nellie Farrell and cousin, Cornelius O'Leary of Boston, spent the week-end guests of Miss Donovan at Beverly Farms.

Miss Sophia Johnson has returned from a fortnight's visit with friends in Chelsea.

Miss Minnie F. Merriam of Waltham was a guest over Sunday of her brother, Arthur Merriam, and family, Brook street.

Woodland Hotel Burned.

The Magnolia fire department was called out about 8.30 Tuesday evening for a fire on Woodlan avenue, off Western avenue, on the road to Gloucester, in which the Woodland hotel was burned flat to the ground. The house had just been closed that day and the owner had started on a vacation trip, so that the origin of the fire is somewhat of a mystery, though it is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

Messrs. Andrews and Buxton, who were going to Gloucester in their auto, discovered the fire. They immediately turned around and proceeded to Magnolia. They informed Officer Chapman and the latter rung in an alarm from Box 85. The building was of three stories, valued at $6000, fully insured.

Unique Tour.

One of the most striking features of the present theatrical season will be the joint tour of Yvette Guilbert and Albert Chevalier. They cross the ocean under a six weeks' contract with Liebler & Co. In many respects the tour will be unique. They play forty different cities in as many different night. They travel some 23,000 miles. Their joint programme will be given in both English and French. With Mlle. Guilbert's piquant English a part of the cities to be visited is familiar, but Chevalier's French songs are yet to be heard. Each artist will carry a separate accompanist. The tour necessitates a private car, special train service, and almost wholly night travel. The route extends from Quebec to New Orleans, from Winnipeg to Oklahoma. No less than three experienced men will travel in advance to make the requisite arrangements for local advertising and appearances. In point of expense, the outlay will be by far the greatest in the history of the stage for the number of people carried and the extent of country covered.

The opening recital will be given in Toronto, Monday evening, Oct. 8, other Canadian cities following, with the Boston date at Symphony Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 12.

Society Notes

The closing event of the season at the Manchester Yacht club and one of the last social events of the season at Manchester will be the dance to be given at the club house this evening, to which the friends and guests of the members are invited. The patronesses for the event are Mrs. S. Parker Bremer, Mrs. A. Walpole Craigie, Mrs. Edward S. Grew, Mrs. Gordon Prince and Mrs. William A. Tucker. The club house will close for the season at noon on Monday, Sept. 17.

The last sailing tender race of the Manchester Yacht club was sailed last Saturday afternoon. George Wigglesworth finished first in a field of seven starters. R. D. W. Smith was second.

Senor Calderon left Magnolia this week for a visit to Bryn Mawr, before returning to Washington.

Mrs. J. S. Lee is entertaining this afternoon at an informal luncheon at her cottage in Magnolia.

Mrs. W. Scott Fitz left Manchester Wednesday, having closed her cottage and is at Jackson, N. H., where she has a cottage, for the next month or six weeks. Her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Holmes, who have been spending the summer with her at Manchester, go to the mountains also.

Mme. de Strale, wife of the Counsellor of the Swedish legation, was chaperone for a merry party of young people at the tea house in Magnolia one day the first of the week; the party being given by Harry Sleeper of Boston, among whose guests were Miss Eva McAdoo, the Misses Southerland, Senor Calderon and others. Later Mme. de Strale was hostess at a little party given there and she included among her guests Herr Kuhlman, Herr Friedrichs, Lt. von Kohler, of the German Embassy, Miss Lewis of Beverly Farms and her guest, Miss Wolfe of Tuxedo.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Draper of Hopedale, who have been abroad since early in June, returned last week and came to Manchester Tuesday for a week's visit with Gen. and Mrs. Wm. A. Draper at the "Bradbury Cottage," Smith's Point. Mr. Draper is a brother to the General and Mrs. Draper is an own sister to Mrs. W. A. Draper.

Society Notes

John D. Rockefeller, jr., and family ended their season on the North Shore yesterday, when they left Pitch Pine Hall, Beverly Farms, for Tarrytown, N.Y., where they will spend the fall season before going to New York City.

Mr. A. Kinne and wife left Beverly Farms Thursday morning for New York where they will sail today for Rome. Mr. Kinne occupied the Ober cottage opposite the Farms depot and has been the secretary to the German ambassador. He goes to Rome in response to his application for a transfer and will occupy the same position there for the German government. The successor to Mr. Kinne comes from Tokio, Japan, in November.

Charles Walker returned to Manchester today from a trip of a week or more in the Adirondack.

Col. Wm. D. Sohier of the Beverly Cove colony leaves today for San Francisco where he will act for the Mass. Relief committee in the distribution of some $500,000 still remaining of the relief fund collected for the California sufferers.

S. Parker Bremer has been over to New York this week, for the week. The Velthra, his trim pleasure steam yacht, will go out of commission the first of the coming week.

C. M. Amory won the honors in the members' handicap golf tournament at the Essex County club last Saturday, and in addition he took the special cup offered by John Hays Hammond. Mr. Amory also won a third cup last week by defeating George F. Willett, 6 and 5 in the finals in the play off for the special handicap challenge cup. This last must be won by the same person three years to become its owner. There were 38 players in last week's competition. G. H. Crocker made the lowest score, playing from scratch in 78. Mr. norv's score was 90-15-75. In the contest for the scratch challenge cup Carr is the winner, beating J. T. McMillan in the finals, 2 and 1.

The W. B. Smiths have closed their cottage in Magnolia and left for their Boston home Tuesday.

There have been but few more brilliant functions on the North Shore in years than the "house warming" Thursday evening at "Eagle Rock," the magnificent mansion of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Frick at Pride's Crossing. Though it came when the season was drawing to a close, very little was detracted from the smartness of the occasion, for almost every member of the summer colony and from points more distant from Pride's Crossing were included among the invited guests. The affair proved a most pleasant one, indeed. From 4 until 9 scores of guests called to pay their respects, and during those hours everything was the picture of life about the estate. The house, which is conceded to be the finest and most costly furnished on the North Shore, was given added charm by the simple decorations. In the evening, in particular, the house itself was fairly aglow with brilliancy, and the long and winding avenue leading from the highway to the mansion on the top of the hill was illuminated by scores of electric lights. In the evening an impromptu cotillion was led by Bryce J. Allan and Miss Bangs, and during the receiving hours Miss Judd of New York gave an organ recital on the mammoth organ, which forms one of the features of the interior of the house. Luncheon was served "a la fresco" in the afternoon by a Newport caterer. During the afternoon and evening musicians from the Boston Symphony gave a program, which was much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cabot have returned from their trip to Europe, and are at their Manchester cottage again.

Raspberries at this season of the year is something rather rare, especially raspberries grown in this section of the country. Yet last Saturday W. J. Griffin, gardener at the Chas. H. Tweed estate in Beverly Farms, picked from the garden two boxes of the delicious berry. We have yet to hear of anybody on the North Shore who can beat, or even equal this record. If there is one such North Shore gardeners would like to hear of him through the Breeze.

A Trip on the Ocean Wave

Last Monday according to his usual custom, Mr. S. Parker Bremer of Manchester turned his trim steam yacht, "Velthra" over to Captain Whelden for the day, and the genial captain had a party of his friends on board for a day's outing. It is needless to say the day was one of great pleasure for the 29 who were so fortunate as to be numbered among Captain Whelden's friends.

The captain planned to take a run along the shore to Newburyport, but a heavy fog bank loomed up as Cape Ann was reached and, after encircling Gloucester harbor, the Velthra's nose was headed back again. After cruising about the bay for a while, running out to the race course outside Halfway rock, the yacht was run into Salem outer harbor until after dinner. This was served a little after one and consisted of one of Steward Chase's choicest chowders as a preliminary, with chicken and other dishes, which were prepared by the assistance of Cook Alfred Jensen and "Chef" Frank Crombie.

Dinner over, the Velthra was again headed seaward and the run out to Halfway rock, where the German-American races were on, was made in double quick time. The Velthra, by the way, is the speediest boat on the North Shore and can develop 23 knots. After a run back to Beverly and a trip down the shore to Manchester, the party boarded smaller boats and came back to town about 4 o'clock, but not until Captain Whelden had been "set up" with three cheers and a tiger, and the good wishes of the party had been extended to Steward Benj. Chase, Cook Alfred Jensen, Engineer Franklin Keen and the other members of the crew.

Those in the party were: F. C. Rand, Dr. C. L. Hoyt, Edward S. Knight, Capt. John Allen, A. C. Needham, W. B. Calderwood, Rev. Wm. F. Powers, F. K. Swett, F. H. Crombie, Louis O. Lations, John T. Murphy, Geo. D. Haskell, F. J. Merrill, F. K. Hooper, S. L. Wheaton, S. S. Peabody, E. P. Stanley, F. H. Dennis, T. L. White, P. H. Boyle, Chas. Hooper, D. T. Beaton, Dr. R. T. Glendenning, Geo. A. Jones, Dr. Geo. W. Blaisdell, Horace Standley, L. W. Floyd, I. M. Marshall and J. Alex. Lodge.

Many North Shore Callers

Many shoppers from along the North Shore were among the hundreds of guests entertained yesterday at the big store of A. C. Titus & Co., Washington street, Salem, when the store was turned into one large reception room. Business was suspended. In the attractive salesroom on the second floor, specially dressed for the occasion, was served refreshments of ice cream and cake between the hours of 2 and 6. There were attendants to greet the many callers as one entered the store. A pretty souvenir was given every one who called.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. McGinley and family went on to Cleveland on Wednesday for the wedding today of Carl McGinley and Miss Gertrude Holden. Miss Holden has been spending part of the summer at Magnolia, where she was quite popular among the younger set.

The sad news that reached Magnolia Tuesday of the death in Antwerp, Germany, of Miss Clara Newell, the eldest daughter of Dr. G. H. Newell, proprietor of the New Magnolia, has cast a gloom over that resort. Miss Newell has been one of the leading lights among the social leaders at the New Magnolia for several seasons past, and it was only a few weeks ago she left here for Constantinople, where she was going to teach. She had been ill with influenza for five days on the trip over and she passed away in a hospital in Antwerp of pneumonia, which had developed. Mrs. Newell is prostrated over the news which reached here by telegram last Tuesday.

Most all the members of last year's graduating class in the local high school are going away to school this year. Miss Annie Coughlin is attending Salem Normal school; Miss Libbie Dunn is attending the Girls' Seminary at Northfield; Miss Theresa Walsh is attending school in Boston; Miss Mabel Olsen is at the Salem Commercial school; Miss Edna Kitfield will take a course in a Kindergarten training school in Boston; Miss Mary Rust is taking post graduate work at the local high school and will also attend a special school in Salem. Of the four boys, Harold Betts is at the Salem Commercial school, Frank Fleming is at Dartmouth, Bert Floyd is at Cornell and Bert Sinnicks will attend Andover.

Everett Andrews of Cambridge, but formerly of Manchester, and who is a motorman on the Boston Elevated railroad surface cars, had the misfortune one day the first of the week to run over a child, killing it. The Boston papers said he was in no way to blame.

William Burgess was removed to the Beverly hospital in the ambulance a week ago yesterday, where he has been very low with typhoid fever. He was reported at the hospital this morning as greatly improved, and practically out of danger.

The bath house of Mrs. Oelrich on Crescent beach, Magnolia, but which is within the town of Manchester, was broken into last week and the matter was reported to Chief Peabody. Three bathing suits and three sets of towels were reported stolen.

The grand ball of the North Shore coachmen in the Manchester Town hall last Friday night brought out the largest dancing party of the season. The floor was in charge of James Shilliday, and J. Twoomey was assistant floor director. The aids were: Wm. Patterson, Thos. O'Brien, Frank Robbins, Richard Barr, R. Shilliday and James Nawn.

Mrs. Isabella Critchett, wife of Capt. John Critchett of Gloucester, passed away at her home on Washington street, in that city, Tuesday. The funeral services were held in the Crowell Memorial chapel in Manchester yesterday afternoon and interment in the family lot in Rosedale cemetery. Mrs. Critchett was formerly the widow of Edward N. Andrews, an old-time cabinet maker of Manchester.

Considerable excitement resulted Thursday afternoon from the breaking of a wheel on S. K. Prince's swill cart as it was rounding the corner of Pine and Central streets. As the wheel broke the driver, a Mr. Powers, fell, and as the result of his fall sprained both ankles and was otherwise shaken up. A couple of horses came along and acted rather frightened of the mixup, and then a carriage containing Miss Woodbury of Beverly Cove, Maynard Woodbury and Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Clement came along. Their horse acted more scared than the others, and his fright was evidenced in the manner in which he took to the sidewalk, striking a large tree, smashing the front wheel and throwing the occupants to the road. Mrs. Clements was more severely shaken up than the rest, and had to be treated by a physician. The swill cart was later patched up and proceeded on its way, though the driver had to be taken home.

Miss Mary Donahue has returned to West Manchester after a visit to Newport, where she took in the Horse Show last week.

Autoists Fined

Charged with overspeeding their machines through the centre of Manchester, Otis W. Richardson, a lawyer, and Harold C. Buxton, a chauffeur, were before the district court at Salem Tuesday, and despite their fight, each were fined $25. The scorchers were summoned by Officer Lamasney after they had escaped him once. The case occupied the greater part of the day in court on Tuesday. Horace B. Stanton of Boston represented the defendants, while M. L. Sullivan of Salem appeared for the government.

Officer Lamasney was the principal witness for the government. He said that he saw the machines rush by, and would place the speed the autos were going at 25 miles to "give them the benefit of the doubt."

Several witnesses were heard on both sides. For the defence the testimony was that the autos were not racing, and not traveling over 12 miles an hour. For the government three witnesses said that the machines were going at a terrific rate, at least 25 miles an hour. C. C. Dodge was one of the witnesses.

One of the three larceny cases from Manchester before the grand jury came up Wednesday at Lawrence, — the one in which Thos. Gray, a former employe at the Masconomo House is accused of stealing valuable packages from the American Express Co.'s wagon. The decision is not yet announced. The other cases were continued until next term.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Roberts are on a trip to St. John, N.B.

Miss Florence Macgregor returned to her home in Hamilton Thursday from a visit with her cousin, Helene Purdy.

E. S. Bradley entertained a number of friends from Beverly Farms and Manchester, at his home on Pine street, Thursday evening, the party being the joint committee in charge of the union picnic held at Tuck's Point in the early summer.

Miss Grace M. Prest, the bookkeeper at D. T. Beaton's, started Monday on a fortnight's vacation, most of which she will spend at Plymouth, N.H.

The members of the Painters' union, Local 797, gave one of their members, Manuel Travers, a send-off at their headquarters, Thursday evening, in the form of an oyster supper. Mr. Travers starts from Manchester the first of next week, with his family, for Oakland, Cal. At the "send off" the other night the members expressed their regret in losing one of their members, one who has been a good and honest workman, and a faithful union worker.

Miss Libbie Dunn left Tuesday for Northfield, where she intends to take a two years' course in the girls' school.

The water off West Beach is smiling again and the angry waves are throwing off their white caps because "The Pasttime," the queen of the West Beach fleet, is once more back to her moorings. Last week Capt. F. P. Gaudreau had moored his boat off Baker's A yacht owned by C. A. Jones of Boston, manager of the American house, Boston, came along and jabbed the Farm's boat in the side. Mr. Jones was a sport and came back. He told Mr. Gaudreau to take his boat to the "Graves' yard" in Marblehead, have her repaired and send the bill to him. This was done, and yesterday "The Pasttime" was brought back to West Beach.

The schools opened here and at Beverly Monday morning for the fall term, and as a result the ever popular West Beach is looking very much deserted, for the score or more visiting young people, who have added to the life of this place during the summer, have returned to their respective homes.

Rev. Edwin P. Hoyt, a former pastor, will preach at the Beverly Farms church tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Standley, Mrs. M. T. Larcom, Mrs. Lydia Williams and Mrs. Elmer Standley are enjoying camp life at Conomo Point, Essex. The latest report is that Mr. Standley, being the only man in the party, is having rather a hard time of it, being "bossed" and "imposed upon" by four women.

For the next fortnight the fire alarm will not be the least disturbing to Driver Wm. S. Pike of the West street hook and ladder truck, and it is doubtful if he even hears it, for, with Mrs. Pike, he is taking in various points of interest in Maine and New Hampshire. Mr. Pike says he will surely have a "look in" at all the cattle shows, of which there is an abundance this season of the year.

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Strong Pond started this week for a four weeks' vacation trip, a part of which will be spent among the Berkshire hills, and also at various places of interest on Cape Cod.

John S. Wallace has returned from a well-deserved recreation trip spent in traveling, principally through the places of interest in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Wood have "broke" camp where they have been enjoying the past two months, upon the shores of Bass river, at Rial Side, and have returned to their Hart street residence.

The Beverly Farms Baptist church is looking splendid in its new coat of white paint, administered recently by Messrs. H. M. & R. E. Hodgkins.

Marshall T. Larcom, the popular engineer and janitor of the West street fire station, started today on his annual leave of absence, to be spent camping out at Conomo Point, Essex.

Mrs. Winthrop F. Low, who has been quite ill at her home on Valley street, is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Pride have closed their summer home on Hart street and removed to their home at Winter Hill, at which place on Thursday Deacon Edwin Pride and Mrs. Pride, their parents, went to pay them a short visit.

Mrs. Lawrence Diggins, who has been ill for some time, was removed in the ambulance to the Beverly Hospital for treatment, Wednesday evening.

Letters advertised at Beverly Farms Post-office Sept. 13: Mr Herbert R. Andrews, Mr Robert Borman, Mr Francis T. Colby, Mr Diuia, Mr Joseph Dudley, Mrs Lewis Edwards, Mr W. W. Harding, Mr Thos Harrington, Miss Kathleen Hutchinson, Miss Amalio Malvin, Mr Jos C. Oakes, Miss Addie Whittle.

The incoming Leyland liner "Devonian" Monday brought home Alexander Carr, who has been for the past five weeks visiting his former home in Ainsdale, Eng., and renewing old acquaintances in that vicinity. While Mr. Carr is happy over a well-spent vacation in England, he says that the United States is "God's country," after all.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Dow leave today for a week or ten days' trip to various points in Canada, and will during their travels visit Quebec and inspect the many attractions there.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hooper and Mrs. Geo. M. Frost left Wednesday and are enjoying life for ten days at Newport, Vt.

"A good time" is the unanimous verdict of the large number who were present at the grand assembly given in Neighbor's hall Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Beverly Farms drug clerks. The $5 gold piece, offered for the best pair of waltzers on the floor, was awarded Frank Moore of Manchester and Miss Margaret Quirk of the Farms.

Mrs. Daniel M. Linehan and children are in New York city visiting relatives and friends.

The fish weir located off Chubb's island, operated by Capt. J. Frank Blaney and Capt. Chas. Jones, is doing a rushing business. Most every morning from 60 to 80 barrels, principally of herring, are taken out, for which a ready market is found.

Rep. Wm. R. Brooks has decided not to be a candidate at the coming Republican caucuses. While Mr. Brooks and his many friends feel that the honor is due him in view of the fact that the new district is now represented by one year's men, in the persons of Mr. Vittum of Beverly and Mr. Putnam of Danvers, and inasmuch as Mr. Brooks has had two terms, but not consecutive, he will not ask the above gentlemen to forfeit an honor that is due them, believing that one year's good work should be followed by a following second term. Next year Beverly will probably be entitled to two representatives, and then Mr. Brooks will probably again be a candidate.

Night Officer Webster K. Bray, at the hearing before the committee on police at City hall last Monday evening, admitted that he had erred in releasing a man after making an arrest and making no report of same, and in order that the discipline of the department might be maintained he was suspended from duty for two weeks without pay. This is the outcome of the recent Ramblers' dance in Neighbor's hall, when the police were called in to quell a "rough house."

Edward Williams and wife of North Easton, formerly of the Farms, have been renewing acquaintances at the Farms a part of this week.

Mrs. Charles F. Preston, Mrs. Theodore A. Holmes and Mrs. Andrew Crowell left Wednesday morning, and expect to spend a week or more rusticated at North Conway, N.H.

A sociable and dance to be given in the near future, under the management of the chauffeurs, is announced as an event of the present month.

The Misses Elsie L. Preston, Alice Witham and Alice Bolam, and Mrs. J. Albert Mayberry attended the wedding of their friend, Miss Agnes G. Ferguson, whose marriage to Mr. Hooper R. Shaw took place at Topsfield Wednesday afternoon. Miss Preston assisted in serving at the reception following the ceremony.

The boys are circulating a subscription paper, asking for donations toward the purchase of foot ball uniforms and other equipment for the team this fall.

The Rug Season Has Opened

Vacation time practically over and the returning host of families from mountains, seashore and country settling down once more to the busy city life! A condition of affairs which generally calls for a freshening-up and redecoration of the home, and in many cases a thorough fall cleaning.

Many Housekeepers Will Want New Rugs

In most instances not an expensive rug, but something of good quality which will add new life to the appearance of the room or hall. If such is your case, don't hesitate where or when to purchase.

Our New Fall Line Awaits Your Approval

No matter what kind of a rug you want, whether a small mat size for door use or a large carpet size for parlor or dining room, you'll find "just the thing" in our immense assortment.

Even if not quite ready to buy, don't omit seeing these new rugs; it's a pleasure to show them.

NEW SMYRNA RUGS

All new patterns in these popular Rugs, finished on both ends with fringe. You really get two rugs in one when you purchase this variety, for they're reversible. All sizes, from the handy little mat, 18x36 inches at $5c, to a large 4x7 ft. rug at $7.50.

OUR LEADER AT $3.00

Just think of buying a fine quality Symrna, 36x72 inch, a choice from a big lot of patterns and color combinations which will harmonize with any carpet; a quality which many stores consider a good value at $3.75. This is what we offer for $3.00.

NEW CARPET RUGS

If you wish a new floor covering, don't fail to look over this new line of carpet size rugs. A great assortment of handsome patterns in 6x9 ft., 8-3x10-6 ft. and 9x12 ft. sizes, to select from, and several dollars' saving on every purchase. Prices range from $11.00 to $50.00.

NEW ROYAL WILTON RUGS

Handsome new designs for parlors and libraries. These rugs are finished on both ends with the new mercerized fringe.

27x54 in.	$3.50
36x63 in.	5.50

NEW IMPERIAL AXMINSTER RUGS

Just two patterns in this special rug, but both extremely handsome. Size is 36x63. A regular $9.00 quality which we offer as an opening fall special at $7.00.

NEW AXMINSTER RUGS

All new patterns and exact copies of real Orientals. We call particular attention to the beautiful colorings of these rugs. Two sizes.

27x60 in.	$2.25
36x72 in.	4.00

You Never Can Tell.

For the second week of his engagement at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, Arnold Daly will present Bernard Shaw's sparkling satire, "You Never Can Tell," in which Mr. Daly was seen for five months at the Garrick Theatre, New York. The uncertainty expressed in "You Never Can Tell" was never more clearly illustrated than in the career of the comedy itself. The artistry in the production was displayed by the way in which Mr. Daly scorned the allurements of the spot light and kept his own role,—by no means the most prominent in the comedy—in exactly its proper relation to the others, his first aim being to give a faithful and perfectly balanced representation of the author's ideas. These ideas he received not alone from his own interpretation of the text, but also from Mr. Shaw in person.

MAGNOLIA

Mrs. Annie Symes of Lowell has been spending the week in town a guest of James Scott.

Schools opened Monday for the year. Miss Mattie Burke resumed her duty as teacher in the lower grades of the Blyman school with an enrollment of 23 scholars. Miss Etta Harvey is the new teacher of the upper grades. She reports an enrollment of 21 scholars.

Mrs. Ernest Allen and daughter Thelma, of Somersworth, N.H., spent the first of the week with Mrs. Henry Butler.

Mrs. Philip Lycett is spending two weeks in Chelsea visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Booker.

Miss Annie Kehoe left Sunday for Hautsport, N.S., where she intends to spend a month.

An entrance was made into Dr. Gordon Morrill's house, near Cobble Stone beach, Sunday evening, about 8.30. The family was seated in the parlor just after dinner. Entrance was made on the western end of the house by lifting a screen. The burglar made off with about $30, which was taken from the bureau in Mrs. Morrill's room.

Mrs. Houghton's house, just opposite that of Dr. Morrill's, was also broken into at about the same time, Sunday night. The burglars entered the house by climbing the lattice work, which is on the western end of the house, and by lifting up a screen they easily gained access into the house. All that was missed was a stick pin, a gold watch and about $4 in money.

Quite a large tract of land between Raymond street and the beach caught fire on Saturday morning about 11 o'clock. Covered with long, dry grass, which burned easily, the track was swept over by the flames in short order. Alphonso Tarr's fish net, valued at $1,200, was saved by being hauled onto the beach. The combination fire wagon was called from Magnolia, and this put a check to further advance of the flames. The fire came near burning several bath houses on the beach bank. It also came dangerously near John Stanwood's gasoline shed, which is situated near Haring Dickinson's estate.

Alexander Shedlovsky, a violinist of great power, a graduate of the Russian Conservatory, played two selections of Russian music at last evening's meeting at the Village church. A short talk was given by the pastor between the selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard B. Publicover left yesterday for a fortnight's vacation trip to be spent mostly at Bridgewater and Liverpool, N.S.

Mrs. Everett Lendall and two daughters, Ethel and Lizzie, left Thursday for a visit with relatives to Annapolis, N.S.

Miss Delia Greeley of Pride's Crossing spent Sunday with friends in Manchester.

Miss Mary Fitzgerald of Boston and Pride's, spend Sunday a guest of friends at Manchester.

The busy season has commenced in earnest with Messrs. Connolly Bros., the well known Beverly Farms contractors and builders. In addition to the Frederick Ayer work spoken of on another page, this firm has, during the week, started work or made contracts for a large amount of work which will keep them quite busy for some months to come. They are soon to commence operations upon another of their famous lawn tennis courts, without which nowadays no North Shore estate is complete, the same being upon the estate of Wm. Slater at Beverly Cove, in addition to which considerable work in tree moving and landscape is to be performed.

This firm has been awarded the contract for a large amount of work to be performed upon the Amster estate at Brookline including the construction of rustic walls, avenues, flower gardens and landscape work.

The H. D. Scott estate at Needham is to have a tennis court, avenues constructed and considerable work in the grading and landscape line for which the contract has been also awarded this Beverly Farms concern.

Work was also started upon the estate of W. A. Rogers, at Kennebunkport, consisting of the building of terraces, walls, avenues, paths, planting and landscape work.

At South Lincoln improvements have been started on the estate of A. Henry Higginson, including the building of an Italian garden surrounded by an artistic fence or wall of cement and plaster.

Thomas Jefferson in "Rip Van Winkle."

Following the engagement of "Cape Cod Folks" at the Boston Theatre, which closes with this evening's performance, comes Thomas J. Jefferson in "Rip Van Winkle." The Boston visit of Mr. Jefferson this season will be limited to two weeks only, including Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

As was the case with Joseph Jefferson, whose popularity was perennial, so it appears to be with his son and successor, Thomas Jefferson, in the role of Rip Van Winkle. This role is one with which both the younger and elder generation are so thoroughly familiar that no description of either the character or play is required. Those who saw Thomas Jefferson as Rip at the Boston Theatre last season were amazed at the perfection of his art and expressed their admiration in the most unmistakable manner. He does not imitate the art of the elder Jefferson, but shows notwithstanding a marked similarity in his portrayal of the drunken old vagabond, Rip.

The play is one of the few which has a particular interest for children, and they as well as their elders will doubtless flock to the Boston Theatre during the Jefferson engagement. Happily, the Wednesday and Saturday matinees afford the juvenile element this much desired opportunity.

RUGS

ALL THAT'S NEW

7--0 x Sizes are not plenty. — Fortunately we were able to secure a good line in this odd size. — They cost $12 a rug — for Bedrooms and small Dining rooms — they are just the thing.

9--0 x Another unusual size, — they fit places — especially small Dining rooms and reception Halls. They cost from $9 to $28.75. In the regular size rug we carry an enormous assortment.

8--3 x We carry in all qualities from the low priced to the 10--6 high grades. They cost $8.75, $19.75, $21.75 upwards to $45 the rug. — We think the showing unusually large and fine.

9--0 x Is the size that nearly every one is looking for. — We are 12--0 especially well stocked in this size in all grades — $11.75 to $50 are the extreme ranges in price. Most of our rugs are in our own patterns, not seen elsewhere.

Rug All mills have mishaps, care-
Seconds less weavers make mistakes, sometimes serious, often trifling, which under strict rules are not perfect — they go "as seconds." We offer some nearly perfect rugs at way off prices — better take a look.

CAUCUSES NEXT WEEK

Interest Centers in Election of Senatorial Delegates—Jas. F. Shaw and Augustus Hubbard the Two Senatorial Candidates

Though there is an apparent lack of interest in the Republican caucus to be held in Manchester next Tuesday evening, compared to last year, there is much more interest than usual, the chief point at issue being the election of candidates favorable to James F. Shaw as the senatorial nominee. Mr. Shaw's chief opponent is Augustus Hubbard, who, it will be recalled withdrew from the field last year leaving everything to Mr. Shaw. Though it is conceded Mr. Shaw will get the nomination as far as Manchester, his home town is concerned, not all concede to him the nomination.

It has been decided by the present Republican town committee that the committee shall consist of nine members the coming year instead of seven. Six of the present committee will probably be re-elected and three new members added.

The Democratic caucus will be held on Wednesday evening.

MORE BURGLARIES

Two More at Manchester in the Series of Breaks Along the Shore—State Police at Work on the Cases

Two more cases of burglary were added this week to the series of breaks along the North Shore the past few weeks. Both breaks were made on Sunday night, and both were made in close proximity to each other. In each case however, the thieves did not obtain much booty and in one case they were frightened away before they had time to do much damage.

One break was made at the F. M. Whitehouse estate Sunday night as the family were at dinner, under conditions similar to the McMillan break. Entrance was made by cutting the screen on a second-story window. The burglars, after entering the room and the adjoining rooms, locked the doors from the inside so that if their presence was discovered they could escape before apprehended. They made off with a heavy gold safety pin with a large opal setting, a gold neck chain, a gold necklace, a silver necklace and several other articles of less value. They were frightened away before they had time to do much; a maid, finding a door locked, giving the alarm.

At the G. M. Lane house the same night entrance was made in similar manner, some time after midnight, it is thought. As the Lanes are abroad there was very little in the line of valuables available. Two shirt studs set with pearls, a brooch pin with a large amethyst set with pearls and $12 in cash were among the things stolen.

Special precautions are being taken all along the shore against any further breaks, and besides all the Manchester specials, who are now on duty nights with the regular officers, a large number of special officers are guarding private estates.

Arthur Wells of the state police was in town Tuesday working on the case.

FERGUSON COTTAGE, BEING BUILT AT MANCHESTER

The accompanying reproduction is from the plans of a cottage being built on Allen court, off Brook street, Manchester, for John J. Ferguson. The building is now well under way. W. Nelson Wilkins of Boston, the architect in charge of a number of houses along the shore, including the attractive summer residence of E. Haring Dickinson at West Gloucester, planned the cottage. T. Mahoney is the contractor.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. John Baker have sent out invitations for the wedding reception of their daughter, Hattie Florence, and Chester Delos Cook, at "Fairview," on Monday evening, Oct. 1.

Mrs. George A. Kitfield and daughters, Misses Edna and Marion, have been spending the past few days at Shirley Hills, N. H.

Master Frank Sousa has been home three days this week on a leave of absence from the Truant school at Lawrence.

Harry S. Tappan has been spending the past few days in New York and in Connecticut.

The Baptist church is being treated to a new coat of paint on the exterior, the contract having been awarded to A. J. Orr.

The Phi Alpha Pi held their first meeting of the fall at the chapel last Friday evening, the following officers being elected for the year: Frank Sinnicks, president; Walter Fleming, secretary; Joseph Floyd, treasurer. In the near future they contemplate holding a "ladies' night," and entertainments will also be given to the public during the winter by the 20 members now in the club.

Philip White, caretaker of the Masconomo hotel and property, is on a fortnight's vacation trip to Digby county, N. S.

Frank Byer of East Boston spent Sunday with Joseph Cawthorne and family.

Miss Amy Crombie left last Saturday for Groveland, where she has a position teaching in the public schools.

George Enos and family of Medford are occupying the Mears cottage on Tappan street for a fortnight. Mr. Mears and family returned to their Boston home last Saturday.

W. B. Calderwood started last Friday night for a visit of ten days to his former home in Camden, Me., where Mrs. Calderwood has been spending the summer.

At the probate court in Salem Monday an inventory on the estate of the late John E. Lee, in $1600, was allowed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Howe have had among their guests this week Miss Gertrude Barnes of New Hampshire, Mrs. Rebecca Laura of Beverly, Mrs. C. A. Cutter and daughter of Wisconsin and Miss Simons of Melrose.

Miss Alice Latons spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Clarence Sargent, in Danvers.

Charles Dodge, Story High school '07, entered Andover Academy on Monday of this week.

William Sheehan has entered the employ of T. Mahoney, carpenter and builder, as an apprentice.

Capt. Whelden and crew started Tuesday morning with the "Velthra," Mr. Bremer's steam yacht, for Quincy Basin, where the boat will be put in winter quarters. Mrs. L. W. Floyd, James Beaton and family and a few other friends enjoyed the hospitality of the captain across the bay.

Contracts for Painting Awarded.

The bids for painting the Town hall, Engine house and the Row schoolhouse, in Manchester, were opened by the selectmen last Saturday afternoon, and were as follows:

Town hall—A. J. Orr, $217; Temple & Thyne, $249; E. A. Lane, $250.50.

Engine house—Temple & Thyne, $139.50; E. A. Lane, $155.25; A. J. Orr, $173.

Row school—A. J. Orr, $28; E. A. Lane, $30.50; Temple & Thyne, $33.

The contracts were awarded to the lowest bidders.

"The children of God" will be the subject by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening he will preach on "Naaman, or the 'But'."

The Quarterly Meeting of the Baptist churches of Beverly, Wenham, Beverly Farms and Manchester, was held at the local church, at 2 o'clock on Thursday, when delegates from each of the churches were present.

There was a brief talk on "Grace," the large number of testimonials being led by Mr. Brewster, who presided at the meeting. This quarterly meeting has been in existence for upwards of 56 years,—being organized in 1850, and it is therefore very dear to the hearts of the older people. It is hoped it may be perpetuated by the coming generation.

The First Unitarian church on Masconomo street closed last Sunday for the season and will not reopen until next June.

Miss Stearns gave a swell little dinner party at the Grill club Monday evening for her tenants in the Colonnade.

It has been decided to place the contract for the new pipe organ which is to be given to the church by Mrs. Rebecca Colfelt, with the E. N. Skinner Co., of Crescent avenue, Dorchester. This company has in five years become one of the leading firms in the country, having contracts now on hand amounting to $150,000. E. N. Skinner is the inventor of many improved methods in organ construction which give to his organs superior sweetness and purity of tone. The vice-president of the company is Hope Jones of England, a celebrated organ builder, who has come to America to add to his laurels. The organ will be installed in the church early in December. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $2500.

Miss Minnie Silva of Gloucester spent the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. D. C. Ballou.

Miss Grace Story of Andover is spending the month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Story.

Mrs. Charles Hildred of Lowell is visiting her sister, Mrs. Susan Libby.

Mr and Mrs. Henry Brown entertained as their guests the first of the week, Mrs. William Joseph of Rockport and Mrs. Charles Smith of Manchester.

Miss Susie Symonds left for Charlestown this week where she intends to pass the winter with her sister, Mrs. Roy French.

If the "friend" who sent the item about the "farewell dinner" given on Tuesday evening would only keep within the bounds of truth we should have been glad to print the item, and we should have appreciated his "friendship" all the more.

Rev. Fr. Duffy of Red Bank N.B., has been visiting his sister, Mrs. R. Davis.

The first meeting of the singing school has been postponed to Oct. 16.

An interesting tennis tournament has been in progress the past week or two on the courts at "Swiftmoor," Prides Crossing, between the children in that section, for a beautiful cup. Among the players taking part have been Frances and Preston Moore, Gladys Munn, Loraine Denegre, Oliver and Richard Ames, Francis Amory, Preble Motley, Phyllis Sears and Hope Norman. The semi-final round was played Monday, the four players being Phyllis Sears, Hope Norman, Gladys Munn and Francis Amory. The finals will be played next Monday.

Among the departures from "Brownland," Manchester, this week, were the Geo. P. Sangers and the Thomas Gannetts who are spending a week or two at Poland Springs before returning to their Cambridge homes.

Mrs. E. B. Hill of Manchester Cove was hostess at a luncheon given at the Essex County club Wednesday afternoon. Covers were spread for 12.

T. Clarence Hollander has closed his bungalow at Misery Island for the season and will spend the balance of the season at "Craigston," his Wenham home.

Master Junius Aldrich left Manchester Wednesday for St. Mark's boarding school, Southboro. Monday the young lad was given a sort of "send-off" party, quite a number of his young friends calling at his Manchester Cove home. Games were played and the young folk sat down to a spread before departing.

Junior Horse Show

There is sure to be a gay party of young people over at the George S. Mandell farm in Montserrat today for the Junior Horse Show, to start at 9.30 o'clock. A large number of children are entered in the different riding and driving classes, and the continual practice which they have given for the event is sufficient evidence of the success of the competition. The classes include:

RIDING CLASSES

Class I. Small Children's Ponies—For ponies about Shetland size; or larger ponies ridden by the younger children.

Class II. Ponies under 14.2—Open to all.

Class III. Ponies 14.2 to 15 (inclusive)—Open to all.

Class IV. Jumping—Ponies to be ridden by the smaller children. Jumps about two feet.

Class V. Jumping—Open to all. Jumps about three feet.

Class VI. Jumping—Open to all. Jumps about three feet, six inches.

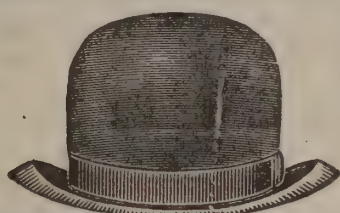

DRIVING CLASSES

Class VII. Small Children's Ponies—For small ponies or larger ponies driven by the younger children. Single or pairs.

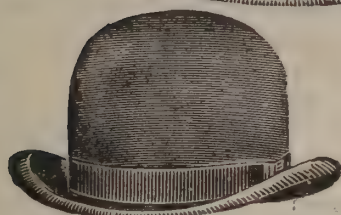

Class VIII. Ponies 15 Hands or Under—Open to all. Single or pairs.

Among the departures from Magnolia this week were the S. N. P. nards, who left for their home in St. Louis, Monday; the Joseph Sargent, Jr., who left for Boston Monday, and the B. W. Bolars, who returned to Worcester on Monday, also.

M. S. Small of Highland Park, Ill., is a guest of his aunt, Mrs. W. H. Moore at Prides Crossing.

Miss Alice Cotting returned to Prides Crossing a week ago today from a visit with friends in Bar Harbor.

Bishop Lawrence and family, who have been spending a few weeks with the Judge Loring at Prides Crossing, returned to Boston Monday.

On Wednesday afternoon at The Dolphin, Magnolia, Mr. Alexander Shedlovsky, a violinist of great attainments, and a teacher of violin in the Conservatory of Music in St. Petersburg, Russia, gave a recital accompanied by Mr. Mason of Boston on the Steinway piano, which was used under Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge's management this summer in her series of song recitals. Mr. Shedlovsky had to flee from St. Petersburg, barely saving his life. The Conservatory of Music there is closed because of the political troubles and he has come here to teach violin in Boston. Kind friends are gathering round him, but he must succeed on his own merits as a violinist, which are great.

A. F. Wadsworth.

Alexander F. Wadsworth of Boston, a guest at the Oceanside, Magnolia, died there last Saturday at the age of 66 years. He had been in ill health for several weeks. The funeral took place from the chapel at Mt. Auburn.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Porter are being congratulated on the advent of a little girl in their home on Blossom lane, Manchester, last Sunday, Sept. 16. Mrs. Porter was Miss Henrietta Wigglesworth of Boston, a daughter of Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth.

Prince Nicholas Koudacheff of the Russian embassy, Mrs. John H. Upshur, Mrs. Bolles and Reginald Bolles are enjoying the delightful September weather at Magnolia, and are at The Dolphin.

A wedding to take place in Newport on Oct. 11, which will be of much interest to many North Shore people, will be that of Miss Evelyn Blight and Mahlon Alanson Sands. Miss Margaret Winthrop of Boston and Manchester, a cousin, will probably be one of the bridesmaids.

Among the fall weddings of interest to Magnolia summer visitors is that of Miss Marian Vincent Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. Austin Brown of Boston and Magnolia, to Franklin Farrell.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Smith and family, who have been occupying the Arthur Meeker cottage at Beverly Farms this summer, left Tuesday for their home in Pittsburg. They are spending a fortnight in New York on the way.

Gustav de Strale, secretary of the Swedish legation, has taken rooms at The Dolphin, Magnolia, for the autumn season.

The Myopia Hunt club has sent invitations for a golf tournament to be held the week of Oct. 15, which promises to be one of the features of the season of 1906. Only crack players have been asked to compete and many of the best in the country were ready to come on to play over the Hamilton course if the Myopia golf committee would arrange a competition for them. Players in Massachusetts who receive a handicap of two or less in the state association will be invited and among those from outside the state who will compete will be Eben M. Byers, the national amateur champion; George S. Lyon, the Canadian amateur champion and runner-up to Byers in the United States championship tournament at Englewood this year; Walter J. Travis, Jerome D. Travers, H. Chandler Egan, W. P. Smith, Archie Graham and F. O. Horts-mann.

The German Embassy will be established at Beverly Farms until about Sept. 25.

Miss Isabel Morrison has been a house guest at Mrs. R. H. Fitz's in West Manchester the past week. Reginald Fitz returned a few days ago from his visit to Islesboro, Me., and Dr. Fitz is expected to return tomorrow from his trip to the Adirondacks.

The S. H. Fessendens have closed their Coolidge Point cottage and returned to Brookline for the winter.

R. H. Stevenson and family have left Prides Crossing and they will spend the fall in Europe. The Harcourt Amorys, whose house the Stevensons have been occupying, have returned from Bar Harbor and will spend the fall on the shore.

Vernier—Selfridge.

At the Summer church, Magnolia, today, at noon, Miss Susan Maxwell Selfridge was married to Mr. Walter de Vernier of Navarre, France. The bride was given away by her beautiful maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Upshur, who was the widow of that dashing soldier, Gen. Philip Kearny. Miss Virginia Selfridge, a sister, was the maid of honor.

The Rev. Dr. Sprague of St. John's Episcopal church, Charlestown, Mass., was the officiating clergyman.

On account of the death of Miss Selfridge's father, Captain J. Russell Selfridge, only last fall, the wedding invitations were restricted to the connection, and a few intimate friends of the family.

The New England Industrial School for the Deaf, in Beverly, opened its 30th term on Wednesday, Sept. 19, with an enrollment of about 35 pupils. The management of the school begs to call the attention of its subscribers to the fact that the school is in need of a number of household necessities and would greatly appreciate any gifts of house furnishings or money that the public may want to give. Some of the articles most needed are chairs, beds, a wardrobe, table linen, towels, 16 yards floor covering.

The eggs of the gypsy moth should be destroyed at once with creosote. They should never be scraped off the object on which they are laid. Careful search should be made for gypsy moth egg clusters, not only on trees but also on walls, stone walls, fences and in rubbish heaps, etc. The present and future cost of combating this insect can be greatly reduced by cutting and burning worthless brush, hollow trees, etc. A few trees well cared for are more valuable to the property owner and the community than a large number of neglected trees.

The nests of the brown-tail moth should be cut off the trees, carefully collected and burned in a stove or furnace.

To the Editor of North Shore Breeze:

Dear Sir: Seeing your article in last week's BREEZE on picking raspberries on the Tweed estate at this time of the year, I would say that there are a number of raspberry bushes on Mrs. James Bennett's place, Hale street, Beverly Farms, and for the past three weeks she has picked a saucerful for lunch or supper, as occasion required, nearly every day. Would add, also, that the bushes bore all right in the early summer.

WHISPERINGS

It isn't a duck pond exactly which Gardner M. Lane recently had constructed at his estate in Manchester, though one would have thought so to have seen the ducking one of the well-known landscape architects, Olmstead Bros., of Brookline, got there one day last week. This concern had drawn the plans for the garden at Mr. Lane's, and a member of the firm came to Manchester to get some pictures of the garden. He was all over the grounds, camera in hand, finding the best positions for a picture here and there. First he would lean this way and then another, as we have all seen photographers do, when of a sudden there was a splash, as man, camera and all went into the water.

PROPOSALS

Plans and Specifications of the proposed Cove Sidewalk are ready at the office of the Board of Selectmen and bids will be received for the construction of the same on or before MONDAY, SEPT. 24th, at 4 p.m.

A bond of $500.00 must accompany the bid for faithful performance of the work.

The Selectmen reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

WALTER R. BELL,

Manchester, Sept. 11, 1906.

Great excitement prevailed on Beach street, Manchester, Tuesday afternoon, when a dog came running along the street yelling for dear life. Some thought the animal was mad, but it turned out that Mr. Dog had been getting too gay with Arthur Dow's hen-yard, and had killed some of the habits of that place, and to break him of the act a dead fowl had been tied around his neck with the result above mentioned. The animal belonged to George Reed, it is said.

James F. Shaw of Manchester are candidates for the Senate, and Mr. Hubbard should be supported by the Manchester Republicans for the following reason:

Since last year the Representative district has changed, and consists of four wards in Gloucester and the town of Manchester, and it is much better for Manchester to be in harmony with Gloucester, so that we may get our representation in both House and Senate at the proper time.

Mr. Hubbard is very strongly supported in his own city, as well as in other parts of the district and expects to win the nomination.

ONE REPUBLICAN.

Sept. 19, 1906.

"Hitch Into the Plow."

Manchester, Mass.,

Sept. 19, 1906.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

On Tuesday next the Republican voters of Manchester will again be called upon to elect delegates to the various conventions. Last year at this time Mr. James F. Shaw was a candidate for the senatorial nomination and was the candidate selected by the party. We all know how he went down at the polls, being defeated by George A. Schofield, the Democratic candidate from Ipswich. Mr. Schofield went into the fight as the poor man's candidate, the Moses who would lead the working men out of bondage and into the land of perpetual prosperity and plenty, and now that all of the laboring men are living in luxury, and all are dwelling under their own vine and fig tree, Mr. Schofield goes forth seeking new worlds to conquer, and new slaves to set free. And we will have to find a Joshua to continue the work, to take up the sword where the valiant Ipswich soldier has laid it down and keep the third Essex district on the firing line.

I really think that after the smoke of this great battle has cleared away and we come to face the problem of reconstruction, we will have to conclude that it is about time to hitch into the plow, to do something that will add to our prosperity, about time to put a practical business man to the front, that this district may become an industrial and progressive district, and not a historic battle ground filled with monuments to dead soldiers.

Mr. James F. Shaw is the logical candidate for the Senate. No one can question his ability, and I think that if we want to have this district's commercial and industrial interests advanced, we should see to it that he is nominated and elected this coming election.

A Republican.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crafts, the first occupant of the Corner Store, gathered up the products of her trade, consisting of Potatoes, Corn, Eggs, Butter, and other fruits from the soil of the Town, and shipped them in the Packet for Boston, where she disposed of them and with the proceeds thereof purchased her Fall and Winter trade.

Unlike the contents of the OLD CORNER STORE of today, there was no Priscilla Muslin Underwear, no King Pin Waists, no Ruffled Petticoats, no Lisle Hosiery, Hair Pins, Side Combs, Stock Collars, Art Goods, and other goods galore.

No! Our ancestors' wants did not call for them. Just imagine what she did have, and what there is for you at the Old Corner!

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Briggs of Boston were recent guests of Mrs. Charles Sawyer. Mr. Briggs is a brother to the Rev. Mr. Briggs, a former pastor here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Abbott Adams of Bath, Me., are visiting Mrs. D. Elmer Butler.

Miss Emma Prest has been spending the week with Miss Gertrude Appleton at Wenham.

Miss Helene Purdy was a guest of her aunt, Miss Lizzie Ross, at Ipswich, the first of the week. Raymond Purdy is leaving the latter part of the month for Nova Scotia to spend the winter with his aunt, Mrs. A. Purdy.

Mrs. William Daley, who has made her home on North street, moved to Cambridge on Monday of this week.

Mrs. Walter Marr and daughter Mildred have left for Mrs. Marr's former home in Weymouth, N. S., where they intend to stay permanently. Mr. Marr intends to join them about December 1.

Mrs. J. A. Lodge has been spending a few days this week with her grandparents in Lowell.

"The hit of the season" is the way in which the grand Scotch dance is being heralded, and there is no doubt but that the event, to take place in the Town hall, on Friday evening, Oct. 12, will be the most popular dance of the fall at Manchester. Many will appear in full Highland costume, and there will be bag-pipe selections by pipes of the different Scottish clans. Tickets are for sale at Cheever's drug store.

William Allen, the young mechanic at Dyer's Auto Depot, met with quite a serious accident last Saturday as he was riding his bicycle down Walker's Hill, on Jersey avenue. The front wheel broke, throwing him to the ground. He received bruises about the back and legs, also cut his left hand quite badly. He continued on to Cheever's drug store where his wounds were dressed.

F. M. Stanwood's horse, attached to a two-seated carriage, was frightened by an auto owned by a Magnolia summer resident which was moving slowly through the center of the town Wednesday, ran away, but was stopped before it had proceeded far down Beach street and before much damage was done.

Mrs. Oliver Gilman is able to be out again after some few weeks' illness at her home on Summer street.

Successful Season ClosedAt Manchester Yacht Club.

Last Saturday evening's dance at the Manchester Yacht club brought to a close a successful season. The summer months have been productive of some good racing. The club house closed for the season Monday.

Leading in the point of interest were the Quincy cup races, the blue ribbon event for small yachts of Massachusetts bay, and which had been won and defended by the Manchester Yacht club for many years. There were four yachts out for the cup, representing the Quincy, Corinthian, Boston and Manchester Yacht clubs. The Manchester Yacht club defended the cup, with the Manchester II, owned by Dr. John L. Bremer, and designed by E. A. Boardman, but after a series of interesting races the cup was lost to Manchester and went to the Windrim Kid of the Corinthian club, after the Bonidrei of the Boston Yacht club had practically won it, but lost on a protest.

The sailing tender races at the club have been very successful and Chairman G. W. Mansfield of the regatta committee has given a race which averaged once a fortnight and brought out an entry of from five to eight boats. R. D. W. Smith won the trophy for the best percentage with a total of 87.4 and the other averages were as follows:

N. Wigglesworth, 84.3; C. E. Cotting, Jr., 73.9; George Wigglesworth, 64.6; A. F. Bemis, 32.8; Norman Read, 30; T. M. McKee, 21.1.

There have been many pretty social affairs at the club this year and the annual aquatic sports were as interesting as ever. Commodore S. P. Bremer, who has led the club for several seasons, will again be at the head of the club next year and the indications are brighter than ever for a successful season.

Vehicles Collide.

An accident of a most serious nature was very narrowly averted Monday evening at West Manchester. Wallace E. Stanley and Lewis Killam had been to Beverly to call on their fellow member in the A. O. U. W., James Murray, who is reported ill, and were returning about 10 o'clock. They were driving in Mr. Stanley's light rubber tired runabout, and as they reached the avenue leading to Boardman's Point, so-called, an empty two-horse hitch, belonging to one of the summer residents there, came dashing out of the avenue and before anything could be done by either party, the pole on the two-horse vehicle plunged into the light carriage and struck Mr. Stanley, who was nearer the horses, in the chest.

The impact sent Mr. Killam headlong onto the macadam road. Of the two, Mr. Killam was the more injured, his arm being considerably hurt and one side of his body being more or less bruised. The fact that the blow of the pole was of a glancing nature explains the narrow escape of Mr. Stanley.

The carriage was more or less damaged, and one wheel was put out of commission. The owner of the pair of horses, which were being driven by the coachman, very kindly offered, the next day, to pay all expenses resulting from the collision.

BEVERLY FARMS

The engagement has been announced of Miss Beatrice Morrison of Boston and Bernard Joseph Woods of Boston and Prides Crossing. The wedding will take place in Boston in early October. Owing to a recent death in Mr. Wood's family the wedding will be a quiet affair. Mr. Woods is the popular athletic instructor, so popularly known along the North Shore.

It is reported that some of the beneficiaries under the will of the late John K. Dodge have taken steps to break the will.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Dow arrived home Wednesday evening, after a delightful trip, especially that part of it which took them to Quebec and down the St. Lawrence river to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stillman, formerly living in this vicinity, and who have of late years made New Hampshire their home, returned to the Farms on Wednesday and have taken up their residence at East Wenham, where they expect to reside permanently.

Mrs. Samuel Lendall left the early part of the week for a visit among friends at Groton, N.Y.

James J. Nugent, the popular Oak street livery stable man, lost a valuable horse on Monday last.

Chas. McCarthy of Greenwood avenue has accepted a position at Brockton, where he went on Wednesday.

A large crowd and a good time is sure to be the outcome of the social and dance to be held in Neighbor's hall on Sept. 27 (next Thursday), to be given under the auspices of the Order of Foresters.

The trucks at the local stations have been piled high with baggage all the past week—a strong indication that vacation time is about over.

Mary E., wife of Lawrence Diggins, died at her home on Vine court early Tuesday morning, where she had been ill for some time. Services were held at St. Margaret's church Thursday morning and interment made at St. Mary's cemetery, Salem.

Repairs and improvements are being made by Howard P. Williams upon the "Williams homestead," Hart street.

Howard E. Morgan is taking a few days' vacation from his duties at Messrs. Connolly Bros.' office and is spending it in Maine, going to Bangor by boat on Friday evening.

"Calcium chloride," the new preparation for street sprinkling, which test has proven very satisfactory on West street, was this week tried on Hart street and a part on the Wenham road, with the idea of giving a thorough test on roads which are of different construction.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Marshall, and Mrs. Edwin F. Cambell and children have during the past week been enjoying camp life at Wheeler's point, 'Squam river, Gloucester.

John A. Morrison has gone to Kennebunkport, Me., to take charge of Messrs. Connolly Bros.' work. This firm has some 50 or more men employed there upon the W. A. Rogers estate.

At the hearing before the board of aldermen in regard to the lay-out of Elliott avenue as a public way, Thos. J. McDonnell appeared in favor and said it would be a public benefit and an inducement for building, thereby adding materially to the tax receipts in the city treasury. There was no opposition.

The Republican Ward 6 caucus will be held in Marshall's hall next Tuesday evening, Sept. 25, and the Democratic caucus at the same place the following evening, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the different conventions.

Louis Pond has concluded his stay at the Farms, and on Tuesday last departed for his home at East Templeton.

Among the last to close "camp" at Briar Neck, Gloucester, were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Pierce, who on Thursday last returned to Beverly Farms, taking up their residence on West street.

The property of the West Beach corporation is assuming fall and winter appearance, inasmuch as several floats have already been put upon the upland for storage until the return of another summer. Bathing has now become the pleasure of a few, and the house parties in the buildings along the beach bank are becoming each day less frequent.

The Friends' Bible class connected with the Baptist church, including some 17 ladies, were royally entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Franklin Haven at her beautiful summer home, Haven's Hill. During the afternoon refreshments were served, and the guests were entertained in part by vocal and instrumental music.

The "fellows," in acknowledgment of the good time given them a week ago by the "North Shore girls," gave a return party last Thursday evening in Marshall's hall, which was certainly carried out in grand style by those in charge, and the "best time of the season" is the unanimous verdict. Heaphy's orchestra of four pieces did the honors. The hall was prettily decorated with flowers and autumn leaves. Refreshments were served, the "fellows" themselves doing the honors.

Tremont Theatre

For the third and last week of Arnold Daly's very successful engagement at the Tremont Theatre he will present a triple bill, including "The Flag Station," "How He Lied to Her Husband," and "The Monkey's Paw," on Monday and Friday evenings; "Candida" (by special request) on Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon; "Arms and the Man" at the Wednesday matinee and Saturday evening; another triple bill, comprising "Grandfather Coquesne," "The Lemonade Boy," and "The Man of Destiny," on Wednesday evening, and "You Never Can Tell" on Thursday evening. The list contains nine of the most popular of Bernard Shaw's plays, and that they will be admirably acted cannot be doubted by any one who has seen the earlier performances by Mr. Daly and his superb company.

The attraction to follow Arnold Daly at the Tremont on Oct. 1 is "The Student King," a masterful operatic romance of sixteenth century Bohemia, with book and lyrics by Frederick Ranken and Stanislaus Stange, and music by Reginald de Koven. The work, which had an all-summer run in Chicago, will be interpreted by a very strong company under the management of Henry W. Savage.

The time to visit the Berkshires is when the leaves are turning. The foliage is now taking on its richest hues and colorings are gorgeous—red yellow—purple and gold. Greylock, Sugarloaf, and other Berkshire mountains provide inspiring beauties of landscape.

This hill country is famous for its lovely walks and drives, and trolley lines afford easy means of travel through northern and southern Berkshire.

The trip from Boston to Pittsfield over the Boston & Albany R.R. is through the most picturesque section of Massachusetts.

Ere the Berkshires are reached, many beautiful hills, valleys and streams may be seen from the car windows—Mts. Bunyan and Dunplin, near Palmer—Mt. Tom, and the Connecticut River at Springfield, the graceful elms of the Westfield meadows, and the winding Westfield River, all add to the delights of the trip.

MANCHESTER

At last evening's meeting of the N. S.H.S., Herman Tieman, formerly caretaker at the McMillan estate, but now of Belchertown, Mass., displayed a beautiful collection of seedling dahlias.

The dancing party in the Town hall Thursday evening under the direction of Arthur Crocker and Nelson Cook was one of the pleasantest of the season. There were about 75 couples on the floor. Cook's Orchestra of five pieces played a delightful musical program during the evening.

Grand Instructor William Webber of Boston paid an official visit to Magnolia lodge, I.O.O.F., Thursday evening, rather unexpectedly. He spoke very complimentary of the work of the initiatory degree staff, one candidate being initiated on that evening.

Wm. Burgess, who has been confined to the Beverly hospital the past two weeks with typhoid fever, is beyond the danger point and is now reported recovering.

Many Manchesterites attended the cattle show at Peabody the first of the week. Among those who went Wednesday were Mrs. Chas. Danforth, Mrs. James Dow, Mrs. Abbie Grey, Miss Bethiah Tappan and Mrs. Caroline Parsons.

Mrs. Edward Harraden returned last Sunday from a most delightful trip of five weeks to Minneapolis, where she was a guest of friends. She attended the W.R.C. convention there in August.

The taking of the school census for this year has been completed by Harry R. Floyd, and shows a total of 493 scholars. There are 253 boys between the ages of five and fifteen and 240 girls.

Nathaniel Morgan left Boston last night on the Bangor boat for a few days' pleasure trip to Bangor, Me., and vicinity, accompanied by his son, Howard E. Morgan of Beverly Farms.

The new concrete sidewalk built under the direction of Supt. Kimball this week on Lincoln street, near Arbella, and in front of the Corliss estate, has attracted much attention, inasmuch as he has introduced the first concrete curb built here thus far. This form of curb takes the place of the usual granite and promises a great saving in road construction.

Miss Prinnie Dodge has been entertaining Miss Wonson of East Gloucester recently.

Ernest Morey, who has been spending the summer with his aunt, Mrs. Wm. E. Kitfield, returned to his Boston home this week.

Charles O. Lee, who has been spending the past fortnight in Maine, arrived home last Saturday evening.

George Hildreth is noticed out with a fast stepper. The horse is said to have a record of 2.16 $\frac{1}{4}$, so we expect to hear of George beating all comers this winter.

Miss MacIntire has been entertaining this week Miss Annie Fulton, a former college mate at Wellesley.

The last capstone was laid at noon on Tuesday on the wall at Beach street park, running from Beach street to the pier.

Miss Edith Cullen of Beverly has been spending a few days here this week with his mother on Elm street.

Charles Lovegreen is having a launch built at David Fenton's, the design being after Mr. Fenton's flyer.

The two large "autos" in the service of the street department have been registered this week, their number being 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Roberts, who have been on a pleasure trip to New Brunswick, are making a week's stop in Portland on the return home.

Miss Alice Paine of New York is in town visiting her friend, Miss Belcher.

Cook's orchestra furnished the music at the Manchester Yacht club dance last Saturday evening.

They played the following selections:

Davis—Culbert

Miss Edith Maude Culbert and Mr. John Richard Davis of Beverly Farms were married on Tuesday evening, Sept. 18, in Salem, at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Ward. They were attended by Miss Ethelda Culbert, a sister of the bride, and Ira E. Davis, a brother of the groom.

The bride is a daughter of Robert Culbert of Manchester and formerly lived there, but she has lately held positions in Beverly Farms. Mr. Davis is a son of Otis N. Davis and has a responsible position as bookkeeper with Andrew Dutton, Boston.

Five Brothers Whose Ages

Aggregate 344 Years.

An interesting group of five brothers met in Beverly the other day, the first meeting of all for half a century, the youngest being 63 and the oldest 73, and their total ages figure up to 344. All the members of this group were sons of Manchester and the occasion of their meeting was to pose for pictures, which was reproduced in the Beverly Times this week. The Times said of them:

"Like Manchester boys of their time they all followed the sea and all had interesting experiences in ships which sailed out of Manchester, Beverly and other ports. Four of the five brothers served in the Civil war. Charles P. Goldsmith, who is the only one of the five who lives away from Beverly and who makes his home at Manchester, served in Co. A of the 45th regiment.

"Albert H. Goldsmith, who lives at Ryal Side, served in Co. G, of the 23d Mass., which had many Beverly men on its rolls; John T., the city sealer of weights and measures, served in Co. I, of the 18th Mass., and Gilman, who also lives at Ryal Side, served in Co. C of the 23d Massachusetts. All made good records during the Civil war and on their return to Beverly followed their usual occupations. Charles P. Goldsmith is a gardener; Nathan, a well-known carpenter; Albert and Gilman have productive farms, while John T. finds plenty to do in seeing that the weights and measures used about the city are up to the standard.

"Rather an interesting thing about the brothers is that all are good Republicans and all have voted the straight ticket since their voting days."

Real Estate And Improvements

The old house of Frederic Ayer at Pride's Crossing, is rapidly being torn down by Messrs. Connolly Bros., who have a large gang of men and machinery busily engaged there rushing the preliminary work for the foundation of the new house.

All the brick to be used in the construction of the Frederick Ayer house at Prides Crossing will come from Manchester, a deal having been made by F. L. Whitcomb, the contractor, to buy all the brick, some 600,000 or 700,000 in number, at the Manchester brick yard, from Israel Martin. Mr. Martin sold at a good figure and will do the hauling.

Work upon the buildings, terraces, tennis courts and grounds of J. Torrey Morse, 3d, of Pride's Crossing, at Wellesley, is being rushed by Messrs. Connolly Bros. A visit to the place shows the work in the early stages of completion. Connolly Bros. have also the landscape, avenue and tennis court contracts on the estate of Hugh D. Scott at Wellesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rand of Beverly Farms, have recently come in possession of the Silas Waldron estate at North Beverly, on Dodge street, a short distance from the depot, consisting of eight acres and a 12-room house and other buildings, where they will in the near future make their residence after extensive alterations and improvements are completed.

Publicover Bros. of Beverly Farms have the contract to build the McDonnell house on Hale street. The house will have 14 rooms. It will be a double tenement house, with all the modern improvements. The foundations were by Messrs. Watson Bros.

Messrs. Connolly Bros. started during the week with a large force of men, upon the estate of Dr. Bangs at Stockbridge, the work to consist of the building of avenues, terrace walls, grading, landscaping—and a general adjustment of quite an area of ground.

The same firm has also been awarded the contract for the construction of a lawn tennis court and considerable landscape work upon the estate of John Mager at Mount Kiseo, New York.

Work done at your residence, if desired, anywhere from Manchester to Pride's Crossing. J. Vasconcellos, barber, Central square, Manchester Tel. 53-13 Manc. *

Wm. A. Spinney Seriously Injured in Accident at West Manchester.

William A. Spinney, gardener at the T. Dennie Boardman estate, West Manchester, met with a most serious accident Tuesday afternoon, which came near ending fatally. His life, in fact, was at first despaired of, but it is now thought he will survive.

Mr. Spinney was loading a wagon with brush and branches that had been cut from a tree on the Boardman estate, and it is supposed the horse, which was recently purchased in Boston, was hit by one of the branches as it was thrown into the cart. It started and Mr. Spinney grabbed the reins which he had thrown over the front of the cart. He held fast and as the frightened animal darted forward Mr. Spinney fell, wedging his head between the wheel and a tree. One of his ears was practically torn off, but it was sewed on and it is thought the member will be saved. His face was bruised awfully and a blood vessel was broken on the opposite side of his head. His shoulder was also considerably bruised.

Drs. Blaisdell and Glendenning were called and Dr. Washburn of Manchester and Dr. Porter of Beverly Farms were also called in for consultation.

Mrs. Spinney and daughter Claire were at the White Mountains on a short vacation at the time of the accident, but by travelling over the mountains and making connections with trains, they were able to reach home late that night. Bertram, a son, was in St. Louis, but he has since returned home.

Mr. Spinney is about 60 years of age and last winter he passed through a serious illness.

John Torrey Morse

John Torrey Morse of Pride's Crossing and Boston, passed away Thursday morning at his Boston home at the age of 93 years. Death was due to natural infirmities incident to extreme old age. He was the oldest living graduate of Harvard and the sole survivor of the class of 1832.

It was only a fortnight ago that Mr. Morse moved from his summer home in Pride's Crossing to town.

Mr. Morse was born in Boston March 27, 1813. He fitted for college at the old Round Hill school at Northampton and was graduated for Harvard in 1832.

CAUCUSES IN MANCHESTER

The "Shaw Ticket" Won Out at the Republican Caucus Tuesday Evening Almost 3 to 1—James F. Shaw Carries the District Against Aug. Hubbard 31 to 16

The Republican voters turned out for the caucus in Manchester Tuesday evening in large numbers, there being 201 votes cast, the largest on record, with one exception, that of last year, when 273 votes were cast.

The Shaw forces, so-called, had everything their own way, their ticket winning over the opposition, about 147 to 54. Last year the vote was approximately 171 to 102.

While it was conceded that delegates favorable to Mr. Shaw as the senatorial nominee would be elected, the friends of Mr. Hubbard worked hard. This was the issue that brought out the big vote.

The old town committee, or at least that of last year, was re-elected, though an effort was made to return the committee of two and three years ago. Two were added to the board, making nine in all, and one was elected to take the place of one resigned, the three new members being Alexander Robertson, Alfred C. Hooper and E. P. Stanley, though Mr. Stanley had served on the

AUTUMN REVERIES

By D. F. Lamson.

Men live very much in the present today, and worship material greatness, wealth and success; their thoughts are bounded for the most part by the near horizon; they forget that there are mightier forces in the world than Steam, Electricity and Co.

The craze for phonetic spelling which is now and again revived confuses very much the derivation and history of words often so instructive; who would detect in thru the good old English word thorough? If we are to spell according to sound rather than sense, why not canonize Josh Billings as patron saint of the nu spelling, and done with it? He was past master in the art.

A little maiden was greatly surprised when told that God is everywhere; she had thought of Him only as up in the blue; it has taken the race a long time to outgrow its childhood, and believe in the immanence as thoroughly as in the transcendence of the Supreme Powers.

We need not go far afield of this season of the year to see illustrations of the fact that like begets like, that as we sow we shall reap, that the future is what the present is making it.

The days when knighthood was in flower were for the most part sad days to live in, though they seem attractive as seen through the haze of romance; there was little right except might, and the boasted chivalry was a matter more of manners than of the heart; many a day laborer is more worthy of knighthood than half the Sir Guys, Sir Bevises, Sir Gawains.

We often say that some persons die before their time, while others lag superfluous on the stage; but our judgments are often misjudgments, we know far less about these things than we think we do.

MAGNOLIA, MASS.

Mrs. John Symonds arrived home from Gardiner, Me., this week.

Stanley Phelan, assistant agent at the local station, concluded his services there Sunday and returned to Boston where he is attending school for the winter.

Still Another Daily Train for the North Shore.

The winter arrangement of trains on the Gloucester branch will go into effect a week from Monday, Oct. 8. While it is not certain yet just what will be the time and arrangement of all the trains, it is pretty certain that one new train each way will be added to the service, and no trains will be taken off.

The train now leaving Boston at 7.10 A. M. and running as far as Beverly will, in all probability, run down the Gloucester branch, reaching Manchester about 10 minutes after eight. On the return the train will leave Rockport a little after nine and will reach Manchester about 9.30 A. M. This train will be express from Montserrat, the same as the regular 8 o'clock train from Manchester now.

In consequence of the above arrangement slight changes will be necessary in the time of some of the Boston-bound trains, and the trains leaving Manchester at 7.32, 10.29 a.m., and the 6.42 p.m., will leave six minutes earlier.

The trains leaving Boston at 2.15, 5.30 and 11.24 p.m. will be express to Salem, and the 4.30 express to Montserrat.

Another change will be in the running time of the 8.51 train from Manchester. This will leave all the stations 12 minutes earlier.

This new train will prove a great blessing to many people who come to the North Shore in the morning, as there are now only two trains before the 10.45, one leaving Boston at 6 o'clock and the other at 8.17. This new train leaving at 7.10 will be much appreciated.

WHISPERINGS

A crab apple tree in full bloom, near the automobile garage at the Essex County club, is somewhat of a curiosity for this season of the year.

* * * * *

A spray of blackberries, just ripe enough to eat, some of the largest and most delicious we have ever tasted, was brought to the office a few days ago by a Beverly Farms friend. They grew wild in a field near the Beverly Farms station, and are somewhat rare to be found at this time of the year.

WHISPERINGS

I have heard whisperings this week of the resolution made by a friend of mine, a member of the automobile fraternity. The resolution is that henceforth when he takes his horseless vehicle out for exercise he will have a vehicle with a horse either follow or precede him on the trip. "Necessity is the mother of invention." He has a peculiar car; peculiar because it always acts the same, that is, something happens before he gets home. The other day, Wednesday, I think it was, he had a party of four friends out for a spin along the shore to Gloucester, where the party were shown the points of interest about that beautiful town, and thence the dumb animal headed its nose homeward through Manchester and toward a neighboring town, where dinner was to be served. The chauffeur, by the way, was not in the party, and toward midnight, surmising trouble may be met with, mounted a bicycle and sped off to look for the car, expecting to find it stalled. Sure enough he found the car in very much of a balky mood. The crank or something another wouldn't work. The party reached home in a carriage later in the night.

Near-silk taffeta petticoats are much more endurable than the real silk. We have just received a new line. G. F. Allen. *

Young People Have Horse Show of Their Own at the Mandell Farm, in Montserrat.

The boys and girls of the summer colony covered themselves with glory last Saturday in the Montserrat Junior Horse Show given under the auspices of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Mandell. The excellent form in which the young folk rode in the improvised ring, or drove, or took the jumps showed the result of the constant training they have had this summer. The whole affair had been planned within five days, and was arranged mostly by Mrs. Mandell.

Handsome silver cups were awarded the winners in each class and to the second, third and fourth prize winners, red, yellow and white ribbons were given. The prizes were distributed by Bernard J. Woods, the athletic instructor. Leonard Ahl and Gerard Bement were the judges, and to them fell the difficult task of selecting the winners.

There were about 300 people present, and despite the rain of the late morning the events were run off, and everybody thoroughly enjoyed the whole performance. This may become an annual event.

The winners of the various classes were:

Children's driving ponies—Frances Moore first, Elaine Denegre second, Katherine Tweed third, Frances Bradley fourth.

Children's ponies, small Shetland—Elaine Denegre first, Thomas Proctor second, John Caswell third, Emma Mandell fourth.

Saddle ponies, under 14.2—Faith Simpkins first, Frances Moore second, Elaine Denegre third, Katherine Tweed fourth.

Jumping, the jump about three feet—Hilda Rice on Appleblossom first, Samuel Mandell on Stella second, Samuel Mandell on Freckles third, Samuel Mandell on Cherry Blossom fourth.

Special, Shetland pony—T. Rice on Katherine Tweed's pony first, Roger Sturgis on Mrs. C. G. Rice's pony second, Emma Mandell third, Frances Bradley fourth.

Jumping, jump about two feet, for children—Emma Mandell first, Samuel Mandell on Miss Simpkins' pony second, Frances Bradley third, Alice Mandell on Alice Thorndike's pony fourth.

Ponies, 15 hands or under, single or in pairs—Constance Coolidge on Mrs. Bryce Allan's pony first, Oliver Ames second, Katherine Tweed (pair) third, Helen Frick fourth.

Ponies, 14.2 to 15 inclusive—Emma Mandell first, Thomas Emerson Proctor Rice second, Hilda Rice third, Samuel Mandell fourth.

Park hacks—Helen Thomas first, Hilda Rice second, Evelyn Curtis third, Everett B. Fabyan fourth.

Thoroughbreds—Neil Rice first, T. Rice second, Hilda Rice third, Samuel Mandell fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard Clark, jr., and family are leaving Beverly Cove within a day or two for their town home, 42d and Locust streets, Philadelphia.

The finals in the very interesting tennis tournament which has been in process at the courts at Swiftmoor came to a close this week, when Miss Phillis Sears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sears of Pride's Crossing, won the championship.

Among the departures from the Magnolia this week were the H. M. Sills of Detroit, who had the Malanson cottage; Edward A. Clark and family of Jamaica Plain, who had the Goodwin cottage; Mrs. E. G. Houghton of Boston; the Elliot Hubbards of Boston; the George Crockers of Fitchburg, who had the Gable cottage; the Horace B. Stantons of Boston and Mrs. Charles R. Hayden, who leaves today for her home in Boston.

Captain Hebbinghaus, naval attache, and Dr. von Kuhlmann, second secretary of the German legation, left Beverly Farms Tuesday, to join a party of friends in Canada for a few weeks' hunting trip. The embassy will be removed to Washington the middle of October.

Miss Clara Winthrop returned the latter part of last week from her trip to Europe. She will spend the fall in Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Goddard have returned to Beverly Farms from a trip to Maine, where they have spent the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Cunningham of West Manchester moved to their Marlboro street home in Boston on Wednesday.

Justice and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes left Beverly Farms the middle of the week and will make a stay in Boston for a week before going on to Washington, D.C.

The J. E. Harlows, who have been spending the season at a cottage on Hale street, Prides Crossing, returned the middle of the week to their winter home on Cypress street, Newton Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement S. Houghton have just closed their Coolidge's Point home and returned yesterday for their winter house at Chestnut Hill.

The E. M. Padelfords of Washington were among Tuesday's departures from Beverly Farms.

Thomas McKee and John Caswell are on a gunning trip to Mr. Caswell's private reservation in Canada.

"The Student King."

In presenting to the public the new romantic opera, "The Student King," by DeKoven, Ranken and Stange, which will have its first performance in Boston at the Tremont Theatre next Monday evening, Henry W. Savage has endeavored to eclipse all his former efforts in the realms of light opera. It is also designed to build up a new singing organization, that may even divide attention with Mr. Savage's famous Grand Opera company, for the production of higher grade operas. The story of "The Student King" is founded on an old Sixteenth Century custom in Bohemia that permitted the students of Prague University each year to select one of their popular fellows to reign as King from noon to midnight on the annual feast day. The cast includes Lina Abarbanell, the former grand opera songstress;

William Weedon, the sweet-voiced tenor; Flavia Acaro, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Alexander Clark, the well-known comedian; Alice Judson, Ditmar Poppin, Thomas Leary, Jeanne Calducci, Catherine Cooper, Eva Fallon and others.

GOOD ROADS ARE NOW BEING BUILT

Demand for Them Made Along the North Shore by Automobileists; Machines Injure Roads; Great Improvements; Committee of Summer Residents Report.

Much has been done in the cause of good roads along the North Shore within the past two years by private enterprise. How much, is shown in detail in the report that has just been issued by the committee of subscribers, consisting of Oliver Ames, Charles H. Taylor and Colonel William D. Sohier, which has charge of the administration and expenditure of the subscriptions, amounting to nearly $50,000 which have been made for good road work, principally by summer residents.

The work has been in the city of Beverly and the towns of Wenham, Manchester, Hamilton and Essex, and exclusive of appropriations by the state highway commission, the municipalities and the county, the committee has expended a total of $44,259.59. This has been on state highway, city and town roads and streets and upon wood roads.

The most extensive undertaking of the committee was the construction of the Beverly shore road as a state highway for about four miles. The committee paid two-thirds the expense of this road, its share amounting to $26,919.13. The city of Beverly paid nearly as large an amount in relaying water pipes. Most of the state highway was open for travel in June, 1905, and the whole of it was in use on June 1, 1906. Incidentally the committee secured many improvements, including the removal of the ledge on the corner of the Mingo Beach hill. The committee also repaired Common Lane, Greenwood avenue and Thissell street.

With the assistance of William H. Moore, Grapevine road was rebuilt and the city of Beverly assisted in rebuilding Brimbal avenue. Other work was done on Boyle and Standley streets and on the Essex-Manchester road. The committee notes the effect of automobiles on the macadam roads as follows: "You must have all noticed that the automobiles are tearing up and pulling off the top surface of our new state highway. In some places this is true where the road was built this year. It is especially true on the corners, where the machines going fast tend to skid. Heavy machines, going at a high rate of speed, practically pull up the road surfacing. It is only a week or two after the stones are uncovered before the smaller and then the larger stones are lifted, the road begins to ravel, the bond is broken and large holes form. What the remedy is no one knows as yet, if automobiles continue to run as fast. At 20 or 25 miles an hour the opinion of several experts is that comparatively little damage is done."

To prevent the wearing of the highways and to lay the dust the committee is experimenting with calcium chloride and with oil.

The report also includes a statement in detail of what has been done in building and repairing wood roads and in suppression of the gypsy moths. There are now over 12 miles of private wood roads built by subscription and Colonel William D. Sohier, who has charge of this branch of road work, is making plans for other similar roads in Beverly, Beverly Farms, Essex, Manchester and Gloucester. The report concludes with an itemized financial statement showing the receipts and expenditures of the committee to Sept. 1, 1906.

Real Estate And Improvements

It is reported that the contract for building the A. L. Devins house at Manchester has been awarded to a Swampscott firm.

Alexander S. Porter, jr., of Boston and Manchester has purchased the Cochrane cottage, on Cobb avenue, Manchester.

Clark & Mills' Electric Co have the contract for wiring Mrs. John L. Bremer's house at Smith's point and started work there Thursday. This concern has also just completed wiring the Geo. H. Hood house at Hamilton, and have a number of other smaller contracts in hand.

D. C. Ballou & Co was given the contract last week to do all the out side grading on Col. Nelson's estate at Magnolia, now in the course of construction. They have at present five large contracts on hand.

The sale was recorded this week of the "Cassie Brook" property, so-called, on Summer street, Manchester, comprising 12.102 acres. The property was owned by Augustus A. Smith of Attica, N.Y., and the sale was made to John T. Gardner of Brookline.

The sale of land recently made on Masconomo street, Manchester, near the Unitarian church, was to Mrs. John Cordner of Chestnut street, Boston, and Pride's Crossing. A cottage is to be built upon the land this winter, it is said, and Mrs. Cordner and daughters will occupy it next season.

Sidewalk Contract Awarded

The selectmen have awarded the contract for building the sidewalk at Manchester Cove, from the railroad crossing to Ocean street, near the house of Randolph Taylor, to Morley, Flatley & Co., whose figure for the work was $4,560. The other bidders were Daniel Edgecomb, $4,946; S. Albert Sinnicks, $5,375; and Charles Littlefield, $7,661.

An appropriation of $5,000 for this work was made at an adjourned town meeting as per plans of Olmstead Bros. of Brookline. The work will include the widening of the road above Craft's hill. The contractors will start work at once.

Work done at your residence, if desired, anywhere from Manchester to Pride's Crossing. J. Vasconcellos, barber, Central square, Manchester Tel. 53-13 Manc. *

Society Notes

The A. Walpole Craigies and the Herbert W. Masons were among Thursday's departures from Manchester. Franklin Pfaelzer and family also left Manchester Thursday and went to Laurel-in-the-Pines, Lakewood, N.J.

Brownland Cottages, Manchester, close Monday morning after breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. McMillan entertained a number of friends at a dinner party at Eaglehead, Manchester, Thursday evening. Baron and Baroness Rosen were among their guests.

It was a jolly party of men that came down over the road from Boston Thursday afternoon and were entertained at lunch at the Essex County club, as guests of Francis W. Fabyan of West Manchester. They were friends and business associates, and have met at various times on occasions of this kind. The only thing to mar (?) the occasion was when Officer Lamasney of the local police force walked into the dining room and inquired who was the owner of the automobile with a certain number (giving the number). Nobody replied, though everybody in the room knew who was wanted, and unfortunately it happened to be a member of the party, who had been three times arrested for over-speeding—Mr. Dean of Dean, Chase & Co. Mr. Dean is a jolly good fellow, and very popular. It was some minutes before he knew the joke was on him. There were 22 in the party, the officer making the "skidoo" number.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Dalton returned to Beverly Farms yesterday from a week's visit to the White Mountains.

The W. S. Kemey's were among Thursday's departures from Manchester. They are stopping at Sherry's Apartments on Fifth avenue, New York, for the present.

The Myron C. Wicks closed their cottage at Manchester Cove yesterday and started for their home in Youngstown, O.

The W. B. Lamberts, who have been at the "Apple-lane" cottage, West Manchester, this summer, left Wednesday for their home in Cambridge.

H. S. Grew, 2d, and family, who have been occupying the F. R. Tibbetts cottage at West Manchester, returned to town Monday.

Arthur Richmond and family left Beverly Farms Thursday and sailed since then for Europe.

committee about 30 years, prior to last year.

The caucus was called to order by Chairman J. T. Stanley, and the call was read by Secretary W. W. Hoare. Franklin K. Hooper moved that a chairman and secretary be elected by nomination, and G. S. Sinnicks nominated R. C. Allen as chairman. L. W. Floyd was nominated clerk and both were elected. A. E. Olson, W. R. Bell and John Baker were chosen tellers. The polls were open until 9 o'clock.

Mr. Shaw was at the hall all the evening greeting his friends, and after the caucus a few members of the town committee gathered at his house to hear the returns from other parts of the district.

Democratic Caucus.

Sixteen of the faithful were out to the Democratic caucus in Manchester, Wednesday evening. The caucus was held this year in the Town hall, instead of down stairs in the building as usual. T. C. Rowe was elected chairman and Charles C. Dodge clerk. There was nothing particular at issue. The delegate to the state convention will go pledged to Whitney for governor. The delegates elected to the various conventions, and the town committee follow:

State convention—James Hoare.
Councillor—Clarence W. Morgan.
Congressional—Chas. C. Dodge.
County—Perley B. Parsons.
Senatorial—Charles Danforth.
Representative—T. C. Rowe,
Chas. C. Dodge, E. S. Bradley.
Town committee for 1907—T. C. Rowe, James Hoare, Perley B. Parsons, Curtis Stanley, Charles Danforth, Chas. C. Dodge and Claudius L. Hoyt.

Cottage Garden Awards

The prizes offered by the North Shore Horticultural society for the best kept grounds around the homes in Manchester, have been awarded as follows:

William Patterson, Lincoln street, 1st, $7; Garrett Coughlin, Norwood avenue, 2d, $5; Jeffrey T. Reed, Beach street, 3d, $3. There were in all eight entries, and all made a very creditable showing.

The prizes were offered by the society through the courtesy of Mrs. Charles Head "to encourage and promote a deep interest in beautifying the grounds around the homes of Manchester." "Variety of flowers, small fruits and vegetables, together with neatness and general thrift" had the preference in the awarding of the prizes.

Ever since the days of the old Greek oracle, to know oneself has been as great a problem as the squaring of the circle or the finding of the fourth dimension.

Many questions can be solved by mathematics or by the tests of the laboratory, but questions of morals and faith cannot; and to demand for them scientific proof is to demand the absurd and impossible. The supernatural has its own evidence, however, as conclusive and compelling in its own realm as that of the crucible, or the spectrum or the rule of three.

In many quiet homes and humble hearts are graces of affection and stores of knowledge and riches of prudence and understanding beyond all the wealth of Ormus and of Ind; these are a nation's true assets, not mines and railroads, and golden harvest fields.

To the thoughtful mind there is something exceedingly restful and beautiful in these September days; days of such serene and mellowed loveliness, of such cool and invigorating repose.

The blessings which the Bible brings to individuals and communities would be cheap even if we had to buy them by covering its pages with golden eagles or by the mortgage of a whole estate; but precious as they are they cost us absolutely nothing;

"'Tis heaven alone that is given away,
Only God can be had for the asking."

The old time virtues—simplicity, frugality, contentment—appear all the more attractive in contrast with the extravagance and pretence of a gilded age.

Mrs. Clara Crombie, widow of the late Cyrus Crombie, who has been occupying a tenement in the Gilson house on School street, went to Dorchester yesterday where she will reside permanently.

Mrs. Charles O. Howe entertained a party of friends at an outing at Tuck's Point, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Corkum have moved into the house at Manchester Cove recently vacated by the Walter Marrs.

Miss Etta Taylor is home from Amesbury over Sunday.

Orrin A. Martin has sold his trotter, Nelcyone, which he has raced successfully this summer in Canada, New York state and other points. He had won a number of races and at Brooklyn his horse obtained a mark of 2.21¼, while he showed an exhibition mile on a half mile track at Dongan Hill, Staten Island, in 2.13¼. Mr. Martin thinks she is the best trotter in the world, for a one season's training. Mr. Martin has been attending the Rochester fair this week.

Beginning with next Tuesday evening the regular weekly meetings of Col. H. P. Woodbury Camp, 149, S. of V., will be resumed for the fall and winter.

Mrs. Daniel Allen is entertaining at her home on Summer street Mrs. Fred Pinkham of Gloucester.

Miss Flossie Allen had as her guests yesterday Mrs. Mildred Briggs and Miss Marjorie Choate, both of Beverly.

William Gillis of Boston was in town, the guest of his mother on Pine street, the first of the week.

Miss Irene Davis was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Knoerr over Sunday. Mrs. Knoerr spent the first few days of this week visiting in Somerville Highlands and Boston.

Mrs. Edward Crowell and son, William Allen, leave Monday for a month's visit with relatives in Fort Byron, N.Y.

Shaw -- Gamble

Herbert Shaw of Manchester and Miss Fannie Gamble were united in marriage Tuesday evening by the Rev. E. J. V. Huiginn of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Beverly. Following the ceremony the party proceeded to Boston and with a few intimate friends dined at a hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw later started for Cape Bretton where they will spend a fortnight. They will return to Manchester and will live at G. M. Lane's this winter, where Mr. Shaw is the gardener and caretaker. A gardener's cottage will be built upon the estate during the winter months, which they will occupy next season.

Another Break

Another break is reported at Magnolia, the latest being at the cottage of Mrs. C. A. Wilkins on Hesperus avenue last Monday evening.

The young lady employed at the house entered the kitchen about 6 o'clock in the evening and hung a small hand bag containing $17 in money and two checks, one for $40 and the other for $30, which had been given her by Mrs. Wilkins, on a hook. The girl answered a request to go to another part of the house to fasten a window, and when she returned the bag had been rifled of its contents, but still held its place on the wall. Payment on the checks has been stopped.

It is reported that two men were seen lurking around the A. I. Croll cottage on Smith's Point one evening recently, but they left when discovered. It is thought they may have been the parties wanted by the police for the recent burglaries.

Stores to Close Evenings

Beginning with the coming week, Oct. 1, the following stores in Manchester will close evenings at 6 o'clock, with the exception of Saturdays, and the night before holidays: Sheldon's Market, Semons & Campbell, Robert Allen, Bullock Bros., Geo. W. Hooper and Frank H. Dennis.

SEPT. 10, 1808,

Mrs. Elizabeth Crafts, the first occupant of the Corner Store, gathered up the products of her trade, consisting of Potatoes, Corn, Eggs, Butter, and other fruits from the soil of the Town, and shipped them in the Packet for Boston, where she disposed of them and with the proceeds thereof purchased her Fall and Winter trade.

Unlike the contents of the OLD CORNER STORE of today, there was no Priscilla Muslin Underwear, no King Pin Waists, no Ruffled Petticoats, no Lisle Hosiery, Hair Pins, Side Combs, Stock Collars, Art Goods, and other goods galore.

No! Our ancestors' wants did not call for them. Just imagine what she did have, and what there is for you at the Old Corner!

MANCHESTER

Thursday night about 8 o'clock as George Hodge, driver for Frank H. Dennis, the School street grocer, was coming down the Essex old road from a delivery call at the house of George Andrews, it is reported, two men stepped in front of the horse and with drawn revolvers ordered Mr. Hodge to hold up his hands. Instead of stopping, however, the driver started up his horse, and though the men tried to get on behind, he escaped without further trouble. Mr. Hodge says two men were sitting on the stone wall when he went up the street, and it was undoubtedly the same men who tried to stop him.

Mrs. Herbert Hamilton of Swampscott is visiting her grandfather, Thomas Dow, who was reported very low last night.

A number of members of the local Farther Lights are planning on attending the rally to be held in Salem on Oct. 9.

Some 25 friends of Miss Hattie F. Baker gave her a surprise party Wednesday evening in the nature of a "tin shower," at "Fairview."

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Burnham have been entertaining part of the past week, at their Sea street home, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham and daughter of Essex Falls. Though very nearly 80 years old, Mr. Burnham is very young in appearance and is quite agile. He can play the piano with the touch of a person in middle life, being able to remember many familiar tunes, with which he entertained his hearers on several occasions during his visit.

Thos. R. Kinmouth of Joplin, Mo., has been in town this week renewing acquaintances, having come East because of the death of his mother last week.

Edwin Bradley of Boston has been spending a few days this week with his nephew, Edward S. Bradley, and family, Pine street.

Miss Ethel Hooper left yesterday to resume her studies at Wellesley, and Miss Helen Boyle leaves today.

Mrs. Dora Story of Schenectady, N.Y., has been spending a few days this week with Mrs. John H. Cheever, School street.

Mrs. Hester Kinmouth

Mrs. Hester Kinmouth, a former resident of Manchester, passed away a week ago Wednesday at the Medfield insane asylum. She was a native of Ireland and a widow of the late Hugh Kinmouth, who enlisted in the Civil war from Manchester. She was buried in Wakefield Monday.

Miss Jane Mary Watson will open private classes in dancing, commencing Thursday afternoon and evening Oct. 25, in Marshall's hall.

Miss Dickey of Salem is the new bookkeeper at the Beverly Farms Coal Co.'s office.

Assessor Theo. A. Holmes went last Saturday to North Conway, N.H., where he joined Mrs. Holmes, who with Mrs. Chas. F. Preston and Mrs. Andrew Crowell, has been spending a fortnight. The whole party returned to the Farms on Wednesday.

John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers, held its annual election of officers on Friday evening, at their regular meeting in Marshall's hall. Practically the whole of the old board of officers were re-elected.

Angus Gillis has gone to Stockbridge to take charge of a part of Messrs. Connolly Bros. work there upon the Dr. Bang's estate.

S. John Connolly is enjoying a week's vacation and has been spending a part of it in western Massachusetts and New York state.

A few of the "unterrified" are seen daily at West Beach taking a dip, but only a few, as bathing suits like other summer apparel has gone out of style until the good old summer days return again.

The Rev. Robert Bennett of Dighton, Mass., former pastor here, will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow. He is a guest of Dea. and Mrs. Willis A. Pride during his short stay here.

Millard F. Spear and family, who have lived on High street during the summer, returned to Boston Thursday.

The "North Shore Girls" held another one of their popular dancing parties in Marshall's hall last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Davis (nee Crowell) have been made happy over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy, which came to their home on Hart street last Sunday evening.

In the district court at Salem Tuesday Lawrence Diggins, proprietor of the Beverly Farms house, was fined $100 for keeping a liquor nuisance.

The Caucuses.

Very little interest was manifest in the caucuses here this year, owing to the fact, of course, there were no particularly close fights on. Tuesday evening the Republican caucus was held, and there were only half a dozen or so voters out. W. R. Brooks was chosen chairman and G. H. Bennett clerk. The delegates chosen were as follows:

State—George H. Bennett.

Congressional—Chas. H. Trowt.

Senatorial—Albert Standley.

County and Register of Deeds—Howard E. Morgan.

Councillor—Lawrence J. Watson, 2d.

Representative—Geo. W. Standley, Theodore A. Holmes, Lewis G. Williams.

City committee—William R. Brooks, George H. Bennett, James B. Dow, Howard E. Morgan, Albert Standley.

At the Democratic caucus in Marshall's hall, Wednesday evening, the following ticket was elected:

State—Daniel M. Linehan.

Congressional—Lawrence J. Watson.

Senatorial—William M. Moriarty.

County—John C. McKeigue.

The grand assembly and dance given in Neighbor's hall, Thursday evening, under the auspices of St. Margaret's Court, 68, M. C. O. F., was well attended and the party proved by far the most popular of the season. M. J. Cadigan was in charge of the floor and he was assisted by the following aids: C. F. Parks, C. A. Hillyard, C. Murray, M. King, Miss Alice O'Neil, Miss Florence Slavin, D. Halisey and T. O'Brien.

Our Beverly Farms and Prides Crossing friends are reminded that subscriptions to this paper may be left at any time at Varney's drug store, with George Day at the station, or with Mr. Gerrish at the Prides station, and the paper will be mailed promptly each week.

A pleasant dancing party was that given in Marshall's hall last Saturday evening under the management of Proctor Denno, Leon Pierce and Edward Flynn. It was an invitation party, and was attended by the select young people of the Farms. The matrons were Mrs. Thomas D. Connolly, Mrs. Forrester Pierce and Mrs. John Daniels.

Thomas Dunn, employed at Dr. Morton Prince's, was called to Gardiner, Me., the first of the week by the death there of his mother.

The local firemen were called out last Saturday morning early for a blaze in the Alhambra cottage, at Mingo beach, owned by Mrs. John L. Gardner of Boston, and occupied this season by the M. A. Taylors of Haverhill. The apparatus made a quick response to the alarm from Box 58, despite the long run. The fire started in a partition in the kitchen but was extinguished before doing much damage. Loss about $50.

Preble's Market in Neighbor's block will remain open all winter and will be in charge of Mr. Whelan, who will divide his time between the Boston store and here.

We keep everything that a good drug store should keep.

John W. Nason, who has been at Pink's harness store in Beverly Farms this season, has gone to Bar Harbor, where he will manage a harness store for C. B. Higgins.

The large and outside float of the West Beach corporation pier was taken in this week and put into winter storage upon the upland. One float is now in the water for perhaps two weeks more.

Miss Mamie Culbert, who has for the past few years made Milwaukee her home, arrived at the Farms this week, and is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Churchill and the Misses Culberts, on Hale street. Miss Culbert expects to stay east several months.

Died in Revere, Mass., Sept. 24th, Margaret Violet Haskell, aged 28, and wife of Joseph Haskell, who until recently made Beverly Farms his home. Funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Beachmont. Beside a husband the deceased leaves one child.

Gregory P. Connolly, 2d, and Eugene Connolly have started college life by entering the Phillips Exeter academy at Exeter, N.H.

R. F. Hoffman of West Medford is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Wilbur J. Pierce on West street.

Miss Beatrice Morrison, who has been spending the summer here, has moved to Boston.

The Farms boys are very busy these days practicing football, having succeeded in their efforts to raise a sufficient fund, with a subscription paper, to purchase the necessary equipment to play the game, for which they extend their thanks through the BREEZE.

C. H. Tweed sent a detachment of horses to his farm in Groton this week.

Miss Elsie Symonds of Beverly is the new bookkeeper at Messrs. Pierce & Pierce, the Central square plumbers.

A Whirlwind Route

Jules Verne wrote "Around the World in Eighty Days." George Francis Train made the actual trip in less than that time. Julius Cahn could book a Jules Murry route whilst you were waiting, but the outlined tour of Yvette Guilbert and Albert Chevalier would drive Murry to the mesquite chapparal and make Verne's novel about as fast and racy as "The Pilgrim's Progress."

Verne's space devouring hero covered some 25,000 miles in his race against the old gentleman with the scythe. The Franco-British artists will negotiate just 23,000 miles in exactly one-half of that time. In addition they will give forty odd joint recitals in both languages from French Canadian Quebec to Creole French New Orleans, and from the new star on Oklahoma's flag to the Union Jack waving over Winnipeg.

New York and New Orleans are to have two performances each. Galveston gets a matinee, while Houston draws an evening recital. Indianapolis and Minneapolis are likewise lucky. Kansas City will open the doors of its immense Convention building, and Boston will do honors to the duo, on Friday evening, Oct. 12, in its more classical Symphony hall. Rochester, outside of the whirlwind route of the big cities, has sent in a plaintive appeal for a morning's performance, if none other be available.

The time to visit the Berkshires is when the leaves are turning. The foliage is now taking on its richest hues and colorings are gorgeous—red yellow—purple and gold. Greylock, Sugarloaf, and other Berkshire mountains provide inspiring beauties of landscape.

This hill country is famous for its lovely walks and drives, and trolley lines afford easy means of travel through northern and southern Berkshire.

The trip from Boston to Pittsfield over the Boston & Albany R.R. is through the most picturesque section of Massachusetts.

Ere the Berkshires are reached, many beautiful hills, valleys and streams may be seen from the car windows—Mts. Bunyan and Dunplin, near Palmer—Mt. Tom, and the Connecticut River at Springfield, the graceful elms of the Westfield meadows, and the winding Westfield River, all add to the delights of the trip.

The Touch of the Person With Taste

'Tis of infinite more value than money.

The mere paint and the canvas come far from making the picture, the marble and mallet are merely accessories to the statue till the man with the talent appears.

'Tis so with the home, the walls and the floors may be there and the expense of the furnishing may be forthcoming, but if the man with the taste is not there the beauty of the home is most lacking.

This is where the interior decorator generally fits in, but when you have in a community the store singled out from all other stores for its particular beauty as produced by its abounding in goods of singular good taste, the work of the decorator is done, for inhaling the atmosphere of this sort of a store educates and refines the taste of the men there engaged till they possess all the refinement the decorator has.

This quality is most needed in the room that's most criticised,

The Parlor

Do you feel equal to furnishing it alone?

If not, let us take on the big share of the burden. You call in the store and lay before us your needs. We've the very pretty pieces in this one especial department that help to stamp us unique and with our taste and good judgment we'll save you the decorator and give you good results,

With Such Pretty Things as These

MR. SHAW NOMINATED.

Nomination of Manchester Man at Convention Made by Augustus Hubbard of Gloucester, His Former Opponent, and Seconded by Mr. Tarr of Rockport.

For the second time James F. Shaw of Manchester has received the Republican nomination for state senator from this district, the convention which nominated him this week being held at Ipswich, last Monday forenoon. The nomination speech was made by Augustus Hubbard of Gloucester and seconded by Fred H. Tarr of Rockport, Mr. Shaw's two opponents at the primaries last week.

The convention organized with E. Mark Sullivan of Ipswich as chairman and C. F. Haley of Rowley as clerk. Fifty delegates were present, only one from Gloucester being absent.

In naming Mr. Shaw, Mr. Hubbard said: "Mr. Chairman and members of the convention: We have met today to choose a Republican nominee for senator from this district. I am satisfied that it is the consensus of opinion that this convention nominate Mr. James F. Shaw of Manchester. In the interest of perfect harmony in the Republican party, I believe that all Republicans should stand together. I believe Mr. Shaw has made a clean campaign, and further feel that there should be no contest. I hope my friends and all Republicans will support Mr. Shaw and the Republican ticket. I take pleasure in nominating Mr. James F. Shaw of Manchester."

Mr. Tarr said in seconding the nomination: "I arise to second the nomination of Mr. Shaw. I represent a small delegation from Rockport, and as it is evidently the choice of the convention to choose Mr. Shaw, I cheerfully join in seconding the nomination."

Liberal applause followed the re-

COOK--BAKER

Manchester Couple Married Last Monday Evening — Reception Largely Attended.

Miss Hattie Florence Baker, daughter of John Baker of Manchester, the superintendent of the Essex County club, was united in marriage last Monday evening, to Chester Delos Cook, also of Manchester. The ceremony was performed at "Fairview," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Baker, off Pleasant street, and was attended by the immediate family connections. The reception which followed, however, was attended by fully 300 people.

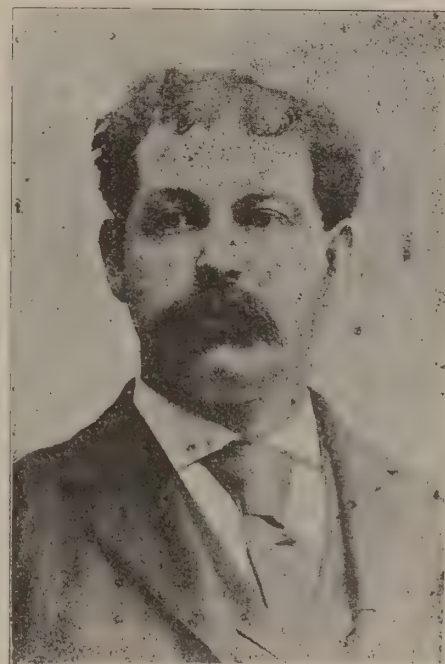

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster was the officiating clergyman, the Episcopal ring service being used. The bride was given away by her father. Little Gladys Hildreth was the ring girl, and the two little brothers of the bride, Irving and Harry, acted as pages, holding the ribbons, which

Automobile Accessories of the BestTHE BOSTON TIRE TREAD

The TREAD you have been looking for, that stands up to the work, and that is sold at the right price. It is nice to know you are coming back without a puncture, and it is also nice to feel safe when you get out on the slippery road.

DESCRIPTION.

THE BOSTON TIRE TREAD has been designed to satisfy a long-felt want for a durable TIRE PROTECTOR sold at a price low enough for the average buyer. It will save the expense of re-treading tires with rubber and will give a PUNCTURE-PROOF and NON-SKID TREAD, at less cost than to re-tread in the usual way. As it requires but a short time to put on a complete set, the car is not put out of commission. You are not requested to send your casings to us, for we send the TREADS ready to put on. THE BOSTON TIRE TREAD is the only mechanically applied TREAD on the market. It does not depend on cement or any form of vulcanizing to hold TREAD to tire. Once on can never be torn off, but at the same time can be easily replaced, leaving tire in original condition. It is the only TREAD free from wires, chains, straps or hooks, and is the lightest, most durable and resilient ANTI-SKID TREAD on the market.

MANCHESTER

A number of invitations have been received this week by the friends of Alfred William Friend of Minneapolis, a former Manchester boy, for his marriage on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24, to Miss May Belle Willis, daughter of Mrs. James Davis Knowles Willis. The ceremony will occur at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church, Commonwealth avenue, Boston. A reception will follow at the Hotel Vendome.

Mrs. Frank Owens and family have moved into a house on Morse court.

Football seems to have seized hold of the local boys, and a team has been organized with the following players: Austin Jones, Revere Pulsifer, Sam'l Knight, Joseph Floyd, Willard Rust, Talbot Hoare, John Walsh, Everett Robbins, John Gray, Henry Merrill and Bert Allen.

Mrs. Fletcher Hodges and two little children returned early Thursday morning to their home in Indianapolis. Mrs. Hodges has been spending the past month here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews.

Chief Peabody started Wednesday on his annual fortnight's vacation.

There was a slight mix-up on Harbor street Wednesday morning. Jas. F. Shaw was hurrying to the station to catch the Boston train. An automobile was standing in front of F. W. Fabyan's house and the horse shied at it. An American express wagon driven by Wm. Wheeler happened to be on the opposite side and a collision resulted. Mr. Shaw's carriage was considerably damaged. The whiffle-tree on the express wagon was broken and part of the harness.

A delegation from Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of V., will attend the grand camp fire in Faneuil hall, Boston, next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cawthorne spent Sunday with relatives at Wellesley Hills.

Mrs. Julius Leonard of New York has been spending the week with her brother, Charles W. Sawyer, Vine street. Mrs. Harry Bray of New York was also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer the first of the week.

Joseph Lloyd, the golf instructor of the Essex County club, left yesterday for Pau, France, for the winter months.

Miss Mary Augusta Baker and Mrs. Daniel Allen were guests of Mrs. Lavinia Brown of Ipswich, yesterday.

It is reported that a number of local young men are thinking of going to California this fall, there being a great demand there, presumably, for mechanics in all lines.

William Pulsifer of Gloucester, whose wife recently passed away in that city of heart failure, is making his home temporarily with his brother, J. K. Pulsifer and family in Manchester.

Neilo Dunn of Boston, engineer for Morley, Flatley & Co., on the engine used in the construction of the new Sacred Heart church, had a narrow escape from serious accident Tuesday afternoon. One of the carpenters had dropped his hammer from the roof to the ground, and Dunn started to pick it up, when a stone on the staging, weighing about eight pounds, was accidentally kicked off. Dunn put up his left hand to break the fall of the stone, but in so doing his little finger was broken and the stone struck his forehead, cutting an ugly wound.

Mrs. John H. Cheever has been spending the week in Schenectady, N. Y., going there Manday in company with her guest of last week, Mrs. Dora Story.

Albert Mitchell of Gloucester was a guest of Charles Fritz and family over Sunday.

S. Albert Sinnicks has moved the old stone crushing plant, located off Forest street, to freight cars at the local yard this week, whence it has since been taken to Torrington, Conn., where it is to be set up.

Charles Brown spent the first of the week with Mr. Roberts, who owns a camp at Lake Nagog, Acton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howe of Boston spent a few days in town this week visiting relatives.

The Western Union Tel. office under the management of Mrs. Arthur Lycett, closed for the season Monday. During the winter Magnolia station will handle all the business of this district.

It is reported that Rev. Frederick Libby and Fred Lycett are enjoying their vacation very much. They are traveling on foot through the Evangeline country.

Mrs. M. E. Cahill left yesterday for her home in Wakefield after a successful season at Magnolia.

Miss Marjorie May left Thursday for Gardiner, Me., where she will spend two weeks with her friend, Miss Lena Hall.

Mrs. Emma Abbott and son of Boston are visiting Mrs. Abbott's mother, Mrs. John Abbott.

Prof. Rider of Andover will preach at the Village church tomorrow.

Miss Marion Lucas of New York has been spending the week here guest of Mrs. L. F. Hunt.

Beginning last Monday the following mail schedule went into effect: Mails close 6.55 a.m. and 1 p.m.; mails arrive 8.30 a.m. and 5 p.m. The office will close at 7 p.m. each evening. The evening and Sunday mails have been dropped.

Arthur Martin has concluded his engagement at the Magnolia golf links. He has a position in Boston for the winter.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Sawyer (Miss Sanborn), of Winchendon, will be pleased to learn that Mr. Sawyer is rapidly recovering from his operation of a few weeks ago for appendicitis, in a Worcester hospital.

Dorothy May, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Douglass, who lives at Lynn, was buried in the Magnolia cemetery yesterday afternoon. She died Thursday of cholera infantum.

William McLean, better known perhaps as "Ben Butler," has been spending the past week on a hunting trip near Gorham, Me. Thomas Renshaw of Boston has been taking his place as driver of the station barge.

Miss Sadie Abbott has accepted a position as clerk at Shepard Norwell Co.'s, Boston, and will make her home in Boston this winter.

F. L. Hunt has been spending the week visiting relatives in Wakefield.

Arthur Cowan, the popular meat cutter at F. L. Hunt's, spent Sunday in Everett, a guest of his sister.

Davis Day at Magnolia.

It was "Davis Day" at Magnolia Tuesday, if such it might be called, for it is now getting to be an annual event, and one which a great many people look forward to. Each year for the past 25 years, Gorham Davis, the livery stable man, has a large party of friends over from Gloucester for a day's outing, and the occasion usually marks the close of his season here, for the Davis family spend only the summer season at Magnolia.

Tuesday some 60 friends came from Gloucester on the 11.40 train and were brought to the village by the Davis carriages and barges. The Gorham Davis home had been gaily decorated for the occasion by Frank Davis and others, with rows of cornstalks and a large number of beautiful flowers added beauty to the scene. The tables were decorated with dahlias and asters. Mr. Haskell, the West Gloucester greenhouse man, sent over a load of flowers. After lunch was served the party set out, at 2 o'clock, in Mr. Davis' tally-ho and six carriages for a delightful drive along the shore through Manchester to Beverly, returning about 5 o'clock.

At 6 o'clock an old-fashioned harvest supper was served, consisting of baked beans, Indian pudding, etc. In the evening Mr. Davis was presented with a beautiful large Persian rug. The guests were entertained before dinner with a pleasing graphophone concert by Joe MacDonald.

Mrs. L. P. Deering of Gloucester was in charge of the affair and its success is due to a large extent to her efforts. The party left at 8 o'clock and enjoyed a moonlight drive to Gloucester.

Letters remaining unclaimed at Manchester Postoffice for week ending Sept. 29, 1906: Ainsley College, Adams Ex Co, John W Boyne, Mrs Lena Bezanson (2), M A Cook, Mrs W B Coit, Madame Marie Louise Crinier, Miss Bridget Donegan, Miss Cornelia Dehon (2), J N Des Grocarrlers, Miss Mary Desmond, John Davenport, Mrs O B Filly, Mrs J B S Fletcher, Mrs A T Fordy, Miss E K Holmes, Mrs W R Holmes, Hodgkins & Hodgkins, Miss Annie Hayes, Miss Nellie Larkin, Miss Marjorie Lowney, Kenneth Lindsey, Mrs Loveland Munson, Miss Katie O'Donnell, Miss Gerald Paige, Joseph Powers, Martin Rudden, Miss Mary Reardon, Mrs F Von Schroder, Mrs W R Parker Smith, Mrs Clarence Stevens, Miss Mary P Stevenson, Jaffe Strangway, Thomas Taylor, Frank A Tessier, United States Ex Co, The Misses Vaughan, John T Williams, Mrs Elizabeth Winsor (3), Miss M G Whitehouse.

Capt. and Mrs. Wm. C. Whelden have been spending the week in town guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman W. Floyd. The genial captain, after putting the Velthra in winter quarters always likes to return to Manchester for a short stay when he can feel he is not "on duty." They leave today, and after a short stay in Boston will return to Dennisport, Cape Cod, for the winter.

Abbott Hoare was home over Sunday and had as his guest Chas. Lang of Lynn.

Arthur Crocker concludes his summer's engagement as book-keeper at Sheldon's market tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchings and daughter Irene of Cambridge were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harding, at West Manchester.

Mrs. Henrietta Wallace of Hartford, Ct., has been a guest the past fortnight of Mrs. Alfred L. Saben, School st

Miss Avis Antil of Skowhegan, Me., former teacher here, was a guest over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Campbell, Washington street.

Sayre Merrill of this town has been elected captain of the Gloucester High school football eleven. He captains his first game today when the school plays Winthrop High.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bullard of Peterboro, N. H., made a short visit the middle of the week with their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Lodge.

We are pleased to report that the circulated rumor to the effect that Chester Reed, son of J. S. Reed of this town, was dead is not true. Mr. Reed had a letter from his son a few days ago from Colorado Springs, stating that he was in fair health.

The members of the Phi Alpha Pi at their meeting last Friday night enjoyed a talk on "Jamaica" by Frank P. Knight.

Miss Evelyn Eldridge was a guest of her sister, Miss Ina Eldridge, over Sunday.

The J. Harrington Walkers of Detroit, who have been at Miss Stearns' villa, in Magnolia, this summer, will spend next season on Coolidge's Point, where they have hired the Clement S. Houghton cottage for the season, it is said. They made their departure from the shore Tuesday by special car.

Among other departures from Magnolia this week were the Joseph Sargents, who left Tuesday for New Hampshire, where they will spend a few weeks before returning to town. Mr. and Mrs. James Lee have also gone to the mountains for a few weeks, making the trip by auto. The James Tents of Boston left Tuesday also.

Oliver Ames and family have closed their Pride's Crossing villa and left this week for North Easton, where they will remain, as usual, several months before returning to town for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ward have closed their cottage on Sea street, Manchester, and returned to their Brookline home for the winter.

The Mortimer B. Masons are leaving Manchester next Tuesday for their town home at 347 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

The Frederick C. Stevens have just closed their cottage on Smith's Point and returned to Attica, N. Y.

Dr. Charles A. and Dr. C. Boardman Porter and their respective families were among yesterday's departures from Beverly Farms. They have returned to Boston.

George P. Black and family, who have been at the Southerland cottage, Coolidge's Point, left Wednesday for Lakewood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Moore, who have been spending September at "Rockmarge," Prides Crossing, with the former's parents, Judge and Mrs. Moore, left Saturday in Mr. Moore's special Rock Island car for St. Louis.

The Godfrey Cabots of Beverly Farms and the Robert Gould Shaw, 2ds, of Beverly Cove were among Monday's departures for town.

Baron Rosen in Auto Accident.

A serious automobile accident was most narrowly averted Sunday afternoon when two cars, in one of which was Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, and family, and in the other Judge Taft of family of Gloucester, came together on Washington street, Manchester. As it was, nobody was hurt.

Baron Rosen, Baroness Rosen, their daughter Elizabeth and one of the Russian secretaries were on their way to Pride's Crossing in a brand new locomobile, being handled by the baron's chauffeur. As the party were rounding from Summer into Washington street the car was steered so as to escape a pool of water in the road. As it was going at a pretty fast clip the rear wheels skidded a little and struck the forward wheels of a light steam locomobile in which Judge Taft, his wife and three children were riding toward Gloucester. The judge seeing what was likely to happen had brought his car to a full stop near the curbing in front of the Cunningham house, so that the impact was not so great as it would otherwise have been.

The Taft car was pretty well used up. The front axle was broken, the wheel was crushed, the machinery

Mrs. Henry C. Weston has closed her cottage at Beverly Farms and after a short stay in Boston she goes to the "Homestead," Hot Springs, Va., for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. F. E. Musgrave has returned to Beverly Farms after a few weeks' visit in Bar Harbor.

One of the first of the fall marriages of interest to North Shore people was that of Miss Mary C. Bigelow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Bigelow of Boston, and Dr. John L. Bremer of Manchester and Boston. The ceremony was performed in St. Stephen's church, Cohasset, last Saturday, by Bishop Lawrence, assisted by Rev. H. K. Bartow, rector of the church. Wallace Goodrich, choirmaster of Trinity church, was in charge of the music. The maid of honor was Miss Sarah B. Thayer and the bridesmaids were Miss Cornelia Wolcott, Miss Priscilla Stackpole, Miss Alice L. West and Miss Susan Thayer. Dr. Bremer was attended by Henry B. Bigelow as best man, a brother of the bride. The ushers were Dr. John Warren, Frederick S. Hoppin, Jr., of New York and Clifton L. Bremer, all of Harvard '96, the bridegroom's class, and Dr. David Cheever, Harvard '97; Joseph S. Bigelow, Jr., Harvard '00, and Reginald Boardman.

Deputy Geo. E. Fennell, with the full staff of the Pilgrim association of Boston, will install the officers of Wm. Jeffrey Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, on Monday evening next, Oct. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Jewett returned Tuesday night from their trip of several weeks to Saratoga and Niagara Falls.

Principal Mead of the Priest school visited the "Farm school" on Thompson's island, in Boston harbor, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hoffman of West Medford yesterday moved into the Gilson house, corner of School and North streets. Mr. Hoffman is in the employ of the C. Dodge Furniture Co.

Mrs. Jeffrey S. Reed returned on Wednesday from a two months' visit with friends in Minneapolis.

Little Miss Nina Sinnicks proved a pleasant hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained eight of her school friends on the occasion of her eighth birthday. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, etc., were served.

Detective Wells of the state police was in town Thursday morning in connection with the recent burglaries. Some jewelry had been found in a Boston pawn shop which, it was thought, resembled that taken from the G. M. Lane house. As the Lane servants had returned to Boston the detective's errand here was fruitless.

Real Estate And Improvements

Osborne Leach has purchased an estate at Danvers, of about five acres, and will occupy it this fall, after Nov. 1. The Leach property on School street has been sought by a number of people for hire, and the place will be occupied next season, in all probability, by some summer family.

The contract for building a macadam avenue from Summer street to the house, including considerable grading and other work, on the Harrison K. Caner estate in Manchester, has been awarded to Connolly Bros.

Work on the new Sacred Heart church at Manchester has been progressing quite rapidly. The tower is now practically built and the roof of the structure has been boarded. Work on the interior will soon be under way.

D. Linehan & Son will start next Monday on extensive work at the W. D. Denegre estate, West Manchester, including grading near the highway, the removal of a number of trees and the planting of other large trees.

C. G. Rice is to build on his Ipswich estate a large garage of brick, with limestone trimmings, and marble finishing inside. Putnam & Cox of Boston are the architects. D. Linehan & Son of Pride's have the contract for the mason work, and started 40 men to work this week. E. A. Abbott has the contract for the wood work.

C. H. Dalton is to build a little addition to his house on West Beach hill, Beverly Farms, this fall.

Messrs. Connolly Bros. started work this week on the Peter C. Brooks estate at Monument beach, Mass., building avenues, terrace walls and grading.

The contract for building the avenue leading from the Dexter wood road, so called, to the A. L. Devens property, in Manchester, has been awarded to Tuttle, a Swampscott contractor. We were in error last week in stating the contract had been awarded for the house. The plans for this are not yet complete and the exact location of the house has not yet been decided upon.

John Hays Hammond has purchased the fine estate at Fresh Water Cove, belonging to the late Henry S. Hovey and his sister, Miss Marion Hovey, who lived there for years before their decease.

The estate was presented by Mr.

formed the aisle through which the wedding party marched. Miss Marion Flint of Readville played Lohengrin's wedding march at the piano.

Miss Eleanor Andrews was the bridesmaid and Nelson Cook, a brother of the groom acted as best man.

The bride wore a gown of white net over white silk, and carried bride's roses and maiden-hair fern. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of hydrangeas, and a background of asparagus. Ferns and palms added to the floral effect.

Following the ceremony a reception was held until 9 o'clock. In the line were Mrs. Cook, mother of the groom, Nelson Cook, the bride and groom, Miss Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Baker. The following young ladies served: Misses Helen Kidder, Alice S. Kidder, Margaret Flint, Mabel R. Morgan and Eleanor G. Morgan, Mrs. A. H. Carter; Mrs. Geo. L. Flint and Mrs. Nichols.

During the evening the Manchester Brass band, of which the groom is a member, played several selections outside the house, among them being "Frenzied Finance," of which Mr. Cook is the author.

In a room on the second floor was displayed a most choice collection of presents, including some beautiful pieces of cut glass, silver and other useful articles. Among them was an old quilt that attracted much attention. This was about 130 years old, and is an heirloom of the family. It was made by the great-great-grandmother of the bride (on her mother's side), from the wedding gown of herself and sister. With this was a pair of pillow cases of about the same age.

As the guests departed each was presented with a box of wedding cake, made by Mrs. Eunice Woodwell of Newburyport. B. S. Bullock was the caterer.

The bride and groom left on the 9.30 train for Boston, whence they went to New York for a short wedding tour. They left the house amid a shower of confetti and rice, the avenues and grounds being brilliantly lighted with red fire. They were showered again at the station and all the way to Boston, in fact.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home with the latter's aged grandmother, Mrs. Burnham, on Pleasant street, Manchester.

I have just taken on a choice selection of Souvenir Postal Cards, with Manchester and North Shore scenes. Beach street café.

The Essex County Teachers' association convention is to be held this year on Friday, Nov. 2, at Peabody. President Tucker of Dartmouth will be one of the speakers.

As a result of the redistricting Manchester will probably have three representatives to the general court in ten years instead of two as in the past, and there is a chance even of having four. Last Friday night the local Republican town committee went to Gloucester for the purpose of meeting the committees from the three wards which form the district with Manchester, for the purpose of coming to some agreement on this matter. As the Gloucester committees were not strongly represented no definite action was taken. It was practically decided, however, that Manchester would be represented three of the years and each of the Gloucester wards, two years each. The question is, who will have the one remaining year? The chairmen and secretaries of the four committees will come together soon to decide on the matter.

The BREEZE sent by mail to any part of the U.S.—1 year 1 dollar. *

BY JOSEPH A. TORREY.

"There is so much bad in the best of us!"

Thus unto me did old Silenus say:

I heard the mighty Jove, one day,

Talk of the earth, which he was fain to curse,

Saying it failed and grew from bad to worse;

That fast as day succeeded day

The little rogues and vixens went astray.

Minerva said, she hoped not! They were but Ridiculous creatures, partly shut

By distance from our vision clear,

With this odd circumstance, they had a blur,

An indeterminate aspect, far or near,

Which made them seem quite other than they were.

Call you them good, then good they will appear;

Call you them bad, then bad; they are so queer!

There is not one among them, fair or foul,

That would not be a puzzle to my owl;

Much more, to all Olympus understood,

Could they be rightly judged as bad or good.

Too good for banning, and too bad for blessing,

An interesting folk to keep us guessing!

marks of Messrs. Hubbard and Tarr, who were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Shaw to the stage after he had been placed in nomination by acclamation.

Mr. Shaw's appearance in the hall was the cause of long applause. In responding to the nomination he said: "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the convention: Your committee have notified me of the action of your convention in choosing me for the nomination for senator from this district, for which I am justly thankful. It is my hope that after a year's service I will have merited your support so that you will be able to select me another year as your candidate.

"I believe that we should have the full support of the Republican party this fall in every office, and forget our petty feelings and elect a full ticket. I take this method of thanking Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Tarr for the courteous treatment accorded me, together with the newspapers."

P. M. Logan of Gloucester was elected a member of the state central committee and the following senatorial district committee was elected: H. W. Mears of Essex, Augustus Hubbard of Gloucester, George K. Knowlton of Hamilton, George Fall of Ipswich, George S. Sinnicks of Manchester, Edward F. Little of Newbury, Henry J. Noyes of Newburyport, L. Cleaves Parsons of Rockport, Cornelius F. Haley of Rowley, Herbert W. Porter of Wenham, Edward F. Connor of Salisbury, Morrill P. Bailey of Topsfield and Parker H. Mason of West Newbury.

Speaks Very Complimentary of Manchester Primary School.

A writer to the Gloucester Times in last Saturday's issue speaks very complimentary of the system of training employed in the lower grades of the Manchester schools. Following is the communication:

"Messrs. Editors:—It was my privilege to visit the new primary school in Manchester and I was very much interested to notice the practical work done by the scholars. It seems to me that we in Gloucester are far behind the schools of Manchester in those branches. The little girls are taught to sew. First they make samples, learning the different stitches, then they make a small apron for a doll, afterward one large enough to wear. They make a small pillow case, then a large one, and there were excellent samples of this work, also patching of stripes and plaids very neatly sewed. As they go farther they learn to use the machine and make clothes, one of the girls last year being ambitious enough to attempt a three-piece suit, which was a success.

"The boys, beginning with a knife make wedges, and later learn to use tools "doing" most creditable work in sleeve boards, cutting boards, knife trays, one boy making a sled and it was one of which to be proud, I assure you. I was tempted to wish I lived in Manchester, even if Gloucester is "the opal of the world."

"But why can't we have these good things as well as our neighbor, and then when our girls and boys graduate they will have a good practical education?"

"If some of our school authorities would visit Manchester and see for themselves I am sure they would be interested and perhaps enough to adopt a part of the system."

"Visitor."

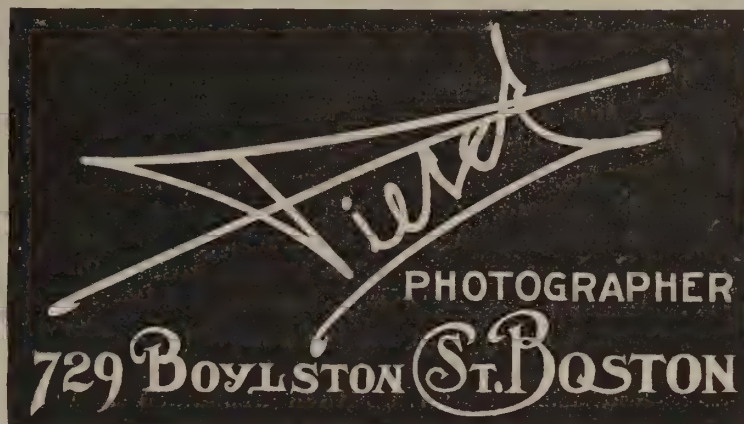

C. H. T. Mann.

Charles H. T. Mann, a native of Manchester, one of Methuen's best-known citizens, died early Monday morning at his home in the former town.

He was born August 10, 1841, and moved to Methuen when very young. He was unmarried. He is survived by one sister, Miss Abbie S. Mann, and one brother, David C. Mann, both of whom lived with him. He also leaves an adopted son, Charles W. Mann.

Rev. Wm. H. Eaton of Boston occupies the pulpit at the Baptist church tomorrow, the Rev. Clarence Strong Pond being still on his vacation.

Mrs. R. S. Bradley gave a party in the servants' quarters at her house on Wednesday evening, for her help, to which some 40 or more friends from the surrounding estates were invited.

Joseph Haskell and child moved to the Farms this week from Revere, and have taken up their residence with Mr. Haskell's parents on Vine street. The BREEZE last week recorded the death of Mrs. Haskell.

Michael T. Murphy and Joseph F. Fogg are contemplating an extended trip, which will finally take them to San Francisco, Cal. They expect to start in about two weeks' time.

The handsome new fountain, a gift to the City of Beverly through the generosity of Mrs. Henry C. Weston, has arrived and is being set in position. It is of a circular pattern, from Vermont green granite, polished, and will set upon a circular base of Rockport granite. It is indeed something which the people of the Farms and the public in general will fully appreciate.

It will be rally Sunday at the Baptist church next Sunday, Oct. 14. A special program will be carried out.

Harvey M. Hodgkins

Harvey M. Hodgkins, one of the best known residents of Beverly Farms, passed away at his home on Greenwood avenue last Saturday morning at the age of 57 years, 7 mos. 8 dys. He was buried Tuesday, the funeral services being held at the home of his brother, Fred T. Hodgkins, 286 Washington street, Gloucester.

Mr. Hodgkins was born in Gloucester almost 58 years ago. He was one of a family of seven boys, three of whom now survive, Fred and Eben, prominent business men of Gloucester, and Eli R. of the Farms. He is also survived by a widow and by his nephew and partner in business, Ald. Robert E. Hodgkins.

He moved to the Farms about 30 years ago and some five years later started in the paint business with his brother, Eli R., under the firm name of Hodgkins Brothers. About twelve years ago the firm was dissolved and two firms took its place, Mr. Hodgkins taking his nephew, Robert E., into partnership under the firm name of H. M. and R. E. Hodgkins, and Eli R. continuing under the name of E. R. Hodgkins & Co.

Although Mr. Hodgkins had been ill for some time, yet it had been thought that he was on the road to recovery, so that his death came as a surprise and a shock to the community, as few realized that he was so ill.

MANCHESTER

At a meeting of the committee on the proposed memorial to Masconomo, on Wednesday evening, Rev. Mr. Lamson asked to be excused from serving as chairman, on account of absence from town, and J. A. Torrey was chosen in his place. A. S. Jewett was chosen secretary. After an informal discussion the following sub-committees were appointed: On stone and location, J. A. Torrey, G. S. Sinicks, I. M. Marshall; on inscription, D. F. Lamson, J. A. Torrey, A. S. Jewett.

Walter Spence concluded his services with B. S. Bullock last Saturday and is the new clerk at F. H. Dennis' grocery store.

Mrs. John Baker entertained the Friday Afternoon Whist at "Fairview" yesterday afternoon.

Chester H. Dennis has a position as chauffeur with the Clement S. Houghtons of Coolidge's Point, who have returned to Chestnut Hill for the winter.

Mrs. A. P. Hanscome of Lanesville was a guest the first of the week of Mrs. Frank H. Dennis.

Bruce Chapman of U.S.S. Hancock, stationed at Brooklyn, N.Y., was here the first of this week on a few days' furlough.

A son, Tuesday, Oct. 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lucas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kehoe are expected home tomorrow from a month's visit with the latter's relatives in Hantsport, N.S.

Miss Fannie Golthwait started for Indianapolis Thursday morning with Mrs. Fletcher Hodges, as nurse girl.

George W. Dew of Melrose, old-time resident of Manchester, was a guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Meldrum. Mr. Dew did quite an extensive painting business in Manchester some 40 years ago. He married Miss Susan S. Burnham, daughter of the late Addison Burnham, of the firm of Burnham & Gentlee, afterwards Burnham & Crafts.

Manchester and Magnolia patrons of Mlle. Keyou in Gloucester will be pleased to know that she will have her fall opening next Wednesday. The store has been renovated and thoroughly overhauled the past few weeks, making a pleasing change.

New Time Table

The new time table going into effect next Monday, will be found on page 23. A perusal of this will quickly give one an idea of the changes made, a resume of which we gave last week.

WHISPERINGS

The faithful dog "Skip" owned by Enoch Crombie, Smith's Point, met with an accident last Saturday making it necessary to have him chloroformed. For a dozen years the dog has been owned by Mr. Crombie and is a familiar figure to many people. He followed his daughter home from school one fall day and he could not be made to leave her, and he has always been very fond of her. "Skip" was a knowing animal. When his master had company in the evening and was busy talking the dog would sit on the floor in front of his master as much as to say, "Come, it is time to give the horses their care for the night." Mr. Crombie would say, "Skip, if you want me to go to the stable get my hat." And the dog would bring the hat to his master and then lie down and wait until he had lighted the lantern. He was a dog that everybody liked and will be missed by many, for he seemed like a friend to everyone. — C.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. David Fenton returned yesterday morning from a visit to the Green Mountains in Vermont, where the former went last Tuesday. Mrs. Fenton went there several weeks ago with her daughter, Miss Verena Fenton.

Mrs. Davis Nickerson, who now lives in Quincy, is spending a few days with Mrs. Charles Smirh, Washington street.

The Essex County club closes for the season next Saturday, though it will be open for the use of members and their friends all the fall and winter for week-ends, as usual.

Albert Cunningham, in company with a business associate of Gloucester, sails this afternoon on the City of Augusta from Boston for Savannah, Ga., whence they go to Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will visit the battle-grounds of Chickamauga and Lookout Mountain, returning north by way of Asheville, N.C., Washington, Baltimore and other points of interest. Mr. Cunningham will be away three weeks.

Charles C. Dodge is among the interested spectators taking in the auto speed races on Long Island today. Mr. Dodge went to New York on the excursion Thursday.

Thursday night, a little after 7 o'clock, people driving near the Manchester-Beverly line were mystified at the rather promiscuous manner in which carriage robes, harness, clothing, etc., were scattered along the road. A little more investigation revealed two men stretched out on the side of the road, one of them terribly cut. It appears that Patrick Connors, second man at Thos. G. Plant's, imbibed too freely that night, in the absence of the coachman and took out one of Mr. Plant's prize horses for a drive. Some kind of a mix-up resulted, in which the animal was considerably damaged, one foot being almost severed, and Connors had 25 stitches taken in his face and head as the result of the fracas.

Among those who have attended the Brockton Fair this week were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Allen, A. J. Orr, Chief Peabody, W. R. Bell, Frank Morgan and Robert Hoare.

A son Monday, Oct. 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Long at Manchester Cove.

A son this week to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Linnegan. Mr. Linnegan is assistant station agent at Magnolia.

All of the Bell connections in Manchester attended the wedding in Beverly Wednesday evening of Samuel Pickett Bell and Miss Cora Marindia Flanders of Wolfboro, N.H.

At the county convention in Danvers this week, at which, by the way, 29 ballots had to be cast for county commissioner, Mr. Stanley of this town, one of the delegates, presented a set of resolutions on the retiring member of the board of county commissioners, Edward B. Bishop of Haverhill, who had held office for 24 years. The resolutions extended the sympathy of the convention to him in his illness and expressed the confidence and esteem in which he was held by the Republicans of the county.

Hon. David I. Robinson of Gloucester, who was renominated treasurer of Essex county by acclamation, is a native of Manchester.

Geo. F. Dyer and his foreman, Mr. Towle, left by the Bay State limited yesterday to attend the Long Island automobile races.

The Misses Edwards, who have been at Mrs. Reece's house in Manchester this season, returned to Brookline last Sunday by auto. Mrs. Reece, who has just returned from abroad came to Manchester the first of the week for a several weeks' stay at her cottage.

J. Henry Coulter, the popular riding master at Magnolia, left for Boston Tuesday for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. G. Plant of West Manchester are at their camp in Canada for a few weeks.

Mrs. Wm. A. Russell (Miss Mary Head), Miss Violet Pierce, Theron and Roy Pierce left Pride's Crossing Thursday morning in the Pierce private car "Zamora" on a trip around the world, going first across the continent to Oakland, Cal. The Pierce cottage at Pride's has been closed, Mr. Pierce leaving for New York Wednesday on his steam yacht "Yacoma."

Mrs. Samuel Hoare and daughter of Concord, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Washington B. Thomas at Pride's Crossing. The Thomases, by the way, probably will not close their shore house until after Thanksgiving this year.

W. S. Spaulding left Pride's Crossing Thursday with a party of friends by auto for the speed races at Long Island today.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Cushing have been spending the week with the latter's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cochrane, at Pride's Crossing.

Francis Cotting and sister, Miss Alice Cotting, have closed their cottage at Pride's Crossing and returned to their town home Wednesday.

Mrs. W. H. Moore has returned to Pride's from a brief trip to New York city. "Rockmarge" will not be closed this fall until well along in October.

The John T. Morse, jr., returned to Boston, Thursday for the season.

"The Student King."

Henry W. Savage, whose name needs no introduction to the American public, being as he is easily the premier of impressarios of English opera, has two productions the coming season, which he looks upon as the culmination, the crowning efforts of his managerial and artistic career. We refer to Puccini's opera entitled "Madam Butterfly," which has had a phenomenal success in England and on the continent, and to Reginald de Koven's "The Student King." "The Student King" is of special interest to Bostonians just now, as it opened at the Tremont theatre last Monday evening, to one of the most distinguished as well as the largest audience ever gathered in this popular theatre. The story has to do with the adventures of a poor student, Francis, elected according to an ancient custom in the sixteenth century, to be king for a day during a carnival in Prague. Lina Abarbanell is singing the leading female role. The chorus comprises eighty people, and the special orchestra is under the direction of Arthur Weld.

Jeremiah F. Linehan has gone to Bridgewater, where he expects to spend several weeks. Joseph F. Fogg accompanied him for a few days' stay.

Miss Alice Bolam is attending the Normal Art school, Boston.

The new house of Thos. J. McDonnell, corner of Hale street and Elliott avenue, is assuming goodly proportions, and will be a valuable addition to the real estate in that vicinity.

A bouncing baby boy arrived last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, Pickett's court.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Publicover arrived home the first of the week from a two weeks' trip to Nova Scotia. The weather during their trip was all that could be desired, and the passage on the boat added much to their pleasure.

Mrs. Peter Ward of Everett street is on a two weeks' visit to Brooklyn and New York city, in which places she has relatives and many friends to visit.

The Misses May D. and Gertrude H. Connolly entered, Thursday of this week, their fall courses in physical culture at the Dr. Sargent school, Cambridge.

The German embassy this week vacated the Hanson rooms on Vine court, where their offices have been located all through the summer, and for the balance of the season will use the rooms in the Ober cottage, opposite the station, for this purpose.

Homer Callahan is timekeeper for Messrs. Connolly Bros. upon the Dr. Banks estate at Stockbridge.

Although it is rather early for a definite outline of the Ward 6 political situation, it is given out upon good authority that Alderman Robert E. Hodgkins, who is now serving his second term, will again seek a re-election. For the Council chamber Horace F. Appleton and John C. Mc. Carthy, the present occupants, will again ask to be returned. Both men would like a promotion to the upper branch, but do not care to try conclusions with Alderman Hodgkins. Councilman Frank Rand will retire, as the position offers no particular attraction to him, and also because he expects in the near future to move his family to North Beverly. There are a number of other names mentioned, and others will no doubt come forward later. There will necessarily be at least one new office to fill to make up the quota for the Common Council.

A movement is being made by the members of St. John's Episcopal parish to have a resident pastor located at the Farms, it being deemed that the parish is now fully large enough, and that the church affairs in general would be greatly benefitted thereby. A meeting to decide the issue will shortly be called.

The sale of ice cream, cake and candy takes place this afternoon at the Beverly Farms school, under the management of the teachers, from 2 to 4 o'clock, and it is hoped that it will be well patronized, as the funds obtained are to be devoted to the purchase of pictures and the stereopticon lantern, which is an object that both scholar and teacher have worked for some time.

There are now some eight floats, taken from various piers along the shore, hauled high and dry on the uplands at West beach for storage and protection from the winter storms.

John Morgan, the popular driver of Engine 3 of the local fire department, started Wednesday on his twelve days' vacation. He has spent a part of it taking in the Brockton Fair and nearby attractions, and will visit relatives in western Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

BRUSSELS

The most satisfactory carpets, everything considered, one can buy. They are made of the finest of worsted yarns, and are woven through and through. There is no such a thing as wearing them "off"—you have to wear them "out."

The best class of designers that work in carpet mills design for body Brussels, hence the pretty patterns that are found in only these.

Made and laid from $1.15.

VELVETS

A most fitting carpet for a well furnished parlor, so soft and so silky, and patterns so pretty that some of them almost make a room look furnished before the other things go in.

Just the prettiest patterns this fall you ever did see.

Two tones in reds and greens and dainty little floral patterns, with wear to them that insures use for a great many years.

Made and laid
From 90¢.

TAPESTRIES

The good carpet without the expense.

With patterns appropriate for every room in the home.

Some of them so good you'd declare they were Brussels.

We've a line of pretty Parlor patterns, with colorings so clear that they will tempt you to buy them, though you've your mind made up to pay even more.

Two tones are conspicuous in this line of goods, and they cost all the way

From 65¢.

FIBRE CARPETS

The "Autocrat" of carpetdom. The prettiest thing ever made that was meant to put on a floor.

Colorings so soft and delicate that they actually look more like wall papers.

If you want to take one of your chambers and make it look unusual, one that will be talked about by every one that sees it, come in and start your color scheme from out of these pretty carpets—success then without question. From..... 30¢

RUGS

This is a veritable rug store. We show over one hundred and fifty carpet sized rugs on our immense carpet floor, and by the way the rugs are going out not only must the rugs in themselves be very pleasing, but the price must be right.

We have a line of 2-PIECE TAPESTRY RUGS, with the quality extra good and the patterns very fine, that are especially priced at $16.50.

Another Unusual Rug is a Seamless Velvet Rug, very heavy and with colorings very rich, for only..... $22.00

Our line of Brussels, Axminsters, Domestic Orientals and Wiltons covers many unusual colorings and drawings that are worth your while to see.

Carpets made and laid without extra charge anywhere inside the county.

Joseph S. West

Joseph S. West, 64, was found dead on the floor of the building on David Fenton Co.'s wharf at Manchester, in which he had been living of late, about 9 o'clock Thursday morning. He was seen around the building about 7 o'clock. George Rowe found him dead on the floor, face down, and with his feet toward the door.

Medical Examiner Haddock of Beverly, who called in the afternoon, pronounced death due to natural causes. For some years Mr. West has been subject to fits, and it is supposed he met his end as a result of one of these.

He was a native of Manchester, being born here Oct. 31, 1842, a son of Edward and Mary A. West. He was a shoemaker by trade, but spent practically all his life fishing. He was single, and for the past five years he has lived the life of a recluse.

He leaves two brothers, Charles Edward of Charlestown, who works for the Derby Desk Co. in Somerville, and Fred West of Providence.

His body was removed to the tomb in the ambulance and he was buried yesterday.

Mails Change

Beginning tomorrow the Manchester post office will not be open Sundays for the winter, and the Sunday mails will therefore be discontinued. The daily mail arriving a little after 9 a.m. and departing a little after 6 p.m. will also be discontinued.

BERKSHIRE HILLS

Saturdays, Sept. 29 and Oct. 6

Via BOSTON & ALBANY R.R.

Tickets good going Saturdays on regular trains, except No. 15. Returning on regular trains to and including the following Monday

3 DAYS' OUTING, $3.40

The time to visit the Berkshires is when the leaves are turning. The foliage is now taking on its richest hues and colorings are gorgeous—red yellow—purple and gold. Greylock, Sugarloaf, and other Berkshire mountains provide inspiring beauties of landscape.

This hill country is famous for its lovely walks and drives, and trolley lines afford easy means of travel through northern and southern Berkshire.

The trip from Boston to Pittsfield over the Boston & Albany R.R. is through the most picturesque section of Massachusetts.

Ere the Berkshires are reached, many beautiful hills, valleys and streams may be seen from the car windows—Mts. Bunyan and Dunlin, near Palmer—Mt. Tom, and the Connecticut River at Springfield, the graceful elms of the Westfield meadows, and the winding Westfield River, all add to the delights of the trip.

AUTUMN REVERIES.

By D. F. Lamson.

A few students under a haystack, a hundred years ago, prayed into existence the modern American missionary movement; but there were pluck and purpose as well as prayer. "We can do it if we can," were the words of the devoted and heroic Samuel J. Mills. A similar knightly utterance is attributed to John Wesley, "Whatever ought to be done can be done," words fit to revolutionize the world; the same spirit has been immortalized in Virgil's rowers, "They can because they think they can."

Some persons are woefully lacking in a sense of perspective and proportion; they easily condone a grave moral obliquity, but they are horror-struck at a false quantity or a split infinitive, which last, it is true, is enough "to rile a Shaker or an everidge saint."

Religion owes little to pomp and circumstance; it makes its home in barns as well as cathedrals, in prisons as well as palaces; its founder was laid in a manger, and its first preachers were accustomed to hard fare, coarse clothing and all discomfort; and their true successors have often fared not much better; the lives of many a missionary, as Livingstone, Mackay, Paton and Judson, are as full of pathos and heroism as any hagiology can boast.

Nature will sometimes assert itself in spite of all efforts to discipline and train it, as when the teacher of English told her class that a preposition is not a good word to end a sentence with.

We sometimes stand like Bilboa on some peak in Darien, some vantage ground of attainment, and life seems full of vast opportunities and possibilities; but the main thing is to walk in the light of today, and to "do ye nexte thyng," as runs the inscription in the old English parsonage down by the sea.

Kipling calls the brown man half devil and half child, and another recent writer describes men as half God and half devil; be this as it may, certain it is that many men are a bundle of contradictions, there is in them a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde. "I find in me two men," says a French writer.

A weak purpose and irresolute will are as powerless in morals as a dangling participle in composition; in the one case rhetoric suffers, in the other, experience and influence.

An excellent spine was a school-boy's reading of an excellent spirit in the statesman prophet, just what is needed in our politicians and public leaders generally; more moral backbone, more willingness to stand Athanasius-like against the world, and to do right though the heavens fall.

There are many things said that are well enough as far as words go, but we feel that they lack the note of reality, they have a hollow ring; there is ball needed as well as powder to do execution, and after all it is the man behind the gun.

"They laded us with such things as were necessary"; good, considerate friends, those islanders; most of us load ourselves with superfluities, these are what worry us and wear us out before our time, not the needful impediments of life.

Culture and simplicity are very closely allied, though many seem to think it a mark of learning to use great, swelling words to express their thoughts; a plain farmer who heard Daniel Webster at Bunker Hill said of his oration: "Every word weighed a pound," but Webster's style is a model of simplicity, straightforwardness, and that absence of art which is the perfection of art.

These matchless October days, with their mildness and charm, remind us of what the autumn of our lives should be—serene, mellow, golden with the fruitage of experience and hope, free from life's hustle

IN POLITICS

Cong. Gardner Again the Choice of Republican Convention

Congressman Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton was nominated by acclamation at the Congressional convention in Ipswich last Saturday to succeed himself in Congress.

Upon being escorted to the platform he accepted his nomination for a third term, speaking in part as follows:

"I am afraid that I am classed as a 'wicked standpatter.' Perhaps that is putting it a little strong, as there are a number of tariff schedules I should like to see changed. I don't think much of the existing hide and leather schedule and I am not in ecstasies over the glass, sugar or steel schedules. I am perfectly aware of the fact that some people are making more money than they ought out of the steel schedule; but, on the whole, I should rather see a few people making a little too much money than to see everyone making too little money, which was the case the last time the Democracy had a chance to tinker the tariff. On the whole, however, Massachusetts fares pretty well under the Dingley law and I doubt if she would fare much better under a new customs law.

"You can put the producer out of business, if you want to do so, by hostile legislation, and by the same act you will put the consumer back into the public soup house. This has been demonstrated pretty nearly every time that the Democracy has been in power.

"Now I have a word to say to the voters in this district, because I know I have a harder fight ahead than in 1904. I hope to win, and I

Society Notes

North Shore friends of Frederick Fairbanks, son of Vice-President Fairbanks, were surprised to read in yesterday's papers, of his elopement and marriage to Miss Nellie Scott of Pittsburg. Mr. Fairbanks spent part of the summer at Magnolia and was quite prominent in the social life at the Oceanside. Miss Scott was also a guest there part of the summer.

Mrs. Andrew G. Weeks, who has been at the Larcom cottage at Beverly Farms again this summer, returned to town on Wednesday. Among other departures from the Farms this week were the Geo. A. Goddards, Mrs. Frederick Dexter, the W. W. Clapps, Mrs. B. C. Grey and Miss M. C. Grey who has been at one of the Luke cottages.

Mrs. J. Theodore Heard met with quite a serious accident last Saturday afternoon while out driving at Magnolia with her son Henry, who was handling the reins, and a friend, Mrs. Thayer of Boston. When near the blacksmith shop of Daniel Casey on Magnolia avenue, the pole strap broke and the frightened horses started into a gallop. In order to avoid running over some children playing in the street. Mrs. Heard pulled the horses to the side of the road and ran into a stone post, throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Heard received a gash in the back of her head, and all were more or less bruised. She was taken, with the assistance of Officer Burke and others to the house of Edward Simonds, and was attended by Dr. Morrill. She was afterwards removed to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lee Higginson, jr., and young son, sail next Tuesday from England for a six weeks' visit to the United States.

John Caswell and Thos. M. McKee returned to the Farms Thursday after a four weeks' gunning trip to Canada.

Gordon Abbott and family will close their West Manchester cottage next Monday and the F. W. Fabyans will return to Boston next Tuesday. The Geo. N. Blacks leave Manchester next Saturday. Miss R. P. Curtis closed her cottage on the Gloucester road Thursday.

Among this week's departures from Pride's were the Charles Amorys who left for their Marlboro street home Wednesday, the Robert Treat Paine, jr., who left Wednesday also, Mrs. Paine and children going to Waltham for a visit with her father.

The Misses Loring of Pride's, are at Newport, R.I., guests of Miss C. C. Perkins.

OBITUARY

Captain Thomas Dow

Captain Thomas Dow, one of Manchester's oldest sons, passed away last Sunday at his home on Vine street at the age of 86 years, 3 months and 3 days, after being confined to his bed the past five weeks. Death resulted from old age. In his death another of the old landmarks of the town is removed. The Dow family has been identified with the town since about 1700.

Thomas Dow was born in Manchester July 4, 1820, a son of Thomas Dow. Like his father and grandfather before him, he followed the sea. He shipped first when he was 9 years old on a Grand Banker. He went fishing till he was 26 years old, when he had a narrow escape from drowning by being washed overboard, and washed back on the ship again, most miraculously. He then learned the cabinet making trade and like many others at that time he followed this work for many years, spending most of his summers fishing. He learned his trade with Enos Allen, an uncle.

In late years he has followed dory fishing off shore for a living. He retired about six years ago, when he was 80 years old.

He was a man of quiet disposition, kind-hearted, and one that everybody liked. He had not an enemy in the world.

He is survived by one brother, Edward Dow, of Lynn, one sister, Mrs. Frank Boardman, two sons, George E., of Manchester, Thomas, of Kingston, N.H., and four daughters, Mrs. Mary Stanley and Miss Acena Dow of Manchester, Mrs. Ida Smith of Marblehead and Mrs. Eliza Huddell of Chelsea. He also leaves twelve grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Crowell Memorial Chapel, Rev. Dr. Rider of Gloucester officiating. Interment was in Rosedale Cemetery.

Mrs. Nancy Burnham

Mrs. Nancy (Morgan) Burnham passed away at her home on Pleasant street, Manchester, Thursday after a prolonged illness. She lacked one day of being 88 years old.

Mrs. Burnham was born in Manchester, in the house corner of Pleasant and School streets, now occupied by descendants of the Morgan family, on Oct. 12, 1818. She was a daughter of Nathaniel Morgan, and has spent all her life in Manchester.

She was three times married, her first husband being Daniel Hildreth

Grand Republican Rally in Manchester Next Friday Evening

A grand Republican rally is to be held in the Manchester Town hall, next week on Friday evening, at which Congressman Augustus P. Gardner and other speakers of national promience will speak, the exact program not yet being announced. The local committee have hired the Manchester Brass band for the occasion and every voter in town should be out.

of Manchester. She later married Thomas Dade of Essex, and later Addison Burnham, who died some ten years ago. None of her family of seven children survive her, and she is the last of the family herself.

Two grandchildren, Geo. Hildreth and Mrs. Chester D. Cook (Hattie Baker), and two great-grandchildren, Gladys and George Clifford Hildreth, all of Manchester, also survive her.

"Aunt Nancy," as she was familiarly called, will be greatly missed as a cheerful neighbor. She was well-known for her helpfulness in ministering to the sick and needy.

Funeral services will be held today in the Crowell Memorial Chapel at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Ellen M. Knight

Mrs. Ellen M., widow of Samuel Knight, formerly of Manchester, passed away at Farhills, N.Y., Tuesday, at the age of 85 years. Her body was brought here for burial Thursday on the 3.15 train, the services being held at the Crowell Memorial chapel.

Mrs. Ellen Augusta Chase

Mrs. Ellen Augusta Chase, a native of Manchester, passed away at her home in Standish, Me., Wednesday, at the age of 54 years. Death resulted from a complication of diseases. She was buried yesterday at Standish.

Mrs. Chase was born in Manchester June 25, 1852, in that part of the town then called "Newport." She was a daughter of the late Deacon Oliver Roberts by his first wife, and was a sister of Oliver T. Roberts of this town. In 1879 she was married to Silas S. Baker of Standish, who passed away in 1887. Two years later she married John Lombard Chase, who survives her. Three daughters, Ruth Sherman and Annie Elvira Baker, and Edna Baker Chase also survive.

Horace Ross

Horace Ross, an old time resident of Manchester, passed away at his home in Arlington last Saturday, at the age of 88 years. Funeral services were held at his late home Monday and his body was brought to Manchester for burial, prayers being said over his remains at the Crowell Memorial chapel, by the Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln. Burial was at Rosedale cemetery.

Though born in Ipswich in 1818, Mr. Ross spent many years of his life in Manchester, in the days when cabinet-making was the leading business of the town, and he will be remembered by many of the older residents of the town now. He is survived by two daughters and one son.

Mr. Ross learned his trade with Larkin Woodbury and afterward worked with other concerns. He married a sister of the late William E. Wheaton. After leaving Manchester he was connected for some time with the Boston Traveler and Salem Gazette. He was a constant attendant, until the past year, of the annual gatherings of the Elder Brethren.

Mr. Ross made the first snow plow ever used in Manchester and he ran it over the town that winter, and at the March meeting was given a vote of thanks and $5.00. During all his life he never used liquor or tobacco of any kind.

Officer J. W. Lee did a good turn Monday night when he discovered a brisk brush fire in progress at the Mrs. John Reece estate. He was on duty at the Manchester station when he saw the flames. With the assistance of Officer Andrews he put the fire out. Sparks from the 7.25 train as it passed the house probably started the dry grass and brush, and the flames had eaten their way dangerously near the house before they had arrived.

Miss M. E. Douglass returned to her home in Milton last Friday after a visit with Mrs. Ellery Rogers.

Lyman W. Floyd and J. W. Carter, the delegates, attended the Councillor convention in Salem Tuesday, in which Lewis Bartlett of Lynn was renominated for the position.

Benjamin Corliss started his life as a resident of Manchester last Saturday evening very appropriately by a house warming. His new colonial residence, corner of Lincoln and Arbella streets, was very prettily decorated for the occasion. Music by an orchestra from Salem, together with a collation of salads, ices, fruits and other refreshments were much enjoyed by the guests who assisted in taking the "chill" off the new house. Besides the orchestra there were numerous solos by Selectman F. K. Swett, who was accompanied on the piano by John Kean of Gloucester. The party broke up at a seasonable hour after voting the house in "good running order for the winter." There were present besides the Manchester guests consisting of E. P. Stanley, J. K. Pulsifer and F. K. Swett, Mr. Corliss, Jr., from Rhode Island, and the following from Gloucester: Chas. H. M. Hazel, Wm. Babson, Aaron Parsons, Capt. Chisholm, Prof. John Kean and Preston Wass.

Rev. and Mrs. D. F. Lamson have returned to Boston for the winter.

Miss Alice C. Sargent started Monday clerking at Almy, Bigelow & Washburn Co.'s Beverly store.

Harold Stanley concludes his engagement at Allen's Market today.

John G. Haskell, one of the jurors for the superior civil court now sitting in Newburyport, was home Tuesday and Wednesday morning.

Mrs. J. Warren Lee and little daughter returned the middle of the week from a fortnight's visit with relatives in Somerville.

Miss Annie Williams of Topsham, Me., was in town over Sunday visiting her brother, Charles Williams.

Robert Allen will not conduct his provision store in Manchester this winter but will go to Boston the latter part of this month to take charge of the retail store of Alfred Sears & Co. in Faneuil hall market. R. J. Baker will probably keep the store open, however.

A delegation of some 15 members of the local camp, S. of V., attended the grand campfire in Faneuil hall, Boston, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Steward and Mrs. C. F. Ballard of Louisville, Ky., who are touring this section by auto, stopped at Manchester this week and were guests at the Manchester House.

W. W. Hoare, R. C. Allen, G. S. Sinnicks, D. T. Beaton, E. P. Stanley and C. O. Howe attended the representative convention in Gloucester Tuesday evening, when Rep. Terry of Gloucester was renominated. E. P. Stanley and C. O. Howe were appointed on the committee on credentials, and E. P. Stanley is appointed again on the district committee.

The selectmen have sent out notices the past week to property owners calling attention to the law relative to gypsy and brown tail moths, "which requires cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests of the gypsy and brown tail moths under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law. If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work, in whole or in part according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land." Full instructions as to best methods of work against the moths may be obtained from the local superintendent, William Young, Washington street, or from the State Superintendent, Room 1010, 6 Beacon street, Boston.

Tree Warden William Young, who began his fall and winter campaign against the moth in Manchester a week or two ago, says he finds a much better condition of affairs here than last year, taking things in a general way, though he has found a number of bad spots in the most distant sections, where he did not go last year. As a matter of fact Manchester has spared nothing in endeavoring to rid itself of the pest and the results obtained are most gratifying not only to the local warden but to the state superintendents as well.

The first meeting of the season of the Thought and Work club of Salem, of which Mrs. Hattie Lee Harris of Manchester and Salem is president, is being held this afternoon when there is to be a reception to old and new members, by members of the executive board. Miss Henrietta I. Goodrick will speak on "Practical Experiments in Industrial Sociology."

WHISPERINGS

Lewis Morgan, the Brook street cabinet maker, presented the Breeze man with a little piece of triangular-shaped iron the other day, which, though very ordinary looking in appearance, is somewhat of a curiosity, nevertheless. Mr. Morgan was sawing a piece of mahogany board one day a week or two ago when he struck a hard object. As it was within the board, completely enclosed, and far in from where the bark of the tree formerly must have been, it appeared very strange to him. Investigation proved it was a piece of iron and with some little difficulty he dug it out of the board. It is triangular in shape and resembles very closely the head of a spear. It is three inches long, and a little less than two inches wide on its shortest side. Its average thickness is about three-eighths of an inch. It is exceptionally well preserved and looks as if it had been hand wrought. The only feasible explanation is that the spear was thrown against the tree years and years ago, probably by the natives of Mexico, or Central America where most of the mahogany used hereabouts comes from, and the head was broken off, leaving it stuck into the trunk of the then young tree. It may have been imbedded there a couple of hundred years.

* * * *

One would think the North Shore abounded in game to see the way deer stroll about the fields on the outskirts of the towns and even intrude upon our gardens at times. Last Thursday morning Engineer Dority of the first train from Boston reports seeing a deer on the track between Manchester and Magnolia. Sometime Friday night, or early Saturday morning of last week, a deer pushed its head through a plate glass window in a building on Rantoul street, Beverly, next door to the office where the Breeze is printed.

* * * *

Selectman Fred K. Swett of Manchester does not pretend to be an expert farmer, or berry raiser, but he claims the record for this section. One afternoon this week he picked a pint of delicious raspberries on the parsonage grounds which were served for dinner that night.

* * * *

Officer William Lamasney of Manchester, I am informed, came near playing the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde act one day this week; in other words he came very near arresting himself. Tuesday noon he had occasion to caution a chauffeur for a Magnolia summer resident against careless driving and for going without his number attached to the car. A little girl in the car made faces at the officer as a result of which he proceeded to give her a lesson in etiquette. Later in the afternoon the telephone bell in the police station rang and Officer Lamasney answered it.

"Hello! is this the chief?" came the voice.

"No," answered the officer, "but I am acting chief at present. What would you like?"

"I want to make a complaint against Officer Lamasney," was the reply. "He was intoxicated and used abusive language. I want him arrested."

"Lamasney," repeated Bill, in an authoritative tone. "Are you sure it was Lamasney?"

"Yes."

"And could you swear he was intoxicated?"

"Yes."

Just about that time the 'phone became tremendously noisy, and the dialogue came to a sudden ending. Friend William was boiling under the collar. "Arrested!" "Intoxicated!" he repeated to himself. "If that isn't the limit." He looked at himself in the looking-glass. True, his face looked red enough. But he knew he hadn't been drinking, and his language was only such as an officer should use under the circumstances. A number of people could vouch for this. And he boiled a little more.

The party came to the station a little later and Officer Lamasney referred them to Selectman Swett, who effected a compromise by persuading the officer not to arrest the autoists, and visa versa.

Mr. Russell Discharged in Manchester Manslaughter Charge.

At the district court in Salem, Tuesday Judge Holden announced his finding on the inquest of the death of the late Gerald E. Gorman, who was killed in Manchester on Aug. 26, by being run over by an automobile owned by Frank A. Russell of Brookline, stating that the inquest had shown the affair was the result of an accident and that Mr. Russell was without blame. Mr. Russell was discharged from custody.

The text of the finding says, in part: "It was Sunday evening, about nine o'clock. The boy, in company with others, was playing in the stable, and, on being chased by one boy, ran out into the main road leading from Gloucester to Manchester. A projecting ell of the stable prevented a sight of that part of the road towards Gloucester to anyone coming out of the stable, so that, although the automobile was well lighted, its approach was not seen by the boy until it was too late to avoid it. Neither could Mr. Russell see the boy till close upon him, and although he did all that was possible to turn and stop, the boy, in the act of turning to escape, stumbled, fell and was instantly run over.

"There was no evidence of the automobile being driven at more than moderate speed. I find that no one was to blame for the death, it being purely accidental."

Pilgrims Installed.

The newly elected and appointed officers of Wm. Jeffrey Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, of Manchester, were installed Monday evening by Deputy Geo. E. Fennell, with full staff of the Pilgrim association of Boston. Delegations were present from Swampscott and Beverly Farms and a general good time was enjoyed. A supper was served the members and guests prior to the installation.

Following are the officers: Mrs. L. W. Floyd, governor; Mrs. George Jones, lieutenant governor; Mrs. Charles Lucas, chaplain; Mrs. M. C. Morton, collector; C. C. Dodge, treasurer; M. C. Dodge, secretary; Mrs. Eliza Crombie, sergeant-at-arms; J. S. Reed, deputy sergeant-at-arms; M. C. Horton, inside guard; James Salter, outside guard; Mrs. Wm. Whalen, ex-governor.

Boys are not the only ones who enjoy playing football, for one afternoon of this week a team composed of girls, dressed for the occasion, might have been seen playing the game to perfection in the field back of the Story High school building, Manchester.

hope you will not think me immodest if I say I expect to win. Eager as I am for a large majority, I propose to have employers and employed alike understand fully that I intend to use my own judgment and cast my own votes, if I am re-elected. I cannot and shall not always vote with either of you exactly as you wish.

"Let it be clearly understood that in purely political matters I stand with my friends. In legislative matters affecting the whole body politic I cast my vote on party questions with the party whose nomination I accept. In all other matters I cast my vote according to my own judgment, and not at the dictation of any man or group of men."

B. S. Bullock was re-appointed on the congressional district committee to represent Manchester.

Schofield Nominated and Takes the Field Against Con. Gardner.

The Democratic congressional convention at Salem Monday nominated Ex-Sen. George A. Schofield of Ipswich for Congress, to represent the Sixth District. In a ringing speech of acceptance, Mr. Schofield criticised the "barefaced" use of money four years ago in the congressional contest and said he would aim to restore the politics of the district to the conditions of Moody's day.

He scored Gardner's "stand pat" admission, and says he is not in favor of allowing favored interests to rob "by law." He believes in tariff revision. "I shall vote on all questions as my judgment and conscience dictates," he declared. "I will not accept the dictation of any man, group of men or any party if that dictation bids me say farewell to judgment and put conscience to sleep."

It is probable that Manchester voters will have opportunity of hearing Mr. Schofield during the campaign, as he may speak here under the auspices of the local camp Sons of Veterans.

George W. O'Dea, the Prides Crossing painter, has been awarded the contract for painting a large hotel at Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Strong Pond returned this week from their vacation in the Berkshire Hills and on the South Shore. Rev. Mr. Pond will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow, on "Sons of God," in the morning, and at the evening service his topic will be "Righteousness its own reward." The evening service begins now at 7 o'clock and lasts one hour.

A Lyceum committee of the Baptist church is to meet soon and arrange for another series of lectures and entertainments for the coming fall and winter.

The yachts off West Beach are being hauled up for the winter, the high wind and sea at times during the week putting in jeopardy the safety of several. The nearest to disaster was the trim motor boat "Onaway," which went ashore on Lee's rocks, but which was rescued before much damage was done, it happening fortunately in the day time.

Supt. Wm. Neville of the West Beach corps has turned "Artist" and is doing some slick work with the paint brush upon the numerous bath houses and also upon the pipe iron railing of the pier.

Thos. C. Clarkson of Rochester, N.H., has been visiting friends at the Farms for the past few days.

This has indeed been a busy week for the employes of the local railroad station, due to the departure of a number of families. Trucks piled high with baggage and heavy trunks is a matter of envy (?) for trainmen.

Mechanics, and in fact, everyone at the Farms, have plenty of work these days, putting things in condition for Jack Frost, whose coming we are even now at times reminded of.

Another of the popular invitation parties given by the "North Shore girls and fellows" was held in Marshall's hall Thursday evening. The hall was tastily decorated with flowers and autumn leaves and at intermission refreshments were served.

Miss Edith Elliott is substituting at the Beverly Farms postoffice during the absence of Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley.

Next Friday evening, Oct. 19th, will be an interesting one for the John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers, at which time will take place the installations of officers. The work will be performed by Deputy Supreme Governor Fennell and staff of the Pilgrim association of Boston, whose excellent work is of much pleasure and instructive to all members of the order. A collation will be served.

Mr. Bent, meat cutter at Wyatt's market, has concluded his duties there and accepted a like position in a Boston market.

Those who desire to vote in the coming November state election will do well to look over the voting list posted at the library building, to see that their names are on the list. Registration closes on Wednesday next, Oct. 17th. The board will be in session from 12 noon to 10 p.m., Room 3, at City hall, Beverly, on that date.

A delegation of 20 or more members of John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers on Monday evening last attended the installation of officers and enjoyed immensely the hospitality of William Jeffrey Colony at Manchester.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Callahan returned Thursday on the Saxonia from a three months' trip abroad, having left New York on July 9, in a party of 130 on one of the "pilgrim tours," so called. For two months the party held together, and when the excursionists returned home a month ago, Mr. and Mrs. Callahan left them and went to England and Ireland for a month's visit. During their trip they have visited eight countries, their first stop being at Gibraltar. From there they went to Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan and other Italian points, whence they went to Switzerland, which Mr. Callahan describes as the Manchester of Europe, for it is the point where, in summer, excursionists from all over the globe go for the beautiful weather and scenery. From there they went through Germany to Paris, and thence to London and Dublin, spending three weeks on the emerald isle. While in Dublin they attended the great horse show, the season's event there, and took in such interesting historic points as Killarney, Cork, Blarney Castle, and going also to Belfast and other principal cities of Ireland. They saw the launching of the great Adriatic, of the White Star line, the second largest ship afloat today, measuring 725 feet. They thought this one of the greatest sights of their trip. From there they went to Glasgow, through Scotland, and through various cities of England, including Manchester, which they visited barely through the interest of seeing what our namesake looks like. They sailed from Liverpool on Oct. 2.

"As anxious as we were to go," said Mr. Callahan, "for it has always been my ambition to go abroad, we were just as anxious to get home. If God ever blessed a country, he blessed America. It would do anybody good to go and see the old country; he would return a better citizen. Switzerland is a very industrious little country. Everybody seems to be doing something. The women seem to run the business there, and in fact all over Europe. They run the hotels and most everything else." During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Callahan the Manchester house has been in charge of the former's nephews, George and John Murphy, who have managed the business in a very efficient manner, keeping the place in the same trim and neat appearance for which Mr. Callahan has the name.

The Scotch ball in the Manchester Town hall, last evening, under the auspices of Clan Wallace, No. 127, drew out a good crowd, who greatly enjoyed the dancing by the "kilties" and the bag-pipe selections. The floor was in charge of Robert Allen, and Peter MacCurrack was assistant floor director. The aids were Jas. Tulloch, Alex. Watt, Tom Robertson, Joe Allander, John Robertson, George Robertson, Peter Green and James Robertson. There were nine in Highland costume. Wm. Burrows, David Ferrier and Alex. Gillis were the pipers, and Archie Morrison and Miss Louise Rankin were the dancers. Cook's orchestra furnished the music.

Mrs. O. T. Roberts went to Standish, Me., yesterday, to attend the funeral of Mr. Roberts' sister, Mrs. Chase, who died there on Wednesday.

Woods--Morrison

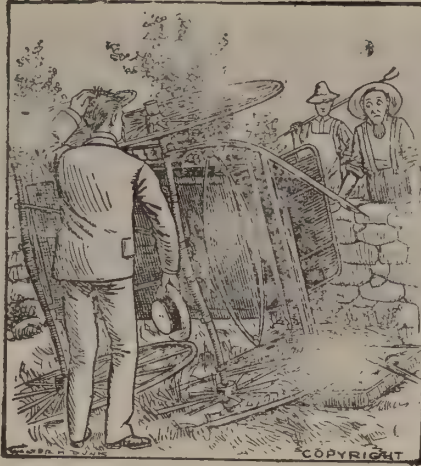

Miss Beatrice Sarah Morrison and Bernard Joseph Woods were united in marriage at St. Cecelia church, Boston, on Thursday morning, Oct. 11, by the Rev. Fr. J. J. O'Keefe, after which a short reception was held at their suite on Boylston street.

The wedding was of particular interest to North Shore folk, as both bride and groom have occupied positions of high favor among members of the summer colony for their success in training young people in gymnastics and athletics. This was attested by the many beautiful and substantial gifts, including rare bric-a-brac, silver, china and paintings sent the young people by their many wealthy friends. Of all the presents, three were particularly well received, for three of Mr. Woods' pupils, who are young students of sloyd work, patiently labored and made for him two tables of mission type and a wooden casket for cigars and cigarettes, on the top of which is carved a rabbit, suggestive of Mr. Wood's pet name "Bunnie," by which he is best known to his "chicks."

Mr. and Mrs. Woods left Thursday for New York on their wedding tour, which will include Philadelphia, Washington, Niagara Falls and Montreal. After Nov. 15, they will be at home at 1077 Boylston street.

Murray-Knowlton

One the prettiest weddings of the fall at Beverly was that of Wednesday evening when Nelson H. Murray, formerly of Manchester, and Miss Agatha Knowlton were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Hoyt of the Universalist Church, at the pretty residence of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Crosby, with whom the bride made her home. There were 400 invitations to the reception which followed the ceremony, a number of Manchester relatives and friends of the couple being among those who attended.

After seven years of faithful service at the North Shore Fish Co.'s market, George E. Dix concluded his services there last Monday. Mr. Dix leaves to accept a position in the automobile business with the Singer Machine Co. at Newark, N.J., where he has already gone.

Postmaster Elmer Standley and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hardy left the early part of the week for North Conway, N.H., where they expect to spend the greater part of two weeks taking in the various excursions to the Mountains and other points of interest in that vicinity.

John Bolam returned the middle of the week after a period of some two weeks or more, handling the reins over a team of spirited horses, driving a coaching party of Farms' summer residents, through points of interest in New Hampshire.

Miss Helen Leahy has concluded her duties as bookkeeper at Preble's market, Neighbor's hall.

S. Frank Currier has sold his property on Hart street, to Beverly parties.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell left the first of the week for a two weeks' visit to Needham, where her husband has been located for the past few months, having charge of a large contract there for Messrs. Connolly Bros. upon the J. T. Morse, 3d, estate.

The G. A. R. associates held a preliminary meeting last Saturday evening to see if the very enjoyable meetings of last winter are to be continued, and it was decided that the regular meetings will be held from now on through the winter on Thursday evenings as usual. The card tournament which proved so popular a feature last year will probably be renewed very shortly.

The members of St. John's Episcopal church society held an important meeting Wednesday evening at which the matter of becoming an independent church, and having a resident pastor was discussed. The many friends of J. M. Publicover of the firm of Messrs. Publicover Bros., are holding their appetites in restraint in anticipation of the expected first invoice of seabirds due to reach Beverly Farms the early part of next week; for Mr. Publicover starts today on his week's annual fall outing to be spent in Ipswich bay gunning. If he has the usual results his friends will not be disappointed, as he is an excellent shot and has in the past furnished the nucleus for many good feasts, due to his skill.

A neat sum of money was realized from the sale at the Beverly Farms school last Saturday afternoon, and this, together with the several contributions sent in will now enable the school to procure that which has been their desires for a long time, a stereopticon lantern and pictures.

Ambrose Adams of East Hebron, N.H., has been spending a part of this week visiting friends at the Farms, West Beach and "old ocean" being of especial interest. While here he was the guest of Messrs. Forrester H. and Wilbur J. Pierce.

He Visits Magnolia.

John M. Shew, who cut quite a dash some months ago under the guise of "Lieut. Capehart," U. S. Navy, at Salem, and who was arrested and sentenced to jail for obtaining goods under false pretences, has again posed as a naval officer, this time making the North Shore and Gloucester the scene of his acting. As "Lieut. Cox" he succeeded in deceiving many people at Magnolia and Gloucester, and he was a guest of one of the summer colony at the former place one day last week. He pretended to be sent to this section to look out for the "Frolic" and her load of Chinamen.

The two Manchester delegates, Jas. F. Shaw and Walter R. Bell and Geo. S. Sinnicks, Saml. L. Wheaton, Wm. W. Hoare and Geo. E. Willmonton attended the Congressional convention in Ipswich last Saturday which nominated A. P. Gardner for congress for his third term.

"The Student King."

The Boston public evidently likes "The Student King," the new light opera at the Tremont Theatre, which is now closing the second week of a highly successful four weeks' engagement. It is some time since the music lovers of Boston have been so unanimous in their praise of a new composition as has been the case of Reginald DeKoven's score for this delightful romantic opera. Hailed as the most pretentious production in this line in a long time, it has been drawing large audiences, and has been received with unbounded enthusiasm. One of the pleasant surprises of the cast has been Miss Lina Abarbanell, the grand opera singer, who has forsaken the grand for the lyric field. Alexander Clark, too well known in Boston to require commendation, has scored the success of his career as King Rudolph, the leading comedy character. Others of note in the company are Miss Flavia Arcaro, Miss Alice Judson, William C. Weedon and Gus Von Seyffertitz.

"The Social Whirl."

At the Boston Theatre, for two weeks, beginning next Monday evening, and including Wednesday and Saturday matinees, Messrs. Sam S. and Lee Shubert will offer their big New York Casino success, "The Social Whirl," a musical comedy that has been playing to immense business throughout the entire spring and summer at the Casino, coming to Boston with the original cast and production. The cast will include all the New York Casino favorites who helped to drive dull care away from the sweltering New Yorkers all summer.

The musical construction of the piece is of the strictly metropolitan style, with plenty of dash and character to liven the melodies. Among the song hits are "Bill Simmons" or "I Can't Keep Still When the Music Plays," sung with an original character dance that never fails to set the house keeping time with the singer; "A Rainy Day," sung by eight shopping girls and eight little boot-blacks, while going through the business of shining shoes; "You're Just the Girl I'm Looking For," with chorus and full light effects, and a musical number, "Just Kids," which combines a series of song sketches and dances.

The chorus is described as a strictly "Metropolitan aggregation of the prettiest girls and most graceful men obtainable."

OPEN CAMP-FIRE

Senator Schofield of Ipswich one of the Speakers at Enthusiastic Meeting of Camp 149, Manchester — Chief T. O. D. Urquhart also here

An enthusiastic open campfire was held at Grand Army hall Tuesday evening under the auspices of Col. H.P. Woodbury camp 149, S. of V., to which were present as invited guests members of the G.A.R. and associates and "eligible" sons and grandsons of veterans. The meeting was one in a series being held all over the State under the order of Com. Penny to get renewed life into the order and to gain new recruits.

Senator George A. Schofield of Ipswich was one of the speakers, his remarks being of a patriotic nature. He went into the history of the famous Bounty Bill in detail, but other than this his remarks had nothing of a political reference.

Chief T. O. D. Urquhart of Arlington, formerly of Manchester, Hon. Geo. F. Jackson of Lynn, Com. E. P. Stanley of Post 67, Div. Com. Walter Penny of Lynn, and the Division Secretary also of Lynn, were other speakers. A collation was served after the meeting.

Chairman Henry McCullom of the committee called the meeting to order and introduced Rev. E. Hersey Brewster as the toastmaster. After a few introductory remarks, Chief Urquhart was introduced as "a man who does things as well as says things."

Mr. Urquhart said it gave him great pleasure to be present, and to bring the greetings of the Division Commander. He told the aims and objects of the order, and reviewed the steps leading up to the Civil War, and told of the hardships endured by our fathers during that struggle.

"Only a few came back," he said, "and each year we see faces missing

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Manchester Town Hall Well Filled Last Evening. Cong. Gardner Denies Charges Made by Opponent

The first rally held in Manchester for a number of years was that of last night, when Congressman Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton and a few other prominent men came to town in the interests of the Republican cause in general and Cong. Gardner in particular.

Captain Gardner has represented this district in the House of Representatives at Washington for the past two terms (four years). He is the choice of the Republican party for a third term. Senator Geo. A. Schofield of Ipswich, who defeated Jas. F. Shaw of Manchester last year for the state senate, is his opponent, and despite the fact he is the Democratic nominee, he is looked upon as a strong candidate.

MANCHESTER

Deacon and Mrs. Jos. A. Torrey have been spending the week in Andover, Mass.

Chief of Police T. O. D. Urquhart of Arlington, formerly of Manchester, was in town Tuesday evening, and was one of the speakers at the S. of V. open meeting.

James F. Shaw has been in Columbus, O., this week attending a convention of street railroad men.

A son arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Reilly, Lincoln street, Monday, Oct. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. James Beaton have had as their guest the past week the former's sister, Mrs. Randolph Jeffrey and daughter Flora from the Provinces, and also Miss Annie Beaton and Clyde Grey of Gloucester.

Sergt. Leonard Andrews is enjoying a ten days' respite from his duties on the night police force.

Secretary Henry Israel of the Essex County branch, Phi Alpha Pi, was present at the meeting of the local order last Friday evening, and presented a schedule of work for the winter.

At the probate court in Salem, Monday, an inventory on the estate of the late Nathaniel P. Sanborn, $5549.34, was filed.

Edward Semons and M. E. Gorman started Monday morning for a trip over the road to Maine, where Mr. Semons has been spending the week at Wells.

Miss Effie Stidstone was at Beverly over Sunday, a guest of Mrs. Samuel McKinnon.

Jeffrey T. Stanley and Wm. W. Hoare have been appointed on the representative district committee, and not E. P. Stanley as stated last week.

Mrs. Samuel S. Peabody returned from a visit to Salem Wednesday.

George Gardner, head meat cutter at Sheldon's Market this season, and Mrs. Gardner, have returned to Boston this week for the winter.

William Johnson of Cambridge, a clerk at the Boston postoffice, was in town the first of the week visiting relatives.

John McKinnon, an employe of R. C. Hooper's, met with an accident while at work recently. He was carrying a large hod of ashes on his back, when in some manner he lost his grip. The load struck him on the back and in falling cut a ragged gash in his back, requiring four stitches to be taken by Dr. Blaisdell, who attended him.

Miss Lena Jones, who is now teaching at North Andover, was home over Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Dillon is enjoying a few days' respite from her duties at Tappan's, which she is spending with her brother and sisters in Roxbury.

Edward S. Bradley has bought the launch Ruth from Harry S. Tappan, who will have a new boat for next season.

Mrs. William Reedy and daughter Elsie of Ipswich were visiting at Israel Martin's, Summer street, the first of the week.

The book on the gold ring, which was presented to Allen Relief Corps by Daniel Low Co. of Salem, has been closed. Orvill Lane of Annisquam is the winner.

Lost $300; Her Entire Savings.

A nursery maid employed at Dr. James M. Jackson's, Beverly Farms, lost a hand bag last Monday morning, somewhere between the Beverly Farms and Salem stations. In the bag was some $300. The loss was felt considerably by the girl, as it represented her entire savings since she has been in this country, which has been only a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. McKean went over to New York Tuesday for the week, accompanied by the guest, Miss Lillian Potter, who has returned to Philadelphia.

Henry P. King left Pride's Crossing Tuesday for his camp in New Brunswick, where he will spend a few weeks hunting. Mrs. King went on the same day to Wilton, N.H., to visit her son, who is there for his health.

The Harcourt Amorys are leaving Pride's Crossing today for their town home. George Lee and family will close their Beverly Farms villa Monday and return to Brookline.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Arthur Pierce went to Philadelphia this week to attend a wedding. They are leaving the North Shore next week for their St. Louis home.

The Francis L. Higginsons are among the week's departures from Pride's Crossing. They closed their cottage yesterday.

Mrs. John B. Silsbee and sons, Arthur B. and Thomas, and Miss Martha Silsbee closed their places at Beverly Cove Thursday and returned to town for the winter.

Senator W. Murray Crane has given out the contract for a new residence in Dalton to cost $30,000.

The A. S. Covels were among this week's departures from Magnolia. Mrs. Annie Wilshire and family, who have been at the Underbrush cottage this season, left Monday and will spend some time in travel before returning to their Philadelphia home. Dr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Morrill closed their cottage and returned to town.

At the seventh annual horse show of the Middlesex Hunt club held last Saturday at the kennels at South Lincoln, the president's cup was won for the third successive year by A. Henry Higginson, M. F. H., and it becomes his property. In addition to winning the cup, Mr. Higginson also secured first honors in the classes for light-weight hunters, thoroughbreds shown in racing colors, heavy-weight hunters and thoroughbred hunters. He also won second in the classes for light-weight hunters, farm teams, ladies' saddle horses and thoroughbred hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Monks of Boston have come down to their cottage at Manchester Cove this week for a fortnight or more. The E. B. Hills, who have been occupying it this summer, returned to town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Plant returned last Sunday from a few weeks' hunting trip at their camp in Canada. They expect to leave Manchester next week and return to town for the winter. Mrs. Plant, by the way, is very fond of hunting, and she usually accompanies her husband on his trips to the woods. She brought down a number of small game during her last trip.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Allen left Thursday for a visit of a week or more with relatives in Melrose, Newton and other points in the vicinity of Boston.

James Austin and family have moved into the Corliss house, School street, this week just vacated by Miss Warner.

G. H. Watson and family have moved to Watertown this week. He has been the North Shore agent of Lewando's and he goes to Watertown to keep his connection with the concern, the Newton district having been assigned to him. Miss Nancy Hoyt, who has been making her home with her neice, Mrs. Watson, will live for the present at A. H. Crowell's.

William J. and Edmund Lethbridge went to Providence, R. I., yesterday for a short visit.

Mrs. John Collins left here Tuesday for a visit with her brother in Newburyport.

Miss Jane Kendall, formerly of the High school teaching force, was a guest over the week-end of Mrs. John W. Campbell.

Mrs. Ernest Mead (Etta Woodbury) of Wellesley Farms was in town Thursday for a short visit with her sister and mother. Last week Mrs. Mead had quite an experience with a thief, which was not straightened out until a detective was called in. She had left her diamond engagement ring in the kitchen and discovered the fact a few minutes after. She returned to the room, but no trace of the ring could be found. Nobody had been in the house except the servant and her sister, and they joined in the search. When the ring did not turn up, the incident assumed somewhat of a mystery. The servant's sister was to be married the next night and the detective who was called in the case, after receiving her denial of the theft, informed her unless the ring was found she would not be married, whereupon she produced the lost object. She was let go without being arrested.

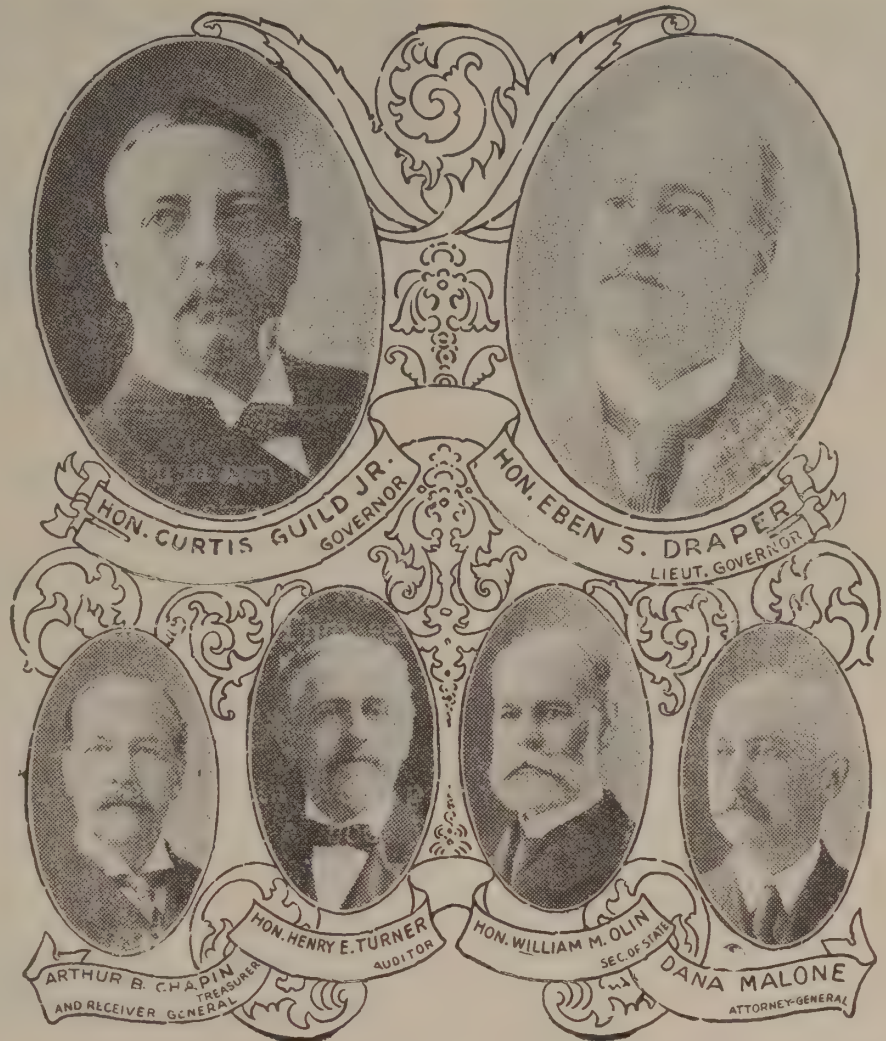

David Driver Allen

David Driver Allen, a native of Manchester, passed away in West Medway, Monday, at the age of 64 years, and his body was brought here for burial Wednesday, services being held in the Crowell Memorial chapel.

He was a son of Israel Allen, one of the "forty-niners," and who died in California. For the past six years he has been in ill health, resulting from a paretic shock. The last two months he has been entirely helpless. He leaves a widow, one son and a sister, Mary Brown Allen of Salem.

Burial was in the Allen family lot in Union cemetery, School street.

Novel Point of Law to be Raised as a Result of the Will of the Late Daniel W. Friend of Manchester

Sidney Perley, Esq., of Salem, is to bring a suit in equity in the probate court, which will raise the novel point of law as to whether money can be left in trust in perpetuity to a political party or not.

Under the law it is not possible to create a trust in perpetuity for an individual, but such a trust can be created for religious, charitable and philanthropic objects.

The present action is brought on the will of the late Daniel W. Friend, of Manchester, who left an estate of about $8000, and whose will bequeathes $2000 in trust forever, the income to be paid annually to the treasurer of the prohibition party of Massachusetts, or if such party should not exist—to the political party doing most for the suppression of the evil of drink.

Mr. Friend was well known throughout the state as a temperance advocate, both politically and otherwise, and such a provision was no surprise to his friends, but his executor, Julius F. Rabardy, of Manchester, another earnest temperance man, finds that there is likely to be some opposition to this disposition of the property from the heirs and so asks the court to determine if this trust can legally be created.

In behalf of the will it will be claimed that the object is clearly the promotion of the temperance cause and as such the bequest will fall into the class for philanthropic purposes.

The decision will establish a precedent in this state, where the point has never before been raised.

OPEN CAMP-FIRE

from the ranks. We see it every Memorial Day. Each year adds new cares and burdens, and it falls on you to lend your shoulder for their support. My sons, what have you done? We want you, and the old veterans want you to join the order." He read the principles and objects of the order of S. of V. from the constitution.

Hon. Geo. F. Jackson of Lynn, said he had been connected with the order for 20 years. "If we all did what we ought to do," he said, "we would get results. Our field is three times as great as the G.A.R. We Sons of Veterans are inclined to be lukewarm in our endeavors. The G.A.R. as a whole do not take the interest they should; they are hard to arouse to the importance of perpetuating the order founded on the same principles as theirs is. We can show how earnest we are to help out these men in their declining years. I have heard camp 149 was a banner camp, and felt like it was bringing coals to Newcastle to come here. It would be well to remember that while other fraternal orders stand for fellowship, sociability, etc., this order stands for principles."

Com. E. P. Stanley of Post 67, said he did not have as much experience in the army as many others from here, but what he did have was short and sweet. "We old boys need the work of the S. of V. If we understand the principles of the order rightly we do need your assistance. Every year your work ought to increase, while ours must decrease. We cannot perform the duties which we have performed the past forty years. When we bury a comrade it is hard at times to muster as much help as we would like, and there will be occasions when you will have to help us. I assure you there is much you can do that you haven't done. When you realize that fact you will be ready to take hold. There are many outside the order that are eligible, but are not interested, for many reasons. Sons of Veterans, you must make some sacrifice in order to do the work; if you are not ready to make some sacrifice you are not doing your duty. The women are at the bottom of patriotism and loyalty. You may learn a little at school, but you learn most of it at home."

Senator Schofield was given a great ovation when he arose to speak. He spoke of the standing of the S. of V. as an order. He was of the opinion the order started a little too early, but he thought the object,—perpetuating the memories of our fathers,—a most worthy one. Many got the idea that the sons sought to claim credit for the work of their fathers. This had a tendency to keep some of the more thoughtful ones out of the order. But that idea has been outgrown. Time has brought out the real object of the order. I feel and believe the time is coming when every eligible son of a veteran will be looking over the role so that he can be enrolled as a son of one of the boys of '61."

He spoke of Memorial Day and its influence upon the foreigners who came here. He also gave a complete history of the Bounty Bill, reviewing its course at the State House and setting forth the cause of its defeat, all of which has been fully set forth in the daily papers. He closed this part of his remarks by saying: "Is it going down in history that in Massachusetts it has been decided it is unconstitutional to recognize the value of men who gave their lives to save the constitution? I hope when the opportunity comes, men of this camp and post will make a fight for this principle."

Div. Com. Walter Penny, who arrived a little late, also made an enthusiastic speech as to the building up of the order, showing the necessity of such a move, and he was followed by the Division Secretary, who spoke of the growth of the order the past year and the need of even greater activity.

STOPPING THE PAPER

"I've stopped my paper, yes, I have;
I didn't like to do it,
But the editor got too smart
And I allow he'll rue it.
I'm a man as pays my debts
An' I won't be insulted,
So when an editor gets smart
I want to be consulted.
I took his paper 'leven years,
An' helped him all I could, sir,
An' when it comes to dunnin' me,
I didn't think he would, sir;
But that he did, an' you can bet
It made me hot as thunder
Says I, I'll stop that sheet, I will
If the cussed thing goes under!
I hunted up the measly whelp,
And for his cunnin' caper

WHISPERINGS

It is beginning to be whispered about town that one or two of our native citizens will shortly celebrate the anniversary of their respective weddings. We find upon inspection of the town records, where returns are required to be made of such matters that Mrs. D. B. Kimball, a native of Manchester, now residing in Salem, was married on the 30th day of October, 1856, and the same records show that her daughter, Hattie Lee, now Mrs. Walter L. Harris, was married Oct. 30, 1901. If these things are so,

REPUBLICAN RALLY IN MANCHESTER

With Capt. Gardner there were also U.S. Asst. Dist. Att'y Guy A. Ham of Boston, one of the brightest young politicians in the state, and Captain Edward J. Horton of Gloucester, who last night made his debut as a stump speaker.

On the platform, beside the speakers, were Chairman J. T. Stanley and Secretary Wm. W. Hoare of the town committee, the former presiding. The Manchester Brass Band occupied a position on the stage behind the speakers. From 7.30 to 8 o'clock the band gave a concert on the common.

There was a sprinkling of ladies in the hall—21, to be exact. The speakers were well applauded during the course of their remarks, and as Cong. Gardner entered the hall, a little after nine, having come from a rally in Essex, he was given a rousing cheer, led by Capt. Horton.

"I have got a pretty active kind of an opponent," said Cong. Gardner in opening, "a man who gets around a good deal, and who has gobbled up many good people in his course.

"There are possibly some in this hall who are going to vote for John B. Moran so as to see what he is going to do. Let me tell you he can't do much in the way of legislation; that is done by the representatives and senators. He may forbid legislation but he cannot start any. He can make appointments, he appoints all the heads of commissions. Would your savings in the banks be safer in the hands of savings bank commissioners appointed by the ring surrounding Moran than by Curtis Guild?"

He spoke a good word for Lieut. Gov. Draper, whom he characterized as "an honest, fair-minded, liberal gentleman."

"The works in which he is extensively interested are the sole industry of the town of Hopedale," he said. "Recently we have seen resolutions condemning him because of the 'atrocious' conditions in that town and in his works. He has been pictured as a slave driver and as an oppressor of mankind. There is just one answer to this and that is that last year on

Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Harris will, in all probability, have an opportunity of celebrating the 50th and 5th anniversary of their respective marriages. It will certainly be hoped if not expected by their friends that an opportunity will be afforded to call and express their respect and regard for mother and daughter, to say nothing of their respective husbands.

We find, in looking over the files of a Gloucester paper printed in 1877, in connection with this subject, that on Aug. 18 of that year, Mrs. Kimball's father and mother celebrated their golden wedding, and in the account of it the correspondent mentioned the fact that in years prior to that her grandmother and her great-grandmother each celebrated their golden weddings.

These latter statements are not mere whisperings, but historical facts, or events, which makes the coming anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Kimball a very rare event; and it is certainly to be hoped that their friends will be granted an opportunity to greet them on that day. It will not be forgotten that both of them have in years past occupied more or less prominent positions in church and town matters to the acceptance and satisfaction of the community.

For some weeks Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lane of Manchester have been wondering why they have received no tax bill. On Monday of this week the mystery was explained when the bill reached them via the Langham Hotel, Paris. They will keep the envelope in which it came as a remembrance of the gentleman who so kindly returned the bill to "Etats Unis d'Amerique."

* * * *

To mention bathing at Singing Beach, Manchester, this time of the year is apt to send the cold shivers chasing up and down the spines of our readers. Yet it must be related that a week ago yesterday, with the temperature of the water 49, Officer J. W. Lee and John Doyle, the latter one of the boys at the Essex County club, took their final plunge of the season. Monday of this week Caretaker Arthur McCormack of the beach, and P. J. Kelleher had a swim with the water at 56 degrees. The many people who have enjoyed the privilege of a free bathhouse, provided by the town for the past year or two, speak very laudatory of this arrangement, and it would not be a bad move on the part of the Park Commissioners to go into this a little more another season, as the houses have been very largely patronized the past year. There was an average of 115 using the town bath houses during July and August.

election day he carried the town of Hopedale with a secret Australian ballot by the astounding vote of 417 to 43. That shows what his workmen think of Eben Draper."

The "wave of radicalism" now sweeping over the country, championed by Hearst in New York, and Moran in Massachusetts, the speaker compared to the condition of affairs in 1892.

"Every wheel was turning as it is today," he said. "Labor was profitably employed, as it is today. As they do today, Democratic and so-called independent orators implored the people to drop the substance of prosperity and grasp at the shadow of the impossible. As they do today the Democratic orators promised the people three meals a day squarer and more bountiful than they could eat. People were told, as they are today, that by some strange magic everything that the laborer bought would be cheaper and that everything he made would remain at the same price. Wages were to remain high but the price of what wages produced was to drop. Of course, it was impossible; but the people unfortunately believed the soothsayers, and put the Democrats and reformers in power.

"The moment the act was done the people repented; but it was too late. Before the Wilson Bill reforming the tariff was even passed, the very men who had voted for the change were up in protest." He read a clipping from the Boston Post of Jan. 4, 1894, in support of this statement.

"But the Democrats, Independents, reformers, all the men who were going to rise above party, got together and passed the bill. Where were the three square meals a day after that? Many a man had to take an occasional meal in the soup house, or none at all.

"'Oh, yes,' says the cheerful Democracy, 'but we shall be different this time. We shall see that an improper tariff bill is properly amended.' For that matter they amended the Wilson Bill in 1894.

"There is just one way in which we can judge of the future, and that is by the past. The lamp of experience alone lights our path. I say to you that a Democratic House very soon brings with it a Democratic President, a Democratic Senate and then a Democratic deluge like that of 1894."

The speaker denied the charges made by Mr. Schofield relative to his labor record. Said he:

"In the last number of the Ipswich Chronicle, my opponent has done me the honor of putting into my mouth certain words which I quoted from President Roosevelt in Salem the other night. Unintentionally, of course, but carelessly, he fails to credit those words

DEMOCRATIC RALLY IN MANCHESTER

NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

A Democratic rally is to be held in Manchester next week, and though definite arrangements had not been made at 10 o'clock this morning, Senator Schofield said the rally would be held, probably on Tuesday night. He to their true source, and proceeds to attack them as if they were mine. Now, Mr. Editor, don't turn around to ask me if I disagree with President Roosevelt. I am a follower of President Roosevelt except in the matter of spelling.

"He then proceeds to make this statement: 'He (Gardner) was against legislation fixing the hours of labor this year in Congress.' Without going into a discussion of the questions involved, I respectfully deny this and invite him to make good his words. The only vote which I have cast in my four years service relative to this question that has been criticised is my vote to exempt foreigners working on the Panama Canal from the operation of our national eight hour law. Quoting President Roosevelt in Salem, I gave his reasons for desiring the legislation. My opponent puts those reasons into my mouth instead of crediting them to our chief magistrate whom I quoted."

"I believe I was sent to Congress to vote according to my judgment," he went on to say, "and not to vote for any particular class or clique of men. If I can't go to Congress to use my own judgment, I won't go at all."

"I seriously object to any man saying I am not to be trusted to vote when my dividends are concerned. I have been charged with about everything but I have not been charged as a crook.

"All I ask of my opponent is to sing out anything he has to say to me now, when I have time to answer it and explain myself. When I am wrong he can show me up. What I want is a little more care. I know he don't want to be wrong and mislead the people. That is all right when running for the Common Council, but it is a pretty serious affair to say such things against a man who represents 200,000 persons.

"So long as I accept a Republican nomination, so long as I ask Republicans to help me, I'll act on party measures with my party, and when I get ready to act independent on party questions, I'll no longer run as a Republican or a Democrat, but I'll run as an Independent."

The first speaker of the evening was Guy A. Ham of Boston. Mr. Ham is a forceful speaker, and was is to speak at Beverly that night, and will come to Manchester from there. The other speakers will be Frank Richardson of Essex, and Rev. A. A. Berle of Salem.

quite oratorical at times. He said in part:

"This is a national election and is always looked upon as a test of strength of the national administration. You are asked to judge the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. The Democratic candidate for governor declared this was not a national election, yet no criticism of this is in his platform.

"The Republican party is not obliged to turn to the records of the past alone and refer to it to show what will happen in future. We have come to understand that as times have changed the issues have changed. The mission of the Republican party today is to bring industrial freedom so that every man may have a fair and square deal. Should you elect a Democratic congress to go to Washington what would it mean to the people throughout the country? It would mean a repetition of those conditions of 1892.

"What caused those unhappy conditions? The issue would be entire revision of the tariff, and in consequence of it the manufacturer would at once begin to curtail his commodities, the business man would commence to curtail his purchases, and in consequence capital would lie idle and labor be unemployed. And I ask you, is not this logic, 'Let well enough alone?'"

He spoke of the "gentleman who recently received the Democratic nomination as governor, and was given the prohibition nomination as a chaser."

Capt. Edw. J. Horton of Gloucester was given three cheers when called upon. His talk was upon tariff, which he said was the greatest issue confronting the country since the days of slavery. He reviewed the history of the tariff down to the present time, concluding by saying "don't take any chances; leave well enough alone."

"Your wife understands what this tariff means better than you do," he said. "She takes you to the kitchen and says, 'there's a Republican: roast beef, sweet potatoes, and all the side dishes.' But under the second administration of Cleveland, if you found the skin of a salt fish to make soup out of you would be doing well."

SCHOOL NOTES

MANCHESTER

Among the pupils who have entered the Price Primary school this week are Margaret O'Brien and George Stragman, Grade III; Samuel Cushing, Grade I; Edward Peters, Kindergarten.

Wild violets growing out of doors is something unusual for this time of the year, and something any little girl would be glad to find. Yet this pleasure was awarded little Miss Marion Crombie one day this week, when she picked a violet on the lawn in front of the Price Primary school, presenting her find to her teacher, Miss Leonard.

The pupils of the Priest school are taking much interest in Sloyd work this year. There are now 124 boys in grades IV to IX who are taking the work as a part of their regular school schedule. A jig-saw, run by foot power, has just been added to the equipment of the school.

A Tiffany "Industrial Nature Cabinet" has recently been installed in the G. A. Priest school for the use of the pupils, its purpose being to serve as a dictionary and cyclopedia for the children.

The school orchestra so successfully organized by Mr. Mead at the Priest school last year is continued this year and is made up as follows: Gladys and Horace Temple, piano; Rufus Long, triangle; Lester Page, drum.

Grade VIII leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being 97.85. The attendance of the other grades follows: II, 97.20; IX, 96.25; VI, 96.11; I, 95.16; IV, 95.16; VII, 95.03; V, 94.65; III, 93.49.

Of the North Shore contain many fine trees. Perhaps you have trees of different sizes from the saplings to the towering veterans. If you want your large trees to live to old, old age like the famous oaks of old England, take care of them. When the moth pests have been attended to, have the dead limbs removed while sound and the wound tarred over, instead of leaving the limb to rot off and to continue to rot extending the decay into the heart of the tree, making a hollow tree. When a tree becomes hollow, its life is of course much shortened.

Publicover Bros., of Beverly Farms, have the contract for building a dairy room to the John Caswell house at Pride's Crossing. The room is to have all the latest and most sanitary equipment, including glazed tile floor and walls, porcelain plumbing, plate glass shelves, large ice chest, steam heat, etc. There are now six cows at the Caswell farm, and it is understood more will be purchased, and all the butter and other dairy products for the Caswell house will be made there.

Mrs. William Rissen of Dublin Shore, N.S., is visiting Mrs. W. B. Publicover.

Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley, Lewis Hardy and Mrs. Hardy returned Wednesday from their vacation spent mostly at North Conway, N.H., from where they made side trips to points of interest in that vicinity. While at the Fabyans a good-sized snow blizzard was encountered.

Miss Alice Witham, the popular assistant at the post-office, is taking a few days vacation and Miss Edith Elliott continues at the office until Miss Witham's return.

Mrs. Houghton of Liberty, N.Y., has been visiting the Farms this week, and was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Connolly of Oak street.

The prizes for yard improvement, offered the School children by the Beverly Improvement society, have been awarded this week. In the Farms district the excellent and painstaking work received just merit in the following awards: George W. Metcalf, 6 Pickett court, first prize; Nora E. Murray, 33 Hart street, 2d; Gordon Smith, 10 Oak street, 3d.

The rooms in the Ober cottage opposite the depot, used by the German Embassy for an office, were made vacant the first of the week, when the German officials returned to Washington.

Chas. Baxter, chauffeur for Henry P. King, left on Thursday for a two weeks' hunting trip in the New Hampshire woods.

Lawrence Diggins, the proprietor of the Beverly Farms House, and Edward M. Gann, expect to start next Thursday for a two weeks vacation trip to Port Mulgrave, Guysboro, Sydney, and various points in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, where they have relatives and friends.

Thomas Langdon, chauffeur for A. G. Hodges, who has made many friends at the Farms during the past few months, has concluded his stay at the North Shore, going over the road to New York in the machine on Wednesday.

The last float and the runway connecting same to the West Beach pier was taken up by Supt. Neville on Monday last for the winter. The steps on the side of the pier will be kept in position, giving those who now use the pier about all the facilities necessary.

Mrs. Peter Ward of Everett street arrived home Tuesday from a two weeks' visit among relatives and friends in New York city and Mendum, N.J.

Howard P. Williams, a popular young man of the Farms, employed by Publicover Bros. on the new McDonnell house, corner of Hale street and Elliott avenue, on Tuesday morning fell from a staging, receiving a ragged cut on the head, his left wrist broken and arm injured, and badly shaken up. He was taken to the Beverly Hospital for treatment and is at the present writing, under the circumstances, quite comfortable.

MAGNOLIA

The Magnolia Choral society is to have its first meeting next Tuesday. It is to be under the direction of Arthur S. Wonson of Gloucester as last year. A large attendance is expected.

Berthold Andslee, the architect for the E. M. Skinner Organ Co., was in town Wednesday taking measurements for the addition to the village church which the new pipe organ renders necessary.

Miss Ethel H. Bardwell, of Greenfield is spending a week or more at the Stanley cottage. Miss Bardwell was the matron of the Women's Club during the summer of 1905.

The Essex South Conference of Congregational churches was held with the First church of Lynn, Wednesday afternoon and evening. The village church was represented by the pastor, Mrs. Eldridge Foster, Mrs. Thomas Abbott and Miss Amy Lycett.

Mrs. Timothy McCarthy was in Newton Centre Wednesday visiting her daughter Nora, who is reported as slowly improving in health.

The children who attend school in this town were given a holiday yesterday. The teachers attended the convention at Gloucester.

The schedule for the library has now changed. The library will be opened every Saturday afternoon from 2 till 9 p.m. It has been open all summer every morning from 9 to 12.

Mr. Gallaudet of New York is visiting Mr. Clossom, the artist.

The Jonathan May family and the Frank Story family are at Conomopt, West Gloucester, to camp out during this month.

Mrs. Edward Ricker and Master Edward Tarr of Gloucester spent the early part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown.

George Upton is back again after having been on a month's vacation, spent in different parts of the country.

Mrs. Selfridge has definitely decided to keep the Tea house opened during the coming winter.

Mrs. Frederick Mason of Augusta, Me., is visiting her friend Miss Frances Libby.

Charles Brown entertained a party of brother Elks from Boston Wednesday evening. The first part of the evening they visited the Elks fair at Gloucester. Returning home at 11 o'clock they were served with a chicken supper by Henry Brown.

Harry Lycett left this week for Waltham, where he has a position as clerk in a large grocery store.

Gordon Covel and family, who have been occupying the Frank Story cottage on Summer street, moved back to town Monday.

A large land deal was put through Monday in which 18 acres of land belonging to Mrs. Edward Foster was sold to William H. Coolidge. The land takes in all of the hill back of the Magnolia golf links besides a large part of the golf links. It was a private sale.

A GROUP OF PRIMA DONNAS IN THE JAPANESE OPERA "MADAM BUTTERFLY," AT TREMONT THEATRE, BOSTON, COMMENCING OCT. 29.

"The Student King's" Last Week

At the Tremont Theatre next Monday night "The Student King" will enter upon the fourth and last week of its engagement. The opera is in three acts, and each setting is a marvel of beauty. The costumes, too, are nothing if not artistically handsome. A feature of the production is the chorus, both male and female. The male chorus is remarkably large in number, more than two dozen voices. The female chorus is made up of a large number of very pretty girls, who sing as effectively as they are good to look upon. The prima donna, Mme. Lina Abarbanell, comes from the grand opera stage and possesses a voice of superb quality. Alexander Clark is the comedian, William Weedon the tenor, and Miss Flavia Arcaro the contralto and comedienne.

The BREEZE sent by mail to any part of the U.S.—1 year 1 dollar. *

"The Social Whirl" Better than Ever

"The Social Whirl," which opened at the Boston Theatre on Monday night, proved a whirl of pleasure and merriment. "Better than a year ago" was the verdict of the audience that filled the theatre and found many standing. When "The Social Whirl" was presented in Boston a year ago it met with instant success. The experience of last season was such that few changes were found to be necessary. A few new songs have been added. Throughout the piece there is lively action from beginning to end, absurd situations and no end of rounds of laughter-provoking dialogue and songs.

It seems unfortunate that but one week more can be allotted to "The Social Whirl," as it could easily play to crowded houses at the Boston Theatre for some time to come, but next week will be the last.

There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Taylor—Lucas.

Roy Emerson Taylor of Manchester Cove and Miss Lila Dawson Lucas of Essex, formerly of Manchester Cove, were united in marriage last Friday evening at Gloucester by the Rev. Dr. Rider. The young couple will probably occupy Mr. Taylor's house on Forest street, Manchester.

Church Notes

A number of people in Manchester and vicinity have received a copy of the endless prayer, purported to have started from Bishop Lawrence, who has publicly declared it false, and Rev. E. H. Brewster denounced it at the prayer service Tuesday night. The letter is as follows:

"I am in receipt of an endless prayer chain and want you to become one of the links.

"Oh, Lord Jesus Christ, we implore thee, O Eternal God, do have mercy on mankind. Keep us from sin by thy precious blood and take us to be with thee eternally."

"Above prayer was sent by Bishop Lawrence recommending it be written and sent to nine others. It is said who will say it will not be afflicted by any misfortune. One person who did not pay any attention to it met with a terrible accident. He who will rewrite this prayer and distribute it to nine others, commencing the day it is received will on or after the 9th day experience a great joy. At Jerusalem after the Holy Feast it was said, He who will rewrite this prayer will be delivered from all calamity."

Elmer J. Morgan.

Elmer J. Morgan, a native of Manchester, passed away a week ago Thursday at his late home in Boston, and his body was brought to Manchester last Saturday for burial. He was about 44 years old, and death resulted after a six months' illness with consumption. Only a few days prior to his death Mr. Morgan was in Manchester.

He was a son of Daniel W. Morgan, who survives him. His mother was Joanna R. Jewett, a sister of George W. and Alfred S. Jewett of Manchester. He is survived by a wife, whom he married a year ago last July, a brother, Clarence W. Morgan of Manchester, and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Collins of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held at the Crowell Memorial chapel last Saturday afternoon, the Rev. E. Hersey Brewster officiating. Burial was in the Jewett lot, in Rosedale cemetery.

94 Years Old.

Manchester's oldest resident, Mrs. Abigail Lennen, Tuesday observed her 94th anniversary at the home of her son-in-law, Thomas W. Long on Bridge street. For some time Mrs. Lennen has been in poor health, but up to her recent illness was able to attend to her household duties and took an active interest in the affairs of the day. She was born in Manchester in 1812, and has spent nearly all her life there. Her husband was lost while on a fishing trip off the Great Banks over half a century ago. Many called to see her and to extend congratulations on the passing of another milestone in life's journey.

Society Notes

Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, made a short visit to the North Shore this week, being a week-end guest of Prof. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond at their delightful estate at Fresh Water Cove. The distinguished visitor came to Manchester on an afternoon train Saturday and was met there by one of Mr. Hammond's large touring cars.

H. H. Pierce, the photographer, who has been at Manchester this summer, will come to the North Shore all the fall by appointment which may be made at his office in the Postoffice building, Manchester.

Miss Harriott S. Curtis of Manchester, a member of the Essex County club, is the champion woman golfer of the United States, and the club she represents is holder for the year of the Robert Cox cup, emblematic of that honor. Miss Curtis gained the distinction of champion last Saturday in the finals at the Brae-Burn golf links, defeating Miss Mary B. Adams of Wollaston, 2 up and 1 to play. They had won their way to the finals from a large field of players from all over the country, that had played all the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Crocker and family of Cambridge, who have had the Cobb cottage on Masconomo street, Manchester, again the past season, returned to town Wednesday.

The William A. Tuckers of Norton's Point, Manchester, were among Thursday's departures. Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tucker are spending the winter at Chestnut Hill.

James Lewis is the new manager at the Swift-Moor farm, taking the place of William Wakefield, who has resigned. Mr. Wakefield has gone to Gloucester, where he has purchased a farm.

John Daniels and Miss Barbara Daniels attended the dog show in Allston Monday, Mr. Daniels having entered his two prize winning French bull dogs in the show. The father of these clever dogs is the champion rip of America.

The Beverly No-License league, which was formed Wednesday evening, have appointed Messrs. John H. Watson, Chas. H. Ham, Benj. O. Edwards, Willis A. Pride and Milton H. Davis to serve as the Ward 6 Executive committee.

John Tully is spending a few days with his family at the Farms before his departure for Germantown, Pa., where he has accepted a position for the winter. Mr. Tully has spent the past summer at Poland Springs, Me.

Messrs. Connolly Bros. have, during the past week, loaded several cars consisting of boilers, engines, steam drills, tree mover, crushing plant, carts and other apparatus, for their use upon the Roger estate at Kennebunkport, Me.

At first sight one's impression is that there is a new tonsorial artist at the Gaudreau barber shop, but the stout, robust figure of Frank is enough to disclose the fact that he has only tried his skill with the razor upon himself, sacrificing for some reason or other, a most luxuriant moustache.

Rep. William R. Brooks has presented a number of Ward 6 citizens, as far as his supply would admit, a copy of the Mass. 1906 Acts and Resolves, an edition highly appreciated by those who received them.

The many friends of Michael J. Connolly of Waltham, and formerly of this place, will be pleased to learn of his general improvement from a severe seige of sickness.

William R. Brooks was drawn as a juryman by the board of aldermen at their last meeting.

Registration for State election closed at City Hall Wednesday evening and shows that Ward 6 has 332 voters which is an increase of only four over 1905.

The G. A. R. and Associates are now holding regular weekly meetings at the G. A. R. hall every Thursday evening.

Frank Stohr, of San Francisco, Cal., was in town on Thursday and Friday, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Connolly. Mr. Stohr was shown a goodly portion of the North Shore, and it is perhaps needless to say that he was delighted with it.

Friday evening proved a pleasant one for the members of John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers and their invited guests from Manchester and Gloucester, the occasion being the installation of officers for the ensuing year. The work was performed by Deputy Supreme Gov. George Parnell and staff of 20 members from the Boston Pilgrim Association. After the exercises a banquet was held and an entertainment given, and the evening will long be remembered by those present as one of the many pleasant events in the history of the order.

Truant Officer Nehemiah Heron has circulated among the Italians employed at the Farms, this week, informing them as to the requirements of the laws relative to schools, and leaving notices of the evening schools at Beverly, which they are invited to take advantage of. The notices are printed in Italian.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY

Manchester Town Hall Held an Enthusiastic Crowd Tuesday Evening When the Democratic Cause Was Espoused — Sen. Schofield, Rev. A. A. Berle and Frank Richardson the Speakers

The increasing interest in the coming election and the vigorous campaign now being waged all over the state, and especially in the Sixth Congressional district, was well emphasized Tuesday night by the large crowd which attended the Democratic rally in the Manchester Town hall. Though the hall was by no means crowded the attendance, if anything, was a little larger than that which was out last Friday night to the Republican rally.

The speakers were Senator George A. Schofield of Ipswich, who is opposing Congressman Gardner of Hamilton, Rev. A. A. Berle of Salem and Frank Richardson of Essex.

Mr. Schofield was the last speaker, not arriving from Beverly, where he had spoken at a rally, until long after 9 o'clock. He spent most of his time in answering the challenge of Gardner to prove his (Schofield's) statements about the congressman.

On the platform beside the speakers were Chairman T. C. Rowe of the Democratic Town Committee, who presided, and the rest of the committee, — James Hoare, C. C. Dodge, Perley Parsons, Curtis Stanley, Chas. Danforth and Clarence Morgan, and Dr. C. L. Hoyt, the latter on the 1907 committee. Rev. E. H. Brewster arrived the latter part of the evening, and would have been one of the speakers if Sen. Schofield hadn't arrived as early as he did.

Rev. A. A. Berle of Salem was the first speaker introduced. Mr. Berle had spoken in Manchester on a former occasion—Memorial Day, 1905, and he referred to this occasion, saying that it was exactly the same spirit of patriotism that brought him here now. "One com-

Her 81st Birthday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Eldridge Tappan observed her 81st birthday Friday, a week ago, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Levi A. Dunn, Central street, Manchester. During the afternoon a number of friends called to express congratulations and in the evening a small party enjoyed an hour or two of music and good fellowship. A collation was served.

Mrs. Tappan is a native of Pride's Crossing, her father being West D. Eldridge of that place. In 1846 she married Henry Story Tappan, moving to Manchester that year. In recent years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Dunn. For many years she has been a member of the Baptist church of this town and though advanced in years she so thoroughly keeps in touch with all the many interests of those about her as to enjoy the friendship not only of her own relatives, but of those who are growing up about her.

AUTUMN REVERIES

BY D. F. LAMSON

The Ironsides were a rough kind of saints, and they did some rough work; but such men are sometimes the only agents that God can use in extirpating abuses and bringing right back to the throne; for some purposes a broad axe is better than a pen knife.

It is a comfort to know as science teaches us that every movement, however eccentric it appears, is under the control of law; that nothing is purposeless, that the tides of immigration, the currents of history, the maelstrom of politics, are all the evolution of a great Plan, that through the ages one increasing purpose runs.

The praise of injudicious friends or people who have an axe to grind is of little worth; self-praise is still more valueless; but a large amount of both is in circulation, and with many it passes as current coin of the realm.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ballou have been entertaining their friend Mrs. Smith of Gloucester all the week.

Charles Brown won a large leather sofa pillow with an elk's head on it at the Elks' fair held at Gloucester last week.

Little Eleanor Ballou was one of the lucky children to receive a present from the Grand Army fair at Gloucester held last week. She won a $5 gold piece by drawing the lucky number on a ticket.

Quite a few of the local men went to Lynn Wednesday night to hear Mr. Moran speak.

The children who attend the local school were given a holiday because of the rain Thursday.

WHISPERINGS

Regular "cow luck" I suppose you would call it! the experience the stableman run against in starting a choice bovine owned by Mrs. H. M. Curry of Magnolia from her North Shore home to Pittsburg, Pa., Monday, when the horses and other creatures were put aboard the special car at the Magnolia station for the long journey. Mrs. Cow objected and escaped, and as a result of her obstinacy the car had to be taken away without her. Having declined this first-class mode of travel preparations were made to have the animal sent by express and accordingly a crate was built in which Mrs. Cow was to be shipped. She was brought to the Manchester station Wednesday afternoon for shipment on the 2.57 train. But, lo! the crate was too large for the door, or the door was too small for the crate (the expressmen haven't yet decided), and the train had to pull out without its burden. Wednesday night the animal was shipped by freight and by this time has probably arrived at her destination in Pittsburg where she will supply milk for the Curry household during the winter months.

The Roadside, Fields and Forests

Of the North Shore contain many fine trees. Perhaps you have trees of different sizes from the saplings to the towering veterans. If you want your large trees to live to old, old age like the famous oaks of old England, take care of them. When the moth pests have been attended to, have the dead limbs removed while sound and the wound tarred over, instead of leaving the limb to rot off and to continue to rot extending the decay into the heart of the tree, making a hollow tree. When a tree becomes hollow, its life is of course much shortened.

WHAT A REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE HAS DONE FOR THE MAN WHO TOILS.

THESE MEASURES HAVE BEEN PASSED BY THE REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE OF 1906, AND SIGNED BY GOV. GUILD.

The eight hour day has been given to men engaged on a contract in which the state or a county is a party.

The employers' liability act has been extended.

Truant officers have been given the power to enter mills and take children out who are employed in violation of the law.

The rapacity of unscrupulous money lenders who would prey upon the wage earner has been curbed by a new law regulating the assignment of wages.

The weekly payment system has been extended, being now well nigh universal.

Free employment bureaus to aid those out of work are to be established.

The educational qualification for minor workers has been raised, thus ensuring to them that education which is the foundation of success in life.

The state board of education is directed to establish an employment bureau for teachers.

The law relative to the support of wives and minor children has been extended and the penalty increased.

Call firemen may be pensioned by cities which desire to take this course.

There are to be more stringent inspections of steam boilers, so that greater safeguards may be thrown about the people working in buildings where boilers are used.

The paramount issue in the election in Massachusetts this year is the honor of the commonwealth. Neither the tariff, nor reciprocity, nor any of the other questions upon which the old parties have differed will be appreciably affected by the result. The thing for the voters to decide is, first of all, whether they will turn the government of the state over to Mr. Moran and his heterogeneous following, and commit this commonwealth to the fallacies and follies, the revolutionary doctrines and dangerous policies, which this movement represents.

There is such a thing as perspective in literature, history and life, as well as in art, failure to observe which results in much confusion, false representations and wrong impressions.

Monadnock, "dark flower of Cheshire garden," dominates a whole county, though it would be dwarfed in the presence of the White Hills or the Rockies. Greatness and eminence depend very much on environment; a man of consequence in a hamlet would cut but a small figure in a city often, many a country pettifogger would bulk small in Congress, and many a village financier would hide his diminished head on Wall street.

Emphasis is something of which many speakers and writers seem to have little idea. They use big words and magniloquent sentences in treating of trivial matters, and so have nothing greater to use when treating of matters of importance. Even Dr. Johnson was not without fault in this matter; Goldsmith said, "you would make your little fishes talk like whales"; a judicious economy in the use of high-sounding words and phrases is always wise.

It is a good thing if a speaker can give an impression of reserved power; if his hearers feel that he might have said something even better than he did say, if he does not unlimber all his guns at once.

What with the social whirl, automobile races, political pool-playing, gambling in stocks, and booming real estate, men seem bound to crowd as much unrest, worry and delirium into life as they can, to get out of it as little solid satisfaction as possible.

From the abstract point of view the constant coinage of new words may be very objectionable, though practically, with the wonderful advancement of the arts and sciences and the incursions into unexplored realms of thought, there seems to be no help for it; but should we therefore condone such barbarisms as the use of motor as a verb, that are being sown like dragon's teeth among us?

One may sup full of horrors if he will from the columns of the sensational press; but there is no need of it, with the wealth of English literature of centuries at command. What is the chaff to the wheat? What are the street runnels and sewers to the well of English unde-filed?

George L. Peabody of Hamilton and Boston has hired the A. G. Thayer estate at West Manchester for the coming year and will move here with his family early next month to spend the winter. Miss Thayer left Manchester last week and is at present in Canada. She goes abroad next spring and will spend the summer in travel.

Mrs. Russell Sturgis and daughter, Miss Lucy Sturgis, have returned from Dublin, N. H., where they spent the summer, and are at their house on Smith's Point, occupied during the summer by the Louis Hills. They will probably spend the winter here again.

The E. D. Jordan cottage at West Manchester was closed the first of the week for the season. Mrs. Jordan and Miss Dorothy Jordan left Sunday for New York, making the trip there over the road by auto. They will spend most of the winter at their home in Boston.

Charles E. Cotting and family have just closed their cottage at West Manchester, returning to town Tuesday. The Edward S. Crews were among the mid-week departures from Manchester.

Through the generosity of T. Jefferson Coolidge of Boston a valuable addition has been made to the White House collection of presidential china, consisting of four pieces of Jefferson ware. These pieces belong to a blue and white dinner set, which President Jefferson ordered in France.—N. Y. Times, Sunday, Oct. 21.

George Lee and family and the George H. Lyman were among the departures from Beverly Farms Monday.

Walton Harrington of New York City was a guest over the week-end of Mrs. Hamilton R. Squier on Cheever Road, Manchester.

Among the departures from Magnolia this week were the H. Staple Potters, who returned to Boston Monday; Mrs. J. Theodore Heard and family, who opened their Louisburg Sq., Boston, house on Thursday; and the George H. Hamiltons.

Frank Northen, who with Mrs. Northen has been spending the past few months at Manchester, with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fitch, left Thursday for England. Mrs. Northen will remain here for some time yet.

The S. Parker Bremers were among this week's departures from Manchester.

Mr. Fish was present and made a few remarks.

The new law, which provides that parents shall be punished because of the misconduct of their children, is just what is needed. Much of the cussedness manifested by children is because of the neglect or evil influences of the home, home training being at a discount. When parents are brought to book because of the acts of their children, it will have an excellent effect. Children are these days allowed to go as they please altogether too much for the well being of society and their own good. The home example goes a great ways with the children. Parents who seem to care nothing about the good breeding of their children are guilty of a great wrong, and it is well that the courts can take measures to bring them to time.

Schofield Endorsed Gardner

When Gardner was running for State Senator.

Schofield said in his newspaper, the Ipswich Chronicle, July 27th, 1899.

"It is quite clear that somebody is trying to give the impression that Mr. Gardner is not popular in his home town, Hamilton. The Chronicle is not interested in this fight as we are known to be on the other side of the political fence, but we are interested in the truth, and feel that simple justice demands that any such insinuation should be promptly shown up.

We have known A. P. Gardner for some time and can say of him just this: he is courteous, generous, able and fair-minded, and the people of Hamilton and Ipswich also, know and appreciate him. He was just the same before he entered politics and he would be the same if he met with political success.

He is not one of the class of rich men whom the laborer need fear, and while we hope that some good Democrat may be the next Senator from this District, if it is to be a Republican, we would rather trust the interests of the laboring man with A. P. Gardner, than with those who are trying to down him."

When Schofield was running for State Senator.

Schofield said at a Rally held in Gloucester in his interest, Nov. 1, '05.

"But I can say a kind word for Congressman Gardner. I think he has shown himself one of the best workers, despite the fact that he is a wealthy man, that Massachusetts has ever had in Congress. In standing by Gloucester the way he has, he has gained the support of Gloucester, and deserves it."

If Mr. Schofield told the people for six years that I was their friend, why does he now tell them that I am their enemy?

The Democratic Rally

All this talk about Congressman Gardner being a "menace" to the "honor and moral interests" of Essex County, unfit to represent the district at Washington and being an enemy to everything favorable to the workman, is tommy-rot.

Rev. A. A. Berle, the Salem clergyman who makes such windy statements ought to be ashamed of himself. Somebody ought to take pity on him and tell him what a huge joke he really is. He was the only blemish on the cleanliness of the rally in Manchester Tuesday night. He is an insult to the voters of this district, Democratic and Republican alike.

If Gardner and his principles are really so bad as Mr. Berle would have us think it is high time to give him the "hook." But, as a matter of fact Mr. Gardner is one of the most efficient men in public life and, as Speaker Cole of Andover says "if the campaign against him is to rest upon such attacks as you (Mr. Berle) are making, it does not seem possible that the intelligent voters of this district will fail in their clear duty to repudiate his traducers at the coming election."

Mr. Schofield is a first-rate kind of a man; he is the kind that makes friends. He has many in Manchester, and not all Democrats either. But it is safe to say he would gain a great many more friends if the Salem parson had less to say in the matter. A little of his talk goes a great way with intelligent Essex County people.

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel only different. When a man goes into a hotel and finds something on the menu which does not suit him, he does not raise his hand with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. Well, hardly. He sets that dish to one side and wades into the many dishes that suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that does not suit them exactly and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make grand stand play and tell the editor how a paper should be run and what should be put into it. But such people are becoming fewer every year.—Winthrop Sun.

COMMUNICATIONS

This Gardner-Schofield Contest.

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

Just a few lines of your valuable space to say a word on this Gardner-Schofield contest. Mr. Schofield and his ministerial following are running up and down this district giving us a post mortem explanation of why and how the soldiers' bounty bill introduced by the senator was unconstitutional; and calling the voters' attention to how very near he came to doing something for the soldier, and incidentally for the people; and when the silver-tongued orator from Ipswich finishes his dissertation on Mr. Gardner's shortcomings on labor votes, etc., (evidently incubated in the "Chronicle" office) Rev. Dr. Berle, the Salem clergyman who is a man of very few words, but who has the habit of repeating himself very often, pours forth a tirade on the corrupt use of money in a contest of years gone by. It strikes me after listening to these gentlemen, that the Doctor would find better occupation in feeding the lambs of his flock in Salem, rather than in larding the sheep of the Republican party on the stump, and that the Senator could accomplish more by telling us of something he has really succeeded in doing, rather than what he has intended to do. We can judge Mr. Gardner's ability by what he has accomplished, and not merely by his intentions. The able work Mr. Gardner has done in Congress is a matter of history, and not of promise; it is a matter of record and not of anticipation. He does not have to come before us explaining why he accomplished nothing. He has no dishonorable or unfulfilled obligation to explain. He comes before the voters with a clear record of duty well performed, a representative of the administration in power, and is in a position to serve this district better than any other man, regardless of his abilities.

A Republican Voter.

Speaker Cole Denies

Statement of Rev. A. A. Berle.

Andover, Mass., Oct. 24, 1906.

Dear Sir:—

My attention is called to an item in this morning's Boston Herald purporting to be a report of your speech in Beverly last evening, in which you say, "Honest John Cole, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, says 'Gardner today is a greater menace to the honor and moral interests of Essex County in public life than any Socialist or Anarchist within her borders.'"

To say that I am surprised at such a statement is but a mild expression, for not only have I never made such a statement as you charge me with, but I have never held any opinion regarding Mr. Gardner's relation to the public service other than that of the highest commendation.

That you, a minister of the Gospel, and a presumed sender of truth, should utter such a malicious falsehood even in the heat of a bitter personal political prejudice, is beyond my comprehension.

I believe that Congressman Gardner is today one of the most efficient men in public life, and if the campaign against him is to rest upon such attacks as you are making, it does not seem possible that the intelligent voters of this district will fail in their clear duty to repudiate his traducers at the coming election.

Copies of this letter are sent to the press at the same time it is sent to you.

Respectfully yours,

John N. Cole,

Mrs. H. W. Clark and daughter, Miss Alice Clark, arrived in New York last Saturday on the Amerika, after spending the summer in Europe, mostly at Leipsic, Germany, the native home of Mrs. Clark, and at other points in Germany. They visited Lucerne, Switzerland, during their first visit and were charmed by the delightful scenery in that country. Before coming to Manchester Tuesday night they spent a few days with Mr. Clark at Southampton, L. I.

Wm. Spinney who was seriously injured some time ago as the result of a runaway accident at West Manchester is able to be about again.

Lester Temple of New Hampshire is the guest of his brother Claude Temple on Bennett street.

Mrs. Lucinda Baker and family leave Tuesday of next week for Boston where Mrs. Baker will conduct a boarding house.

Miss Mary Blagdon of Gloucester, is the guest of Miss Mollie McNeary on Summer street.

Mrs. George Whitman of Beverly spent Thursday and Friday with Miss May Bennett.

Mrs. Emeline Lee of Essex who has been at Wm. C. Rust's for some time, returned to Essex yesterday. She has fully recovered from her injuries.

Miss Nellie Frink has been a guest of Mrs. George Cross, School street, the past week.

WHISPERINGS

Alex. Robertson, I am told, is thinking of giving up the plumbing business and becoming a fisherman. Yesterday morning, ere the shades of night had yet departed, he, with Frank Cheever, Theo. C. Rowe, Lewis Leach and another "smelter," pulled 200 smelt from the water at Knight's wharf. Mr. Robertson took in 60, Mr. Cheever 40, and the others a hundred between the three. This is not mere whisperings, or fish stories, it is gospel truth.

Rep. William R. Brooks went the first of the week to Milton, N.H., for a week or more to visit among relatives.

About 20 members of the local John West Colony Pilgrim Fathers went to Salem Wednesday evening and were the guest of the Francis Higginson colony, at the installation exercises and banquet of the latter colony.

Mrs. Thomas McCarthy and daughter Miss Julia McCarthy have concluded their stay for this season at Beverly Farms, going to their Boston home on Thursday.

It is very likely that, commencing very soon, a series of whist parties and an occasional sociable will be run through the coming winter months, as a joint committee from the Order of Foresters and the Knights of Columbus have the matter in charge and will no doubt soon perfect all arrangements. It will be remembered that this same management conducted the same sort of a thing last winter which was of much pleasure and interest, the popularity resulting in crowded halls each night. The proceeds are to be devoted to a special object in connection with St. Margaret's church.

The fish weir of Capts. J. Frank Blaney and Chas. Jones located off Chubb's Island, is these days doing a rushing business—a catch of 25 to 40 barrels of herring being a common occurrence, and a ready market for same is also another fact to make the above parties happy and also keeps them hustling.

Today Mrs. Herbert L. Betts and two children leave for Bigelow, Me., where they expect to spend the winter. Mr. Betts will shortly leave for England to pay his parents a visit.

The annual inspection of Preston Post 188 will take place at G.A.R. hall on the evening of Nov. 7th by Commander Edwin P. Standley and staff at Allen Post 67, Manchester. The Post cordially invites all members of the G.A.R. associates to be present that evening to take part in the spirit of the occasion following the inspection.

Lawrence Morse of Woonsocket, R.I., has spent a part of this week visiting friends in town.

Plans and specifications are out for the remodeling of the basement of St. Margaret's church, which, if carried out as now intended, will change it into a splendid assembly hall. It is thought that should this improvement be made that it will be used by the male members of the church for the meetings of the various societies connected directly with the church and parish.

Capt. F. P. Gaudreau has carefully packed away in camphor and moth balls his natty yachting cap and suit until the good old summer time comes again, he having been among the last to forsake the briny deep in hauling his trim motor boat this week to winter quarters.

A case of scarlet fever is reported on Hugh street.

Winslow Eaton of Lincoln has been in town several days this week on business and incidentally shaking hands with old acquaintances.

The street department is placing a line of curbing along the street in front of the Baptist church.

Ward 6 politics for city election is somewhat quiet, but after the state election will no doubt be of its usual interest. James B. Dow for alderman and James J. Nugent for the common council are the latest names suggested for political honors.

B. & M. to Reduce Fares.

In accordance with its traditional policy of giving the public every possible facility and advantage consistent with its duty to the owners of the property, the Boston & Maine railroad, on or about the first of January intends making a general reduction in its passenger rates, averaging one-half to one cent per mile.

This sweeping cut will be entirely voluntary. It has been ordered by no court or commission and is not dictated by any political considerations, but is simply a concession on the part of the road to its patrons, which it hopes is warranted by current business conditions.

The Gloucester branch is to benefit by this reduction as much as any other part of the road. The fare from Manchester to Boston, according to the new rate, will be 50 cents instead of 57 cents, and the fare to other points will be reduced correspondingly.

In fact, the patrons who benefit by this particular reduction are numbered by millions, and geographically the section includes the entire state of Massachusetts, as far as it is served by the Boston & Maine, a considerable part of New Hampshire, including all of its more important industrial centres, and a part of New York state.

"Madam Butterfly" Coming.

An announcement of more than passing interest to music lovers is made by Henry W. Savage to the effect that on Monday next, Oct. 29, he will offer the first presentation in English in Boston of Giacomo Puccini's latest work, the beautiful musical setting of John Luther Long's exquisite Japanese tragedy, "Madam Butterfly." The production will be made at the Tremont theatre and the engagement is for only two weeks. The production, cast, chorus and orchestra supplied by Mr. Savage for the American presentation of "Madam Butterfly" are without an equal in the annals of grand opera in English. Mr. Savage's agents have visited the principal European opera houses and engaged no less than three "Butterflies" to sing the exacting role. He has also secured enough English-singing artists to give three complete casts. It is the opinion abroad that no one singer can take the role of Cho-Cho-San in "Madam Butterfly" more than three times a week without injuring the voice. Mr. Savage proposes to give eight performances a week and the three manding fact in the race of life," he observed, passing on, "is that it grows steadily harder for the average man. There is a cause for this. Why is it in a country so prosperous, the race grows harder for the average man? The reason is that the products are artificially gathered and artificially controlled by a few, and they dictate what the price shall be." He spoke for a few minutes on the tariff.

"Mr. Gardner had to admit that he didn't stand with the majority of the people. What did he say when he was nominated at Ipswich? 'I suppose I am a wicket stand-patter.' He hasn't the moral courage to stand by what the people want. He doesn't because he probably never earned a dollar by honest labor in all his life."

Mr. Berle, however, directed most of his speech to what he termed "the enormous misuse of money" for the "corrupted purchase of nomination."

"The issue before the voters of the sixth district in this," said he, "'Shall this seat in Congress be given to the highest bidder?' 'Is the district for sale?' This issue is not a fictitious one, but an actual one because you have seen the Republican nomination here, bartered away and amid the spending of money, to such an extent that the moral sense of the whole state has been shocked."

"The man who stands for this type of public life and service is today asking you to confirm him in the possession of his purchased seat and to permit him to say to the nation and the commonwealth, 'In Essex when you want a seat in Congress, you simply put up the price and get it.'"

"That I may not be supposed to be in error in this matter I want tonight to devote my time to a remarkable editorial, printed last Saturday in the Lawrence Telegram. This is the paper owned and edited by 'Honest' John Cole, speaker of the Massachusetts house. In my letter to Congressman Gardner, which remains unanswered and which cannot be answered, because to deny any allegation in it would be to insult the common knowledge of the people of Essex, who were witnesses by the scores of the scandalous incidents of the Shaw-Gardner campaign, the speaker takes me somewhat to task because I say that against Mr. Gardner personally I have nothing to urge but say that he is an 'upright and incorrupt man.'

"I want to be fair with Mr. Gardner and I am not ignorant of the legal principle that what a man does by an agent, he does himself. But let me call your attention to the fact that Speaker Cole admits the indictment and says words of truth and soberness which this whole district ought to hear. Discussing this very case he says that Gardner was up against another rich man and they fought it out on that line. But admitting the indictment he says, 'Without justifying Mr. Berle's attack upon Congressman Gardner there can be no doubt that the lavish expenditure of wealth in securing nominations is a menace to our system of government. The rich man who buys his election, is far more dangerous to American institutions than the most radical socialist or anarchist.' I ask you to note that this is the word of Honest John Cole, speaker of the Massachusetts house. What he says is the simple truth and Gardner today is a greater menace to the honor and moral interests of Essex in public life than any socialist or anarchist within her borders."

"Every vote for Gardner by a Republican here is an assault on Gov. Guild, on the majority of the Massachusetts congress and on the toiling masses of men who are trying to get along under the increased cost of living, and the burdens of the trust supported tariffs. No poor man need hope for any relief if Mr. Gardner's vote can prevent it."

"No poor man need hope for any public office while Mr. Gardner's money stands in the way. No Essex man can look the world in the face till the district is redeemed and the reproach which I heard in Washington last February, 'As rotten as Gardner's district,' is taken away."

"The question to ask yourself is whether a new bill of sale shall be issued to A. P. Gardner and the good name of Essex be dragged still longer in the mire and dirt of money-bought office holding."

Mr. Richardson's Address

When Mr. Berle concluded he hastened from the hall and went to Beverly to speak at the rally there. Frank Richardson of Essex was then introduced. Mr. Richardson is a good Democrat; he was sincere in his remarks. He praised Hearst and Moran and gave Hearst a place in history alongside of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln.

"I am unfortunate to follow such an eloquent speaker as just addressed you," said he in starting. "The question which confronts the voters of Essex county is whether or not this county is for sale."

He spoke a good word for Moran, and threw down Gov. Guild for appointing Dana as judge, giving the record of the latter. He discussed at length trial by jury.

"We are drifting into the hands of the great monopolies," he said, in continuing. "Now, my friend Gardner, at Newbury the other night in speaking on the Philippine question said 'some people are troubled about our rights there; that doesn't bother me, I believe in the inexorable right of the strongest.'"

"When the time comes that the 'plain man' as Lincoln calls him, ignores the law as the rich man does, God help him." He spoke also of the protective tariff. In speaking of Sen. Schofield he said:

"In every case where the people were interested he worked with you. Why was the soldiers' bounty bill defeated? It was 'unconstitutional.' They didn't have any trouble to get a pension for probate judges, and yet they refuse to grant $125 for the old soldier who went out there and stood up to be shot at. Gardner talked about the soup house. He didn't tell you that a Democratic administration passed an income tax, but the superior court vetoes it as unconstitutional."

"We must be true to the people, the future belongs to labor. Mr. Schofield voted for every labor measure that came before the legislature."

When Senator Schofield entered the hall there was a loud outburst of applause and cheering, and on coming to the stage he immediately took his stand at the speaker's desk.

What Mr. Schofield Said

Mr. Schofield, in his opening remarks, thanked the voters for the support given him last year for the Senate, and called attention to the conditions which existed in the district as unparalleled in the Commonwealth today. "I submit," he said, "that when a man holding an office in the district with some 8000 majority in the party confesses he has a hard fight to win, it means he feels he has not represented the people as he should."

"Today I am face to face, as you all know, with a campaign where it is going to be impossible for me or for any poor man to follow. You will find in every paper in this district today a large advertising space devoted to my opponent. You all know the cost of this advertising for each day for two weeks. You know what it has cost him, and you know what it would cost me. I could not afford to carry on a campaign in this manner.

"Now in regard to an advertisement which appears in the papers this evening, signed by A. P. Gardner. It states at the start: 'Senator Schofield, do not misrepresent my record.' Last night another advertisement appeared in which he said that I had charged him with having voted against fixing the hours of labor in Congress this year. He said that he had not so voted and followed this up with another statement which I desire to read to you. (I wish to call attention to the fact that this is but a copy of an advertisement appearing in other papers.) The statement was published in the Ipswich Chronicle on Oct. 12, that he (Gardner) was against legislation fixing the hours of labor in Congress this year, and he demands that I prove it or withdraw my statement. If he is right I ought to withdraw my statement, but I propose to prove it. Mr. Gardner says over his own signature that 'I (Gardner) voted to exempt foreigners employed on the Panama Canal from the eight-hour law.' I will prove this statement by his own words. We have an eight-hour law which states that labor employed on government work shall not be compelled to work more than eight hours per day. Certain persons for certain reasons desired and prepared an amendment which was offered in Congress to exempt foreigners employed on the Panama Canal from this eight-hour law. If that amendment had not passed, the eight-hour law would have fixed the hours of labor on the Panama Canal. If it had passed it would not fix the hours of labor. Mr. Gardner voted for that amendment, and thereby voted that the hours of labor should not be fixed and his vote passed the bill. Any statement to the contrary is a quibble and is absurd. Any man voting to break down the hours of labor and voting as I have stated, was against legislation fixing the hours of labor. He was against the eight-hour law applying on the Isthmus of Panama. He has proved this case himself by his own statements.

"He has made the statement that I stated that he, as a member of the Senate in Massachusetts in 1900, from the same district as I have represented this year, voted against a bill fixing the hours of labor, which passed by a vote of 15 to 14, and states that he voted the other way. Gardner in his statement says that this is untrue. Mr. Gardner has defied me to prove this and for this reason I have taken pains to have a copy of the bill here with me. This bill was introduced in the House in 1900, when Mr. Gardner was a member of the Senate. The bill reads as follows: (Quoted House Bill No. 462.)

"There was a bill which fixed the hours of labor and which had a referendum attached leaving it to the people. Mr. Gardner attempts to quibble by stating that I said he had voted against the original eight-hour law. That is not true.

"On the 29th of June, 1900, the House Bill relative to the wages of laborers employed on public works, etc., came up for a third time. I have a roll call of the votes on the third reading which was 15 to 12, and Mr. Gardner opposed the third reading. It went to the third reading and again came up to the Senate. House Bill No. 462 was engrossed and that bill failed of passage by a vote of 15 to 14, and Mr. Gardner's name appears as one of the 15. Any quibble on the part of Mr. Gardner that that was not part of the eight-hour law bill is absurd. It was a bill fixing the hours of labor, and he voted against it.

"Today, upon our statute books, we have that law. It came up this year in the Massachusetts Senate. It was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, of which I was the only member of the Democratic party, the others being four Republicans. That committee decided that the state could not afford to have such a bill passed and the committee reported 'ought not to pass,' with one dissenter. That dissenter was myself. The bill came up, the question was debated and passed by a roll call vote of 20 to 18. The bill was sent to the governor, who signed it. Those are facts which can be proven from the Journal of 1906.

"Mr. Gardner confines himself to the question of labor, and recognizes the importance of labor's work at the polls. I trust he is beginning to realize that the laboring people of this city are not going to blindly follow any party, unless convinced that that party is working for their interests.

"Tariff reform cannot be taken up in 10 minutes. My position is known. Gardner says he will stand pat. He is opposed to parties making too much money on account of the tariff. I do not desire to cut down in any way the just earnings, nor do I desire to lessen the labor which can be given to any of our citizens, but I realize that the people are greater than the trusts, and we propose to take off the tariff where it is not needed, and put it on where it is needed whether the trusts like it or not. That briefly is my position on tariff reform.

"Tariff revision—We have got to make careful changes and accurate revision, but I recognize in common with almost the entire Democratic party, and, I believe, one-half or one-third of the Republican party that the time has come when protection means protection to those who need it, and is not to fatten trusts."

Mr. Schofield alluded to the lavish use of money in campaigns and spoke of use of money in the last four years as a bad example for buying elections.

Heater Weather Is Upon Us

Guess the folks out West thought so when that blizzard struck them—wager they weren't prepared—how about you?

Fore-warned Is Fore-armed

Put that new heater in now, 'twill keep the chill off the house, save many a cold and perchance a good big doctor's bill. We are all ready for you with a pleasing supply for every need.

Crawford Parlor
Stoves

The kind that make the heat and then throw it out into the room instead of letting it go up chimney. That make it way down around the ash pit where you get the benefit of it when you come in all chilled. New fangles this fall, removable nickel rails, extra large ash pans, new dust dampers and a very low price. From

The Little Oil Heaters

Here for a minute, up stairs the next. The great big convenience that saves lugging up wood or taking out ashes, the stroke of a match and in just a few minutes a heat that's intense. No prejudice against them any more. Household necessity now. No smoke, no smell, a quarter saved on every one if bought of TITUS. From

We are cooking engineers

You come to us with a statement of the amount of cooking ordinarily done in your family—we advise you as to the proper size of a Range you should have to do your work well, and do it economically. We supply you with that Range—if it does not do your work quicker, do it better, and save you in fuel over the old one—we've made a mistake, you don't keep the Range. But such a condition never happens. First, we know exactly how to study your needs, then we've such a stove as you've ne'er seen before. Many's the feature it possesses that no stove has the like of—the quality of the iron, the arrangement of the dampers, the construction of the flues—all tend to a more perfect condition of results than can be obtained from stoves of the ordinary type.

It Possesses

- The Single Damper,
- The Cup Joint Flues,
- The Clean-Out in the Ash Pit,
- The Removable Nickel Rails.

'Tis Endorsed by

MANCHESTER'S CANDIDATE

One Name, that of James F. Shaw, for Senator, on the Ticket this Year

On the ballot to be used at the election next Tuesday there is the name of one man from Manchester,—James F. Shaw, who is the Republican candidate for the State Senate. If elected Mr. Shaw will be the first Manchester man in the senate for the past 22 years. It is therefore to be expected that the Manchester voters will turn out in full force next Tuesday and give Mr. Shaw a big vote.

Hon. William H. Tappan was the last Manchester man in the Senate, though he was not sent there as the regular representative of this town. Mr. Tappan went as Rockport's man, so to speak. It was Rockport's "turn" according to the arrangement of things. When the convention came together the Rockport delegates were undecided between two men and when neither would assent to the proposing of the other's name, Wm. H. Tappan of Manchester was decided upon and he was elected to the office.

It was the late Charles Fitz who last represented Manchester as the town's recognized representative about 29 years ago, so that Mr. Shaw will be really the first senator since '78, or thereabouts.

Last year Mr. Shaw was defeated for the office by Geo. A. Schofield of Ipswich, who is now Cong. Gardner's opponent. Mr. Shaw's friends are looking for a big Republican vote for their man this year.

Relief Corps Sale

Allen Relief Corps of Manchester held a successful sale of candy, ices and fancy articles at G. A. R. hall Thursday afternoon and evening. The Larkin booth was an attractive feature. This was in charge of Mrs. Mary Lane and Mrs. C. T. Loomis. The other tables were presided over by the following ladies: Candy—Mrs. Louis Latons and Mrs. Chas. Lucas; cake and ice cream—Mrs. J. S. Reed and Mrs. C. O. Howe; aprons and fancy articles—Mrs. Ellen Brewster and Mrs. Helen Willmonton; mystery packages—Mrs. George Jones and Mrs. William Whalen.

Yesterday's snow flurry was the initial taste of winter for the year. The ground was white in the morning but remained so only for a short time.

WEDNESDAY EVENING CLUB

Meeting Held Monday Evening and Officers for the Year Elected Monthly Meetings of the Club to be Resumed

A business meeting of the Wednesday Evening club, Manchester's most popular social organization, was held at the chapel Monday evening and officers were elected for the year. The meetings which have been held monthly the past two years, when attractive programs of a literary and musical nature were carried out, will be continued and the first meeting this year will probably be the latter part of this month.

An entire new board of officers were elected for the year as follows: Duncan I. Beaton, president; Alexander Robertson, vice president; Albert Cunningham, secretary; W. W. Hoare, treasurer. These four, with Fred J. Merrill, Hollis L. Roberts and George S. Sinnicks compose the executive committee.

Poultry Show

The 11th annual exhibition of the Essex County Poultry association, of which a number of Manchester and Beverly Farms men are members and regular exhibitors, will be held at the Beverly City hall on Dec. 18, 19, 20 and 21. There are 10 champion silver cups, 200 special prizes and liberal cash premiums offered. The show this year is being looked forward to with keen anticipation, and it will surpass all previous efforts of the association in this line.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

To all who love the simple unvarnished facts in politics as well as in other matters, I would earnestly commend a perusal of the facts in this Gardner-Schofield contest.

The facts are eloquent and deeply valuable at this time when so much that is merely superficial is abroad.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Allen have closed their cottage, "The Woodvine," on Summer street, this week and returned to Gloucester.

Mrs. Lewis White (Annie Bird) and son Lewis, of Danvers, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Long.

Mrs. J. J. Gorman spent the first of the week at Hamilton, the guest of Mrs. Joseph Knowlton.

Mrs. Charles Andrews spent Thursday with Mrs. S. S. Shaw, her cousin, at Dorchester. Mrs. Shaw is a frequent visitor here. She left yesterday for Florida.

Mrs. Dexter Rose and son Ralph, of Bridgeport, Conn., Capt. William Rose of the S. S. Sparta, and family, of Boston, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Rose on Lincoln street.

Alexander Jauderl of Newark, N.J., returned home Thursday after a fortnight's visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morrison, Summer street.

William Burgess returned Sunday from the Beverly Hospital where he has long been confined with typhoid fever.

Samuel Rowe is spending a few days visiting his sister, Mrs. Arthur Toppan in Handover, Mass.

At the whist party in Carpenter's hall Tuesday evening in aid of the Building Fund of the new Sacred Heart church the prizes were won by Miss Jennie Sargent and Lester Morris.

Miss Catherine O'Leary, formerly of this town, and Timothy Cummings, of Salem, were united in marriage Wednesday, Oct. 31, at the St. James rectory in Salem by the Rev. M. J. McCall.

John Bettencourt of South Framingham has returned to that place after a few weeks stay in town, having been employed as one of the engineers at Beaver Dam for the water department.

Miss Abbie Floyd entertained nine of her school friends at her home Wednesday evening with a Halloween party.

Henry A. Moulton who gives Manchester as his home, and whom the 1905 directory gives as a gardener, Harbor street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy: liabilities $1163; no assets.

Albert E. Grant, who has been head meat-cutter at Sheldon's market the past season, concludes his services there to-night and returns to town. Mr. Gardner who returned to Boston a fortnight ago, was not the head meat-cutter as erroneously stated at the time.

Geo. F. Allen, H. S. Tappan and F. W. Bell & Son are now closing their dry goods stores at 7 o'clock, one hour earlier than usual.

John L. Prest is taking a fortnight's respite from his duties at Bullock's bakery and left yesterday for Hamilton where he will spend most of his vacation.

The members of Conomo tribe, 113, of Red Men, are urged to be present at the meeting next Wednesday evening when a small-sized pow-wow will take place after the meeting. A feast of corn and venison will be partaken of.

Manchester was represented at the Democratic rally in Salem Thursday evening by a good-sized delegation. Mr. Moran was one of the speakers.

WHISPERINGS

As might have been expected, it stormed yesterday. Not because school teachers are of a particularly gloomy disposition, by any means. It simply "happens" that the day of the convention in Peabody is always accompanied by a storm.

Have you noticed the very close resemblance of the picture on the front cover of the Ladies Home Journal for the current month to the Common and Congregational church in Manchester, with its wealth of attractive large elm trees?

Samuel Emerson of Salem is spending a few weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jabeth Dunbar.

John J. Burke was one of the speakers in Gloucester on Wednesday night in the big demonstration meeting favorable to Cong. Gardner. He also read a personal letter from James F. Shaw of Manchester who wants all his friends to support the Republican nominee, Cong. Gardner.

Walter Scott returned to Lowell Monday after spending a week here with his father, James Scott.

Miss Anna Chane concludes her duty as bookkeeper at F. L. Hunt's market, tonight.

Miss Katherine McCauley entertained a party of her friends Wednesday evening with a Hallow-e'en party. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was passed playing games.

A furnace is to be installed in the Women's Club house by a Gloucester contractor.

Next Friday a series of lectures on Japan, illustrated by the stereopticon, will begin at the Village church. The lectures will be eight in number, the first one being on the country of Japan. The members of the young people's society and others will study in connection with the lectures "Sunrise, in the Sunrise Kingdom," by John H. DeForest. All are invited. The lectures are free.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ballou, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, Charles Brown and his niece Mrs. Edward Ricker, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Story were among those from here who attended the complimentary banquet last night, tendered by the Gloucester Lodge of Elks to the wives of the members who assisted in making the recent fair a success.

Daniel Chane, the popular meat cutter at F. L. Hunt's market, is enjoying a well earned vacation. He is visiting relatives in Boston.

The monthly meeting of the Veteran Firemen's association will be held at the engine house next Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lycett who have been spending a fortnight at Moosehead Lake arrived home Sunday.

An instructor in gymnastics has been hired to teach in the local school, giving her first lesson last Monday.

Miss Mabel Sargent intends to spend the winter in Boston with her relatives.

Mrs. Michael Kehoe who has been spending the past four weeks in Spencer, returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knowlton left yesterday for their home in Lynn.

The annual supper and business meeting of the Village church will be held in the church next Monday at 6.30. These annual gathering are attended by all the church members who can come and absent members send letters to be read in answer to their names.

Hallow-e'en Party

A children's Hallow-e'en party was held in the Women's Club house Wednesday evening. Sixteen children had almost perfect attendance at Sunday school last winter and the party was for them, each being allowed to invite one friend. Despite the unpleasant weather nearly all invited were there. Mrs. Harry Foster was in charge of the entertainment being ably assisted by Miss Amy Lycett and Miss Alice Sanborn. First there was a chestnut hunt in which Carrie Dunbar and Colby Staples were the winners. There was bobbing for apples, then the hall was darkened and the witch appeared on her broomstick to tell the children a story of her black cat and to preside over the exercises of pinning a tail upon this tail-less felon. In this Jennie Brown was most successful, Harold Dunbar being second. Each contestant received a witch made from a clothes-pin with a fortune pinned on her back.

Then came the refreshments with cake and ice cream after which the children warmed up again by going to Jerusalem where Ruth Scott was the one to arrive. Last but not least came the prize cakes. In the boys' cake the button representing bachelorhood went to Timothy McCarthy, the money to Ralph Stearns and the heart foretelling a happy marriage to Arthur Lycett. In the girls' cake the thimble was found by Susan Lycett, the heart by Jennie Brown and the money by Carrie Dunbar. During the refreshments Mrs. Colfelt's Victor Talking machine dispensed music under the management of Miss Augusta Buehl.

Real Estate.

Mrs. Wm. McMillan is having a large addition built to her cottage on the east end—facing the ocean. D. C. Ballou & Co., are doing the stone work and a Boston concern has the contract to do all the carpentry work.

Quite extensive repairs are being made on the C. W. Jones cottage.

It is reported that A. J. Rowe is to turn his stable, or most of it, into an auto garage before next season. Work has already been started in tearing up the stalls in the large stable. It is safe to say that if Mr. Rowe goes into this new enterprise he will have a garage that will be unsurpassed on the North Shore.

Mrs. E. G. Houghton is having considerable work done on her estate this fall, including improvements and enlarging the already attractive garden.

Geo. A. Upton is to have a two-story addition built on the northwesterly part of the Oceanside. He is also improving many of the cottages.

Mrs. L. W. Floyd and Abbie Floyd are spending a few days on Cape Cod visiting Capt. and Mrs. W. C. Whelden at Dennisport.

Supt. and Mrs. Kimball are again receiving congratulations on having become grandparents, a nine and a half pound daughter, Elizabeth, arriving in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Fleming and Mr. Fleming in Salem last Friday morning.

The Board of Selectmen perambulated the Wenham and Hamilton boundaries Tuesday with the Selectmen of those respective towns and will go over the Essex lines next week. The Beverly and Gloucester boundaries were perambulated last spring. This work must be done once every five years.

M. E. Gorman was in Chester, Vt., the latter part of last week on a brief business trip. Mrs. Eben Davis of Annisquam has been a recent guest of Mrs. Gorman.

Mrs. Abbie (Sanborn) Smith, in company with Mr. Smith, has been spending a few days with her mother Mrs. Sanborn, Summer street. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are now residents of Maine.

Mrs. Howard M. Stanley and little son are paying a visit to the former's mother, Mrs. Aiken, in Dorchester.

Coming to Manchester

It will be the privilege of the residents of Manchester to hear Clarence Manning Falt of Gloucester, author of "Wharf and Fleet Ballads," at the Congregational Chapel, Wednesday evening, November 7, under the patronage of Rev. Mr. Lincoln and Rev. Mr. Brewster.

In his interpretations of his ballads Mr. Falt gives a very novel and interesting treatment of the prosaic side of the industry, which has delighted large audiences in the summer colonies the past season, and elsewhere.

Mr. Falt is not only a poet and writer of fiction but is a graduate of the Boston School of Oratory, the Sargent School of Acting, of New York, a pupil of David Belasco, the late Steele Mackaye and others.

The pathos of the deep sea life, the poetic imagery of the harbor life, the virile characteristic of the fleet and the crews, will be introduced in Mr. Falt's acknowledged versatile style, and an evening of great pleasure is assured all who may attend.

The Roadside, Fields and Forests

Of the North Shore contain many fine trees. Perhaps you have trees of different sizes from the saplings to the towering veterans. If you want your large trees to live to old, old age like the famous oaks of old England, take care of them. When the moth pests have been attended to, have the dead limbs removed while sound and the wound tarred over, instead of leaving the limb to rot off and to continue to rot extending the decay into the heart of the tree, making a hollow tree. When a tree becomes hollow, its life is of course much shortened.

Congregational church, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; evening service at 7 o'clock. Sermons by the pastor.

Baptist church, Rev. Edward Hersey Brewster, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; People's evening service of song and praise at 7 o'clock.

Sacred Heart Church, Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, pastor. Winter arrangement of services: Sunday, Masses at 8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; Sunday School at 9.15 A. M.; evening service, including Instructions and Benediction, at 7.45 o'clock. Week days—morning Mass at 7.30; Bible class at 7.30 Friday nights.

Beginning tomorrow the hour of the Sunday School at the Sacred Heart church will be changed to 9.15 o'clock in the morning instead of in the afternoon, for the winter months. This brings it in the interval between the two morning masses.

A series of whist parties in aid of the building fund of the new Sacred Heart church is to be held on Thursday evenings beginning next week in Carpenter's hall.

The date of the annual roll-call and supper of the Baptist church has been set for Wednesday evening, Nov. 21.

"The Sin of the Wilderness" will be the theme of Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning, the third on the series of "The Epistle to the Hebrews." In the evening the theme will be "Our Father."

Monday evening will be an evening with God's Word, under the auspices of the Teachers' Training class, at the Baptist vestry. All are welcome.

On Friday, Nov. 9, the Woman's Foreign Missionary circle will hold its annual "Mite-Box" opening afternoon and evening from 3 to 7.30 o'clock. Tea will be served at 5 o'clock. Miss Mina Reade will address both sessions. All women of the congregation, Farther Lights circle and church officials are cordially invited to be present.

The Ministering Circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday evening, Nov. 5th, with Mrs. Anna Philips. Subject, "Manifestations of God's presence."

Near-silk taffeta petticoats are much more durable than the real silk. We have just received a new line. G. F. Allen. *

MANCHESTER

It was thought the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wood on Cobb avenue had been broken into last week. The house was closed three weeks ago and the shutters have been placed on the windows and doors. Thursday it was noticed that a shutter on a door leading to the second story piazza was off and the door open. Mr. Roberts of Roberts & Hoare who had charge of placing the shutters, went to the house and as far as he could see nothing had been disturbed. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Woods came down from Brookline to look into the matter. There was very little in the house in the line of valuables as practically everything has been taken back to town, and it is improbable anyone broke in. Some of the workmen probably forgot to place the shutter on the door.

Officer Lee who has been taking a 10 days' respite from his duties on the night force, returns to his work tomorrow.

Have you visited the printing office on Beach street recently? Since Mr. Leman sold it in August to J. A. Lodge of the BREEZE, the place has been all changed over; much of the old type and office equipment has been disposed of, and new and up-to-date type and appliances for work have been installed. This, coupled with the fact that a first-class printer is in charge, renders the office capable of handling all kinds of work in the best manner at lower prices than can be given out of town. Work can be done promptly, too. Give us a call.

"George A. Purdy, 40, a butcher, who lives at Manchester-by-the-Sea, was arrested by Insp. Patterson and Norton charged with the larceny of $371, between April 25

While in their employ he was at Manchester two days in the week, collecting money, and taking orders from customers. Soon after his being discharged, the firm sent bills to Manchester customers and it is alleged that it has been found that $371 had already been paid to Purdy."—Boston Record, Wednesday.

Charles W. Jones and family closed their cottage at Magnolia Wednesday and returned to town.

Dr. and Mrs. James Anderson who have been at the Lily Pond cottage, Coolidge's Point, the past season, left for their home in New York Thursday.

Mrs. Allyn and family who have occupying the Mrs. J. B. Knowlton cottage at Magnolia left for their New York home Wednesday.

Mrs. N. S. Simpkins left Beverly Farms the first of this week for Wilton, N.H., where she will remain for a short while.

Edward N. Edwards and family who had the Pump cottage at Beverly Farms the past season, returned to Boston, Monday.

Mrs. L. C. Fenno and children left Beverly Farms Tuesday for Lenox. Their North Shore cottage is still open.

The past week has seen the departure of many of the late cottagers, though there are still many houses open along the shore, and more than usual are to be kept open all winter. From Beverly Farms have gone the Charles H. Daltons, Mrs. Gordon Prince and George Warren and family.

The W. S. Spauldings, Francis I. Amory, George Dexter and the A. G. Hodges were among the week's departures from Pride's Crossing.

J. Torrey Morse, 3d, who has been lingering at Pride's the past month after the departure of his father, returns to town Monday.

The T. K. Lothrop's closed their place at West Manchester Wednesday and returned to Boston.

Among other departures from Pride's Crossing this week are the H. M. Sears, Thursday; Francis Bartlett, who goes today; W. A. Burnham, Tuesday; H. P. King, Tuesday, and Q. A. Shaw, Jr., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fitch and family left Manchester Monday for Boston, Mrs. Fitch and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Northen, making the trip by automobile. Miss Helen Fitch is in New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Rotch, who have recently returned from their European trip, came to Manchester Wednesday with a party of friends and spent the day at their cottage on Blossom lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lincoln of Boston and Manchester have returned from Europe, where they have passed the past few months in travel.

It is reported that Neal Rantoul has purchased the Andrew C. Wheelright estate, so-called, on West street, Beverly Farms, and intends to make extensive improvements on the place. This property consists of quite an area of ground and has upon it a large frame dwelling and stable. The estate adjoins that of his father, Hon. Robt. S. Rantoul of Salem, and has one of the prettiest frontages on the shore.

Mrs. John L. Thorndike has opened her town house for the winter. The rest of the family, however, are still at West Manchester.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kimball Entertain Informally at their Salem Home. Many Manchester Friends Call

After half a century of wedded life Mr. and Mrs. David B. Kimball celebrated their golden anniversary informally, though very pleasantly at their home, 366 Essex street, Salem, Tuesday. Many Manchester people were among those who called to extend congratulations

Mrs. Kimball is a native of Manchester, being a daughter of the late Augustus Smith. Mr. Kimball is a native of Dunbarton, N.H. Both taught school here in their younger days, and it was in this connection they met. For a great many years they were respected citizens of the town. Mr. Kimball led the choir at the Congregational church very nearly 40 years, until the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Fate eight years ago, since which there has been no regular organized choir. He also served on the school committee and was for some years moderator at town meetings. He studied law with Judge Otis P. Lord, one of Essex County's ablest lawyers of that day.

In connection with their anniversary it is of more than passing interest to note that Mrs. Kimball's father and mother celebrated their golden wedding in Manchester in 1877, and her grandmother and great-grandmother also had celebrated their golden weddings, so that it would seem that this runs in the family.

Another incident worthy of note is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Kimball's daughter, Mrs. Walter L. Harris (Hattie Lee Kimball) was married on Oct. 30, 1901, so that Mr. and Mrs. Harris celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage Tuesday also.

Among the Manchester guests who called were: Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pulsifer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Beaton, Miss Hattie P. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kitfield, Mrs. G. D. Haskell, Miss Amy B. Haskell, Mrs. William Hoare, Miss Jessie Hoare, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Blaisdell, Mrs. G. F. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Allen, Miss Martha C. MANCHESTER

Oswald Kunhard, who has leased W. S. Paterson's house on Lincoln street, has gone to New York for the winter and will not occupy the house until spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Sinnicks and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Hoare attended the house warming given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson at Beverly Wednesday evening.

A number of Manchester friends of the late Mack Clark, proprietor of Clark's hotel, Boston, attended the funeral in Boston, Wednesday.

Miss Mary Leary and Miss Mary Redman have returned to Boston for the winter.

The small building, corner of Bennett and Bridge streets now occupied by A. J. Orr as an office has been transferred by Geo. E. Willmonton to M. J. Callahan. Sometime ago Mr. Orr bought the Long factory, so-called, on Bennett street, near the High school.

Special Offer:—The BREEZE from now until January 1, 1908, for $1.00.

School boys armed with strong bands of elastic, made with a leather holder and wound to a Y-shaped piece of tree, the combination making an old-fashioned sling shot, are causing considerable trouble about town and many complaints have been made by people who have been hurt by the rocks, shot or other missiles fired from these weapons.

We print neat calling cards for 50c. a hundred. Engraved cards cost more, of course.

Would Jail the "Liar" Who Says He Is Getting Pay for Speaking Against Gardner, Says Rev. Mr. Berle

Dr. Berle nails the statement made by many that he is getting paid for speaking against Cong. Gardner by branding it as an "impudent falsehood." Secretary Chas. C. Dodge of Manchester Democratic Town committee, wrote Mr. Berle, stating what he had heard. The following reply is characteristic of the Salem clergyman:

My Dear Mr. Dodge, Sec. Democratic Town Committee of Manchester:

Replying to yours of this date permit me to say that the statement that I receive $25 per night to speak against Gardner, or any other sum, is one of those impudent falsehoods which emanate from people unable to understand unselfish service by disinterested men for the public good. I authorize you to state that if the person circulating that lie can be located, that I will come down to Manchester and have him arrested on the spot as a criminal who ought to be jailed. Get somebody to say that on his own account, and I will show them as quickly as the law can act what I will do to the liar who made such a statement. This is however perfectly natural; Gardner has taught so many persons that you can get nothing done except with money, that they can hardly believe that a man would do as I am doing, giving his time and strength to this service with absolutely nothing to reward him but the satisfaction of clearing the way for a better political atmosphere and the restoration of the rights of the people to the people, to whom they belong and the casting out of the corruptionists who have defiled the good name of Essex County and the Commonwealth.

Sincerely yours,

A. A. BERLE.

The polls will open next Tuesday for voting at 6 o'clock and will remain open until an hour decided upon then, probably until 5.30 o'clock.

Wall Papers Give Biggest Returns

Upon the amount invested of any investment in the world—this we can prove to the satisfaction of every looker—

5 cents
a roll

When one considers that all our Papers are 8 yards long, doesn't it seem like a fairy tale to advertise good styles in a good assortment of Patterns for such an extremely low price, as Five Cents a roll?

10 cents
a roll

Our showing at 10 cents has never been equalled in a Salem stock—it gives a double pleasure to show such patterns for such a small price—Such a line of Chambers, Kitchens, Dining Rooms, Halls one naturally expects at 25 but not at 10 cents.

15 cents
a roll

Takes in—Tapestry designs with and without borders; Parlors—with nice 9 and 18 inch Friezes, Foliage Patterns and Landscapes—styles and effects worth 25 cts. and generally sold for that price—they are tempting.

25 cents
a roll

Gives the finest Landscape, Foliage and Picture Papers we ever saw under 50 cents the roll.

We've given the greatest attention to our Fall showing in Wall Papers—it is certainly the Best we've ever exhibited.

In other words every new subscriber this week will receive the paper free the next eight issues and $1.00 will pay for a subscription anywhere in the United States or Canada, until Jan. 1, 1908.

Following John B. Moran's tendencies in politics he would be a monarch. He aspired to one office and as soon as he got it he commenced to neglect that while he ran for another. As soon as he got on the stump for governor he announced himself a candidate for the presidency. If he ever was nominated for the presidency we have an idea he might suggest turning the United States into a kingdom and make him king. After that we do not know what would happen. He would probably explode by that time.

Every new subscriber to the BREEZE now, will receive the paper absolutely FREE until January 1, '07.

President Roosevelt's Reposition in this CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN

In view of the fact that one Boston paper, as well as one of the speakers in behalf of the Democratic nominee for Congress, has been attempting to make the people of the 6th District believe that President Roosevelt does not desire the re-election of Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, we ask that every member of the 6th district read the other side of the case.

In his speech at Beverly on Wednesday evening, October 31, General Moody of President Roosevelt's cabinet said: "Not upon the suggestion of President Roosevelt, not upon his advice, but at his express and urgent request, here tonight to render what little service I may in securing the re-election of the most and very efficient representative in Congress, Augustus P. Gardner."

In his speech at Salem on the same evening Mr. Moody in open remarks said; "When I learned of Captain Gardner's illness in the midst of the congressional campaign my sympathy went out to him. I wrote him a letter in which I regretted that I had but one more evening to give to his service which would be given next Monday evening at Haverhill.

I told the President that I had written that letter; he wanted me to make an addition to it and it was at the PRESIDENT'S EXPRESS REQUEST that I wrote the words "The President earnestly hopes for your re-election."

Is not this therefore sufficient evidence that the President very much desires Captain Gardner's return to Congress to help carry out the good work of the Republican administration already commenced?

A vote for Augustus P. Gardner therefore is an expression of your approval of the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. A vote for the Democratic nominee for congress is an expression of your disapproval of Theodore Roosevelt.

6th District Republican Congressional Committee,

I. C. Day, Chairman.

Manchester Young People Enjoy Hallow-e'en Festivities

The Father Lights society of the Baptist church were entertained at the parsonage Wednesday evening by Mrs. Ellen Brewster, the occasion being in the form of a Hallow-e'en party. Each young lady entered the room, representing ghosts, the room being in darkness, save a few jack-o'-lanterns here and there, hanging from pine trees. In the fortune-telling booth sat a ghost. After enjoying games in the "forest," all re-entered the lower room where a collation was served, consisting of popcorn, chestnuts, cake, coffee, etc. At a late hour all returned home, still thinking of the many "terrible ghost stories" told during the evening.

Those present were: Misses Ethel Stanley, Emma Prest, Olive Cook, Emma Hotz, Helen Mason, Sadie Noyes, Vera Kitfield, Bessie Lethbridge, Edith Menkin, Mrs. Charlotte Brown, Rodney Dow, Arthur Walker, Herman Swett, Clarence and Harry Menkin.

Miss Abbie Floyed entertained a number of her school friends at her

There will be a Democratic Rally tonight in Marshall's hall. Candidate for Senator Albert Wakeley of Marblehead will speak and there will also be other good speakers. Councilman John C. McCarthy of the Ward 6 committee will call the meeting to order.

An exciting runaway of a spirited pair of grey horses belonging to Connolly Bros. and driven by John Ryan, made things interesting for a few minutes on West street, on Wednesday afternoon, due to the breaking of a neck yoke. No damage was done.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell who has spent the past few weeks in Needham is home again.

Miss Clara Hanson has entered the employ of Howard Doane—the carpenter—as bookkeeper.

Tonight William Neville concludes his duties for the season as superintendent and caretaker of the West Beach corporation property. He has made an excellent official and has performed the duties to the universal satisfaction of all—and has certainly been the right man in the right place.

Louis Pond concluded his stay at Beverly Farms on Wednesday last and has gone to Plymouth where he has accepted a position.

The encouragement given the past week to James J. Nugent by his many friends in anticipation of his coming out as a candidate for common council, may have the effect of having that gentlemen decide to enter the contest. Meanwhile he is looking over the field and making a quiet canvass.

The teachers from the Prospect Hill school, Beverly, paid a visit to the Beverly Farms school on last Tuesday afternoon.

Driver Wm. S. Pike of the local Hook and Ladder truck, has been missed from his accustomed place at the West Street Fire house for a part of this week, due to sickness.

Connolly Bros. have been awarded the contract for building large rustic stone piers and walls at the Pine Grove cemetery, Lynn.

Miss Alice Witham, the popular assistant to Postmaster Standley, will next week take her vacation, to be spent mostly with relatives at Rockport. Miss Edith Elliott will again act as substitute.

The polls for voting in the State election will open as usual at 6 a.m. and continue open until 4 p.m. at the G. A. R. hall. The usual officers will be in charge.

Howard P. Williams, who met with a severe accident some time ago, is now able to be out again although he is still unable to perform his usual duties. His arm is being carried in a sling.

Mrs. Emily Ober, a former resident of the Farms, but now of the Round Rock Farms, Hamilton, is a guest of Mrs. George Pierce on High street.

The estate of Mrs. Annie McKeone consisting of a two and a half story frame dwelling and a goodly parcel of land situated on Everett street is for sale. Mrs. McKeone sells as she has now taken up her permanent residence in Beverly.

Alexander Dow who has spent the past few months at Orange, and Montclair, N.J., visiting relatives, returned the first of the week and is with his son James B. Dow, on Hale street.

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Strong Pond have spent a part of this week at Taunton. Mr. Pond being a delegate to the Baptist convention in session at that place.

Society Notes

The Guy Normans closed their summer place at Beverly Cove Monday for the season. They will winter at Washington, where they have taken a place on Massachusetts avenue and will take a prominent part in the social life of the Capital. The large dwelling which Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore are building, near by, will shortly be completed and promises to be one of the most palatial in the capital. With the Normans, the Moores, the Nathaniel Simpkins, the A. P. Gardners and George von L. Meyers, the summer colony at the north shore bids fair to be adequately represented in Washington during the coming months.

Henry Clay Frick, of Pride's Crossing has promised to pay $25,000 for a spire to be erected on Calvary Protestant Episcopal church at Pittsburg and $12,000 for a chime of bells. These gifts are in addition to $100,000 he donated to the building fund at the time the new church was started some months ago. The chimes will be given in the name of Miss Helen Frick, the capitalist's daughter. Mr. Frick was prompted to pay for the spire on the church because the building committee had decided not to erect one on account of the cost.

The R. D. Smiths closed their cottage on Jersey Lane, West Manchester, Wednesday, and returned to town for the winter.

Mrs. John Sturgis and family are closing their cottage at Manchester Cove next Tuesday and will return to town.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stockton, who have been at the Sampson cottage in Manchester Cove the past season, returned to Boston the past week.

A most interesting golf event was played at the Essex County club links last Saturday, when two teams of women players, with 11 on a side were matched for an 18-hole play, some of the best players in the country participating. Miss Harriott Curtis of the Essex County club, and recent winner of the national championship, headed one team, and was matched with Miss F. C. Osgood, who also holds a championship in the Eastern Golf Association, and led the opposing team. Miss Osgood defeated Miss Curtis by 2 up, her score by hole play being 91.

Republicans and Democrats Each Estimate Small Losses

The Boston Globe is getting from all over the state estimates from chairmen on the town committees on the Guild-Moran contest for governor. Last Friday morning it had this to say of Manchester:

The total vote of Manchester last year was 454, of which the republicans cast 277, the democrats 141 and the prohibitionists 12. Chairman Jeffrey T. Stanley of the republican town committee says it is difficult to estimate with accuracy the vote, but hazards a guess that Guild will receive 250 and Moran 25 from the republican side.

Theodore C. Rowe, chairman of the democratic town committee, estimates that his party will give Moran 130 votes and none to Guild. There are no solialist or independent organizations in Manchester, but Mr. Rowe states that he thinks that 25 votes representing these two parties will vote for Guild.

David A. McKinnon, chairman of the prohibition town committee, says his party is a good deal cut up this year over the nomination of Moran, and some will refuse to vote at all. He thinks they will be about equally divided between Moran and Guild, giving five to each.

"Madam Butterfly"

Henry W. Savage's magnificent production of Puccini's grand opera, "Madam Butterfly" is proving the musical sensation of the year at the Tremont Theatre, and general regret is expressed that its stay is limited to another week only. The audiences have been remarkably enthusiastic, and have left no room for late comers. The entire production is saturated with the atmosphere of Japan and its quaint romance and Puccini's music furnishes a wonderful impressionistis view of the pathetic, although thoroughly human story of the love of the little Oriental geisha for the trim American naval lieutenant who wedded her for 999 years, after the custom of her people, and then shattered her heart by marrying an American woman. The entire cast is of uncommon excellence, and the chorus is equal to all demands. Altogether, the opera is worthy the high praise that has been showered upon it in Europe and this country, and should be heard by all music lovers hereabouts before it is taken away from the Tremont.

SCHOOL NOTES

Manchester

All the local schools were closed yesterday, in order to permit the teachers to attend the Teachers' Convention in Peabody.

Thursday afternoon the schools were dismissed at 3 o'clock and A. W. Clark of Boston, an expert in writing, gave a lecture on that subject before the grade teachers. The lecture was along the line of the gradual changing over from the vertical to the medial slant in writing.

Dr. W. H. Tyler, Mrs. G. F. Dyer, Mrs. William Follett, Mrs. Harold Nathan, Mrs. John Babcock and Mrs.

James Gray were among the visitors to school this week.

Grade IX leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being 97.39. The attendance of the other grades follows: VIII, 97.35; VI, 96.33; V, 96.30; II, 95.93; IV, 94.71; VII, 92.94; I, 90.21; III, 86.30.

Matthew Cushing has entered Grade II this week. Emily and Helen Beckman have left Grade I and returned to Boston. Alma and Ruth Baker have left school this week also and have gone to Boston.

A nature study book for October has been made by the pupils in Grade II, and has been very favorably commented upon by those who have seen it. It contains illustrations of autumn maple leaves, colored with wax crayons, water colors and chalk and a sewing card is on the last page. Memory gems and short compositions on the various subjects are interspersed between the illustrations. The cover of this book is very attractive, having a design cut from a piece of folded colored paper.

There is one case of diphtheria in town, that of Marion Smith. Dr. Glendenning sent a culture to the State Board of Health and they reported that it did contain diphtheria bacilli. Every precaution has been taken against a spread of the disease.

"Moran is Unfit"

Read What Leaders of John B. Moran's Own Party Say of Him:

"We feel obliged to state our conviction of the fundamental unfitness of Mr. Moran to fill the high and dignified office of governor of Massachusetts. The obligations of good citizenship are superior to those of partisanship; we are citizens of an honorable commonwealth charged with our share of the duty of maintaining and advancing her standards of government even before we are Democrats."—J. A. Sullivan, Josiah Quincy, Arthur Lyman, J. C. Burke, E. L. Arundel, Nicholas J. Skerrett.

Mr. Moran as a Leader.

Congressman John A. Sullivan, a member of Mr. Moran's own party, says that Moran's assumption of leadership is certainly ominous of consequences, and he likens it to being whirled madly about in the delirious circles of the tarentella while in the grasp of a political acrobat.

DO YOU WANT A POLITICAL ACROBAT IN THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR?

Mr. Moran as a Public Official.

Speaking again Mr. Sullivan says: "If his manner of conducting grand jury proceedings is to be taken hereafter as the official standard in Massachusetts well may those honest citizens who value reputation above all things else exclaim: 'God Save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.'"

The secretary of the Boston Bar Association shows that during Moran's term as district attorney the cases pending have more than doubled, the indictments pending have more than trebled. His predecessor reduced the number of cases pending more than one-half. He has released 100 more criminals than his predecessor. Many less cases have come to successful conviction. The expenses of the office have been increased 30 per cent.

The Public Record of E. Gerry Brown.

Democratic and Independence League Candidate for LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

The Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor has been a political will-o-wisp for years.

He started as a GREENBACKER.

Touched the REPUBLICAN party in 1882.

Flew to the support of Benjamin F. Butler as a DEMOCRATIC candidate for governor.

Identified himself with the POPULIST movement, and became very prominent in the affairs of that particularism.

Was a leader in the WORKINGMEN'S POLITICAL LEAGUE.

Again went back to the DEMOCRATIC party and ran for state office on that ticket.

Has run for mayor of Brockton under various party appellations.

Now becomes prominent as a DEMOCRAT and a leader in the INDEPENDENCE LEAGUE.

One of the admirers and satellites of William R. Hearst.

This remarkable Political Changeling has shown himself to be a man of no settled conviction and one entirely incapable of rising to the dignity of state management upon any fixed policy.

COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. Schofield has been running through the "senate journal" and "congressional record" with a fine tooth comb, in search of some flaw or mistake in Mr. Gardner's record. He finally appears with a smile like that exhibited by the messenger boy who discovered the oyster in the boarding house stew, and cries out that Mr. Gardner is an enemy of labor because he voted against the eight hour bill as applied to the Panama Zone.

Mr. Gardner explained why he voted in this way on this bill, and I think his explanation perfectly satisfactory.

Can Mr. Schofield explain why he is now so zealous in the labor cause in far away Panama, when he did not lift his voice or his pen in behalf of the laborers in the Ipswich mills, when their wages were cut 10 per cent., and a strike ensued? Not a line in his paper in reference to the poor American laborer at that time. Only a few words admonishing the strikers to keep quiet and not make a disturbance. Simply a slight effort to pacify and no effort to gratify. Today in Ipswich the Poles, Finns, and other foreigners are allowed to work right through the noon hour, and over time, while the American laborers take their rest and recreation, and he utters not a word of protest, not a line in defence of the rights of the American laborer. Why?

This is a question that rasps very hard on his pocket nerve. He gets a large percentage of his income from the Ipswich mills. Today he has more printing from the Ipswich mills than his office can turn out, and he is sending the work out of town. I think we can all see that this independent candidate is as safe and staple as a weather vane. Can we afford to pin the destinies of this district to the tail of his kite that is wafted by every wind that blows,—this man who sets his sails to catch every wind that will waft him on to the goal of his own personal ambition pouring forth the "Lamentations of Jeremiah" over the poor Chinaman in Panama, and crying "Peace, Peace," when there is no peace to the American laborers in his own bailiwick.

Let us speak well of the bridge that brings us safely over and vote for the man of deeds rather than the man of words,—Augustus P. Gardner.

One Republican.

DR. BERLE'S INCONSISTENCY

Eleventh District Republican Wants to Know Why He Supported Foss.

The letter published below shows that the political reporter of this paper is not alone in the opinion he has expressed in this column in regard to Rev. Dr. Berle's action in the Sixth congressional district: To the Editor of the Transcript:

As a Republican who resides in the Eleventh Congressional District I have read with interest Rev. Dr. Berle's charges in the Essex District, and while I have no fault to find with a clergyman who takes the stump and denounces the corrupt and lavish use of money for carrying elections, I wonder why Dr. Berle's conscience is so much aroused against Mr. Gardner, when only three weeks ago he was speaking from the same platform with Eugene N. Foss, who has so handled the Eleventh District that "no poor man need apply" there for the honor of representing it, as a Republican. It is understood in all political circles that Foss has put out more money in that district for political purposes than has ever been paid in any other congressional district in this State. Dr. Berle must have known all about it, and yet he is not known to have lifted his voice against it but on the contrary has done all he could to promote Foss's political fortunes.

Miss Anna Connolly will open a dancing and gymnastic class for boys and girls in Marshall's hall, Beverly Farms, Tuesday November 6th from 4 to 6 o'clock, also a class in dancing for men and women will be opened in Marshall's hall by Miss Connolly, Tuesday, November 6th from 8 to 10 o'clock. All are very cordially invited. Miss Connolly is a popular Beverly Farms young lady, and is a graduate of the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics and has also been an attendant of the summer school of physical training at Harvard, a pupil of Gilberts—and for the past year physical director at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.

The Sunday mails from the Beverly Farms post office have been discontinued.

The Republican City Committee have arranged for a rally to take place tonight at the engine house in the Centerville section of Ward 6. Hon. Samuel Cole, U. G. Haskell, Esq., and Judge E. Mark Sullivan, will be the speakers. A good sized delegation of Farms Republicans will be present.

John Trowt of Pride's Crossing and manager of the local drug store there is attending the Boston School of Pharmacy.

In accordance with the usual price now charged in all first class barber shops in this vicinity and among the last to increase the price for shaving from 10 cents to 15 cents is the local parlors of F. P. Gaudreau in Central square, which order of things went into effect on Thursday, Nov. 1, as did also the change in the closing time at night, which is now 8 p.m., except Saturdays, the time then being 10.30 p.m. *

Miss Alice Bolan was the hostess at quite a good size Hallow-e'en party at her home on Hale street, Wednesday eve.

Preston Post 188, on next Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, at G.A.R. hall, will light a camp-fire—to which the associates are cordially invited.

John Daniels, the popular proprietor of the Central Square market, is anticipating in the near future, a gunning trip to the Maine woods.

We are extremely sorry to have to report the misfortune of Allen Campbell whose condition at the Beverly hospital became so serious on Tuesday morning last, that it was found necessary to amputate his leg above the knee. His present condition is reported to be as comfortable as can be expected. Mr. Campbell has been a sufferer for quite a long period and his trouble started from an injury to his leg which has, in spite of all medical treatment, continued to grow worse. He has a wife and eight small children to support and any aid at this time would indeed be a move for a worthy cause.

The wind-up of the season and the concluding gathering of the series of the "Get Together club" at West Beach, was on Tuesday last at the club house, where a dinner was served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Standley, Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley, Assessor and Mrs. Theo. A. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hardy, Mrs. Chas. F. Preston, Mrs. Andrew Crowell, Mrs. Marshall T. Larcom, the Misses Elsie Preston and Annie K. Holmes, Ralph Holmes and Frank Preston.

The Beverly Farms Embroidery class opens their winter gatherings by meeting on Thursday evening of next week at Mrs. Marshall T. Larcom's, West street.

Once in a While

You sort of stumble onto a Good thing, no doubt, and when you do can you not but feel that in a measure good fortune had something to do with it?

That's the way we feel about

Hodges Fibre Carpets

The time once was when any dealer could have had the handling of these beautiful effective carpets.
We happened to be the ones to bring them out, and fortunate indeed we were, because, truly they have proven to be one of the most universally sought for articles the carpet trade ever had.

Artistic to a degree that marks them beautiful, sanitary almost as a hard wood floor, and with a wearing quality equal to wool.

Do you know, they have proven such a success that they have no end of imitations, even the name is copied as closely as they dare?

Isn't that flattery for you? We can not help but feel that they were well placed here, in amongst such a beautiful lot of furniture and home furnishings as you tell us we have got. And priced right in keeping with the rest of the store, for they commence as low as 30 cents, with a Beautiful Range of Patterns, some 40 in all.

Won't You Look?

AUTUMN REVERIES.

By D. F. Lamson.

A bright fire in an open fire-place on a stormy day is perhaps the acme of physical comfort; many of our pleasures are derived from contrast.

In this loud stunning tide when the material bulks so largely in the minds of many, there is danger lest the virtues that walk in silence and a veil be undervalued, and the premium placed upon noise and glare and ostentation and what is vulgarly called success.

Judged by their staring head-lines, the capital of many of our largest selling newspapers consists mostly in crime and disaster; in such a state of society as we often long for such concerns would have to go out of business, their occupation would be gone.

A glaring incongruity is a steeple perched on a Greek temple, so is a jewel in a swine's snout, so is much profession with little practice.

Principles, not men, say some; principles and men, say we; principles are worth little until they become incarnate, then they can go about their business elevating, refining, saving the world from its meanness and selfishness and making it fit to live in.

Every good cause is in need of helpers, of those who will put their shoulders to the wheel, and not merely stand by to offer advice and criticize; of those who are ready to assist in the French phrase there are usually more than enough; but real helpers are often conspicuous by their absence when the right needs support.

The small boy is much in evidence now-a-days, but he will not long be the small boy, he will be one of our rulers, perhaps one of our great men; it is wise therefore not to despise the small boy, but train him as best we can and hope that in good time he will be a better man and a greater moral force in society than ever his father was.

MANCHESTER

Henry Merrill and Samuel Knight, two Manchester school boys, probably hold the record for walking hereabouts. Last Saturday they walked to Boston. They started from the common at Manchester at 6.45 a.m., and arrived in the North Union station, Boston, at 2.45 p.m. They were pretty tired when they arrived at the end of their 26 mile journey, and it is safe to say it was the hardest day's work either of the young men will do for some time to come. The next day—Sunday—Richard Cheever and Albert Cunningham walked to Gloucester. Pretty good stunts, these!

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jack entertained a party of friends at "Highwood," Wednesday evening.

Miss Priscilla Fritz has a position at Almy, Bigelow & Washburn's Salem store, and will start there next Monday.

Theodore Bullard arrived from Harpswell, Me., this week and is a guest at Mrs. Russell Sturgis'. He is accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Stevens, who is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Burnham.

Mrs. Hollis Roberts is spending a few days visiting Mrs. Myra Foss at Dover, N. H. Mr. Roberts is there over Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Ricker of Lynn is visiting her brother, Henry Dennis, at West Manchester, for a few days.

Mrs. Theodore Coombs left Wednesday for a week's visit with relatives in Maine.

Joel Temple of Newbury, Vt., is spending the winter with his nephew, Claude Temple, and family, Bennett street. Mr. Temple has been a school teacher the past 30 years. His health failing he sold his place in Vermont and comes here for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy A. Hall of Gloucester, were guests, the middle of the week, of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Swett.

Friends of John Sweeney, for a number of years coachman at N. S. Bartlett's, will regret to learn of his continued illness. He is now confined at Carney Hospital, South Boston, and is reported in a very serious condition. His son, John, is also confined to a Boston hospital being treated for blood poisoning.

Carrol Means of Boston, has been spending the week visiting his cousin, Foster Tenney.

The boys' choir of the Episcopal church of Beverly and Beverly Farms, gave a minstrel show in Beverly City hall Thursday evening. Cheever Hersey and Gordon Northrup are members of the choir.

Mrs. Albert W. Mead is sufficiently recovered from her recent indisposition to be able to go out driving this week.

Miss Elizabeth Richardson has recently had electric lights installed in her house on Ashland ave.

Mrs. Geo. S. Sinnicks and Miss Edna Kitfield are attending the Andover-Exeter football game at Andover today, where Bert Sinnicks and Charles Dodge are attending school.

Miss Ida Lincoln of Somerville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Daniel Leach on Ashland ave.

Miss Mary Watson has been spending the past week with her parents on Church street.

Wonson's phonograph and bicycle store on Central street, which has been in charge of Frank Merchant the past season, has been closed this week. All orders may be left with Jos. W. Cawthorne.

Mrs. Mamie Perkins of Salem, and Mrs. Celia Junkins of Newburyport, were guests of Mrs. J. P. Latons the first of the week.

The Breeze is looking for a young lady who wants to learn typesetting. This is an exceptionally fine opportunity for a girl who desires to get some sort of employment in town the year round. We are ready to start a girl to work Monday morning.

Miss Marjorie May returned Monday from Gardner, Me. She is spending a week in Boston a guest of Mrs. Preston.

The telephone exchange closes tomorrow for the season. The business will be handled through the Manchester exchange through the winter.

Mrs. Edward Ricker of Gloucester spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown.

The first of the series of six lectures on Japan was given at the Village church last evening. The subject of the lecture was "The country of Japan," illustrated by beautiful pictures of that renowned country. In order to help pay for the slides a silver offering was taken. The next lectures will describe the country, people, customs, progress, etc. The date of the next lecture will be announced later.

Miss Annie Turbyfield broke her arm Monday while gathering wood to kindle a fire near her house.

The third meeting of the Choral society was held Tuesday evening at the church, under the direction of Arthur S. Wonson. Twenty-five members have been enrolled up to date, but it is thought that the membership will reach thirty-five before long. The four selections which the members enjoy very much and are working on now are "To Thee, O, Country", by Julius Eichberg; "Lead, Kindly Light", Arthur Sullivan; "Lovely Appearance", from Gounod's Redemption; "Peasants' Wedding March", A. Soderman.

Annual Meeting

The annual business meeting of the Village church was held at the church last Monday evening, 33 members being present. The supper, consisting of cold meats, hot biscuits, cakes, pies, jellies and coffee, such as the Magnolia ladies are famous for, was served. After supper reports of the church officers were read. The treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Boyd, reported $245 as the balance in the treasury after all bills were paid. The pastor spoke of the generous gifts which the church has received from its friends among the summer residents, including the new pipe organ from Mrs. Rebecca Colefelt, a check for $200 from Mrs. H. M. Curry, and also Miss Godshalk's lecture, by which $200 more was received. He referred also to the new carpets which was presented to the church by the Ladies Aid society and the stereopticon which has been added to the church equipment during the year. The membership has increased from 46 to 52. He recommended that the church support better the Friday evening service, that it be more cordial to strangers and that the aim of the year be to deepen the spiritual life. The following officers were elected.

Standing committee: Philemon Sanborn, Wm. L. Wilkins and Mrs. Frank F. Story; deacon, Willard R. Boyd; asst. deacon, Fred S. Lycett; deaconess, Mrs. John Wilkins; asst. deaconess, Mrs. Frank F. Story; treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Boyd; clerk, George A. Upton.

Letters were read from absent members including Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dunbar, Mrs. Orrin Sawyer, Miss Grace Story and others. Regrets were read also from invited guests, including Mrs. Colefelt and Rev. and Mrs. Markham Stackpole.

Tuesday's Election

John B. Moran is elected Governor of Massachusetts so far as we are concerned here at Magnolia. He received 42 votes to 30 for Guild, but unfortunately the 12 majority is over-balanced several times by the 31,662 plurality given Gov. Guild in the rest of the state. Brown was also the choice of the voters over Draper, 37 to 30.

But this by no means shows the party strength of Magnolia. The normal vote here is Republican very nearly three to one. Cong. Gardner was given a rousing good vote—54 to 18 for Schofield; and James F. Shaw won 42 to 20. The complete vote is printed on another page alongside the Manchester vote.

Author's Recital.

Clarence Manning Falt of Gloucester who has been quite aptly termed "The Laureate of the Fishermen," and "The Muse among the Scales" gave a recital on his book of ballads of the fishermen of Gloucester, entitled "Wharf and Fleet," in the Congregational church, Manchester, Wednesday evening.

Those who have read Mr. Falt's work know to what extent he has interpreted the character, humor and pathos of life in this old New England fishing city, and the true poetic touch he has given it in his ballads. He recited seventeen of his ballads Wednesday evening. The danger of "Th' Rigger," the minstrelsy of "The Cooper," the jovial spirit of "Th' Scrubbers," the athletic movements of "Th' Fish Skinner," were all vividly pictured in his verse.

The verses display the keen insight which the author has into the knowledge of the type of character that he undertakes to portray and the power of interpretation which he possesses to give color and expression to his work gives individuality to the ballads rarely found in writings along any similar line.

During the intermission, views from real life were passed around the audience—many of which are included in the illustrations in the volume.

The Roadside, Fields and Forests

Of the North Shore contain many fine trees. Perhaps you have trees of different sizes from the saplings to the towering veterans. If you want your large trees to live to old, old age like the famous oaks of old England, take care of them. When the moth pests have been attended to, have the dead limbs removed while sound and the wound tarred over, instead of leaving the limb to rot off and to continue to rot extending the decay into the heart of the tree, making a hollow tree. When a tree becomes hollow, its life is of course much shortened.

Arthur McCormack, caretaker at Singing Beach the past season, handed us some figures the other day on the number of persons using the town bath houses at the beach the past season, since he was put in charge in July. During that month there were 1687, in August 2293, September 569 and October 89, a total of 4638 for the four months. Last year the record was 3492 for the whole season. This difference would seem to indicate that the beach is being used more since the town provided free bath-houses the past few years, than it ever had before. Persons have been in bathing there this year way up into October. The four record days of the summer were July 19, 106; August 5, 122; August 12, 119; August 19, 147.

Mrs. Rebecca Colefelt and family, who have been at the Parker Cottage, Magnolia, the past season, returned to their Philadelphia home Thursday.

Five of Judge Wm. H. Moore's blue ribbon horses were burned to death and another had to be killed at Hoosick Falls early Tuesday morning in a freight wreck on the B. & M., in which a stock car, derailed and broken up, caught fire. The horses were on their way from Pride's Crossing, where the Judge Moores left last Sunday for their New York home, to New York. The horses burned to death were Birney, Bugler, Carnot, Conqueror and Lady Gay. Diplomat jumped from the car but was so badly burned that the agony of the poor animal had to be ended by two blows from an axe on the head. The horse

Real Estate And Improvements

Manchester

Frederick Burnham has bought a farm at East Kingston, N. H.

M. E. Gorman has bought this week from Israel O. and Ellen M. Edwards two lots of woodland, comprising ten acres on the Manchester-Hamilton line, near the Frederick Prince estate.

Magnolia

The "Sundial cottage," one of Mrs. McClure's cottages on Magnolia Point, is being moved from its present location to the other side of the street. The Stotts of Lowell have been occupying this place for several seasons past. H. H. Parsons of Gloucester is doing the work.

Frank Stanwood has sold, through M. J. Marr of Gloucester, part of his field below and between the New Magnolia and the Oceanside hotel.

Prides Crossing

Extensive improvements are in process at H. C. Pierce's "Rock Cove" estate, Pride's Crossing, including grading and landscape work. When completed it will be one of the show places on the shore. D. Linehan & Son have the work in hand.

A large gang of men were started to work last week by D. Linehan & Son on the T. Emerson Proctor estate at Topsfield, bought two years ago from Dr. Sears. Besides a beautiful Italian garden there is also being built an automobile garage. E. A. Abbott of Hamilton is doing the carpenter work on this, and D. Linehan & Son have the contract for the mason work.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Mary H. Kimball of Auburn-dale was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Allen the first few days of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jenks of Melrose was their guest also on Tuesday.

Com. E. P. Stanley of Allen Post, and staff, went to Beverly Farms, Wednesday evening, to inspect Preston Post, 188. A small delegation accompanied him.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crocker left Monday on a fortnight's trip to Maine and New Brunswick.

Four young men are arranging for a dancing party to be given in the Town hall on Thanksgiving evening.

Supt. Charles E. Fish was elected one of the three representatives to the Mass. Teachers' association at the Essex County Teachers' convention in Peabody last Friday.

AUTUMN REVERIES

"When a man finds some habit or indulgence, no matter how harmless in itself, is getting the mastery of him, it is time to swear off," said a man of strong passions and equally strong will; "all things are lawful to me, but I will not be brought under the power of any."

We hear much of double personality, sub-liminal consciousness, and so forth; but these are simply new names for mental phenomena that have long been subjects of speculation; it does not explain things to describe them or to name them; the mysteries remain and are likely to, though high-sounding names deceive many with the idea that they understand them.

It would seem that much philanthropic and Christian work must have a good deal of trumpet-blowing in order to success; it is wonderful how noiselessly the great works of Nature go on, and how calmly and quietly the greatest souls have gone about their task.

Our work, if it be worthy of praise, will sooner or later speak for itself; we need not herald it or report it; the stones of the field and the birds of the air will proclaim it.

Even November, with its chilling winds and naked woods and meadows brown and sere, has its compensations; indoor comforts and fireside pleasures are never so attractive as in these shortening days and waning light when the snowflakes begin to sift down from the gray sky and the wild geese with noisy clang or drive their black wedge through the air. And then there is that home festival, Thanksgiving, the cheeriest, gladdest holiday of the whole year.

With what tenacity some of our habits cling to us like the last leaves on the branch from which the others have been storm-swept or have loosened their hold and dropped to the ground; and some will yield only when new life pulses through trunk and bough and outmost twig, and pushes them off to make room for the new growth; to get a new life within is better than all mere external reform and discipline.

The few flowers that still bravely lift their heads in sheltered nooks and smile to November skies remind us how beautiful are the graces that bloom in adversity, more beautiful than those which need the garish light of prosperity to unfold in.

Society Notes

Mrs. W. Scott Fitz was a guest this week of the Dr. Reginald H. Fitzes at "The Mountain," West Manchester. Dr. Fitz and family are returning to town next Tuesday.

Among the summer residents who returned to Manchester Tuesday to cast their ballots were: J. Warren Merrill, W. L. Putnam, George Putnam, Phillip B. Robinson, Richard D. Sears, James M. Sturgis, Walter L. Abbott, Gordon Abbott, Gerald Bement, M. B. Borland, S. Parker Bremer, George E. Cabot, Henry W. Cunningham, E. Haring Dickinson, Wm. A. Tucker, F. R. Tibbitts, Winthrop Wetherbee, F. W. Fabyan, Reginald Foster, C. S. Hopkinson and C. S. Houghton.

Mrs. E. A. Whipple and son, George N., have closed their cottage at West Manchester, and returned to their winter home, 445 Marlboro street, Boston, Wednesday.

Many North Shore people will be interested in the course of recitals to be given in Jordan hall, Boston, by Marshall Darrach, the celebrated Shakesperian scholar, who has

The number of registered voters in Manchester has been steadily increasing the past five years until it now lacks only six of being 600. In '02 there were 474 voters; '03, 518; '04, 562; '05, 570, and in '06 there are 594. While this shows a gain of 25 per cent., the gain in population the past five years is not anywhere near that amount. The large number of summer residents who are now making Manchester their "residence" is largely responsible for this.

Mrs. Sarah Mitchell.

Mrs. Sarah Mitchell, for a great many years a resident of Manchester, passed away at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Sylvester Dade, at South Essex, last Friday, after a long illness. She was 86 years old. She was a widow of the late Wm. Mitchell, and is survived by two daughters and several granddaughters, one of whom is Mrs. Chester L. Crafts of this town.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Crowell Memorial chapel, the Rev. Dr. D. F. Lamson officiating. Burial was at Rosedale.

RECORD VOTE ON TUESDAY.

The Largest Vote Ever Recorded in Manchester. Republican Candidates the Choice. Cong. A. P. Gardner Again Elected. James F. Shaw of Manchester the Next Senator.

Tuesday's election brought out the largest vote ever recorded in Manchester, their being 473 ballots cast out of a total registration of 594. Last year's vote was 454, three behind that of the presidential election in 1904, when 457 ballots were cast.

It was an ideal day, regular "Republican weather," so the Democrats said. Outside the great interest in the gubernatorial contest this year between Guild and Moran, the greatest interest centered locally in the congressional contest between A. P. Gardner and George A. Schofield. This latter was in part responsible for the large vote.

Mr. Gardner run about 30 votes behind the ticket, while the difference between his vote and that for Mr. Schofield was only 62. The normal difference between the votes of the two parties was very nearly 200. The fact that there were only 16 blanks in this vote also shows the interest taken.

The vote for John B. Moran did not come up to the expectations of either the Democrats or Republicans. His whole vote, Prohibition, Independence League, Democratic, and scattering, was only 156. He received only 15 more votes than Bartlett received last year, while Guild beat his own vote of last year by 17. The latter's vote was 294. Last year the vote was: Guild, 277; Bartlett, 141.

James F. Shaw received a good vote for the State Senate, going one ahead of the ticket, 295.

The Prohibition vote was about 12 this year. There was an average Socialist vote of four.

The polls were opened at 6 o'clock, Clerk A. S. Jewett reading the call. Chairman F. K. Swett of the selectmen swore in the following officers: W. W. Hoare, Edward Crowell, Clarence Morgan, T. B. Stone, T. C. Rowe, G. E. Willmonton, James Hoare and Lyman W. Floyd.

The early morning vote was quite large. At 9 o'clock just 140 ballots had been registered. A little after 3 o'clock Chief Peabody opened the ballot box and took out the first instalment of ballots. When the polls closed at 4.30 a total of 473 had been cast. The counters had completed their work at 6.17, and

A CRUISE FOR OIL

A skipper from Nantucket
Went forth to seek the whale.
He cruised about for three long years
And saw nor fin nor tail.
"I ain't got any ile," said he,
"But I've had a fust-rate sail."

Hearst and Moran
Also ran.
Like the skipper of Nantucket,
Neither of them struck it.

Schofield
Has no field.
How bitter he feels!
Cap. Gardner,
His pardner,
After all the carouse,
(And Berle's bow-wows,
Lodges safe in the House.

There is Hearst,
(He's the worst!)
With his Tammany deals,
His frantic appeals,
While the truth he conceals,—
His bubble is burst.
For the present he's hearsed.
While Moran,
Ah! Moran,
The tripartite man,
Is a little tin Hearst
On wheels.

With his call to the wild
He was sadly beguiled.
Do you wonder he's riled?
Since he is called down,
With vagary Brown;
More and more they're done brown.
Of leaders bereft,
Their party is left
Not a scalp to its crown.
We gave them their lemon,
Each with a stem on,
With no sugar to sweeten.
The fact they are beaten.

How's the old Commonwealth?
Thanks! In excellent health.
With our party well-built,
The State House dome gilded,
(Re-Gilded!)
Good-bye to Moran and his moaning.

the vote was announced a little after 6.30.

In the evening the returns were taken at the Town hall by telephone, though there was not a very large crowd on hand. Through the courtesy of the New Eng. Tel. & Tel. Co., returns were received from all over the state and were transmitted from the local exchange, which was quite a busy place all the evening, to the telephone in the Town hall. W. W. Hoare handled the 'phone, and messengers carried the returns upstairs, where they were announced by Geo. S. Sinicks.

Returns were also furnished many private individuals by the telephone company, including a number of the cottagers along the shore.

A tabulated account of the vote in Manchester, and also of the districts for State Senator and for Congressman will be found in another column.

What They Had to Say.

Congressman Gardner's secretary, W. W. Lufkin, gave out the following statement at Hamilton the night of the election: "Congressman Gardner wishes to express his entire satisfaction with the result of the election, and particularly desires to thank the friends who carried on his campaign during his illness with results so satisfactory to him. The returns tallied very closely with the figures he expected from his canvass, and he thoroughly appreciates the honor which the voters of the Sixth Essex district have again bestowed upon him."

Senator Schofield was not at all down-hearted. He said: "I want to thank the people of this district for a practical victory. Reducing my opponent's plurality from 9000 to 4000 is, under the conditions under which it was done, a victory without the office. Taking into consideration that for the last four days I have been running against President Roosevelt, I am highly complimented."

Dr. Berle, whose sensational campaign against Cong. Gardner was a feature of the campaign, said: "Gardner is re-elected, but it took the President, one cabinet minister, one United States senator, one ex-governor, three attorneys general, and three congressmen to do it. Added to this, is the fact that we could not get Gardner himself on the stump. This saved him this time. The campaign against him two years hence begins tomorrow morning."

Dr. Berle has not "retired in peace" now that the campaign is over. He is again on the war path and says his "campaign against him (Gardner) two years hence begins tomorrow." What if Cong. Gardner doesn't run again, doctor?

MANCHESTER

A slight burglar scare was the only thing outside the election to jar the serenity of police circles, Tuesday. The caretaker at the Dr. W. J. Washburn estate notified the police in the early evening that a light was burning at the cottage corner of Masconomo and Beach streets. Visions of a burglar bold came up at once. Procuring the key to the house Officers Lee and Lomasney proceeded to the place and with the dexterity of seven-eyed sleuths entered and went to the room where the light was still burning. One of the workmen at the place during the day had probably left the electric light burning.

Mrs. Adelbert Salisbury and Mrs. Charles Herrick of Camden, Me., left here last Saturday morning after a few days' visit with their brother, Charles Mason and family.

Miss Agnes Carter entertained over Sunday Miss Bell Jones of Beverly.

Arthur Noyes has concluded his services as baggage master at the railroad station, and is succeeded by Lester Goldthwaite. Fred Leach is the new assistant baggage-master.

Special Matinees at Park Theatre

Shoppers who have occasion to visit Boston next week will have an opportunity of seeing a remarkable new play under curious conditions, for the latest effort of Mr. C. Haddon Chambers, "Sir Anthony," which is described as a comedy dealing with suburban life is to be given its first performance on any stage next Monday afternoon, Nov. 12, at the Park Theatre. During the week the play will be seen on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons only, and it is to be interpreted by a specially engaged company which will include William Norris, Herbert Standing, Verner Clarges, Joseph Twohey, Helen Lowell, Maud Crichton, Olive Wyndham, Mrs. Cooper Cliffe and Eda Bruna. The piece is under the direction of Liebler & Co., and has been given a splendid and appropriate scenic equipment.

MANCHESTER

James H. Rivers leaves today for a visit of a few weeks to Maine, where he will visit relatives in Lewiston and other points. He will go also to Togus for a visit with some of his former G. A. R. comrades and friends.

Charles A. Staten of Salem, the new deputy of North Shore lodge, A. O. U. W., paid his first official visit to the lodge Tuesday evening, accompanied by a delegation from John Endecott lodge of Salem. Mr. Staten is no stranger to North Shore lodge, as he has been a frequent visitor to the lodge.

William Ray and Lester Cheever have gone to Kennebunkport, Me., where they are working for Connolly Bros., of Beverly Farms, who have extensive work in process there.

Miss Carolyn E. Allen entertained a party of ten friends at her home in Vine street Monday evening with a birthday supper.

Mrs. Charles Andrews is having Mrs. Alexander Fraser of Boulundra Island, N. S., spend the winter with her, on Pleasant street.

James Newman, employed at the new Sacred Heart church, while hoisting a large stone into place one day this week, had the misfortune to be struck a stunning blow over the left ear by a piece of stone, which caused an ugly wound.

At the Phi Alpha Pi meeting last Friday evening H. W. Gibson, state secretary, spoke on "Chums."

Revee Pulsifer has been elected treasurer of the Gloucester High school fair to be held just before the Christmas holidays—one of the leading events of the school year at that city.

Last Monday evening T. B. Stone, recorder of North Shore lodge, A. O. U. W., delivered to Mrs. Emma C. Gregory, widow of the late Wm. H. Gregory, a draft for $2000, being the beneficiary due from the above named lodge. Mr. Gregory died at Stratham, N. H., Oct. 20, and the quickness in which his claim was paid through the efforts of the local lodge speaks well for the order.

Interesting Missionary Meeting at Manchester Yesterday

The Baptist Foreign Missionary society held a meeting and tea in the Baptist vestry yesterday afternoon and evening. Miss Mina Reade, Acting Secretary of the society, gave a talk on the work on the islands in the Pacific ocean, in the afternoon, and in the evening she again spoke before a very large congregation on "Our Work on Foreign Soil."

In opening her evening's talk she said that the society had been formed 35 years, and had grown yearly. "The work carried on is a work which the men cannot do wholly alone," she said, "so we ladies and girls have responded to their pleading call and come forward to do the work of education and teaching these foreign people to know God."

She told in a most interesting manner how and where the work was started, how one missionary, Mrs. Hovey, had sent into active service, 80 others, and how they trained 200 native women to teach the Bible.

At present, she explained, the society supported twelve schools, with 22,000 pupils. She told of the work done in the hospitals — there are five at present — and also the orphan and the kindergarten work. The great need of the society is more workers, more women and girls who will go into the field and labor.

At the close of the address Misses Olive Cook and Sadie Noyes sang, "Oh, Zion Hosts."

Seventy-seven Years Old

At her home on Pleasant street, yesterday, Mrs. S. F. Leach passed her 77th birthday. Though making no formal observance of the event a number of friends called to extend congratulations and wish her still many more years of life and happiness.

Handsome Endorsement

Hon. David I. Robinson, who received such a handsome endorsement throughout the county, Tuesday, for county treasurer, is a native of Manchester. Mr. Robinson's total vote was 31,115, a plurality of 13,450. Manchester gave him 297 votes, to 8 for Lavigne, Soc., and 87 for Parker, Dem.

SCHOOL NOTES

Among the visitors at school this week have been Miss Laura Saben, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Lewis White, Miss Mary Watson, Mrs. T. W. Long, Mrs. Alfred C. Needham, Mrs. Martin Flaherty and Mrs. Matthews.

A number of children from the various rooms have left this week for Boston, among whom were Thomas and Fred Healy, Arthur, Bertha and Gladys Norman, and George Grant.

The usual fire drill was given this week at the G. A. Priest School. The children from all the rooms were out of the building in forty-five seconds.

Gladys Semons has been out of school this week with a case of tonsillitis.

A set of new graded poetry readers have been installed in the various rooms of both schools this week.

Congratulations and best wishes were sent to D. L. Bingham, our venerable librarian, by the teachers and children of the G. A. Priest school Wednesday on the event of his 92 birthday.

Grade II leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being 98.37. The attendance of the other grades follow: IV, 98.18; VIII, 96.73; V, 95.34; III, 94.04; VI, 94.00; IX, 92.82; I, 90.52; VII, 88.06.

The case of diphtheria, of Marion Smith on Pleasant street, was of a very mild form. Another culture was sent to the State Board of Health the first of the week, after the anti-toxin had been used, and word was sent back that no germs were present. The house was fumigated yesterday.

You will find that Mlle. Keyou's is the place to go for a hat. Everything in the line of Millinery and Novelties in Neckwear to be found at 113 Main street, Gloucester. *

D. L. Bingham Celebrates his Ninety-second Birthday

Delucena L. Bingham, Manchester's venerable and respected librarian, passed his 92d milestone in life Wednesday attending to his usual duties at the library and at his home on the corner of School and Vine streets, where a number of his friends called during the day to extend congratulations. Among the notes of congratulation was the following from the teachers and pupils of the G. A. Priest school, which it is unnecessary to say Mr. Bingham appreciated most of all:

"G. A. Priest School, Nov. 7, 1906.

"My Dear Mr. Bingham:

"The teachers and pupils of the G. A. Priest school wish to extend congratulations and best wishes to you on this your ninety-second birthday.

"Sincerely yours,

"Albert W. Mead, Principal."

Mr. Bingham was born in Manchester, Nov. 7, 1814, and with the exception of a few years spent in the West, he has spent practically all his life here. For the past 24 years he has been librarian, and he holds the distinction of being the oldest librarian in the state. He has always been identified with the best public welfare of the town.

Wanted—in Ward 6—candidates for the coming city election who will, if elected, once in a while vote "No" upon the questions of spending money in cases where present needs do not demand it, for such sentiment is fully expressed by many here, who have just received their tax bills which show increases over last year. Especially is it desired by the real estate owners here that the next year will be one of economy to such an extent at least that no further increase in the rate will have to be endured for a time.

Miss Anna C. Connolly opened her classes in gymnastics and dancing in Marshall's hall last Tuesday afternoon and evening, which were very successful affairs. The course of lessons will be given each Tuesday.

The Oliver Wendall Holmes Council, Knights of Columbus, at their last meeting initiated several new members into the mysteries of the order.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Day entertained a party of their friends and neighbors last Wednesday afternoon and evening at their home on Hale street, it being a sort of a birthday party for their little son, who was one year old.

M. Silverberg, the West street tailor, has closed his place of business and moved to Boston for the winter.

Tomorrow Messrs. Frank Rand and John Daniels leave for a ten days' vacation trip to be spent gunning for large game in the vicinity of Caribou Lake, Island Falls, Me. Mr. Rand goes every year, and has yet to fail upon his return, to pass around to his friends choice cuts of delicious venison.

John C. McCarthy and Horace F. Appleton have taken out nomination papers for councilman from Ward 6. They are the present members and each have already served in this capacity three years, and are at present the only ones in the field as candidates for the lower branch.

The Embroidery Class will meet with Mrs. J. M. Publicover, High street, next Tuesday afternoon.

A goodly number of friends and neighbors called upon Mr. and Mrs. Mattis Hanson one day the early part of the week and joined with them in a quiet celebration of the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. Stephen Burnett of Westfield has been spending the greater part of the week at the Farms with relatives.

A delegation from John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers attended the installation and banquet of the Peabody colony, Wednesday evening.

Election Day

The excellent weather Tuesday was responsible to some extent for the large vote cast, their being a total of 259, 20 more than last year. The complete vote of Ward 6 will be found on page 13.

Preston W. R. C., 93, held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Florence Haynes, Salem, chairman of the Essex County table at the Department Fair, to be held in Boston Nov. 12-17, and Mrs. Fred W. Lane, president of the Manchester corps, were present. The members of the local corps are working hard for the big fair and any donation would be gratefully received by the president, Mrs. Alice L. Preston.

Mrs. Thomas Gauld, past president of Preston W. R. C., inspected the Essex corps on Wednesday evening.

Work was started this week by Messrs. Connolly Bros. in making changes and improvements upon Thisel street at Pride's Crossing, near the Frick estate, consisting of a considerable change in the grade, necessitating the blasting out of ledge and excavations of earth. The new street will be somewhat wider and built of macadam.

Mrs. Robert Smith of Manchester, England, sailed from Liverpool the first of the week and is expected to reach Beverly Farms tomorrow or Monday, to join her husband, who has lately made Beverly Farms his permanent home.

Allen Campbell, who was last week obliged to have his leg amputated above the knee at the Beverly Hospital, is reported to be quite cheerful, comfortable, and getting along as well as could be expected.

Thos. J. McDonnell, the Neighbor's hall plumber, is a busy man these days. Besides the numerous smaller work which the fall season always brings, he is engaged in carrying out the following contracts: installing heating apparatus in C. E. Brown's house, Beverly; new heating plant at the Central Fire station, also plumbing and heating at the new fire house at North Beverly; plumbing and heating in the new parochial residence of St. Margaret's church, and the same in the new residence of John Ferguson at Manchester; heating in the automobile house of John Caswell, also plumbing and heating in his own new residence at Beverly Farms.

After a season's vacation, the embroidery class, composed of about fourteen Beverly Farms ladies, took up their work on Thursday afternoon, meeting at the home of Mrs. George F. Wood on Hart street.

F. W. Varney at his drug store in Central square and Station Agent Rand at the local station gave out the returns on Tuesday evening to interested crowds.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stevens (nee Hopkins), of Springfield, just married, came to the Farms Wednesday evening, and are spending their honeymoon at the Pitch Pine hall. The bride is a relative of Mrs. Otis H. Luke.

William Roberts and family have moved from Preston place into the Frank McDonald house, Webster street.

Wednesday night was an interesting one for Preston Post No. 188, the annual inspection of the Post by Commander Edwin P. Standley and staff from Allen Post 67 of Manchester taking place on that evening. After the inspection the associates joined with the veterans and a very pleasant evening was spent, all entering into the spirit of the occasion. The camp fire was lighted and rations were passed around after which the pipe was passed, and everyone had to "smoke up" for self protection. Speeches and story telling, together with singing of patriotic songs, were in order.

Mrs. Emma Gregory (nee Emma Hannable), widow of the late William Gregory, formerly of this place, but of late years of Stratham, N.H., and children, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hannable on High street.

Lawrence Diggins returned Tuesday evening from a visit to Nova Scotia and Cape Breton Island, where he has been visiting relatives.

The Ward 6 election officers on Tuesday last had the honor of being the first in the city to send in the returns of the vote cast.

Rep. William R. Brooks has been serving on the jury in the Superior Civil court session at Salem the past week.

Ralph Holmes has been confined to the house most of the past week, due to illness.

A delegation from John West Colony of Pilgrim Fathers will attend the exercises and banquet of the De Sota Colony at Lynn next Wednesday evening.

Wednesday last was the first night of the series of the popular card tournament which is to be given by the local Knights of Columbus and Foresters in aid of the fund to pay expenses for renovating and changing the basement of St. Margaret's church, and a large crowd consisting of young and old were present and all enjoyed the evening immensely. The winners in whist were as follows: First lady's prize, a set of glass tumblers, Miss Rose Sweeney; second lady's prize, a Japanese teapot, Mrs. John Hallisey; consolation, a dozen clothes pins, Miss Mary Dougherty; first gent's prize, pair driving gloves, Edward Sullivan; second gent's prize, pair buck gloves, William Saunders; consolation, pantaloons hanger, Wm. Burns. In the game of "45" there was much keen competition and the winners were: first prize, pair dress gloves, James Fanning; second prize, pair buck gloves, George Twitchell. The meetings will be held on one night of each week until further notice and at the end a prize will be awarded to the winner in each event, to those having the best total scores. The parties are being held in Marshall's hall.

"The College Widow"

Henry W. Savage's splendid production of George Ade's most brilliant comedy, "The College Widow," comes to the Tremont Theatre again next Monday. The sterling worth and wonderful success of this delightful play is too fresh in the memory of local theatre-goers to require any special laudation. It is well known that "The College Widow" remained a whole season at the Garden Theatre, New York, two years ago, and last year two companies of equal excellence were organized, and nearly every city of importance in the country was visited, where it was received by crowded houses and remarkable enthusiasm. The four beautiful scenes have been newly painted, and the same care and attention will be given to the artistic detail of the presentation that distinguishes all of Henry W. Savage's productions.

In other words, half a stated sum rightly spent will produce effects that its double will not do if in-everything required for the fitting up of the home is at their immediate command. Where rugs and carpets can readily be matched to wall papers and upholstery stuffs, where a home from the furnace to the astic customers, willing to testify to the proficiency of its efforts and its economic principles, a clientele that reaches all over this immediate vicinity and

PLENTY WATER

Manchester Board Confident They Have Plenty Water at Beaver Dam—Result of Test Exceeds Expectations

Those who have had some apprehension as to the future water supply of Manchester, may rest assured there is no need of such fear. The tests that have been in progress at Beaver Dam Meadow the past few months have demonstrated the fact that there is more water there than has ever been dreamed of.

The results show that there is a veritable reservoir there some 40 or 50 feet under ground. Supt. Andrews is of the opinion a million gallons a day can be taken from that locality.

With 20 driven wells, all within a small radius, from 300,000 to 600,000 gallons a day have been pumped, and now, running only eight hours a day, 29,000 gallons an hour are being pumped. And the wells driven in other parts of the "meadow," widely separated from these 20, show water in large quantities.

The water commissioners have given much time and close attention to the matter of additional water supply and better service, as the present supply has been such at times as to cause some fear. There have been times when the consumption has been fully equal to the supply. With the normal increase in the consumption of water staring them in the face, it was therefore a matter of much concern to the board to look about for some further supply.

Freeman C. Coffin, the well-known civil engineer and expert in water works construction was employed, and his report was published in the Town Report last year.

He recommended developing the Beaver Dam project, so-called.

The State Board of Health, however, said that in view of the probable cost of the works necessary for collecting the water at Beaver Dam, and conveying it to the present pumping station and the uncertainty as to the

NOVEMBER

BY JOSEPH D. TORREY

Gone are the long, bright, golden Summer hours,

And thro' the valley, o'er the hillside bleak,
The chilly winds of Autumn moan and shriek,

Scattering with ruthless hands the leaves and flowers.

Ah! What a weary fruitless life is ours!

What vain delights, what phantoms do we seek,

Ere Time has plucked the roses from our cheek

Or planted thorns in Youth's enchanted bowers.

Soon Disappointment with its killing frost,

Ushers the Winter of our Discontent,

The Harvest passed, the joyous Summer spent,

Hopes fled, joys scattered, peace and comfort lost.

Patience, poor Heart! There is a softer clime,

Where Spring abides, beyond the bounds of Time.

yield of the source, advised "that further tests be made to determine the probable yield of the source and the means necessary for the purification of the water."

Accordingly at the annual town meeting this year an appropriation was made to carry out the work along the lines advised by the State Board, namely, to make a "quantity test."

Twenty wells were driven in the meadow, above Beaver Dam, all on the easterly side of the Manchester-Essex road. These are 2½ inches in diameter, and connect with 3-in. pipes, which in turn connect with 8-in. mains. The mains connect with a suction pump. The work of driving the wells had to be delayed necessarily until well along in the summer, as the water in the meadow made working quite difficult.

The tests were started on Sept. 18, and the pump was worked for a while 24 hours, in three shifts. Under these conditions from 300,000 to 600,000 gallons a day were pumped. Of late the work has been kept up only 8 hours a day, and under this test 29,000 an hour, or an average of 700,000 gallons a day have been

Manchester Startled by Six More Breaks in Summer Cottages at the Cove this Week

The burglar scare which Manchester had in the early fall, before the summer season had scarcely closed, has been renewed during the past week, five breaks being made at Manchester Cove on Tuesday night, and as we go to press there is a report that the Monks' cottage at the Cove has also been broken into. All of the houses but one are on University lane, well off the highway and rightly located for work of this kind.

As the houses were all closed some weeks ago and the families returned to their city homes, taking about everything of any value with them except furniture, the burglars probably obtained very little of value.

Whatever the losses may have been, however, it only demonstrates the necessity of watchmen all along the shore during the winter months, such as many of the summer residents are now providing for.

The houses broken into were those of Myron C. Wick, Youngstown, O.; Harvey Childs, Pittsburg, Pa.; Dr. Walter Channing, Brookline; the late Henry G. Nichols, all on University lane, and Isaac S. West, of New Orleans, the latter off Summer street.

Entrance was made into the Wick house by cutting out the panel of the front door, so that one could reach the bolt on the inside and thus open the door. The other houses were entered through the windows.

The police looked over all the houses entered, and so far as they could see, nothing was taken from any of them, though in several cases the contents of bureau drawers were turned out on the floor, and everything was scattered around.

It was probably the work of amateurs. Chief Peabody thought a jimmy had been used in forcing one of the windows. No definite clue has yet been discovered.

CENTRAL SQUARE, MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER

Misses Grace Macgregor and Alice Haraden left yesterday on an 11 days' vacation trip to New York, Washington, Philadelphia and other points in that section, going on the Fall River boat to New York last night. Misses Clara and Jennie Sargent are accompanying them as far as New York, to be away about a week.

Supt. Chas. E. Fish attended the meeting of the North Shore Round Table at the Salem Normal school yesterday afternoon. Last evening he attended the meeting of the Friday Evening club at Young's, in Boston. Mr. Fish had the leading paper of the evening, his subject being "Henry James as a Literary Type."

A. E. Johnstone and family have moved from the Willmorton house, 3 Pleasant street, to the Leach house on Bridge street, formerly occupied by Ellery Rogers and family. Thomas McDonald and family have hired the Willmorton tenement.

Samuel Knight & Sons have erected two large derricks on either end of their wharf, and with the aid of a dredging scoop they are removing considerable of the mud flats from in front of the wharf, especially on the westerly end. The deposit is being hauled to Mr. Knight's field, near the channel.

The Ballou Club fair, which proved such a popular affair last year, and which will attract many people from Manchester and Beverly Farms again this year, will be held the week of Dec. 3-8, at City hall, Beverly, which will be transformed into an electrical garden party.

Miss Christina McKim has returned from a week's visit in Laconia, N.H., her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Maloon, returning with her. To the latter the visit is of particular significance as she and her brother, Elias McKim, have not seen each other for 35 years.

M. E. Gorman has built a small dam at the meadow near the junction of Pine and Pleasant streets and will make a small pond of the place, the purpose being to provide a place in which to keep logs prior to being put through the saw-mill. There is nothing of truth in the report Mr. Gorman is going to enter the ice business, he says.

Mr and Mrs. Chas. H. Florence returned to West Newton for the winter, on Wednesday. Mr. Florence is the electrician at R. C. Hooper's.

Mrs. William Walen and son, William, have just returned from a week's visit with the former's sister in Concord, N.H.

Frank P. Knight has plans out for changing over the Fitz barn, so-called, on the property adjoining his own which he bought several years ago, into a seven or eight room cottage, in which will be installed all the modern conveniences.

The Manchester Electric Co. are to extend their conduits to the A. I. Croll, George M. Morgan and S. Parker Bremer estates on the further end of Smith's Point, and have recently completed laying the conduits from Mr. Bremer's house to the street.

Conomo tribe of Red Men will hold another interesting meeting next Wednesday evening. Another feast of corn and venison will be served.

Lethbridge -- Magnuson

This evening, at the home of the bride's brother in Roxbury, William James Lethbridge of Manchester and Miss Olga Sofia Magnuson of Roxbury, will be united in marriage. It will be a very quiet affair and will be attended by the immediate connections only. Miss Bessie Lethbridge, a sister of the groom, and Hugh Magnuson, a brother of the bride, will be the couple's only attendants. After a brief wedding trip the young people will come to Manchester and will live for the present on Summer street, Manchester.

Miss Mary Colgate Colby who has been occupying the Cabot Lane House, Beverly Farms, the past season left the shore a few days ago for her winter home, 22 East 23rd street, New York.

Miss Amy McMillan who is a great favorite among the younger set along the North Shore, is to be presented by her grandmother, Mrs James McMillan, in Washington this winter, and her introduction will be one of social events of the winter at the capital. She traveled abroad with her grandmother the past season, leaving Manchester the middle of August.

Mrs. C. H. Tweed went over to New York Monday for a brief stay. Mr. Tweed is still abroad. Their house at Beverly Farms will remain open for some time yet.

The Allen L. Daniels are still lingering at Beverly Farms. Mr. Daniels was in Colorado Springs the early part of the week.

Roller Skating Fad.

The rejuvenated roller skating fad has captured the Boston smart set. Society has revived skating this winter, the fashionable are forming classes in all sets and practice has begun. That the fashionable set finds rink skating such good fun and such good exercise is an established fact, and the management of the Park Square Roller Skating Rink are greatly pleased and highly complimented by this class of attendance. History repeats itself.

The Boston Winter Carnival, which will be run in conjunction with the rink and occupying the entire front of the building, will open to the public November 19th, with over a score of stellar attractions and up-to-date novelties. This carnival will be offered to the public from a broad-minded standpoint, no admission charged, free band concerts, and free circus acts, all these being offered for the patrons. The rink is doing phenomenal business and looks beautiful in its new dress of 150,000 yards of fire-proofed bunting.

CHURCH NOTES

Manchester

"Christ our High Priest," will be the theme of Rev. E. H. Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. At the People's evening service he will talk on "The Wages of Sin."

Monday evening a delegation from the Baptist church will attend the "Gipsy" Smith evangelistic meeting in Tremont Temple, Boston.

The Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday evening with Miss Lila Morse, North street.

The following officers were elected last Sunday at the annual meeting of the Baptist Bible school: Robert Baker, superintendent; J. Davis Baker, ass. supt. Miss Emma Prest, sec'y; Miss Alice Tappan, asst. sec'y; Miss Lucy Baker, auditor; Miss Nellie M. Leonard, treasurer. The election of a librarian was held over till tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. Lincoln will exchange tomorrow, at both the morning and evening services, with Rev. W. S. Eaton of Wenham.

The Ministering Circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday evening with Mrs. Eliza Crombie, Pleasant street. Subject: "Sleep."

Next Wednesday evening the annual roll-call and supper of the Baptist church will be held in the vestry. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, and the invitation is extended to all members of the church, husbands and wives of members and all members of other churches worshipping with the church. A program of unusual interest has been provided by the advisory committee.

The social of the Church Aid society of the Baptist church, scheduled for Thursday evening, was postponed because of the storm.

The Young People's societies of the Salem association of Baptist churches met at the local church this week on Wednesday evening, and the meeting, which was a very interesting one, was a sort of reception to the newly-elected officers of the association, of which Rev. E. H. Brewster is president. A large delegation was present from Salem. Mr. Chapman of the Central Baptist church of that place read the scriptures and J. Davis Baker of the local church offered prayer. Rev. E. H. Brewster gave a short address on "Bible Power." Several interesting talks were given by visiting members, notably Mrs. Choate, Miss Haynes and Mr. Chapman of Salem. A social hour followed, refreshments being served by the local social committee. This was the first of a series of like meetings which it is purposed to hold during the winter in the various churches of the association.

A special offering will be taken at a Sunday morning service in the Congregational church very soon in aid of the San Francisco churches. This was decided by a vote taken at the Tuesday evening service.

Another case of diphtheria is reported,—this one being on Pine street.

The work of installing a metal ceiling at the Chapel is practically completed. Electric lights are now being installed by G. A. Knoerr.

Wednesday Evening Club

The executive committee of the Wednesday Evening club, Manchester, have voted to hold six entertainments this winter. The first will be held on Dec. 12, and will be

Society in Manchester

Steps have been taken to form a choral society in Manchester, with Arthur S. Wonson of Gloucester as director. The first meeting will be held on Wednesday evening of next week or the week following, probably, in the chapel. The announcement, however, will be made in due season in the churches.

The "King Pin" Street Builder

Manchester has in Superintendent of Streets George Kimball, the "king-pin" road builder of the state. At least he is proclaimed such by other superintendents who have been to Manchester to see his streets.

Yesterday half a dozen or more of the superintendents from various parts of the state came to Manchester to look over his work. They arrived on the 1.30 train. At Lee's hall one of those cock stews for which this locality is justly famous, was served, Chas. O. Howe and Curtis Stanley being the "chefs." Selectmen Sweet, Bell and Knight assisted Supt. Kimball in entertaining. After dinner the party went over the roads.

The great problem at present in road construction is to get a road bed that will stand the wear and tear of automobiles. Mr. Kimball has hit upon the best thing thus far in his pitch-tar-macadam process.

His road is pervious to water, has no mud, no dust, and is in many other ways far ahead of roads elsewhere. One point in his favor, of course, is the fact Manchester is willing to pay good money for her roads, while the average town or city has to economize.

Bishop Wm. N. McVicar of Providence, R.I., one of the Beverly Cove summer colony, and his sister, Miss E. C. Mrs. Hall Curtis has opened her town house this week. Her son, John S. Curtis, will remain at Beverly Farms a few weeks longer, however, and will be a guest of his sister, Mrs. R. C. Heaton, who keeps "The Red House," on Hale street, open throughout the winter.

Among the week's departures for Boston were Dr. Morton Prince, the Horace D. Chapins, and the Allen Curtises, all of whom have closed their Beverly Farms cottages. The R. S. Bradleys have closed their place at Pride's Crossing.

Henry C. Frick has contributed $500 towards the erection of the new Centerville chapel, upon which work has already been started on Standley street, Beverly.

Col. Wm. Nelson of Kansas City who planned to come on and look over his new house in Magnolia, is visiting Egypt where he intends to stay till March when he will come to Magnolia to spend a week. His house will be completed by that time.

An additional appropriation of $5,000 for next year's work for the further improvement of Manchester harbor is asked for by Gen. McKenzie, Chief of Engineers, U.S.A., in making up his appropriations for river and harbor work for the next fiscal year. Here is where Manchester can appreciate the services of Cong. Gardner if he can bring about this appropriation. He assured our committee who went to Washington last winter on the matter that he would do his best to secure some help this year.

The Social Education Congress to be held in Boston on Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2 will bring together many prominent educators. The object of the Congress is to emphasize the need of increased efficiency in social and industrial training.

Gunners have been more active than usual this fall owing to the fact the law has been off on some game, and many have taken advantage of the law by shooting everything within reach. One instance of this was the shooting of several handsome gray squirrels that have made their home on one of the Smith's Point estates for many years, and have been quite tame.

WHISPERINGS

Charlie Goon, one of the Celestials who conduct the laundry on Beach street, Manchester, had his queue cut off this week. At first glance this item may not seem worth recording, but to the parties concerned, namely: the barber and the barbered, it is of utmost importance. In the first place, it is the first pendant braid of hair on the back of a Chinaman's head that Charles Frances, the barber, has ever had the experience to place a pair of shears in contact with. And in the second place it is the first time said Chinaman has ever had his hair cut. It means also that whatever hopes or aspirations he had of returning to his native home are now dashed, for a Chinaman who returns to his country minus his queue is doomed.

"Gigantic Fish Trust Forms," says the Thursday morning papers. Is John Bennett, the Nestor of Manchester fishermen, to join the trust? He says not. This venerable old fisherman, almost 75 years of age, is daunted not by cold winds or high seas. He fears not a repetition of his experience of last year when he was blown off shore and was picked up in the vicinity of Thatcher's Island. Every morning he starts from the town wharf in his dory and either rows or sails down the harbor to the Breakers. Monday he returned a little after noon with over 100 pounds of cod. It is a wonder to other fishermen where he gets such good fish.

The other day he brought in one that weighed 27 pounds. He always finds a ready market for his catch. He has lived alone since his wife died a year ago.

Real Estate
And Improvements

Preparations are now being made to rebuild about a mile and a half of the Essex-Manchester road, on the Essex end, this being brought about through the efforts of Col. Wm. D. Sohier and others of the summer colony. It will be a state road. Of the amount necessary for the work the State Highway commission have offered $400, the town of Essex $250 and subscriptions from Wm. D. Sohier and others $250 more, making a total of $900. Manchester has agreed to put her end of the road in as good condition as the other end. The Essex-Manchester road has offered one of the choicest wood-drives along the shore, but the wretched condition of the road in some places, especially on the Essex end has detracted much from the drive of late.

A beautiful Italian garden is to be built upon the estate of Henry P. King at Pride's Crossing, work being started there by Connolly Bros., of Beverly Farms, the early part of the week. The garden will be located on the water side of the residence. The work consists in part of formal gardens, with pools, numerous walks, flower beds, rustic walls, concrete balustrade and a Temple at one end surrounded by obelisks. The designs are from Messrs. Little & Brown, architects, of Boston, and from the plans it would seem that this will be one of the most unique and original layouts on the North Shore.

Miss Eleanor Andrews is spending the week-end at Beverly a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Huntoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard, who have been spending the summer at the former's native home in Ireland, arrived home quite recently and are now located at Manchester Cove. Mr. Leonard is Col. H. E. Russell's chauffeur.

Mrs. Ernest Mead of Wellesley Farms was in town on a brief visit the middle of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Bell and little son have been spending a few days with friends in Roxbury this week.

Miss Etta Taylor, who teaches in Amesbury, was home over the week-end.

Quite a large addition has been built on the easterly end of Warren Heath's cottage at the Cove by Roberts & Hoare.

Injunction and Civil Suit.

The Town of Manchester, through its counsel, Mr. Underwood, has brought an injunction against Frederick Burnham, restraining him from further excavating in his gravel pit along the line of Arbella street. Suit in equity has been brought against him to ascertain the town's position in the matter and to recover damages for the abutment wall which has now become undermined, part of it having fallen.

The case is to be called at the December term of the Superior Court in Salem.

The O. H. Lukes and the Neal Rantouls were down to their respective cottages at Beverly Farms over the week-end.

Arthur Richmond and family who went abroad after leaving Beverly Farms in September arrived home from England last week.

Mrs. Jane Watson has opened a private class in social dancing to meet on Monday evenings in the Legion of Honor hall, 200 Huntington ave., Boston.

Messrs. Walker Bros. & Co. concluded their season at the Farms this week, closing their store in Central square and removing to Boston.

Messrs. Publicover Bros. is a busy concern these days and have a large force of men at work. They have just completed an addition to Chas. H. Dalton's house, also building a dairy at Round Plain Farm for John Caswell, and are at present building an addition to Mr. Caswell's automobile house.

Driver William S. Pike of the local fire department is on the sick list, having contracted a severe cold a few days ago. James Wright is substituting.

President Mrs. Alice Preston, Mrs. Elmer Standley and Mrs. W. B. Publicover of Preston W.R.C., attended the Department Fair in Paul Revere hall, Boston, on Wednesday and were among those who had charge for that day of the Essex County fair table.

John Woodbury, clerk at Daniel's market, recently met with a very painful accident which has put him for a while on the retired list—due to a wrench to his arm and a cut from a hook in the ice chest with which he came in contact while carrying a heavy piece of beef, in an effort to save himself from a fall.

At the present writing the Ward 6 political situation remains practically the same as that of last week. Alderman Robt. E. Hodgkins is out with nomination papers seeking a return to the upper branch, which position he has had the honor to occupy for the past two terms. Councilmen Horace F. Appleton and John C. McCarthy are also seeking a return to the "Kindergarten" branch, which, if elected in the coming election will make four years they each will serve the city in this capacity. Another candidate will be necessary at least to make up the quota needed to represent Ward 6 at City hall, but as yet no one has ventured forth. Mayor Jos. A. Wallis and President of the Board of Aldermen S. Hervey Dow, both candidates for mayor, have their supporters here and their nomination papers have been in circulation each securing their share of signers.

Bishop Lawrence on Thursday announced to the committee from the local Episcopal churches that it had been decided that as soon as arrangements could be made, St. John's church at the Farms would be made a parish of its own with a permanent rector. At present it is a mission church of St. Peter's.

Preble's Market, under the management of Thos. F. Wheelan will keep open during the coming winter. *

A very pleasant whist party was given in the T. M. McKee house in Beverly Farms Thursday evening, a week ago, by Miss Mary McCormack. Prizes were won by Miss Nellie Donovan, first lady's; Miss Nellie Murphy, second; Mrs. Linehan of Boston, third. The first prize for men was won by James Connors. Among the others present were Misses Theresa McCormack, Mary Tracy and Mary Herman McDonald has accepted a position as stenographer and clerk in Governor Guild's office at the State House, and has already entered upon his duties.

Mis Alice Witham has resumed her duties as assistant at the local post office.

A patching-up of the concrete in spots on the various side walks, a couple of new cross walks and a few feet of new curbing have added recently to the comfort of the walking populace at the Farms. As some unkind person has been heard to remark, this comes but once a year — and that just before election.

A delegation from John West Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, were guests of Desota colony at Lynn, Wednesday evening.

Herbert Betts sails today on the "Sagamore" for his old home in England, where he will remain with his friends until after the holidays.

After 20 years of service as engineer and janitor at the West street engine house, Marshall T. Larcom has tendered his resignation to take effect Nov. 21. Mrs. Larcom is one of the veterans of the fire department and has been the engineer of the local Steamer 3 since it was installed here. He is popular at the Farms and has many friends all over the city. The continuous confinement to which one in a position of this kind is subject has the effect of making one long for a little freedom, and this is the cause of Engineer Larcom's retirement. The appointment of a successor comes now under the civil service rules and there will, no doubt, be several candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Leonard of Stamford, Conn., are spending a few days with friends at the Farms.

The second party in the card tournament in aid of securing funds towards improvement and changes in the basement of St. Margaret's church, was held in Marshall's hall on Wednesday evening, and as on the previous occasion a large crowd was present and entered into the spirit of the gathering. At the conclusion of the play the prizes were awarded the winners. The next of the series will be held next week.

A large representation from Oliver Wendell council, K. of C., on last Wednesday evening joined with the Beverly council at the latter place, in the workings of the third degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Knowles have rented a suite of rooms in the Mrs. Emily Ober residence opposite the local depot.

A concert and dance is scheduled to take place next Friday evening in Marshall's hall. Long's orchestra will furnish the music.

Rev. Fr. N. R. Walsh is to give a stereopticon lecture at St. Margaret's church on Thanksgiving evening on "Romé." Having spent five years in Rome at the American college, Fr. Walsh is especially well versed on a subject of this kind and his lecture will be of much interest, no doubt.

Mr. and Mrs. James Emo of the Elmwood Farm, Lewiston, Me., have moved to Pickett court and expect to make this town their future residence.

Mattis Hanson has spent several days of this week visiting relatives at Melrose.

Wm. H. McKeigue

The sudden and sad news of the death of William H. McKeigue, which occurred on last Monday forenoon while at work upon the new parochial residence, came as a great shock to the community where the young man had spent all his life and had always been a great favorite. While in the past not entirely free from ailments, his troubles were considered only small ones, and such a thing as his demise was almost the last thing thought of. He was a young man of sterling character and made friends of all he met. He was a member of the Holy Name Society, Oliver Wendell Holmes Council, K. of C., the local Stone Masons' Union, and the Hardy Social club, and in all of these organizations he was one of the most active members.

Funeral services were held at his late residence on Everett street, Wednesday morning, and later at St. Margaret's church. Interment was in the Beverly Farms cemetery.

PLENTY WATER

pumped. This water is turned into the brook and flows through the Channel to the sea.

The wells are driven to a depth of 40 to 50 feet. The area of the watershed that is tributary to the source is approximately 2.8 sq. miles. Wells have been driven all over this area and water flows from all of them. A record of each is taken each day. If the above results are obtained from the 20 wells connected at present, what would be the result of twice or three times that number of wells?

In driving the wells a stratum of coarse sand was first encountered after passing through the black mud of the meadow, and beyond that, at an average depth of 40 to 50 feet is a stratum of gravel. It is in this stratum the water is found.

The test is being conducted by Supt. F. M. Andrews, of the Manchester water works, under the supervision of the consulting engineers Coffin & Thorp, which firm is getting out a report to be submitted to the State Board.

The filter test has not yet been made, though Supt. Andrews would have had this part of the work in hand some time ago had he not been bothered in obtaining competent labor. He was informed by the labor men that he could not use his workmen but 8 hours a day. The test will be made, no doubt, this fall.

While there can now be no doubt in the minds of the State Board as to the quantity of water, their attention will now be turned to quality. While the amount of iron found is not in excess of the average water, it is in far greater proportion than in the present supply. The iron can probably be removed by filtration.

SCHOOL NOTES

Manchester

Miss Laura I. Norton of Grade 1 was called to her home in Middlebury, Conn., this week on a matter of business and Mrs. Frank G. Cheever, who formerly taught in this grade, has been substituting. Miss Norton will be back to her duties Monday.

The exhibit of the school work from all the grades, which is always to be seen in the large hall at the Price Primary school, is a matter of much interest to those who visit this building. The display is always changing and there is always something new to be seen.

Arthur Andrews and Roger McKim have returned to the Kindergarten after several weeks absence with illness.

Among the visitors to the grades this week were: Mrs. Charles Dodge, Mrs. Otis M. Stanley, Mrs. Hollis L. Roberts, Miss Fannie Knight, Miss Alice Knight, Miss Alice Clark, Mrs. Elmer Butler, Miss Helen Mason, Mrs. C. D. Temple, Mrs. Temple, sr., and Mrs. Harold Nathan.

Mr. Mead has recently purchased several new selections for the school orchestra which the children are practicing and which will be used for the school to march out by.

Allen Post Inspection

The annual inspection of Allen Post 67, G. A. R., was held at G. A. R. hall, Manchester, last Friday evening Commander Gardner of the Gloucester Post being the inspecting officer. After the work a bounteous collation was served the members, Associates and guests, and this was followed by informal speech-making.

The sentiment was expressed by most of the speakers that an effort should be made to get more Associate members. Com. E. P. Stanley said: "We should let the Associates know that we all want them here. We should make them feel more at home, and let them know that while they give their financial assistance they can give us social encouragement. We feel and need the encouragement that comes with their social intercourse with us here."

Com. Gardner made some interesting remarks pertaining to the general welfare of the order as did also J. V. Com. A. S. Jewett who spoke briefly of the good work done by Sen. Schofield on the Soldier's Bounty Bill. Com. Charles Day of the Beverly Farms Post recalled the days when he was a boy and he used to go on Town hill and look down on the Baptist church where his father rung the bell for so many years. His brother, Adj. Eben Day of Beverly Farms also spoke.

S. V. Com. Enoch Crombie, Associates John Baker and Horace Standley were called upon and made brief remarks.

Fitch -- Lindsay

Mrs. Ethel Tucker Lindsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Tucker of Boston and Manchester, was married Wednesday to Charles Fitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra C. Fitch of Boston and Manchester. The wedding took place at noon at the home of the bride's parents, on Bay State Road, and was a very quiet affair, only members of the two families being present. Rev. Arthur Little of the Second Congregational church, Dorchester, was the officiating clergyman.

The announcement of the wedding was, no doubt, a great surprise to the many friends of the young couple. Though no announcement of the engagement was made, it was an open secret among the closest friends of the young people at Manchester, where the families own adjoining estates on Norton's Point, that the wedding might take place this fall.

It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Fitch to reside in Montreal where Mr. Fitch is in charge of the affairs of the American Waltham Watch company, of which his father is president. They will, no doubt, spend their summers in Manchester as usual.

Automobile Travel vs. Good Roads

Supt. George Kimball and Civil Eng. Allen attended the quarterly meeting and dinner of the Mass. Highway association, of which Mr. Kimball is the vice president, in the Copley Square hotel Tuesday afternoon.

The subject of good roads always form the nucleus of the discussions on these occasions, and Tuesday the special topic discussed was the effect that automobile travel has upon the road-bed through the weight of the machines and more especially through the disintegrating action of the rubber tires upon the materials of which the roads are constructed. It was represented, for one thing, that the rapidity of movement combined with the flexibility of the rubber tires occasions a vacuum between the tire and surface of the road, and that the result is that small particles of the surfacing material are wrenched off and soon nothing is left but the rough and jagged underbody of the road.

The right remedy for the dust nuisance came in for a good deal of discussion. The results of experiments which have been made by the metropolitan park commission, the Boston park commission and at Brookline and Beverly Farms were told. None of these, however, had been of so general and comprehensive a character as to be fully decisive in respect to all localities or for all seasons of the year.

Authorities Fear that New Bug Will Destroy Trees as did Gipsy

Now that the authorities feel they have succeeded in getting the gipsy and brown-tail moths under subjection and are experimenting on methods to totally exterminate them from the country, a new, and possibly more dangerous moth turns up. It is called by the scientists "cuidocampa flaccicans," but is known to the residents of Dorchester, where it has been found in great numbers, as the Japanese moth.

This moth is believed to be more hardy than the gipsy or brown-tail, and is known to increase with great rapidity. It is most destructive to maple, black birch, cherry and mountain ash trees, attacking these trees first and devouring the tender bark and leaves with great avidity. It does not confine its work of destruction to these trees, however, but will attack all trees known to New England.

In color the new bug is a beautiful lemon, this changing to a purple near the body. The wings spread an inch and a half. It is a much more beautiful and graceful bug than either the gipsy or brown-tail.

From investigation it was learned that the moth was brought to this country from Japan several years ago by a party of Japanese who came to the Japanese Hospital on Blue Hill avenue.

Authorities are greatly disturbed over the discovery of the moths in such quantities and are urging that immediate steps be taken for their extermination. It is feared that before many years have elapsed it will become as great a menace to our New England trees as the gipsy and brown-tail moths. The species has been found nowhere else in the country, but the rapid spread in Dorchester is alarming, and steps will soon be taken to prevent its spread throughout the state.

The nests, which are found at this season of the year, look like little knots on the branches. It is not easy to distinguish them from the wood, so near the same color are they. In the spring these nests break open and thousands of eggs are hatched, and in time the now dreaded moth begins its work of destruction. What remedy will cure the evil is not as yet known, but if the nests are destroyed now much work will be saved in the spring.

The Store That's Different

The ordinary parlor things look just the same in your house as they do in anybody else's. That isn't your idea of attractiveness, is it? "Novelty" is the secret of fine impressions. We study novelties—one of a kind, for you and no one else.

For Bric=a=Brac

Like a parlor table and yet so unlike you're forced to inquire its name and use. A series of shelves oddly arranged to purposely give prominence to each little piece of "Worcester" or "Sevres" or "Carlsbad"; a diamond shaped top of matched mahogany on the quaintest of mahogany standards; a something—parlor cabinet, if you will, that will make your parlor what no one else's can be—yours or your neighbor's?

A Bucket of Heat

That's what it reminds one of. Just about the weight of a bucket of water and is fitted with a never-get-hot ball, so that you can pick it up any time and carry it from room to room, wherever the heat is most needed, without any danger of burning your hands. The

"Miller" Smokeless

Comes the nearest to perfection of any Oil Heater known. Just like your parlor lamp, only bigger, and fitted with a deflector and regulator to make a more perfect combustion and prevent smoke. The most usable size is

AUTUMN REVERIES

BY D. F. LAMSON

To infuse life into a moribund organization is sometimes almost as hopeless as the attempt to hustle the East; it may be as well to let forms die when they have outlived their usefulness and give them a decent burial.

This is the day of gigantic enterprises; we have hardly ceased to wonder at the Cape to Cairo railway, before our breath is taken away by the project of a railroad to Bagdad. Shades of the Kaliphs and the Arabian Nights! To think of the roar and shriek of the locomotive invading those silent lands, and startling the centuries from their slumber.

Curiosity to know evil as well as good once resulted disastrously for our race; there are some things that it is just as well not to know; the man who does not know the taste of liquor will never become a sot.

When the tide has run out and left the flats bare and unsightly, we know it will return and fill all the creeks and cover all the reaches with fresh life; if the tide is at the ebb now, if everything stagnates, cheer up, there will soon be a turn, it will come, it will not tarry; as Browning sings,

"God is in His heaven, All's well with the world";

only we must beware of fatalism.

There are revivals and revivals; a revival that is much needed is a revival of righteousness, a revival that shall lead people to pay their just debts, that shall purify politics, elevate the standard of social morality, energize the public conscience, and make this people a God-fearing people in their lives and laws.

If literature were paid for in proportion to its value, great writers would be among the richest instead of being, as they have often been, among the poorest of men; poets would not starve for "lack of bread," nor would their only lot be a garret and undying fame; literature must be cultivated, not for the gain of it, but for the love of it.

REV. E. HERSEY BREWSTER, Pastor, who presided at annual supper and roll-call in Manchester

When the result of an election makes for good government, all good citizens will rejoice; to have the fair fame of a community or a state dragged in the mire at the heels of demagogues is a sight to make angels weep, but it is a sight we must prepare ourselves for if money is to be all potent in politics.

Not a few good people seem afraid of emotion; but emotion is like steam in the boiler, it makes things go; only it needs a strong and wise hand on the throttle and a keen eye upon the rail. The more emotion we have, if it be only of the right kind and under the control of a sober judgment, the better; and this whether it be in business, statesmanship, religion, or anything else.

It will be a welcome day for many a brave, struggling soul warring with the world-rulers of this darkness, when the age-long conflict shall be over, and in place of shouts of the combatants and broken sword and dented shield, shall be waving palms and golden crowns and everlasting hallelujahs; it will be a day worth living for, and if need be worth dying for.

ROLL-CALL AND SUPPER

Annual Event at Baptist Church, Wednesday Evening, the Occasion of an Interesting Gathering. Resolutions Passed on Enforcement of Liquor Law, the Sale of Tobacco to Minors, and on Sunday Sale of "Commodities."

The annual supper and roll-call of the Baptist Church, Manchester, was held in the vestry of the church Wednesday evening, and in several ways the event was of much interest. The pastor, Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, presided at the roll-call following the supper, and after the members had answered to their names, the several invited guests were called upon for remarks.

A set of resolutions were voted unanimously by the church, two of the resolutions being as follows:

"Resolved: That we respectfully call the attention of the Board of Selectmen to the violation of the no-license law with regard to the sale of

liquors, and request them to secure a rigid enforcement of said law, believing that the non-enforcement of the

Wm. Jeffrey Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, will initiate several candidates at their meeting next Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Leach are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son in their Salem home Wednesday.

The selectmen have a notice in another column to the effect that all bills must be presented on Tuesday of next week, and that same will be paid Wednesday. This is in accordance with the usual custom followed, in giving the workmen in the different departments an opportunity to get their pay before Thanksgiving.

The Allen Relief Corps held a very successful old-fashioned supper in G. A. R. hall Thursday evening, from 6 to 7.30. The affair was in charge of the executive committee: Mrs. Hannah Tappan, chairman.

Arthur Crocker has accepted a position at Sumner's market, Bromfield street, Boston,—the same market in which "Jack" Bolfe, formerly of Manchester, is employed.

Domestic and imported Citron, Orange and Lemon Peel, Candied Cherries, and assorted Glace Fruits, also fancy Table Raisins and Washed Figs at Hooper's. *

A new face has been put on the clock on the Memorial Library building this week. Much difficulty has been found seasons past in keeping the clock going all winter, owing to the fact the snow gathered on the face and kept the hands from moving. The glass face, which has been put over the clock, will prevent this in the future.

What will be the price of turkey Thanksgiving? This is a question none of the provision dealers say they can answer. This week turkey was 35 cents a pound. It will probably be in this vicinity next week.

The Water Board went to Boston last Saturday to go over the matter of the test recently conducted at Beaver Dam swamp, with the State Board of Health, which came to Manchester yesterday to look over the ground. Mr. Thorpe, who was associated with the late Freeman C. Coffin, the expert engineer, came to Manchester a week ago yesterday to take the matter up. It is understood, unofficially, the State Board are satisfied with the results obtained, a review of which we published in last week's issue.

Adj. Revere Pulsifer of the Gloucester High school battalion, was elected judge of all prize drill contests, at the regular drill on Monday of this week.

Mixed Nuts at F. H. Dennis'. *

The selectmen have been distributing the B. L. Allen legacy for widows the past week. This was a fund of $1000 left in trust with the Town of Manchester, the interest on which was to be divided among deserving widows. The amount will come in handy for many at this season.

Eddie Walsh, the popular clerk at Lee's drug store, was taken to the Beverly hospital Tuesday evening, in the ambulance, and passed through a successful operation Wednesday, for a strain which he sustained a year or more ago, and which was augmented by an additional strain a week ago.

Douglas and Knickerbocker Fall and Winter style Shoes at Bell's. *

Sweet Cider for the Thanksgiving table at F. H. Dennis'. *

WHISPERINGS

News item: Lyman W. Floyd is out with a new cart in which he pulls his papers from the station to his store in Central square. Winter has no effect upon my friend Lyman; I met him the other morning coming up from the station wearing his last year's straw hat, coat unbuttoned, and in general appearance reminding one of the warm days of summer. He is now looking for a donkey for his new cart.

At last the dream of George Adams of Fresh Water Cove is realized. He has for years thought that there were enough men with musical talent in the village to make up a band. So for the first time the men assembled Monday night and formed a band which will rehearse every Monday evening in the Ross cottage. Many of the summer people of this locality have become interested in the project and already enough money is in sight to buy the instruments.

There is talk of a whist party which, if given, will be in the Young Women's Club house Thanksgiving night. It is to be under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society.

Congratulations have been bestowed on Mr. and Mrs. John Burke on the advent of a son into their home on Western ave., Sunday morning.

Miss Katherine McCauley and Miss Helen Lycett who recently returned from Yarmouth, N.S., are in Lowell spending a few weeks with friends.

Miss Olive Chane entertained a party of 11 of her schoolmates Monday evening to celebrate the anniversary of her birthday. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present, there being music by Chane's orchestra. Games were played and refreshments served.

Much interest is being taken in the singing school. The meetings are held every Thursday night at the Village church, and the membership is steadily increasing.

A successful baked bean supper was served at the Fresh Water Cove chapel Wednesday evening. The affair was very much enjoyed and a neat sum of money was raised in aid of the chapel.

Miss Alice Story has been spending the past week in Winchendon, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foster.

Lyman Butler and John Wolfe, two well known Magnolia boys, have left for Boston where they are working in an automobile factory.

Mrs. Frank Kehoe was in Melrose over Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter.

Mrs. James Brown and daughter Mary of Gloucester spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunbar.

A large audience was out last Friday evening to hear the lecture given by Rev. Mr. Libby in the Village church on "The People of Japan," aided by the stereopticon. These lectures are proving very popular, as shown by the size of the audiences that have been attending them. Last night the lecture dealt with the "Religion of Japan."

The work of installing the new pipe organ in the Village church is progressing quite well, and it is now thought the organ will be all installed and ready to play by the third week in next month.

Mrs. Ernest Dunbar of Boston was home over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philemon Sanborn.

To Let, Want, Lost, Found, etc., 25 cents first week; 10 cents a week after.

Every Woman is Interested

IN THE NEW FABRIC and every woman who has seen it is exclaiming "how beautiful and light it is and how superior to any other eiderdown cloth ever produced." Garments made from this pretty fabric have a style and distinctiveness all their own. The name given this new cloth is

Krinkledown

It is also highly recommended by the medical profession for its self-ventilating qualities that insures the body being maintained at an even temperature. Therefore a garment made from it always feels comfortable, never oppressive. A glance from the well informed woman will convince her how much better than any other fabric of like nature it is, for dressing sacques, kimonos, bath robes, baby clothes, coats, blankets, etc.

Comes in White, Pink, Blue, Red and Gray.

See it in our flannel department or send to our Mail Order Department for samples that will be promptly forwarded.

Miss Martha C. Knight went to Lowell Thursday where she will spend a fortnight with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kitfield of the Cove were in Lowell over the week-end visiting the latter's aunt, Miss Ada Glidden, who will probably spend the winter at Manchester.

Jason Tuttle and family have moved into the house on North st., recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. McCoubrey.

Miss Bertha Haskell has accepted a position in the Toy Department at Almy, Bigelow & Washburn's, Beverly.

Miss Ethel McDiarmid returns today from a fortnight's visit with relatives in Malden.

Miss Lillian West of Magnolia is spending a fortnight with her aunt, Mrs. Herbert Strangman and family, who recently moved here from Magnolia and are occupying a tenement in the brick house near the Baptist church. Mr. Strangman is employed by Geo. S. Sinicks.

Miss Beulah Townsend of Peterboro, N. H., was a guest over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis Baker, Lincoln street. Mrs. Baker is confined to the house with a painful abscess on her foot.

Frank S. Baker started Tuesday for Norfolk, Va., where he will be employed at his trade as painter during the winter.

Miss Eva Whitman of Bevely was a guest over Sunday of Miss Nellie M. Leonard, Ashland ave.

Manchester Youngsters Won.

The Geo. A. Priest School football team went to Beverly Farms last Saturday afternoon and played the Grammar School team there defeating them 10 to 0, though they claimed the game 24 to 0, as the Farms boys refused to play the second half, thereby forfeiting the game. Two touchdowns were made by the Manchester boys in the first half. A. C. Holland was umpire. The line-up:

Manchester—W. Cawthorne re, Lewis Fritz rt, J. Gillis rg, Roland Stevens c, Gordon Cool lg, Chas. Hannabel lt, J. Gray le, Shirley Stanley rhb, Ralph Lane lhb, H. Lampron fb, Archie Cool qb.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Leland are closing "The Old Tree House," West Manchester, the end of this month and are sailing for Europe on December 1. They will be abroad three months, intending to arrive in New York on the return about March 1, whence they will go to their Beacon street house for the balance of the winter.

Robert Treat Paine, 2d, of Manchester and Brookline, has sold through Hollis Burgess his schooner, "Barbara," to Aug. P. Loring. She will be made an auxiliary.

Among the debutantes of the season, whose coming out will be of particular interest to North Shore folk, is Miss Leslie Bradley, daughter of Mrs. Robert Stow Bradley of Pride's Crossing. She will be introduced at a reception at the Somerset the second week in December.

Among the last to leave the North Shore are the Ernest Jacksons who returned to their Beacon street home, from Prides Crossing, Thursday.

Miss Jessie Colby and her sister, Miss Mary Colgate Colby, who closed the Arthur Little cottage, Cabot Lane, Beverly Farms, last week, have been spending the past week in Boston, stopping at the Hotel Touraine, before returning to their home in Madison Square, New York, for the winter.

ALBERT CUNNINGHAM, Secy.
Manchester, Nov. 22, 1906.

Something for the SCHOOL CHILDREN.

$2500 for 500 bright school boys and girls is the striking offer of the Boston Globe to those who send in the best solutions of the historical problem pictures now running in the Daily Globe. Only the most famous things in American history will be pictured, things that are taught in all the schools.

Only school boys and girls may compete for the awards, although boys and girls are entitled to receive any assistance they may need from parents, teachers, or from anyone. Contestants may begin at any time by sending to the Globe for back numbers, from the beginning of the contest.

See the Globe at once and read the conditions of this interesting educational contest. It will sharpen the wits of the children and help them to remember the history of their country.

The Sunday Globe is giving away a moving toy for the children and free piano lessons, and George Ade is writing over, in his funniest vein, such famous stories as Pocahontas, Maud Muller and the like. For winter reading there is no equal to the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.

MANCHESTER

George Steward and family of Newburyport have moved into the tenement in the David Fenton house, Beach street, this week. Mr. Steward is employed by E. A. Lane, the painter.

Miss Dorothy Blaisdell was hostess at a little party given at her home on Union street Monday evening on the occasion of her eleventh birthday. Her guests were: Edith and Helen Fish, Gwendolyn Glendenning, Helen Wing, John Carter, Roland Knight and Francis Andrew.

John McKenzie, driver for B. S. Bullock the past season, concluded his work Saturday last and has a position in Lynn for the winter.

Mrs. Isabelle Stidstone, who has been treated at the Beverly Hospital for the past six or seven weeks, arrived home last week Thursday much improved, so that she is now able to be out and among her friends again.

Special Offer:—The BREEZE from now until January 1, 1908, for $1.00.

Grand Jury Case Discharged.

George Jackson, formerly head-waiter at the Masconomo House, Manchester, who was held in $500 for appearance before the grand jury on Aug. 27, for alleged larceny of $190 from John J. Ritchie, a guest at the house, was discharged from the Salem jail Saturday, the grand jury not having found any bill against him. His discharge was ordered by Dist. Atty. Peters.

Jackson was the hero of a sensational attempt to escape at the time he was committed. He was being taken from the court house to the jail by Chief Peabody, when he made a dash for liberty. The chief was not quite so alert as the prisoner at running. The latter hid in a cellar where he was afterward found by the officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Tibbitts of Manchester and Boston, who spent last winter at the Hotel Somerset, have taken a house for the winter at 96 Bay State Road, Boston.

CHURCH NOTES

Manchester

Congregational church, Rev C. Arthur Lincoln, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; evening service at 7 o'clock. Sermons by the pastor.

Baptist church, Rev. Edward Hersey Brewster, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; People's evening service of song and praise at 7 o'clock.

Sacred Heart Church, Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, pastor. Winter arrangement of services: Sunday, Masses at 8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; Sunday School at 9.15 A. M.; evening service, including Instructions and Benediction, at 7.45 o'clock. Week days—morning Mass at 7.30; Bible class at 7.30 Friday nights.

Rev. W. S. Eaton of Wenham preached at the Congregational church last Sunday at both services in exchange with Rev. C. A. Lincoln. In the morning a fair sized congregation was present. The preacher delivered a strong sermon on "God's Power," taking as his text: "And the power of the Lord was present to heal them." One of the thoughts brought out was that "we need something more in church than beautiful millinery or beautiful ceilings; we need the healing power of God. Men and women need the healing power of God more than they do things to please."

The Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters will hold a meeting in the Baptist church Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. A. E. Tuttle of the Fishermen's Institute of Gloucester will speak. Remarks will be made also by Rev. Mr. Brewster. A musical program will be interspersed between the other features of the program. A silver collection will be taken. All are cordially invited to attend.

"The Problem of Apostasy," will be the subject of Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning,—the sixth in the series on The Epistle to the Hebrews. At the People's evening service he will talk on "The Straight Gate."

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster and Dea. Robert Baker attended the meeting of the Permanent Council of the Salem Association of Baptist churches, which met with the Peabody church, Thursday afternoon and evening to consider the advisability to ordain to the ministry Leon G. Miles, recently called to the pastorate of that church.

The Teachers' Training class will meet at the Baptist parsonage Monday evening.

Per order,

MANCHESTER WATER BOARD.

Town Treasurer's Notice.

The TOWN TREASURER will be at his office in the Town Hall Building, on Saturdays, for the payment of bills, from 1 o'clock to 5 and from 7 to 8 o'clock P.M. When a holiday comes on Saturday the pay day will be Friday previous at the same hours.

EDWIN P. STANLEY,
Treasurer.

Notice.

The regular meetings of the SCHOOL COMMITTEE will be held the first Monday evening of each month at which time all bills against the school department of the town should be presented for approval.

ALFRED C. NEEDHAM,
Secretary.

Notice.

For the convenience of any person having business with the School Committee or Supt. of Schools, Mr. CHARLES E. FISH, the Superintendent, will be at the office of the School Committee, in the Town Hall Building, Thursday afternoon of each week, from 3.30 to 4.30 o'clock.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

MANCHESTER

At a special meeting last night the Manchester club decided to hold their first anniversary dinner in the town hall on Friday evening, Dec. 7, at 7 o'clock. The caterer will be from Lynn. The entertainment committee of the club will provide a program for that evening also.

Thomas Jack, gardener at W. B. Walker's estate, had the first hatching of chickens of the season yesterday. Some of the most choice poultry on the shore is to be found at "Highwood." Mr. Jack will show some of his White Wyandotts at the Beverly show next month.

Tuesday evening a number of parishioners called at the parochial residence and J. J. Gorman, in behalf of the company, presented Fr. Perry, the assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart church, with a purse of gold and a beautiful gold cross. Fr. Perry will probably return to Boston very shortly, as he came here to assist Fr. Powers for the busy season only. The presentation Tuesday evening showed the favor in which he is held by the parishioners here.

The high tides of the latter part of last week drove scores of wharf rats from their haunts in stone walls along the water front, and small armies of the rodents ran wildly about. At the Beach street park a crusade was waged against them and more than a score of the rats were killed with clubs, stones, and whatever weapons were at hand.

Station Agent Lewis of West Manchester, Geo. Norris of the local station and Mr. Holland operator at Beverly Farms are taking in the game at New Haven today.

Thomas Wiggin is to join the ranks of the benedicts next Tuesday. His intended bride lives in New York state.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Hannabel are receiving congratulations on the advent of a son in their home on Bennett street, Thursday.

A Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at the Baptist church at 10.30, with sermon by Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln.

"The Revival in India" will be the subject of the B.Y.P.U. meeting tomorrow evening. (Joel, 2:28, 29), Miss Mary Bennett, leader.

Mrs. C. D. Temple and children, are leaving today for Vermont, where they will spend a few weeks.

Among those who attended the Sunday school teacher's meeting held at the First Baptist church at Salem Thursday, were Mrs. Helen Willmington, Miss Lucy Baker and Miss Nellie Leonard.

Senator-elect Shaw says he does not want to go on the street-railways committee of the senate of 1907. "I do not care to go upon any committee," he says, "which is brought into direct connection with any corporation."

It is not definitely known yet whether or not the choral society to be formed here will hold its first meeting next Wednesday. If so it will be announced at the churches tomorrow. The choral will be under the direction of Arthur Wonson of Gloucester.

SCHOOL NOTES

MANCHESTER

The children are bringing to school articles to be packed in barrels and sacks to be sent to the poor in Boston and elsewhere. Last year there were seven barrels and three sacks sent away to the needy of the slums, which shows the generous spirit of the Manchester children. It is hoped that the children will make it possible to send away as much this year as last.

Margaret Brenan, Florence and Cinna Wright have entered school this week.

Drs. Blaisdell and Glendenning examined the children of the Price Primary school this week, but found nothing serious by way of contagious diseases.

Pauline Semons, John Semons, Minnie Lendall and Helen Knight have diphtheria and their brothers and sisters have been taken from school to prevent further spread of the disease. Their books have been destroyed also.

Among the visitors to the grades this week were: Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Allen S. Peabody, Mrs. John C. Wiles, Mrs. E. Wallace Stanley, Mrs. Albert H. Crowell, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Sanborn and Miss Alice Rainville, also two teachers from Gloucester,—Misses Stanley and Powers.

Miss Norton returned to her duties in Grade 1 on Tuesday.

Grade V leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being 98.57. The attendance of the other grades follow: VIII, 97.74; I, 96.78; VI, 96.77; IV, 95.78; II, 95.34; VII, 94.74; IX, 93.90; III, 93.25.

Ernest C. Atwood of Poquannum tribe of Red Men, Lynn, has been appointed deputy of the local tribe, and, by way of coincidence Allen S. Peabody is deputy of the Lynn tribe. The nomination of officers will take place at the next meeting of Conomo tribe, Dec. 5, at which time also Deputy Peabody requests the members of the staff to be present for practice.

The nomination of officers of Col. H. P. Woodbury Camp, S. of V., will take place at the meeting next Tuesday evening.

Public Notice

All pay rolls and bills must be presented to the Selectmen on or before 7 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 27th, and will be paid by the Treasurer the following day at his office between the hours of 1 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m.

SELECTMEN OF MANCHESTER.

Mrs. T. Jefferson Glover of Boston is a guest of Mrs. George A. Kitfield and family, Ashland ave.

Miss Clara Sargent returned Thursday from her trip to New York. Her sister, Miss Jennie Sargent, is visiting friends in Malden.

E. G. Merrill, the Salem Photographer, who has a display of his work in a case hung to the outside of the Old Corner Store, is making an offer of one large sepia portrait, 16 x 20, free with a dozen photographs ordered at his studio, 256½ Essex street, Salem. *

Baby Show Next Week.

A baby show and "Mother Goose" entertainment is to be held in the Manchester town hall next Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters. There will also be a sale of candy, cake, etc.

The Ever Ready Circle is one of the few societies in town that do a great deal of charitable work. Last year the society gave groceries, clothing and toys to worthy families around town, and remembered the inmates at the Almshouse in the holiday season. It also sent several barrels of clothing, toys, etc., to the Fishermen's Institute in Gloucester.

The object of the affair next week is to raise funds to help carry on the work. The tickets of admission will be 10 cents each, and children will go around town next week selling them. It is hoped everybody will give their mite toward the cause. There will be four prizes: one each for the youngest baby, the heaviest, (1 to 2 years), the tallest (2 to 3 years), and the heaviest pair of twins.

Society Notes

The C. H. Tweeds closed their house at Beverly Farms last week and returned to New York. Miss Katherine Tweed's coming out on Dec. 26, will be one of the events of the season there. Miss Tweed will go abroad after the holidays to be away until February, returning with her father who is still in Europe.
Among the patronesses for the two smart assemblies to be given at the Somerset, Boston, on Jan. 4 and Feb. 8, are Mrs. Gordon Abbott, Mrs. Bryce J. Allen, Mrs. Oliver Ames, 2d, Mrs. F. I. Amory, Mrs. Wm. C. Endicott, Jr., Mrs. F. L. Higginson, Mrs. R. C. Hooper, Mrs. Francis Peabody, Mrs. Dudley Pickman, Mrs. H. M. Sears and Mrs. Philip Sears, well-known members of the North Shore summer colony.
"Forest King," Judge Wm. H. Moore's champion gelding, carried off the Waldorf-Astoria cup at the National horse show exhibition, in Madison Square Garden, New York, Wednesday. Having won the trophy in 1903 and 1905, the cup now becomes the absolute property of Judge Moore.

Among the departures from Beverly Farms this week were the N. S. Simpkins on Wednesday. They returned to Washington. Col. Franklin Haven and the A. L. Daniels left Thursday for Boston, and the Frank B. Bemises returned to Boston Tuesday. Washington B. Thomas and family closed their cottage at Pride's Crossing, Monday.
Charles Walker has opened his town house on Marlboro street, Boston, this week. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walker will keep "Higwood" open all winter, but will probably divide their time between Boston and Manchester.
The J. L. Thorndikes closed their West Manchester cottage last Saturday for the season.
Butterick Patterns reduced to 10 and 15 cents. None higher. G. F. Allen.
Potato Chips at F. H. Dennis'.

Real Estate
And Improvements

Manchester
Edward S. Bradley has purchased from Fred K. Swett, trustee, the house on Central street, adjoining his present shop. It is understood he intends to put a shop on the first floor and a tenement overhead. His cottage on Pine street will probably be for sale later.
Elizabeth S. Tappan, guardian of Elizabeth S. Tappan conveys to Mabel B. S. Ward, land on Sea street, Manchester, 148.50 by 67.32 feet; also adjoining land 13 1-2 by 81 feet.
Beverly Farms
Messrs. Publicover Bros. started this week making extensive improvements and alterations upon the residence of Hon. Robert S. Rantoul. They are also building a house 32 x 32 upon the estate of Geo. S. Mandell, Prince street, to be used for a combined play house and billiard room. This busy firm is also building the addition to Mr. James J. Nugent's house on Vine court, Beverly Farms.

Work has been started in building a large music room, as an addition to the already well-appointed house of Messrs. J. T. and W. S. Spaulding at Pride's Crossing. The room is to be constructed with re-inforced concrete and will have a slated roof. The whole thing is to be fire-proof. The ceiling is vaulted, the floor will be of mercer tile and the interior finish will be of marble. Little & Brown of Boston, are the architects, and Connolly Bros., of Beverly Farms, are the contractors in charge.
Prides Crossing
L. C. Fenno is having an addition built to his cottage at Beverly Farms. D. M. Linehan & Son are doing the stone work, and Hardy & Day the wood work.
One of the largest tree-moving feats ever performed by D. M. Linehan & Son of Pride's Crossing, is now in progress at the J. M. Longyear estate in Brookline. There are 40 or more large trees to be moved and 30 men are now at work on the place.

Mrs. Lewis Foster

Mrs. Lewis Foster, who, for the past three years, has been making her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gilman, died yesterday morning at their home on Summer street, of heart trouble. She was born in Port Medway, N.S., in 1826 and in 1846 she married Captain Lewis Foster, owner of one of the vessels sailing out of Port Medway. Practically all her life has been spent in and around her native birth place. She is survived by Mrs. James A. Phelan of Brookline, Mrs. Bennett Dolliver of Roslindale, Mrs. Starrett Neville, Port Medway, N.S., Miss Alice M. Baker, Boston, Lewis Foster of San Bornton, N.H., Nelson Foster

All Coming to Your House
This Year?

The whole family and one or two others that before another year will have been taken into the fold, too? What a time there will be! First time for years you've had them at your home, yes, first time since you were first married. What a long time ago, when you stop and look back.
Think how few changes you have made in the home in that length of time. The dining room things just the very ones you started with. When you think, they do sort of look shabby now, don't they? How new ones would change the whole aspect of the dining room—make you enjoy that Thanksgiving dinner more, to see wife usher the guests into the dining room full of pride, or to overhear Brother John or Sister Sue pass favorable comment on the new things. We've sort of felt that there'd be lots of changes this Thanksgiving; and have made unusual preparations.

Buffets

The generally accepted proper piece for the dining room now.

Made in the factories the "better" class of where the "better" class of foods are constructed, the grain of the wood matched to a nicety on the doors and drawers, an imported French mirror encased in a neat frame. Some ones for only $21.00.

The finest oak one we have, an entire mass of great white quartered oak makes from the bird claw feet upon which it rests to the rolling pillars that support the pretty mirror. A piece made in Grand Rapids, worthy a place in the most magnificent home and bought of us here $12.00 less than in Boston. We know it—$63.00.

A range of others all the way between these two, a dollar or two a jump.

The Mahogany

From one four feet long, with swell top drawers and a great big mirror, at $33.00, up to a reproduction of an old Colonial piece with claw and ball feet, a long, low mirror, two deep closets and ample sil-ver and linen storage capacity at $88.00.

Sideboards

From a solid oak one, with swell top drawers and curved doors at $14.00, up to a quartered oak one, massive columns, and a great big mirror, at $27.50.

Dining Tables

That we have bought in the largest quantities comparatively this fall of any year, that has come to us. Answer to the demand of the people of taste; they look more costly, they certainly dress up more prettily and lend an air of extreme hospitality. They start at $11.00. With a round column centre, a 42-inch top and very well finished.

A Quartered Oak one with a finish as fine as a fiddle, has claw feet and is a dandy. For $15.00. One with a 48-inch top, has quartered oak leaves even, has the toe nail claw feet and is a special at the price. Only $20.00. Great big 54-inch top ones as high as $37.50.

Mahogany Beauties

From one with a solid mahogany top, with the base of birch, with heavy claw and ball feet, at $30.00, to massive tables, ALL MAHOGANY, made in the finest furniture factories in the world, with lion claw feet, and acanthus leaves carved on the arms, as high as $68.00.

Dining Chairs

We've the Country's Specials This Season.

Never were fixed half so well. We have a "real" box finish, for but $3.50. And a slip seat chair, in genuine leather, with flush joints, and very graceful, for only $4.50.

A Solid Mahogany Diner

in genuine leather seat, for only $5.75.

A beautiful reproduction, of every inch San Domingo mahogany, slip seat, flush joints, heavy claw feet, $11.00.

Old Colonial patterns and Chippendale designs, from $9.50 to $20.00.

Our Diners commence at $1.00.

China Closets

Almost as much of a necessity now-a-days as the table; makes a dining room look so much more dressy. One with bent glass ends, French legs, dust proof door, only $15.00.

One with a full swell front and rounded ends, all quartered oak, at $20.00.

Mahogany Closets, matching up with the Buffets, from $25.00 to $55.00.

A. C. Titus & Company

BEVERLY FARMS

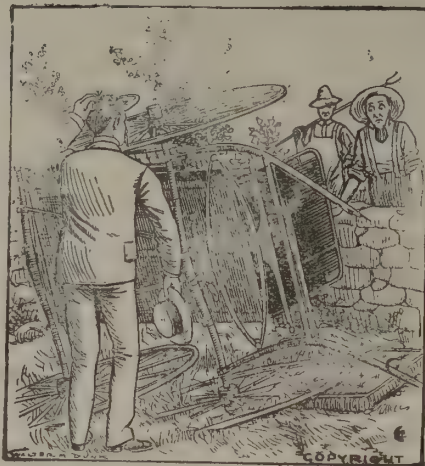

"Everybody's business is nobody's business" is an old saying. Yet this is about the way to account for the lack of interest so far displayed in the matter of candidates from Ward 6 for next year's city government. The sentiment is growing stronger each year that the present method of nomination papers be dispensed with, and either select candidates by citizens or party caucuses. By so doing the citizens at large then will not only vote upon election day, but will also have something to say as to who will be the candidates. If this is done there is no doubt of there always being plenty of material for the voter to choose from.

The ladies' embroidery class met on Wednesday with Mrs. F. W. Varney, High street. Owing to the holiday next week, when all housewives are busy preparing the national bird, etc., for the family reunions, the gathering will be omitted, but the following week the class will enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Elmer Stanley, West street.

The estimates of the various contractors for renovating the basement of St. Margaret's church, are as follows: Howard Doane, $1276; J. T. Wilson & Son, $1275; Publicover Bros., $1141; J. Albert Mayberry, $1283.65; James D. Hooper, $1043.35; Charles Logue, $1000. The committee at a recent meeting took the bids under advisement and awarded the contract to Chas. Logue, the lowest bidder.

WHISPERINGS

There was quite a "nice little party" held at the Toomey's residence last Saturday evening on Haskell street, Prides. "Jerry" the well known young man of Prides was toastmaster. Whist was continued up to a late hour, afterwards the audience enjoyed the new up-to-date play of "Pull back." This was a great play in the days of King Arthur of England. They had the best native talent that could be produced including Miss Minnie Reardon and Pat Nason.

There is sure to be a large and appreciative audience at St. Margaret's church on Thanksgiving evening to hear Rev. Nicholas R. Walsh deliver his interesting lecture upon Rome, accompanied by stereopticon illustrations. Fr. Walsh spent 5 years at the American college in Rome and is an entertaining speaker.

The marriage intentions were filed at City hall, Beverly, recently, of Mr. Horace L. Pierce of Pride's Crossing and Miss Sadie Sexton of Boston.

A "new arrival" came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Smith early last Wednesday morning. It is a daughter and Mr. Smith is passing around the cigars.

A. Preston Thissell of Preston Place, has purchased an interest for the winter months in Preble's market and will have charge of same. Thos. Wheelan will divide his time during the winter between this market and the company's store in Boston as the occasion may demand.

A large party enjoyed the concert and dance given last night in Marshall's hall, under the management of Charles Parker. Long's orchestra furnished the music. Mr. Parker intends to conduct a number of these socials during the winter.

The estate of the late William Batchelder on High street, consisting of a cottage house, out buildings and a large plot of land, is for sale.

The third evening of the card tournament in aid of the improvements to be made in the basement of St. Margaret's church, proved its popularity on last Monday evening in Marshall's hall, when the gathering exceeded in numbers any yet held this year. The winners at whist were: Lady's 1st prize, a set of doilies, Miss Grace Quirk; 2d prize, pitcher, Miss Mary Foley; consolation, glass dish, Miss Catherine Muligan; Gents' 1st prize, razor strap, Chas. Hellyard; 2d prize, silver ash tray, James O'Brien; consolation, looking glass, Edw. Callahan. Owing to the close score of the "45" players, there being a tie, the management reserved the awarding of prizes in this event until later.

A harvest and Thanksgiving concert will attract a large audience tomorrow evening at the Baptist church.

Miss Amanda Bushen of Bushen Island, Dublin Shore, Lundenburg Co., N.S., is a visitor at Beverly Farms, having joined her sisters, the Misses Silvia and Mary Bushen, who have made this their home for some time past.

Miss Lida Pierce of Hart street, was very much surprised one evening recently to receive an unexpected call from a number of friends in the nature of a surprise party. The evening was spent pleasantly and refreshments served, and before their leave-taking one of the number on behalf of the party presented Miss Pierce with a gold belt buckle.

John Morgan, the popular driver of the Farms fire engine, and family, have moved into the upper suite of rooms in the Ober house opposite the Farms depot.

Theodore Thissell of Strafford, N.H., is a guest of his brother, Arthur P. Thissell at Preston Place.

Michael T. Murphy is this week taking in the sights of New York City and has sent a number of his friends souvenir postals of some of the places of interest.

A. N. Rantoul's automobile ran away the other day and was brought to a stand still by colliding with the fire hydrant at the corner of Hart and Hale streets, breaking the pipe and causing a good size fountain of water to shoot into the air. The auto escaped with a bent axle and a few scratches.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cole of Pride's Crossing have the sincere sympathy of the community over the sad ending of the little two-year-old grandson Edwin Cole, Jr., who was the son of Edwin Cole formerly of Pride's Crossing, but who since his marriage has made Ipswich his home. The child was drowned in a small stream near the Hamilton line, about 100 yards from his home.

A shark over five feet in length, brought to West Beach by an incoming tide this week, was an object of interest for a few days to many who happened to see it.

Mrs. Mary Ann Gilman

Mrs. Mary Ann, widow of the late Albion P. Gilman, passed away early Thursday morning at the home of her sister on School street, Manchester. Death resulted from a general failing in health after an illness extending over two years. She had been confined to her bed for almost a year. Her age was 73 years, 2 months and 27 days.

Mrs. Gilman was born in Manchester August 25, 1833. She was a daughter of Deacon Andrew Brown whose family has been closely identified with the history of the town for many generations. She was born in the old Brown homestead at "Old Neck."

Fifty-five years ago she married Albion P. Gilman a native of Tamworth, N.H., but who was at the time engaged by Deacon Brown as a carpenter. Three sons, Dr. Harry S., of Boston, Dr. Charles L. of West Roxbury, Maynard B. of Manchester, and a daughter, Mrs. Geo. D. Haskell, survive her. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Charles P. Goldsmith and Miss Sarah T. Brown and a brother, Dr. J. A. Brown, the latter of Boston.

This makes three deaths in the family in about a year, the late Albion P. Gilman dying last December and the late Charlotte E. Brown dying suddenly a year ago in October.

Deceased was a member of the Congregational church.

Funeral services will be held from her late home this afternoon at 2.30. Revs. C. Arthur Lincoln and E. Hersey Brewster will officiate. The Albion Quartet of Boston will sing. Burial will be in Rosedale.

Thomas F. Wheelen for the Common Council

Thomas F. Wheelen of Beverly Farms has taken out papers for the Common Council and will make a try for one of the three positions in the lower branch of the City Government to represent Ward 6.

There is but one new position to fill this year, Councilmen McCarthy and Appleton running again for re-election. F. C. Rand, who was elected last year, does not seek the position again, and it is this vacancy that Mr. Wheelen is after.

Mr. Wheelen has many friends in Ward 6 who will work for him and he expects to win. He has lived here the past ten years and for seven years previous to that he lived in Manchester.

He was born in Wood's Hole, Mass., but spent his early days in Worcester. He has been engaged with various concerns in the provision business since coming here and for a while conducted business for himself.

Charles H. Hull has just taken out nomination papers for the lower branch also, and it now looks as though the Ward 6 political atmosphere was warming up a little.

There was a very pleasant whist party on Tuesday evening given by the girls at Ernest Jackson's, which was a fitting ending of a most enjoyable season. Five tables were in progress, the prize winners being: First, gentleman's, cigars, Jeremiah Toomey; consolation, gentleman's, Robert Griffin; first prize, lady's, Japanese bon-bon spoon, Jennie Brown; consolation won by Miss Libbie Bailey. The girls received many compliments for the splendid way they entertained their guests.

The local boys' football team played the South School, Beverly, team on Foster's field last Saturday morning and won 10 to 0. In the afternoon the Grammar School team from Manchester came to the Farms and won 10 to 0 in the first half. The local boys refused to play the second half. A. C. Holland, operator at the station, undertook the difficult task of umpiring the games.

Miss Adelaide Wyatt has returned to Beacon street for the winter months.

Miss Mabel Sawyer and Miss Vina Phippen, who have been at the Farms Exchange during the past season, have been transferred to the Beverly Central office.

"WAGES OF SIN"

Strong Sermon by Rev. E. H. Brewster on the Subject of Sin at the Baptist Church Last Sunday Evening

"The Wages of Sin" was the subject of a very interesting sermon by Rev. E. H. Brewster at the Baptist church, Manchester, last Sunday evening. He said in part:

"Our age knows nothing about sin. Despite the daily record of crime and brutality and the daily contact with grossness of heart and life, we are evidently unaware of the real nature of sin and its awful penalties. As in regard to other things of vital moment, so when we ask ourselves what is sin we must consult the living oracles of God, that is, His Word.

"And here in these pages that flash with divine authority, that remain unshaken in the midst of shattered systems of philosophy and thought, we have revealed to us the nature of sin.

"First of all sin is transgression of the law of God (I John, 3:4). The law of God given to Moses and commonly called the Ten Commandments, is the expression of the Holy nature of God, and the slightest transgression of these eternal requirements is sin. The man who covets, who refuses God the very first place in his heart, that cares for anything more than for God, is a sinner and by the very nature of the case an outlaw.

"Sin is not the breaking of a human law; that is crime. Sin is the breaking of divine law, and that is a blow at the sovereignty of God. Sin need not be outward transgression: 'as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.' The man who thinks evil, whose heart is in rebellion against God, walks the earth a moral anarchist, and the stars fight against him in their courses.

"'Whatsoever is not of faith is sin.' It is popular among some to be skeptical about God. It is considered very good taste to limit one's faith to a very few of the revealed truths of the Gospel. Unbelief is looked up to and courted. In reality unbelief is the incubator that hatches out all other sins. An unbelieving heart is the devil's nest. Destroy faith from the earth and you have a hell.

"And now, from whence does sin arise? What is the origin of this foul malady that has blasted our hopes and so vitiated our faculties and dimmed our vision, that even the regenerate cry out with Paul: 'Who shall deliver me from the body of this Death? Sin is of the devil, so say the Scriptures. (I John, 3:8). The Christian has no doubt about it, but you who do not believe, can you give any explanation more in keeping with the facts than this? Why this unholy tumult in your soul? What lies back of that poisoned tongue, whose speech stabbed you to the heart and sent you staggering away wounded to the death?

"Why the passion for drink that damns 600,000 drunkards every year, empties heaven, fills hell, and curses earth? The greatest delight that comes to the black heart of the evil one, must be this: that those who are his victims disbelieve his very existence.

"Now what of this? 'The wages of sin is death.' Natural death. The crepe on the door, the curtained windows, the rumbling of the wheels of death's chariot, tells the story of sin better than any words of mine. Every tomb-stone is paled with the horror of sin's fatality. Spiritual death. Why do not men know God? Here is the open book of nature before you, nay! the open book of your own mind, and you cannot read a single syllable. Tell me why!

"Sin has made us a race of orphans and has turned God's fair world into a House of Correction. Eternal death. God is light, separation from him is darkness, 'outer darkness,' the Bible calls it. God is joy. Separation from him is sorrow. 'There shall be weeping' the Bible says. God is love. Separation from him will be a 'gnashing of teeth.' Oh! will not many spend eternity accusing others of their downfall, filling hell with the clamor of mutual accusations? 'But the gift of God is eternal life.' Mark you, 'the gift of God.'

Manchester Public Schools NO-SCHOOL SIGNALS

Four blasts of the whistle, or 22, at 8 o'clock a.m., signifies no school at the John Price Primary School Building, Blown at 11 o'clock a.m., signifies one session at the school.

Four blasts of the whistle, or 22, blown twice, with an interval of 30 seconds between, at 8 o'clock a.m., signifies no school at any of the buildings. Blown at 11 o'clock a.m., signifies one session.

Per order of the
SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Salvation is of grace. It is not of labor, for then would God be robbed of his glory. You cannot work out your salvation until you get it in. Sin earns death, grace bestows life. You cannot measure the gift. If you could leap from star to star into the outreaches of space until suns rose and set in one blaze of glory and east and west fell into each other's arms, you would then have touched but the fringe of this wonderful gift. It is through faith in Christ. Believe in him and thou shalt be saved. It is through his blessed life and death, through the way of his broken heart that the gift of God comes to penitent men and women, who turn from darkness unto light, and from Satan unto God."

Reunion of Class of '86 Manchester High School

The home of Miss Eliza G. Goldsmith on School street, Manchester, was the scene of a pleasant gathering Monday evening, when the members of the Class of '86, of the Manchester High school, assembled for their 20th reunion. The class numbered at graduation only four and three of these were present. Officer J. W. Lee could not attend.

What added to the pleasure of the occasion was the fact that the graduation exercises were repeated;—that is, that part of the exercises which included the reading of the several class parts: the valedictory, by Mrs. William Follett (Sadie Crombie), the history by Miss Eliza G. Goldsmith, and the prophecy by Mrs. Ellery Rogers (Nellie Leach).

Refreshments of ice cream and cake, etc., were served, and the occasion was one of pleasure.

"The College Widow."

The third big week in Boston of Henry W. Savage's splendid production of George Ade's most brilliant comedy, "The College Widow" will begin next Monday at the Tremont Theatre. This delightful comedy, with its interesting story of College life, numerous quaint characters, rapid action and pretty scenes, culminated in the great football scene, which is presented with so much realism that it whirls both players and spectators into a vortex of excitement when the victorious Billy Bolton is rushed to the footlights on the shoulders of his admiring comrades 'mist the din of shouts and cheers and torrents of applause. It is a scene that must be seen to be appreciated, and seen more than once to get its full value and realize the tremendous amount of carefully worked out detail in the art of stagecraft.

At the Park Sq. Skating Rink

The Boston Winter Carnival, which opened Monday, in conjunction with the Park Square Roller Skating Rink, Boston, and which occupies the entire front part of the building or "Marble Hall" made days of delirious delight and nights of blazing glory to the amusement-seeking public. The carnival is scheduled for the entire winter and offers free circus acts, and free band concerts. Business at the Rink is phenomenal, and points to even greater numbers with the installation of the added attractions. Over a dozen shows and attractions are among the features of the carnival and include, The World in Motion, South Before the War, An Irish Village, Japanese Village, etc.

MANCHESTER

Herbert W. Clark, who has an excellent position as superintendent of the Breeze estate at Southampton, L.I., was on to Manchester a few days this week getting ready to move his household goods to his new home. Mr. Clark was for a number of years, until recently, superintendent of the W. D. Denegre estate at West Manchester. The place of which he is now in charge consists of 23 acres, every bit of which is cultivated. It is one of the show places of Long Island, in fact. Mrs. Clark and Miss Alice Clark, who are making their home for the present with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Carter, will go to Southampton very soon.

A good assortment of Candy, Nuts, Dates, Figs, Pop Corn, also Malaga Grapes, Table Apples, Oranges and Bananas, can be found at Hooper's. *

Prof. W. S. C. Russell of the Springfield, Mass. High school, formerly of Manchester, was a guest over the week-end of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Glendenning.

A number of Manchester folk went to Boston Monday evening to hear "Gypsy" Smith, the famous evangelist, at Tremont Temple. They were: Rev. E. H. Brewster, D. Milton Knight, H. C. Swett, Harry Menken, Mrs. Helen Willmontton, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Ellen Brewster, Mrs. Hattie Baker, Misses Olive Cook, Ethel Stanley and Harriet Brewster.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Allen of Gloucester were guests the middle of the week of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Roberts, Union street.

Albert Cunningham gave a very interesting talk on his recent trip South, before the members of the Phi Alpha Pi at their meeting last Friday evening.

Miss Elsie Dow spent the first of the week with friends at Groveland.

Miss Elizabeth A. Dillon and Philip White won the prizes at the whist party in Carpenter's hall, Thursday evening, in the series being held in aid of the building fund of the new Sacred Heart church. The next party will be held next Tuesday night.

Mrs. Lea Rainville received the sad news last week of the sudden death by diphtheria of her nine-year-old grandchild, Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wesley Rainville of Salem.

Mrs. Fred W. Lane, President of the local W. R. C., and Mrs. Jennie Dennis, Secretary, represented the local corps at the W. R. C. fair at Boston last week.

Miss Mabelle Summers of Watertown and Miss Fannie Smith of Brookline, were guests of Miss Amy Coulter, at West Manchester, the past week.

ROLL-CALL AND SUPPER

law is prejudicial to the morals of the community and certain to breed lawlessness and corruption. And that they also secure a rigid enforcement of the law relative to the sale of tobacco and cigarettes to minors.

"Resolved: That we respectfully call the attention of the Board of Selectmen to the violation of the statute governing the sale of articles on the Lord's Day, and request that only such stores as may lawfully be open be permitted to offer for sale commodities authorized by law on the Lord's Day."

It was a little after 6 o'clock when the gathering sat down to tables bounteously laden with good things,—ham, corn beef, salads, beans, pies, cakes, etc., prepared by the ladies of the executive committee of the Church Aid and of the advisory committee. There was about 120 present. At the roll-call which followed the supper 108 members were heard from.

Following the roll-call by Clerk J. Davis Baker, the report of the Bible school was read by Sec'y Miss Rebecca Lethbridge. The report showed there was a membership of about 400, and the average attendance was 94. A verbal report of the B. Y. P. U. was given by Miss Alice Rainville.

The auditor's report was read by Robert Baker, showing the receipts to be $1,507.46, expenditures $1,455.62, and a balance of $151.84. He also read the report of the Prudential Committee, showing the valuation of the church to be $10,154.98, liabilities $3,183.09, and balance of $6,971.89. It was estimated the expenses for the coming year would be $1,778.50. Deacon Robert Baker was elected a delegate to the permanent council.

Mrs. L. A. Dunn of the Visiting committee reported that 254 calls had been made during the nine months.

When the annual meeting was formally adjourned Rev. Mr. Brewster, who presided, called upon several of the guests for remarks, departing somewhat from the usual custom of calling upon the members. Deacon Daniel Allen of Gloucester was first called upon. He read an article from one of the religious papers on "A New Year's Promise," and a poem entitled, "Beyond the Vale I cannot see."

Chas. H. Fleming of Salem, a former member of the church, made a few remarks "from the standpoint of the layman." He said there was the laity of the church—the vast army of workers, with the minister as the leader; then there was the lay-ety, who lays down and lets the others do the work. He said the ministers do not get their reward in this world; many of them work themselves to death. It was a wonder to him some philanthropist does not bestow a fund for "these retired captains of the army of the Lord."

Arthur K. Prince of Wenham, superintendent of the Bible school there, gave a practical talk on Sunday school work. He believed with "Gypsy" Smith that it was best to build a fence on the top of the precipice than a hospital at the bottom. "This is the position which the Bible school occupies," he added. "We are training the young—the future officials of the town, state, and perhaps the nation. A great responsibility is placed on our shoulders. It is essential that we start them aright. The Sunday school is a place for us to work for God."

Mr. Perkins of Wenham, president of the B. Y. P. U., gave a talk that was filled with good thoughts: "The only part of the church which some people enjoy," he said, "is the church social, when they can eat ice cream. But the kind of ice cream Jesus Christ wants us to be filled with is the fullness of God. 'Gypsy' Smith's power lies in the fact that he prays. He goes to the door of God and knocks, and knocks, until he is heard. What we all need—the church, the B. Y. P. U.,—is more downright earnest prayer. We need a revival of spiritual religion in our hearts. We want young people to know God. If a dozen young people would get up half an hour early every morning and spend it in prayer, you would set this church afire with the story of God before next Spring."

Interesting remarks were made also by Rev. Mr. Parker, pastor of the Wenham church. He said there was need of a larger conception of God's work and of what he would have each one of us perform for him.

GYPSY SMITH

One Who Heard the Great Evangelist During His Visit to Boston, Just Closed, Writes His Impression of the World-Famed Man For This Paper

"Gypsy" Smith has come and gone. In a religious campaign of a few weeks he has left an unparalleled record in the number of conversions. Without sensationalism, without graces of oratory, without display of learning or refinement, he has repeated in cultivated Boston, the successes which attended his labors in England and Australia. For the last two years, well known evangelists, Dawson, Campbell, Morgan, Dixon and Broughton have been laboring to this end, with only moderate success, to be followed by an uncultivated gypsy, whose success here as elsewhere has been phenomenal.

Born in a gypsy tent — his mother dying of smallpox — with a youth of poverty and hardship, he was converted at the age of 16, learning later to read and write. He had a stern father who kept the lad from bad companions. He never learned to drink or swear. His father was a Christian, and active in the Salvation Army, which the son also joined.

He has the marks of a Gypsy — strong features, and dark complexion, a face almost villainous but for the sweet spirit that shines through his swarthy skin, transfiguring the man. With a slouch hat and a red handkerchief about his neck he would look the traditional Gypsy horse trader. But his demeanor is modest, assured and unassuming. He speaks distinctly, with no foreign accent. Boston's culture cannot criticise his delivery. His gestures and tones are natural. You are impressed by what he says, rather than by how he says it. His words have a virile force which grips the attention. He has acquired a speech of idiomatic and forceful English, sincere, sensible, earnest, which hits the mark; such a diction as Bunyan or Cobbett might have used. There is a twinkle of humor in his eyes, but he is too earnest to indulge it, save rarely. He impresses one as a descendent of the prophets — a plain man with a message for plain men.

His discourses are brief, not over fifteen minutes, followed by a short prayer and a tender appeal to the unconverted, during which people from the audience rise and pass to the inquiry room, sometimes to the number of one hundred.

Daily, at noon and evening, the great hall is packed, the evening meetings overflowing to the other halls. You come away wondering at the power of this plain man. More than one thousand have been converted during his brief stay. He has won the approval and enlisted the cooperation of our ministers of all denominations. Rev. Dr. Gordon of the Old South, who has not been supposed to be greatly interested in evangelistic methods, has become his warm friend and supporter.

To have heard this man of God is a privilege, to have come under the power of his words is a blessing. No one can doubt the genuineness and value of his work.

We subjoin a few of his sayings: "If God can use a crooked stick, he can use a polished one."

"Are we to be apostles and never to have any acts? If we are doing our duty, we could write another chapter in the Acts of the Apostles."

"I would rather see four or five thousand Christians awakened in Boston than the same number of outsiders converted."

"Have faith in God. Why not? You exercise faith in all other affairs. You would not sit in that chair if you did not have faith in it. O ye of little faith, use what little faith you have and you will get more faith."

"When I was a boy, I tried a long time to get peace and the assurance of faith, — to get Christ. At a friend's house, the friend said to my father, 'Take the lad to the garden and show him the cherry tree.' When we were under the tree, my father acted strangely. He looked up to the tree, and opened his pocket, and said,

Open Meeting of Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters

The Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters, Manchester, held an open meeting in the Baptist vestry on Monday evening. The meeting opened with a song service, after which Rev. E. Hersey Brewster led in prayer. Miss Carolyn E. Allen rendered a solo in her usual pleasing manner.

In introducing Mrs. Tuttle, the speaker of the evening, Mr. Brewster said: "I am not at all familiar with the work brought to our attention this evening, yet we are all interested in a general way, for God planned us to be so. We receive our inspiration because we are prompted by love. Love for all, whether man be unfortunate or fortunate, for you know His love does not respect person. Your platform I think is love for man: you have said that you would do something definite for man, so we have with us this evening one who will tell us a little about the fishermen of Gloucester, and the work the Fisherman's Institute of Gloucester is doing through love: love for God and Man."

Mrs. Tuttle in opening her remarks told first of their building which is situated on Duncan street, a street which runs to the water's edge, from which 300 to 500 fishing boats sail carrying from 5000 to 6000 sailors all told. "Our building" she said, "is of brick, with reading and writing rooms on the ground floor, a chapel on the next floor in which are held the evening services. The average attendance at these meetings are from 75 to 100 men and all seem to love to hear the story of Christ."

A silver offering was taken in aid of the work.

'Cherries, come down and fill my pocket. I want you. Cherries, come down.' I said, 'Father, if you want the cherries, you will have to take them.' 'Just so, my boy,' said he. 'If you want Christ, you must take him.' And I did."

"God has a large contract for your salvation. Faith takes the job."

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Alice J. Wheaton announces the engagement of her daughter Edith Leach, to Mr. Charles Emery Williams.

Bertram Sinnicks and Chas. Dodge were home from Andover over Thanksgiving. Mr. Sinnicks had as his guests Edward Rosendale of Ohio, a member of the Andover foot-ball eleven and Benj. E. Lyons of New Jersey.

Friends of Miss Helen Mason of Boston, formerly of Manchester, will regret to learn of her ill-health. She is at present confined to a Boston hospital.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Kitfield on Thursday. Besides Mr. Kitfield's mother, Mrs. Jacob Kitfield, there were present from out of town Mrs. John Knight, Mr. and Mrs. George LeDuc and son Alton, and Mrs. Henry Bickford of Salem.

Miss Annie Lane arrived home from Smith College Tuesday evening for the Thanksgiving recess. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lane also had with them over the holiday Mr. Lane's sister, Miss Bertha A. Lane of Annisquam.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Lewis Foster were held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gilman, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Foster's own minister, formerly of Medway, N.S., but now preaching in Boston, assisted by Rev. Edward Brewster, officiated. The pall-bearers were Jack H. Kitfield, Edward Hooper, Randolph Taylor and Henry Meaken. Interment was in Rosedale cemetery.

A little daughter arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson last Saturday morning.

A pleasant supper and party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heath on Summer street, at the Cove last Saturday evening, in honor of Mr. Heath's mother, Mrs. Gardner Heath, who has just passed her 80th birthday. It was given in the form of a surprise party and was very successful in that respect. After all the guests had assembled in Mr. Heath's house Mrs. Heath was sent for, and to say she was very pleased to see all her children and grandchildren expresses it mildly. A pleasant evening was spent. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hooper, Miss Jennie Heath, all of this town, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Holt of Lynn. Her grandchildren present were: Mrs. Alice Quimby, of Salem, Miss Florence Holt of Lynn, Edward, Harry and Warren Heath, and Berle and Gladys Heath.

Walter B. Calderwood has rented a tenement in the Tappan house on Bridge street and will occupy it at once. Mrs. Calderwood's mother and sister have moved here from Maine and will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie of Cape Breton were guests the first of the week of Mrs. Chas. Andrews, Pleasant street.

The annual election of officers of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, S. of V., will be held next Tuesday evening, at which time every member of the order should make a special endeavor to be present. A supper will be served and a rousing good time is assured.

Boyle--Taylor

Bernard Leo Boyle and Miss Etta Murray Taylor, both of Manchester, were united in marriage some weeks ago in Woonsocket, R.I., the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. Ashton Thompson, the Episcopal clergyman. The marriage occurred on Oct. 20. Both bride and groom are graduates of the Story High school, and the groom graduated from Dartmouth in 1903. The bride graduated from the Salem Normal school last year and has been teaching in the Amesbury public schools. She resigned a week or two ago, however.

MANCHESTER

Henry B. McCollom, who has been clerking at the American Express Co's local office the past summer, has returned to his former duties at the Hotel Thorndike, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Butler who have been spending the past month visiting William Chadwick and family on Morse court returned to their home near Halifax, N. S., last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bell and little son spent Thanksgiving with the latter's family in Merrimac.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lodge partook of the festive bird at a family reunion of the latter in Lowell.

John Robertson, formerly of this town, but now of Marblehead, was here the first of the week circulating among his friend.

The usual pleasant family reunion was held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan P. Meldrum, School street, the occasion being of particular interest to Mrs. Abigail Gentlee, now in her 85th year. Besides her two daughters, Mrs. Meldrum and Mrs. John Knight, who with Mr. Knight, was over from Essex, all her grand-children and great-grand-children were present, except Mrs. Henry (Alice Meldrum) and two children who live in the West. Webster F. Putnam and family were down from Danvers.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beckwith of Malden were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McDiarmid the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rogers spent the holiday with the latter's brother, Percy Cleveland, at Roxbury.

Frank Pinette, who has been employed by a firm at Lincoln, N. H., the past eight weeks, arrived home this week in time for Thanksgiving.

Members of North Shore lodge of A. O. U. W., are reminded that there will be a nomination of officers at the meeting next Tuesday evening.

Special Offer:—The BREEZE from now until January 1, 1908, for $1.00.

Robbins=Bretton.

Frank R. Robbins and Miss Catherine Bretton were united in marriage last Saturday evening in Boston. The ceremony was performed at 7.30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, corner of Columbus ave. and Berkeley st. A reception was held at the new home of the couple, 29 River street, from 8 until 10 o'clock. The groom is well known along the North Shore, being the coachman at Mrs. W. Scott Fitz's, Smith's Point, and his many friends here unite in extending best wishes.

Luke Morgan, Manchester Crossing Tender

Luke Morgan, the Beach street crossing tender at Manchester, lives the simple life in his little flag shanty by the railroad and in his houseboat across the track, which is scarcely less diminutive.

The shanty is not more than eight feet in length and six feet in width. It contains a tiny stove, a small table, a few dishes and cooking utensils, and one solitary chair.

At one end Luke keeps carefully protected from weather his signal flags, his lanterns and other paraphernalia used in connection with his calling.

There are two windows in the building.
One of these, however, has remained closed so long that it is extremely doubtful if it could be opened now without a jimmy.

Fifty yards distant is his boathouse.
Drawn up on the flats beyond high water mark, it forms his sleeping apartment.
It contains his various personal belongings. There he oftentimes sits and muses when the days are stormy and outdoor life is entirely undesirable.

The boat on land is eight feet in width and 12 feet in length. Compared with the shanty by the crossing, it really seems quite roomy. There he has a cot bed and a bit of a range which resembles a doll's stove.

Mr. Morgan purchased the property from a Portuguese for $25.

He has reduced economy to a fine art.
He buys his food in large quantities.

For instance, if he feels a craving for ham, he will buy a large one and eat nothing else until he has finished it.
His menu will be ham for breakfast, dinner and supper. At other times desiring beans, he will buy five or six quarts, baking them, and live on beans until they are all gone. Luke earns $9.45 each week, and incredible as it may seem, he manages to subsist on 45 cents, thus saving $9 from his humble earnings. He has saved $1600, although his bank account at present does not reach quite that figure, on account of a recent purchase which reduced the sum by about $200. This purchase was a lot in the cemetery at North Beverly, on which he has placed a monument bearing his name.

Three years ago $100 was stolen from the little houseboat. It had been hidden in a trunk. The loss taught

Luke a lesson and now while saving for bank the money which he earns, he places it in the railroad safe at Manchester, or in the hands of some business man whom he knows to be reliable.

His wealth is partly deposited in the historic city of Salem, and partly in the town of Danvers.

A year ago this exponent of the simple life spent two weeks with his brother, William Henry Morgan, in Beverly. He is very proud of the fact that this brother was the model for the soldiers' monument in that place.

He is by no means a recluse. Many of the summer residents in and around Manchester nod pleasantly at sight of his familiar face. He is at his post be it clear or stormy weather. Frequently some one stops to chat with him for a few minutes, for his ideas are interesting and novel. Perhaps on no subject is his opinion more pronounced than upon the "swell folks" whom he sees every day.

"Some of them," he says, "are all right, but others are stuck up."

When Mr. Morgan bought the little houseboat many persons surmised matrimonial intentions. He was at the time, to use his own picturesque phrase, "only 50, a good looker and a good catch." But he is still single. He has decided views as to the necessary qualifications of a wife. Extravagance is a thing he will not tolerate. — Boston Sunday Globe.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Haven closed their pretty place at Beverly Farms Monday, after a long season on the North Shore, and returned to their Beacon street, Boston, home for the winter.

George L. Peabody of Boston, who has taken a lease of Miss A. G. Thayer's estate at West Manchester, moving here from Hamilton several weeks ago, has moved to Boston and the house will be closed next Tuesday for the winter. Mr. Peabody is going abroad. The house will be opened in early May.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Prince sailed Thursday week from New York and will spend the winter at Pau, France, as they did last year.

General and Mrs. Wm. F. Draper sailed on Thursday of last week also to spend the winter in Italy, where it will be recalled the General was formerly Ambassador. The family will spend next season in Manchester at the same house they had the past summer.

Among those who are still lingering on the shore are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, who returned to Prides last week from New York and Washington, and from Mrs. Moore's estate at Warrington, Pa. Mrs. E. C. Swift will probably sail for Europe next week.

The Henry Pratt McKeans have closed their villa at Prides and left for their winter home, Penllyn, Pa., Tuesday.

Mrs. Daniel Ahl and son, Leonard, also left Prides Tuesday, returning to Boston.

Society Notes

Cong. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth paid a short visit to the North Shore this week. They came to Beverly Cove last Saturday night after attending the Harvard-Yale game at New Haven, and remained until Monday morning, when they took the 10.57 train from Beverly to Boston. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Allan, who gave a smart dinner for them Sunday night at which covers were placed for sixteen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Covell and family were down from Boston Thursday and spent the holiday at their Magnolia cottage.

Mrs. H. M. Curry and family came on from Pittsburg to spend Thanksgiving at their cottage in Magnolia, which will be kept open all winter, probably.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, 2d, are enjoying the beautiful fall weather on the North Shore and will remain at their Manchester Cove cottage until about Dec. 10, when they will go to their place at Fernandina, Fla., where they spend a greater part of the winter. Mrs. Carnegie's sister, Mrs. Walter J. Mitchell and Mr. Mitchell, who live near them at Manchester Cove will remain here until the 18th, when they will go to Florida for a visit with the Carnegies, after which they go abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Shaw, 2d, who have been spending the fall with Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, will spend the winter at Chestnut Hill, after leaving the North Shore. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell had their young son John, home from the Fay school over Thanksgiving.

Senator-elect James F. Shaw and family have closed their cottage at West Manchester and returned to Brookline for the winter.

The T. Dennie Boardmans are returning to Boston the early part of next week.

Gardner M. Lane was down to his estate at Manchester on Thanksgiving for part of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Tucker left Boston for Southern California Tuesday morning for a two or three months' visit.

Col. and Mrs. Harry E. Russell have returned from their trip to Europe. They are stopping at the Hotel Lenox, Boston, again this winter.

The Augustus P. Loring, the Misses Loring, the John Caswells, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Allan are still lingering at Pride's Crossing. Mr. and Mrs. Allan go abroad after the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Parker and twin daughters spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Parker's parents on Brook street.

Miss Minnie Scott of Boston was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Tappan over Thanksgiving.

Mrs. William Douglass entertained as her guests Thursday her sons, Stephen of Lynn, and William of this place, and their respective families.

Harry Foster was home from Boston over Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ballou and daughter Eleanor, spent the holiday in Gloucester with Mrs. Ballou's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Silva.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy French and Miss Susie Symonds of Everett spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Symonds.

Mrs. Edward Ricker of Gloucester, and Miss Mary C. Brown of Lynn, spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe entertained their son John of Boston, and Rufus Crosby of Rangeley, Me., over the holiday.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philemon Sanborn, Thursday, the festivities were of more than the usual Thanksgiving importance. Not only did it mark the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Dunbar, but it was also the anniversary of her wedding. The large number present thoroughly enjoyed the day.

The boys have organized a club with Henry Butler as president, Colby Staples, vice-pres., and Rev. F. J. Libby, sec. and treas. They have secured Donchian's hall for a gymnasium. Various plans are on foot for their entertainment the coming winter.

Last week was "barrel week" in Magnolia. On Saturday and Monday Rufus Stanley's horse and cart might have been seen traversing the village from house to house with a gradually increasing load of bundles of many shapes and sizes. The end of the journey was at Henry Brown's, whose office, when the cargoes had been received, looked like the store room of a second hand clothing dealer. On Monday afternoon Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Philip Lycett, Miss Alice Story and Miss Marjorie May sorted the articles received. Two large barrels of clothes were packed to be sent to a negro school in Eatonville, Fla., and a barrel and box was sent to the Gloucester Salvation Army, for whom, on Sunday, the Sabbath School had made a collection amounting to three large boxes of provisions and $8.50 in money.

The first meeting of the Ladies Aid Society, was held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Lycett. The same officers as last year were elected: Mrs. Frank F. Story, president; Mrs. Joseph R. Crispin, vice-pres.; Mrs. A.M. Lycett, treas. Those on the entertainment committee are: Mrs. F. L. Hunt, Mrs. Willard Boyd, Mrs. Edgar Story and Miss Alice Story.

News reached here Thursday of the death of Lester Snow, age 13, who died at Saugus Tuesday night. He was a member of the Episcopal choir of Lynn. His father, it will be remembered, was station agent at Magnolia four years ago.

The late Mr. Aborn left a bequest of $500.00 for the Village church.

The work of preparing for the new organ is going on rapidly at the Village church. The foundations are completed and the lumber has come for the superstructure. Joseph R. Crispin has the remainder of the work in charge. A subscription paper is being vigorously circulated for the payment of the expense, which will amount in all to about $300. Every man, woman and child in Magnolia is to be invited to have a part in it, if their contribution be only five cents.

John Chane of Brookline spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chane.

The total number of persons who have joined the band now numbers 22. This speaks well for the untiring efforts of George Adams.

Mrs. Timothy McCarthy spent Thanksgiving in Newton Centre with her daughter, Miss Nora McCarthy who is much improved in health.

Mrs. Harry Foster spent the holiday with her mother Mrs. Wanson at East Gloucester.

Mr. and Mrs. John Commerford entertained over the holiday Mrs. Commerford's brother, Frank Sinnott of Boston.

George B. Stevens, the well known music teacher of Gloucester, is to be accompanist for the Choral society at its meeting next week which will be on Thursday evening in the club house. The change of date is to accommodate Mr. Wanson, who goes to Manchester on that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Abbott spent Thursday with Mrs. Abbott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crispin.

Walter Scott spent Thursday at home with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunbar spent Thanksgiving in Gloucester with Mrs. Dunbar's parents.

Lyman Butler of Boston was home over the holiday.

Miss Helen Lycett and Miss Katherine McCauley returned from Bridgewater, Wednesday, to spend the holiday with their families. Harry Lycett of Cambridge was also home Thanksgiving.

Miss Addie Stanley entertained as her guests on the holiday, her sisters Miss Helen of Roxbury and Miss Hattie of Brookline, besides her cousin Miss Lizzie Thissel of Beverly.

WHISPERINGS

One might well have thought himself in some far off New Hampshire village or at some hamlet in the Maine woods if he had been at the Beverly Farms station Monday morning and seen a yoke of oxen come across the tracks and up to the station platform. The Whisperer was struck by the sight and on investigation found the sturdy animals to be favorites on the E. B. Haven estate nearby, where they are used for work about the place, instead of horses. They were hitched to a heavy cart and were being used for the time being to pull trunks, plants and other effects from the Haven house to the station, as the family were moving back to town on that day.

* * * * *

Numerous flocks of wild geese have passed over this week bound to warmer climes. Wednesday morning at least 11 flocks were seen, in one of which it was estimated there were fully 200 birds. They were travelling quite low.

* * * * *

To pick 50 fowls in an hour and three quarters is no small task for two men to perform. Yet this is what E. J. Semons and Ernest Valentine did the first of this week, and they were fine looking birds, too. Most of them have since been sold at Semons & Campbell's market, Beach street.

* * * * *

I doubt not but that the two masons employed by G. S. Sinnicks, who worked overtime the other night until almost 9 o'clock, will let their respective wives know of the fact. The two housewives in question couldn't imagine what was the matter the other night when their respective husbands failed to appear at the usual time, and were on the point of sending out searching parties when they appeared a little before 9 o'clock.

Real Estate
And Improvements

Prides Crossing

Among the improvements to be made at the W. S. Spaulding estate before next season is the rebuilding of the large stone chimneys, which work is now in hand. D. Linehan & Son are the contractors. These chimneys are of Weymouth stone, and the beautiful fireplaces form a distinct feature of the house.

At the Judge Loring estate a sewerage disposal system is being installed under the direction of E. W. Bowditch of Boston, as consulting engineer. D. Linehan & Son are doing the work.

The stone work on the billiard room and play house being built at the Geo. S. Mandell estate, Beverly Cove, is being done by D. Linehan & Son. W. G. Rantoul is the architect.

T. Emerson Proctor is having built at his estate in Topsfield a large henery, 400 feet long. D. Linehan & Son are building the foundations.

Summerfield Haggerty of New York, is having a beautiful summer residence built at Clifton, the cost of which will be in the vicinity of $45,000. D. Linehan & Son have already started on the stone work for this, and they also have the contract for the grading. Shepley, Routan & Coolidge of Boston, are the architects.

Messrs. Connolly Bros. this week started the building of a "tea house" upon the estate of John Hays Hammond at Freshwater Cove, Gloucester, from designs of Arthur A. Shurtleff, architect, of Boston. The structure is to be about 25 ft. square, of rustic stone and partly wood, including large pillars, and will, after its completion, be a valuable addition to an already beautiful estate.

MANCHESTER

The executive committee of the Wednesday Evening club will be at the chapel next Wednesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock to distribute tickets for the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Standley and family spent Thanksgiving at Beverly Farms with Mr. Standley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Standley.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews and family partook of the festive bird with the Benjamin Huntoons in Beverly.

Supt. and Mrs. George Kimball passed Thanksgiving in Salem with their daughter, Mrs. Chas. H. Fleming and family.

Albert Richardson and family of Salem spent the holiday with Mr. Richardson's parents on Ashland avenue.

Dr. Merritt Long was home from Lowell over Thanksgiving.

Lee Marshall came home from Dartmouth Tuesday for the Thanksgiving recess. Harry Floyd and Frank Fleming, though they did not come home, were well remembered by their parents on that occasion.

Miss Helen Boyle was home from Wellesley over Thanksgiving and had as her guests Miss Harriet Moore of St. Claire, Mich., Miss Gene Tillotson and Miss Rose Bouchier of Penn.

William Wheeler, one of the drivers for the American Express, spent the holiday with his relatives in Pittsfield.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Manchester and children of Northeast Harbor, Me., were guests the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Haskell, West Manchester. They stopped here en route to Florida, where they spend the winter.

To Organize Choral Society

A general invitation is extended to every one who may be interested in organizing a Choral society in Manchester, to be present at the Chapel next Wednesday evening at 7.30. Arthur S. Wonson of Gloucester will be the director, and will have music with him on that night.

Church Notes

The news of the death of Col. Edgar J. Bliss, whose burial took place at Newton last Monday, came as a great surprise to his many friends and acquaintances. He was a resident here for a long time, and while here he married Miss Luke, then summering here. He always took a prominent part in all public affairs and was editor and manager of the Beverly Farms Advocate, a paper put in circulation to aid the Farms' cause during the stirring times of the division fight. He was a member of Preston Post, 188, G.A.R.

The Williams families as by their usual custom held the family reunion at the old homestead on Hart street, Thursday.

Forbes--Winthrop

Miss Margaret Winthrop, daughter of Mrs. Robert C. Winthrop of Boston and West Manchester, and J. Grant Forbes were married at the Boston home of the bride's mother, 10 Walnut street, Wednesday. Bishop Thomas A. Jaggar of St. Paul's church was the officiating clergyman. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her brother, Robert M. Winthrop. C. S. Forbes, a brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes will go abroad for the wedding journey. The wedding was a very quiet affair, owing to the fact the Winthrops are in mourning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davey have moved into the Frank B. Bemis cottage on West street, which they will keep open during the winter.

MAGNOLIA

Wednesday night was appointed for the young people's society of Magnolia to take its turn in holding a service at the Gloucester Fishermen's institute, but the storm prevented many from going. Those who attended were: Mrs. Frank Kehoe, Miss Annie Kehoe and Rev. Frederick J. Libby. Mrs. Frank Kehoe sang two solos, which were much enjoyed.

The marriage of Joseph Mackintyre and Miss Annie Mullen, popular young people who have made the Farms their home for several years, took place at the parochial residence on Tuesday evening. The happy couple are now enjoying a honeymoon trip, and upon their return will start housekeeping at the Farms.

Gregory Connolly and Eugene Connolly came home on Wednesday from Phillips Academy at Exeter, N.H., to enjoy Thanksgiving with their parents on Everett street.

Time for filing nomination papers for the coming city election closed on last Wednesday, and as far as Ward 6 is concerned there is little to interest the voter in this ward as to its representatives at City hall the coming year, owing to the lack of candidates. Robt. E. Hodgkins is the only one for the board of aldermen and therefore, is sure of election. For the common council there are four in the field,—Horace F. Appleton and John C. McCarthy, the present members, with two new men,—Charles H. Hull and Thomas F. Wheelen, from which the voter can have his choice of a pick of three. There is quite a little interest here in the contest between Mayor Wallis and Alderman-at-Large Harvey Dow, who are in the field for chief executive of the city. Both candidates have their friends and supporters, and the same may be said of candidates Desmond and Woodbury for alderman-at-large.

School closed on Wednesday noon for the balance of the week, and the children have been quite happy over the vacation.

Augustus Callahan and Charles McCarthy came home on Wednesday from Brockton to spend Thanksgiving and the balance of the week with their families.

Now that cold weather has set in it is hoped that the play ground property will be prepared so that the young people (and a few older ones also) may have a place for skating. About all that is needed is the building of a small dam, the cutting of the grass and some bushes and the leveling of the hummocks, which can be done at a small expense.

A large crowd of football enthusiasts attended the football game in Salem on Thursday forenoon.

John Cannon left Friday night for New York city where he will spend the winter as usual.

Much criticism is heard lately over the condition of the side walks at the Farms and it is hoped that something will soon be done in this direction.

M. L. Lipson, a Boston real estate dealer living at Concord, Saturday brought a petition in the probate court asking that Joseph Y. Schooner of 68 Waumbeck st., Roxbury, be removed from the guardianship of Mrs. Mamie Lipson, his wife, and also entered an action of tort against Mr. Schooner to recover $15,000. Both actions are a consequence of the death within a few days of Mr. Lipson's little daughter, Isabelle, 5 years of age, of whom Mr. Schooner, the child's uncle, was guardian as well as holding that position with reference to Mrs. Lipson, says the Boston Sunday Globe. This is of interest to Beverly Farms folk, inasmuch as there was a scene at West Beach last summer in which these parties figured, and as a result of which a number of Farms folk were called upon to tell what they saw.

Postmaster Elmer Standley and Mrs. Standley took their Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. John Lee at West Manchester.

Thanksgiving day at the Farms was passed in its usual quiet manner. About every household entertained relatives or friends, who, at noon time gathered around the festive board with its centerpiece made of that which was looked upon with longing eyes, "the national bird." Quite a number went out of town to join family gatherings of relatives with whom perhaps they had not met for a year. A number of the summer residents also came down from the city and spent the day here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hoffman of Manchester and "Billy" Hoffman of Boston helped Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Pierce dissect their turkey on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Varney had with them over the holiday the latter's father, Dr. Orne, of Lynn.

SCHOOL NOTES

MANCHESTER

Through the generous spirit of the children in all the grades four barrels of provisions and various kinds of food, from the John Price Primary school, and six from the George A. Priest, were sent to the poor in Boston on Monday, in good season to bring cheer to many homes in the slums before Thanksgiving Day.

Edgar and Clarence Loveley have left school this week and have moved to Northwood, N. H.

Among the visitors to school this week were: Mrs. Henry Bohaker, Mrs. Otis Bohaker, Mrs. James Murry, Mrs. Ellen Brewster, Mrs. Harold Nathan, Mrs. S. A. Sinnicks and Miss Mary Dodge.

Arthur Jackson and Teddy Norton of Grades VI and IV, respectively, were taken with diphtheria late last week. The doctors inspected both these grades and Grade V this week and found nothing to occasion alarm.

As a sign of approaching winter and cold weather the tops of the flagstaffs at all the school buildings have been taken down and put in winter quarters.

The schools closed Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving recess and will open again Monday morning. In the meanwhile the various rooms will be fumigated as a possible preventative toward further spread of diphtheria.

Arthur Steward and Daniel O'Brien have entered the primary school. The former has recently moved here from Newburyport. The Smith children who have been kept out with diphtheria have also returned to school.

In the Kindergarten this month the children have been interested in taking up the subject of Thanksgiving. They can tell you about how the farmer raises his vegetables and fattens his turkeys, and how he goes to market to sell them, how the little children, with their parents, go to the store and buy the articles the farmers have raised. They also made some butter. A pint of cream was brought. This was passed around the class, and each child shook it until it was churned. Some muffins were sent in to the children on which they tested their butter. Those who tasted of it said it was delicious.

Grade IX leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being: 95.83. The attendance of the other grades follow: II, 95.41; V, 94.90; III, 93.65; VI, 90.61; VII, 88.31; VIII, 86.95; IV, 86.94; I, 83.45.

Miss Eva Crombie was home from Brockton over the holiday.

Baptist church, Rev. Edward Hersey Brewster, pastor. Morning worship at 10.45; People's evening service of song and praise at 7 o'clock.

Sacred Heart Church, Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, pastor. Winter arrangement of services: Sunday, Masses at 8.30 and 10.30 A. M.; Sunday School at 9.15 A. M.; evening service, including Instructions and Benediction, at 7.45 o'clock. Week days—morning Mass at 7.30; Bible class at 7.30 Friday nights.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 13, Peter MacQueen, the well known lecturer, is to give a stereopticon lecture on "Beautiful Russia and the Servian Tragedy," at the Baptist church. The admission will be 25 cents.

At the Congregational church tomorrow a special contribution will be taken in aid of Congregational churches in California, injured or destroyed by earthquake and fire.

Rev. C. A. Lincoln goes to Ashburnham next Tuesday and will offer the prayer at the ordination to the Christian ministry of Augustine de Ohol who was in Yale Divinity school at the same time Mr. Lincoln was there, graduating last year. Mr. Ohol is a young man of more than usual interest. He is a native of India and came to this country while quite young to get an education, his intention always being to return to his native home to engage in missionary work. He prepared for college at Cushing academy in Ashburnham, was graduated from Bates college in the class with the editor of this paper, and went from there to Yale. He is a particularly bright young man and is thoroughly sincere. He has earned his way through school by giving talks, mostly before church societies, on his native home. He was in Manchester last year and spoke at the Congregational church.

The Ministering Circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday evening, Dec. 3, with Mrs. Alice Haskell, West Manchester, subject, "Forgiveness, or Pardon."

The Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters will meet next Monday evening with Mrs. E. W. Baker, Brook street.

An all-day quilting bee will be held in the vestry of the Baptist church next Wednesday, under the auspices of the Church Aid.

The Baby Show which was to have been held in the Town hall yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters, was postponed to an indefinite date owing to the several cases of diphtheria in town.

Sidney Marshall, who entered the Eric Pape Art School in Boston a short time ago, has gained distinction by drawing the front cover of the magazine distributed by the Valvoline Oil Company of Boston. The picture is of an automobile going along a country street at night; the moon is at a crescent and the word "Valvoline" is spelt inside the crescent.

Harry Swett, who is working at Lynn for Phillips, the electrician, spent the holiday in town.

Harlan H. Preston, a carpenter for Roberts & Hoare, met with a painful accident while at work at the shop on Elm street, Monday afternoon. With other workmen he was making shutters. In order to bend over the points of the clinch nails that are used in this work, a large iron plate is used. This fell from its position, by accident, and landed upon Mr. Preston's foot, crushing it quite badly. He was placed in a team and taken to his home on Brook street. Dr. Blaisdell was called, and though the foot was found to be crushed and bruised, no bones were broken.

Born, Saturday, Nov. 24, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Corkum at the Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Joseph's mother in Gloucester.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heath enjoyed Thanksgiving Day in Boston with friends.

Mrs. William E. Kitfield has been spending the week in Boston with her sister Mrs. Prescott Morey.

Mrs. Nellie M. Smith spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. Henry W. Butler, Magnolia.

Miss Annie Crombie is spending the week-end with friends in Melrose.

Mrs. George F. Allen went to Goffstown, N.H., yesterday morning, to attend the funeral of her cousin, John H. Connors, who passed away Wednesday. Mr. Connors has been a frequent visitor to Manchester, and had many friends here.

Lawrence J. Watson and Hugh Burke, who have been employed by Smith's express the past season, have accepted positions with Connolly Bros., as time-keepers.

Jack Frost—bit good and hard yesterday,—only a hint though of what he will do before winter is over. Caught you, I'll wager, just on the point of doing—but caught you just the same. Well, get even, fool him when he carries the thermometer down to zero; have the house hot with the stove only half crowded. He won't expect it until he sees the name on the stove.

The Crawford

then he'll know how 'tis done. He knows all about the fire box, that is built like a furnace, the heavy castings that radiate the heat and the patent damper that holds the heat from going up chimney. He'll pass you by and bite your neighbor who hasn't got one.

MANCHESTER

The fame of Superintendent Kimball's finely built roads here in Manchester, it would seem, has travelled beyond the borders of the state. A few weeks ago superintendents from various parts of the state came here to view his roads. Yesterday Chairman Sargent of the Maine Highway Commission came to Manchester for the same purpose. With him were Fred Ellis, a well known Melrose contractor and Mr. Holmes of the Pitts Roller Co. These gentlemen were much pleased with what they saw and join with the others in praise of Supt. Kimball's success as a road builder.

The annual election of officers of Allen Relief corps will be held next Thursday evening, Dec. 6. A full attendance is requested.

George H. Watson and son spent Thanksgiving in town. Mr. Watson is now living in Watertown.

Miss Mary Dodge was home from Mt. Holyoke over the holiday.

J. S. Reed received word from Colorado Springs, Col., yesterday stating that his son, Chester, has suffered a paralytic shock, and had to be taken to the St. Francis hospital, where he is now being treated. The word came from Judge Toombs, who assured Mr. Reed that he would render any and every assistance he could to his son.

Mrs. John Baker went to Reading last night to attend a reunion of her class in the High school. This afternoon she, with other members of the Haphazard club, will accept the invitation of Miss Abbie Hitchcock to go "slumming" in the North End, Boston, and will attend the Italian theatre there.

Mrs. John Lee at West Manchester had her fourteen children at the Thanksgiving table.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rand had as their guest over the holiday Mr. Rand's sister, Miss Josie Rand of Portsmouth.

Hurley-Logan

An event of much interest to many people in Manchester was the wedding Wednesday week of James A. Hurley and Grace A. Logan. The groom is well known as the local lamplighter, having the sub-contract from his uncle, who is one of the largest contractors in Chelsea. The bride is well known in Manchester also. She was a nurse in a Boston hospital before coming here. They were married by the Rev. Fr. Powers of the Sacred Heart Church.

A reception was afterward held at their newly purchased home on Lincoln street. A large crowd attended from Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Lynn and Salem.

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

An effort is being made to eradicate injurious insects from this locality. Let us hope that those who neglect to do their part in this work will be strictly looked after by the proper authorities. I would suggest that all dead limbs or branches on trees be trimmed off. We have other insects besides the brown tail and gipsy moth to contend with. If the good work commenced is to be made a success, it is necessary that a full clearance be made throughout the state. If there are any farmers who cannot afford to pay for such work the state officials should find a means to assist them. Some of the money spent in the distribution of seeds, in my opinion, would be of more service if used toward the destruction of insects.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Of the Manchester Club in Town Hall Last Evening the Event of the Season

The first anniversary dinner of the Manchester Club, held last evening in the Town hall, was the most select event of the season. The dinner was served at 7.15, and was followed by a short entertainment. Schlehuber of hovering around zero without it was warm enough within.

After a social half hour which most of the members spent gathered around the impromptu fireplace in the southerly corner of the hall all sat down to the tables, which ran down either side of the hall and across the end furthest from the stage. The following menu was thoroughly discussed to the satisfaction of all:

Consomme Julienne — Breadsticks
Baked Chicken Halibut—Brown Sauce
Parisienne Potatoes

Hot Roast Chicken—Stuffed Mashed Potatoes Cranberry Sauce

Roman Punch

Chicken Croquettes and French Peas
Celery Radishes Olives

Cream Fritters—Wine Sauce
Chicken Salad

Frozen Pudding

Assorted Creams and Sherbet
Salted Nuts Sugared Ginger
Rolls and Butter Cake and coffee

After the dinner a few introductory remarks were made by Pres. Merrill, after which the evening was turned over to Chairman Kimball of the entertainment committee, who had Dudley Prescott of Boston, the well known humorist, musical, mechanical and animal mimic, as the feature. Mr. Prescott is a ventriloquist of superior ability and his quaint character delineations were amusing. His entertainment lasted almost an hour.

Long's orchestra of three pieces played during the dinner and again at the close of the evening, when all joined in a "sing."

The committee in charge was: Alfred C. Needham (chairman), Horace Standley, J. N. Lipman, F. G. Cheever and J. A. Lodge. The entertainment committee was composed of George Kimball (chairman), Fred K. Swett, A. S. Peabody, Arthur Olson, Lorenzo Baker and F. C. Rand.

MANCHESTER

It was 4 below zero at Manchester this morning in some parts of the town, and 2 below at Sheldon's Market.

Agent Joseph Cawthorne of the American Express is taking a two weeks' respite from his duties, and Jos. O'Neil of China, N.Y., agent at Pride's this summer, is substituting.

Raymond L. Newton will be the attraction at the Wednesday Evening club next week. He will give his lecture on the "Jeanette Expedition to the North Pole." Long's orchestra with 'cello soloist will also take part in the evening's programme.

Mrs. Perry won the lady's prize at the whist party in aid of the new Sacred Heart church building fund this week. Wm. Cook won the gents' prize. Edward Morley and Martin Flaherty won at "45."

E. G. Merrill, the Salem photographer, has put a new collection of photographs in his case on the Old Corner Store. Persons intending to have work done before Christmas should attend to it right away, before the rush. *

Freight Wreck This Morning

There was a bad freight wreck at Beverly this morning on the inward track of the main line just north of the Gloucester branch junction. The Rockport freight had backed onto the main line after coming up the branch and was run into by the freight from Newburyport. Cars were piled up on top of each other all along the track this morning at 8 o'clock, from the U.S. Machine Co.'s plant to the junction.

CHURCH NOTES

Manchester

"The Two Covenants" will be the subject of Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening he will give a talk on "The Truth about Who shall enter Heaven."

The Teacher's Training class will meet at the Baptist parsonage Monday evening.

A number of people from here are planning on attending the lecture to be given at the Beverly Farms church next Thursday evening by Peter MacQueen. Through an error this was announced under the Manchester church note heading last week.

The annual business meeting of the Congregational church will be held in the chapel next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, when officers for the year will be elected and the annual reports will be presented. The church supper comes in January.

The Baby Show and "Mother Goose" entertainment to have been given in the Town hall on Friday of last week is announced now for next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The affair is given under the auspices of the Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters, the object being to raise funds with which to carry on the charitable work they are continually doing.

The Ever-Ready Circle of King's Daughters will meet with Miss Nellie Leonard, Monday evening.

Town of Manchester vs. Frederick Burnham

The case of the Town of Manchester vs. Frederick Burnham has been before the superior court, without jury the past three days. The suit was brought by the town to restrain Mr. Burnham from further digging at his gravel pit near the line of Arabella street and also to force him to replace the lateral support and maintain a guard rail. A novel point of law is at issue, namely: what are the rights of the town on the highway after it is accepted, and whether or not a property owner can so change his own property as to remove the line of support. Mr. Burnham sold the land on which the street is built to the town some 12 years ago.

The case was called late Wednesday afternoon. Thursday was spent in reviewing the town records, etc., on the case, with Town Clerk Jewett on the stand, and also Engineer R. C. Allen. Yesterday the town's witnesses of the defense will be heard.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Knight are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. James Ropes of Springfield.

The first meeting of the Wednesday Evening club of the season will be held next week, when a program of usual style will be given.

Cries of "Police!" "Police!" were heard by people in the vicinity of the post-office about 5.30 Thursday evening. The cries came from the direction of Statland's tailor shop in the Kimball building. A former employe of another tailor in town, holding a little more of fire water than he could comfortably carry, had gone to Statland's with the evident idea of cleaning out the place. The good-natured German ran into the street calling for help. He intends to get out a warrant for the arrest of the disturber.

Henry T. Bingham is having a storm porch built on his house in Central square. From appearances it would seem that the porch is built on the town property, but as a matter of fact Mr. Bingham owns six feet of the sidewalk along by his house.

The police station harbored two wrecks Thursday night, that were towed in after drifting about in a decidedly loggy condition most of the afternoon.

Captain Rose of Boston and New Orleans has taken the Mahoney cottage on Pine street, and has moved his family here.

District Aid Lyman W. Floyd went to Newburyport, Wednesday evening, to inspect Wm. H. Swasey, Camp 109.

David Betts met with quite a serious accident one day this week while gunning in the vicinity of his home on Pine street. In some manner his gun was discharged, the contents entering his foot.

John Hurley, the lamp lighter, while attending to his duties one day recently, slipped from the raised seat of his wagon and fell, bruising his arms and legs. An assistant is lighting his district at present.

The distemper which has caused the death of so many dogs in the neighboring towns and cities has evidently reached Manchester, for within the past fortnight a number of dogs have died. Mrs. Dennis Sullivan lost a valuable pet, a white lap dog, seven years old, the first of the week. This was later buried with much ceremony in a little wooden casket. Albert Maslin, who also lives on Lincoln street, lost a pet cocker spaniel one day recently. There are many other dogs sick about town. In some places an order has been issued to muzzle all dogs until further instructions.

Joseph Floyd, Willard Rust and Walter Fleming will attend the Y.M. C.A. convention at Danvers next Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Lucas of Essex is making an extended visit with her cousin, Miss Alice Latons.

High-class printing, Breeze Office.

Mrs. W. S. C. Russell

We are grieved to announce this week the sad death in Springfield Thursday morning of Mrs. Russell, wife of Prof. W. S. C. Russell, former principal of the Story High school, Manchester. She leaves an infant son, three days old, besides a husband and son, Stanton.

Stanley--Fenton

It will be an interesting bit of news to the many friends of Roy Barton Stanley, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stanley of School street, Manchester, to know that he was married in New York City some time ago to Miss Margaret Fenton of Oceanic, N.J. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. F. Meyer at the Little Church Around the Corner, on July 6. Mr. Stanley is an electrician and is at present employed in the trade school in New York in which he learned his trade. The happy couple are occupying an apartment on East 26th street

MANCHESTER

The Haphazard club will meet next Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Robertson, Bridge street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Mason celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding at their home on School street, Monday. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Mason had as their guests the members of the Degree of Honor of which Mrs. Mason is an officer. The evening passed very pleasantly. A pretty willow rocker was presented them. Refreshments were served.

Through an error last week we stated that "Miss Helen Mason" was ill in a Boston Hospital. It is Miss Alice Mason, who formerly lived here, but who has made her home in Boston for the past few years. We are pleased to report she is recovering from the effects of an operation.

Miss Helen Burnham is clerking at Baird-North Co's in Salem for the holidays.

Mrs. Alexandra Frazier who has been the guest of Mrs. Charles Andrews the past month returned to her home in Nova Scotia Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Christina McKenzie of Brookline has been Mrs. Andrews' guest the past few days.

Rule For Automobiles.

The following rule for automobiles and other vehicles when meeting has been suggested: "When vehicles are about to meet on converging lines, the one having the other on the left shall be considered as in possession of the right of way."

Under this rule a driver need only watch the roads coming on his right hand, and in many ways an observance of this suggestion would save much bad feeling and actual damage to automobiles.

Why not have your printing done at the office of THE BREEZE PRINT?

Cost Cong. Gardner $5580.

According to his report filed this week with the Secretary of the State the recent campaign cost Cong. Gardner for his reelection over Senator Schofield $5580. Of this sum $3500 was paid to the treasurer of his campaign committee, $1780 to the various city and town committees, and $300 to the congressional district committee.

The amount sent to the Manchester Republican Town committee was $75.00.

Mrs. Claude Temple and two children returned Tuesday after spending Thanksgiving with friends in Vermont.

MANCHESTER

The members of Conomo tribe, 113, of Red Men enjoyed one of those famous cock stews for which the town is famed, at their meeting Wednesday evening. Several pale-faces will be adopted at the next meeting, Dec. 19, when there will also be an election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rice of Framingham were guests of Dr. Blaisdell and family Sunday.

Miss Mary Gorman was in Hamilton visiting Mrs. Joseph Knowlton the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sheehan had a family reunion at their home on Summer street, Thanksgiving day. They entertained their cousins from Brighton, Michael M. Sheehan and sister, Mrs. Abbie Moynehan and family, Timothy T. Moynehan, Margaret A. Moynehan and Abbie M. Moynehan.

Laura M. Johnson

The entire community sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Johnson in the rather sudden death last Friday evening of their young daughter, Laura M., at the age of 9 years, 9 months, 10 days. She was taken with pneumonia on Monday evening and passed away Friday, despite the efforts of the family physician to save her. Her loss is most keenly felt by the parents of the child, as she was the oldest of a family of six children. She was a veritable little mother to her younger brothers and sisters, and to her father she was especially dear. She was a bright child and will be greatly missed by her playmates at the G. A. Priest school.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the residence of the family on Bridge street, Rev. E. Hersey Brewster officiating. Interment was in Newburyport.

Former Manchester Man Celebrates
25th Anniversary of Wedding

At their home, 53 Hale street, Beverly, Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnham Goldsmith observed the passing of their silver wedding anniversary, surrounded by relatives and friends, including a few from Manchester. The house had been brightened for the occasion with a profusion of potted plants and cut flowers. The reception was from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Mr. Goldsmith was born in Manchester, May 22, 1860, but moved to Beverly when quite young. He is a brother of Charles P. Goldsmith of Manchester. He was married on Dec. 1, 1881, to Miss Annie S. Larcom of Beverly.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Head went over to New York Monday for the week, returning to Manchester yesterday. They will remain on the shore until after the holidays and perhaps later. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stockton (Margaret Head) are spending the week-ends with them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Grant Forbes (Margaret Winthrop) sailed last Saturday on the Republic for the Mediterranean trip. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dexter also were passengers on the same steamer.

The Henry Clay Fricks have left the North Shore and have gone to New York, where they will spend a greater part of the winter. Mr. Frick's private car came on from New York last week and the first of this week a special train was made up for the trip back to New York. Owing to Mrs. Frick's continued poor health the departure from Pride's Crossing was delayed a little later than intended. Though the family will not be here the large mansion will be kept heated all winter on account of the valuable paintings and furnishings. And it is not at all improbable that the Fricks will be on more or less all winter.

Mrs. E. C. Swift sailed from New York Monday for Europe, where she will spend the winter and early spring in Italy.

SCHOOL NOTES

MANCHESTER

Because of the storm Thursday the "no school" whistle was blown in the morning. It was the intention, however, to have no school at the Primary School only, but through some misunderstanding the signal was given for no school at any of the buildings. The High School held a short session, there being less than half the scholars present.

Among the visitors to school this week were Mrs. William Follett, Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. J. H. Kitfield.

Robert Rooney and Iverlin Rose have entered the second grade this week.

Grade IX leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being 97.74. The attendance of the other grades follow: IV 96.59, III 94.06, V 93.45, VI 92.71, II 91.01, VII 90.92, VIII 87.22, I 76.30.

The No-License vote in Gloucester is increasing every year. Last year there was a difference between the "No" and "Yes" vote of only 257. This year, with a larger total vote, this is lessened by more than one-half, there being only a majority of 116 in favor of license. Had there been 59 more "No" votes the city would have gone No-License.

WHISPERINGS

The first sleighs of the winter were out in Manchester Thursday morning. A. C. Hooper was out with a light sleigh in the early morning, and one of Ayer Bros.' ice pungs was taken over the Smith's Point route. The rain, however, soon put a stop to what poor sleighing there might have been.

* * * * *

Many of our early risers in Manchester witnessed a rare sight one morning this week, when they saw the steed of our genial Superintendent of Streets come tearing down School street, hitched to the wagon, but without "coachman" or owner holding the reins. It appears that "Dannie" had harnessed the horse, and the animal, thinking that it had waited about long enough to start on its day's work, left the stable on North street where it is kept. Down North street, into School and thence around Town hill back to the stable it went, without getting even a scratch on the vehicle. Maybe the animal wanted to "warm up" a little. Possibly we will hear later that Mr. Kimball has sold the horse to the managers of Wonderland, to be used the coming season as a trick racer.

Real Estate

Ground was broken Wednesday by Messrs. Connolly Bros., upon the estate of Allen Curtis on Oak street, Beverly Farms, for foundations and other work incidental to the erection of a cottage house, which in architecture will be upon the same lines as Mr Curtis' own residence and other structures already built. Messrs. J. T. Wilson & Son of Nahant, and Frank E. Burnham of Essex are the other contractors.

The contract has been awarded this week to Messrs. Connolly Bros., for work upon the stable alterations and improvements at Miss A. G. Thayer's, West Manchester. The work consists in part of raising the structure three feet, building new foundations, concreting, raising the area of the stable yard in front, including retaining walls. There is also to be a new system of drainage installed. Chester L. Crafts of Manchester has the contract for the wood work.

This week's real estate transfers records the transferring of land, 147x538 3 feet, and buildings on West street, Beverly Farms, from Andrew C. Wheelwright to Neal Rantoul. It is understood Mr. Rantoul buys for his own occupancy and will soon start to make many alterations and improvements, all to be finished in time for early spring.

The Rev. Carey W. Chamberlin will preach tomorrow night at the Beverly Farms Baptist church.

A social and whist party was held last evening at the home of James Butler on Haskell street.

Some work has been done towards the preparation of making the playground a skating park for the young people.

WHISPERINGS

The ladies connected with Preston W.R. Corps, who usually meet on Tuesday afternoons in G.A.R. hall, to do sewing, had an intruder in their midst this week when one of our prominent citizens "buted in," so to speak. It appears that he had made a mistake and was a week ahead of time, inasmuch as he thought it was election day and time to vote for city officers. He was somewhat astonished, as it first appeared to him the precinct was in charge of female officers, and when he was tendered a needle, thread and thimble, instead of a ballot, he quickly made his retreat.

Read the offer made this week to the boys and girls of Beverly Farms. Now that the skating season is at hand the boys and girls will want skates. F. W. Varney has some handsome nickel-plated skates of all sizes at his store, which he sells for $1.50 a pair. To every boy or girl who takes to him the names of five NEW subscribers to the BREEZE, with a dollar for each subscription, Mr. Varney will give a pair of these skates. There's your chance. A subscription may be taken to send the paper anywhere, to any address whatever. Have you ever thought what a nice Christmas present the BREEZE would make to send to a friend at some distant point? The rest of this year free. Boys and girls, start in this afternoon. When you get five subscriptions, go to Mr. Varney and get your skates, ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Philbrick of Attleboro, have been spending the past few days with friends at the Farms.

Miss Cassie Williams was given a very pleasant surprise party at her home on High street, Monday evening. The hours sped by very quickly for the young people, so pleasant did the evening prove. The hostess was remembered by her friends with several presents.

Miss Ruth E. Blanchard is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Ayers, at the latter's home in Salem.

Mrs. Frederic G. Haynes and children have moved to Boston and joined Mr. Haynes. The family will keep house on upper Tremont street.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattis Hanson of Vine Court attended the Anderson-Hanson wedding in Boston last Tuesday.

The fifth in the series of card tournaments in Marshall's hall, in aid of the improvement fund for St. Margaret's Church was held last Monday evening and, like all previous gatherings, was well attended. The winners in the whist playing were: Ladies' first prize, Mrs. Forrester H. Pierce; second, Miss Mary Foley; consolation, Miss Mary McCormack. For the gentlemen, Frank Gaudreau, as usual, succeeded in winning, this time securing first prize. Thomas F. Wheelen won second, and the consolation went to Charles Dix.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer of Prides Crossing wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Mary J. Dwyer to Harrison Adams of Boston. Miss Dwyer graduated from Beverly High school in June, 1906. Mr. Adams is in the real estate business in Boston.

Next Thursday evening, Dec. 13, Peter MacQueen, the well known lecturer, is to give a stereopticon lecture on "Beautiful Russia and the Servian Tragedy," at the Baptist church. The admission will be 25 cents.

When the Beverly Farms voter goes to the polls next Tuesday he should have one purpose in mind: that of voting for the man, or men, whom he feels will serve the best interests of the city at large and of Beverly Farms in particular. Our interests here are of a different nature than in any other part of the city, except, perhaps, part of Ward 4. We can ill afford to be continually doing things that gain the displeasure—and that to no small degree in some instances—of the summer contingent. These are the people, or rather, the source, of a large proportion of the city's income. The past year or two has seen thousands of dollars spent recklessly, with no eye to economy, and the heavy taxpayers along the shore are getting very impatient. Such men as Jeremiah Desmond should not be tolerated by the prudent voter in running the affairs of Beverly. The city has seen about enough of this kind of man. He should be given a back seat, and this is the year to do it. Just think of it. "Jerry" Desmond, Alderman-at-large! His record has shown him to be a very poor man to have even for Alderman-at-small.

Business Note.

M. J. Murphy has purchased from Jos. Pink & Co., harnessmakers, the two North Shore stores of the concern, at Manchester and Beverly Farms, and is at present in charge of the former. Mr. Murphy has been in the employ of the concern some eleven years, and has been the manager of the Beverly Farms store, which closes winters.

Col. H. P. Woodbury Camp Hold Annual Election.

The annual election of officers of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of V., was held at G. A. R. hall, Tuesday evening. Selectman Walter R. Bell was elected commander of the camp. The other officers elected were as follows:

WALTER R. BELL

Elected Commander of Col. H. P. Woodbury Camp, 149, Manchester.

Curtis B. Stanley, senior vice com.; Authur U. MacCormack, junior vice com.; Samuel Wheaton, secy; Edw. W. Baker, treas.; John L. Prest, L. W. Floyd and Ernest Sargent, members of the camp council; Rev. E. Hersey Brewster and Fred K. Swett, delegates to the State convention; Chas. H. Morse and Herman Swett, alternates.

After the election the usual social hour was spent, in which remarks were made by Bro. J. D. Morrison of Miles Standish camp, 115, of Duxbury, and Rev. E. Hersey Brewster. A New England supper was served.

In Bankruptcy.

Mrs. E. F. McNamee, who conducted a store at Magnolia the past season, in the Charles Hoyle cottage, opposite the New Magnolia hotel, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Her liabilities are claimed to be $19,396.83; and assets $5925.00. A trustee was appointed at the court in Boston Tuesday. Among the creditors in this section are: Chas. A. Hoyle, rent, $350.00; Gloucester Elec. Light Co, $5.35; W. A. Homans, ice, $25.59; J. A. Lodge (North Shore Breeze), advertising, $21.25.

The Lufkin place in North Beverly which Station Agent Frank Rand will occupy later, is undergoing a thorough renovation. The many improvements will include a new spacious veranda on the front and north sides of the house. After the completion of the work in hand this will surely prove an attractive and pleasant home for Mr. Rand and his family.

Mrs. Alice L. Preston and Miss Alice A. Preston were in Boston yesterday.

Albert Johnson, the well known and popular driver of the Farms team of Smith's Express Co., has the sincere sympathy of this community in the death of his little 10-year-old daughter, Laura, which occurred at Manchester last Friday evening.

On Wednesday a plumber employed by a Boston concern, while at work on the new Frederic Ayer house at Pride's, fell through an elevator well from the second story, breaking his leg and receiving a severe shaking up. He was taken to the Beverly hospital.

The many friends of William Pike, driver of the ladder truck, are pleased to see him about once more.

There is to be a grand concert in Marshall's hall next Saturday evening, Dec. 15, by Ellen Atwater Goudey, reader, and Eugene Goudey, pianist, and assisting talent. As this entertainment is of a high order there is no doubt but that a large and appreciative audience will greet the artists upon their appearance here.

S. John Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Connolly, has just passed through a critical operation at the Boothbay hospital, Boston, and is now on the road to a full recovery.

At the regular meeting of Preston W.R.C. this week the following officers were elected: Mrs. Alice A. Preston, president; Mrs. Lydia E. Williams, S.V.P.; Mrs. Mary A. Larcom, J.V.P.; Mrs. Alice P. Collomore, treasurer; Miss Addie Day, chaplain; Mrs. Carrie May, conductor; Mrs. M. Publicover, guard; Miss Addie Day, delegate; Mrs. Avis Larcom, alternate.

L. Howard Preston entertained on Thanksgiving day Mr. Smith of Ohio, who will also be his guest during the coming holidays.

Election of the city officials will be held next Tuesday, Dec. 11, at G.A.R. hall. The polls will open at 6 a. m., and will remain open until 4 p.m.

Mrs. James J. Nugent and little daughter Dorothy have been spending the past week at Worcester.

Politics in Ward 6 for the coming election is very quiet and outside the competition for the mayor's chair and alderman-at-large, the voter has but little to bring him to the polls. Owing to the scarcity of candidates for political honors in Ward 6 there are no organizations and no still hunt for votes. The only preferences outside of the two most important offices which can be shown is the choice of three out of the four candidates for the common council, and therefore unless the interest develops stronger for the heads of the ticket than at present, it is thought by many that there will be a light vote cast in Ward 6.

Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley were guests over last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell at Pawtucket, R. I.

Arthur Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Day of Hart street, is confined to the Beverly hospital with typhoid fever, being taken there the middle of this week. Mr. Day is certainly unfortunate inasmuch as only about a month ago he returned home from a Boston hospital where he was confined for a long time with a severe illness.

Anderson--Hanson

The marriage of Miss Mea Hanson and Hans Anderson were solemnized at the Swedish Lutheran church, Shawmut ave., Boston, last Tuesday evening. Both parties are well known here where they have spent a number of summers. The bride has of late been a part of the household of Mrs. Thomas E. Proctor at Pride's Crossing and Mr. Anderson has been for eight or more years coachman for the Chas. H. Dallons at West Beach hill.

The Book at a Time Case

Who wants to buy a whole library for a starter, or when the old case is full, buy a whole big bookcase just to accommodate the extra volume or two you feel it almost necessary to possess?

"The Gunn"

A bookcase of units—a section at a time. One top and one base and you keep on building until you reach the ceiling, or until you've run all the way around the room, making the walls look like one continuous bookcase—but never a bit more shelving than actual necessity demands.

Doors all raise and push back at top avoiding all possible chance of glass breaking; all joints are rabbetted, making the units absolutely dust proof.

In these days of book-reading and gathering such convenience is little less than indispensable. Made in plain oak and imitation of mahogany, golden oak and weathered oak, beautifully grained. Less than the magazine prices here and delivered in the home as you need them.

WEDNESDAY EVENING CLUB

Interesting talk on the Jeanette Expedition to the North Pole, by one of the Surviving Members of the Party.

The members of the Wednesday Evening club, at the first meeting of the season held in the Chapel this week, listened to a very interesting talk on the Jeanette Expedition by one of the two surviving members of the party,—Raymond Lee Newcomb, of Salem.

Mr. Raymond's talk, though given in a rambling sort of way, with no pretence of a formal address, was most interesting from the fact that one of the actual survivors of this,—one of the most thrilling expeditions to the northern waters on record, was talking.

In calling the meeting to order at 7.45, President D. T. Beaton extended a greeting of welcome to the large gathering and expressed the hope that the interest manifested would continue through

Allen retires after 38 years Service as Clerk.

The annual business meeting of the Congregational church, Manchester, was held in the Chapel Thursday evening, when the officers for the year were chosen and the reports of the officers and auxiliary societies were heard.

The retiring of George Forster Allen as clerk of the church after 38 years of faithful service, was probably the most important feature of the meeting. Mr. Allen's increasing weight of years led him to ask to be excused from serving another year and a successor was chosen. A committee, composed of O. T. Roberts, Wm. Hoare, Geo. W. Jewett and Dea. Jos. A. Torrey, was appointed to draw up resolutions to be spread upon the church records as a testimonial of the

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Robertson regret to learn of their contemplated departure from Manchester. They will move to Hamilton, where Mr. Robertson goes to take charge of the business of R. Robertson Co.'s branch office. They will leave here probably the first of next month. Mr. Robertson's successor has not yet been announced.

The arrest of burglars in Newburyport recently is of local interest inasmuch as it was thought, when their stores of booty was discovered, that some connection with the Manchester breaks might be found. The break in Newburyport was in the house of Mrs. Stone, mother of Richard Stone of the local summer colony. Among the things stolen was an old pitcher which had been presented to Mr. Stone by his pupils when he taught school there 43 years ago. This was recovered among other things.

A baby show and "Mother Goose" entertainment is being held in the Town hall this afternoon under the auspices of the Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters.

D. T. Beaton is having a small addition built to the rear of his house on Ashland ave.

Finest Stationery in exquisite holly and floral boxes, Cheever's. *

E. N. Griffin, music teacher in the local schools, and also in the schools of Rockport and Melrose, spending three days a week at the latter, has tendered his resignation here. He has accepted a similar position in Stoneham, where he will spend 2 days a week. His successor has not been appointed.

Military Brushes, Cheever's.

The stores in town have taken on their holiday dress and a number are quite attractively decorated. Cheever's and Lee's drug stores are quite gayly attired, and Floyd's too, has assumed the air of a city department store. If one is in doubt just what to purchase for Christmas presents, and where to purchase, peruse these pages. We have more Xmas advertising than we carried either last year or the year before. The BREEZE itself wouldn't make a bad present. Had you thought of it?

The real estate conveyance is recorded of five-eighths of an acre of land at Kettle Cove from F. M. Whitehouse to Harriet Curtis.

Choral Society

The Manchester Choral society will meet next Wednesday evening at 7.30 in the chapel. At this time membership tickets, at $2 each, will be on sale. There will also be issued associate membership tickets at $3 each. Associate member tickets entitle each holder to all the privileges of active membership and to the early choice of two reserved seats at the concert in the spring. It is hoped that persons who do not sing, or who cannot attend regularly will be willing to help out financially by purchasing associate membership tickets. Such persons can attend, of course, any rehearsal and listen or take part as they please.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Boyd entertained as their guests this week Mrs. Boyd's brother, Howard Sederquist of Lynn, her mother Mrs. Oscar Reed of Falmouth, Me., and Julius Fisher of New York City.

Much interest is centering in the recently organized band, which is steadily increasing, and Leader George Adams says he can see a great improvement in those who have joined. The present membership is 22. Below is given the names of those who have joined and the instruments they play: Cornet—Herman Staples, Frank Dunbar, Gilbert Crispin and Victor Sundstron; trombones—Chester Knight, Guy Symonds, James Lennard and Joseph Caton; clarinet—Daniel Chane, John Lycett, Fred Lycett, Frank Kehoe, Charles Hoysradt and Henry Butler; alto—Colby Staples and William Waddy; bass horns—Oscar Swanson and Arthur Strongberg; French horn—Harry Hannaford; snare drum—Fred Staples; bass drum—James Chane.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Carter, of Bar Harbor, Me., spent the middle of the week here, guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hunt.

Mrs. Harry Foster was home from Boston over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Kehoe is in Melrose over Sunday visiting her parents.

Miss Grace Story was home from Andover Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Arthur Lycett next Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. H. O. Smith and Miss Minnie Silva of Gloucester have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ballou this week.

Henry Brown and Dennis C. Ballou were in Somerville Thursday on a business trip.

Mrs. Susan L. H. Libby

Deep sympathy is felt in this locality over the death Wednesday morning of Mrs. Susan L. H. Libby, who has been failing in health for several months. Her age was 76 yrs., 3 mos., and 5 days.

Mrs. Libby was born in Richmond, Me., Sept. 7, 1830, her maiden name being Susan Lennam. She was married to Dr. A. Libby in Richmond, who passed away in 1898. A son, the Rev. Frederick J. Libby, pastor of the Village church and two daughters Miss Alice M. and Miss Frances L. Libby survive her. Rev. Mr. Libby conducted brief funeral services Thursday afternoon from his home, and her remains were laid at rest yesterday afternoon at her native home, funeral services being held at the Congregational church. The Rev. George C. DeMott, of Bath, Me., a former pastor, officiated.

The sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended Mr. Libby and sisters in the loss of one so dear to them, and the loss will be keenly felt by the community at large, as the deceased was always active in the church societies and social activities of the village.

Chester S. Reed

Chester S. Reed, son of J. S. Reed, of Manchester, passed away at Colorado Springs, Thursday evening, in the Deaconess Hospital, where he was taken two weeks ago Tuesday for treatment. Mr. Reed is a native of Manchester, being born here 35 years ago. He was a telegraph operator by profession, learning the business with Mr. Crooker, former station agent here. For some time he has been in poor health, and he went to Colorado this fall in hopes of regaining his health. He suffered a paralytic shock a fortnight ago, and though given the very best of care, he could not be saved.

Mr. Reed was married, and he leaves a wife and child in Newton Centre. He was Mr. Reed's only son.

The No-License rally held in the Baptist church last Sunday evening was very well attended. The pastor, Rev. Clarence Strong Pond, presided, and the meeting was one of much enthusiasm. Rev. Carey M. Chamberlin of Beverly made the address. He spoke of the cost of the open saloon and said that a billion and a half dollars had been spent for liquor in this country last year. He quoted other figures to show the excess of money spent for rum over all other commodities of more value than the mineral wealth of the country.

We greatly regret the unfortunate occurrence of last week by which the item was published in this paper to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Dwyer. The item reached this office by mail and purported to be from Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer. As we are constantly receiving items from subscribers and readers of the paper through the mail we published this item as we do all others. To the great surprise of the editor he learned the item was entirely wrong. Its publication, of course, has resulted in greatly annoying the persons concerned, and it is for their interests as well as our own that we are taking steps to bring about the prosecution of the person who so wilfully tried to wrong Miss Dwyer.

Robert, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Everett street, had a very narrow escape from instant death yesterday afternoon by falling from the third story window of their residence to the ground. Fortunately the fall was broken by a growth of shrubs under the window. As it is the child is in an uncertain condition, but it was resting comfortably last night.

There was a slump in Standard Oil Tuesday! In the late afternoon as the heavy wagon of the company, drawn by three horses, was bringing a tank of 750 gallons of oil from Gloucester to be used in lighting the streets in Manchester, one of the rear wheels of the vehicle broke. The wagon turned a complete somersault; the driver was thrown directly under one of the horses, but fortunately for him the animal behaved well and he was only slightly bruised. The accident happened in the Cove woods, almost at the entrance to the Charles Head estate.

The remains of Mrs. W. S. C. Russell, whose sad death in Springfield last Thursday, was recorded in our last issue, was taken to Burlington, Mass., the native home of the deceased, for burial last Sunday. Dr. R. T. Glendinning of this town and Chas. H. Fleming of Salem attended the funeral.

Eddie Walsh who underwent a painful operation at the Beverly hospital three weeks ago arrived home Tuesday afternoon.

Henry Menken of the Cove was called to Brooklyn, N. Y., last Saturday by the death of his sister, Mrs. Bruin Hafke.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Lodge were guests of friends in Somerville over Sunday.

Conomo tribe of Red Men will elect officers at their meeting next Wednesday evening, at which time a couple of pale-faces will probably be adopted, and another of the collations which the members have been treated to after the meetings of late will be served. Deputy A. S. Peabody of Poquannum tribe of Lynn desires the staff to be present on that evening for practice also. The visit to Lynn the first of next month will be of more than the usual importance, not only because the tribe is one of the strongest in the state, but because a public raising up will be held on that evening. Deputy Peabody has been warmly complimented on his work by the state officers, a number of whom will be present on this occasion.

Friends of Bertram Floyd of this town who is attending Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., wondered, on reading of the disastrous fire there last Friday morning in which three students and three firemen lost their lives, if he was among the unfortunate students. Mr. Floyd was not harmed in the least. It was one of the “frat” houses, valued at $200,000, that burned, and there were only 27 students in it at the time, one of whom was Harry Curry of Magnolia, who was rescued after some difficulty, more or less injured.

WINTER WORK

We will do the winter work for you and have it inspected by the Local Superintendent or State Inspector to make sure that you will have no further expense for this winter's work.

Browntail moths are less numerous, a good opportunity to keep them so. Don't let the Gypsies increase; they are expensive to fight if numerous.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Whitehouse returned the first of this week from an auto tour down through Connecticut and New York to Lakewood where they remained a few days. They left the shore several weeks ago in time for the Harvard-Yale game at New Haven. They will spend the winter at their Manchester estate, with the exception of a week or two at their shooting box in the South after the holidays, and will probably go abroad in the spring.

Mr. and Mr. Andrew Carnegie, 2d, closed "Seawold," at Manchester Cove, Thursday, and have gone to their winter home in Fernandina, Fla.

Miss Frances H. Stearns was down the shore last Friday looking over her property at Magnolia, and making plans for some minor improvements and changes at the Grille club and "The Villa." Yesterday Miss Stearns left Boston, where she has been stopping at the Hotel Lenox since returning to town, and went over to New York, where she is registered for a month or more at the Prince George. She is planning to sail on February 4, on the Deutschland for Naples, whence she will go to Sicily and perhaps to Africa, Paris and London, returning about May 1.

This week saw the opening of the debutante season at Boston, which is to be a particularly gay one this year. A number of North Shore girls are to be given coming out parties of more or less prominence. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Bradley of the Prides colony presented their daughter, Rosamond Bradley, at a ball at the Somerset, the event proving one of the smartest given there this season.

Harry Curry, son of Mrs. H. M. Curry of the Magnolia summer colony, had a narrow escape last Friday morning in the fire which destroyed the Chi Psi fraternity house of Cornell University, at Ithaca, N. Y., in which three students and three firemen died. Mr. Curry, who is a student at Cornell, was among the injured. He was cut about the hands and his face was burned. Mr. Curry was rescued by Horace Halliday, former captain of the football team, who climbed a ladder and by means of a rope succeeded in lowering himself to a window where he rescued the unfortunate young man. The fire started at 3.30 a. m. There were 27 students in the building, which was worth $200,000, and was said to be one of the finest "frat" houses in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Grew are to have with them for part of the holidays, at their 89 Beacon st., Boston, home, their daughter, Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, jr., and Mr. Morgan, who arrived from Europe a few days ago.

MANCHESTER

Members of North Shore Lodge, A. O. U. W., are reminded that there will be an election of officers at the meeting next Tuesday evening.

Arthur S. Dow, who closes his fish market on Beach street winters, is temporarily in charge of a large fish market on Elliot street, Boston, the owner of which, a friend of Mr. Dow, is ill.

Harry and George Coulter were home from Boston over Sunday and had as their guests Miss Christine Murdock of Malden and Harry Summers of Watertown.

The engagement is announced of Miss Ina V. Baker and Charles Arthur Wallace of Roslindale. Miss Baker was graduated from the Story High school in 1905.

Mrs. Warren Atwood of Ayer was a recent guest of Mrs. George Northrup, Bennett st.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan T. Beaton entertained a few friends at dinner and whist at their home, corner of Ashland ave. and Bridge st., Tuesday evening, in honor of Mr. Beaton's 46th birthday.

Mrs. C. E. Fish entertained the Friday Afternoon Whist last week. The club will not meet again until after the holidays, —Jan. 4, when Mrs. Dr. Glendenning will entertain.

Miss Rita Baker has been a guest the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gilman.

Miss Alice Tappan was a guest over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Murry, Beverly.

Miss Harriet Brewster read at entertainments at the Congregational church, North Beverly, Wednesday evening, and at the Baptist church, Wenham, Thursday evening.

Post 67 Election.

Allen Post, 67, G. A. R., elected the following officers at their meeting last Friday evening: E. P. Stanley, commander; Enoch Crombie, senior vice-com.; A. S. Jewett, junior vice-com.; H. T.

Bingham, chaplain; C. H. Stone, officer of the day; G. A. Jones, officer of the guard; J. W. Widger, surgeon; J. G. Haskell, quarter master; J. G. Haskell, delegate to the dept. conv.; G. A. Jones, alternate.

Poultry Show Next Week.

Indications point to a "bigger, better, busier" show this year than has ever been held under the auspices of the Essex County Poultry association. The show will open in the Beverly City hall next Tuesday, Dec. 18, and will continue through the week, closing Friday night. Competition is open to everybody. There are nine Manchester members in the association and there will probably be 10 exhibitors from here. The admission will be 25 cents.

the year. Secretary Cunningham read the records of the business meeting at which the following officers, previously announced, were elected: D. T. Beaton, president; Alexander Robertson, vice pres.; Albert Cunningham, secy.; W. W. Hoare, treas.; E. A. Lane, H. L. Roberts and F. J. Merrill, executive committee. G. S. Sinnicks was afterwards elected to the committee, Mr. Lane resigning.

Mr. Newcomb, who, by the way, is agent of the Salem Board of Health, prefaced his remarks by saying he had spoken before many larger audiences, but never with more feeling, because he felt Manchester was a sort of home for him. His great-grandfather, Wm. Raymond Lee, was a Revolutionary celebrity. He went to Marblehead and joined the famous fighting Marblehead regiment under Glover, the regiment which covered the retreat of the Colonial troops on Long Island. Mr. Newcomb wore the gold medal presented him by Congress "in commemoration of the perils encountered and as a token of the high esteem in which Congress holds his services," in connection with the Jeanette expedition. He was the naturalist in the party.

CAMBRIDGE

He said in beginning his talk that he felt his story was a sort of "chestnut." He reviewed what had been done by the great explorers from the early days up to the trip just concluded by Peary. "You ask 'what is the use of this sort of thing?' What would the world be without its heroes and heroines?"

The Jeanette expedition to which I was attached was outlined at a dinner party. The Jeanette had previously seen service in northern waters on the other side of the Atlantic. She was purchased and brought here. We started from New York around Cape Horn to San Francisco and started from there July 8, 1879.

The speaker went on to tell of the start for the pole and the first tastes of hardships, how they were frozen in the ice on Sept. 26 and were tossed hither and thither till January when the ice broke and they found the ship was leaking. He told how Christmas was celebrated. He described the aurora, which he said he was convinced was an electrical phenomenon. They passed through two winters, with severe hardships, and in June of 1881 the ice came together and smashed the ship to pieces. They took the stores from the ship and started over the ice with two skiffs and after many, many weeks of intense hardships they reached the Siberian coast. A number of the party had been drowned or had starved to death. He did not go into details about the trip but merely skimmed over the account, giving but a small idea of the actual hardships encountered which left the party with but a handful when they reached civilization. He is now one of the two surviving members.

During the evening, both before the lecture and after, Long's Orchestra discoursed some favorite selections, including "Flower Song," "In Rose-land," "The Grand Old U.S.A.," waltzes from deKoven's "Happy-land," "In a Shady Nook," and "Love's Devotion."

The following committee will have charge of the next meeting: Fred J. Merrill (chairman), Misses Gertrude B. Goldsmith and Carolyn E. Allen, Mrs. F. Clifford Rand, Fred K. Swett, Frank A. Rowe and J. A. Lodge.

VOLUME 4.

NUMBER 23

SATURDAY, DEC. 15, 1906.

Christmas

Christmas comes but once a year,
But when it comes it brings good cheer.

This fragment of an old song is none the less true today. Christmas, which was nearly banished from the calendar of our Puritan fathers, has in these later years become a high holiday. Thanksgiving and New Year's, which once overshadowed it, are still honored in the observance, but Christmas is par excellence the children's day.

A decree, mightier than that of Caesar Augustus, has gone forth that all the world on that day shall be taxed for the little ones. It is fitting that the advent of the Christ-child should be commemorated. The star which drew the gaze of the wise men, the shepherd folk, and the multitude of the heavenly host, has no more eager watchers than the children. It stands above every cradle as it once stood over the manger.

Other holidays require but little preparation for their enjoyment. Not so Christmas. This kind goeth not out but by thinking and dreaming and working. For weeks and months little fingers and older hands and heads are busied in fashioning sweet surprises. For a whole year, artist and artisan have been working at toy and trinket, at book and picture, and whatever may minister to delight and comfort. Only curmudgeons with hearts frostier than December air, are insensible to the warm and kindly influences of Christmas-tide.

Let us use and enjoy the season as Christ who gave it would have us. Let us make our gifts not costly but numerous, remembering especially the little ones and the poor. Remember, too, that as we feel towards our children, so in a larger measure the infinite Father feels towards us all.

If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Heavenly Father give good things to them that ask Him.

many years of faithful service. This same committee will draw up resolutions on the death of the late Dea. A. E. Low.

The pastor, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln presided, and after the roll was read by the clerk, and prayer was offered, Mr. Allen presented his report. He reported that the present membership of the church was 179, ten having been added during the year, and four being lost, — three by death and one by letter. The deaths were: Deacon Albert E. Low, Mrs. Mary Ann Gilman and Edgar W. Knowlton.

The officers elected were: Albert Cunningham, clerk; Geo. W. Jewett, treas.; O. T. Roberts, deacon for five years; A. L. Saben, supt. S. S.; John C. Wiles, asst.-supt.; Howard M. Stanley, sec'y. and treas., and Miss Eliza G. Goldsmith, junior supt.; Mrs. Anna Phillips, Mrs. Susan Knight and Mrs. Eliza Leach, missionary committee; Mrs. J. F. Rabbard, Mrs. Chas. R. Peart, Mrs. Emma Stanley, Mrs. Geo. W. Jewett, Miss Abbie Larcom and Mrs. Hattie B. Kitfield, deaconesses; Miss Grace M. Prest representing the Y.P.S.C.E., and Mrs. Emma Stanley and Mrs. H. B. Kitfield the deaconesses' standing committee.

The various reports were presented, either verbally or written, by the different officers. The reports of the missionary society and Home Missions, read by Mrs. Chas. R. Peart and Mrs. Anna A. Phillips, respectively, showed this branch of the work in good order. Mrs. Emma Stanley reported $179 in the treasury of the Ladies' Social circle, and that the membership was 88.

The thanks of the church was extended to the parish committee for their work in bringing about the improvements in the church and chapel; a vote of thanks was also extended the social circle for installing electric lights in the chapel.

Mr. Cunningham thanked the church for the confidence expressed in him in electing him clerk to succeed one who had served so many years. A motion for a rising vote as an expression of the faithful service of the retiring clerk was made, but Mr. Lincoln took the floor and said he felt more than a rising vote was due Mr. Allen for serving the church 38 years, during which time he had attended all but two of the annual meetings. He moved that a committee be appointed to draw up resolutions as referred to above, and it was fitting that similar action be taken in regard to the late Deacon Low, he said.

Mr. Allen spoke briefly in reply to the action taken, saying that he had thought for some time how general it was for the elder people to withdraw and leave the work for the younger members. He had faltered considerably in the last six months and he felt

Santa's Great Jubilee's Begun

The story of his great Fairyland is on every tongue. Never was there a place one-half so enchanting; never was there a place where Xmas thoughts found such delightful expression. The very thought for each dear friend is here, for each member of the family — just stand them all in a row, think what you'd most like to give to each one, then come to Santa's Xmas Land—you'll find it, and so little priced the tiniest purse will find enough to spare.

Suggestions

Electroliers

That call forth the greatest amount of admiration of anything in the store. They are as pretty as a piece of jewelry; some are really etched just as finely; others finished in old brush brass look very pretty; then there is the "Verde" finish. The Swedish Iron finish and, in design, in harmony with their color.

From as low as $3.75 up to those with the leaded glass shades that cost as high as $45.00.

Gas Portables

Made in the same artistic manner as the Electroliers. From $2.50 to $25.00.

Lamps

Aristocracy in Lampdom is holding high carnival here this year. Every name in the blue book is represented, and such an array of court costume never Squat Lamps, real old Dutch effects in antique brass, at $2.75.

Great Vase Lamps, whose nobility dates with the "Empire," at $5.50.

Tall Colonial Lamps, in burnished brass, at $8.25. Hampshire Pattern Lamps, of that soft green hue, very effective with the pretty "Jap" shades. From $5.00.

CHINA LAMPS that are especially attractive at this season's price. From $2.25.

Russian

Band Hammered Brass

Here is where we show you values.

You ought to be with us when we go hunting out this stuff.

It's worth what the other fellows have to pay for it that do not buy it as we do.

It is certainly pretty and we have a lot of it, although it is going now very fast.

Little Ash Trays only 50¢. 3-leg Jardinières only 75¢. 6-inch Trays only $1.00.

Ball Foot Jardinières only $1.25.

Card Receivers only $2.25. Long Necked Pitchers only $2.75.

Umbrella Stands only $9.50. And so on a lot of different things fully 25 per cent. less than anywhere else for we are the only merchants that buy it of the poor foreigners that make it.

Chafing Dishes

The exact amount of Christmas happiness and mirth that the "informal" Chafing Dish would carry into your home would be hard to estimate. Dream of delightful winter evening chafing dish suppers—witty repartee mingled with the appetizing odor of a Newberg, a Rabbit or a Lyonnaise. Would anything in the world better please mother or sister?

And we've a great surprise in store for you in these—this Xmas time.

We've a dish with a 3-pint pan on nickel stand this season for $3.75.

A dandy with side handles for $4.50.

And you ought to see the base under the one we sell for $6.50.

We've a "Mission" one with square legs and square handles for $8.25.

We never sold Chafing Dishes so cheap. Come here sure and with them, also Forks and Spoons and Trays and the like.

Cut Glass

Luckiest hit, almost, that we made this season. Arrived in the New York office just as the mail man brought in the mail that contained the factory's stock list of the goods on hand with orders from the factory to sell at a price. It's just the same glass that we have sold all the year, the very same patterns you see elsewhere. It compares the prices.

5-inch Nappies only $1.25. 6-inch Nappies only $1.75.

8-inch Bowls only $3.25. Beautiful Flower Vases only $1.75.

Great big Vases only $4.00. 3-pint Jugs only $4.00.

And all delivered in pretty white boxes and dainty as you wish.

Gold Clocks

What a field for the designer's fancy. He picks up a daisy here, and a cupid there. He steals from the French and gets designs in l'art Neveau. A hand-painted panel he finds a place for, and then, if he hasn't gone and made old Grandfather Clocks up in miniature, with little weights and all.

We have them all here and they are beauties, too, with furniture store prices on them that make you a saving. From $1.15 to $25.00.

A. C. Titus & Company

he ought not to stand in the way of some younger and newer life. "It was a work I loved," he continued, "and I did it with great cheerfulness. I recall with pleasure the many scenes and recollections of my service as your clerk, but I feel lonesome because none are left of my age."

It was voted that the whole subject matter of the annual reunion and roll-call be left in the hands of the standing committee.

MANCHESTER

There will be a joint installation of the W.R.C. and Allen Post 67, G.A.R., at G.A.R. hall on Friday evening, Jan. 4.

Friends of Wm. H. Tappan will regret to learn of his increasing feebleness, at his home on North street. He is now in the care of a nurse. Mr. Tappan is 81 years old.

MANCHESTER

The snow and rain of Monday followed by freezing weather early Tuesday morning left the streets in a rather precarious condition, as far as walking, or even driving, was concerned. And they have remained that way most of the week. A regular coat of ice covered everything, and though the sidewalks were well sanded, walking even then brought about embarrassing results. The blacksmiths had good business. In many cases sleighs and pungs were hauled out.

Geo. E. Willmonton has just been appointed local agent of the Aetna Ins. Co. of Hartford, Conn. This company has assets of nearly $7,000,000, and one of the strongest companies in the business. He has also been appointed general suburban agent for the Northern Insurance Co. of New York for Mass., R. I. and Conn.

Miss Marion G. Scott is clerking at D. Low's, Salem, during the holiday rush.

H. Statland, the tailor in the Kimball building, closed his place of business Thursday and started for St. Augustine, Fla., where he will be engaged at his trade during the winter. He will return here the last of March.

SCHOOL NOTES

MANCHESTER

The schools close next Friday for the Christmas recess of 10 days, convening again on Wednesday, Jan. 2.

Invitations have been sent by the children and teacher of the Kindergarten this week to the parents of the little tots to be present at the Christmas tree and exercises to be held next Friday morning at 9.30.

George W. Libby of the American Book Co., gave a short spelling test to the ninth grade last week. The result was very satisfactory. Mr. Libby said the test was 50 per cent better than in any of the schools he had examined from Bangor to Boston.

The boys in the sloyd classes have been very busy with their Christmas work the past week. A sloyd lesson takes place every Monday and it would be of much interest to the parents to visit the class some day.

The regular school barges have been run as usual to accomodate the children going in rooms under Grade V.

Among the visitors to school this week were Mrs. Roderick Rose, Mrs. Lester Morris, Mrs. Eliza Crombie, Mrs. G. A. Knoerr, Mrs. David Fenton, Mrs. Samuel Peabody, Miss Albert Burgess and Mrs. Harold Nathan.

A very attractive picture is drawn on the blackboard in the third Grade by Miss Carolyn Allen, the teacher, with a verse from the Bible.

Grade IX leads the other rooms this week in attendance, the percentage being: 98.69. The attendance of the other grades follow: V, 98.33; II, 97.85; IV, 96.36; VII, 95.57; VI, 94.91; VIII, 94.78; I, 90.62; III, 87.31.

The children who helped send the Thanksgiving donations to the poor children in Boston will be pleased to read the following letter:

"Hull Street Settlement House," Boston, Mass.

"Dear Boys and Girls: I want to express to you my deepest appreciation and thanks for your generous Thanksgiving gifts. Nearly a hundred bags were filled and sent into the homes of the poor and of the sick. I wish you might have seen the delighted faces of the people when the bags were opened. The chicken went to a scrub woman who has been out of work for some time and whose husband is sick. Had it not been for the chicken they would have had no meat for their Thanksgiving dinner. It seems to me I never saw nicer vegetables and apples. The canned goods were so acceptable also. It is really impossible to let you know how much good your offering did. Thanking you again, believe me,

"Most Sincerely,
"Abbie Hitchcock."

George Twitchell has resigned as caretaker of the Arthur Little estates and has associated himself with Frank I. Lomasney in the new system of garbage collection, a contract awarded by the city for this vicinity.

Peter MacQueen, M.A., delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture upon "Beautiful Servia and the Russian Tragedy" before a large audience at the Baptist church, Thursday evening. The slides used were very plain, indeed.

Ward 6 had the honor of being the first to report the result of the vote this year, sending in the result at 5 40 p.m. There was 267 votes cast and not a woman voter among them.

The V. S. club consists of about a dozen or more young ladies, some of whom reside in Beverly, were the guests of Miss Myria Williams at her home on Vine court, last evening.

The committee in charge of the new church at Centerville have already in their possession the sum of $2200. Work has already started upon the excavation of the cellar.

Now that the city election is over the Farms voters can give their undivided attention to the Christmas shopping and can get some good pointers where to buy by reading the BREEZE advertising columns.

Tuesday evening, Charles Warner who was driving a heavy two-horse tip cart, was thrown from his seat and before he could recover himself one wheel passed over his hand, severing the little finger and badly bruising the hand in general. He was taken to the Beverly hospital. The accident was due to the slipping of the wheels upon the ice.

G. A. R. hall on each Thursday evening is the scene of quite a gathering of veterans and associates, who meet on this evening regularly for sociability. With the beginning of the New Year a pitch tournament will be started. The winners at the end will be awarded silver cups. The tournament last year was exceedingly interesting from start to finish.

Now that city election has resulted in the selection of its representatives, an examination of the vote and opinions expressed by a large number of the voters, has clearly demonstrated the fact that it is about time to abandon the nomination paper which has become a nuisance and a disgust, and adopt some other system, whereby the citizens can have something to say as to who shall become candidates, and not be obliged to vote for a self-appointed, self-elected aspirant for office. If the representatives of this ward desire to gain the gratitude of a large representation they will, immediately after inauguration take the proper steps to bring about this question for consideration, and there is no doubt but what there will be a strong sentiment in favor of a new system all over the city.

The seventh evening of the card tournament being held under the auspices of the K. of C. and the Forresters, was given last evening, and the popularity and enjoyment of these gatherings was evidenced by the increased numbers who took part. Good prizes were awarded.

George Twitchell and family have moved into the William Moriarty cottage, rear of High street.

The Ladies Sewing circle met Thursday afternoon in the vestry of the Baptist church and spent the time busily "knotting" a quilt, which article will later be offered at a fair to be given here.

Mrs. John J. Perry and daughter of Adams have just concluded a week's visit among relatives at the Farms.

The concert to be given tonight in Marshall's hall by Mrs. Ellen Atwater Goudey, reader, and Eugene Goudey, pianist, assisted by other talent, will no doubt be enjoyed by the large audience who are sure to greet the artists.

Through the courtesy of Supt. Blackmar of the Water Dept. and Asst. Engineer Eli R. Hodgkins the first of the week, the skating pond was given a dose of water from a near-by hydrant, which has done much to better the ice surface and therefore has made the young people happy.

CHURCH NOTES

Manchester

"Jewish Sacrifices" will be the subject of Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning,—the ninth in the series on "The Epistle to the Hebrews." At the People's evening service he will preach on "Touching the hem and stanching the stream."

The Teachers' Training class will meet at the Baptist parsonage Monday evening.

A Christmas concert, with Christmas tree for the children, will be held at the Baptist church on Christmas Eve.

A chorus is practicing for a four-part Mass to be sung on Christmas Sunday at the Sacred Heart church. An entertainment for the young people is also being prepared to take place about New Year's. It will be in the form of a cantata and Christmas tree. The hour of the early mass at the church has been changed from 8.30 to 8.45 a.m.

Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln will exchange with Rev. Frederick J. Libby of the Village Church, Magnolia, tomorrow morning. In the evening a free lecture on "Customs and Manners of the Hindoos," will be given by Rev. Augustine de Ohol. Mr. de Ohol will wear native costume. Mr. Lincoln will preach at Magnolia in the evening.

There is to be a Christmas concert at the Congregational church next Sunday evening, Dec. 23. On Christmas Eve a social time for the little children will be given in the chapel.

The Church Aid Society will hold an all day quilting bee in the vestry of the Baptist church next Tuesday.

The Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters will meet next Wednesday evening with Mrs. E. L. Rogers, North street. The barrel is to be packed for the Fishermen's Institute at Gloucester. The circle will be glad to receive any second hand clothing for this purpose.

The Ministering Circle of King's Daughters will meet on Monday evening, Dec. 17, with Mrs. Alice Haskell, West Manchester. Subject: "Forgiveness or Pardon."

O. T. Roberts has again been chosen on the county committee of the Y.M.C.A.

WHISPERINGS

In the early morning of one of the coldest days we have had recently, when the thermometer registered 4 below zero, many of our early rising citizens were astonished to see one of our prominent young business men wandering around the Trowt field wearing a straw hat. The first impression was that he must have unexpectedly become a fit subject for Danvers, but later developments cleared the situation and has put him again in good standing in the community. It seems that the night before he visited the local barber shop and had a long delayed hair cut, as a consequence of which his hat fitted quite loosely, and in passing the open space the strong wind blew it off into the field. An unsuccessful search in the dark was resumed in the morning, but before he set forth he was unsuccessful in finding a suitable head gear. The only article that could be found was an old straw hat. For fear that somebody would find the hat and carry it off, delay was not to be thought of, hence he went forth with this head gear that has brought down on him no end of "jollying," and alas! to no purpose, for the derby hat is still missing. But the straw hat is also among the missing.

To Let, Want, Lost, Found, etc., 25 cents first week; 10 cents a week after.

SUCCESSFUL TEST

Has been made for filtering water at Beaver Dam Meadow, Manchester.

It would now seem that the question of an additional water supply for Manchester is fully answered and it only remains for definite action to be taken by the town to secure more water if it sees fit to do so.

As the result of the work done by the Water Board last year the State Board of Health "advised" the board to carry on tests this year toward seeing what could be done in the way of developing the Beaver Dam Meadow project, so-called; to find out how much water could be depended upon, and, if satisfactory as to quantity, to make tests, secondly, as to the best way of getting rid of the excess of iron in the water.

The result of the experimental tests carried on the past summer and fall demonstrated that there is an almost unlimited supply of good water there.

This week the writer was shown over the filtering plant in operation for the past month and it would seem that most satisfactory results have been arrived at in this respect, too.

It now remains for the State Board of Health to make their official report. They are apparently well satisfied with the results obtained and will, no doubt, report favorably to developing this project, if any.

On the edge of the swamp, just off the Essex-Manchester road is a small, roughly constructed house, in which the filtering tests have been carried on. A small gasoline engine, running a triple pump, draws water from one of the driven wells near-by. The water is pumped into a large tank, No. 1.

As a matter of proving the experiment a clay water is filtered as well as the clear water from the well. This clay water is made by mixing one-half pound of clay with 30 gallons of water, which mixture is kept in a separate tank and is kept in motion by a centrifugal pump.

From the large tank No. 1 the clear water flows into two other large tanks, No. 2 and No. 3; but in flowing to No. 3 the water receives drops of the clay water mentioned above, which drops at the rate of one pint in 18 minutes, so that in tank No. 3, instead of being perfectly clear water, there is this very small mixture of clay water, while in No. 2 the water is, of course, just as it comes from the wells.

From these two large tanks (2 and 3) the water now flows through the filter tanks, and as it drips out at the bottom of each (filter No. 1 and filter No. 2) it flows away to the brook, at the rate of one gallon in three minutes, 36 seconds.

The filter is very simply made, there being in the two cylindrical tanks two grades of crushed rock and some sand.

This work was started Nov. 23 and it is intended to end the test tonight or tomorrow. It is running continuously, — 24 hours a day, and it takes four men in relays to look out for it.

Samples of the filtered water from each filter tank are sent to the State Board three times a week.

The purpose of the filter is to remove the iron, as this seems to be the only thing of a detrimental character in the water. Supt. Andrews is of the opinion there is no need of filtering the water, for there is so little iron present that when this water is mixed with the regular town supply it would not be present in any noticeable degree. Even now it is not present in such proportion as in the water supply of most towns and cities.

In case it were necessary to filter the water an area some half an acre in extent would be needed.

The plant is after the suggestion of the consulting engineer and State Board of Health.

LECTURE ON INDIA

A. D. Ohol, a native of India, gave interesting Talk at Manchester last Sunday Evening

Rev. Augustine Deoji Ohol, a native of India, gave a very interesting lecture in the Congregational church, Manchester, last Sunday evening on his native country. He was greeted by a good sized audience. Mr. Ohol is a young man,

REV. AUGUSTINE D. OHOL

Who lectured at Manchester last Sunday evening. 27 years of age, who came to this country 13 years ago to obtain an education. Having obtained this he is returning to his native home on the 29th of this month and will devote his time to teaching and preaching Christianity among his countrymen.

Mr. Ohol said in his opening remarks that India was a country made up of many different countries, as it were, the customs and manners of each being distinct. The houses, he said, are built mostly of clay brick and stone. He had never seen a wooden house until he came to America and he was actually afraid to live in a wooden house until he had been here some time. In most houses one would find two or three large rooms and in every house there is a sacred corner, where are kept the household gods.

It had been his duty, being the young-

New Postal Requirement

Postmaster Samuel Wheaton of Manchester has handed us the following item for publication:

Amendments P. L. & R., Box Rents, Oct. 13, 1906, Order No. 1291, Paragraph 2, Sec. 348, Postal Laws and Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

Box rents must be collected at the beginning of each quarter for the entire quarter, but no longer. Ten days before the last day of each quarter postmasters are required to place a bill (on form 1538 or 1538½) bearing the date of the last day of the quarter in each rented box. If a boxholder fails to renew his right to his box on or before the last day of a quarter the box shall then be closed and offered for rent and the mail will be placed in the general delivery.

CENTRAL SQUARE, . . . MANCHESTER.

We regret to report the continued illness of Edward Symonds, who has been confined to his home since Thanksgiving. He is threatened with pneumonia.

Mrs. John Commerford and daughter Mildred, were in Boston the first of the week visiting friends.

The Ladies' Aid met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Crispin. Next week they will meet at the same place.

Mrs. Thomas Abbott was home from Boston the first of the week visiting her parents.

George Harvey spent the first of the week in Springfield visiting relatives.

The Magnolia Improvement society is having all the Point cleared of gypsy and browntail moths as was done last year. A large force of men started on the work this week.

It may be pleasing for many to hear that the trees on Hesperus ave., are being trimmed, while some are being removed.

Russell Lucas has been ill the past week with tonsilitis.

Sidney Haskell of West Gloucester is having a road built from D. C. Ballou's stable on Magnolia ave., to the foot of Bennett's hill. He is having this built to open up his property.

F. L. Hunt's best horse, iron gray in color, was badly injured this week from slipping on a wheelbarrow, the handle of which entered his body about three inches.

Born, Dec. 17, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hoysradt, at Magnolia.

The Boys' club held a very successful dance in the club house Wednesday evening to raise money towards the expense of Donchian's hall which they are using as gymnasium this winter. A good time was enjoyed by everybody present and a neat little sum was raised. Long's orchestra furnished the music.

A Christmas cantata is to be given in the club house by the children of the community, next Monday evening. The children have been rehearsing for the past two weeks and the event promises to surpass in interest and efficiency all the recent Christmas programs. The unloading of the Christmas tree will follow the cantata. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

Rev. F. J. Libby will preach a Christmas sermon at the morning service in the church tomorrow. A special feature of the service will be the singing of Christmas anthems by a choir, both at the morning and evening services.

The last of the series of lectures on Japan was given last evening in the church. Fifty illustrated slides were used to give a more vivid impression of the subject which summed up in brief the manners, customs and religion of the Japanese. These lectures have proven quite popular as attested by the good attendance kept up throughout the course.

Baby Show and "Mother Goose" Entertainment

Despite the inclement tendencies of the weather last Saturday afternoon the baby show and "Mother Goose" entertainment in the Town hall under the auspices of the Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters was well attended by the young folk and the older ones as well. The affair was a success financially as well as in point of entertainment.

The farce represented the old "Mother Hubbard" rhymes and each part was well taken by the following:

Old Mother Hubbard	Mrs. E. W. Baker
Mother Goose	Miss Effie Stidstone
Curly Locks	Gladys Hildreth, Donald Height
Jack Horner	Gordon Baker
Jack Sprat	Archie Cool
Wife	Bessie Bohaker
Little Boy Blue	Roland McNeil
Simple Simon	Henry Lane
Little Miss Muffet	Ruth Spry
Boo Peep	Dorothy Blaisdell
Pony	Gladys Hildreth
Queen of Hearts	May Rogers
Knave of Hearts	Archie Cool
King of Hearts	Miss Lillian Nunn
Wheelbarrows	Harold Purdy, Gladys Hildreth
Jack and Jill	Dorothy Blaisdell, John Carter
Pies	M. Stevens, Henry Lane

Other features of the entertainment were a piano solo by Miss May Rogers and a drum solo by Master Harry Baker. The prizes were awarded as follows:

Heaviest—32½ pounds, George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Cameron (Mabel Chadwick), a gold baby pin.

Tallest—35 inches, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gorman, a gold ring.

Youngest—16 months, John, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin, a silver spoon.

A second prize was given in this last class to Frank H. Dennis who added much to the merriment of the occasion by bringing in a prettily dressed doll, which was an object of much envy among the younger portion of those present. Mr. Dennis was awarded two ice creams as his prize.

There was also a sale of ice cream and candies the tables being in charge of Mrs. G. A. Knoerr, Mrs. Chester Crafts, Mrs. R. A. Mitchell and Miss Bertha Lane. The arrangement of the whole affair was in charge of Mrs. Wm. Follett and Miss Nellie Leonard who are to be complimented on its success.

MANCHESTER

Miss Helen Mason is clerking at G. F. Allen's during the holidays.

Society Notes

Prominent among the North Shore contingent at Washington this winter are the Clarence Moores, who recently went there from Pride's Crossing. They have for the season the Blair Lee house on Pennsylvania ave., though they have bought a lot on Massachusetts ave., very nearly opposite to Senator Lodge's, and are beginning to build what promises to be a most magnificent mansion, to cost, so gossip says, with its furnishings, every bit of a million and a half.

The Guy Normans are also prominent in Washington life again this season. They bought a house last year, it will be recalled, on the fashionable Massachusetts ave.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walker have closed "Highwood," their West Manchester estate, temporarily, and moved to Boston this week, where they will spend a greater part of the winter with their son, Charles Walker, who has a town house at 7 Arlington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopkinson, who are lingering quite late at their cottage in Manchester this fall, went to town yesterday to spend the holidays with Mrs. Hopkinson's mother, Mrs. Greeley S. Curtis, and sisters, the Misses Curtis, at 28 Mt. Vernon st. The latter closed "Sharksmouth," at Manchester Cove, only a fortnight or so ago.

Yachting Notes

The work of building the new one-design class of 15-footers, designed by Small Brothers for a number of Hull yachtsmen, will begin soon at White's yard, Manchester. The designs are about ready for the builder and have been approved by the committee having the arrangements for the new class in hand.

E. H. Keep of New Orleans has purchased the racing yacht Manchester from Dr. J. L. Bremer of Manchester, and will race her under the flag of the Southern Yacht club. The Manchester won back the gold challenge cup from the Canadians in 1905, which had been taken away ten years previously. She was designed by E. A. Boardman of Manchester. The boat was shipped from Manchester Monday. Mr. Keep will change her name to Seawanhaka, as the name was not sold with the boat, the owner desiring to retain the appellation as the name for a craft that will represent his home town, Manchester, in the Sonderklasse races next year.

Gloucester is to have a new yacht club in the near future and it will have a home second to none on the coast if the plans at present under way are carried out. John Hays Hammond of the Fresh Water Cove colony has contributed $5000 as a nucleus fund for a building.

A number of the boys and girls attending schools and colleges have arrived home this week for the holidays. Frank Fleming came home from Dartmouth last Saturday. Harry Floyd and Lee Marshall returned from Dartmouth Thursday. Bertram Floyd has also arrived home from Cornell.

Miss Mary Dodge arrived home Wednesday from Mt. Holyoke College, and Charles Dodge from Andover Academy, to spend the Christmas holidays.

William J. MacCormack, who is with the Quincy Adams Sawyer theatrical company, is home for a week, and will be joined shortly by Mrs. MacCormack.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leach are coming on from New York Saturday for the holidays.

"Coming Thro' The Rye"

No greater success has been chronicled in Boston in many years than the production of the new musical comedy, "Coming Thro' the Rye," which was seen for the first time at the Tremont Theatre, Monday night. From the beginning to the final curtain the performance was wholly delightful, and encores and curtain calls were freely and enthusiastically bestowed upon the many

Real Estate And Improvements

Manchester

Morley, Flatley & Co., of Manchester, has the contract for building two green houses at Pomfret, Conn. This concern also has the contract for macadamizing the A. T. Croll, Geo. M. Morgan and F. C. Stevens avenues at Smith's Point. They have the sidewalk at the Cove very nearly completed, and the stonework on the new Sacred Heart church is about completed.

Ground was broken this week at the W. B. Walker estate, West Manchester, for the erection of an automobile garage.

Chester L. Crafts of Manchester, has the general contract for improvements and alterations at Miss A. G. Thayer's, West Manchester, referred to last week. The work includes the raising of the stable three feet, a new bath room in the stable, placing new stalls in the stable, with asphalt floor. The heating plant will also be changed over.

Beverly Farms

Connolly Bros., of Beverly Farms, are doing considerable work upon the estate of William Hooper at West Manchester, including the building of a cold storage house, terrace walls, and some landscape work.

Among other work which this concern has in hand at present are changes and improvements at the Gardner M. Lane estate at Manchester, which includes, in part, the changing of the lines and grade of the avenues and macadamizing of same. They are also at work upon the rebuilding of the Harrison K. Caner avenue.

Connolly Bros. have just been awarded the contract for constructing avenues, terrace walls, gardens and grading upon the Stockbridge estate of Dr. Bangs, which work will be started in the spring.

Conveyances

James H. Morse of Beverly conveys to Lydia, wife of George H. McDirmid of Manchester, land and buildings in Beverly, 50 feet on Cabot and 80 feet on Lyman street.

William R. Morgan conveys to John F. Morgan woodland on Christian hill, Manchester, 15 rods 2 links, by 22 rods 2 links.

Otis H. Luke, et. al., executors of Lydia H. Luke, convey to James E. Carroll, for the sum of $15,000, and he to Eliza Watts, wife of Arthur F. Luke of New York, land and buildings on Valley and Hemlock streets, Beverly Farms.

Important Deal at Manchester

An important real estate deal has just been consummated in Manchester whereby Mrs. Charles Head gains title to a valuable piece of property in the Cove woods, so-called, commonly designated as the Crafts estate. It comprises some 14 or 15 acres of wooded land, with a hill overlooking the sea. The property is directly across the road from the Charles Head avenue. It is understood a building will be erected on the site during the present winter to be occupied next season by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stockton (Miss Head).

Memorial Building for Beverly Farms?

Is Beverly Farms to have a pretty memorial building? The idea has been suggested many times in course of conversation, but the matter was first publicly broached on Tuesday evening at a meeting of Preston Relief corps. Tuesday afternoon the members of the corps met at G.A.R. hall and a New England dinner was greatly enjoyed by all. In the evening the regular meeting was held and it was suggested by the president, after the regular business was disposed of, that a memorial hall ought to be erected. Mrs. Lillian Standley had the honor of presenting the first penny for this work, and this was soon covered by 42 others, the whole being formally dedicated as the first voluntary collection for the memorial fund.

est, to pray to these gods that the greatest good might come to the family. He had to go to the river to get water and bathe them; he placed food before them and then had to take it out to the birds. The crow is a sacred bird in India and to kill one meant that the one who did the killing would be 1000 years farther from his eternal destiny.

"There are no chairs in our houses," he continued. "There are small stools instead. There is one bed only and that is kept for guests whom we treat with greatest courtesies. In the summer we sleep on the roofs of our houses, which are all flat roofed. I was worried when I saw the slanting roofs of houses here, and wondered how one could sleep on them.

"We have the rainy season there and we must keep water from one season till another. If there is no rain there is a famine and a great calamity follows. The summers are not hot; the coldest winters I have seen were 55 or 60 degrees. There is never snow or ice."

He spoke also of the caste system and its bad effect upon the people and country as a whole, as regards progress. So set are the people in this regard that should a person of one caste touch one of another while passing on the street the person of the higher caste would stand still and would not move until one of his own caste came along and sprinkled him with water,—thus purifying him again.

He spoke of the two great religions,—Buddhism and Brahmanism,—and of the pilgrimages to the sacred river Ganges, of mothers throwing their children into the sacred river in order to gain the sympathies of God. He spoke of the good features of these religions as well as the bad.

"Religion governs every phase of the life of India today," he said. "The worse thing and the vilest that one man can say to another is 'you are a Christain.' When my father became a Christain he had to move outside the city walls and could not see any members of his family. If they were seen talking together they would loose their caste. The difference between Christianity and other religions is we have God in the person of Jesus Christ, while in all others the people are striving to find God."

"India is not an uneducated land. The people are enlightened. We have our schools and colleges, street railroads and electric lights. If there is anything that can break the caste system it is the religion of Jesus Christ. I am going back to do my little part in this great work."

SCHOOL NOTES

MANCHESTER

The girls in the sewing classes have been busy making Christmas articles. The lower grades have made pin-balls and hat-pin cushionings; the upper classes are making fancy articles such as embroidering doilies and hemstitching handkerchiefs.

Supt. Fish has taken one of the best drawings from each of the grades in the schools here to Amesbury, where he is superintendent, and he will bring drawings from the schools there, his idea being to compare the work of the two schools in this respect.

Jewels, rings, and such as these,
True gifts are not. Apologies!
Thy gifts must never smack of pelf,
They are portions of thyself;
Thou must of necessity,
Giving truly, bleed for me.The poet, if a poet born,
Brings his verse; the farmer, corn;
The shepherd brings a lamb;
The miner brings a gem;
The sailor brings as well
Gifts of coral or of shell;
The painter comes, his picture showing;
The maid a kerchief of her own sewing.
Each giver makes a shift
To give himself in his gift.JOSEPH A. TORREY, Boston Transcript.

Improving Highways

The matter of improving the highways at Gloucester and opening up new and old roads along the shore is being agitated, and there is reason to believe that tangible results will follow. Included among the roads mentioned is the Hesperus avenue along the Magnolia shore.

They Want a Drink After Show

A movement is on foot in Gloucester to have the theatre train, so-called, now leaving Boston at 11.24 for the Gloucester branch, leave an hour later, or about 12.30 o'clock, on account of the new 12 o'clock law, so as to enable the people to partake of all liquid refreshments after the theatre.

IN MEMORY OF J. G. WHITTIER

The 99th Anniversary of His Birth, December 17, 1906

(BY KATE RESTIEAUX)

Beneath the moonlight and the snow,
The old world sleeping lay.
The chilly air, the cold gray sky,
The shortening wintry day,
Told all New England once again,
That winter came a'near,
And bleak December wove his shroud,
To wrap the dying year.
But one low farm-house, white with frost,
Seemed wide awake that night.
The miracle, fresh shapen there,
Revealed at morning light,
A baby boy, a new born child,
A gladdened mother's heart,
And fatherhood, thus deified,
Bore up its sacred part.
And yet above that little child,
Who could forecast the day
When all the world would on his brow
A poet's laurels lay.Or who would dream that by his aid,
Grim slavery's clanking chain
Would drop from off the freeman's limbs,
Ne'er to be worn again.
O, Whittier, our Whittier,
Dear manly heart and hand,
The God of all the fatherless
Thy doings did command.
Thou wert a nation's shield and stay,
When storms beat fierce and high,
And none have lived since slavery's day,
Who dared to pass thee by.
Where rose the fierce dissent of law,
Where stood the staunch and brave,
Thy voice rang out, thy word rang true,
For bondsman, as for slave.
No thought of fame, no thought of self,
Seems ever to have led
The mind that asked but liberty,
For every grief bowed head.And nigh a hundred years have passed,
Since first thy star arose,
To shine a nation's beacon light,
Full bright o'er friends and foes.
Yet ever young, in loyal hearts,
Beloved, thou shalt stand,
And if it be that sorrow's clouds
Shall threaten this fair land,
Or should a wealth of undreamed good
Be ours, to take and hold,
If upward borne by moral law,
Or to oppression sold;
God grant that fate may raise us up
One heart as true as thine,
One star of pure white radiance,
A-down our path to shine.

THE NATIVITY

(*T. J. EAGLESTON)

Two travelers journeyed, in rainment plain, down from Nazareth to Bethlehem
To be enrolled, so read the decree, everyone in his own city;
The inns were lighted and filled with guests,
but the travelers two,
Had no place to rest.At length they shared a poor man's table, of whom, they asked a place in his stable,
Where they might stay 'till morning's dawn, sheltered some
From the cold and storm.Now in this same country on the forest's height,
Some shepherds were watching their flocks
that night,
When lo! they saw an angel appear,
Shining with God's brightness, and they were filled with fear.And the angel said to them "Fear not this hour,
For behold, I bring you tidings of great joy,
For today to you a Saviour is born
Who brings you peace this Christmas morn.""It is Christ the Lord come from God's throne,
For the sins of the whole world to atone,
See yonder stable? you shall find him there
Wrapt in swaddlings in a manger bare."Then singing praises to the heavenly throne,
The angel departed leaving them alone."Let us go to Bethlehem," the shepherd said,"And find the manger where the infant is laid."Mary and Joseph were the travelers plain Who journeyed from Nazareth to Bethlehem;
The shepherds found them in a stable there,
With the infant Jesus in the manger bare.And seeing, they believed what the angel had said,And adored the child in his humble bed.
They related to Mary the angel's glad tidings,
And returning, praised God for with them abiding.The angel choirs in wondrous tone
Then "gave thanks" at God's high throne,
And all the hosts in heaven's domain Sang "Glory to God, on Earth Peace to Men."[*Mr. Eagleston, who has many friends at Manchester, sent these lines from St. Paul Seminary, where he is studying for the Priesthood. They were written by him recently when he was recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. Ed.]rooms, and every member of the staff is requested to be present at 7.30.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Mr. Libby at Manchester

Rev. Frederick J. Libby of the Village church, Magnolia, preached at Manchester last Sunday in exchange with the pastor, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln, of the Congregational church, and he had charge of the meeting in the evening at which the Rev. Augustine D. Ohol gave a free lecture on India.

Mr. Libby took for his text in the morning: "Ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the Lord." (Mal. 1:13).

He told of the ancient custom of gift-making unto the gods, how the very best of the supplicants' possessions were always offered unto God, whom they regarded as a jealous god, granting their prayers in proportion to the offerings made. "To-day," he said, "we judge God by the character of Jesus Christ, not by the Sultan of Turkey; and instead of thinking of Him as a jealous God, we think of Him as a loving Father; not threatening us, but urging us, reconciling us and begging us to come to Him and ask for anything. The result is we think God is so patient, so kind, he will let us do anything and not interfere. We bring to him that which is torn, the lame, the sick, and think he will be satisfied; we can do what we please, taking advantage of his kindness. And thus a man postpones joining the church, and says he will wait until he is older. Another begrudges what he gives to foreign missions because he would spend it on himself. If God is love we should not feel like that toward him; our best is none too good. We shall never satisfy God until we love him with all our heart and soul; we shall please him when we seek the infinite goal set for us in the character of Jesus Christ."

B. Y. P. U. Elects

The Baptist Y.P.U. elected officers Tuesday evening for the year as follows: Miss Emma Prest, president; Arthur Walker, vice-pres.; Miss Alice Rainville, sec'y; Miss Bessie Lethbridge, treas. The various committees were also chosen and the reports of the officers were presented. Five new members, it was reported, have been accepted during the year and the union supports one missionary in Burmah. "Christ's Life and Teachings," has been the general subject taken up this year. Miss Rebecca Lethbridge read the report of the Juniors.

Invitations have been sent out this week to the Associates of Post 67 to be present at the joint installation of the recently elected officers of the post and of Allen Relief Corps in the Town hall on Friday evening, Jan. 4, at 7.30. The members of the camp are also invited to be present. Com. Sidney Gardner of Gloucester will be the installing officer of the post. A social will follow and refreshments will be served.

D. T. Beaton is presenting his patrons with a very pretty calendar again this year. It is a colored print from the original painting and is very appropriately called "Adam and Eve."

Adj. Jas. H. Rivers of Post 67 will install the officers of Post 152 in Essex, Jan. 7.

Manuel Miguel, until recently manager of Jos. Pink & Co's local business, it is understood, intends to start business here for himself in the spring.

BEVERLY FARMS

Suggestions are being made by many prominent Farms Republicans for the formation of a Ward 6 Republican club, the object of which would be to take interest in all affairs pertaining to the city or public good.

Advertise your wants with us. Others have profited by it.

WHISPERINGS

A prominent Farms man has just learned that he is "not so young as he used to be," and also that while at one time he might have been qualified to become a Rough Rider, those days have gone by. He had a horse to take to the auction sales in Boston and so concluded that he would ride him over the road. Booted and spurred they set forth early last Tuesday morning and until Lynn market was reached everything went fairly well, although the unusual exercise of the saddle was beginning to be felt by both horse and rider. When the middle of the marshes was reached the horse concluded he would go no further and no amount of urging, coaxing or whipping had any effect. After trying all kinds of experiments the rider finally dismounted and taking the horse by the head managed to get the "Onward movement," but as soon as he tried it from the saddle the horse at once became "Johnnie on the spot." Finally the rider concluded that the only thing to do if ever they wanted to reach Boston was to walk, which he did, landing the horse by the head. Now he says if you think its fun or a laughing matter try it yourself, walking from Lynn market to Boston, leading a stubborn horse. He doesn't say much, however, about the quantities of liniment and pain-killer he has been buying lately to soothe his injured parts.

* * * * *

The joke is on the Farms man who had the doctor calling at his house attending his wife, and not feeling very well himself had the physician prescribe for him as well. For several days the conditions of both remained unchanged, each taking the medicine faithfully when the doctor, on investigating the cause of no improvement, discovered the fact that the man was taking his wife's medicine, and the wife taking his. Now he is glad he is living.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newhall of Woodstock, Vt., are visiting relatives at Beverly Farms, and will stay here over Christmas.

Mrs. Clarence B. Tyler and child returned to their home in Pomfret, Conn., Thursday. They had been guests of friends at the Farms and vicinity for about a fortnight.

D. W. Hardy & Son commenced the first of the week carrying a line of meats and provisions in connection with their grocery department, and have engaged John Woodbury to take charge of the same.

Frank Trowt resigns today from the office force of Messrs. Connolly Bros., and will enter the Amherst Agricultural College on Jan. 3, to study the art of scientific farming.

Little Robert Smith, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Everett street, who last week fell from a window, some 35 feet to the ground, and for whom for a while grave results were feared, is doing nicely, and so far there seems to be a bright outlook for his complete recovery.

Eben Day and James A. Culbert were drawn by the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday evening last to serve for the January term of the Superior Court at Salem.

The Allen estate at Preston pl., which has not been occupied for several years was recently leased to a Boston family for a two-year's term.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrester H. Pierce have returned from several days' visit to New York City. It was a combined business and pleasure trip.

Mrs. Hennessy has closed her boarding house on Hart street, which she has operated since last spring, and moved for the winter months into the upper suite of rooms in the Myles Walsh house at Pride's Crossing.

The good quality of the ice at Gravelly pond and Chebacco lake has attracted quite a number of the Farms young people the past week. The icy surface at the play ground has also been a source of much pleasure to the school children.

A. Preston Thissell, a popular young man of the Farms, has purchased the stock in trade and the good will of the Preble Provision Co's store in Neighbor's hall building, the deal being put through Thursday. Mr. Thissell will endeavor to supply the wants of his patrons in the future with the same high grade of goods, and a strict attention to business with reasonable prices, as has been this store's policy in the past.

The popularity of the card tournament series was again attested on last Monday evening when a large crowd gathered in Marshall's hall, to try for the excellent prizes offered, as usual.

A number of boys are taking advantage of the BREEZE offer and are securing subscriptions. Get a move on boys, and when you get five subscriptions take the money to F. W. Varney and he will give you either a pair of his $1.50 skates, or $1.50 in cash.

Miss Bessie Williams is clerking at the dry and fancy goods store of Miss Mary White, formerly White & Marsters.

The quarterly meeting of the Baptist churches of Beverly, Beverly Farms, Manchester and Wenham Neck, met at the Farms Baptist church on Thursday afternoon.

S. John Connolly returned Tuesday to his home at the Farms after a stay at the Boothbay hospital, Boston, where a successful operation was performed.

One of the big features of the Poultry show at Beverly this week was the exhibit of John T. Morse, Jr., of Pride's Crossing, who has a splendid display of Andalusians, Orpingtons, and other prize birds. Mr. Morse is a fancier, who takes a keen delight in the raising of poultry and the ribbons and the specials which he won show that his birds were among the best in the show. The display has been in charge of Michael Reordan, who has been present each evening.

A number of Farms children, pupils of Mrs. C. E. Morgan of Beverly, took part in the recital given by Mrs. Morgan at Beverly, Wednesday evening, and a number of parents and friends from the Farms were in the audience.

Singing: Jack Frost, Santa Claus, Clapping the Hands, Jingle Bells.

Story "The Fir Tree."

Gymnastics and Marching.

Games: Skating, Snowman, Skipping, Jingle Bells, The Toyman's Shop.

This was followed by the distribution of gifts from the tree by Santa Claus. The presents for the parents were made by the children.

First Grade

The little ones in Grade I had a pleasant time at their exercises. Following the program the presents were distributed from the Christmas tree, which was laden with gifts and decorations made by the children.

SCHOOL NOTES

Manchester

It was with much regret that the children learned that Tuesday's music lessons was probably the last to be given here by Mr. Griffin, who has resigned to accept a position in Stoneham. Mr. Griffin has taught here five years.

The ninth grade pupils have received invitations to visit the Burdett college, Lynn.

Monitors have been appointed from Grade IX to keep order on the barges: John Spinney on the West Manchester barge, and Milford Mason on the barge that goes in the "Plain" section.

A teachers' meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at the G. A. Priest school.

The children in Grade III, Miss Allen, teacher, have donated sufficient money to purchase a picture for their school room, and some large water color prints have been sent on approval, from which to select one.

A.O.U.W. Elects

North Shore lodge, A.O.U.W., last Tuesday evening elected these officers for the ensuing year: Senter Stanley, master workman; Wm F. Spry, foreman; H. A. Porter, overseer; Chas. A. Lodge, guide; Thomas B. Stone, recorder; Horace Standley, treas.; C. W. Sawyer, financier; G. P. Dole, inside watch; J. E. Austin, outside watch; Lewis Killam, rep. to the Grand Lodge; G. P. Dole, alternate; E. Wallace Stanley, trustee for three years.

Seems as if Old Santa had stampeded the whole army of Xmas shoppers toward this big store. Four more days to dance at this great Xmas carnival. Four more days to pick from its joys which begin even now to fade away. Better for you to be among the early pickers than to wish you had. Let these few pithy suggestions make it quick and easy work for you when you come.

Manchester poultry fanciers were well represented at the poultry show in Beverly this week, both in point of attendance and in the number of exhibits made. Most all the exhibitors drew prizes, and E. J. Semons took 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th and special prizes in the class for silver laced wyandottes. Austin Jones took the blue ribbon in the class for dressed fowl and David McKinnon took the blue for the best dressed chicken, both birds being dressed by E. J. Semons. Both these exhibitors drew other prizes, Austin Jones taking the second prize for pullets in the novice class. Mr. Menkin, gardener at F. M. Whitehouse's, took the blue ribbon on his pen in the novice class, and F. Brasch took third in this class. W. W. Hoare was also a winner.

The fog yesterday forenoon held up trains from Boston to a considerable extent. The 8.17 train arrived here over half an hour late and the train due at 9.11, was over an hour late. This, of necessity, changed the time of the trains up the branch. The 5.16 train from Boston Thursday night was delayed in the station long enough to side-track one of the cars that had a "hot box."

Harry Menkin has concluded his services at the McMillan estate.

Miss Libbie Dunn arrived home from Northfield, where she is attending school, yesterday, to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dunn.

HOURS WITH OLD AUTHORS.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

Sir Walter Raleigh (1552—1618) was one of the most accomplished men of his age—the typical Elizabethan—gentleman, poet, historian, soldier, courtier, explorer, philosopher. His name is associated with all that was most brave, adventurous and chivalrous in the court of the Virgin Queen. For her he named the portion of America which he discovered Virginia; and though his colonizing schemes were destined to failure, he became the pioneer of more successful attempts to transfer the institutions of the Old World to the New. His later voyages to Guiana became memorable in his history, although his failure to discover a gold mine exasperated his royal patron, James I., and led on his return from his second expedition to his arrest on an old charge of treason and his execution. It was during his imprisonment of twelve years in the Tower, before his last unfortunate expedition that he wrote his great work, "The History of the World." This work places its writer in the front rank of English authors. It begins with the Creation, and ends with the Fall of the Macedonian Empire, 168 B. C. It is written in vigorous English, and has an antique richness of ornament reminding one at times of Milton's prose; it is laborious and learned, without being heavy or dry.

Besides his great work, Raleigh wrote on a variety of subjects, such as "Maxims of State," "The Chief Arts of Empire," "The Invention of Ships, Anchors, Compass, etc." a "Treatise on Mines and Minerals," and between thirty and forty others. Nor did this fertile genius confine himself to prose; while not to be ranked with the great poets of his time, there is evidence that had he made poetry a serious pursuit he might have excelled as a warbler in verse. His poetry shows wit and feeling; Spenser had a high opinion of it. In his "Description of the Country's Recreations" is this stanza:

"Blest silent groves! O may ye be Forever mirth's best nursery!
May pure contents
For ever pitch their tents
Upon these downs, these meads, these rocks, these mountains,
And peace still slumber by these purling fountains!
Which we may every year
Find when we come a-fishing here."

Some of his Sonnets are fine in tone, imagery and expression. Milton was evidently familiar with them, and in more than one instance reproduced the construction as well as cast of thought of these earlier models. Perhaps one of Raleigh's most characteristic conceits is contained in the lines worthy of a devout hymn-writer of the Middle Ages:

"Give me my scallop-shell of quiet,
My staff of faith to lean upon,
My scrip of joy, immortal diet,
My bottle of salvation;
My gown of glory, hope's true gage;
And thus I take my pilgrimage."

If Sir Walter never went to the Holy Land, he was a true knight of the Red Cross.

From the death of Elizabeth, Raleigh's star waned; with undiminished courage and energy, with his old love of adventure and passion for books, he still bore on; but the man who combined the versatile gifts and graces of the English Renaissance, who was the most striking figure of the age, was hounded to his death by jealous and implacable enemies, and came to the block after a trial which was a mockery of justice and which has loaded with infamy the memory of James. He died in the spirit of his famous apostrophe to death at the end of his History. In an age of shows and simulacra, he was himself the great sublime he drew. His beautiful letter to his wife, written after his condemnation, is one of the most heroic and pathetic of human compositions; it is full of manliness, tenderness, practical wisdom and serene and lofty faith. His enemies might inflict upon him imprisonment and death, but they could not daunt the regal spirit, or quench the immortal hope with which he calmly faced his doom.

To Americans the life of Sir Walter Raleigh will always be one of romantic

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHURCHES

Story of the Birth of Christ told in Sermons at Morning Services and by the Children at Concerts in the Evening. Storm of Night Before Kept many away from Church Sunday.

The story of the Birth of the Saviour, and of the first Christmas was told at the churches last Sunday, in sermons by the pastors in the morning and in recitation and song by the children at the concerts in the evening. Many were kept from church by the storm of the night before which left the roads covered with more than half a foot of snow.

AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the Congregational church the pastor, Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln, preached from the text: "and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was." (Matt. 2:9.)

Mr. Lincoln reviewed the story of the wise men seeking him who was "born king of the Jews," and how Herod, then the king of the Jews, was startled by the story of the wise men. "Critics have been inclined to question whether there was ever any star, or any light of any kind," he said. "They claim it must have been a light only in the minds of the wise men themselves. I do not care what men say, I am absolutely sure there is a profound significance in the wise men and their following up this star.

"Wise men still see the star. Wise men have always followed shining ideals; they perceived it before Jesus and since then. Since Jesus came upon earth not only men like Abraham and Moses, but even the way-faring man perceives the shining ideals and in following it they become wise. Men who are earnest seekers after truth always come finally to their Star of Bethlehem. Not only is this true of those who have had a knowledge of Christ inbred in them, through the generations past, but it is true of men who have first learned of the coming of this great truth in the world.

"The light that shone over Bethlehem

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Robertson left Manchester, Thursday, and have taken up their new residence in Hamilton, where Mr. Robertson goes to take charge of R. Robertson Co.'s business. Walter L. Smith, who represented the concern there for some time past, has moved to Manchester with his wife and one son, and are occupying one of G. E. Willmorton's houses in Windemere Park. Mr. Smith succeeds Mr. Robertson.

Edward Haraden and family are to move into the house on Bridge street just vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Robertson.

Mrs. Ella Williams of Merrimac was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles E. Bell over the holiday.

The election of officers of the North Shore Horticultural society will be held at the meeting of the society next Friday evening, Jan. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Huntoon of Beverly Cove spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews, Lincoln street, who also have home for the Christmas holidays their daughter, Miss Eleanor Andrews from Posse, and son Fred, from Tech.

Many Manchester people were very kindly remembered as usual Christmas by Mrs. William Hooper, who distributed gifts around town, not only to those who were needy, but to many others as well. Monday evening as Mrs. Hooper was rounding from Norwood avenue into Brook street, the runners of her sleigh struck the edge of the curbing, the shock throwing the coachman from the rear of the sleigh and Mrs. Hooper from her seat in front, into the soft snow in the road. The horses kept on and, without driver, went straight to West Manchester, and up to the front door of the house, instead of to the stable. Nobody was hurt in the least.

The joint installation of officers of Post 67, G.A.R., and Allen Relief Corps, will be held at the Town hall next Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Associates and Sons of Veterans are invited. A good time is assured.

Prescott Bigelow followed his custom of giving each child of the Cove a box of choice candy at Christmas time.

Henry Menkin, caretaker at the F. M. Whitehouse estate, left yesterday for New York on a week's visit.

The inmates of the poor farm enjoyed a Christmas tree on Christmas eve.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hoffman, School street, had as their guests Christmas their daughter, Mrs. Wilbur J. Pierce and Mr. Pierce.

Miss Elizabeth Adams of Lynn was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Christian over Christmas.

Misses Marjorie Hill and Bessie Martin of Beverly have been guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gorman.

Mrs. Alfred Corrin gave a Christmas tree party to the girls of the Cove on Christmas night. A supper was served and a pleasant evening passed. Each child was presented with a gift.

New Rates on the B. & M.

The new tariff rates for passengers on the Boston & Maine will not go into effect until Feb. 1, instead of Jan. 1, as previously announced. The reduction will be met quite favorably in such places as Manchester where the rate to Boston has been cut nine cents. The fare will be 48 cents instead of 57.

Below is given a few of the rates, of interest locally, copied from the official tariff book sent out this week to agents:

Manchester to Boston 48c., Lynn 30, Salem 20, Beverly 15, Beverly Farms 5, Gloucester 15.

Beverly Farms to Boston 45c., Lynn 25, Salem 15, Beverly 10, Gloucester 20.

For months we have been preparing for this 1907 sale of Undermuslins, Linens and Bed Clothing, and we now say to you that it will be worth stocking your Wardrobe and Linen Closet now for months ahead. Do not miss Opening Day with its surprises. Read the list in Monday's Salem Evening News and do not finish marveling at the prices that will be quoted, but come and see the Big Values for yourself.

Sale Starts Tuesday Morning, Jan. 1st, 1907.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Merrill and family spent the holiday with relatives in West Newton.

Thomas Wiggin and his bride, who was Miss Ethel Roberts of Ticonderoga, N. Y., are spending a fortnight with Mr. and Mrs. George Gould. They will probably live in Ipswich this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Wiggin were married on Nov. 27.

Mrs. Arthur Jones of South Acton was a guest over the holiday of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Carter and Mrs. Carter's mother, Mrs. H. W. Clark, who, with her daughter, Miss Alice Clark, left a day or two ago for their new home in Southampton, L. I., where Mr. Clark has charge of a large estate owned by J. L. Breese of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marshall had with them on Christmas Day I. Franklin Eldredge and sister, Miss Lucy Eldredge of Beverly Farms.

Thomas P. Andrews was home from Portsmouth over Christmas being a guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Susan Slade. Mr. Andrews is an electrical mechanic at the Portsmouth navy yard.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goldsmith and two children of Winthrop spent Christmas with Mr. Goldsmith's mother and sister, School st.

GYPSY AND BROWNTAIL MOTHS. WINTER WORK

We will do the winter work for you and have it inspected by the Local Superintendent or State Inspector to make sure that you will have no further expense for this winter's work.

Browntail moths are less numerous, a good opportunity to keep them so. Don't let the Gypsies increase; they are expensive to fight if numerous.

Real Estate And Improvements

Last week we recorded the sale of property in the Cove Woods, so-called, in Manchester, and this week the conveyance was recorded in the registry of deeds as follows: "Henrietta I. Price et al. of Manchester, convey to Edward W. Ayers, 47-48 of a wood lot known as Cove Woods, in Manchester. Susan B. Knight, guardian of David C. Knight, conveys for $167.20 to the same the other forty-eighth part of the same wood land and Edward W. Ayer conveys the whole to Hortense C. Head of Manchester." As reported last week, it is understood, a cottage is to be built on this property before next season, to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stockton (Miss Head).

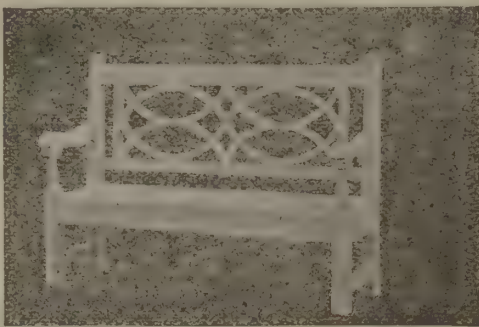

George Silva has plans out for a six or seven-room cottage to be erected on his land on Summer street, Manchester, opposite the brick yard. The contract for the foundations has been awarded to Daniel Edgecomb. Mr. Silva is agent for a number of tenement houses in South Boston, and summers he is connected with the State Bath-house at Revere.

Robert A. Mitchell, contractor-gardener of Manchester, has been awarded the contract for moth work on the large piece of woodland owned by the University of Pennsylvania, University lane, at Manchester Cove, and he also has charge of the moth work for Messrs. Coolidge and Clark, who have recently purchased the Hotel Blynman property, and a tract of fine woodland in the easterly part of Manchester.

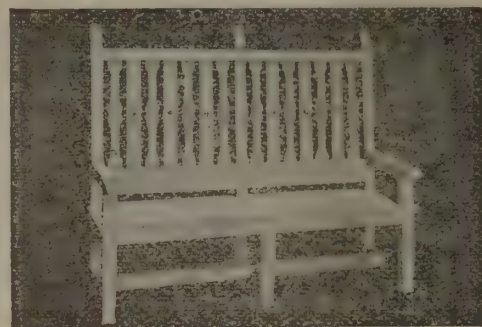

Albion Riggs of Essex conveys to William D. Sohier of Beverly two acres and 90 rods of woodland in Essex on the old road to Manchester.

The Song Play 'Hit

"Coming Thro' the Rye" has conquered Greater Boston and bids fair to break all attendance records at the Tremont Theatre, where it is entering upon its last week after crowding this popular playhouse for 16 performances. That it deserves all its popularity goes without saying as all who have witnessed the merry laughing musical play have pronounced it great. It is full of song hits among which are "It must be Love," "Clancy," "Camp Meeting Time," "Because its You." These are bound to be whistled in every home in New England. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given and the farewell night Saturday bids fair to be the largest house that the Tremont has had for many days.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Lee had a pleasant family gathering at their home on Christmas Day, including Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. Stone; her brother, Benjamin Stone of Boston; her half-brother Cyrus Weeks and two daughters Carolyn and Helen of Somerville. They had a Christmas tree for their three small children.

John Robertson of Marblehead was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Harvie over the holiday.

A horse belonging to A. B. Adams, the Essex vegetable man, ran away last Saturday morning, occasioning much excitement along School street. It started from the house of Robert Baker and came tearing down the street, passing through Central square, and towards West Manchester where it was finally stopped by Mr. Specht, care-taker for Dr. R. H. Fitz. Though several vehicles were passed and a number of accidents narrowly averted, no damage whatever resulted.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bullock of Flushing, L.I., spent Christmas with the former's mother and sister, Washington street.

Choral Society

The Manchester Choral society will take up during the course, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," a musical setting by Thomas Aderton to Longfellow's famous poem, and also the following selections:

"A Song of the Vikings"....Eaton Fanning
Soldiers' Chorus from "Faust".....Gounod
"Palm Branches".....Faure
(Arr. by Arthur S. Wonson.)

Spring Chorus from "Samson and Delilah" (for ladies' voices), Saint Saens

The society met in the Chapel Wednesday evening. The membership now numbers 46, and it is earnestly hoped many more will join, if the success of the venture is to be assured. Persons who do not sing can help the society along by becoming associate members, for which the fee is $3.00. But this permits the holder to have choice of two seats for the concert to be given in the spring.

D. of H. Elects

The Degree of Honor met at Carpenters' hall, Manchester, Wednesday evening, and elected the following officers: Mrs. J. F. Mitchell, past chief of honor; Mrs. Ida F. Mason, chief of honor; Emma C. Decision in Knowlton vs. Pew Suit.

A finding has been handed down in the suit of Warren Knowlton against Col. W. A. Pew, Jr., by Judge DeCourcy before whom the case was tried in Salem a few weeks ago. Mr. Knowlton brought a bill in equity to secure a reconveyance of the Blynman hotel property in the easterly part of the town of Manchester. Knowlton had given Col. Pew a deed of the property to secure the City National Bank of Gloucester for money borrowed, with the understanding that when Mr. Knowlton paid back the money the deed would be returned. Knowlton is ready to pay back the money, but Col. Pew wanted to be secured against one Holland who was hired to run the hotel the past summer, but who was not allowed to do so by Knowlton. The court decrees that if Knowlton, within 30 days, pays the money due to the bank and Col.

Pew, and gives security to protect Pew against the Holland suit, then Pew shall reconvey the estate to Knowlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell left Manchester Thursday week and spent Christmas with the Andrew Carnegie, 2ds, in Fernandina, Fla. They will return here two weeks hence and will probably go abroad later. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, who are at Chestnut Hill for the winter, will spend this week-end down here.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. McKee had as their guests at Beverly Farms over Christmas the formers' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Sellers McKee of Pittsburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre, of Villa Crest, West Manchester, had as their guests Christmas Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walker and Charles Walker, who have gone to Boston for the winter.

One of the largest Christmas presents of the season, according to newspaper reports, was that of J. Pierpont Morgan to his son J. Pierpont Morgaon, jr. The gift was the house known as the Isaac N. Phelps mansion, corner of Madison ave. and 37th srteet, New York City, said to be valued at $600,000. Mr. Morgan, it will be recalled, married Miss Grew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Grew of Manchester and Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Grew, 2d, are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son in their Beacon street, Boston, home, a week last Sunday. This is the third son and by singular coincidence all were born on Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Forbes (Margaret Winthrop), who are spending their honeymoon abroad, will include Madrid in their travels, where they will visit Mrs. Forbes' brother, Robert Winthrop, who is connected with the diplomatic corps there.

VOLUME 4.

SATURDAY, DEC. 29, 1906.

We are of the opinion that the Board of Selectmen would not be at all amiss if they refused to grant permission to out of town parties to distribute circulars around town. The thing is getting to be a nuisance. In some towns it is absolutely prohibited. Of course, a majority of the circulars are placed in doors, but there are a large number that find their way into the street. This was the result on Thursday of this week, when scores of the yellow pieces of paper, from a Beverly concern, telling of great "Mark Downs," were seen in the street through the center of the town and about the post-office.

We are pleased to present our readers this week the first of a series of articles upon some of the less known of English authors, from the pen of Rev. Dr. D. F. Lamson, whose articles on "Masters of English Literature," and published last winter, and whose "Summer Brevities," "Autumn Reveries" and Twilight Musings" have been read in these columns with much interest.

Town Meeting is the next thing of importance! It will be only a few weeks more before the pot, under which the fire is already being kindled, will be simmering, and everything will be Town Meeting. From present indications, this year will bring forth quite a lively meeting.

Whatever became of the Manchester Board of Trade organized six or seven years ago? Will some one inform us if that organization still exists. If not, why not?

The days are now beginning to grow longer. Not perceptibly so; just a minute or so a day.

WHISPERINGS

My friend, Lawrence Watson, looks at things in rather a philosophical way. During the holiday rush he has been with the American Express Co., in the North Station, Boston, and, of course, has put in some long hours. He said to the head man the other day in his usual jocular way:

"You fellows are easy up here. You give us 18 hours to do a day's work. Down in Manchester they only give us nine hours."

The boss thought this was so good that he told Mr. Merrill of Smith's express, for whom "Larry" has been working. Now Fred is wondering if "Larry" meant that he had to do 18 hours work in nine hours down here the past summer.

* * * * *

Officer Lomasney was well remembered by Santa Claus. He is out this week, looking spick and span, in a new overcoat, with shining brass buttons. "Automobile Bill" could now stand even more defiant than usual to any autos that might chance his way.

All the Manchester officers, by the way, are wearing new numbers on their caps.

* * * * *

Whisperings have just come to my ear of one of our gentle sex who went to Boston to purchase some Christmas goods. Among the purchases was a two-pound box of broken candy which she saw in a window marked "35 cents." Such a fine bargain did she regard this that she made haste to get rid of her 35 cents. She carried it around town all day while doing other errands, and on returning home she told of her "good luck." She called at Bullock Bros.' that evening, and much to her chagrin she saw precisely the same sort of candy in the same sort of box marked "25 cents." Was she surprised? Ask her. And to think she had carried it around Boston all day!

* * * * *

Christmas was of more than the ordinary importance to Mr. John Desmond, for it marked the 50th anniversary of the day he first came to Manchester, and on that occasion he was well remembered by his host of friends, both in town and out of town, many sending him notes of congratulation, etc. Mr. Desmond, since making his home here, has been a model citizen, always industrious, and he is respected by all. He was honored some years ago by having a new street named after him. He owned a greater part of Desmond avenue, which he gave the town in consideration of the street being opened. He owns a large house on the corner of Desmond and Norwood avenues. Mr. Desmond says the town has changed considerably in the half century he has lived here.

* * * * *

"News item.—The street department dug a "dead soldier" from the gutter in front of the Manchester post-office Thursday morning. Supt. Kimball is of the opinion this poor unfortunate was the result of somebody's Christmas celebration.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Bessie Newhall of Salem was the guest of Mrs. Daniel Stearns on Christmas day.

The annual business meeting of the Manchester club will be held next Friday evening.

J. S. Reed, proprietor of the Beach street cafe, met with a serious accident at his home last Saturday. He tipped over a rocker in the sitting room of his house and broke his left ankle. Dr. Blaisdell, who was called, found all the ligaments in the ankle joint were torn away and a bone was broken. Mr. Reed has since been carrying his foot in a plaster of Paris cast, and is bearing the accident as well as could be expected. He will be kept indoors a month or six weeks at the least.

Mr. and Mrs. William Barnett spent Christmas in Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Knight had with them over the holiday the latter's sister, Miss Annie Knight of Boston.

The co-partnership heretofore existing between Claude D. Temple and S. B. Thyne, painters, under the firm name of Temple & Thyne, has been dissolved by mutual consent. The accounts of the concern will be liquidated by Mr. Temple who will continue the business as an individual and in his own name.

M. A. McInnis was home from New Rochelle, N.Y., to spend the holidays. "Mike" wore home a luxuriant growth of beard, so that his friends could hardly recognize him.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Meldrum, Miss Beth Meldrum and Mrs. Abigail Gentlee spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Webster Putnam and family in Danvers, who also had with them for the day Mr. and Mrs. John Knight of Essex, making a large family of fourteen to sit around the dinner table.

Supt. and Mrs. George Kimball spent Christmas in Salem with their daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Fleming and family.

E. L. Varney of Hyde Park was a guest the early part of the week of Charles A. Mason and family.

Chester H. Dennis has closed his garage on Beach street for the winter and has moved his things from the building.

Miss Larah D. Fish started Wednesday to spend the balance of the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Campbell, in Connecticut.

Deputy E. C. Atwood and staff of Lynn will raise up the chiefs of Conomo tribe next Wednesday evening. It is expected there will be a delegation of 30 or more brothers from Lynn, and as the visiting delegation will return on the 10.09 train it is earnestly hoped the members will be at the meeting promptly at 7.30 so that the work can be carried out successfully.

John Anderson arrived in town this week from Indian Territory, and is a guest of Wm. Chadwick, Morse court. Mr. Anderson was formerly employed by David Fenton, but left here four years ago.

Frank Leroy of Worcester spent Christmas with his uncle, Claude D. Temple.

Miss Adele G. Thayer of the West Manchester summer colony, lost a valued dog recently from hydropobia. The dog had taken a number of ribbons at dog shows.

William F. Corliss of New York spent Christmas with his father, Benj. H. Corliss, Lincoln street.

Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln returned yesterday from spending the Christmas holidays in Connecticut. Tomorrow morning Mr. Lincoln will exchange with Rev. Clarence Strong Pond of the Beverly Farms Baptist church.

"The abiding companionship" will be the subject of Rev. E. H. Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. At the People's evening service he will preach a New Year's sermon on "The Divine Government of Human Life."

A Watch Night service will be held at the Baptist church Monday night from 7.30 to midnight. From 7.30 to 8, a half-hour with the Sunday school lesson, Supt. Robert Baker; 8 to 9, an hour with the Nation, address by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Beverly; 9 to 10, an hour with the Word, sermon by Dr. Braislen of Gloucester; 10 to 10.30, half-hour with Prophecy, studies in Daniel, Rev. E. H. Brewster; 10.30 to 11, social hour; 11 to 12, an hour with the King,—Consecration hour, led by the pastor.

The Ladies' Social circle will meet at Mrs. Geo. Sinnicks next Wednesday evening.

Odd Fellows Elected

At a meeting of Magnolia lodge, 149, I.O.O.F., Thursday evening, these officers were elected: Frank A. Rowe, noble grand; Charles E. Williams, vice grand; Arthur E. Olson, recording secretary; Henry Bingham, fin. secretary; Edward A. Lane, treasurer; W. C. Rust, F. A. P. Kilam and Horace Standley, trustees for three years.

An important feature in this connection was the refusal of W. J. Johnson to accept the nomination as secretary again, after a great many years service. Mr. Bingham was elected financial secretary for the 25th consecutive year and E. A. Lane was elected treasurer for the 14th year.

The initiation degree was worked on one candidate at the meeting, after which the members adjourned to the banquet hall where the entertainment committee had provided an inviting collation, C. O. Howe, chef. A delightful graphophone concert was given by W. W. Hoare.

MANCHESTER

Miss Cora Howe was home from Boston for Christmas. Miss Howe has recently been with the "College Widow" company at the Tremont theatre, and is practicing now for the "Ben Hur" company which opens in the Boston theatre in February. Frank Towle, an uncle of Miss Howe, is manager of this company.

The cantata and Christmas tree in the Town hall last evening under the direction of Rev. Fr. Powers of the Sacred Heart church brought the Christmas festivities to a most pleasant end. The hall was well filled and the entertainment furnished by the children was greatly enjoyed, as was also the work of Dudley Prescott, the well-known humorist and mimic, who kept the audience in a constant roar of laughter. The cantata represented the home of Santa Claus, with the "fairies" helping Mrs. Santa to get things ready for the festive day, and in the illness of Saint Nick a substitute was advertised for. A number of applications were made, including "Jack Frost" (Chas. Marsh), the "Sand Man" (Nelson Wood), and the "Business Proposition" (James Brown). None would do, so Mrs. Santa (Annie Francis) undertook the task, only to distribute the presents to the wrong ones, through the mischievousness of the "Brownies." Santa himself finally appeared and straightened things out. Candy was distributed from the tree after the entertainment. Prior to this little Miss Ruth O'Brien stepped upon the stage and presented Fr. Powers with a basket of flowers, in which there was also a substantial purse of gold from the Sunday school, which was presented with a cute little speech.

The election of officers at the Rebekahs occurred last evening. The initiatory degree was also worked.

Liberty Rebekah lodge last evening elected these officers: Mrs. W. J. Johnson, noble grand; Mrs. Annie Knight, v. grand; Mrs. A. E. Hersey, rec. sec; Miss Annabel Haraden, fin. secy.; Miss Alice Haraden, treas.; J. R. Allen, trustee for 3 years. The deputy marshal, Mrs. Keene of Beverly, made an official visit.

It was announced yesterday that the suit, the Town of Manchester vs. Frederick Burnham, brought in connection with the falling in of the wall on Arbella street, near Mr. Burnham's gravel pit, had been lost by the town. No particulars can be given in this issue.

The Haphazard club will meet next Monday evening with Dr. R. T. Glendening.

Miss Etta Knowlton of the Farms is a guest of Mrs. S. A. Parsons on School street.

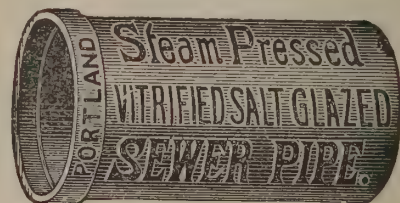

Chaulk--Lethbridge

The wedding of two Manchester young people, Adam Chaulk and Miss Rebecca Lethbridge, the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lethbridge, Brook street, was solemnized in Cambridge on Christmas day by a Methodist clergyman at that place. Miss Bessie A. Lethbridge, a cousin of the bride, and A. John Cool were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Chaulk will make their home for the present with the bride's parents.

The final and deciding games in the G.A.R. pitch tournament which was started last winter and not entirely finished, were played off in G.A.R. hall on Thursday evening, resulting in Joshua Younger and Stephen J. Connolly winning in the G.A.R. class; E. Fred Day and F. Leslie Woodbury in the class for Associates. Some one hundred games were played by each pair in the contest which was exceedingly interesting all through. Silver cups, suitably engraved, will be given as prizes. A new tournament will be started in a week or two, to run through the winter months.

At the Baptist church Monday evening was given the usual Christmas tree for the children, the church and Sunday school meeting as usual in making the occasion one of cheerfulness for all.

interest. Few men have been more honorably connected with our early history, and few failed more signally so far as earthly success and rewards are concerned. But he has left a name without fear and reproach, a name that after three centuries still stands for all that was best, most knightly, most cultivated, most loyal and true in one of the greatest periods of England's history. He was a man of his age, and must be judged by the standards of his time, as with other men, love of gold and of mastery may have been combined with love of freedom and truth; but for devotion in the main to high ideals, for courage, zeal, versatility, genius and great emprise, he ranks high among the men of a great historic era; for such as he we may well preserve "a board approach of fame and never ending avenues of song."

Miss Katherine P. Loring of "Burnside," Pride's Crossing, is to give a lecture on London at the Baptist church, next month. The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon.

Miss Amy Thissell is at home from abroad and in the fall will teach French and German in High school.

This has been vacation week for the children. The coming of snow and sleighing has added much to their pleasures, for "punging" has been a recreation indulged in by them from morn till night.

After more than eleven weeks enforced vacation, due to injuries received from a fall, Howard P. Williams is again able to resume his labors at his trade of carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gill of Hale street are being congratulated upon the arrival of a son in their home last Monday evening.

A number of prominent Farms Republicans were present last Wednesday evening at the Christmas Tree festivities given by the Republican club in Beverly.

Miss Marjorie Lenox, teacher in the Cambridge public schools, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Grey the past week.

John L. Eaton has been for the past two weeks missing from the Farms. He is stopping with friends in Salem.

A testimonial of the appreciation and high regard in which Rev. Clarence Strong Pond is held by the Beverly Farms Baptist Church society and the community in general, was attested to on Christmas when he was presented with an elegant gold Waltham watch and a fob.

The annual meeting of the Beverly Farms Firemen Home Benefit Association for the election of officers for the ensuing year was held on Thursday evening, and the following were chosen: president, Asst. Eng. Eli R. Hodgkins; vice-pres, R. E. Grush; sec'y, William R. Brooks; fin. sec'y, Lewis G. Williams; treas., Elmer Standley, and the old board of directors.

Thos. F. Wheelan is responsible for the statement that he has successfully passed examination for inspector of meats and provisions and expects to be appointed in January. This is a government position and carries with it a salary of $1000.

Thomas Murray, formerly clerk at F. W. Varney's drug store, has accepted a position in Boston, at Connor's drug store, cor. Mass. avenue and Washington street.

Rev. C. Arthur Lincoln of the Manchester Congregational church and Rev. Clarence Strong Pond of the Beverly Farms Baptist church will exchange tomorrow morning. The music sung by the choir of the Baptist church last Sunday will be repeated by request by the choir tomorrow morning and evening. Any who were not able to get out to hear the Christmas music will certainly endeavor to be present tomorrow morning or evening.

It will be a matter of general interest to know that a public telephone pay station is being installed at F. W. Varney's store. The number is 77-3.

The boys and girls who are collecting subscriptions for the BREEZE are reminded that the offer of a $1.50 pair of skates, or $1.50 in cash for each five new subscriptions, expires next Tuesday, Jan. 1. Take your orders to F. W. Varney.

The Men's Lyceum committee of the Beverly Farms Baptist church have arranged a series of good entertainments for the winter at hand. The committee have been very successful in years past, and expect to repeat their successes this year. One lecture has already been given and was very much enjoyed,—the lecture on Russia by Rev. Peter McQueen. In January the Farms people will be much pleased to hear a lecture on London by Miss Katherine P. Loring, illustrated by the stereopticon. A large attendance is assured, naturally. In February, the University Quartet will give a concert assisted by Percy Jewett Burrell. All of these men were formerly of Boston University. In March a miscellaneous program will be presented, and in early April the Music class will give a concert.

Mrs. Edward Carlson of Lawrence, is spending a few days with relatives at the Farms.

Miss Elsie Symonds, bookkeeper for Messrs. Pierce & Pierce, plumbers, has taken this week off and spent it visiting friends at Templeton.

The BREEZE extends to its readers its best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

Lewis G. Williams and family spent a part of the past week visiting friends at Stoneham.

Capt. J. Frank Blaney was chief "chef" for a party of 40 or more of his friends and neighbors at Swampscott last Monday evening. The famous lobster stew was the item of importance on the bill of fare. The gathering is an annual occurrence.

The weekly card tournament was held last evening in Marshall's hall, and was attended by the usual large crowd. Prizes, as usual, were distributed to the winners.

Mr. Thomas P. Barnes and family of Laconia, N.Y., spent Christmas and the following two days with Beverly Farms relatives.

We must again remind friends who send items by mail that we cannot publish any item sent, unless the sender's name is signed to such communication. We do not want to publish the name, but merely want to know that the items come from responsible parties. We cannot recede from this rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacCoy spent Christmas at Cambridge.

Misses Marjory and Frances Co-hoon are spending their vacation with friends in Lynn.

Rev. and Mrs. Pond and Mrs. Barlow entertained at dinner Christmas, Miss Barlow, Mrs. Pond's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Pierce had their Santa Claus at Manchester at the home of Mrs. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hoffman, School street.

Many of the Beverly Farms children owe a good part of their Merry Xmas to the thoughtfulness and kindness of Mrs. William Hooper, who on Christmas Eve drove about the Farms distributing presents to many households and seemed to enjoy the happiness created as much as did those who received the presents.

The Holtman, Manson and Hanson families according to their usual custom held on Christmas their family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mattis Hanson, Vine court. A Christmas tree from which old "Santa Claus" distributed gifts to all present was an interesting feature.

In the contest, which closed last Monday evening, given by Mr. John Daniels of the Central market, Robt. Perry Williams carried off the large feathered turkey gobbler. The second prize, a 10-pound dressed turkey, went to little Alfred Medcalf, also a pair of chickens to Ernest Naylor, and last, but not least, Sam Yee, the laundry proprietor, got a pair of chickens.

A good time coming will be that of Jan. 12th, when Preston Post 188, G.A.R., and Preston R.C., will have their joint public installation in Marshall's hall, to which the associates and all husbands or wives of members are invited. At the conclusion of the exercises a supper will be served and speechmaking and dancing will take up the time till midnight.

Miss Alice Preston is this week enjoying a respite from her duties as teacher in the Chelsea public schools and is spending it with her parents in East Wenham.

is the light that shines for you and for me; it shines not in the east, but wherever we are, and which, if we follow will lead us to the ideal that will lead us straight to Jesus Christ, — to him whose guiding star is the light of all the world."

At the morning service Miss Carolyn E. Allen sang "Star of Bethlehem," by Adams, and as a response, "The Birthday of a King," by Neidlinger.

In the evening the Christmas concert by the children was given and was, as usual, very interesting. The church was simply, though effectively, decorated. The lights on either side of the pulpit were covered to represent stars. The columns supporting the gallery were entwined with red crepe paper and evergreen, and the lights under the gallery were covered in red. The pulpit was also dressed in evergreen.

Following is the program carried out:

Chorus,	By the Primary School
Scripture Reading,	Mrs. George A. Kitfield
Prayer,	Rev. C. A. Lincoln
Chorus, "Christmas, Glad Christmas."
Recitation, "Peace, Love, and Good-will,"	Nina Sinnicks

Sacred Heart Church

Services commemorative of Christmas were held at the Sacred Heart church on Tuesday, when the special music prepared for the occasion, and printed in last week's paper, was sung, the high mass being chanted by Fr. Donahoe of the Mission church, Roxbury, who also preached the sermon. At the evening service and benediction at 7.30, the pastor, Rev. Fr. Powers, preached a sermon on the Birth of Christ, appropriate to the day.

The same high mass, as prepared for Christmas day, will be sung again tomorrow morning.

Christmas Eve

Christmas trees for the children were unloaded of the gifts at the Congregational chapel and in the Baptist church on Monday evening. At the former the children played games instead of carrying out a concert program and the gifts were distributed later. The tree, most effectively decorated, was very attractive.

At the Baptist church there was one large tree, very prettily decorated with electric lights. The Sunday school presented each scholar with a motto card and the younger children with little readers. The following program was carried out:

Song, Happy Children
Recitation.....	Ethel Spry
Recitation, Christmas Spirit.....	Abbot Foster
Solo.....	Edwin Cook
Song of the Snowflakes.....
.....	Ethel Chadwick, Josephine Brooks
Recitation.....	Earl Height

Cantata at Magnolia

The Christmas cantata (Kriss Kringle) proved a great success at the club house Christmas Eve. Most of the children took part and all the papas, mammas and friends were there to see and hear them. The music was very good and included several very pretty solos which were well rendered. Colby Staples as Santa Claus made a decided hit, while the others ably supported him. The cast of characters and their parts were as follows:

COSTUMES

Santa Claus, as usual, with his pack, Colby Staples.

Mrs. Santa Claus, an old-fashioned odd conception, Carrie Dunbar.

Grandpa, as ye old gentleman, Frank Dunbar.

Grandma, as an old lady, Georgia Dunbar.

Elves—Fox's ear, Charles Chane.

Rabbit's foot, Arthur Kehoe.

Bear's tooth, Russell Lucas.

Eagle's claw, William Knowles.

Nymphs—Bessie Abbott,

Helen Edmunds.

Fairies—Tinkle, Susan Lycett.

Tingle, Ruth Scott.

Fancy, Edna Symonds.

Brownies—Ralph Stearns, Arthur Lycett, William Hunt, Harry Dunbar, Albert West, Leighton Symonds and Ralph Story.

Attendants—Olive Chane, Lizzie Brown, Edna Symonds, Carrie Dunbar and Georgia Dunbar.

The cantata was followed by the distribution of presents, each child in the village being remembered.

MANCHESTER

A number of young people enjoyed a pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gorman Wednesday evening. Those present, besides their children, were: Rufus Long, David Gillis, Wm. Cawthorne, Joseph Chadwick and Catherine Gillis. Joseph Allen entertained the young people with graphophone selections.

There have been a number of sleigh-ride parties this week as a result of the good sleighing. Wednesday evening two parties were out, and on Thursday evening a number of the scholars of the High school went on a ride to Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fergusson spent Christmas in Somerville.

Charles Prest and family of Lynn spent the holiday with his brother, Robert Prest, School street. Miss Dorothy Prest has been spending the week here.

Miss Charlotte Prescott of Boston, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Morgan over the holiday.

Miss Verena Fenton spent Christmas with her parents on Beach street, but she will return at once to Chester, Vt.

Miss Statira Macdonald, who is connected with the Orthopaedic Hospital at White Plains, N.Y., was home over Christmas, a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Macdonald.

Mrs. William E. Kitfield spent the holiday in Boston a guest of her brother-in-law, Dr. Morey and family.

A Home

A living place full of sunshine and happiness, full of everything that is beautiful, a place you'll be proud of, a place to be contented in. Most people discourage such dreams at the start as being entirely beyond their means. Consult with those who have experimented in house making with us.

Perhaps you'll be encouraged to take a look here yourself. That's all it needs—a look, you'll find just such ideas as you have dreamed, and well within the limits of your pocketbook, too. Just a hint.

A LITTLE OIL HEATER

would get where the furnace does not. No smoke or no smell, and a saving of a quarter if you purchase them here, from $3.25.

A 3-Piece Parlor Suit

Just as dainty and graceful a frame as you ever saw, sinuous, every line a curve. Even the panels in the back refuse a straight line. The seats are with springs and covered with heavy silk damask. As fashionable a creation as there is in the parlor world, and only
